A record may be removed into this court, as well by a certiorari out of this court, as by a certiorari out of the court of Chancery, and removal hither by mittimus. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 216.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Dr. Sand's Caſe.

The oaths appointed by ſtat. 1 W. & M. cap. 8. were tendered to Dr. Sands by two juſtices of the peace, and he refuſing to take them, it was certified to the judge of aſſize, and by him into the Exchequer, according to ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 27. And now a certiorari was prayed to remove it hither, and a ſurpriſe and trick on Dr. Sands was ſuggeſted. Alſo the caſe of James Duke of York was cited, who being preſented, on ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. cap. 4. for not coming to church, at the quarter ſeſſions, it was removed hither by certiorari.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held it could not be granted, becauſe it would perfectly evade the ſtatute; for when it is once in this court, it cannot be ſent back again, which would render the ſtatute of no effect, becauſe the party cannot be proceeded againſt here; and ſaid, that the caſe of the Duke of York was the only caſe wherein it was ever done. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 145.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. The King v. Haggard.

On an indictment at Kirby in Weſtmorland, on ſtat. 5 Eliz. for uſing a trade, not having been apprentice thereto ſeven years, a certiorari was prayed; but the court doubted whether to grant it or not, becauſe the ſtatute is, that it muſt be tried in the proper county; ſo that if it is removed hither, it muſt be ſent down again by procedendo, and not filed here, ſo as to be quaſhed; but there having been ſeveral ſuch certiorari's granted, they granted one in this caſe; and afterwards granted another in a like caſe in Trinity term following, in the caſe of Woods of Norfolk. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 188.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. The King v. James.

On an indictment in the grand ſeſſions in Wales, and a certiorari granted to remove it, at the prayer of the defendant, a ſuperſedeas was alſo prayed to the writ; becauſe a certiorari does not lie in Wales; or if it does, it is only when the King directs or deſires it, and not at the deſire of the defendant: but the court held, that a certiorari lies either at the deſire of the King, or of the party, according as the court ſhall think fit; and accordingly, a rule was given for the return of the certiorari, and that the indictment ſhould be tried in the next Engliſh county. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. page 197.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. Dutton, and others.

On an indictment being found againſt them in London, for printing and publiſhing a paper, intitled, the Black Ram, wherein certain perſons were ſcandalouſly deſcribed, ſo as any body that knew them might know them to be the perſons deſcribed; and among others, that the Recorder of London was ſcandalized; and a certiorari being moved for, inſinuating that it would be a hardſhip to be tried at the Old Baily, where ſome of the judges might take themſelves to be ſcandalized by that paper: the court ſaid, they ſeldom did grant a certiorari to the Old Baily, yet they granted one here, though it could not be tried here this term; for a certiorari into a foreign county ought to have fifteen days between its teſte and return; and though by conſent it may be returned immediately, yet ſtill there muſt be fifteen days between the teſte of the writ, and return of jury; which could not be within this term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 250.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. Patting.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. On a writ of error from the C. B. if the record certified is faulty, of common right a certiorari may go to certify the right record. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 317.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Dr. Grenville, or Groenvelt, v. The College of Phyſicians.

Per curiam. Where a court in its nature is a court of record, a certiorari will lie to it, by reaſon of the great ſuperiority of this court, which may command them to ſend their proceedings before them up hither, that it may be ſeen whether they confine themſelves to their juriſdiction; which, if they exceed, this court may correct them. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 386.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3.

Per curiam. If a certiorari iſſues to remove a record, the judge below is not in contempt for proceeding on the record till ſervice of the writ; but all proceedings on it after the certiorari is teſted, are void. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 384.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The Crown v. The Inhabitants of Glamorganſhire.

An order of ſeſſions was made for aſſeſſing the inhabitants for the repair of a bridge in that county, purſuant to ſtat. 23 Eliz. which was ſaid to be a private law, and therefore the order being removed up by certiorari, it was moved that it ſhould not be filed, for that, as it was ſaid, a certiorari did not lie, being a private law; and for this was quoted 1 Sid. 296. 1 Keb. 318. 2 Keb. 43. 88. 90.

Per curiam. Wherever there is a particular juriſdiction ſet up by act of parliament, this court may command the execution thereof by mandamus, and remove their proceedings hither by certiorari, to ſee whether they have obſerved their authority. Indeed we do not eaſily grant a certiorari in the caſe of commiſſioners of ſewers, for the danger that may befal the country in the interim; yet, if good reaſon appears, the court will grant it; and the reaſon of 1 Sid. 296. is not becauſe it was a private act of parliament.

Gould, Juſtice, remembered a caſe where a certiorari was denied, to remove the orders of commiſſioners of ſewers on this reaſon; if the order was wrong, the party aggrieved had his action; if it was right, it ought not to be ſtopt or delayed; and that is the reaſon it has been ſometimes denied, in caſe of orders of juſtices on an authority by a private act of parliament.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, if they meddle with a thing out of their juriſdiction, you ſay well; otherwiſe it is when they have conuſance of the ſubject matter, but do not purſue their authority; and we often ſtay the filing of ſuch an order, to the intent, that if it be not well removed, to grant a procedendo; but if it appears well removed and faulty, we file and quaſh it. And there may be a diverſity between a private act of one ſingle perſon, and an act concerning the inhabitants of a whole county; and it was ruled they ſhould make a return, and recite the ſtatute in it. Note, This was before the judgment in the caſe of Dr. Grenville and the college of phyſicians.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, further ſaid, it is the conſtant practice to grant certiorari's into Wales, as alſo into the counties palatine of Durham and Lancaſter, which yet have original juriſdiction, and the ſame courts among themſelves. And if the law was otherwiſe, the great ſeſſions were held ſo ſeldom, that a man might be ruined, before a great ſeſſions met. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 403. Raym. vol. 1. p. 580.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. Levermore.

A certiorari iſſued to remove a conviction of deer-ſtealing, and the juſtices returned two affidavits, and a warrant to diſtrain; and the return was quaſhed as imperfect. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 146.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. The King v. Lamb.

The defendant was indicted for having ſaid maliciouſly, the magiſtrates of the city of Litchfield are a pack of aſſes. The indictment was moved by certiorari into this court, and a motion was made to quaſh it, becauſe it was inſenſible, there being no ſuch word as magiſtratos the Latin word uſed in the indictment. And for this reaſon it was quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 609.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. The King v. Browne, & al.

A certiorari was granted to remove all indictments againſt B. C. and D. and they returned one indictment againſt B. another againſt C, and another againſt D. in which they were indicted ſingly. And on a motion to quaſh the indictment in which B. was indicted; it was held, that it was not removed before this court; becauſe the indictment in which B. was indicted alone, was not the indictment intended by the certiorari, which means indictments in which B. C. and D. were jointly indicted. It would have been otherwiſe, if the certiorari had been or for other matters in the indictment mentioned. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 609.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. The City of London v. Wood.

Per Holt, Ch. J. The courts in Weſtminſter-Hall will amend nothing but what is amendable by law, or at leaſt it muſt be preſumed they will not do it; beſides, when in thoſe courts they amend the matter below, they come into this court and alledge diminution; and thereon the record is certified up, and then the court above can never tell whether they have amended or not; if they certify it upon diminution alledged, it will do well enough, and we ſhall not ſuppoſe they have done amiſs; but no certiorari lies to the court of the Mayor of London, and that is the caſe of Green v. Cole in 2 Saund. 252. 1 Lev. 310. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 669.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Croſſe v. Smith.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 161 of this work, under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Sir Richard Leving v. Lady Calverley. Error.

On a writ of error from the C. B. the error aſſigned, was, for want of an original, and on a certiorari ſued out, the return was, that no original, &c. On which the defendant in error ſuggeſted, that there was an original of another term; and on a certiorari ſued out by him, an original was returned, and an entry made thereof on the roll. And it was moved by the plaintiff in error's council, that this was irregular, becauſe the defendant ſhould have given notice in writing to the plaintiff's attorney, before he ſued out the certiorari. That the practice was ſo; and that in the caſe Nayden v. Winterbottom, Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. ſuch a rule had been granted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that it could be no prejudice in the writ of error; to which it was anſwered by the plaintiff in error's council, that the writ of error was brought for this reaſon, and therefore he ought to have his coſts, which he would loſe if the judgment ſhould be affirmed: but to that the Chief Juſtice replied, that if the Lord Keeper had been of opinion, that the plaintiff ought to have had his coſts, he would not have granted the liberty of filing an original, before the coſts were paid by the defendant, and the motion was denied. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 695.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. The King v. Worſenholm and Weeks.

They being indicted, one of them removed the indictment by a certiorari, entering into a recognizance to carry it down to trial. And it was reſolved, that the indictment was removed as to both, and that the defendant who removed it, ſaves his recognizance, by trying it as to himſelf, for that the acquittal of one, is not an acquittal of the other, nor vice verſa; neither can it be exacted of him to enter into a recognizance to try againſt both. And that notwithſtanding the other defendant had appeared below, and now by the removal is put without day; wherefore if he does not come in above gratis, proceſs of outlawry ſhall go againſt him; and for this cauſe it was, that before the ſtatute, the courſe was to grant no certiorari to remove indictments from London to Middleſex, without the defendant gave bail to try it. And the Chief Juſtice ſaid, it is always indorſed on the back of the certiorari, at whoſe requeſt it is granted; for though it is the King's command, yet it is at the prayer of the party; and the end of certiorari's is to do juſtice, and prevent vexation and oppreſſion; and if two people are indicted jointly, and join in plea, there ſhall go but one venire fac. otherwiſe, if they ſever. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 601.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Smith v. Croſs.

Per curiam. Whereas a certiorari iſſued to the court of Ely, teſted the 12th of March, in the eleventh year of the late King, returnable in Eaſter term to certify up all pleas then lately levied, and the plea was levied after the teſte, and before the return.

Per curiam. It was well removed; for a certiorari, as well as a recordare, ſhall remove all plaints pending at the time of their return. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7, p. 138.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Opinion of the Court.

The court will not incline to grant a certiorari to juſtices of the peace when a perſon is convicted; but the juſtices ought to give judgment: for a certiorari to juſtices, is rather to aid them, when a man would creep out of their juriſdiction, and ſo bring him into this court, which has a more extenſive power to puniſh. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 3.

Eaſter, 1 Ann, The Queen v. Whittle.

A certiorari to remove an order of ſeſſions, was ſuperſeded, becauſe it iſſued two days before the fiat was ſigned by a judge.

Per curiam. If it be to remove an indictment, both certiorari and fiat ought to be ſigned; if to remove an order, the certiorari need not be ſigned, but the fiat muſt. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 80.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The Caſe of the Pariſh of St. Mary in the Devizes.

On a certiorari to remove an order, the return was, the tenor of which follows in theſe words, when it ſhould have been, which order follows in theſe words, and for this reaſon it was quaſhed, and on motion, a new certiorari was granted. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 80.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Eiwer.

On a ſci. fac. on a recognizance entered into before the Chief Juſtice, conditioned, that one J. S. ſhould appear to an indictment againſt him, and carry it down to trial, according to the late ſtatute; the defendant demurred to it for the following reaſons.

1ſt. There is a variance between it and the recognizance: the recognizance cited is, that on iſſue joined, the defendant ſhall give notice to the proſecutor and his clerk; and the true recognizance entered into, is, to give notice to the proſecutor or his clerk. 2dly, It is in a greater ſum than the ſtatute requires, which is only 20 l. each.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The recognizance varies from the ſtatute, and therefore cannot be good by the ſtatute; yet it may be good by the common law: it is true, the recognizance, if not according to the ſtatute, cannot make the certiorari a ſuperſedeas, for by the ſtatute, no certiorari ſhall be a ſuperſedeas, without recognizance of 20 l. &c. But before that ſtatute the judges of this court had power to take recognizance, which is not taken away by the ſtatute; but only that they ſhould not be ſuch as will make a certiorari a ſuperſedeas. Therefore the writ was quaſhed for the firſt exception. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 9.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Plint.

A certiorari iſſued out of this court, to remove all convictions of the defendant for having removed foreign ſalt, &c. without having a permit, &c. The order removed was, for removing of ſalt generally. And adjudged that this order was not removed by the certiorari; and therefore the certiorari was quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 820.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Dr. Watſon's Caſe.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is unuſual to ſend a certiorari to aſſizes without ſpecial cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 117.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Ode v. Norcliff.

A certiorari was granted to remove orders made concerning foreign ſalt, and the orders returned, were concerning ſalt in general: the court held they were not well removed; for a ſpecial certiorari cannot remove general orders, though a general certiorari will remove ſpecial ones. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 97.

Hilary, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Knatchbull.

A motion was made for a certiorari to remove an indictment found at the aſſizes in Kent, againſt Mr. Knatchbull and others, but denied, though earneſtly preſſed for; alſo the ſame thing was done in Mr. Thornbury's caſe, who with others, was indicted at the Old Baily for a jacobite conventicle, and it was preſſed by him in perſon to have a certiorari, intimating partiality and prejudice in the Lord Mayor and Aldermen againſt him; but at laſt it was denied for this particular reaſon, viz. That the motion happened in the end of Hilary term, ſo that it would occaſion a delay of juſtice; otherwiſe it ſeems the court would have granted it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 150.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Anonymous.

A certiorari to remove an indictment ran for feloniouſly ſtealing two horſes, and the indictment was for ſtealing an horſe.

Per curiam. Nothing is before the court, neither have they any warrant to proceed in this caſe, for there is a variance between the indictment and the writ. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 80.

Trinity, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Potter et al'.

An indictment was preferred againſt the defendants before juſtices of peace on ſtat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. for aſſaulting and beating a cuſtom-houſe officer. On a traverſe of the indictment, the defendants were convicted, but before judgment was given, they obtained a certiorari to remove the record of conviction. The Attorney General moved for a procedendo, for they cannot remove the record of conviction only, for by that means they prevent the juſtices from giving judgment; they ought to ſtay till judgment is given, and then bring their writ of error. There is a capias out againſt the defendants to bring them in, for the juſtices cannot give judgment and ſet a fine on them in their abſence, unleſs they appear, no more than this court can, as was held in the caſe of Mead the quaker on the conventicle act.

The defendants council argued, that ſuch certiorari's had been allowed to remove records of convictions, and that a certiorari was the only method in this caſe, for a writ of error does not lie here no more than on a conviction before juſtices by virtue of any particular authority.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Without queſtion we may award a certiorari after conviction, and before judgment, though it be founded on an indictment; and it may be reaſonable to do it in ſome caſes, as was done on an indictment for murder in Liſle v. Armſtrong; and in the time of Scroggs, Chief Juſtice, on a conviction on an indictment for words in Glouceſter, a certiorari was awarded, to the end that this court might give the judgment for the greater example. We uſually grant a certiorari where it appears to us to be a conviction, on which no writ of error lies. And it was the old practice of the Crown Office, firſt to remove the whole record and proceedings on an indictment by certiorari, and then bring a writ of error, quod coram vobis reſidet, even after judgment was given on the indictment. But though we may grant a certiorari, yet we will conſider whether it is proper or not; and therefore, ſince the defendants have ſtood a trial before the juſtices, it is reaſonable the juſtices ſhould give judgment alſo; therefore, take a procedendo, and let the defendants bring their writ of error, if they think fit. Powell, Juſtice, agreed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 937.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Anonymous.

A certiorari was directed to juſtices of the peace to remove an indictment of forcible entry, and the return was void.

Per curiam. The juſtices names need not be ſubſcribed to it, but it ſhould be by the anſwer of the juſtices, &c. it appears, and Dominæ Reginæ, i. e. our Lady the Queen.

But before the error was diſcovered, it was filed, and the recognizance into which the party had entered, for laying the cauſe in purſuance of the ſtatute, was eſtreated.

Per curiam. If the party that removes an indictment by certiorari does not enter into a recognizance to try it the next aſſize or term, or at the ſitting within the term, the certiorari is no ſuperſedeas. 2dly. That failing of trying is a forfeiture of the recognizance, after which no motion will be heard in arreſt of judgment; but they doubted whether this, for want of due return, being a kind of blank writ, they ſhould order the juſtices to make a return, and reſpite the recognizance in the mean time.

Note. After a certiorari returned and filed, no procedendo can go. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 42.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. George.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If an order is removed by certiorari, on which an appeal lies, before the appeal it ought not to be filed till the court is informed of the matter, and then they will grant a procedendo, notwithſtanding the certiorari. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 40.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Dixon.

Dixon was indicted for ſelling five yards of muſlin, and affirming it to be worth 4 s. a yard, when in fact it was really worth but 2 s. 6 d. a yard, and a certiorari was brought to remove it, but not ſerved till after conviction; and though the court had no opinion of the indictment, yet they ſaid they did not like certiorari's after a verdict, and that whenever an indictment, on which there is a conviction, is removed, then the certiorari ought to give a day above, which was not done here, and therefore it was altogether irregular; and that by this certiorari they could by no means remove the indictment; for if a perſon takes out a certiorari to remove an indictment, and will not uſe it till after conviction, or the jury has been ſworn, he loſes the benefit of it: and for that the writ was quaſhed, and a new one granted to remove the indictment, and conviction thereon, and it was ordered to be made ſpecial, and to give the proſecutor a day above. Vide Mod. vol. 6. p. 61.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Bothell or Porter.

The defendant was convicted on an indictment before juſtices of the peace, and not being preſent, no judgment could be given, but a capias pro fine was awarded; and then he, by certiorari, removed up the conviction, and the Attorney General moved for a procedendo; 1ſt. Becauſe certiorari's uſually went to remove indictments, &c. before trial, but not to remove convictions; for the conſequence of that would be miſchievous; that this court which not having tried the cauſe, could not be truly apprized of its nature, ſhould ſet the fine, which ought by law to bear ſome proportion to the nature of the offence. On the other ſide it was argued, that it was very frequent to remove convictions before judgment, and that in this caſe there could be no inconvenience in point of ſetting the fine; for it being on ſtat. 14 Car. 2. the fine is aſcertained thereby, viz. a year's impriſonment.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This writ iſſues every day to remove convictions, on which a writ of error does not lie, for that is the party's only remedy, and the reaſon regularly why convictions are removed by certiorari; but certiorari's have alſo gone where a writ of error would have lain, to remove a conviction, plead a pardon, or for ſome other ſpecial reaſon. And he remembered a caſe in Chief Juſtice Scrogg's time, where a certiorari iſſued out of this court to remove a conviction on an indictment before judges of aſſize, and that the court gave judgment. It was for words, and there a writ of error would have lain; for wherever a conviction is on an indictment, a writ of error will lie: and he ſaid, the practice of the Crown Office was, to remove judgments of attainder, &c. by certiorari, and afterwards bring a writ of error, coram vobis, &c. And ſo it was in the caſe of Mr. Hambden, and ſeveral others; but here being no ſuch ſpecial reaſon in this caſe, let a procedendo go. And here the court ſaid, that where a ſtatute takes notice of a common offence, and adds a further penalty, an indictment thereon may well be laid to be contrary to the form of the ſtatute; and where the act gives juſtices power generally to determine a matter at the ſeſſions, it muſt be according to law, and as a court. See page 177. of this work. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 17.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Carleton v. Mortagh. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in debt by confeſſion in the C. B. and want of an original being aſſigned for error, and certified; the defendant pleaded a releaſe, but no venue was laid; whereon the plaintiff demurred, and the great queſtion was, whether the court, being informed that there was no original below, could by law award a certiorari to ſatisfy their conſciences, &c. before they reverſed a judgment for a juſt debt.

Gould, Powys, and Powell, Juſtices, agreed that it might be done, for that this caſe ſtood on its own ground, and diſtinguiſhed from all other caſes.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of a different opinion, for theſe reaſons, 1ſt. Becauſe the queſtion before the court is not, whether there is error or not? but whether the plea in bar is good as pleaded? 2dly. This is a demurrer to the plea in bar, and the whole event of the cauſe is put in judgment on the demurrer. 3dly. The want of an original is confeſſed here as clearly as can be: indeed, the aſſignment of error is not compleat till a certiorari is returned for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 206.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Queen v. White.

A certiorari was granted to remove an order of ſeſſions, made in Northamptonſhire, for removing a high conſtable, and putting in another: on which a procedendo was moved for, becauſe the writ was made out on the Saturday before the term, teſted the 12th of Feb. and the fiat was not ſigned till the 1ſt day of this Eaſter term, and a procedendo was granted for this irregularity; and it was held, that in writs of certiorari granted to remove orders, the fiat for making out the writ muſt be ſigned by a judge, but the writ itſelf need not; but in the caſe of certiorari's to remove indictments, both the writ and the fiat muſt be ſigned, and that the former is required by the late ſtatute.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, if the fiat had been ſigned on the ſame day the writ was taken out, that would have been well, becauſe it was before the eſſoign day; but a fiat ſigned in this term, cannot warrant a cer- tiorari teſted the laſt day of the preceding term; alſo they held high conſtables might be removed as well as petty conſtables, and the juſtices at ſeſſions were the beſt judges of that matter. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 150.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Nehuff's Caſe.

A certiorari being moved for to remove an indictment at the Old Baily for a fraud: the caſe was, that the defendant borrowed 600 l. of a feme covert, and promiſed to ſend her fine cloth and gold duſt as a pledge, and ſent no gold duſt, but ſome coarſe cloth worth little or nothing. The defendant offered to try it the ſame term, which would be a benefit to the proſecutor, who by the courſe of the Old Baily could not try it ſo ſoon; and the court granted a certiorari, becauſe the fact was not a criminal matter, but it was the proſecutor's fault, for repoſing ſuch confidence in the defendant, and becauſe it was an abſurd proſecution, and the defendant offered to try it that term. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 151.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. The Caſe of the Inhabitants of Shellington.

In Eaſter, 1 Ann, a rule was made that no certiorari ſhould be granted to remove orders of juſtices, from which the law has given an appeal to the ſeſſions, before the matter be determined on the appeal, becauſe it hinders the privilege of appealing; and that if any order be removed before appeal, it ſhould be ſent down again: but if the time of appeal be expired, that caſe is not within the rule. But in this cauſe it was held, that advantage muſt be taken of this rule upon the motion to file the order, for that after it is filed, it is too late. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 148.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Naſh.

The defendant was convicted of deer-ſtealing, and a warrant was awarded to the conſtable to levy, &c. he accordingly diſtrained, and then a certiorari iſſued to remove the conviction; and after the record was removed, the conſtable ſold the goods, but would not part with the money, or return the warrant. And the court held,

1ſt, That the conſtable might well proceed in the execution after the certiorari, becauſe it was begun before, and the certiorari, no more ſtays it than a writ of error on a judgment in C. B. ſtays the execution of a fieri facias already begun to be executed. And in that caſe, if the ſheriff returns want of buyers, C. B. may award a venditioni exponas, notwithſtanding the writ of error pending.

2dly, That this court had no power over the warrant, being granted before the certiorari iſſued, and therefore they refuſed to make a rule on the conſtable to return it; comparing it to the caſe of a writ of execution delivered, &c. before a writ of error. But they ſaid the juſtices might fine him, if he would not return his warrant, or deliver up the money to the proſecutor. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 389.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Bains.

An order was made againſt A. and the certiorari was to remove all orders againſt A. and B.

Per curiam. This ſhall not remove the order againſt A. alone, but it ought to be for all orders againſt A. and B. or either of them. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1199.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Sir Godfrey Kneller's Caſe.

If there be a forcible detainer, and an inquiſition taken, and then a certiorari to remove the inquiſition, and afterwards a new forcible detainer, the juſtices may, notwithſtanding the certiorari, record the force; but they cannot proceed to award reſtitution: ſo if after the inquiſition, and before the certiorari, there had been a forcible detainer, the juſtices might have recorded the force; but all proceedings upon ſuch inquiſition are ſtopped by this writ. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 151.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. The Queen v. Jay.

In the beginning of this term, a writ of certiorari was quaſhed, becauſe it was directed to the juſtices aſſigned to the peace, omitting the word keep. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 172.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Between the Pariſhes of Oakham and Whittleſea.

An order was made by two juſtices to remove a poor man, except he found ſecurity to be allowed by them, (i. e. the two juſtices.) And it was excepted to for that reaſon; and alſo, that it did not ſay he was likely to become chargeable, or that he came there to ſettle, not having 10 l. per annum.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. They cannot make a conditional order; for an order of removal is an adjudication, and ought to be abſolute. And they have nothing to do with the ſecurity, for that belongs to the pariſh, and it is not to be allowed or diſallowed, at the juſtices diſcretion.

It was then moved to ſet aſide the certiorari, by which the order was removed, becauſe in the order, the town was ſpelled Oakham, but in the certiorari Okeham.

But not allowed; and the certiorari was confirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 171.

Trinity, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Layton or Leighton.

A conviction of a forcible entry was removed by certiorari, and the judgment given on the conviction was, that a fine be laid, &c. and the queſtion was, whether the fine ſhould be entered ſo, or therefore it is conſidered and adjudged? The court held either way good, there being precedents both ways.

If the entry be, that a fine be laid, then it is removeable by certiorari; if it is, therefore it is conſidered and adjudged, then it muſt be removed by writ of error; and Greſly's caſe, 10 Co. K—— v. Chandler, 1 Keble, 1 Siderf. were cited by the court.

And judgment was given on the certiorari, that the conviction ſhould be affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 236. Forteſcue, p. 173.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Anonymous.

A certiorari iſſued to remove an inquiſition of felo de ſe, and they returned an inquiſition nuper captam, i. e. lately taken, and on the return it appeared to be taken after the teſte of the writ of certiorari: and it was urged that it was well removed, though taken after the teſte of the writ, as a writ of error, &c.

Powell, Juſtice. A writ of certiorari removes any order or conviction, though they are made or taken after the teſte of the writ, ſo they are taken before the return.

Then the following exceptions were taken to the inquiſition; 1ſt. Becauſe it is ſaid to be taken before the coronation of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, and does not ſay for what place. 2dly. It is ſaid by the oath of twelve, &c. and does not ſay true and lawful men,— nor for what place: and on theſe exceptions the inquiſition was quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1305.

Hilary, 12 Ann. Barnardiſton v. Fowler.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 105. of this work, under the head Arbitration and Award.

Hilary, 1 Geo. The King v. Tomb.

Per curiam. No inſtance can be produced of any certiorari to remove a recognizance for appearance from judges of oyer and terminer; and it would be, to take away a juriſdiction that properly belongs to them. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 278.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. Anonymous.

A certiorari was awarded to remove a conviction of a forcible entry, and detainer againſt A. and his wife: the conviction rerurned was againſt A. only: and for this variance the certiorari was quaſhed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 116.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. The Caſe of May and Parſons.

By ſtat. 12 Ann. c. 2. It is provided, that if any malt happens to be burnt after the duty is paid, the proprietor may apply to the next quarter ſeſſions, who are to adjuſt the quantum, and give him a certificate, which intitles him to receive back the duty. May and Parſons were two brewers, and had a great quantity of malt that had paid duty, burnt in a fire at Wapping; but the ſeſſions being then very near, they could not remove the rubbiſh ſo as to make an eſtimate of their loſs before the ſeſſions was over. The following ſeſſions they made their application, where the quantum of the loſs was adjuſted; but then the entry of the act of ſeſſions goes on, that the juſtices being of opinion, that the juriſdiction was given only to the next quarter ſeſſions after the fire, and there having one quarter ſeſſions intervened, therefore, for that reaſon, they denied the certificate.

On this a certiorari was moved for to remove theſe proceedings, and the caſe of Limehouſe was cited, where an entry of a refuſal to proceed on an appeal, under pretence of its being too late, was brought up, and quaſhed: but the Attorney General ſhewing cauſe againſt the certiorari, objected, that this was no order of ſeſſions, and a certiorari goes only to fetch up their orders: and of his opinion was the court, and denied the certiorari; and Eyre, Juſtice, cited the caſe of the Biſhop of St. David's, where an entry that he had prayed a prohibition for ſuch and ſuch reaſons, which was not granted, was held to be no judgment, ſo as to be looked into and corrected on a writ of error. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 391.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. The King v. The Inhabitants of Warminſter.

The ſeſſions returned an order of two juſtices for the removal of J. S. whereby it appeared, that after ſtat. 1 Jac. c. 17. and before ſtat. 3 & 4 W. & M. c. 11. J. S. had been hired in the pariſh of Warminſter, and had lived there as a ſervant for forty years, which the two juſtices adjudged had gained him a ſettlement. And it was moved to quaſh the order, becauſe it did not appear that J. S. had given notice, and that ſtat. 1 Jac. 2. is expreſs, that the forty days are to be accounted from giving notice in writing; and, beſides, the certiorari ſhould have gone to the two juſtices, and not to the ſeſſions, becauſe it did not appear any act had been done at the ſeſſions, either to confirm or reverſe the order. As to this laſt matter, the court held that the order was well returned by the ſeſſions.

Eyre, Juſtice, ſaid, it had been ſo determined already, for the juſtices are ſuppoſed to return all orders they make to the ſeſſions, where they are to be recorded. And as to the other part of the caſe, it was held well enough without notice, for the intent of that was only to give the pariſh an opportunity of ſending away perſons that were removeable; but that is not the caſe of hired ſervants or apprentices, who are irremoveable, ſo that requiring them to give notice, is requiring them to do a vain thing, for as to themſelves it can be of no benefit in making it a better or ſtronger ſettlement; and as to the pariſh, they can do nothing on it either to eaſe or diſcharge themſelves. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 470.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. The King v. Wells.

The court granted a certiorari to the defendant to remove an indictment for forgery, from the Old Baily; the defendant appearing to be a man of good repute, and the proſecution on ſlight grounds. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 549.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Atho, Father and Son.

In Eaſter term laſt, the Attorney General moved for a habeas, directed to the goaler of the common goal in the county of Pembroke, to return the bodies of Thomas Atho the father, and Thomas Atho the ſon, from the goal in Pembroke, to the keeper of the goal in the county of Hereford, that being the next Engliſh county to Pembroke, and likewiſe for a certiorari to be directed to the proper officer, to remove the indictment found againſt them in Wales, and to the coroner of Pembrokeſhire, to remove the inquiſition taken by him on the view of the body of G. M. who was murdered by the father and ſon in a barbarous manner, and for which an indictment was found againſt them in Wales.

On a motion to ſet aſide the former rule, it was ſaid, that Mr. Attorney founded his motion on ſtat. 26 H. 8. by which it is enacted, that juſtices of the peace and of goal delivery in the counties next adjoining to Wales, where the King's writ runneth, may hear and determine all felonies, and their accuſers, committed in Wales, or the marches thereof; but this clauſe extends only to lordſhips marches, and not to any of the antient counties in Wales.

Beſides, the aforeſaid ſtatute was altered about eight years after it was made; for by ſtat. 34 & 35 H. 8. by which Wales was divided into twelve counties, and juſtices appointed to keep their ſeſſions in the ſaid counties, it was enacted, that theſe judges might hold pleas of the crown in as large a manner as the juſtices in Weſtminſter Hall; and that they ſhall enquire, hear, and determine all criminal offences whatſoever committed within their ſeveral limits, and adminiſter common juſtice to all the King's ſubjects there, according to the laws of England.

The court took time to conſider theſe ſtatutes, and at another day declared, that it would be better only to grant the habeas corpus without the certiorari, for if both ſhould be granted, it would delay the proſecution, becauſe if the indictment and inquiſition ſhould be removed, they both would come into court next term, and not before; and they muſt both be ſent down by mittimus to the next aſſizes in Hereford, which would not be till March following, ſo that the defendants could not be tried before that aſſizes; but if the Attorney General would enter a nolle proſequi as to the indictment already found in Pembrokeſhire, then the defendants might be indicted again for the ſame fact in Herefordſhire, and tried at the ſummer aſſizes, which would be the beſt and moſt ſpeedy method.

Thereon a nolle proſequi was entered, and an habeas granted, and the defendants were indicted and tried in the county of Hereford, and both found guilty of murder; but becauſe their council inſiſted, that this was a miſ-trial, the judge who tried the defendants would not give ſentence to execute them.

Whereon the Attorney General moved in the beginning of Eaſter, 9 Geo. for an habeas to bring up their bodies to this court, that they might receive ſentence of death, and for a certiorari to remove the record, ſo that the court might have all before them to give judgment; all which was granted.

And accordingly, about a fortnight afterwards, both father and ſon were brought to the bar, and their council objected, that their trial in an Engliſh county, and by a jury of Engliſhmen, was a miſ-trial.

And after this point had been fully argued, the court declared they were bound by expreſs and plain words in this act of parliament, the preamble whereof complains of great offences in Wales, which are general words, and comprehends all Wales; and in the enacting part it is declared, that the miſchiefs were all over Wales, but greater in the lordſhip marches: ſo that it is plain, parliament intended to give ſome remedy to the whole, that it might be adequate to the miſchief, and meet it in as large a manner as poſſible.

Now, thoſe general words in the enacting part ſhall never be reſtrained by any words introducing that part; for it is no rule in the expoſition of ſtatutes to confine the general words of the enacting part to any particular words either introducing it, or to any ſuch words even in the preamble itſelf: it is true, Lord Coke recommends a conſtruction, which agrees with the preamble, but not ſuch as may confine the enacting part to it.

Whereon the priſoners were ordered to be brought up to receive ſentence, and accordingly, being brought to the bar, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the court could not proceed to give ſentence, but that they ought to be remanded into Herefordſhire, to receive judgment at the aſſizes, becauſe by this ſtatute that power is given to the judge of aſſize who tried the cauſe, and to him only; but on reading the ſtatute, the words were, viz, that the priſoner ſhould be tried and condemned, as if the fact had been committed in the next Engliſh county; and certainly this court may paſs ſentence on a criminal convicted in an Engliſh county.

So the motion was over-ruled, and ſentence given, and the priſoners were accordingly executed on Friday the 5th day of July. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 136.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. The King v. Gunſton.

The defendant's council moved for a certiorari to remove an indictment from the Old Baily, brought againſt a perſon of credit, for faliely pretending that a perſon of no reputation was Sir John Thornycraft, by which the proſecutor was induced to truſt him.

Per curiam. As you move on behalf of the defendant, we muſt have a more particular reaſon: which not being given, the motion was over-ruled. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 583.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The Caſe of the Commiſſioners of Sewers for Yorkſhire.

The court held, that a certiorari to bring up an order made by the commiſſioners for the removal of their own clerk, was of common right, and not diſcretionary, as in the caſe of other orders, where great inconveniencies may follow by inundations in the mean time. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 609.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. The King v. Puſey.

The defendant was indicted at the Old Baily for perjury; and to avoid appearing there, he moved for a certiorari; and cited Sir H. Mackworth's caſe, Eaſter 9 Geo.

Per curiam. This was not for perjury, but affixing the ſeal of a company in his cuſtody without their authority, which was a conteſt of a civil nature: we muſt make no diſtinction of perſons, and therefore cannot grant a certiorari for a defendant without the conſent of the proſecutor. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 717.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. The King v. Fawle.

The defendant's council moved for a certiorari to remove an indictment, found againſt the defendant for felony, in ſtealing hay, from the quarter ſeſſions of the peace held for the town and corporation of Chippington-Norton, on affidavits that the defendant could not have a fair trial there; and cited a caſe, The King v. Powell, where a certiorari was granted to remove an indictment from the quarter ſeſſions of the peace for Salop, for the like reaſon. And a rule was made for the proſecutor to ſhew cauſe, which was afterwards made abſolute. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1452.

Hilary, 1 Geo. 2. The King v. Sir Edmund Elwell & al.

The defendants were convicted on view of three juſtices of the peace in Kent, of a forcible detainer; and were committed by them to Maidſtone gaol, till they ſhould pay a fine to the King. On which they ſued out a certiorari, to remove the conviction into this court, and an habeas corpus to bring up their bodies.

Exception was taken to this conviction, that it was ill, becauſe the commitment was of the defendants to goal, there to remain till each ſhould have paid a fine to the King; and the juſtices of the peace have aſſeſſed no fine; ſo that it amounts to an indefinite commitment to priſon, which is illegal. Againſt which it was argued for the King, that this court might aſſeſs the fine, and the caſe of the King v. Chaloner. 1 Keb. 585. was cited.

As to that caſe the court ſaid, the party ſubmitted to a fine, a very ſmall one being ſet on the circumſtances of the caſe; and all the judges were of opinion, that the juſtices might and ought to ſet the fine, they being the beſt judges, from their view, of the nature of the offence, and that they need not inſtantly ſet it, but might adjourn for a little time to conſider of the fine. And Page Juſtice ſaid, Lord Holt, Chief Juſtice, held ſo in the caſe of The Queen v. Layton. They held alſo, that if a certiorari came to them, they might proceed to ſet a fine, and compleat their judgment, and it would be no contempt. And therefore they held, that this commitment being, that the defendants ſhould lie in priſon till they paid their fine, and no fine being ſet, the conviction was nought, it was accordingly quaſhed, and the defendants were diſcharged. Vide Raym. vol. 2. page 1514.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Bowers v. Mann. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the plea was of Michaelmas, 13 Geo. and the judgment was of the ſame term: the writ of error was teſted the 18th of October, 1 Geo. 2. and the aſſignment of errors was of the Trinity term following; to verify the error as to want of an original, the plaintiff took out a certiorari, teſted the 21ſt of June, 1 Geo. 2. on which there was a return, that there was no original; and the defendant in error, on that return pleading no error, his council objected, that the error was not verified, for the late King died the 11th of June, and therefore the teſte of the certiorari being the 21ſt of June, 1 Geo. 2. and the writ of error in October the 1ſt, makes it to be four months before the bringing the writ of error, and a year before an aſſignment of errors; the conſequence of which is, that it cannot be taken as verifying the errors; nor indeed to be the certiorari which the court awarded, for they awarded one after the error was aſſigned, and this appears to be taken out before.

The court thought the objection good, and affirmed the judgment, after they had refuſed a ſecond certiorari, becauſe it was in order to reverſe a judgment; according to the caſe of Merryfield v. Berry. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 819.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. The King v. Hayes.

Per curiam. A certiorari to remove an indictment, need not deſcribe whether the offence is laid againſt the form of the ſtatute; but a certiorari to remove all indictments, will remove one for forgery on the ſtatute. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 843.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. The King v. Greenſhaw.

A certiorari was granted to remove an indictment for not doing the ſtatute labour on the highway, on producing a precedent where it was done, in the caſe of the King v. Eachard. 12 Geo. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 849.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of Hamworth in the County of Stafford.

On a motion to quaſh a certiorari, to remove an indictment againſt the defendants at the ſeſſions, for not repairing a bridge; it was inſiſted, that by ſtat. 1 Ann. c. 18. the certiorari is taken away. To which it was anſwered and reſolved by the court, that this act extended only to bridges where the county is charged to repair; and that where a private perſon or pariſh is charged, and the right will come in queſtion, the ſtat. 5 & 6 W. & M. c. 11. had allowed the granting a certiorari. And therefore the court refuſed to quaſh it. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 900.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Elford.

After a mandamus was taken out under the ſeal of the court, the defendant (being an attorney) found fault with it, and altered it, before he delivered it to the party to whom it was directed. And for this an attachment was granted; and on his ſubmiſſion and paying coſts, he was diſcharged. After this he was indicted before the judges of aſſize at Exon for a forgery, and moved for a certiorari, but the proſecutor not conſenting, the court refuſed to grant it. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 877.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of Uttoxeter in the County of Stafford.

On great debate, and ſearch of precedents, it was held, that a certiorari would not lie to remove the poor's rate itſelf, the remedy being to appeal, or by action when a diſtreſs is taken, which will anſwer all the ends of juſtice in aſcertaining an unequal rate; whereas if the rate itſelf ſhould be required to be ſent up, great inconveniencies and delay would follow, and a caſe was cited. Mich. 10 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of St. Mary the Virgin in Marlborough, where it was ſo reſolved. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 932.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of Eckerſhall.

An order was made on ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 29. for the pariſh at large to repair the highways, the 6 d. in the pound levied on the in-ſhip not being ſufficient; and a certiorari being moved for, it was objected, that ſtat. 3 & 4 W. & M. c. 12. had taken it away; to which it was anſwered, that this was an order founded on a ſubſequent law.

Per curiam. They muſt both be taken together: the rate muſt be made in aid of the in-ſhip, by virtue of the former law. Therefore a certiorari was denied. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 944.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. The King v. The Juſtices of Shrewſbury.

On an appeal to the ſeſſions the poor's rate was quaſhed, and the ſeſſions made a new one. To remove which, a certiorari was moved for, becauſe in this caſe no appeal could be had, which was one reaſon given in the caſe of the King v. The Inhabitants of Uttoxeter; but the court ſaid, that was not the only reaſon they went on, and denied the certiorari. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 975.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Borough of Warwick.

On an appeal from a poor's rate, the ſeſſions ordered the churchwardens to produce the books on an adjourned day, before which a certiorari was brought to remove that order; and held to lie, though the appeal is depending; otherwiſe, the order muſt be obeyed before the validity of it can be determined.

It was alſo held, that an appointment of overſeers may be removed before an appeal to the ſeſſions; for the rule laid down in Salk. 147. exteuds only to the caſe where there is a limited time for appealing, as to the next quarter ſeſſions; but ſtat. 43 Eliz. c. 2. is not ſo reſtrained; and conſequently it can never be ſaid, that the time for appealing is out: and if the appeal from an appointment is lodged, there can be no certiorari, till the ſeſſions has made a determination, and a certiorari brought pending ſuch appeal ſhall be ſuperſeded. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 991.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Morgan,

A certiorari was granted to remove an indictment of perjury from the Old Baily, on the part of the defendant, on an affidavit that he had paid coſts twice for not going to trial, the judges being gone away; which the court allowed to be a ſpecial reaſon, that diſtinguiſhed this from the common caſe, where certiorari's are denied. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1049.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Burnaby.

On a motion for a certiorari to remove an indictment for a murder committed in Angleſea, on an affidavit, that the proſecutor feared ſome partiality in Wales, and therefore that it might be tried in the next Engliſh county; for the defendant was bailed, and had made ſome valuable preſents to the gentlemen of that county, as the proſecutor was informed by his ſolicitor: thereon a rule was made for the defendant to ſhew cauſe why a certiorari ſhould not iſſue.

And at another day it was ſhewed for cauſe, that if trials ſhould be moved out of Wales into the next Engliſh counties, on ſuch uncertain allegations, there could never be any trials there. And 1ſt, as to ſaying he was bailed, that could be no reaſon for the proſecutor to fear any partiality; for the defendant was bailable by law, becauſe by the coroner's inqueſt, the fact was only found chance medley; and as to the preſents made to the gentlemen of the county, the affidavit was only, that he was told ſo by his ſolicitor, who probably might tell him falſe; therefore he ought to make a poſitive oath of that matter, otherwiſe a certiorari ought not to be granted.

Beſides, in this caſe, both the priſoner and deceaſed were natives of Holland, and had no manner of intereſt in Wales; ſo that there is no colour or fear of any partiality, but that juſtice will be equally diſtributed.

Per curiam. Where there is a juſt reaſon to induce the court to believe partiality will be ſhewed on either ſide, there indictment ſhall be removed into an Engliſh county; but the truth of that matter will be ſuſpected, where it is on the motion of either the priſoner or proſecutor, and in ſuch caſe there muſt be a full and clear affidavit to induce the court to grant a certiorari; but where it is at the inſtance of the Attorney General in behalf of the crown, it ſhall be granted without an affidavit; therefore this rule ſhall be ſet aſide for want of a ſufficient affidavit, but the proſecutor ſhall have leave to move it again on a better. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 146.

Hilary, 10 Geo. 2. The King v. Webb.

A certiorari was granted to remove an indictment for perjury, from the Old Baily, at the defendant's requeſt, on an affidavit, that the proſecutor's attorney was Under Sheriff of Middleſex, and attended the grand jury on finding the bill. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1068.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. 2. The King v. Ferguſan.

This court was moved for a certiorari to remove an indictment for perjury againſt the defendant, from the ſeſſions at the Old Bailey; but the court would not grant it.

Lee, Juſtice. It was done indeed in the caſe of the King v. Morgan, 2 Strange, 1049, but that was on the extraordinary circumſtances of the caſe, for he had been there two ſeſſions, and had uſed his utmoſt endeavours, and could not get the indictment tried, tho' he was ready, and had paid coſts twice; but if we do it for aſking, we ſhall have all indictments come up hither. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 369.

Trinity, 12 Geo. 2. The King v. Lewis.

On an indictment in the grand ſeſſions of Angleſea, for embracery, the court was moved on the part of the defendant for a certiorari. It was admitted, that in capital caſes a certiorari lies by ſtat. 26 H. 8. c. 6. ſect. 6. But it was contended for the proſecutor, that in caſes of miſdemeanor it never had been granted; of which the court would adviſe. And on another day, ſeveral precedents were produced, and poſteas, where the indictment removed from the grand ſeſſions had been ſent down to be tried in an Engliſh county, and returned up to this court, therefore in this caſe there being an affidavit, to induce a ſuſpicion that a fair trial could not be had in Wales, a certiorari was granted. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 704.

Trinity, 13 Geo. 2. Merryfield v. Berry. Error.

The plaintiff in error took out a certiorari of a wrong term, which did not verify his error; and now he moved for a ſecond certiorari, which was denied.

Per curiam. It may be granted to affirm, but not to reverſe a judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 765.

Hilary, 17 Geo. 2. The King v. Beſtland.

The court refuſed to grant a certiorari to remove an indictment for a miſdemeanor from Dorſet aſſizes. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1202.

Eaſter, 17 Geo. 2. The King v. Farewell.

The proſecutor of an indictment for a nuiſance in the highway, took out a certiorari; and the defendant moved to quaſh it, there having been no affidavit made, according to ſtat. 5 W. & M. c. 11. nor any recognizance given, according to that, and former ſtatutes of 13 & 14 Car. 2. c. 6. 22 Car. 2. c. 12. and 3 W. & M. c. 12.

But the court on conſidering thoſe acts, held, that they related only to certiorari's applied for by defendants, and not to one for the King, as this was. And many precedents were ſhewn of certiorari's for the proſecutor, taken out in the manner this was, and therefore the certiorari was allowed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1209.

Michaelmas, 17 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of Madley in the County of Stafford.

A man, his wife, and daughter were removed by the order of two juſtices of the peace, which on appeal to the ſeſſions, was confirmed, and being removed by certiorari into this court, the order was quaſhed, as to the daughter, her age not being ſtated, nor the place adjudged to be the place of her ſettlement; but as to the man and his wife the orders were confirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1198.

Eaſter, 18 Geo. 2. The King v. Elizabeth Niccolls.

The defendant was indicted at Hicks's Hall for conſpiring with E. B. unjuſtly to charge W. F. with a robbery, and for that purpoſe going before a juſtice of peace, where B. ſwore it on him; Niccolls only came in, and pleaded not guilty. And the jury found that ſhe was guilty, but that B. died before the indictment was preferred. Before any judgment was given at the ſeſſions, ſhe brought a certiorari, and the cauſe was ſet down to be argued.

The firſt thing determined was, that this being in the nature of a ſpecial verdict, there was no occaſion for the defendant's appearing in court on the argument; for ſhe is not conſidered as convicted till after the court have determined on the verdict. And it was therefore not within the reaſon of the caſe of moving for a new trial, or in arreſt of judgment; where there being a general verdict, it created ſuch a preſumption of guilt, that the party cannot move without being preſent in court.

An exception was then taken, that one alone cannot be guilty of a conſpiracy, and that here was but one convicted: but the court over-ruled this, on the authority of Kinnerſley's caſe, where the judgment was given againſt him before the other had pleaded; ſo that here was a poſſibility of contradictory verdicts, which cannot be here: and 1 Vent. 234. 24 Ed. 3. c. 34. b. 24 Ed. 3. c. 73. a. were cited as caſes in point.

But then a doubt aroſe, what the court could do, the certiorari being brought before judgment: and this court not being apprized of the circumſtances of the offence, could not tell what judgment to give: A rule was therefore made to ſhew cauſe why the certiorari ſhould not be quaſhed, ſo as to remit it back to the ſeſſions; which was afterwards made abſolute. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1227.

Hilary, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Wakefield & al.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why an order of two juſtices made on ſeveral quakers, (for payment of tithes, under the value of 10 l. to the curate of a chapel) and confirmed at the ſeſſions on an appeal from it, ſhould not be quaſhed, together with the order of ſeſſions confirming it.

Note. The order of the juſtices was removed into this court by certiorari, on which the council took the following exception to the ſame:

That no certiorari could iſſue by the expreſs proviſion of the act to remove the proceeding from before the juſtices into any other court, becauſe the title was not in queſtion.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion:

Per curiam. We are all clearly of opinion, that the rule for the certiorari having been made abſolute, and the return thereto having been filed, ought not now to ſtand in the way and prevent our coming at the real juſtice and merits of the caſe; for if the certiorari iſſued improvide, we can order it to be ſuperſeded, and the return to be taken off the file: and we do therefore order, that the writ of certiorari be ſuperſeded, the return taken off the file, and the order remanded. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 485.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. Gwynne & al.

Three Judges (on a defended motion) on this indictment, granted a procedendo at the inſtance of the defendant, to the quarter ſeſſions of Brecon, on an indictment for an aſſault, removed up hither, becauſe the certiorari had not iſſued till after the defendants had confeſſed the aſſault below, though the conviction was after a trial; and though ſeveral of the juſtices were ſworn to be near relations of the defendant Gwynne, namely, his father, two brothers, and an uncle. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 749.

Trinity, 32 & 33 Geo. 2. The King v. Cowle.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why a ſuperſedeas ſhould not iſſue to a certiorari directed to the mayor, and corporation-juſtices of Berwick, to remove an indictment; the queſtion before the court on this rule was,

Whether this court have juriſdiction over Berwick, where the proceedings are not according to the laws of England, but according to the laws of Scotland.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion:

Lord Manſfield. There is no doubt as to the power of this court, where the place is under the ſubjection of the crown of England. There is no inſtance of a doubt ever having been made, before the preſent caſe, concerning the authority of this court to ſend a writ of certiorari to Berwick, and we are all clearly of opinion, that the court by law has ſuch a power: therefore the rule to ſhew cauſe why a ſuperſedeas to the writ of certiorari ſhould not iſſue, muſt be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 834.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. The King v. Moreley, and others.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why a writ of certiorari ſhould not iſſue to remove ſeveral orders made by Mr. M. a juſtice of peace of the county of Kent, on the conventicle act, viz. ſtat. 22 Car. 2. cap. 1. by which orders the ſaid juſtice had convicted a methodiſt preacher, and ſeveral others, in different penalties, under the ſaid ſtatute.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion on the following queſtion, viz.

“ Whether a certiorari would lie where the parties had another remedy?”

Per curiam. We are clearly of opinion, that a certiorari ought to iſſue. A certiorari does not go to try the merits of the queſtion, but to ſee whether the limited juriſdiction have exceeded their bounds. The juriſdiction of this court is not taken away unleſs there be expreſs words in the ſtatute to take it away. This is a ſettled point, therefore a certiorari ought to iſſue, and after a return ſhall be made, the parties will be at liberty, and it will be open to them to move for a ſuperſedeas, if there ſhould appear ſufficient reaſon to the court for ſo doing: therefore let the rule be made abſolute for a certiorari. Vide Bur. vol. 2 page 1040.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. Hewſon v. Brown.

On a motion for an order on the proper officer of the C. B. to attend this court with the record of the ſaid court in a cauſe, Watſon v. Hewſon, in order for its being inſpected by this court.

The caſe was: The defendant in this court, who was ſued here on a bond to indemnify the preſent plaintiff, had pleaded non damnificatus, i. e. he is not injured; to which plea the plaintiff replied a recovery in the C. B. againſt him by one T. W. whereby he was damnified. To this replication the defendant here had rejoined, nul tiel record, and the plaintiff ſurrejoined, that there is ſuch a record.

The plaintiff's council owned, that the practice in theſe caſes was, to iſſue a certiorari, and have it certified, but urged that it would ſave time and expence, and that this court by their general juriſdiction, had ſuch a power over all inferior juriſdictions.

The court were very clear, that in this caſe there was no ſort of reaſon to go out of the common and ordinary practice, and therefore denied the motion. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1034.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 3. The King v. The Inhabitants of St. Andrews, Holborn, and St. George the Martyr.

On a motion for a certiorari to be directed to the juſtices of peace for the county of Middleſex, to remove into this court an order of ſeſſions made by them at Hicks's-Hall ſeſſions, for quaſhing a ſcavenger's rate, and making a new one. This certiorari was prayed, notwithſtanding the clauſe in ſtat. 2 W. & M. cap. 8. which ſays, "that perſons aggrieved may have recourſe to the general quarter ſeſſions of the peace, to be "holden for the place wherein the matter of grievance doth ariſe: and that their determination and "order thereon ſhall be final, without any appeal to "any other court whatſoever." A rule to ſhew cauſe was obtained, and no cauſe being ſhewn, the rule was made abſolute: the court being clearly of opinion, that the juſtices at their quarter ſeſſions had no power to make this new rate, and therefore quaſhed the order of ſeſſions in toto. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1458.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Midlam.
Idem v. Eundem.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why the maſter of the Crown Office ſhould not be ordered by the court to forbear and not proceed to tax the proſecutor's coſts in thoſe cauſes relative to the affirmance of the convictions againſt the defendant in theſe cauſes. And alſo, why the bond entered into by, or on the behalf of the defendant, on allowing the certiorari, ſhould not be delivered up to the ſaid defendant, or his clerk in court, to be cancelled; a rule to ſhew cauſe was obtained.

On ſhewing cauſe to this rule, after hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. This is not a caſe within the intention of ſtat. 5 Ann. cap. 14. For this certiorari was not brought for vexation, or out of obſtinacy or perverſeneſs, but an action being brought for the ſame offence, the defendant in that action could not obtain (though he ought to have had it) a copy of the conviction from the juſtice of peace who made the conviction, and therefore he was obliged to bring a certiorari to remove it, and he removed it for that purpoſe only. The proſecutor had no occaſion therefore to be at any expence about it, for the defendant did not object to it. But the proſecutor ſet it down in the paper only to increaſe expence, and merely for vexation, ſuppoſing that the defendant would have been obliged to pay for it. The plaintiff in the action was nonſuited; and, I think, the defendant (inſtead of paying coſts) ought to have had an allowance of the coſts he was put to in removing the conviction, as it was a neceſſary part of his defence; therefore the preſent rule ought to be made abſolute.

Wilmot, Yates, and Aſton, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the rule be made abſolute, and let the proſecutor pay the defendant the coſts out of pocket of this application. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1720.

Challenge.

Hilary, 1 W. & M. Anonymous.

On a trial at bar the queſtion was, whether the fair called Wey-Hill fair, ſhould be kept at Wey-Hill, or at Anderry? And one of the jury was challenged, becauſe he lived at Wey-Hill; and the objection was, that the Fair occaſioned manure to improve the ground. On the other ſide it was conſidered, that the Fair occaſioned trampling of the graſs: this being a challenge to the favour, two of the jurors were ſworn to be triers, and their oath was, You ſhall well and truly try whether A. (the juryman challenged) ſtands indifferent between the parties to this iſſue. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 152.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Warrington & al.

On an information for a riot committed in Cheſter. It was ſuggeſted on the roll, that one of the ſheriffs was a defendant, on which the venire facias was prayed and directed to the other ſheriff. On not guilty pleaded, the jury found the defendants guilty; after which it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the venire ſhould have been awarded to the coroner, becauſe both ſheriffs make but one officer, or rather that both perſons make but one ſheriff; but not allowed: for though one be challenged, the other may execute the writ, but he does it in the name of both; as where one arreſts a man, or neglects to arreſt a man, the arreſt or neglect is the act or neglect of both. The coroners are not the proper officers of the court, in any other caſe but where the ſheriff is abſolutely improper; not where there is no ſheriff at all. If the ſheriff die, the coroner cannot execute, &c. In the caſe of two coroners, if one be challenged, the other muſt act, and yet both make but one officer; ſo in this caſe one ſheriff is challenged, therefore the other muſt act. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 152.

Charnock's Caſe.

Charnock, King, and Keys were indicted for high treaſon, in conſpiring the death of the King; they were denied council, but allowed pen, ink, and paper, and having ſeverally pleaded not guilty,

Holt, Chief Juſtice, told them, that each of them had liberty to challenge thirty-five of thoſe who were returned on the panel to try them, without ſhewing any cauſe; but that if they intended to take this liberty, then they muſt be tried ſeparately and ſingly, as not joining in the challenges, but if they intended to join in the challenges, then they could challenge but thirty-five in the whole, and might be tried jointly on the ſame indictment; accordingly they all three joined in their challenges, and were tried together and found guilty. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 81.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. The Warden of the Fleet.

On a trial at bar of the iſſues joined in pleading on a monstrans de droit, i. e. ſhewing of a right in Chancery, to an inquiſition returned there, finding ſeveral miſdemeanors in the warden in the duty of his office, which office is found to be an antient office, exerciſeable in Middleſex; whereby the ſaid office, and the priſon houſe in London, which were found to be appendant to the office, were forfeited; there were two iſſues, one on the eſcapes, the other on the appendancy in London; and a jury of Middleſex being come to the bar, the defendant's council challenged the array, and had it drawn up on parchment in French, and read by council; the cauſe was, that the jury ought to come from London, where the houſe was, and not from Middleſex, and be returned by a London ſheriff; and concluded, and this he is ready to verify, &c. and therefore prays judgment that the array be quaſhed.

It was inſiſted on, the inquiſition was in nature of an information, declaration, or indictment; and the council took notice that the priſon was in London, and that ſuppoſe the office be in Middleſex, yet that only made it like a common in one county, appendant to a manor in another, in which caſe both counties ought to join; and if it is a good challenge to a jury, that they are not indifferent, though of legal venue; a fortiori, it is good when they have no legal capacity at all. 3 Cro. 646. was quoted, where cattle diſtrained in one county, and drove into another, and adjudged that the jury to try the fact ſhould come from both counties; and though in truth London cannot join with another county; yet that ought to be ſuggeſted on the roll, and the court cannot otherwiſe take notice of it; beſides if the venire was awarded into both the counties, and a London jury came to the bar, and did not inſiſt on the privilege, the trial would be regular; but if they inſiſted on their privilege, then perhaps the court for neceſſity might award a venire facias to Middleſex only.

And it is no reaſon to ſay, that becauſe we may have advantage of this in arreſt of judgment, we may not offer it now; for though we waive what we may move in arreſt of judgment, yet we may aſſign it after for error on a writ of error.

The Attorney General on the other ſide, argued, that the cauſe of challenge to the array, is the want of indifference in the officer; and the reaſon why they may challenge the pannel is, becauſe that cauſe does not appear on record, and therefore they have no other way to take advantage of it, and that too is the reaſon of challenge to polls.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The matter of challenge ought not to be to the court, as in this caſe; for you ſay we have awarded a writ to a wrong officer, for the array is rightly made according to the writ. If the pannel was returned by a ſheriff, being a party concerned, or being a member of a body politic concerned, it would be a good cauſe of challenge; but we do not take notice on the awarding the venire facias of any ſuch thing, if we are not appriſed of it by the ſuggeſtion of the party, and want of a proper venue was never yet a challenge to the array; if he were a kin to either party, or intereſted, or not qualified by law to make a return, or had made it at the requeſt of either party; or if the cauſe concerned the corporation of London, the venire ought to go to the coroner at firſt; but if you inſiſt on it, you muſt demur for the King, and they join in demurrer; then all appearing to us on record, we may give judgment immediately, or take time to conſider.

And a demurrer was ordered to be drawn inſtantly, and a joinder in demurrer and the challenge was overruled. And Holt, C. J. ſaid, it had been proper for them to move to quaſh the venire facias before; but now the jury was at the bar. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 337.

Hilary, 12 Ann. The Queen v. Delme.

This was an information againſt Delme, for exerciſing the office of Alderman in the city of London, not being duly choſen. When the trial came on, the council for the Queen challenged the array, becauſe one of the ſheriffs was one of thoſe returned by the court of Aldermen: this challenge being allowed, a venire facias was directed to the other ſheriff; and then the council for the defendant challenged the array, becauſe returned by a ſheriff, that was concerned in intereſt, as he was a freeman of the city of London; on this a venire was directed to the coroner.

But before any return, the council for the Queen entered a ſuggeſtion on the record, ſetting forth, that the queſtion to be decided on this trial, being, whether the right of election was in the freemen only, or in all thoſe who paid ſcot and lot, (freemen or not freemen) it appearing from the nature of the thing, that it was impoſſible for an impartial jury to come out of London, and therefore they prayed a venire to the ſheriff of Surrey, the adjacent county.

The court was moved to ſet aſide this ſuggeſtion, as being out of time, and inconſiſtent with what they before admitted on the record.

But after hearing council on both ſides, the matter was adjourned, Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 199.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. Blewett v. Bainard.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment obtained in C. B. it was aſſigned for error, that A. S. who on the firſt trial was withdrawn in order for a view, was ſworn on the ſecond pannel; and no error pleaded.

The plea of no error was agreed to be a confeſſion of the fact, and a demurrer to the matter of law; and at firſt the court inclined this was error, becauſe it muſt be taken he was withdrawn as a perſon admitted by both parties to be improper to try the cauſe. But afterwards, on conſideration, the court held it to be right enough; and that if it was an exception, it ſhould have been taken before he was ſworn. But being withdrawn only for a view, they held it would be no objection, and affirmed the judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 70.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. The King v. Johnſon & al.

The defendants on an information in nature of a quo warranto, obtained the common rule for a ſpecial jury, which was drawn up as uſual, for the ſheriff to attend with the freeholders book, and that he ſhould return the twenty-four ſtruck by the maſter. The proſecutor took out the venire to the ſheriff of Cheſhire, and the defendant challenged the array, on account of an intereſt the ſheriff had, as being a freeman of Cheſter, whoſe rights were to be tried. And on arguing this challenge before the Cheſter judges, they were of opinion to allow the challenge; though it was much inſiſted on, that ſince the late act the ſheriff had no influence, he being only to return the liſt brought him as ſtruck; but the right of challenging not being taken away, nor his power of Marſhalling the pannel, and putting which he pleaſed firſt, it was determined to be a good challenge, and the array was quaſhed.

It was then moved, that an attachment might iſſue againſt the defendants for a contempt in challenging contrary to the rule of court; and the caſe of Burridge was cited; but the court did not ſeem to reliſh that caſe, and ſaid, it might be an authority in one exactly circumſtanced as that was, but in no other. That in the preſent caſe, though the ſheriff is mentioned in the rule, yet that is only as being the uſual officer; but it did not preclude the proſecutor from taking the venire to the coroner. And the court remembered in what manner the motion was made, viz. that wherever the proſecutor thinks fit to take his venire, there may be a ſpecial jury. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1000.

Trinity, 10 Geo. The King v. Burridge.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 136 of this work under the head Attachment.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Parker v. Thoroton.

A juror on the principal pannel was challenged, and afterwards ſworn on the tales by a wrong name; and though no fault was found with the verdict, yet the court granted a new trial. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 640.

Hilary, 6 Geo. 3. Heſketh v. Braddock.

Per curiam. We are clearly of opinion, that the ſmalleſt degree of intereſt or influence in a witneſs, juror, or the officer by whom the jury is returned, is a deciſive objection to all or any of the ſaid perſons being qualified for thoſe reſpective purpoſes. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1847.

Commitment.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. The King v. Bethel.

The defendant was convicted at the Old Baily for buying of broad money, and was fined 1000 l. and being arreſted at the ſuit of a private perſon, ſome time before his proſecution for that offence, or before any knowledge of it, (two perſons being bail for him in this court) he moved for an habeas corpus; and being brought up by the keeper of Newgate, it was moved on behalf of his bail, that he being now in court, may ſurrender himſelf in diſcharge of his bail, and be committed to the Marſhal of this court.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. it does not appear to us that Bethel was in execution, for a commitment to the gaoler, is not any commitment in execution; but it muſt be to the ſheriff, for the goaler is but an under-officer; and it makes no difference that this commitment was in court; for the commitment there was in lieu of proceſs. We in this court cannot commit to the goaler, but to the ſheriff; for though we have a Marſhal and a priſon of our own, yet we may commit to the ſheriff; and we have often committed to the gate-houſe, and the ſheriffs of London have often taken away a priſoner from this bar for a fine. It is true, the goaler muſt take notice of a commitment to him, but it is no otherwiſe good, but as he is a ſervant to the ſheriff; his ſhort notes are not a good return to an habeas corpus. All men condemned at the Old Baily, are hanged by this ſhort note, and yet that would never be a good return to a writ of error; but here is the matter, the offender knowingly gets a habeas corpus to the goaler, who haſtily makes a return to it, and ſo the ſheriff ſhall be made liable to his ſervants fault or negligence.

But now the queſtion is, whether we ſhall avoid the commitment on an habeas corpus; or whether you are not put to your writ of error? And truly I think we cannot avoid it on an habeas corbus.

This word remain is an improper word; it ſhould have been committed; but indeed they could not make him remain there, unleſs there had been a commitment.

Beſides, ſince it appears he was committed for the fine, I think he muſt be remanded.

Eyre, Juſtice, agreed with the Chief Juſtice, and he was accordingly remanded. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 19.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. The King v. Row and Kendall.

On a motion to diſcharge the defendants, who were committed by the ſecretary of ſtate, being charged with high treaſon, in being privy to, and aſſiſting the eſcape of Sir J. Montgomery out of the cuſtody of one of the King's meſſengers, in ordinary, charged with high treaſon.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The power of the ſecretary was never queſtioned till lately; and as for his commitment to a meſſenger, it is good; for he may be committed for a time to any body, while he is under examination; but though for that cauſe this commitment had been irregular, it is a queſtion if it would not have been void.

Rokeby, Juſtice, ſaid, that the meſſenger may be taken as a carrier of him to priſon, and ſo good.

Then it was excepted that the warrant does not ſhew for what treaſon Sir J. Montgomery had been committed.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a ſtatute makes a felony, acceſſaries before and after are felons, though not mentioned; and here the defendants are affected with the treaſon of Sir J. M.

Per Eyre and Rokeby, Juſtices. The ſpecies of Sir J. M.'s treaſon ought to be expreſſed; and for want of that, they ſhall be bailed, and they were bailed accordingly. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 82.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Swinſted v. Lydall.

An action of treſpaſs and falſe impriſonment was brought by the plaintiff for detaining him in cuſtody until he had paid 11 s. for his deliverance.

The defendant pleads the juriſdiction of the Court of Conſcience in London, that they had power to make orders, and exact obedience to them. That an order was made by that court for the plaintiff to pay 10 s. 4 d. &c. which he not performing, the defendant took him by virtue of a precept of that court, and ſo juſtifies the impriſonment, and detaining him till he had paid that ſum.

To this plea the plaintiff demurred, becauſe the juriſdiction did not go to the whole ſum of 11 s. but only to 10 s. and 4 d.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion as follows:

Per curiam. This is a ſpecial authority given by act of parliament to this Court of Conſcience to commit, &c. but the officer is not to detain the perſon in cuſtody till the money is paid to him; for neither he nor the ſheriff ſhould receive it, unleſs it is on a fi. fa. and afterwards in Hilary term, for this reaſon judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 295.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Clark's Caſe.

This caſe came before the court on a return to an habeas corpus, they ſet forth the charter of the city of London, &c. and farther ſay, that in the ſaid city there are ſeveral companies, &c. and that the company of vintners is one of them, &c. and that thoſe companies are under the government of the mayor and aldermen: and they ſay alſo, that if a man refuſes to take on him the office of a liveryman of any company, he might be thereof convicted and impriſoned by the mayor and aldermen; and they ſay, that Clark refuſed to take on him the office of a liveryman of the company of vintners, tho' he was a citizen and freeman of London, and ſubject to the ſame; and that therefore the mayor and aldermen committed him to F. the keeper of Newgate, until he ſhould take on him the ſaid office.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion as follows:

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We ought, as far as we can by law, to ſupport the government of all ſocieties and corporations, and eſpecially this of the city of London; and if the mayor and aldermen ſhould not have power to puniſh offences in a ſummary way, then farewell to the government of the city.

But what ſticks moſt with me is, that it is not ſet out that F. is an officer of the city; and indeed I think he is not an officer, though I confeſs he is an officer to the ſheriffs, as he keeps the county goal; but it ought to have appeared, that he was committed to an officer of the mayor and aldermen.

Clark was afterwards diſcharged by the whole court, who declared their opinion, that the cuſtom was a good cuſtom, and was for the advantage and good government of the city, and therefore they would always ſupport it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 319.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Bracey v. Harris.

The plaintiff was ſummoned before the commiſſioners of bankrupts, to give an account of a bankrupt's eſtate; and on his refuſing to anſwer the queſtions put to him, he was committed; and having brought an habeas corpus, it appeared on the return, that the warrant of commitment concluded that he ſhould be committed until he conformed to the authority of the commiſſioners; which was now alledged to be a void commitment, becauſe they have a ſpecial authority given them by act of parliament, that if the party ſhall refuſe to be ſworn, and to anſwer ſuch queſtions as ſhall be adminiſtered to him, that then the commiſſioners, or the greateſt number of them, may commit the perſon refuſing to priſon, there to remain without bail, &c. until he ſubmit to the commiſſioners to be examined, and not till he conform to the authority of the commiſſioners: and therefore it was moved, that he might be diſcharged.

The court ſeemed to incline, that the party need not pay an univerſal obedience to the commiſſioners, ſo as to anſwer all queſtions, but only to examine him to what he knows concerning the carrying away any part of the bankrupt's eſtate by any perſon, but not by himſelf.

But for that fault in the concluſion of the commitment, Bracey was diſcharged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 308.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Dr. Groenvelt's Caſe.

Dr. Groenvelt being committed laſt vacation by the cenſors of the College of Phyſicians, was this term brought into court by habeas corpus, on which the goaler returned, that the ſaid Doctor being examined laſt vacation, and convicted by the cenſors of the College of Phyſicians for his ill practice on the body of J. S. in the year 1692, by which the ſaid J. S. died, was fined by the ſaid cenſors 20 l. and committed to goal, until he ſhould be delivered by the ſaid college, or otherwiſe by due courſe of law.

On which return the court reſolved, that the ſentence or judgment was too general, for the cauſe of commitment ought to be certain, to the end that the party may know for what he ſuffers, and how he may regain his liberty; if he was committed for the fine, it ought to be until he paid the fine; but if the intent of the cenſors was to puniſh him, not only by fine, but alſo by impriſonment, they ought to have made them two diſtinct parts of the Judgment, by condemning him to priſon for ſo long, and from thence until he ſhould pay the fine. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 213.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Gregory's Caſe.

Gregory was committed by the commiſſioners of bankrupts, for not anſwering and making a diſcovery of his eſtate; and being brought into court by an habeas corpus, it was moved that it might be filed, and that he might be diſcharged, on producing affidavits that he had made a diſcovery.

But the court would not diſcharge him; for if the commitment was void, he may bring an action for falſe impriſonment; and the court ſaid, that the commiſſioners need not aſk the party whether he will be examined or not; for the ſtatute gives them power to examine him on interrogatories, which they muſt prepare, and tender him ready drawn; and this not being returned on the habeas corpus, the warrant of commitment was for that reaſon held void. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 368.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. The King v. Fell.

Fell, the keeper of Newgate, was indicted for the eſcape of B. who was committed for high treaſon, in conſpiring the death of the King. On not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the King: And it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that it was ſaid in the indictment only that Fell ſuffered B. to eſcape, being in his cuſtody, charged with high treaſon, &c. and does not ſhew, that he was committed for high treaſon to the cuſtody of the defendant. And on this exception judgment was arreſted.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a man be in the cuſtody of Fell for treſpaſs, and another perſon goes before a juſtice of peace and ſwears high treaſon againſt him, he will be in the cuſtody of Fell, and alſo charged with high treaſon; but ſince he was not committed to Fell for high treaſon, he ſhall not anſwer for his eſcape. The precedents are, for which cauſe he was committed. And in the caſe on the eſcape of Lord Grey, the mittimus was ſet out; and though error in the commitment will not excuſe the goaler (as if a man be committed for high treaſon there to continue till further order) if he permits the man to eſcape, yet the goaler ſhall never be charged for the eſcape of the man, as committed for an offence, for which he never was committed to him.

Another exception was, that it was ſaid, B. was committed to the priſon of Newgate under the cuſtody of the ſheriff, ſo that it did not appear that he was committed to the cuſtody of Fell; and alſo that to ſay, that he was committed to the priſon, &c. was inſenſible, becauſe a man cannot be committed to a place, but to a perſon, &c. To the firſt point, the court held, that it was well enough. For if B. was committed to the ſheriff, and the goaler permits him to eſcape, the goaler is liable; for the priſoner is in the cuſtody of both. And though ſome ſcruple has been made, whether the ſheriff is in ſuch caſe chargeable, (ſee Hale, P. C. 114.) The ſheriff ſhall not be charged criminally, viz. to extend to life or limb; though he is liable to payment of damages in an eſcape for a civil cauſe) without doubt he is; for by ſtat. 14 Ed. 3. c. 10. the ſheriff ought to put in ſuch a goaler as he will be anſwerable for; and ſtat. 19 H. 7. c. 10. which reſtores the goals to the ſheriff, ſays, that in all caſes where the goals belong to the ſheriff, he ſhall be chargeable for eſcapes.

And as to the ſecond point, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it was according to the precedents; for commitments to priſon, and the Tower of London, are frequent, and ſuch commitment is a good commitment to the Lieutenant of the Tower. A third exception was, that it did not appear (admitting B. to have been committed to the priſon for high treaſon) that he was under ſuch commitment at the time of the eſcape; for it may be he was pardoned, &c. But this was over-ruled; for Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that ought to come from the other ſide. And if a man was pardoned, yet the ſheriff ought not to take notice of it until his pardon was allowed in this or ſome other court; for the ſheriff cannot allow the King's pardon; and it is criminal in him to permit a priſoner to eſcape before ſuch allowance had. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 424.

Michaelmas, 10 W 3. Anonymous.

An attachment was granted againſt a man, and he was reported in contempt: and being fined, and committed in execution for it, he eſcaped.

And on a motion being made for a new attachment, Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion it could not be granted, but a ſpecial ſcire facias ought to be ſued out, reciting the whole matter, why the King ſhould not have execution for the fine. But at another day (Holt being abſent) an attachment was granted. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 396.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. The King v. Chandler.

The defendant was brought into this court on an habeas corpus, to which the warrant of his commitment was returned. And on two exceptions taken to his commitment, he was diſcharged.

The firſt was, that it did not ſufficiently appear that the defendant had not ſufficient diſtreſs, (he being committed on a conviction on the new act againſt deer-ſtealing) and therefore it was ill; for if he had ſufficient diſtreſs, the juſtices of peace had not any power to commit him to priſon; but the warrant of commitment only recited, that Chandler, of the pariſh of Hadley in the county of Middleſex, was convicted, &c. and becauſe he did not pay the forfeiture, the juſtice iſſued his warrant, directed to all conſtables, &c. and that the conſtable of South Mims in the ſaid county had made return, that the defendant had no goods in Hadley, theſe are therefore, &c.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice, and Gould, Juſtice. The ſtatute is not purſued, for the return of the conſtable is nothing to the purpoſe.

The ſecond exception was, that the conſtable of South Mims could not return a matter of fact done in Hadley, becauſe it was out of his juriſdiction. And the whole court was of that opinion. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 545.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. The King v. Symonds.

The defendant was brought into this court on an hab. corp. directed to the keeper of New Priſon: and at the return thereof it appeared, that ſhe was committed by Mr. P. a juſtice of peace, to New Priſon, becauſe ſhe was a lewd, idle, and diſorderly perſon, for that ſhe was found in a reputed bawdy houſe: and it was moved that ſhe might be diſcharged, becauſe the commitment was illegal; 1ſt. Becauſe the bare being found in a bawdy-houſe was no cauſe of commitment. 2dly. Becauſe the juſtices of the peace could not commit to New Priſon.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The barely being in a ſuſpected houſe at a time not unſeaſonable, ſhall never be a cauſe of commitment; but the juſtices may commit a lewd, idle, diſorderly perſon; therefore, a general commitment, that ſhe was an idle and diſorderly perſon, had been good. But here the juſtice of peace aſſigns that for cauſe of idleneſs and diſorderlineſs, which is no cauſe, viz. the being found in a houſe of ill repute; and therefore this commitment ſeems ill.

But on reading ſeveral affidavits concerning the debauchery and obſcene actions of the defendant, the court refuſed to diſcharge her without bail, which ſhe not being able to find, was committed to the Marſhalſea. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 699.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Pollard v. Gerrard.

A motion was made for a prohibition to be directed to the court of the Archdeacon of Middleſex to ſtay a ſuit brought there by Gerrard againſt the plaintiff for fees, viz. 4 s. due to him as Regiſter from Pollard, who had been ſworn before him, churchwarden of the church of, &c. on ſuggeſtion, that the office of Regiſter is a temporal office, and all profits and fees due to it ſuable at common law. And a rule was made to ſhew cauſe why a prohibition ſhould not be granted. And the plaintiff's council ſhewed cauſe againſt it, but agreed prohibitions had been granted to ſtay ſuits there for fees due to proctors; but in this caſe the Spiritual Court may make a better judgment, whether the fees in demand are due and reaſonable. Beſides, that they are ſo ſmall, that it would not be worth while to bring an action at common law for them; and in ſuch caſe, this court will not drive the party to the tedious and expenſive remedy of an action. In this court, the door-keepers claim fees by cuſtom, and fees are due to the marſhal, cryer, &c. at the aſſizes; and in ſuch caſes, if the parties who ought to pay the fees refuſe to do it, this court, or the judge of aſſize, reſpectively exert their authority, and commit perſons refuſing to pay their fees, and do not drive the party aggrieved to bring an action; and this is the conſtant practice.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he knew of no ſuch practice; and he could not commit a man for not paying his fees. If there is a right, there is a remedy; and an indebitatus aſſumpſit will lie, if the fee is certain; if uncertain, a quantum meruit. It was held, 15 Car. 2. in the Exchequer, that a Regiſter cannot ſue for his fees in the Spiritual Court. And therefore a prohibition ſhall be granted, and if the plaintiff pleaſes he may declare on it, to the end that the matter may be determined more judicially. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 703.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Hollingſhead's Caſe.

Hollingſhead was brought into this court on an habeas corpus; and the return was, that ſhe was committed by the commiſſioners of bankruptcy for refuſing to be examined by them; and the concluſion of the warrant of commitment was, that ſhe ſhould remain in cuſtody, until ſhe ſhould be otherwiſe diſcharged by due courſe of law. And by reaſon of this concluſion, the court held the commitment to be ill, and diſcharged the defendant; becauſe the power given by ſtat. 1 Jac. 1. cap. 15. is to commit the party until he ſubmits himſelf to the commiſſioners, and ſhall be by them examined. And there is no mention made of being diſcharged by due courſe of law. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 851.

Hilary, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Langley.

The defendant was indicted for ſpeaking certain words of the mayor of Saliſbury, viz. "You, Mr. "mayor, I care not a fart for you," at one day; and on another day, "You are a rogue and a raſcal." And to this indictment the defendant demurred.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Theſe words do not tend more to the breach of the peace, whether ſpoken in his preſence or abſence, to himſelf or to ſome other perſon. A magiſtrate may commit the party for ſpeaking ſuch words, if he refuſes to find ſureties for his good behaviour; but ſuch commitment muſt be made preſently.

Per curiam. Let the indictment be quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1029.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Elderton's Caſe.

Elderton was committed by the Board of Green Cloth, for executing a fi. fa. in Whitehall, and on the return of a habeas corpus it was argued to be lawful, and not at all prejudicial to the privilege of the palace, and that they had no power to commit for breach of the peace, having a power only over the Queen's family, for the government of the menial ſervants, and that the privilege of Whitehall was by ſtat. 28 H. 8.

The Attorney General on the other ſide argued, that there is a ſtanding commiſſion of the peace for the verge and palace, and that the officers of the Green Cloth are always commiſſioners; and that ſtat. 28 H. 8. did not create the privileges of a palace, but only aſcertained the boundaries thereof, for the Queen may declare any houſe to be her palace without the parliament; and ſuch declaration being made under the great ſeal, it afterwards continues a palace, though the Queen does not reſide there.

Powell, Juſtice. The privilege of the palace is by common law, and that in reſpect of the King's preſence: breaking the Exchequer hath been held to be burglary, though none of the King's money was there; and one Jones had his hand cut off for a murder committed by him in the Tower, and was afterwards executed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, doubted the caſe of burglary in breaking the Exchequer, &c. and denied Jones's caſe, becauſe the ſame fact cannot be a miſpriſion and a murder, for the one will extinguiſh the other; he ſaid, that it was true, his hand was cut off, but it was without any manner of authority, for he had ſeen the roll, and there was no judgment for it; he was of opinion, that where the Queen was totally abſent, and neither preſent by herſelf, or by any of her domeſtics or family, the place has no privilege; but it is otherwiſe where it was only a perſonal abſence for a little time: the Queen at this time was at Windſor; now whilſt ſhe was there, ſuppoſe a murder had been committed in Whitehall, ſhall the fact be tried before the Lord Steward? and he held that it ſhould not. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 978.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Laiton, or Layton's Caſe.

The defendant was brought into court by a habeas corpus, having been committed by the Lord Mayor of London on his own view, for a forcible entry into the Fleet priſon, and a forcible detainer thereof. The title Layton claimed by was, that this priſon was by a judgment of this court, ſeized in the Queen's hands, under whom he claimed. And the exception taken was, that it did not appear that the commitment was made by a juſtice of peace; for the ſubſcription was by Owen Buckingham, mayor, and did not ſay juſtice of peace; it is neceſſary that the perſon who commits for a forcible entry ſhould entitle himſelf to a juriſdiction, by ſubſcribing himſelf a juſtice of the peace. 2dly. A juſtice cannot ſet a fine by virtue of the ſtatute, but ought to refer to the quarter ſeſſions. 2 Cro. 41. Keilway. What power the juſtices have ought to be executed inſtantly. Another exception was, that it was held to be within the liberties, and not within the city itſelf; for the Lord Mayor has not juriſdiction every where within the liberties. The Attorney General, in anſwer to the objection, obſerved, that the Lord Mayor did not ſhew himſelf to be a juſtice, and ſaid, the court would couple the warrant to the conviction; for that, he ſaid, was the reaſon of removing it hither by certiorari, whereby it would appear to the court, that there was a judgment to ground the warrant of commitment on. And it was further argued, that the Lord Mayor, by virtue of his office, before any acts of parliament for juſtices of the peace, was a conſervator of the peace; and thereof the court would take notice, and alſo on account of ſtat. 8 H. 6. which makes all mayors juſtices of the peace; and the warrant has a reference to the conviction; and as long as the conviction ſtands, the warrant ſhall be ſupplied by a reference to that. By the record it appeared to be all done inſtantly. The council for the Queen ſaid, this is a commitment in execution. Stat. 15 Rich. 2. is founded on ſtat. 5 R. 2. and ſo is ſtat. 8 H. 6.

Per cur. A juſtice of peace may ſet a fine, but he ought immediately to commit the perſon, where by his own view he finds a forcible detaining: and then, as he is a judge of record, he may adjourn his court, and then ſet a fine on him, and commit him in the mean time. As for the objection of his ſigning mayor, and not juſtice, it was ſufficiently anſwered, for that defect was ſupplied by the ſtatute, which makes all mayors juſtices. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 46.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Weſt.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 220 of this work, under the head Baſtards,

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

A man brought to this court by a habeas corpus on a commitment by juſtices of peace, who have cognizance of the cauſe, is not bailable till the order is quaſhed; becauſe till then he is in execution. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 45.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Cockcroft v. Smith.

On the ſtatute of forcible detainer, where the juſtice finds it on his own view, he muſt immediately commit, and cannot adjourn the commitment, but it muſt be done inſtantly; as in the caſe of auditors on account; the ſame if he has recorded the force: but Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, ſo long as the matter is under examination, he may adjourn.

When a perſon comes to this court on an habeas corpus, and this court thinks fit to turn him over to the Marſhal, they commit him for no other matter than for the cauſe or cauſes returned on the habeas corpus.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. A juſtice that has power to ſet a fine, has power to bail; for he is not obliged and bound to commit; but after the perſon is once committed in execution, it is too late to move for bail. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 52.

Michaelmas, 6 Ann. The Queen v. Simmons.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 221. of this work under the head Baſtards.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Tooley & al.

An indictment was found againſt the defendants for the murder of one D. and on not guilty pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict.

The court being of opinion it was only manſlaughter, refuſed to give judgment, and on account of the late general act of pardon, the priſoners were diſcharged as to the indictment; but there being a writ of appeal delivered to the ſheriff, the court held, that they were in cuſtody on the appeal, by the delivery of the writ to the ſheriff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1296.

Hilary, 13 Ann. The Queen v. Green.

The defendant was convicted on the ſtatute for killing hares, &c. and hunting againſt that ſtatute; and being committed, was brought into this court by an habeas corpus, and the commitment appeared to be, till he ſhould be diſcharged by due courſe of law, when by the act he ought to have been committed for three months.

Per curiam. The commitment is wrong, therefore let him be diſcharged, for he is committed in execution, which is his puniſhment, and therefore ought to ſay how long, for he is not now to pay the 5 l.

Per Parker, Chief Juſtice. By due courſe of law, is, when ſome officer has ſomething further to do, but here is a determined puniſhment for ſuch a time, The Queen v. Bracy was a commitment by the commiſſioners of bankrupcy in this manner, when the act ſays he is committed till he be examined; Dr. Groenvelt's caſe was ſo, when the commitment ſhould have been till he pay his fine. Vide Forteſcue, p. 274.

Trinity, 2 Geo. The King v. Wyndham.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 178 of this work, under the head Bail.

Hilary, 5 Geo. Anonymous.

The habeas corpus act directs, that if a perſon committed for high-treaſon or felony, expreſſed in the warrant of his commitment, ſhall make his prayer and petition in open court, the firſt week of the term, or day the ſeſſions, to be brought to his trial, and ſhall not be indicted in the next term or ſeſſions after ſuch commitment, he ſhall be bailed.

Now, it was doubted, whether perſons committed by rule of court are intitled to the benefit of this act? And it was reſolved by two juſtices, viz. Eyre and Forteſcue, (abſent Powys, diſſentient, Pratt) that none are intitled to make their prayer but ſuch as are committed by a warrant of a juſtice of peace, or ſecretary of ſtate, and not thoſe committed by rule of court; for that is not within the meaning of the act of parliament, a commitment by warrant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 429.

Hilary, 6 Geo. The King v. Whitlock.

The defendant being brought from Newgate by an habeas corpus; it appeared on the return, that he was committed for deer-ſtealing, as ſtat. 3 & 4 W. & M. c. 10. directs, not having ſufficient diſtreſs; and that this was done by one juſtice, under ſtat. 5 Geo. on which two exceptions were taken to the warrant.

1ſt. Becauſe it does not appear the conviction was ever affirmed in this court, or that the rule for confirmation was delivered to the juſtice; and the words of the ſtatute are, “ that after the confirmation of any “ conviction, and delivering the rule to the juſtice, it “ ſhall and may be lawful,” &c. Now, the word after makes what comes under it to be in the nature of a condition precedent, and imports ſomething previous to found the juriſdiction.

2dly. The juſtice only ſays, that it has been certified to him by the conſtable, that there was no ſufficient diſtreſs, whereas there ought to have been a warrant to levy, and a return to that, that there was no diſtreſs, it may be the conſtable only told him ſo.

Per Pratt, Chief Juſtice. The warrant is well enough; for as to the laſt objection, the word certified imports it to be in a legal manner. Then as to the other objection, we take notice of our own records, and by them it appears the conviction is confirmed. The ſtatute does not give the juſtice a new juriſdiction, but only revives his old ones, which was ſuſpended by the certiorari, and therefore this differs widely from the caſe of an order of removal, for there the overſeers are in nature of truſtees for the pariſh, and unleſs they complain, it is to be ſuppoſed there is no grievance, and it is likewiſe to give an original juriſdiction.

Eyre, Juſtice, was of a contrary opinion; however, the defendant was remanded. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 263.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. The King v. The Bail of Strudwick.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 197. of this work, under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Lord Conningſby v. Steed.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 145. of this work, under the head Attorney.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Catteral.

On the return of an habeas corpus, the commitment was by juſtices of the peace, (authorized for that purpoſe by act of parliament) for refuſing to account for toll by him received, and until he do account, and pay, what ſhall be due to the proprietors of the ſaid toll.

Per curiam. The commitment is illegal, for no certain ſum is thereby appointed to be paid, and then the defendant may remain in priſon for life.

It was then moved to amend the commitment.

Per curiam. That cannot be allowed after the return is filed: therefore the defendant was diſcharged. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 266.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Smith.

The defendant was brought up from Oxford goal by an habeas corpus, and appeared to be committed for want of ſureties in an action in the vice-chancellor's court, of injury and damage, to the value of 1000*l*. and by warrant, the beadles of the univerſity were required to carry him to priſon; and now, on motion, he was diſcharged. 1ſt. Becauſe the warrant was not directed to any goaler, but was only generally to carry him to priſon; and, 2dly. Becauſe it did not appear that the plaintiff had made any affidavit of a debt, without which the court below could not hold to bail. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 934.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Barns.

The defendant being brought up on an habeas corpus, it appeared that he was committed by the vice-chancellor of Oxford, for carrying goods between Oxford and London, without an univerſity licence, there to remain till he gives ſecurity to carry no more, and to obſerve the ſtatutes of the univerſity for life.

Per curiam. It is an illegal commitment; therefore he muſt be diſcharged. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 917.

Hilary, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Joſeph Hall.

The defendant was committed by two juſtices, on being convicted under ſtat. 17 Geo. 2. cap. 5. of being a rogue and a vagabond, and running away from his wife and family, whereby they became a burthen to the pariſh, on which he brought his habeas corpus in this court, and when brought up, his council made the following objections to the commitment, viz.

1ſt. That he was not convicted, which he ought to have been.

2dly. That it was not alledged that his wife and children were chargeable to the pariſh.

3dly. He was not committed for any limited time, but "till he ſhould be diſcharged according to the laws "and cuſtoms of this realm."

After hearing council on both ſides,

Lord Manſfield obſerved, that the ſecond and third objections were ſufficient to invalidate the commitment, and thought it was better not to give any haſty opinion about the neceſſity of a formal conviction; therefore the defendant was diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. page 1636.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Ellen Taylor, late Bent.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 218. of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Common.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Bruges v. Leer.

On a right of common for ſheep; the jury find, he had common for ſheep according as he declared, and further ſay, he had common for cows too; and the court was moved, that the verdict did not warrant the preſcription, becauſe intire; and another is found than that on which the plaintiff declared.

Per curiam. The common is ſeveral, diſtinct, and different, for he that preſcribes for ſheep, cannot therefore preſcribe for cows.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, cited the caſe of Johnſon v. Thoroughgood. Brown. 177. 178. which is the very caſe in point. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 25.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Anonymous.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where a common or way is claimed, the title ought to be ſet forth in the declaration; but for a fair, or franchiſe, which is no charge to another's ſoil, there the words ought to have are good with out any thing further. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 35.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. The King v. Fox.

The inhabitants of one pariſh had common appendant in certain waſte grounds which lay in another pariſh; and the queſtion was, whether the commoner ſhould pay taxes for this, and ſhould be aſſeſſed in the pariſh where the waſte lay, or in the pariſh where his farm lay? And it was held, that he ought to be aſſeſſed where his farm lay; for it is incident, and will paſs by the grant of the farm, &c. So that it is to be conſidered as a part of the farm, and the farm to be taxed higher. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 169.

—— 10 W. 3. Richards v. Squibb. At Dorcheſter Lent Aſſizes.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a man preſcribes for a certain number of cattle, as appurtenant, &c. it is not neceſſary, nor material to ſhew, that they were levant and couchant; becauſe it is no prejudice to the owner of the ſoil, the number being aſcertained. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 726.

—— 10 W. 3. Hockley v. Lamb. At Wincheſter Lent Aſſizes.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. 1ſt. A man may preſcribe for common for cattle levant and couchant on a meſſuage. 2dly, A man cannot preſcribe for common appurtenant to a farm; becauſe it is uncertain, of what a farm conſiſts, perhaps of ten acres, or of an hundred acres; but the preſcription ought to be laid, to a meſſuage and ſo many acres of land. But if there is an ancient farm, and the ſame lands always occupied with it; a man may have common of paſture, to depaſture his cattle tilling that farm. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 726.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Hockley v. Lamb.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking of the plaintiff's cattle; the defendant juſtified the taking of them damage feaſant in his freehold. The plaintiff replied, and made title to common in the place where, &c. a tempore fractionis campi (it being a common field) till, &c. And on traverſe of the common taken by the defendant, and iſſue joined on it, a verdict was found for the plaintiff for the common. And it was ſeveral times moved in arreſt of judgment, that it was inſenſible and uncertain what common was here claimed; for a fractione campi is a word of the country perhaps, but the law does not underſtand what it means. And of that opinion was Holt, Chief Juſtice. But Gould, Juſtice, held, that on demurrer it would have been ill, but now it is good after a verdict.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The verdict cannot aid a thing unintelligible; for it has only found the common, as the plaintiff has replied. But adjourned. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 645.

Woolſton v. Slater.

In replevin, the defendant avowed for damage feaſant on his common; and on demurrer to this avowry it was adjudged not good, becauſe he did not ſhew ſome particular damage to himſelf, or that he could not have his common:

For a commoner cannot juſtify diſtraining the beaſt of a ſtranger, without ſhewing he is damnified in his common. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 94.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Emerton v. Selby.

The defendant avowed a right of common, ſetting forth a preſcription of common for cattle levant and couchant, on ſuch a cottage.

Per curiam. It is good to a meſſuage or cottage, for cattle levant or couchant; but it has been queſtioned in the year 1653, whether it could be good of common ſans number; and the ſame has been of late in the C. B. but nothing done in it. And a cottage implies a court and backſide, for a cottage with leſs than four acres of land, is againſt ſtat. 31 El. c. 7.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he had known levancy and couchancy tried in an iſſue before Hale, and that Hale ſaid, the foddering of cattle in the backſide would ſuffice; and judgment was here given for the avowant.

Per curiam. It would be hard to defeat it, in caſe it was preſcribed to common ſans number. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 114.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Crowther v. Oldfield. Error.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 28 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Mayor of Winton v. Wilks.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it has been held, that in an action of treſpaſs againſt a commoner, he may plead not guilty, and give his right of common in evidence; but I cannot think ſo, but he ought to plead ſpecially, and ſhew his title: it is otherwiſe of the Lord of the waſte, he may plead not guilty, and give his title in evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1129.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. A man who claims common in another man's land muſt ſet forth a title: but a man, who is in poſſeſſion, need not ſet out a title. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 53.

Trinity, 4 Ann. Follet v. Troake et al'.

In an action of treſpaſs for chaſing the plaintiff's ſheep, that were feeding on, and uſing his common; the following exceptions were taken to the defendant's plea.

1ſt. That the cuſtom was unreaſonable, for the drift to be made at the diſcretion of the ſteward; it ought to be on a ſurcharge, or at ſome certain times. 2dly. That theſe cuſtomary tenants muſt be taken to be copyholders, and then the preſcription is ill; for copyholders cannot preſcribe in a que eſtate. 3dly. That the cuſtom and preſcription were confounded. 4thly. That it was ſaid by the cuſtom aforeſaid, where it ought to be by the cuſtom of the manor aforeſaid.

But notwithſtanding, the court gave judgment for the defendant niſi, agreeing it was a reaſonable cuſtom for the Reeve to make a drift by the appointment of the ſteward. In caſe of common ſans nombre, if there is a ſurcharge, it muſt be remedied by a writ of admeaſurement. But where the common is for a certain number, there the drift is very reaſonable; for until a drift is made, it is hard to know whether there is a ſurcharge or not; and for that reaſon, drifts of commons may be by cuſtom, and there are ſuch cuſtoms in all waſtes. And it is unreaſonable to ſay, the drift ſhall not be, unleſs there is a ſurcharge, becauſe till the drift is made, it is not poſſible to know whether there is a ſurcharge or not; and the intent of the drift was, to diſcover the ſurcharge. This is alſo more reaſonable than a cuſtom to drive the common at a certain time; becauſe if that was the cuſtom, the commoners would ſurcharge the common all the reſt of the year, except at thoſe times; and ſo the cuſtom would be ineffectual for the purpoſe intended. As to the ſecond exception, it was reſolved, that cannot be taken by the copyholders, for they are at the will of the lord; and therefore they muſt be taken to be cuſtomary freeholders, and conſequently the preſcription in a que eſtate is good. Indeed, if they had been laid to be copyhold tenements, then they muſt have laid a cuſtom for the common, and the preſcription would have been ill. As to the third, they reſolved that the cuſtom and the preſcription were diſtinct, the preſcription for the common, and the cuſtom for the drift. And it might well be, that the freehold tenants have a common by preſcription, and a drift of that common by cuſtom. As to the fourth, they reſolved, that it was very fully laid before, that there was a cuſtom within the manor, &c. and that the words by the cuſtom aforeſaid, related to that.

Another exception was taken, that the cuſtom was ill, to impound them any where within the manor, for that they ought to be impounded ſomewhere within the waſte, and ought not to be drove out of that.

But the court reſolved, that it was good to impound them any where within the manor. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1187.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Bromfield v. Kirber. Error.

On a juſtification of a treſpaſs by the cuſtom of a manor, for common of vicinage. The extent of the word vicinus, 2 Inſt. on the ſtatute of Morton. F. N. B. 127. b. 128. a. 22 H. 6. c. 89. Dier, 47. b. was taken into conſideration, and argued, that no common can be of this kind, unleſs between two townſhips, manors, &c. next adjoining, and not where there is intermediate land; and that this tort originally was nothing but an excuſe of treſpaſs.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. People ought to take care to keep their cattle under their own inſpection, and not let them ſtray beyond their bounds. In pleading this kind of common, it ought to be pleaded mutual. If a man goes into the common of vicinage to drive his cattle off into his own common, (for he ought not to keep them in the common of vicinage,) he may juſtify this treſpaſs; but if they go into a third common, ſuch excuſe will not hold. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 72.

Trinity, 13 Geo. Woadſon v. Nawton.

In an action of treſpaſs, for taking and diſperſing a load of fern-aſhes; the defendant pleaded, that he was an occupier of land in A. the tenant whereof had right of common, and cutting fern on the places in which, &c. and that the plaintiff wrongfully came and cut fern, and burnt it, whereon the defendant came, and ſcattered it about, as he lawfully might, and on demurrer thereto; the defendant's council cited 1 Roll. Abr. 405. pl. 5. that a commoner may juſtify taking the cattle of a ſtranger, damage-feaſant, or abate hedges, 9 Co. 112. b. 2 Mod. 65. and the difference is, where it is the act of the lord, and the act of a ſtranger. Lutw. 1240, Sti. 428.

The court judged otherwiſe; for if the plaintiff did him any damage, he has his action: but after the plaintiff had burnt the fern, and thereby converted it to his uſe, the commoner had no right to come and diſperſe it: therefore judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 771.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Cooper v. Marſhall.

In an action of treſpaſs for breaking, entering, and digging up the plaintiff's cloſe, and filling up and ſpoiling the coney-burrows there, &c. the plaintiff laid a ſecond count in his declaration for doing the like in his free warren. The defendant, by leave of the court, pleaded ſeveral matters.

As to the firſt count, he pleaded a juſtification under a right of common in twenty acres, &c. and that the coney-burrows were wrongfully, &c. now erected, and kept up, whereby the ſaid common was ſurcharged and ſpoiled, ſo that he could not enjoy ſufficient common in the ſaid twenty acres, as of right he ought, therefore he juſtifies, &c.

To the ſecond count he pleaded two juſtifications, &c.

To theſe pleas the plaintiff demurred, and the defendant joined in demurrer; and on arguing the ſame, the court gave judgment as follows:

Lord Mansfield. The lord, by his grant of common, gives every thing incident to the enjoyment of it, (as ingreſs, egreſs, &c.) and thereby authorizes the commoner to remove every obſtruction to his cattle grazing the graſs which grows on ſuch a ſpot of ground, becauſe every ſuch obſtruction is directly contrary to the terms of the grant.

In the preſent caſe, the lord has done nothing contrary to the grant. He has not obſtructed the commoner from entering and putting in his cattle.

The lord has a right to put conies on the common; the conies themſelves naturally make the burrows, ſo that they are incident to the right of putting on the conies.

If the lord ſurcharges, the commoner is injured in his right of common: then what is his remedy? Not to abate, not to be his own judge in the matter. There is a certain line to be drawn; the lord has a right ſo far, and no farther. The commoner cannot deſtroy or drive off the conies, nor deſtroy the burrows. It being a free-warren, does not alter the caſe, ſo that the matter comes to this queſtion, whether it is abateable? And I think it is a clear caſe.

Deniſon, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Foſter, Juſtice, was of the ſame opinion, and ſaid, the defendant's juſtification is clearly bad, being founded on a claim of right, which cannot be maintained.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 259.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Cope v. Marſhall.

The court in this cauſe gave the like judgment as in Cooper v. Marſhall, viz. judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 268.

Compoſition.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Feltham v. Cudworth.

The plaintiff ſued out a ſcire facias, on a judgment for 817 l. 13 s. recovered by him as executor to F. F. in an action of debt brought by him againſt the defendant. The defendant, at the day of the return of the ſecond ſcire facias, (which, as well as the firſt, was returned nihil, &c.) pleaded the ſtatute of compoſition, 8 W. 3. averring that this compoſition was made for the equal benefit of all his creditors, in proportion to their debts, without any fraud, &c. and that the plaintiff had notice thereof, the day and place aforeſaid, and was requeſted to ſign it, but that he refuſed, &c.

On a demurrer, this caſe was argued ſeveral times at the bar; and the firſt exception taken by the plaintiff's council to the plea was, that the defendant had pleaded this compoſition to have been made by a certain writing of his creditors, ſubſcribed and ſealed by them, which is in judgment of law a deed; as when a perſon declares on a bond, he ſays, that the defendant by his writing obligatory, ſealed with his ſeal, &c. and then the defendant ſhould have pleaded with a profert; for all deeds made to the defendant himſelf, and pleaded by him, ought to be pleaded with a profert; and therefore, in this caſe, for want of pleading this deed of compoſition with a profert, it is ill.

2dly. That the ſtat. as it is pleaded, is, that every compoſition made for the equal benefit of all the creditors, in proportion to their reſpective debts, and ſubſcribed and ſigned by two-third parts in number and value, ſhall bind, &c. then the compoſition pleaded in the defendant's plea does not appear to be made for the equal benefit of all the creditors; for it is pleaded to have been made by two-thirds in number and value, and that they agreed to accept two-pence for every pound due to themſelves; ſo it was made for their benefit only, and not for the benefit of the other creditors; and, conſequently, the compoſition is not ſuch as will oblige the other creditors by the ſtatute.

3dly. That this act extended only to perſons impriſoned, or who abſconded for debt, before the 17th day of November, &c. but the defendant has not ſhewn that he abſconded for debt; for he has ſaid only, after ſhewing of his debts, that he was unable to pay his debts, and being ſo unable, he abſconded, &c.

4thly. That this compoſition, pleaded by the defendant, was not any compoſition within the meaning of the act, becauſe it does not appear that the defendant would be at any time obliged to perform it, viz. by payment of two-pence in the pound, &c.

Per curiam. This is no compoſition within the act, becauſe it may happen that the defendant ſhall never be obliged to perform it. For the agreement is, to pay two-pence in the pound, ſo that it be paid within five years next after, &c. which makes this circumſtance of time when the money ſhall be paid, a condition precedent to the compoſition; ſo that if that never be performed, there will be no compoſition. An agreement and compoſition within the act muſt be intended a final agreement, ſuch as the defendant ſhall be bound to, and from which he cannot vary. Therefore, until the money is paid, in this caſe, this will not be a compoſition; for if the money is not paid within the five years, the defendant will be at large from his agreement, and not obliged to pay the two-pence at all. And Holt, Chief Juſtice, (who pronounced the opinion of the court) ſaid, that although (ſo that) is held in Lyttleton to make a condition ſubſequent, yet that is in caſe of eſtates executed, but it is otherwiſe in caſe of things executory. Judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 760. Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 10.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Greenway v. Freeman.

In debt brought on a judgment; the defendant pleaded a compoſition made with two-third parts of his real creditors, &c. and the ſtatute; and in his plea averred, that he withdrew himſelf, and abſconded from his uſual place of abode, on ſuch a day, being unable to pay his debts, but does not ſay he abſconded for debt. And for this fault, judgment was given for the plaintiff, as it had been before in this court, in the caſe of Southouſe v. Rutter. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 810.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Nicholls v. Tirrett.

In debt brought on a bond, the defendant pleaded the ſtatute of compoſition, &c. an exception was taken to the plea, that the defendant only ſays, that he abſconded the 17th day of November 1696, and does not ſay, that he abſconded at the time of the making of the act. For the 17th day of November extends only to the being a priſoner for debt, but the abſconding ought to be at the time of the act, &c. and for this reaſon the plea was held ill, and judgment given for the plaintiff. The ſame point was reſolved in this court, Trinity, 2 Ann, in the caſe of Couſins v. Calcutt. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 811.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Clarkſon v. Buſſey.

In an action of debt brought on a bond, the defendant pleaded in bar a compoſition made with his creditors according to ſtat. 8 W. 3. to which the plaintiff demurred; and the following exceptions were taken by his council to the plea.

Firſt exception, The plea is, that he abſconded for debt on ſuch a day before the making of the ſtatute, but does not ſay that he abſconded at the time of making the ſtatute. And though he might be an inſolvent perſon before the making of the ſtatute, yet he may have recovered, and become ſolvent when the act was made.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. This is a plea in bar, and is ſufficient if it is good to a common intent; and in this caſe it ſhall be intended, that the defendant continued inſolvent to the time of the making of the ſtatute; and if he became ſolvent after the time alledged, and before the ſtatute, that ought to come on the plaintiff's ſide; for as it is pleaded, it is within the words of the ſtatute, viz. ſuch as have abſconded.

Powell, Juſtice. Agreed.

Second exception. The defendant has pleaded the agreement as a deed under ſeal; but does not produce it in court by a profert, as he ought to do.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The ſtatute ſays an agreement ſubſcribed and ſealed, &c. and that does not import it to be by deed, for it may be under ſeal, and yet no deed, and therefore a profert is not neceſſary.

Third exception. By this agreement the defendant is to pay —— per pound, at a certain day, which is ſix months after the making of the ſtatute; and it is further agreed, that on payment thereof, the creditors ſhall give to the defendant general releaſes. Now this agreement cannot be within the meaning of the ſtatute to bind the non-ſubſcribing creditors, becauſe it obliges them to give releaſes for debts which have accrued to them ſince the act, and it will be unreaſonable to oblige the other creditors to releaſe them.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. This agreement muſt be underſtood to extend only to debts within the meaning of the ſtatute, viz. to debts due before the making of the ſtatute, and the agreement of two thirds of the creditors does not oblige the non-ſubſcribing creditors, with reſpect to any debt contracted after the making of the ſtatute; and although the ſubſcribing creditors may have obliged themſelves by this agreement to give releaſes to all matters to a day after the ſtatute, yet they cannot oblige the reſt as to any matter accruing after. Judgment for the defendant niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 967.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Claxton v. Baſty.

The ſtatute of compoſition of two thirds, &c. was pleaded in bar, and it was averred, that the defendant had abſconded at ſuch a time before the ſtatute; but did not ſay, that he had abſconded, or was in goal, at the time mentioned in the ſtatute; and the exception taken was, that for any thing that appeared in this plea, the defendant was ſolvent at the time of the ſtatute, and therefore not capable of the benefit thereof.

Per curiam. This being a bar, ſhall be good to a common intent; and if the defendant became ſolvent after the failure, it ought to come on the plaintiff's ſide by replication.

Second exception. That the defendant pleaded the compoſition, as a writing under hand and ſeal, therefore a deed, and by conſequence to be produced with a profert.

Per curiam. He only pleads it is ſigned and ſealed, but not to have been delivered as a deed ought to have been; and the ſtatute does not require a delivery, therefore no neceſſity for a profert.

Third exception. It is pleaded to have been made the 12th of February after the ſtatute, ſo it may have included debts become due after the ſtatute.

Per curiam. It ſhall only be a compoſition for the debts underſtood by the ſtatute, at leaſt as to the non-ſubſcribers, though it may be otherwiſe to ſubſcribers: therefore judgment for the defendant, niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 58.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Smith v. Bartlett.

In debt brought on a bond, and the late act of compoſition of two thirds in number and value of the creditors, pleaded in bar, averring, that he was indebted to the plaintiff in 49 l. the 17th of November 1667, and did abſcond, there was a replication, and rejoinder.

And an exception was taken to the declaration, that the abſconding ought to be averred on the 1ſt of October, being the time on which the ſeſſions began, and to which the act as to this part relates; and this appears plainly by the word have in the clauſe of abſconding in the ſtatute. Accordingly judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 156.

Condition.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Thomas v. Howell.

A perſon deviſed to his eldeſt daughter, on condition ſhe ſhould marry his nephew, on or before ſhe attained the age of twenty-one. The nephew died young, and the daughter never refuſed, and indeed never was required to marry him: after the death of the nephew, the daughter being about ſeventeen years of age, married J. S. And it was adjudged in C. B. that the condition was not broken, being become impoſſible by the act of God; and the judgment was afterwards affirmed in error brought in this court. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 170.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. Avery v. White.

In debt on a bond conditioned to pay money; on oyer thereof it appeared, that the uſual concluſion of a condition, viz. that then this obligation ſhall be void, &c. was omitted: and therefore the plaintiff's council argued, that the bond was ſingle. But not allowed.

Per curiam. The condition being to pay money, is a good defeazance of the bond; and if the obligor pays the money, the obligation ſhall be void. But no judgment was given, becauſe the parties agreed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 38.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Hulbert v. Watts and Wife.

In debt on a bond brought againſt the defendant and his wife, as executrix of C. C. The defendant prayed oyer of the condition, which was, to perform certain covenants contained in an indenture, bearing the ſame date with the bond, in which C. C. covenanted with R. Hulbert, &c. for himſelf, his heirs and executors; that if the ſaid R. Hulbert ſhould pay to C. C. his heirs or aſſigns, 100 l. within five years after the date of the indenture, that then C. C. his heirs and aſſigns, at the proper charges of the ſaid R. Hulbert, ſhould transfer to him, &c. the tenements, &c. free from all incumbrances by C. C. his heirs and aſſigns. The defendants plead, that C. C. was ſeized of the tenements, &c. in fee, and being ſo ſeized, the 19th day of Nov. 3 W. & M. by his will in writing, deviſed them to his daughter K. B. in tail, remainder to the defendant's wife in fee; that K. B. died without iſſue, whereby the lands came to the defendant's wife, who is ſeized of them in fee; and that the plaintiff did not pay the ſaid 100 l. neither to C. C. in his life-time, nor to K. B. in her life-time, nor to the defendant's wife, &c. The plaintiff replied, that K. B. at the time of the death of C. C. was within the age of twenty-one years. The defendant demurred.

Per curiam. The deviſe to a perſon who was incapable to convey, within the five years, was a breach of the covenant; and it would be in vain to compel the plaintiff to pay the 100 l. to a man who was incapable to perform his part. For, as to the objection, that an infant may ſuffer a common recovery; though the King grant a privy ſeal, yet it is in the diſcretion of the court, whether they will permit it to paſs: and the court will not permit it, but when it will be advantageous to the infant; and though it is paſſed, yet it is avoidable by error. Judgment for the plaintiff niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 112.

10 W. 3. Clerk v. How.

It was ruled by Holt, C. J. at Brentwood ſummer aſſizes, on evidence given at niſi prius, that if copyhold land is ſurrendered to the uſe of a will, &c. and afterwards the will deviſes this land to B. and his heirs, on condition that he pays 100 l. within ſix months after the death of the deviſor to J. S. if the money is not paid, J. S. ought to be admitted, and then he muſt make an actual entry before he can ſurrender. And therefore, in the preſent caſe, a ſurrender made by J. S. before actual entry, was held ill. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 726.

Trinity,

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Levintz v. Randolph.

In debt on a bond for 40 l. brought by Mr. Serjeant Levintz, as late treaſurer of Gray's Inn, againſt the defendant, a counſellor at law, and member of the ſame ſociety; the defendant craved oyer of the bond and condition, which was, "that if the above bounden "Herbert Randolph ſhall from time to time, and at all "times hereafter, well and truly pay, or cauſe to "be paid, all ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall "become due by him for commons, vacations, pen-"ſions, dues and duties whatſoever, belonging unto "Gray's Inn, and ſhall obſerve all ſuch order and "orders of penſions as ſhall be made from time to "time, and at all times hereafter, in Gray's Inn "aforeſaid, that then, &c." On which the defendant pleaded a general performance.

On demurrer, the following exceptions were taken to the plaintiff's replication:

1ſt. That in the aſſignment of the breach, no demand was alledged, which ought to be, becauſe it was an uncertain payment. 2dly. The breach is not poſitively alledged, for it may be the defendant has paid his penſions to the treaſurer, and the treaſurer did not pay them to the ſociety, and then they will be arrear to the ſociety, and yet not due from the defendant. But not allowed.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. No demand is neceſſary for this ſum, being a ſum in groſs.

Per Gould, Juſtice. The defendant here, after pleading a general performance, is eſtopped to ſay that there was no demand. To which the Chief Juſtice agreed. Cro. Car. 76. Chapman v. Chapman. 2dly. The alledging that ſo much was in arrear for penſions from the defendant, is a ſufficient breach; for if they had been paid to the treaſurer, that had been payment to the ſociety, and ſo they had not been in arrear. But it had been better pleading, to have ſaid, that the defendant had not paid, &c. And judgment was given for the plaintiff niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. page 594.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Atkinſon v. Morrice.

In an action on the caſe brought for a certain ſum of money for the uſe of a coach and horſes for a year; it appeared on the evidence, that M. agreed to give A. ſo much for the uſe of a coach and horſes for a year; and A. agreed further with M. to keep the coach in repair; it was averred, that the coach and horſes were delivered to M. but nothing ſaid as to the repair.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, on this evidence, that repairing was not a condition precedent, and therefore need not be averred; but if the agreement had been, that A. had agreed to lend M. a coach and horſes for a year, and to repair the coach, and for that M. had promiſed ſo much money, then the repairing would have been a condition precedent, neceſſary to be averred. And though in this caſe it was not expreſsly averred, that M. had the uſe of the coach for a year; yet it being ſaid, it was delivered to him, it ſhall be ſo intended, if the contrary is not ſhewn on the defendant's ſide. Accordingly judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 503.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Thorpe v. Thorpe.

In an action on the caſe, the plaintiff declared on a diſcourſe concerning a mortgage, whereon the plaintiff agreed to releaſe his equity of redemption in two cloſes, and in conſideration thereof the defendant promiſed to pay him 7 l. and to acquit him of all money due on the mortagage; and that the defendant, in conſideration of the ſaid agreement, and that the plaintiff had promiſed to perform every thing on his part, and in fact ſays, that tho' he had performed all on his part, the defendant had not paid him the 7 l. The defendant pleaded, that after the promiſe made, the plaintiff gave him a releaſe of all actions; the plaintiff craved oyer of the releaſe, and by the oyer it appeared to be a releaſe of the equity of redemption, and thereon the plaintiff demurred.

The court held, that the plaintiff was not intitled to the 7 l. nor to an action for it, till he made a releaſe of the equity of redemption, and therefore the promiſe being not broken at the time of the releaſe, is not diſcharged by the releaſe, though it be a releaſe of all demands. Vide Cro. 171. 5 Co. 70. As to the mutual promiſes, they related to an agreement, which makes the releaſe a condition precedent.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, laid down this rule, that in executory contracts, if the agreement be, that the one ſhall do an act, and for the doing thereof the other ſhall pay, &c. the doing of the act is a condition precedent to the payment, and the party who is to pay ſhall not be compelled to part with his money, till the thing be performed for which he is to pay. Vide 15 Hen. 7. 10. b. 1 Vent. 177. 214. But on this rule he made theſe diſtinctions:

1ſt. If a day be appointed for payment of the money, and the day is to happen before the thing can be performed, an action may be brought for the money before the thing be done; for it appears the party relied on his remedy, and intended not to make the performance a condition precedent. 48 E. 3. c. 3. 7 Co. 100. b. 1 Vent. 147. 1 Saund. 319.

2dly. Where a certain day of payment is appointed, and that day is to happen ſubſequent to the performance of the thing to be done by the contract, in ſuch caſe performance is a condition precedent, and muſt be averred in an action for the money, and ſo is 1 Jones 218. to be underſtood. Vide Dyer 76. pl. contra. and 1 Ro. 414, 415. But theſe and ſome other books, which are contrary, are not law; for every man's bargain ought to be performed as he intended it: when he relied on his remedy, it is but juſt that he ſhould be left to it according to his agreement; but on the contrary, there is no reaſon a man ſhould be forced to truſt where he never meant it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 455. Raym. vol. 1. p. 662. Salk. vol. 1. p. 171.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Feltham v. Cudworth.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 269 of this work, under the head Compoſition.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Pullerton v. Agnew.

On a ſci. fac. againſt bail, reciting a recognizance taken in the time of the late King William 3. wherein the condition was, that the defendant ſhould render his body to the priſon of the Marſhal of the Marſhalſea of our Lady the now Queen. It was urged that the condition was impoſſible, and in conſequence the recognizance ſingle.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where the condition is under-written or indorſed, there that is only void, and the obligation is ſingle; but where the condition is part of the lien itſelf, and incorporated therewith, if the condition be impoſſible, the obligation is void; and the court inclining that it was ill, the plaintiff prayed his writ might be abated for his own expedition. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 172.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Fitzhugh v. Dennington.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 89 of this work, under the head Apprentice.

Trinity, 4 Ann. Page v. Hayward.

In this caſe there were two general queſtions, 1ſt. Concerning the eſtate the ſiſters take. 2dly. Whether the recovery ſuffered is ſufficient to dock the entail. and reſolved by the court. 1ſt. M. takes an eſtate-tail in poſſeſſion, and the other an eſtate-tail in remainder.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, alſo ſaid, the ſtatute de bonis is not to be taken ſtrictly; but all limitations, within the meaning of the ſtatute, ought to be ſupported: words of an expreſs condition ſhall not be ordinarily conſtrued as a limitation: but where an eſtate is to remain over for a breach of a condition, which is by expreſs words a condition, yet it ought to be intended as a limitation. Suppoſe a præcipe is brought againſt a tenant in tail, and a ſtranger, is this a flaw?

Surely no; ſuch a recovery I hold good. 2dly, I hold a tenant in tail may well make a tenant to the præcipe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 61.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Hardwicke v. Gamball.

A ſpecial verdict finds a ſettlement, in conſideration of natural love and and affection, to himſelf for life, then to truſtees to preſerve contingent remainders; remainder in tail male. Provided, if the tenant for life die without iſſue male of the body of his wife, and having daughters, the truſtees ſtand ſeized for thirty-one years, with intent to raiſe ſuch and ſuch legacies to the daughters. Provided alſo, that if the next iſſue male in remainder, within the five years pay the legacies, that then the truſtees ſhall ſtand ſeized to ſuch iſſue male as ſhould pay the legacies, with remainders over; the tenant for life dying without iſſue male or female, it was objected, that if the term never accrued, the remainders are void. 3 Cro. 465. Dyer 34. b.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Though the contingent term never aroſe, yet the remainders are good, if the precedent eſtate to the term of years is ſufficient to ſupport the remainders.

It was then argued, that this remainder can never ariſe, it being a condition precedent, and not found that the legacies were paid; and that the remainders were void in their creation.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The payment of the money was to let the iſſue male into poſſeſſion, notwithſtanding the term; and no payment was intended, unleſs there was a dying without iſſue male, leaving daughters. The clauſe, "and for default of iſſue male, remainder to the iſſue male," ſhould have been heirs male in remainder, and then there had been no doubt. And it was adjudged, that the remainder was good, and well veſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 119.

Michaelmas, 6 Ann. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury v. Willis.

In an action of debt on a bond, with condition to make an inventory, and exhibit the ſame in the eccleſiaſtical court before ſuch a day, it is not enough for the defendant to plead, that there was no court held, but he muſt plead alſo, that he was there ready, &c. for he muſt ſhew he has done all that could be done on his ſide towards a performance: thus, if the condition of a bond be to levy a fine in eight days of St. Hilary, by which condition the plaintiff is to ſue out the writ of covenant, it is not enough for the defendant to plead, that no writ of covenant was ſued out; but he muſt plead, that he was there ready at the day, &c. and no writ of covenant was ſued out; and ſo if a perſon be bound to pay money to J. S. at a certain time and place, it is not enough for the defendant to ſay, that the obligee came not, without ſaying, that he was there ready. Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 172.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Wells v. Ferguſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 243 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Turner v. Goodwin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 129 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Weddall v. The Bail of Jocar.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 182 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. Freſhwater v. Eaton.

On a ſci. fa. brought on a recognizance in the Marſhalſea court, to ſurrender the principal to the gaoler of the Palace court, if he ſhould be condemned in error of that judgment, by an affirmance on which the bail rendered the principal to the King's Bench, the whole proceedings being removed thither.

It was inſiſted, that this was no performance of the condition.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. On the ſurrender to the Marſhalſea court, it is not known to the officer that there is any charge againſt him there, and by that means he will be diſcharged; and if he is ſurrendered there, he muſt be removed to this court; it will therefore be leaſt trouble to ſurrender him here.

Eyre, Juſtice. The render ought to be where it will be moſt effectual.

Pratt, Juſtice. A condition to re-enfeoff is performed by leaſe and releaſe. Co. Lit. 207. a. 1 Roll. Abr. 426. Carter 88. Plowd. 7. a. 156. b. A condition to pay money, is performed by cauſing it to be paid. The intent of the condition in this caſe is anſwered by the defendant's being in priſon to anſwer the plaintiff's demand; and there are many caſes of conditions, where the law has never required a ſtrict performance according to the letter of the condition, provided the intent of the condition is anſwered.

Per curiam. The render is good, and a good performance of the condition. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 49.

Hilary, 6 Geo. The King v. Whitlock.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 258 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Merrit v. Bane.

In an action brought on a ſpecial agreement to transfer ſtock, &c. the Chief Juſtice held, that an aſſign ſignifies no more than a perſon appointed to accept; and the payment of money is not a condition precedent, but a concurrent act. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 458.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Blackwell v. Naſh.

In debt brought for a penalty, the plaintiff declares, that he covenanted to transfer to the defendant, on or before the 21ſt of September, ſo much ſtock, and that the defendant in conſideration of the premiſes, covenanted to accept and pay for it; and then avers that he was at the books on the 21ſt of September, and was ready and offered to transfer the ſame to the plaintiff, who then and there refuſed to accept or pay.

On a demurrer it was objected, that the words for it, made it a condition precedent; 14 H. 4. c. 19. 5 Co. 21. 15 H. 7. 118. Dy. 76. 2 Saund. 352. and therefore to intitle himſelf to this action, the plaintiff ſhould have ſhewn an actual transfer of the ſtock; and particularly in this caſe, becauſe the covenant was not to pay the money till the day of transfer, which brings this caſe out of the diſtinction laid down in Thorpe v. Thorpe.

Per curiam. In conſideration of the premiſes, is in conſideration of the covenant to transfer, and not of an actual transfering, for which the defendant has his remedy; or if it was, a tender and refuſal would amount to a performance: in all theſe caſes, the great queſtion is, who is to do the firſt act? But when the transfer is to be on payment, there is no colour to make the transfer a condition precedent.

Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff, niſi, but enlarged to next term, at the inſtance of the defendant's council: in Hilary, 9 Geo. the plaintiff had judgment without further argument, and in Trinity, 10 Geo. the judgment was affirmed in the Exchequer Chamber. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 535. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 106.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Lock v. Wright.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant by his writing indented, agreed with the plaintiff, that he (the defendant) would accept of the plaintiff 500 l. fourth ſubſcription, as ſoon as the receipt ſhould be delivered out by the company, and would pay for the ſame 950 l. on the 5th day of November next, after the date of the writing, and averred that the money was not paid at the day.

The defendant demurred generally; and his council objected, that the plaintiff had not ſhewn the delivery of any receipts, or an impoſſibility of doing it; and cited 1 Lutw. 245. Salk. 171.

The matter having been twice argued before, this term, Pratt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court.

This is an action on a deed poll, made by the defendant, and whereby he covenants to accept ſo much ſtock, and to pay for the ſame; and the plaintiff, in an action for the money, has not averred a delivery or tender of the ſtock, and for this fault, we are all of opinion the declaration is not good.

The intent of the parties appears to be, that one ſhould have the money, and the other the ſtock; and not that either ſhould perform his part of the agreement, and lay himſelf at the mercy of the other for the equivalent. This is not a covenant entered into by both parties, on which each will have his mutual remedy; but is the deed poll of the defendant only; and therefore, on delivery or tender of the ſtock, the plaintiff will have his remedy for the money; yet the defendant, on the other ſide, on payment of the money, will have no remedy to compel the delivery of the ſtock; and having no ſuch remedy, he ſhall not be obliged to pay the money till the conſideration for which it is payable is performed.

The word for will be either a condition precedent or ſubſequent, as will beſt anſwer the intent of the parties: in this caſe, it muſt be a condition precedent, becauſe otherwiſe the intention of the defendant to have the ſtock for his money can never take effect, and this is proved by 17 Co. 10. and 1 Inſt. 204. where the annuity for one acre, ſays the book, ſuppoſes the acre to be firſt granted.

The caſe of Callonel v. Briggs (Salk. 112.) was not ſo ſtrong, for there was a promiſe to transfer, which gave a mutual remedy; but yet, Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, the plaintiff muſt ſhew a tender, becauſe that was the conſideration for the plaintiff's tender of the money. And the caſe he there puts of the ſale of a horſe for 10 l. is exactly the ſame with this.

The reſolutions that were mentioned at the bar of the caſe of Thorpe v. Thorpe, are all founded on great reaſon, and the firſt of them is agreeable to the reſolution of this caſe, which is an executory contract, where one is to do the act, and for the doing thereof, the other is to pay.

And this difference between a mutual covenant and a deed poll, is likewiſe taken and allowed in the caſe of Pordage v. Cole, 1 Saund. 320. where the court were of opinion the defendant had his remedy; it would have been, (ſays the book) "otherwiſe, if the deed had "been the words of the defendant only," which is this caſe.

For theſe reaſons, we are unanimouſly of opinion the defendant muſt have judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 569. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 40.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Griffith's Caſe.

In an action of debt on a bottomry bond conditioned, that ſuch a ſhip ſhould go from London to Buenos Ayres, and return thither within eighteen calendar months, without any deviation, (the danger of the ſeas excepted) and that then the obligor ſhould pay ſo much money, &c. within twenty days after ſuch return, or at the end of eighteen months.

The defendant in his plea did not anſwer the deviation, but pleaded that the ſhip did return within eighteen months, and that he paid the money within twenty days.

The plaintiff did not demur to this plea, (as he might, for not anſwering the deviation) but replied, and traverſed the return of the ſhip within eighteen calendar months. To which replication the defendant demurred, and the plaintiff joined in demurrer.

And it was now inſiſted for the plaintiff, that the condition being in the disjunctive, viz. to pay ſo much money within twenty days after the return of the ſhip, or at the end of eighteen months, the defendant might have pleaded performance of either part of the condition; and here he pleaded performance of one part, viz. that the ſhip did return within eighteen months: which being traverſed by the plaintiff, was confeſſed by the demurrer; ſo that one part of the condition being falſified by this demurrer, the plaintiff muſt have judgment; and by the opinion of the court, judgment was given for him accordingly. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 349.

Hilary, 12 Geo. White v. Cleaver.

In debt on a bond conditioned to indemnify the plaintiff, the defendant on oyer thereof, pleaded generally, that he had ſaved him harmleſs, without ſhewing how. And on a general demurrer it was agreed, the plea was ill before the ſtatute for the amendment of the law, for that no iſſue could be joined on it. 2 Cro. 165. Hob. 296. 2 Cro. 4. 2 Cro. 363. 503. 634. But then it was objected, that this ſhould have been ſhewn for cauſe of demurrer; and of that opinion was the court, for the ſubſtance is the ſaving harmleſs, and how that was done, is but a matter of form; ſo the plaintiff prayed leave to diſcontinue on payment of coſts, which was accordingly granted. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 681. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1416.

Hilary, 13 Geo. Cheeſman or Cheſman & Ux. v. Nainby or Ramby.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 245 of this work, under the head Bond.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. Tryon v. Carter.

A bond was conditioned for the payment of money, on or before 5th of December. The defendant pleaded payment on the 5th of December, to which there was a replication, and a verdict for the plaintiff; but a repleader awarded, as being an immaterial iſſue: for it finds no breach of the condition, becauſe it might be paid before the 5th of December, and then the condition is performed: and it is not like the caſe where a condition is to pay on ſuch a day, for then there can be no legal payment till that day, an actual payment before being but in the nature of a depoſit till the day. But here it would be a legal payment at any day. 1 Saund. 102. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 994.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Fletcher v. Richardſon.

In an action of debt on a bond, which on oyer appeared to be, that a receiver of rents of an eſtate ſhall account duly, and ſhall in all reſpects behave himſelf as a ſteward or receiver ought to do; the defendant pleaded, that he never received but one penny; which he paid to the obligee. The plaintiff demurred to the plea, and ſhewed for cauſe, that he had not pleaded, that he did in all reſpects behave himſelf as a ſteward ought.

Lord Hardwicke. The plea is bad, and what is ſhewn for cauſe of demurrer need not, for it is ſubſtance; for the rule in pleading conditions performed, is that where there is a negative and an affirmative, the pleader muſt not only ſhew, that he has not performed the negative; but likewiſe, that he has performed the affirmative.

The defendant's council then moved, that here is a diſcontinuance, the declaration being of Hilary term, and an imparlance to Trinity term.

Lord Hardwicke. But it is the courſe of this court to give the imparlance on the declaration till the day of pleading. Judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 322.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. Fitchet v. Adams.

In ejectment on the demiſe of R. H. the jury found a ſpecial verdict to this effect; that R. H. (ſince deceaſed) being ſeized in fee of the premiſes in queſtion, and having a wife M. and a daughter E. of the age of ſix years, by his will, dated the 16th of May, 1722, deviſed to his wife and her heirs, but if ſhe marries again, then he appoints two truſtees to receive the rents, and apply them to the education of his daughter till ſhe comes of age, and in caſe of ſuch marriage of the mother, he deviſes to the daughter in fee. That R. H. died in June, 1722, and the wife entered and married a ſecond huſband, the 15th of April, 1723, and the daughter continued to live with, and was educated by her, till her, (the daughter's) death, the 5th of May, 1734, when ſhe died without iſſue, and unmarried; and the leſſor of the plaintiff was her couſin and heir. That the 22d of May, 1738, J. W. on behalf of the leſſor of the plaintiff did, without any previous authority, make an actual entry on the premiſes, claiming the ſame as the eſtate of the leſſor by virtue of his heirſhip to E. and that the leſſor having notice thereof, did the 5th of June, 1738, aſſent thereto.

On this caſe two points aroſe, 1ſt. Whether an actual entry was neceſſary. And 2dly, if it was, whether this was a ſufficient one?

The firſt of theſe depended on two queſtions, 1ſt. Whether this deviſe over was a condition or a limitation; for if it was the latter, an actual entry undoubtedly was not neceſſary. 2dly. That if it was a condition, then whether it would be neceſſary, this not being to avoid a fine.

Theſe were ſpoken to at the bar, but the court gave no opinion on them; being very clear on the ſecond point, that what was found, did amount to an actual entry, to ſupport an ejectment, being aſſented to before the day of the demiſe in the declaration. Co. Lit. 247. 258. 9 Co. 106. 1 Roll. Abr. 738. pl. 2, 3, 4. And they alſo held, that there was no occaſion, for its being by deed, or in writing. Wherefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1128.

Michaelmas, 33 Geo. 2. Collins v. Gibbs.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 158 of this work, under the head Averment.

Conſideration.

Hilary, 3 W. & M. Potter v. James.

An aſſumpſit for money owing and unpaid is not good, without ſetting forth a contract, or ſhewing for what the money is due. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 16.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. Walker v. Walker.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit for money won at play; it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that an indebitatus aſſumpſit does not lie; for though the caſt of a die may alter the property, for where money is ſtaked it is given on a condition precedent, viz. the caſt of a die; yet this is not a conſideration to raiſe a debt or promiſe; but is only a promiſe againſt a promiſe, for which the ſole remedy is a ſpecial action on the caſe on the mutual promiſe; and to that opinion the court ſtrongly inclined. But becauſe the point in queſtion was depending in the Exchequer Chamber, in the caſe of Jackſon v. Cotgrave, judgment was ſtaid here; and it was held by the barons of the Exchequer on conſultation with the judges of this court, that an indebitatus aſſumpſit would lie: and Holt, Chief Juſtice, allowed it would lie by the winner againſt them who held ſtakes. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 69.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Taylor v. Jones.

On an action of aſſumpſit, the plaintiff declared that he was a captain of a company of foot ſoldiers, and that one T. J. was a ſoldier in his company, and that the defendant, in conſideration that the plaintiff would permit the ſaid T. J. to be abſent from duty ten days, promiſed to bring the ſaid T. J. back, or to pay the plaintiff 20 l. The plaintiff in his declaration averred, that he permitted the ſaid T. J. to be abſent, &c. The defendant pleaded, that T. J. died within the ten days, viz. in ſix days, &c. The plaintiff replied, that he did not die within the time mentioned in the plea, and tenders an iſſue, to which the defendant demurred.

On arguing the demurrer, the defendant's council urged, that in this caſe there is no conſideration to maintain the action, for that the captain of a company has not any property in a ſoldier, to give him liberty to abſent himſelf from the King's ſervice. But not allowed.

Per curiam. When the captain ſees that he has not occaſion to uſe a ſoldier in the King's ſervice, he may give him leave of abſence, and it is lawful, and is a benefit to the ſoldier, but without the captain's leave he cannot be abſent. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff niſi. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 312.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Weſt v. Cole.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant, on the 6th day of May 1695, in conſideration that the plaintiff had provided him diet for the ſpace of one hundred and twenty weeks, then paſt, promiſed to pay him 7 s. per week; and that the defendant afterwards, to wit, on the 6th day of May 1695, in conſideration that the plaintiff had found him diet for the ſpace of one hundred and twenty weeks, then paſt, promiſed to pay him, the plaintiff, as much as he ſhould deſire, for the ſaid time. It was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the defendant was twice charged for the ſame thing, the one hundred and twenty weeks, in the quantum meruit, being not ſaid to be others from thoſe in the ſpecial promiſe, as is uſually ſaid in thoſe caſes. But the court held, that though (others) is generally ſaid, yet ſeeing it did not appear they were the ſame, for there is no preciſe time laid when theſe one hundred and twenty weeks were, they will not intend them ſo as to deſtroy a promiſe, otherwiſe well laid: and therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 157.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Auſtin v. Baker.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit againſt B. on a promiſe ſuppoſed to be made by him to pay for goods delivered by the plaintiff to A. Holt, Chief Juſtice, made this diſtinction, viz. if B. deſires A. to deliver goods to C. and promiſes to ſee him paid, there an aſſumpſit lies againſt B. though in that caſe, he ſaid, he always required the plaintiff to produce his books, to ſee to whom credit was given. But if after the goods are delivered to C. by A. B. ſays to A. "you ſhall be paid "for the goods," it will be hard to ſaddle him with the debt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 250.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Harriſon v. Cage & Ux.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 23 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Yard v. Ellard or Eland.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 205 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Waters v. Glaſſop.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant's ſon was indebted to him in —l. and that he had a deſign to arreſt him; that the defendant, in conſideration that the plaintiff, at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the defendant, would forbear to arreſt his ſon till the 23d day of October, aſſumed on himſelf to pay to the plaintiff, on, or before the ſaid 23d day of October, ſo much as the defendant's ſon ſhould be indebted to him on the balance of the account, to be ſtated between the defendant's ſon and the plaintiff; and the plaintiff averred, that an account was ſtated of all debts owing by the defendant's ſon to the plaintiff, and on that account the defendant's ſon was found indebted to the plaintiff in 20 l. and avers, that he forbore to arreſt the defendant's ſon from the time of the promiſe hitherto; and that the defendant did not pay the 20 l. On non aſſumpſit pleaded, a verdict was found for the plaintiff. And the defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, that the conſideration was not good; becauſe, ſince the plaintiff was to forbear till after the 23d day of October, and the defendant was to pay the money on or before, it might be, that after the defendant had paid the money, the plaintiff would not perform his part, but arreſt the defendant's ſon before the time agreed on by the promiſe. But not allowed.

Per curiam. The conſideration is well enough, for the defendant has till the laſt inſtant of the 23d day of October to pay the money, and the next inſtant for forbearance the plaintiff has performed his part, for he is not bound to forbear but only one inſtant after the 23d day of October, and therefore it is well enough.

A ſecond exception was, that the defendant aſſumed to pay all that ſhould appear to be due by the defendant's ſon to the plaintiff on the balance of the account to be ſtated between them, which is to be intended of all debts, due as well of the one ſide as of the other, here is only an averment, that an account was made of all debts due by the defendant's ſon to the plaintiff, but perhaps if an account had been ſtated of all debts due on both ſides, the plaintiff might have been found debtor to the defendant's ſon, and not vice verſa; and therefore the defendant aſſumed to pay only what ſhould be due on ſuch account; and therefore, for want of ſhewing that ſuch an account was ſtated, the plaintiff has not intitled himſelf to his action againſt the defendant. But not allowed.

Per curiam. We will not ſuppoſe after a verdict, that any thing was due from the plaintiff to the defendant's ſon. Therefore the plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 357.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Harman v. Owden.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 151 of this work, under the head Averment.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Thorpe v. Thorpe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 271 of this work, under the head Condition.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Sir George Tuke's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 26 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Meredith v. Chute.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 26 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Gould v. Johnſon. Error.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 27 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Coggs v. Bernard.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Truſting a perſon with goods is a ſufficient conſideration to oblige him to a careful management thereof. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 29 of this work, under the head Actions, and in page 189 under the head Bailment.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Strong v. Courtney.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 34 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Thornborough v. Whitacre.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 34 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Moverley v. Lee.

On an aſſumpſit, in conſideration that the plaintiff would provide meat and drink, &c. the defendant promiſed to pay him ſo much as the plaintiff has deſerved, and avers, that in fact he has deſerved ſo much, &c. On non aſſumpſit pleaded, and iſſue joined, a verdict was given for the plaintiff.

The defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment on this ground, viz. that the promiſe was void to pay ſo much as the plaintiff has deſerved, which is the præterfect tenſe, and refers to the time paſt, and therefore could be nothing, for a man could not have deſerved any thing for a matter to be done in future; and entire damages being given, ſuch judgment ought to be arreſted.

On hearing the council on both ſides on this motion, the court affirmed the judgment. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1223.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Squire v. Yendon.

In an action on the caſe, the plaintiff declared, that the defendant being indebted to him 10 l. for horſemeat, in conſideration thereof, promiſed to pay to the plaintiff as much as he ſhould deſerve. And after a verdict for the plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of judgment; and excepted, that a ſum certain could not be a conſideration for an uncertainty. Suppoſe the jury had given 11 l. 10 s. that could not have been a good conſideration for more.

Per curiam. It is well enough, though the plaintiff has his election to bring his action on either. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 134.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. Wallis v. Scott.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant, in conſideration that the plaintiff would make him a ſet of ſails, worth 45 l. promiſed to pay ſo much for them on requeſt; and avers that he made the ſails; and the defendant, although often requeſted, refuſed to pay. On demurrer, the defendant's council argued, that this being a ſpecial compact, the plaintiff muſt ſhew a performance of all on his part, which he has not done; for he has not averred that he made the ſails worth 45 l. and if they were not worth it, the defendant is not chargeable.

Powys, Juſtice, (Parker and Pratt being abſent) tho' the value aforeſaid was ſufficient.

Per Eyre, Juſtice. I do not think the value need to be alledged; but if it need, yet the aforeſaid takes it in, for if the value is part of the deſcription, then it is averred that the plaintiff made ſuch a ſet of ſails as was agreed on, (that is) a ſet of ſails which anſwers every part of the deſcription. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 88.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. Lloyd v. Lee.

A married woman gave a promiſory note as a feme ſole; and after her huſband's death, in conſideration of forbearance promiſed to pay it. And now in an action againſt her, it was inſiſted, that though ſhe being under coverture at the time of giving the note, it was voidable for that reaſon; yet by her ſubſequent promiſe when ſhe was of ability to make a promiſe, ſhe had made herſelf liable, and the forbearance was a new conſideration. But the C. J. held the contrary, and that the note was not barely voidable, but abſolutely void; and forbearance, where originally there is no cauſe of action, is no conſideration to raiſe an aſſumpſit. But he ſaid it might be otherwiſe where the contract was only voidable, and ſo the plaintiff was called. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 94.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Anonymous.

A perſon paid money on a contract for the old ſtock of a company, and the party gave him ſo many ſhares in the additional ſtock; on this ground an action was brought thereon, as for ſo much money had and received to his uſe.

Per curiam. This action will lay becauſe the thing contracted for was not delivered. It would have been otherwiſe if the thing contracted for had been delivered, though to a leſs value. Vide Strange vol. 1. p. 407.

Michaelmas,

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Dutch v. Warren.

In an action on the caſe for money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe, the caſe was. The plaintiff had paid a certain ſum of money to the defendant on a promiſe to transfer ſtock to him at a future day, which not being done by the defendant, the plaintiff brought this action.

On the trial it was doubted whether the plaintiff had brought a proper action, becauſe at the time the money was paid, the plaintiff never intended to have it again, and the promiſe to transfer the ſtock was a ſufficient conſideration for his parting with the money.

Per curiam. The action is well brought, not for the whole money paid, but for the damages in not transferring the ſtock at the time, which was a loſs to the plaintiff, and a benefit to the defendant, who was receiver of the difference money to the uſe of the plaintiff. Vide Strange vol. 1. p. 406.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Crow v. Rogers.

In aſſumpſit the plaintiff declared, that whereas one J. H. was indebted to the plaintiff in 170 l. on a diſcourſe between H. and the defendant, it was agreed, that the defendant ſhould pay to the plaintiff the ſaid 170 l. and that H. ſhould make the defendant a title to a houſe. Then he averred, that H. was always ready to perform his part of the agreement, and that the defendant in conſideration thereof promiſed to pay the plaintiff.

On demurrer it was inſiſted, that there was no conſideration moving from the plaintiff to ſupport this promiſe, and the caſe of Bourne v. Maſon, 1 Vent. 6. 2 Keb. 457, 527, was cited, where A. being ſeverally indebted to B. and C. and having a debt due to him from D. C. in conſideration that A. would permit him to ſue D. in his name promiſed to pay B. And it was held that this being a matter of no trouble to the plaintiff, or benefit to the defendant, he was a ſtranger to the conſideration, and could not maintain an action.

The court gave no opinion this term. But in Eaſter, 12 Geo. this matter being moved again, the court held the plaintiff was a ſtranger to the conſideration; and gave judgment for the defendant. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 592.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Weaver v. Boroughs.

The plaintiff declared on a ſpecial agreement for the hire of a horſe at 2 s. 6 d. per day, and to keep him ſo many days, and to return him ſafe at the end of that time. There was likewiſe an indeb. aſſump. for the hire. And on the trial the plaintiff could not prove the ſpecial agreement in the manner he had laid it; and therefore his council would have had recourſe to the indebit. aſſump. to recover only the hire: but Raymond Chief Juſtice was of opinion, that the agreement of 2 s. 6 d. per day being laid as part of the ſpecial agreement, which was not proved, he could not let them ſeparate that clauſe and recover for the hire, as they might have done on the general indeb. aſſump. it not being a debt, unleſs the agreements had been proved. And he put the caſe of a contract for goods at a certain price, where the plaintiff is never ſuffered to recover on the quantum meruit, ſo the plaintiff was called. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 648.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Oſborn v. The Governors of Guy's Hoſpital.

The plaintiff brought a quantum meruit for work and labour in tranſacting Mr. Guy's ſtock affairs in the year 1720. It appeared that he was no broker, but a friend; and it looked ſtrongly as if he did not expect to be paid, but to be conſidered for it in Mr. Guy's will; and Raymond, Chief Juſtice, directed the jury, that if that was the caſe they could not find for the plaintiff, though nothing was given him by the will; for they ſhould conſider how it was underſtood by the parties, at the time of doing the buſineſs; and a man who expects to be made amends by a legacy, cannot afterwards reſort to his action. Vide Strange, vol. 1. page 728.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. Hayes v. Warren.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes; after judgment by default, and entire damages, it was objected, that the 4th count was for work and labour done by the plaintiff for the defendant, in conſideration whereof he promiſed to pay. And it was objected, that this was a paſt conſideration; and not being laid to be done at the requeſt of the defendant, it could be no conſideration to raiſe an aſſumpſit; and 1 Roll. Abr. 11. Pl. 1. Cro. El. 442, 741. 3 Leon. 91. Dyer 272. were cited.

Per curiam. It does not appear that this work was for the benefit of the defendant, and we muſt take it to be a paſt conſideration, being laid that afterwards he promiſed to pay: if this was after a verdict, we ſhould think the inferences from the words for, and meruit of the defendant, would be immaterial; but the ſtatutes of jeofails do not protect judgments by default againſt objections that are cured by a verdict at common law; but ſuch as are remedied after a verdict by the ſtatutes. Therefore the judgment of the C. B. was reverſed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 933.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Gordon v. Martin.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit, the plaintiff declared, that the defendant being indebted to him in the ſum of 300 l. for work, &c. did promiſe to pay him the ſaid ſum. The defendant pleaded the general iſſue, and the plaintiff gave in evidence a letter wrote by the defendant to the following purport.

"If L. S. ſhall go through the purchaſe (the defendant's brother having been then in treaty with the ſaid L. S. for the ſale of an eſtate) my brother will give you a handſome gratuity for the trouble and pains you ſhall be at, in tranſacting that affair, which I promiſe and aſſure you ſhall not be leſs than 300 l.

In the poſtſcript to this letter, were theſe words, viz. "my meaning is, you ſhall be paid when the conveyances ſhall be executed."

It was likewiſe proved on the trial, that the plaintiff had forwarded the ſaid purchaſe, and that L. S. was greatly induced thereto, by the good opinion he had of the plaintiff's veracity and judgment.

It was held by the whole court, that though the promiſe was, that the defendant's brother ſhould pay the gratuity, yet it bound the defendant as much as if he had promiſed for himſelf; the work, &c. being at his requeſt, and on his credit: and judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 302.

Hilary, 33 Geo. 2. Stoteſbury v. Smith.

Per curiam. A promiſe of money made by bail to a ſheriff's officer to induce him to accept ſuch bail is void, being grounded on an illegal conſideration. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 924.

Conſtable.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Fletcher v. Ingram.

In an action of replevin for taking the plaintiff's mare, the defendants made conuſance, that the place in which, is within the manor of Shewſton, where there is a court leet, and that the jury of the ſaid leet, time out of mind, have choſen one of the inhabitants within the manor to be conſtable, and that the perſon ſo choſen, by the ſaid cuſtom is to ſerve, or forfeit a reaſonable penalty, to be impoſed by the jury at the ſaid leet; that the plaintiff was elected accordingly, and ordered to take on him the office on penalty of 40 s. and thereof had notice, but neglected; which was preſented at the next leet, and he had thereby forfeited 40*s.* for which the defendant, as bailiff to the Lord, took diſtreſs.

Per curiam. Of common right, the conſtable is to be choſen by the jury in the leet, and if the party choſen is preſent, and refuſes, the ſteward may fine him; if abſent, the homage muſt preſent his refuſal at the next court, and then he ſhall be amerced; alſo if the party choſen is preſent, he ſhall take the oath in the leet; if abſent, before the juſtices of the peace, who ſtill adminiſter the oath to him as conſervators of the peace at common law: but a cuſtom ought to be alledged for diſtraining for the penalty, which is not done here. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 87. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 127. Raym. vol. 1. p. 69. Salk. vol. 1. p. 175.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. The King v. Bernard.

An indictment at the ſeſſions held for the town of Southampton ſet forth, that at the general quarter ſeſſions for the town and county of Southampton, in September, T. Bernard of that city, grocer, then and there reſident, was by the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid town in lawful manner, according to the cuſtom of the ſaid town, elected to be conſtable for the year enſuing whereof he had notice on the 4th of October, and then and there was required by two juſtices of the peace, to take the oath of the office aforeſaid, but that he not minding his duty, from the 4th day of October aforeſaid, to the time of the exhibition of this bill, obſtinately refuſed to take on himſelf the ſaid office. The defendant demurred. 1ſt. Becauſe by common law, conſtables were only choſen by leets, and in default of them, at the torn; and if there is a cuſtom in a corporation to chuſe them otherwiſe, it muſt be averred, that they had ſuch a cuſtom immemorial; it not being ſufficient to ſay, in lawful manner according to the cuſtom. 2dly. Suppoſing ſuch a cuſtom in a corporation to chuſe them otherwiſe, it can only bind the members, and not others; and therefore they ſhould have averred Bernard to have been a member, 3dly. Suppoſing him to be duly elected, it does not appear that he took on himſelf the office; for notice of his election, and requiring him to take the office, was on the 4th of October, and the refuſal is laid to be on the 4th day of October too.

Per curiam. The laſt objection is material, for he might have taken the oath the 4th of October, which would have been an aſſumption of the office, after which he is only indictable for a ſpecial neglect, i. e. the neglect muſt be ſpecially laid. As for the ſecond, ſuppoſing ſuch a cuſtom within a corporation, they may without doubt, not only meddle with their own members, but alſo with the reſiants within their precincts. But the firſt is moſt conſiderable. At common law they are elected at the leets, and in default, at the ſheriffs torn, the leet of the county. But by cuſtom, a corporation might chuſe its own officers; and this cuſtom was reaſonable, becauſe when an incorporated town has the government thereof committed to them, it is but reaſonable they ſhould chuſe their officers that are neceſſary to ſecure the public peace; but then it ſhould have been particularly ſet forth, which is not done here, Therefore judgment for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 115.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. The King v. Hewſon, or the Caſe of the Village of Charley or Chorley.

The village of Chorley having no conſtable, the juſtices of peace, by order of the ſeſſions, appointed one to ſerve there.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. A conſtable may be choſen in the torn, or leet. A village and a conſtable are co-relatives, and we will intend they have a ſufficient authority for it; but ſtat. 13 & 14 Car. 2. c. 12. gives them authority to do it only in particular caſes therein mentioned; and as to the authority of a conſtable out of his pariſh, if a warrant is directed to the conſtable by name, commanding him to execute it, though he is not compellable to go out of his precinct, yet he may if he will, and ſhall be juſtified by the warrant for ſo doing; but if the warrant is directed to all conſtables, &c. generally, it ſhall be taken reſpectively, and no conſtable can execute the ſame out of his precinct. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 180. Salk. vol. 1. p. 176. and vol. 3. p. 99.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Parkhouſe v. Forſter.

In an action of treſpaſs, on a ſpecial verdict, the caſe was: the plaintiff was an houſe-keeper at Tunbridge, and let out lodgings to ſtrangers, and alſo furniſhed them with ſtable room for their horſes, &c. and the defendant being a conſtable, quartered a dragoon at the plaintiff's houſe, for which this action was brought.

Now the queſtion before the court was, whether the defendant can juſtify this? And whether he has acted in purſuance of ſtat. 9 W. 3.

Holt, C. J. If a conſtable places a dragoon where it is unlawful for him ſo to do, he muſt make ſatisfaction for the conſequential damages; for example, if the dragoon ſhould, out of a frolick, let the drink about the cellar, or do any other prejudice, the conſtable is anſwerable for all the damage that enſues, for ſince the placing him there was unlawful, it ſhall be taken as if the conſtable had placed him there on purpoſe to do an unlawful act; but the court deferred giving judgment.

In Trinity term following, the court gave judgment, when they were of opinion, that the action was well brought, and therefore gave judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 427. Salk. vol. 1. p. 387.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. Beechcroft.

An order for making a conſtable was quaſhed, for that it did not appear by the order that he was an inhabitant of the liberty, though of the pariſh. The late conſtable is not diſcharged till the new one is ſworn; becauſe the pariſh cannot be without an officer. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 255.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. At Niſi Prius.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. A perſon may take a warrant to ſearch a ſuſpicious houſe, on a felony committed; but muſt at his peril execute it in due time, and at ſuſpected houſes only; and though a conſtable may, by virtue of ſuch warrant, ſearch the houſe, and all other things that his warrant authoriſes him to do; yet, if he goes beyond his warrant, by which any body is damaged, he is anſwerable for it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 344.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. Chaloner.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 264 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Normand v. Mills.

An action of falſe impriſonment was brought againſt a conſtable for executing a warrant of Sir J. B. after he was out of the commiſſion of the peace.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The conſtable at his peril is to take notice, that his warrant is by one in commiſſion; but all the favour we can do him is, ſince it was a warrant executed a day or two after Sir J. was out of the commiſſion, if he has behaved himſelf honeſtly and civilly in the buſineſs, to be mild to him: and he ſaid, the conſtable ought to ſhew the juſtice of peace's commiſſion, tho' heretofore it was held common reputation, would be enough; and here the conſtable, coming out of his own pariſh, to execute the warrant, betrays his officiouſneſs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 347.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Elizabeth Claxton's Caſe.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, declared, that by ſtat. 13 H. 7. c. 10. a conſtable may commit lewd women till they find ſureties, and neighbours are bound to aſſiſt. See p. 265 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Dyer.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. No man that keeps a public houſe ought to be a conſtable. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 41.

2 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. The high conſtable was an officer at common law before the ſtatute of Winton, as well as the petty conſtable, and they are both deemed officers to the juſtices of peace in the ſame manner as the ſheriff is to this court. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 175.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Wiatt or Wyatt.

Several perſons were indicted in the county of Suſſex, and convicted for killing deer, and being aiding and aſſiſting thereto; and a warrant was iſſued to levy a diſtreſs, which warrant, by a clauſe in it, was to be returned; the warrant was delivered to the defendant, who levied the money, but made no return of the warrant, for which he was alſo indicted; and on its being removed here by certiorari, the defendant's council argued, that the not returning the warrant is not an offence to be indicted on; and finding the money to be levied, makes for the defendant. He excepted, that there ought to have been time and place, when and where he ſhould have returned this warrant to them, for he is not bound to travel all over England to find them. Again, his warrant is his juſtification and indemnity, in caſe he ſhould be ſued for a treſpaſs.

On the other ſide it was argued, that by the ſtatute it is the duty of a conſtable to make a return to his warrant.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. There is a difference between returning the warrant itſelf, and returning what he has done. The not fixing a time when and where is no fault; for he ſhould have done it forthwith, and any where within the county ſuffices.

Powell, Juſtice. The return is neceſſary, becauſe he may levy only part, and then further proceſs ſhould iſſue: for if the whole cannot be levied, then the juſtices muſt go on another part of the ſtatute.

Per curiam. It is an offence indictable for not returning what he has done.

This matter was adjourned for further conſideration; and on the firſt day of Trinity term, judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 53. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1189.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Jennings.

The defendant was indicted for refuſing to take on him the office of high conſtable for the hundred of Farnham, having been in a due and lawful manner elected, &c. to which the defendant pleaded not guilty, and the jury found a ſpecial verdict.

The queſtion ariſing on the ſpecial verdict was, whether the defendant, being in a particular leet, is excuſed from ſerving as high conſtable of the hundred, and the court held that he was not excuſed.

The court gave judgment for the Queen, on the ſpecial verdict. But exception being taken to the indictment, it was put off to Trinity term following, when the exceptions taken were,

1ſt. That it was not ſaid to what he was elected, only in due and lawful manner elected, &c. But not allowed.

Per curiam. It ſhall be preſumed that it was an high conſtable.

2dly. It is ſaid, the election was at a court-leet held the 16th day of September. Now, Magna Charta, c. 5. enacts, that all leets ſhall not be held but only twice in a year, one within a month after Eaſter, and the other within a month after Michaelmas, and this court is ſaid to be held the 16th day of September, and they have not laid any preſcription to hold it at that time, contrary to ſtat. 3 Keb. 192. 230. 255. The King v. Bernard, 8 W. 3. Deckin's caſe, 2 Saund.

The council for the indictment argued, that it was ſo in the caſe of the King v. King, but there the court held the indictment good notwithſtanding.

To which the defendant's council anſwered, that the reaſon of that caſe was, becauſe, by pleading over they had admitted it, but here we have pleaded not guilty.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. An admittance by pleading to an indictment does not make the inidctment good, as it would a declaration.

The council for the indictment then argued, that a perſon may preſcribe to hold a court-leet at another time than is named in Magna Charta; and it ſhall be preſumed that this was ſo.

Per curiam. Indeed a perſon may preſcribe ſo, but unleſs that preſcription appears, it ſhall not be preſumed: alſo, when a preſentment in a leet is removed by certiorari, the ſtile of the court muſt be ſet out exactly; but there needs no ſuch nicety in pleading, 2 Cro. 43. The King v. Hill; therefore the indictment was quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 215. 227.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. The Quecn v. Tooley et al.

An indictment was found againſt the defendant, for the murder of one D. and on not guilty pleaded the jury found a ſpecial verdict; viz. that by ſtat. 27 El. for the good government of Weſtminſter, it is enacted, that for reformation of diſorders in that city, the dean, high-ſteward or his deputy, or two capital burgeſſes, may hear and puniſh incontinencies, according to the cuſtom of London: that by the cuſtom of London, any conſtable of any ward, pariſh, or precinct, may execute his office throughout the whole city: that within the city, borough, and liberty of Weſtminſter, it has been uſed, that any perſon duly appointed conſtable of any pariſh within the liberties of the city, borough, and ville of Weſtminſter, his office of conſtable, in and thro' the whole city and borough of Weſtminſter, and liberties thereof, has executed, and uſed to execute: that on the 8th day of March, 8 Ann, &c. three commiſſioners, duly appointed by virtue of the ſtatute for recruiting the army, for putting the act in execution, by virtue of that act, made their warrant under their hands and ſeals, directed to the conſtables of the pariſh of St. Margaret's, Weſtminſter, within the city of Weſtminſter, thereby commanding the conſtables to make ſearch within the ſaid city and liberty, for perſons within the deſcription of that act; which warrant, after that day, was delivered to the conſtables of the pariſh of St. Margaret's, to be executed: that after that day, S. B. into the pariſh of St. Paul, Covent Garden, in the city and liberty of Weſtminſter, to execute this warrant did come, and was: that within the pariſh of St. Paul, Covent Garden, there was and is a conſtable belonging to that pariſh: that S. B. before ſent to J. D. to aſſiſt him to execute the warrant: that after the ſaid 8th day of March, between 8 and 9 at night, in the ſaid pariſh of St. Paul, Covent Garden, the ſaid S. B. ſtaying to execute that warrant, one Ann Dekins, in the ſtreet, between the Play-houſe and the Roſe Tavern, he then and there found, whom he ſuſpected to be a diſorderly perſon, and then and there, as a diſorderly perſon, took her into his cuſtody, as conſtable of the city and liberty of Weſtminſter, to carry her to priſon for her ſafe cuſtody: that Ann Dekins had been before taken up by B. as conſtable, as a diſorderly perſon; and that at her being taken up by B. on the 8th day of March, ſhe had not miſbehaved herſelf; that B. had no warrant to take or detain her: that after the taking of the ſaid Ann Dekins, the priſoners (B. then having her in cuſtody) in another place, called Covent Garden, did meet, (they being all ſtrangers to Ann Dekins) drew their ſwords, and aſſaulted B. to reſcue her from his cuſtody: that B. ſhewed his conſtable's ſtaff, and declared he was about the Queen's buſineſs, and intended the priſoner no harm; whereon they put up their ſwords, and B. carried the woman to the round-houſe: that the priſoners a little after, the ſaid Ann Dekins being in the ſaid priſon in Covent Garden aforeſaid, drew their ſwords again, and aſſaulted the ſaid B. on account of the impriſonment of the ſaid Ann Dekins, and to get her diſcharged: that B. called ſome perſons to his aſſiſtance, to keep her in cuſtody, and to defend himſelf from the violence of the priſoners; that D. came to his aſſiſtance:

ance: that while D. was in the conſtable's aſſiſtance, and before any ſtroke, one of the priſoners gave D. the mortal wound in the indictment mentioned, of which he died, as in the indictment, &c. that the two others were aiding and aſſiſting him that gave the ſtroke; but whether the defendants were guilty, &c.

This term the matter was argued before all the judges at Serjeant's Inn, on which argument the judges were divided in their opinion, viz. Holt, Chief Juſtice, Powell, Powys, and Gould, Juſtices of this court; Baron Price, Baron Bury, and Baron Lovell, that it was manſlaughter; and Trevor, Chief Juſtice, Blencow, Tracy, and Dormer, Juſtices of the C. B. and Ward, Lord Chief Baron, that it was murder. And the laſt day of the term, Holt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of all the judges in this court. He ſaid, that thoſe judges who were for manſlaughter, founded their opinions on the following reaſons; 1ſt. That it was a ſudden action without any precedent malice, or apparent deſign of doing hurt, but only to prevent the impriſonment of the woman, and to reſcue her, who was unlawfully reſtrained of her liberty; and if the woman was unlawfully impriſoned, then it cannot be murder; and cited 4 Co. 40. Young's caſe; 9 Co. 65. Mackalley's caſe, where it was held, that if a conſtable is killed in the execution of his office, it is murder; but it is otherwiſe, where he is doing a wrongful and oppreſſive act: it is not only neceſſary, that the conſtable is in the execution of his office, to make the killing of him murder, but he muſt give notice that he is come to keep the peace. Thomſon's caſe, Kel. 66. and ſo is Young's caſe, and Mackalley's caſe, to be underſtood; for if he does not give notice, the party may reaſonably ſuppoſe that he came to aſſiſt his adverſary.

The ſecond point to be conſidered is, whether B. was in the execution of his office? Stat. 27 Eliz. does not mention a conſtable, only a power given to the dean, high-ſteward, and two capital burgeſſes of Weſtminſter, but it does not follow from thence, that the conſtable has ſuch a power; we all agree, that the power of the conſtable is no greater than it was before this act. One of the judges held, that B. was conſtable de facto, but that cannot be, ſince there was a conſtable at that time in Covent Garden. Now, if the conſtable of one pariſh has not power over the whole liberty, then B. had no more authority than if he had been no conſtable at all. Suppoſe, for argument's ſake, that B. was conſtable of Covent Garden, I take it, that the taking up the woman was illegal, though ſhe had been in his cuſtody before; and if ſo, he did not act as a conſtable, but as a common oppreſſor: the verdict does not find that ſhe was guilty of any diſorderly act when ſhe had been in his cuſtody before; and it is not a conſtable's ſuſpecting that will juſtify his taking up a perſon, but it muſt be juſt grounds of ſuſpicion, for that is traverſable; 2 Inſt. 52. as for example, if a felony is committed, it is good cauſe of ſuſpicion; that is, if J. ſuſpect a perſon where a felony is done, it is warrant enough for me to arreſt him; but it would be hard, that the liberty of the ſubject ſhould depend on the will of the conſtable; and ſhall his not liking a woman's looks be any cauſe of ſuſpicion?

The priſoners in this caſe had ſufficient provocation; for if a perſon is impriſoned on an unlawful authority, it is a ſufficient provocation to all people out of compaſſion; much more where it is done under a colour of juſtice, and where the liberty of the ſubject is invaded, it is a provocation to all the ſubjects of England. He ſaid, that a conſtable cannot arreſt but when he ſees an actual breach of the peace; and if the affray is over, he cannot arreſt. 3 Cro. 372. ſtat. 3 H. 7. c. 10. conſtables have an authority by the ſtatute to arreſt perſons, but it muſt be by warrant from the juſtices of peace; but in this caſe there was no warrant.

The reaſons of the five judges, who were of opinion it was murder, were theſe: four of them agreed, that B. had no authority; but one was of opinion, that ſhewing his ſtaff was ſufficient; but I never knew that a conſtable's ſtaff was of ſo much efficacy, when the conſtable himſelf had no authority: four of them held, that ſhe, being a ſtranger to the priſoners, it could be no provocation to them; otherwiſe, if ſhe had been a friend or ſervant: but ſure, a man ought to be concerned for Magna Charta and the laws; and if any one againſt the law impriſons a man, he is an offender againſt Magna Charta. We ſeven held this to be a ſufficient provocation, and we have good authority for it. In Hopkins Hugget's caſe, (and this caſe is ſtronger than that) the judges that were of opinion that the caſe was only manſlaughter, did not found their opinion on the fight between them, but the provocation by the unlawful impriſonment; and the four who were of opinion that it was murder, conformed and gave judgment according to the opinion of the eight: the five judges in this caſe, who think this caſe murder, ſay, that to a relation or friend, it is a provocation, but not to a ſtranger; but this is a diſtinction not to be met with in our books. He cited Plowd. 101. where two fought on malice prepenſe; the ſervant of the one not knowing of the malice, comes to aſſiſt his maſter, and kills the other; this was held but manſlaughter in the ſervant; which caſe is abridged in Hale 51. the reaſon of which caſe is not becauſe he was a ſervant, but becauſe he knew not of the malice. Hopkins Hugget's caſe is of good authority, being given on mature conſideration, and reſolved by eight of the judges. They ſay likewiſe, that in the caſe at the bar, it could not be a provocation to the priſoners, becauſe they knew not that ſhe was illegally arreſted; but ſurely ignorance of the fact will excuſe, but never condemn a man. Indeed, he acts at his peril in ſuch a caſe, but he muſt not loſe his life for his ignorance, when he happens to be in the right; and cited Sir Henry Ferrer's caſe, where he was arreſted by a warrant, which named him knight, when he was a baronet, and his ſervant killed the bailiff, and adjudged only manſlaughter, becauſe he was arreſted on an illegal warrant. Suppoſe a man having judgment againſt him goes abroad, and on his return is informed that there are bailiffs in his houſe, and he goes in and kills one of them; but it proves that they are thieves that came to rob him; in this caſe he is in no fault. They objected, that it is dangerous to allow ſuch a power to the mob; but a provocation does not make it an allowing the offence, but only a mitigation of the puniſhment, and for this the law makes a diſtinction between murder and manſlaughter. They ſay, that the priſoners came after the impriſonment of the woman was over; but certainly the putting her in priſon, and not carrying her before a juſtice, as he ſhould have done, is an aggravation: and why ſhould B. call D. to his aſſiſtance after ſhe was in priſon? They agreed that he was not conſtable of Covent Garden, and if ſo, it cannot be a murder. If a writ is delivered to the ſheriff of Middleſex, and the man goes into the county of Bucks, and the ſheriff follows and arreſts him, and he kills the ſheriff; this is only manſlaughter. I am as much for reformation as any perſon, but in a legal manner. Therefore the priſoners were diſcharged as to the indictment. See page 266 of this work, under the head Commitment. Vide Raym. vol. p. 1296.

Hilary, 3 Geo. The King v. Hunt & al.

The court granted a mandamus on ſtat. 1 Geo. c. 34. directed to the defendants being juſtices of the peace, to allow their conſtables, the extraordinary charges in providing carriages in the late expedition into Scotland. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 42.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. Hudſon and Wife v. Aſh.

The plaintiff's wife was taken up by a warrant of a juſtice of peace, for aſſaulting the overſeer of a pariſh, and aſſiſting the eſcape of a woman delivered of a baſtard child. When ſhe came before the juſtice, ſhe could not find bail; but at her requeſt he gave leave for her to lie that night at the conſtable's houſe, in order to get bail againſt the morning. Then a perſon on her behalf demanded a copy of the commitment, which not being delivered, an action was brought on the habeas corpus act.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. The queſtions are two, whether the defendant is an officer, and whether the plaintiff's wife was detained by virtue of any warrant within the meaning of the ſtatute. As to the defendant, dant, there is no doubt but a conſtable is within the ſtatute, but I do not think this action well brought; for the woman was not in his cuſtody, by virtue of any warrant, what warrant there was, was only to bring her before the juſtice, and that was fully executed by ſo doing; and the time ſhe ſtaid at the conſtable's after that, was not by any warrant or commitment, but at her own conſent and deſire, to remain under a voluntary cuſtody: neither is this caſe within the miſchief of the ſtatute, which was indefinite commitments. The plaintiff was called, then the defendant moved for treble coſts, being a conſtable. But the Chief Juſtice would not certify, becauſe this cuſtody was not in the execution of his office. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 167.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Anonymous.

In an action of treſpaſs and aſſault, on the evidence it appeared, that the defendant was a conſtable, and lived at Dover, and that being ordered to take the plaintiff and carry him before the Mayor, he executed his warrant, and the Mayor diſcharged the plaintiff. Soon after which a diſpute happening between the plaintiff and defendant, the defendant beat the plaintiff, for which this action was brought.

It was inſiſted for the defendant, that he being a conſtable, they ſhould have brought the action in the proper county, according to ſtat. 21. Jac. 1.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. That is only where it is for a matter relating to the execution of his office; but if after his authority is expired, he abuſes the party; or if he meets a man and knocks him down, he may be ſued for it as well as another. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 446.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Conſtables of Lymington.

They were choſen and ſworn in at the leet, and the ſeſſions on pretence that the election was not made according to the particular uſage of the place, made an order to diſcharge the appointment. And now the order of ſeſſions was quaſhed, for at common law they have nothing to do with the election of conſtables, and ſtat. 13 & 14 Car. 2. c. 12. gives it them only in the caſe of death, or removal within the year. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 798.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Lone.

The indictment ſet forth, that at a wardmote, held according to the cuſtom of the city of London, for the ward of Langborne, the defendant being an inhabitant and paying ſcot and lot, was choſen conſtable, and had refuſed to execute the office. After a verdict for the King, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this was not an offence indictable, but the proper remedy was, for the ſteward to fine him, and The Queen v. Daſey, Hil. 10. Ann. Salk. 175 was cited.

It was inſiſted for the King, that they might proceed either way. 3 Keb, 197. 230. Cro. Car. 557. 1 Sid. 272. Cumb. 416. Skinner 669. and Eaſter, 8 Ann. Queen v. Jennings. 5 Mod. 96. 1 Vent. 344. Trin. Ent. 221.

Per curiam. There is no expreſs determination, that it is ill, for Daſey's caſe had many other faults: this is an office concerning the public juſtice; and if the party be abſent, he cannot be fined; and it will be inconvenient to ſtay till the next court day, for a preſentment of his refuſal.

Lee, Juſtice, ſaid, he had ſeen a manuſcript report of the caſe cited from Salk. 175. wherein Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſays, the party may be indicted. Therefore judgment for the King. Vide Stra. 920.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 2. Park v. Bourne.

Per curiam. A conſtable may make a deputy: and the common diſtinction is between a judicial and a miniſterial officer. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 942.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Davis & Goſling.

The ſeſſions of Monmouthſhire made an order, reciting, that A. and E. had complained that they had ſerved as conſtables of Chepſtow a year, and that though four perſons were returned by the homage to the ſteward, he had appointed no new ones; and therefore they prayed to be diſcharged, whereon it was ordered that the defendants ſhould be appointed in their ſtead.

And on conſideration, on ſtat. 13 & 14. Car. 2. c. 12. which only impowers ſeſſions to appoint conſtables till the lord ſhall hold a court, this order was quaſhed, becauſe it was in the diſjunctive, for a year, or till others were choſen. Beſides, there was no adjudication that the others had ſerved a year. Vide Stra. vol. p. 1050.

Hilary, 14 Geo. 2. The King v. Dr. Franchard.

The defendant was choſen conſtable of Milborne-port at the leet, which immediately adjourned, and he was afterwards ſworn in before a ſingle juſtice of the peace; and on a motion for an information, as not being duly ſworn, the court held it a good ſwearing. Salk. 175. Sir T. Jones, 212. 2 H. P. C. 88. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1149.

Michaelmas, 18 Geo. 2. The King v. Goudge.

The court granted an information in the nature of a quo warranto againſt the defendant, to ſhew by what authority he exerciſed the office of conſtable for the pariſh of White-Chappel under a pretence of an election at the veſtry, and a ſwearing in at the ſeſſions.

Per curiam. The right of appointing is in the leet, and the ſeſſions have no power by ſtat. 13 & 14. Car. 2. c. 12. except there is a default at the leet. And this office of conſtable is of ſuch a nature, that informations have been granted to try the right, particularly Hilary 14 Geo. 2. The King v. Franchard, where the court made no difficulty on that head, though they diſcharged the rule on the merits. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1213.

Trinity, 32 & 33 Geo. 2. The King v. Bootie.

On a motion in arreſt of judgment after a verdict for the King, on an indictment againſt a conſtable for a miſdemeanor, in letting a woman eſcape out of cuſtody, who was charged as a ſtreet walker, &c.

The objection taken on the rule to ſhew cauſe was, that it is not charged that the defendant knew that the woman taken into cuſtody was a ſtreet-walker, &c. as the indictment deſcribed her to be, and if ſhe was not a ſtreet-walker, ſhe was not liable to be detained by him, and he would by ſuch detainer have ſubjected himſelf to an action for falſe impriſonment.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Foſter, Juſtice. The preſent caſe is a miſdemeanor, and ſufficiently charged on the defendant. The peace of this city can never be preſerved unleſs watchmen are ſupported in doing their duty.

Wilmot, Juſtice. I think it is a miſdemeanor in the conſtable to diſcharge an offender brought to the watch-houſe by a watchman in the night, though without any poſitive charge. In the preſent caſe, I think that this is a ſufficient allegation of the fact of her being ſuch a perſon, and of her being delivered to the defendant as ſuch a perſon.

Per curiam. Let the rule to ſhew cauſe why the judgment ſhould not be arreſted, be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 864.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. The King v. Derbyſhire.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 251 of this work, under the head Certificate.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Medhurſt v. Waite.

On an action brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant, who was deputy high-conſtable, for billetting ſoldiers on him; and the high-conſtable being at a diſtance, appointed the defendant his deputy by parol only.

On a motion for a new trial, the queſtions on which the motion was grounded were,

1ſt. Whether a high-conſtable is a common law officer?

2dly. Whether a high-conſtable is within the word “conſtable” in the annual mutiny act, ſo as to impower him to billet ſoldiers?

3dly. Whether a high-conſtable can appoint a deputy for this purpoſe?

Wilmot, Juſtice, acquainted the court, that at the trial of the cauſe, he was of opinion in the affirmative on all the three points.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. It is impoſſible to maintain, that a high-conſtable is not within the mutiny act.

The ſtatute certainly comprehends a high-conſtable, and he may appoint a deputy for this particular miniſterial act.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Wilmot, Juſtice, continued of the ſame that he gave on the trial of the cauſe.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the rule be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1257.

Contempt.

Eaſter, 12 Will. 3. Toler's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 77 of this work under the head Appeal.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Elverton's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 265 of this work under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Croſſe.

The defendant confeſſed on interrogatories, that a copy of a writ being ſerved on him, and the writ ſhewed, and before he new the contents of it, or out of what court it was, he had ſpoken with contempt; and this was adjudged a contempt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 43.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Henchcliffe v. Payne.

Payne, the defendant's father being under a contempt of the court of chancery for non payment of money, an order was made on him. The defendant reſiſted the ſervice of ſuch order, for which contempt he was committed to the Fleet, and turned himſelf over to the King's Bench, and went at large till he was taken up by an eſcape warrant, and committed to Newgate. He then moved for a ſuperſedeas to the eſcape warrant, the contempt not being ſuch a one as is within ſtat. 1 Ann. c. 6. which ſpeak only of contempts for not performing an order, which defendant the ſon was not obliged to do.

Per curiam. The father would have been within the ſtatute, but the defendant is not. This ſtatute is not to be extended by equity, becauſe it is againſt the liberty of the ſubject, and this is a new power given only in particular caſes; this is not one of them, and therefore not within the ſtatute. Whereupon the warrant was ſuperſeded, and the Marſhal directed to go to Newgate and take him into his cuſtody again, as was done in Sir Thomas Tippin's caſe. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 99.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. Cork v. Baker.

The defendant having brought a writ of error on a judgment in C. B. aſſigned for error a clauſum fregit original, and took out a certiorari to verify his errors. The cuſtos brevium of the C. B. inſtead of certifying the original, returned that there was ſuch a writ in his office, but that the plaintiff in the original action, having entered a ne recipiatur, he could not file the original, and conſequently could not return it.

The plaintiff in error applied to the court by motion for Mr. Yates the deputy cuſtos brevium to attend, and after hearing council on both ſides the court gave their opinion.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The practice of entering a ne recipiatur is very new, and in my opinion very abſurd. There may be ſome colour to ſay that if the plaintiff neglects to file his original, to warrant the judgment, then the defendant may refuſe filing it, but that reaſoning will not hold in this caſe which is a ne recipiatur, entered by the plaintiff againſt filing his own writ, after he had had the benefit of ſuch writ.

Powys, Juſtice. To deny the means is to deny the thing.

Eyre, Juſtice. This court having power to redreſs has, as incident thereto, a power to come at every thing which is neceſſary for their information.

Pratt, Juſtice. In vindicating our own juriſdiction, we only act up to the rules of law and our own oaths. This court is ſuperior to the C. B. and they ought not to have laid an inhibitien on the officer from filing this writ. When we iſſue a certiorari to return up the original, ſhall the officer ſay, there is ſuch a one, but I will not file it, Mr. Yates has refuſed to acknowlege our juriſdiction, and therefore ought to be committed unleſs he obeys immediately.

Mr. Yates refuſing to alter the return was committed, and afterwards brought a habeas corpus to the C. B. where on reading the return it appeared he was committed by this court for a contempt.

On a motion in the C. B. for the diſcharge of Mr. Yates on the habeas corpus, the court took time to conſider the matter, and the cauſe being afterwards ſetled, on a motion to this court for leave to enter a nolle proſequi it was granted, and Mr. Yates was diſcharged on paying a ſmall fine. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 63.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Hammond v. Stewart.

The defendant ſubpœnaed one T. a witneſs to attend the trial of the cauſe, who on the ſervice of the ſubpœna ſaid, he would not attend but run the hazard of forfeiting the 100*l.* penalty; and on affidavit of this matter the defendant's council moved for an attachment, that they might not be forced to bring their action on the ſtatute. And in the principal caſe the court made a rule to ſhew cauſe.

In this term the rule for an attachment niſi againſt the witneſs was diſcharged, it appearing that the ſubpœna was not ſerved till two in the afternoon in the city, to attend the ſittings that day in Middleſex, which the court ſaid was too ſhort a notice, and that witneſſes ought to have a reaſonable time to put their affairs in ſuch order, that their attendance on the court may be of as little prejudice to themſelves as poſſible. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 510.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Unitt.

The court declared that a declaration in ejectment was ſo far a proceſs of this court, that they would puniſh contemptuous words on the delivery of it, as a contempt of this court. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 567.

Trinity, 10 Geo. The King v. Burridge.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 136 of this work under the head Attachment.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. The King v. Burchett, His attorney, and the town clerk of Guildford.

The court would not ſet aſide the replevin made in this caſe, ſee page 137 of this work under the head Attachment, but granted a rule to ſhew cauſe why an attachment ſhould not go; which was afterwards diſcharged by Eyre, Juſtice, then alone on the bench, becauſe it was only a contempt of the inferior juriſdiction of the juſtices, and in that caſe this court never interpoſes. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 209. Strange, vol. 1. p. 567.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Wyat v. Winkford, or Winkworth.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 137 of this work under the head Attachment.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Moore v Goodwright.

On a writ of error corum vobis, &c. it was aſſigned for error, that the plaintiff in ejectment died before the day of niſi prius. And it being in ejectment the court ſet it aſide, and ordered the attorney to ſhew cauſe, why there ſhould not be an attachment againſt him; for they ſaid it was to defeat the proceedings inſtituted by the court to try the right; and every body knows the plaintiff is but nominal, or if a real perſon, yet his releaſe is a contempt. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 899.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. The King v. Johnſon, et al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 262 of this work under the head Challenge.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Cox v. Phillips.

The plaintiff brought an action againſt the defendant on a promiſory note ſigned by her, to which ſhe pleaded, that ſhe was married to M. the plaintiff replied that the marriage to M. was void becauſe of a prior marriage, and ſhe rejoined that it was good becauſe the prior marriage was void, and when the cauſe came on for trial, M. applied to the court, and repreſented this to be a fictitious action, by connivance between the plaintiff and defendant to burthen him with actions and to impoſe on the court.

After hearing council on both ſides the court gave their opinion.

Lord Hardwicke. Here are two queſtions, 1ſt. Whether M. is a proper perſon to make this complaint, and I think as this is a contempt of the court, and may be of prejudice to M. he may, for the court does not always expect that complaints of a contempt ſhould be made to them by the party, for there is a colluſion between all the parties, and a ſtranger may lay it before the court as a friend to the court; and beſides in this caſe M. is particularly concerned to do it, for though the verdict if it had paſt againſt him, could not have been given in evidence againſt him not being party to the ſuit, yet it is a prejudice to a man to have a report on a verdict that he is married in this way. The ſecond queſtion is. Whether here are ſufficient grounds of complaint; now this is a mere fictitious action, not to determine a right of controverſy, but to deceive the court, and raiſe an evil fame of M. and ſurely that cannot be ſaid to be no offence. That ſuch practices are not lawful, is plain from the old ſtatute of Ed. 1. and I cannot ſee how there can be a ſtronger inſtance than the preſent, and it is incumbent on courts of juſtice to keep the ſtreams of juſtice clear, or they will be made uſe of as means of ſcandal.

On the whole the court thought this a contempt, even though the action was on a real demand, becauſe it had been made ill uſe of; and therefore ordered that the plaintiff and defendant and one Hudſon, who was the acting attorney for both ſhould ſtand committed, to anſwer on interrogatories; and that the proceedings on the action be ſtaid, and for the honour of the court vacated, but that was ſuſpended till the examination was over.

And the parties being afterwards examined on interrogatories and not being able to purge themſelves of the contempt were committed. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 237.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Smalt v. Whitmill.

An attachment was moved for againſt a witneſs, for not attending being ſubpœnaed, and having a ſhilling left. But it not appearing to be a perſonal ſervice, the court held it not ſufficient to warrant a proceeding againſt him criminally: but whether it would do in an action they would not declare. It was alſo ſaid, that though a ſhilling is what is conſtantly given with a ſubpœna, yet if the witneſs comes far, there ought to be a tender of reaſonable charges. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1054.

Trinity, 11 Geo. 2. Cole v. Hawkins.

A copy of a bill of Middleſex, was ſerved on the defendant whilſt he was attending the ſittings, in a cauſe wherein he was defendant. And on a motion againſt the attorney for a contempt; it was inſiſted on to be right, becauſe it was not an arreſt, which reſtrained him of his liberty. But the court ſaid, that the privilege was well deſigned, in order to prevent any interruption of the buſineſs of the court, and it was equally a contempt. And the court would have committed the attorney, if he had not conſented to waive the proceedings, and pay coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1094.

Michaelmas, 17 Geo. 2. Dyſon v. Iremonger and his Wife.

On a complaint againſt one S. for ſerving a writ, where the plaintiff had diſowned employing any body: a rule was made on S. to anſwer the matters of the affidavits, and at the ſame time to attend the court in perſon. On his attendance, and reading his affidavit, the defendant's council deſired leave to aſk him ſome queſtions, which the court allowed, but would not put him to his oath to anſwer. Vide Stra. vol. 2. page 1197.

Hilary, 18 Geo. 2. Hand v. Lady Dinely.

In aſſumpſit, the defendant brought 8 l. into court on the uſual terms of paying coſts to that time; the plaintiff took it out, and taxed his coſts, and ſerved the defendant's attorney; and they not being paid, went on to trial, and obtained a verdict for 7 l. 18 s. The defendant inſiſted, that he ſhould have no coſts for his ſubſequent proceedings, ſince it appeared that he was over-paid: but the court held, that as to the coſts, it was to be conſidered as if no motion had been made, the defendant not having fulfilled the terms of her own rule, in which caſe it is not uſual to grant an attachment of contempt; but the plaintiff goes on, it being only a conditional rule. Vide Stra. vol. 2. 1220.

See Attachment, Page 131.

Conviction.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. Chandler or Chaloner.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 264 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Trinity, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Burnaby.

On a conviction on ſtat. 43. Eliz. c. 7. ſetting forth, whereas complaint has been made unto us, &c. by Sir R. B. that the defendant in the night-time cut down divers lime-trees of the ſaid Sir R. B. &c. The juſtices awarded that he ſhould pay ſo much for damages. The defendant was ſtyled gentleman in the order, and it was objected, 1ſt. That a gentleman was not within the ſtatute which ſpeaks of vagabonds and ſuch like people, and inflicts a baſe puniſhment, viz. whipping, which the law did never intend for a gentleman. 2dly. That the conviction is uncertain, for want of ſhewing the number of trees.

Per curiam. 1ſt. Whether the defendant be a gentleman or not, is not material; for if a man of quality will do a baſe or mean thing, there is no reaſon why he ſhould be exempted from the puniſhment: the quality of the offender is rather an aggravation than a leſſening of the offence. 2dly. The number as well as the nature of the trees ſhould be expreſſed, for this is like an action of treſpaſs in this reſpect, that the plaintiff is to recover damages, of which the number and nature of the trees is to be the meaſure: and if an action of treſpaſs ſhall hereafter be brought for theſe trees, this conviction ought to be a plea in bar. 3dly. The defendant in this caſe pretended he had title, and offered to plead it to the conviction, as was done in 3 Cro. 821. and in 5 Co. St. John's caſe.

Powell, Juſtice, held, that could not be done, for if the defendant had title, and the property was in queſtion, then the juſtices had no juriſdiction, and then he is not without remedy; for he may have his action on the caſe againſt the juſtices, or him that executes the ſentence: the council on the other ſide urged, that if the juſtices had a juriſdiction, we have no power to queſtion their judgment, and this is a new thing without precedent.

Powys and Gould agreed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, (who indeed ſtarted this point) ſaid, that St. John's caſe was a precedent for this way of pleading to a conviction, and that it was and muſt have been done ſo there, or elſe the point of the dagger could not have come in queſtion: he obſerved, that it was as reaſonable to falſify the proceedings before juſtices in this manner, as by an action againſt them; and as to what Powell, juſtice, ſaid of a remedy by action, he anſwered, that if this order was confirmed, no action would lie againſt the juſtices, or him that executes the ſentence, for then it is ſupported by the authority of the court; and he ſaid, it was hard that this court ſhould by their judgment give an authority to that which ought not to have been done. In this caſe the conviction was quaſhed on the ſecond point. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 181. Raym. vol. 2. p. 900.

Michael. 2 Ann. The Queen v. Bothell or Porter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 255 of this work, under the head certiorari.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Dyer.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 7 Jac. 1. c. 7. for embezzling yarn delivered to him to be woven, and the conviction ſet forth, that whereas complaint hath been made before us, A. B. &c. juſtices of the peace in C. by J. S. that on ſuch a day; and then ſets forth the charge: it further ſets forth a ſummons made by them, to bring him in; and by virtue thereof, he appeared before them on Friday the 17th day of April 1702.

An objection was made, that a ſummons is eſſential in this caſe; and that here it appeared on the face of the conviction, that there was no ſummons, for the ſummons ſhew it impoſſible, there being no ſuch a day as Tueſday the 17th of April that year; for the 17th day of April that year was on a Friday. To which it was anſwered, that the order had been good without ſetting that matter forth.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Of common right the party ought to be ſummoned, if poſſible; and it would be well to ſet forth, that he was ſummoned and appeared, or did not appear, or could not be found to be ſummoned; and though the ſtatute orders that the offender ſhould be convicted, yet that muſt be intended after ſummons, that he may have an opportunity of making his defence; and this ſummary juriſdiction ought to be governed ſtrictly by form, and every thing ought to appear regular in them; and they ought to make a memorandum, that ſuch a day complaint had been made, that thereon a ſummons was iſſued, returnable on ſuch a day, and that the party being ſummoned did, or would not appear, or could not be ſummoned, &c. and it is abominable to convict a man behind his back.

And the court agreed, that of common right there ought to be a ſummons; and that the almanack is part of the law of England, of which the court muſt take judicial notice; and that nothing could make this good but an intendment, that the juſtice could not convict a perſon without a ſummons.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, that if an action was brought againſt an officer, for executing of this conviction, it would not lie, for an erroneous conviction would juſtify him: indeed, if no ſummons had been ſhewn, perhaps he would intend one, according to precedents; but here you ſhew a ſummons, and an appearance at a day impoſſible: and for the ſaid objection, the conviction was quaſhed by the whole court on the laſt day of the next Hilary term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 41.

Hilary, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Highmore.

The defendant was convicted before the Lord Mayor of London on ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 2. for ſelling coals contrary to that ſtatute, viz. leſs than thirty-ſix buſhels to the chaldron, &c. And the conviction being removed into this court by certiorari, it was quaſhed, becauſe there was no place mentioned where the coals were ſold; which ought to have been, in regard that the power of the Lord Mayor is only, in caſe of coals expoſed to ſale in the city of London, and liberties thereof. If the coals were expoſed to ſale in any other county, then the power of convicting is in the juſtices of peace of that reſpective county. And therefore the Lord Mayor to have intitled himſelf to a juriſdiction, ought to have ſhewn in the conviction, that the coals were ſold within the city of London, or the liberties thereof; and for want of that, the conviction is naught. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1220.

Hilary, 10 Ann. The Queen v. King & al.

A conviction for deer-ſtealing was removed againſt A. and B. wherein judgment was given that each ſhould forfeit 30 l. and it was objected, that there ought to be but one 30 l. forfeited: but not allowed, for the words of the ſtatute are, that they ſhall reſpectively forfeit 30 l. Cro. El. 480. Mo. 453. Noy 60. And this penalty is not in nature of a ſatisfaction to the party aggrieved, but a puniſhment on the offender, and the crimes are ſeveral, though the debts are joint, which Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, diſtinguiſhes this from the caſe of Partridge v. Naylor in Cro. El. 480. and Noy 62. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 182.

Trinity, 10 Ann. The Queen v. Mathews.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 4 & 5 Ann, for the preſervation of the game.

Two exceptions were taken to this conviction; 1ſt. That the charge ſetting forth, that the defendant not being a perſon ſo and ſo qualified, and enumerating diſtinctly the ſeveral qualifications in the ſtatute of Car. 2. for the preſervation of the game, omitted a new qualification allowed by this act, viz. that he was not a perſon authoriſed by a Lord or Lady of a Manor, to kill game for their uſe.

2dly. That the defendant was here charged with as many five pounds, as he had killed hares in the ſame day; whereas the offence in the ſtatute was for keeping of dogs, engines, &c. and not killing hares.

The court were of opinion, that had it been laid generally thus, that he not being a perſon qualified according to the law, it had been enough; but the qualifications being diſtinctly and ſeverally mentioned, omiſſion of one is fatal.

As to the ſecond point, the court were of opinion, that the offence for which the ſtatute gave forfeiture, was the keeping of dogs and engines, and not killing hares. If a man not qualified, goes a hunting and kills ever ſo many hares on the ſame day, he would forfeit but one 5 l. for it is but one offence; but if a man keeps dogs, and goes a hunting ſeveral days, and kills hares; if it had been thus laid, that he had ſuch a day kept dogs and killed, &c. and then again on ſuch a day; by laying it thus ſeverally, the offence is ſevered, and he ſhall forfeit 5 l. for each offence. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 27.

Hilary, 12 Ann. The Queen v. Green.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 84 of this work, under the head Appearance.

Eaſter, 12 Ann. The Queen v. Bradley.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 8 Ann, concerning the aſſize of bread.

In this caſe there were two exceptions taken: 1ſt, Whether the crime was certainly enough charged in the indictment on the defendant? 2dly, Whether the ſame perſon could be both informer and witneſs?

The crime was thus charged, that the bread wanting ſo much weight of, &c. was bought in the ſhop of Bradley, a common baker.

And the court were of opinion, the crime was not certainly enough charged; for the whole charge may be true, and yet the defendant innocent; for it is poſſible it might be the bread of another perſon, ſold in the defendant's ſhop; that therefore he ought to have been charged directly with the ſale of ſo much bread.

It is true indeed, that when a ſervant ſells it in his maſter's ſhop, it is good evidence of its being the maſter's bread: but it is ſtill but evidence, and it is a conſtant rule, that what is but evidence cannot be laid in an indictment.

As to the ſecond point, the court ſeemed to be of opinion, that the ſame perſon could not be both informer and witneſs; for as to the objection, that this would render convictions impoſſible, unleſs perſons were ſo fortunate as to have witneſſes with them, there was nothing in it; for an informer is only nominal, and any perſon's name may be made uſe of. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 156.

Trinity, 13 Ann. The Queen v. Simpſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 84 of this work, under the head Appearance.

Hilary, 1 Geo. The King v. Weſton.

The defendant was convicted before juſtices for killing of conies in a warren incloſed.

It was moved to quaſh this conviction: 1ſt, Becauſe ſtat. 3. Jac. 1. c. 13. which relates to warrens incloſed, does not give this ſummary way of proceeding by conviction; and ſtat. 22 Car. 2. c. 25. which authoriſes that way of proceeding, relates not to warrens incloſed.

Per curiam. The conviction is well warranted by this latter ſtatute; for whereas the former was partial, this is an univerſal law, into any warren, this ſatisfies the preamble. There is a vaſt difference between the words not incloſed, and though not incloſed; the former are reſtrictive, but not the latter.

Unleſs this ſtatute extends to warrens incloſed, they would be in a worſe caſe, than thoſe not incloſed; becauſe then offences in the latter would be puniſhable by this ſhort way of conviction before juſtices, but not the former. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 279.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. The King v. Beck.

Adjudged, that there muſt be a formal conviction on the ſtatute of hawkers and pedlars, though it mentions nothing of it; and that a certiorari lies to bring it up hither. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 127.

Hilary, 6 Geo. The King v. Johnſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in p. 85 of this work, under the head Apprentice.

Trinity, 6 Geo. The King v. Baker.

The defendant was convicted for taking pilchards, contrary to the form of the ſtatute, and the conviction was quaſhed, becauſe the witneſs ſwore generally, that the defendant was guilty of the premiſes, and that is taking on himſelf to ſwear the law. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 316.

Trinity, 6 Geo. The King v. Tilly.

The defendant was convicted for deer ſtealing, and becauſe the ſame perſon was both informer and witneſs, and being intitled to a part of the penalty: the conviction was quaſhed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 316.

Trinity, 7 Geo. The King v. Landen.

A conviction of a forcible entry was moved to be quaſhed, becauſe taken before juſtices aſſigned to keep the peace in the county aforeſaid, without ſaying for the county. Salk. 474.

Per curiam. Let it be quaſhed for another fault, that it is in the præter perfect tenſe, we have came and viewed, whereas it ſhould have been in the preſent tenſe. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 443.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. The King v. Selfe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 118 of this work, under the head Arreſt of Judgment.

Hilary, 9 Geo. The King v. Gage.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 5 Ann, c. 14. for uſing a greyhound in killing four hares, whereby he forfeited 20 l.

The defendant's council excepted to the conviction, that the ſtatute had only given the juſtices juriſdiction to convict on the oath of one or more credible witneſſes, whereas this was by his own confeſſion, which he inſiſted the juſtices had no power to take; and it follows in the ſtatute, that the perſon ſo convicted ſhall forfeit, &c. which word ſo is relative to the former method by oath of one or more credible witneſſes.

Per curiam. The conviction muſt be confirmed. The intent of mentioning the oath of one witneſs was only to direct the juſtices, that they ſhould not convict on leſs evidence: ſuppoſe the confeſſion had not been before the juſtices, but before two witneſſes, who had ſworn to it; that would be convicting him on the oaths of two witneſſes, and yet the evidence could not be ſo ſtrong as this. By the civil law, the confeſſion is eſteemed the higheſt evidence, and in ſome caſes, tho' there are an hundred witneſſes, the party is tortured to confeſs. Here the juſtices had a better evidence than the oath of any ſingle witneſs, and it is a monſtrous thing to ſay, that a better ſort of evidence ſhall not do. The conviction was accordingly confirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 546. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 64.

Hilary, 9 Geo. The King v. Watſon.

On a motion to quaſh a conviction for a forceable detainer on the view of the juſtices of peace, the objection was, that it was ſet forth, that the defendant held a chamber in an houſe in ſuch a ſtreet in the pariſh of St. Margaret, Weſtminſter, by force; but did not alledge whoſe houſe it was, or where it was ſituate, nor whether the chamber was forward or backward, or how many pair of ſtairs up to it; ſo that if there ſhould be two chambers in this houſe, the ſheriff could not know of which to deliver the poſſeſſion.

Beſides, the commitment of the defendant was to Newgate, and did not alledge that Newgate was the county goal, and if not, then the juſtices have no power to commit thither, becauſe the ſtatute expreſsly requires that the commitment ſhall be to the county goal.

But on reading the record, the words in the adjudication were all in the præter perfect tenſe, when they ought to have been in the preſent, and for that reaſon, the conviction was quaſhed; and in Trinity term following, in the caſe of the King v. Morgan, there was the like judgment for the ſame fault. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 66.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Ford.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 3 Car. 2. by which it is enacted, that none ſhall keep an alehouſe without licence, on pain of forfeiting 20 s. to the poor, &c.

It was moved to quaſh this conviction, becauſe alehouſe-keepers ſelling ale without a licence are puniſhable by former ſtatutes, particularly by ſtat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. viz. that none ſhould keep alehouſes without a licence granted, either in ſeſſions or by two juſtices, (one to be of the quorum) on pain of three days impriſonment, without bail.

Now, it does not appear in this caſe, but that the defendant might be licenced by two juſtices of peace, according to that ſtatute; and if ſo, then this conviction ought to be quaſhed.

Per curiam. Stat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. is intirely out of the caſe, becauſe it is alledged in the indictment, that the defendant ſold ale contrary to ſtat. 3 Car. and it being likewiſe averred, that he ſold it without any licence whatever; the objection, that he might be licenced by two juſtices, is of no weight. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 175.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Aſhton.

The defendant's wife was convicted by two juſtices, on ſtat. 1 Geo. for deſtroying fruit-trees, the puniſhment for which offence is, to be ſent to the houſe of correction for three months, and to be publickly whipped once every month during that time; and it was moved to quaſh this conviction, becauſe it did not ſpecify the puniſhment inflicted by that ſtatute, for that being a particular puniſhment, viz. to be ſent to the houſe of correction for three months, &c. ought to be ſet forth in the conviction, ſince the offence is to be heard and finally determined by the juſtices.

The court ſeemed clear to quaſh the conviction, for there ought always to be a judgment, quod foris faciat, or that the perſon be committed, for the ſtatute gives no pecuniary forfeiture. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 175.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Thorogood.

The defendant having made an affidavit in C. B. and the truth thereof being controverted, he was ſummoned to appear in court, and accordingly appeared in Eaſter term laſt, and confeſſed that he had made the affidavit, and that it was falſe.

Whereon that court recorded his confeſſion, and ordered that he ſhould be taken into cuſtody, and put in the pillory for perjury.

And now it was inſiſted by his council, that this could not be done on his own confeſſion, becauſe it was not a conviction, but only matter of evidence, for he ought judicially to be brought before the court by indictment, and therefore his confeſſion ought not to have been recorded.

Beſides, the court of C. B. has no juriſdiction in criminal caſes, and therefore if it had appeared on record, that the defendant was perjured, that court could not have puniſhed him.

But notwithſtanding what was ſaid by the defendant's council, he was put in the pillory the laſt day of the term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 179.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. Gibbs.

The defendant was indicted for ſelling beer without paying the duty, and found guilty.

And it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this indictment was inſufficient, becauſe it ſet forth, that the defendant ſold beer without paying the duty; but did not ſhew to whom, or at what time it was to be paid, nor what quantity of beer he ſold, and conſequently a conviction on ſuch an uncertain indictment cannot be pleaded to any other for the ſame offence; neither can the defendant make any tolerable defence to ſuch an uncertain charge.

Beſides, in criminal caſes, the utmoſt certainty is required; therefore the quantity of the offence ſhould have been ſet forth in the indictment, ſo as a conviction thereon might have been a bar to all other actions and proſecutions for the ſame offence; and for this reaſon the judgment was arreſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 58.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Aldermen of Carliſle.

On a mandamus to reſtore one J. S. to the office of capital citizen of the city of Carliſle, the return made was, that he gave a bribe of 60 guineas, together with a promiſe to his ſon to get him an exciſeman's place, if he would vote for one P. to be Mayor of that city; he and one T. ſtanding candidates for the ſame; and in their return they ſhewed a power to remove, and that they removed him for the cauſes aforeſaid, having firſt of all ſet out before, that an information was exhibited to the following effect, and then ſet out, that articles were exhibited againſt him to the effect in the information, and ſhew the offence as before mentioned, and the oath of the informer poſſitively to the offence.

Per curiam. This is a good return, without any conviction at law, though he might have been convicted firſt at law; for though it is an offence indictable at common law, yet being ſo great an offence againſt the duty of his office, the corporation have a juriſdiction, there being an expreſs power to remove; and the caſe of The King v. Lane, went on that difference, where it was ſaid, that to libel another was purely at common law, and was no breach of his oath: and as to the form of the return, the whole court, after ſome little doubt, held it well; becauſe on the whole return, there ought to be a good cauſe of removal. Vide Forteſcue, p. 200. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 99.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Or according to Strange, Hil. 8 Geo. The King v. Sparling.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 6 & 7 W. 3. c. 11. made againſt profane curſing and ſwearing, by which the offender forfeits 2 s. for every oath (other than a ſervant, labourer, common ſoldier, or ſailor;) and it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this information was too vague and uncertain, becauſe it did not ſet forth, that the defendant was not a ſervant, labourer, common ſoldier, or ſailor; for this being in a criminal caſe, it ſhall be intended that he was one of thoſe perſons, if it does not appear that he was not; and therefore the matter ought to have been ſpecially ſet forth.

It was argued on the other ſide, that this information was good, for if the defendant was either a ſervant, labourer, common ſoldier, or ſailor, he ought to have pleaded it, or to have given it in evidence on the trial.

And for the above reaſons, and becauſe the curſes and oaths were not ſet forth, the conviction was quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. p. 59. Strange, vol. 1. p. 497.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. The King v. Burchet, His Attorney, and the Town Clerk of Guildford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 137 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. The King v. Tuck or Tucke.

The defendant was convicted before a juſtice of peace on the ſtatute made againſt profane curſing and ſwearing; and on a motion to quaſh this conviction, the objections were as follows:

1ſt. By the ſtatute, the perſon convicted is to pay 2 s. for every oath, if he is not a common labourer, ſoldier, or ſailor; now it did not appear on the oath of the informer, that the defendant was a gentleman, and neither a common labourer, ſoldier, or ſailor.

2dly, It does not appear by this conviction, of what age the defendant was, when he did profanely ſwear; for by the ſtatute he muſt be above 16 years old.

3dly, This conviction is uncertain, for after the nature of the oath is ſet out, the witneſs ſwears, that the defendant repeated it ſixteen times, for which he is convicted to forfeit 32 s. whereas a repetition preſuppoſes a former act done; ſo he ſwore ſeventeen times; therefore the conviction does not agree with the evidence.

Per curiam. It ſhall be intended, that the defendant was of age and a gentleman, if ſo charged by the informer; and it is not neceſſary to aver, that he is not a ſoldier, ſailor, or common labourer, ſince he is charged with 2 s. for every offence; and as to the not charging him with more than ſixteen times, when it ſhould be ſeventeen times ſwearing, it is but giving one oath free, and there muſt not be too much nicety in theſe convictions. Therefore the conviction was confirmed, niſi, &c. and no cauſe was afterwards ſhewn. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 367. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1386.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The King v. Chaveney.

The defendant was convicted before a juſtice of peace of the county of Leiceſter, for curſing and ſwearing a great number of oaths; and the conviction being removed into this court by certiorari, it was quaſhed; firſt, becauſe it was in Engliſh, and, ſecondly, becauſe the number of oaths was not ſet forth in the conviction. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1368.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The King v. Roberts.

A conviction for profane ſwearing was quaſhed, being preſtitit ſacramentum, i. e. he has ſworn, in the præterperfect tenſe. It was held good in ſubſtance, being for ſwearing 150 oaths in theſe words, to wit, by God, and curſing 150 curſes, in theſe words, to wit, God damn you, without repeating theſe words 150 times. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 608.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The King v. Thead or Theed.

By ſtat. 8 Ann, it was enacted, that the officer, &c. may enter the houſe, &c. by day or by night, where candles are made, and if in the night, it muſt be in the preſence of a conſtable, and may weigh the candles, the maſters whereof muſt keep juſt ſcales and weights where they are made, and permit and aſſiſt the officers in uſing them, under the penalty of 10 l.

The defendant was convicted on this ſtatute, for not aſſiſting the exciſe officer in weighing the candles; and now it was objected, that the conviction was wrong, becauſe the ſtatute directs, that if the entry is in the night-time, it muſt be in the preſence of the conſtable; and it is not ſpecified in this conviction, whether the entry was by day or night.

Per curiam. That ſhould have been ſhewn by the defendant, and then he would not have been convicted. It is enough, that this conviction does not appear to be wrong: we will preſume the entry to have been in the day, or elſe it would have been ſaid in the night of the ſame day. The conviction was therefore confirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 320. Stra. vol. 1. p. 608. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1375.

Hilary, 12 Geo. The King v. Popplewell.

The defendant was convicted for profane curſing and ſwearing, and for want of the particular oaths and curſes being ſet out in the conviction, it was quaſhed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 686.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. The King v. Philip Wyatt.

The defendant was convicted by Lord Barrimore, a juſtice of peace of the county of Cheſter, for that he not being qualified according to the ſtatute, on the 2d Jan. 13 Geo. at the ville of Mottram Andrews in the ſaid county, two greyhounds, for the killing and deſtroying game, unlawfully had in his cuſtody, and then and there uſed to deſtroy the game, contrary to the ſtatute; for which he was adjudged to forfeit 5 l. This conviction being removed by certiorari into this court, the defendant's council took an exception to it, that by ſtat. 5 Ann, c. 14. for the better preſervation of the game; on which ſtatute this conviction is grounded, by Sect. 4. one-half of the 5 l. forfeited is to be paid to the informer, and the other half to the poor where the offence is committed. But in this caſe it does not appear, that the offence was committed in any pariſh, for both the informations alledge the offence to have been at the ville of Mottram Andrews in the county of Cheſter, and the judgment of the juſtice is, it appears to me, the juſtice aforeſaid, that the ſaid P. W. is guilty of the premiſes aforeſaid, in the information aforeſaid ſpecified, and charged on him in manner and form, as in and by the information aforeſaid, is above alledged againſt him.

But there does not appear to be any ſuch pariſh as Mottram Andrews, and conſequently the poor will be deprived of their moiety of the 5 l. forfeited. But not allowed.

Per curiam. If there was no ſuch pariſh as Mottram Andrews, it ſhall be at firſt ſight intended to be coextenſive with the ville. But if the offence was committed in a ville, which was extra-parochial, (which may be) then the informer will have the whole penalty: therefore the conviction was affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1478.

Hilary, 1 Geo. 2. The King v. Sir Edmund Elwell, et Al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 258 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. The King v. Thomas Stone.

The defendant was convicted by a juſtice of peace of Dorſetſhire, for killing a fallow deer of the King's in Cranborn Chace; and the conviction was quaſhed, becauſe the informer was the witneſs; divers convictions having been quaſhed for the ſame reaſon before. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1545.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. The King v. Kent.

The defendant was convicted for keeping a gun for deſtroying game, not being qualified by law, &c. and the conviction being removed into this court by certiorari, was quaſhed, becauſe the information was ſet out to be exhibited on the 2d of November, 1 Geo. 2. and the witneſs was ſworn, and made his oath of the truth of the facts contained in the information, the ſaid 2d of November, 1 Geo. 2. But the ſummons for the defendant's appearance and making defence, and the conviction was laid to be on the 2d of October 1 Geo. 2. which was before the information and examination of the witneſs, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1546.

Hilary, 3 Geo. 2. The King v. Hawks.

A conviction for killing a deer was quaſhed, becauſe it was only he is convicted, without any judgment quod foris faciat. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 858. Fitz-Gibbons, p. 24.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Catherall.

The defendant was convicted on the Kenſington turnpike act, for refuſing to account, and pay over the money by him received, as collector. And being committed, and a habeas corpus brought, the defendant was diſcharged, and the conviction quaſhed; becauſe no particular ſum was ſpecified, or the time when the money was charged to be received, ſo as to enable him to defend himſelf on a ſecond charge. And tho' the council for the truſtees would have had the commitment ſtand good as to the not accounting; yet the court ſaid it was one intire non-feaſance charged both in the conviction and commitment, and they would not ſever them. Vide Strange, vol 2. p. 900.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Heber.

The court would not hear a motion againſt a juſtice for convicting without a ſummons, till the conviction was removed before them. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 915.

Trinity, 5 & 6 Geo. 2. The King v. Roberts.

The defendant being a bricklayer, was convicted for not building party walls according to the ſtatute; and having brought a certiorari, died before the argument. Notwithſtanding which the court would go on, and affirm the conviction. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 937.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. The King v. Bryan.

The defendant was convicted on the gin act, and an exception was taken, that there was no averment, that it was not ſold to be uſed in medicine; and the caſes on the game act were mentioned, where in convictions it is neceſſary to exclude all the qualifications for killing game.

On the other ſide it was inſiſted, that the reaſon of that was, becauſe thoſe were in the enacting clauſe; whereas this about medicine comes in by way of proviſo, and is by way of defence to be ſhewn on the defendant's part, and The King* v. Theed, Michaelmas, 11 Geo. was cited.

Per curiam. This is brought within the general enacting clauſe; and the true diſtinction is, where the extenuation comes in by way of proviſo, or exception. The conviction was therefore affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1101.

Hilary, 16 Geo. 2. The King v. Sergiſon, Eſq.

An information was moved for againſt the defendant, for not condemning a horſe taken out of a team under ſtat. 5 Geo. c. 12. which requires proof to be made before a juſtice, of the cauſe of forfeiture; and the party who ſeized tendering his own oath, the defendant ſcrupled to take it, or determine the affair, in the abſence of the owner or driver.

Per curiam. They were both reaſonable objections, why is not the perſon who ſeized, and is to have the benefit of the forfeiture, within the reaſon of excluding informers where there is a penalty? Making proof muſt mean legal proof. The other alſo but natural juſtice. There are exceptions in the ſtatute as to one ſtone, or one piece of timber, though drawn by ever ſo many horſes; and ought not the owner to have an opportunity of ſhewing it? The rule was therefore diſcharged with coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1181.

Eaſter, 16 Geo. 2. The King v. Monkhouſe.

The court granted an attachment againſt the under ſheriff of Cumberland, for granting a replevin of goods diſtrained on a conviction of deer-ſtealing. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1184.

Michaelmas, 19 Geo. 2. The King v. Baker.

In a conviction for keeping a lottery-office contrary to the late ſtatute, it was ſtated, that J. gave information before two juſtices, and M. a credible witneſs, proved the fact, whereon due ſummons iſſued, and the defendant appeared; and the information aforeſaid, and the ſaid evidence thereon given, being now here read unto, and fully underſtood by the ſaid F. Baker, he is aſked what he has to ſay.

It was objected, that it ſhould appear, the evidence was given in the hearing of the defendant, whereas it was only read, whereby the defendant loſes the benefit of a croſs examination: but the court held it well enough, for all is a ſtory in the preſent tenſe, and ſuppoſed to paſs at the ſame time; and if it had been heard, it might be ſaid to be only hearing it read. In theſe caſes it is enough that it does not appear to be wrong; and it is laid to be fully underſtood by him. In the caſe of Theed on the candle act, it was held not to be neceſſary to aver the entry of the officer in the day-time, and not in the night, when a conſtable's preſence would be neceſſary. The conviction was therefore confirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1240.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The King v. Maurice Jarvis.

On a conviction under ſtat. 5 Ann, cap. 14. for keeping ſetting dogs and nets for killing game, the following exceptions were taken to the ſame:

1ſt. Two juſtices have not ſhewn that they had juriſdiction over the defendant, for they have not ſufficiently ſhewn his defects of qualification, which ought to have been ſpecifically particularized, with an allegation that he had not any one of the qualifications mentioned in ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 25.

2dly. The witneſs to the conviction was examined privately and apart, prior to the appearance of the defendant, and in the abſence of the defendant, ſo that the defendant had no opportunity of croſs examining ſuch witneſs.

3dly. The time when the defendant was unqualified is not at all aſcertained in the adjudication of his being guilty, for it only averred, that he was then unqualified.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. It is not ſettled that the qualifications muſt be all negatively ſet out, otherwiſe two juſtices have no juriſdiction over the perſons killing game, or keeping dogs, or engines for the deſtruction of it.

On this conviction the witneſs ſwears only generally, that the defendant was not qualified, &c. The juſtices adjudge it generally only. Therefore I am of opinion that the conviction ought to be quaſhed.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the conviction be quaſhed. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 148.

Trinity, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Little.

On a conviction for offering to ſell goods, &c. as a hawker and pedlar, without licence, contrary to the ſtatute; the following exceptions were taken by the defendant's council to the conviction,

1ſt. That the defendant is not brought within the deſcription of the ſtatute relating to hawking and pedling, viz. going from town to town, &c. and travelling, &c. but he is only generally deſcribed to be a perſon that traded as a hawker and pediar, and offered to ſell a parcel of ſilk handkerchiefs to the informer.

2dly. There is no evidence at all of his guilt, for it is a conviction on a confeſſion; and the confeſſion extends no further than barely to the ſimple fact of offering to ſale ſilk handkerchiefs to the informer, but that charge is not ſufficient.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. Stat. 3 & 4 of Ann refers to the deſcription in thoſe of W. 3. A ſingle act of ſelling a parcel of ſilk handkerchiefs to a particular perſon is not a proof that he was ſuch a hawker, pedlar, or petty chapman, as ought to take out a licence by virtue of the ſtatutes.

The confeſſion is only of the fact, that he ſold the handkerchiefs to the informer, not that he traded as a hawker, &c.

Convictions ought to be taken ſtrictly, becauſe they muſt be taken as true againſt the defendant. It is not neceſſary to define exactly what a hawker, pedlar, or petty chapman is, but it is neceſſary to alledge and ſhew that he ſold the goods, or traded as one.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, were of the ſame opinion as the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the conviction be quaſhed. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 609.

Michaelmas, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. Mallinſon.

On a conviction for killing ten trouts, the following exceptions were taken to the conviction.

1ſt. The ſummons is bad, being to appear immediately, which is not a reaſonable ſummons.

2dly. In this conviction, there is not a full negative adjudication of the defendant's want of qualification, for it is not ſet forth, that the defendant had not the licence or conſent of the owner.

3dly. It might be his own fiſh, and in his own pond, for aught that appears to the contrary, for it is only alledged, that he killed ten trouts at ſuch a place.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Ld. Mansfield. This conviction is clearly bad, the offence provided againſt by ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 25. is ſtealing fiſh, but it may be his own pond, and his own fiſh, for any thing that appears to the contrary on this conviction; therefore if there was no other fault, it is eſſentially bad, for this reaſon alone.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, were of opinion, that the conviction was bad, for the ſame reaſons as alledged by the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the conviction be quaſhed. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 679.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. 3. The King v. Bell.

On a conviction for importing Iriſh butter from Liſbon into England, contrary to ſtatutes 18 Car. 2. cap. 2. 20 Car. 2. cap. 7. and 32 Car. 2. cap. 2.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. Let the conviction be quaſhed. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1173.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. 3. The King v. Vipont & others.

On a conviction under ſtat. 12 Geo. 1. cap. 34. againſt the defendants, for combining together to raiſe their wages in their buſineſs of woolcombers; their council took the following exceptions to the conviction.

1ſt. That no evidence is ſtated to have been given in the preſence of the defendants, only the charge was read to them, &c.

2dly. The fact as charged is not an offence within the ſtatute, &c.

3dly. Here is no judgment. It is only ſaid that they are convicted for unlawfully entering into ſuch combination, &c.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. The firſt and third exceptions are fatal.

1ſt. The evidence ought to be taken over again in a defendant's preſence, unleſs he confeſſes. In the preſent caſe, the defendants do not confeſs before the juſtices, and the evidence only is, that they had formerly confeſſed this combination to a witneſs.

In a conviction, the evidence muſt be ſet out, that the court may judge of it, and the ſame muſt be given in the preſence of the defendant, that he may have an opportunity of croſs examining the witneſſes.

2d. On this conviction, the puniſhment is diſcretionary, as to the time of impriſonment. There is no judgment at all, only a conviction. They ought to have gone on, and adjudged the forfeiture. Therefore on both thoſe objections, this conviction ought to be quaſhed, for however uſeful a ſtatute may be for the benefit of trade, yet the juſtices muſt convict according to law.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the conviction be quaſhed. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1163.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 3. The King v. Robotham.

The defendant being convicted before a juſtice of the peace on ſtat. 9 & 10 W. 3. cap. 27. relating to hawkers and pedlars travelling the country,

This conviction, on being removed into this court by certiorari, was quaſhed for a manifeſt miſtake of the juſtice of peace, who had convicted him, becauſe he travelled with two horſes, and had not a licence to produce for each horſe with which he ſo travelled.

The court have ſome doubts as to the wording of the ſtatute; on enquiry, found it had been uſual only to require a ſingle licence for a number of horſes. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1472.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 3. The King v. Smith.

The defendant was convicted before a juſtice of peace for trading as a hawker, pedlar, and petty chapman, without having a licence. On the conviction being removed into this court by certiorari, the defendant's council took the following exception (among others) to the conviction, viz.

That the evidence which the juſtice had ſtated in his conviction was not ſufficient to ſupport his adjudication, that the defendant had no licence; the charge was, that the man had traded as a hawker, &c. in ſelling a piece of muſlin, &c. without having a licence.

The evidence ſtated by the juſtice in the conviction is, that the man refuſed to produce any licence, whereas the trading without having any licence, and the refuſing to produce his licence, (if he has any) are quite diſtinct offences, and are ſo conſidered by ſtat. 9 & 10 W. 3. cap. 27. which gives quite diſtinct and different penalties for them; viz. 12 l. for the former, and 5 l. for the latter. Refuſing to produce a licence, which a man has, is in its nature a very different thing from not having one to produce. The man having confeſſed that he traded as a hawker, &c. is no ground for convicting him for trading as ſuch without a licence, notwithſtanding his refuſal to produce it; and though ſect. 8. of this ſtat. as well as ſtat. 3 and 4 Ann, cap. 4. gives the ſame forfeiture for not producing, as for not having one, yet that cannot alter the nature of the offence.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield ſaid, he could ſee no doubt of the conviction's being good under 9 & 10 W. 3. ſect. 8.

Per curiam. Let the conviction be confirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1475.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. The King v. Hann and Price.

On a motion for a rule to diſpenſe with the perſonal appearance of the defendants, on the undertaking of ther clerk in court to anſwer for their fines, who were borough juſtices of Corfe Caſtle, and had confeſſed themſelves guilty of an information, charging them with a great miſbehaviour in the execution of their office, viz. refuſing a licence to a public-houſe keeper, &c.

The court on full debate were unanimous in refuſing the motion, &c. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1786.

Coroner.

Michaelmas, 1 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Bunney.

If a coroner's inqueſt be quaſhed, the coroner muſt take a new inqueſt on view of the body; but if a better enquiry be granted, on aſſertion that the coroner had miſbehaved himſelf, the new enquiry muſt be before the ſheriff or commiſſioners, not on view of the body, but on affidavits; for none but the coroner can enquire on view of the body, and he is not to be truſted again: but when an inquiſition is quaſhed, it is as if no inquiſition had been taken. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 190.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Anonymous.

The court was moved to quaſh an inquiſition taken before a coroner, whereon the jury find, that a poſt in the highway, was the only cauſe that occaſioned his death, and an exception was taken, becauſe it was, we believe it to be the cauſe of his death, whereas it ought to be certain; and therefore it was quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 112.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The King v. Stukely.

The defendant was coroner of Dorſetſhire; and a perſon having killed himſelf, there was ſome reaſon to believe feloniouſly, he having made a formal will juſt before; and this coroner having ſworn the jury to enquire, finding the evidence very ſtrong, took off ſome of the inqueſt.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is not in a judge's power to take off a juryman after he is ſworn; and though this coroner is a weak ſilly man, yet that is no reaſon why there ſhould not be an information againſt him: for ſuch muſt learn, they muſt not thruſt themſelves into offices; and the return of the inquiſition, finding the deceaſed non compos, not being filed, it was quaſhed. And Holt cited Tomb's caſe, who had killed himſelf at Highgate, in the year 1655, and the inqueſt was ſet aſide for practice; and he ſaid, it muſt be by thoſe that had the view of the corpſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 493.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The King v. Atkinſon.

Per curiam. There cannot be a better inquiſition made than that made officially. An indictment was brought againſt the coroner for mal practice, in finding a felo de ſe, inſane, and iſſue joined on the fact; and the inquiſition being brought hither, the court ſtayed the filing thereof till the iſſue on the indictment was tried.

Per curiam. It is a crime in a perſon to take on himſelf an office he does not underſtand. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 496.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is a matter indictable to bury a man that dies of a violent death, before the coroner's inqueſt have ſat on him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 10.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Clerk.

On an inquiſition taken before the coroner on view of the body of one who had killed himſelf; it firſt was ſaid by the whole court, that ſuch an inquiſition is traverſeable.

Objection firſt. That it wanted the word murdravit, i. e. he murdered.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Moſt ſurely the great defect in this inquiſition is, that it is not ſaid he died of the wound ſet forth in the inquiſition: for to what purpoſe has the Queen a view of the dead body, but to ſhew the jury that the wound is mortal? And for this fault the inquiſition was quaſhed; for it is not enough to ſay, that it was felony, but alſo it ought to be ſhewn how it was felony. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 16.

Hilary, 3 Geo. The King v. Bond.

An inquiſition was taken on view of the body of a man that had hanged himſelf; and the jury finding him poſſeſſed of a meſſuage, which as a felo de ſe he had forfeited.

The court was moved to ſtay the filing of this inquiſition, on an affidavit that the man died five years before, and the coroner dug up a ſkull, which he aſſured the jury he knew by a particular mark was the ſkull of the deceaſed; and thereon the inquiſition was taken: which was inſiſted ought to have been of the whole body, that the marks, if any, may appear. The Queen v. Clerk, the court held that ſeven months was too late. Salk. 377. 2 Mod. Car. 16.

Per curiam. Stay the filing till further motion. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 22.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. The King v. Wakefield.

The defendant was coroner of Litchfield, and as ſuch took an inquiſition on view of the body of a man that hanged himſelf, whereby he was found felo de ſe; it fully appeared to the jury that the man was a lunatic; but the defendant in order to cover the goods, told them that the finding him felo de ſe, was only matter of courſe, with which they were contented and found accordingly. But being afterwards better informed, what the conſequence would be; they applied to the coroner, and told him they were fully ſatisfied, the man was a lunatic, and deſired he would take the verdict ſo; and thereon he drew up the inquiſition, and they all ſet their hands and ſeals to it. A certiorari being brought, he returned the firſt inquiſition, and that he might ſtill cover the goods; and the court ſtayed the filing of it, and committed him. 2 Sid. 90. 101. 144. Michaelmas, 1 Geo. The King v. Keddington, The filing ſtayed on the ſame account. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 69.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. The King v. Saunders.

The court was moved for leave for the coroner to take up the body, and take a new inquiſition, according to 2 Sid. 101. Salk. 377 which was granted; and it was ſaid the coroner could not do it without leave of the court. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 167.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Anonymous.

The court granted a rule for the coroner of Wenlock in the county of Salop, to take up a body, in order for a new inquiſition, the former having been quaſhed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 533.

Michaelmas. 10 Geo. Lord Coningſby v. Steed.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 145 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Coroner of Weſtminſter.

He returned an inquiſition, finding a felo de ſe, inſane. And it was moved, that he might be obliged to return the depoſitions; but the court refuſed to make any ſuch rule, there being nothing depending before them, to make it neceſſary. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1073.

Trinity, 11 Geo. 2. The King v. Solgard.

The defendant being captain of a man of war in commiſſion, and lying within the harbour of Portſmouth, and the liberties of the borough, had a ſailor who hanged himſelf on board: and the coroner of Portſmouth having impannelled a jury, went to the ſhip with his jury to view the body, but was refuſed admittance by the defendant, who offered to ſend the body to them on ſhore.

On this an information was moved for, inſiſting that as this was not a death on the high-ſea, the land coroner had the juriſdiction; and cited 4 Inſt. 141. Ow. 122. Mo. 892. the ſtat. 4 E. 1. of the Office of Coroners, H. P. C. 171. Fleta, lib 1. c. 25. Bract. 121. 33. H. 8. c. 12. and Articles on the Charter, and 2 Hale's H. P. C. 16. 54.

On the other ſide it was inſiſted for the admiralty, that they had a coroner of their own; and it might be of ill conſequence to admit ſo many perſons on board a man of war. But the court took notice they did, not pretend their coroner ever took inquiſitions, ſo it was contending that none ſhould be taken. And tho' there have been variety of opinions as to the admiralty juriſdiction, yet it was never carried further than a pretence to a concurrent juriſdiction; and when an officer is ready to do his duty, and is oppoſed without the duty being done, public juſtice is concerned, and there ought to be an information. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1097.

Michaelmas, 30 Geo. 2. The King v. Killinghall.

On a motion to quaſh a preſentment or inquiſition, found by the grand jury of the county of York.

The fact found by the jury on the inquiſition was, that the mare of the defendant was the cauſe of the death of one W. S. and was of the value of 10*l.*

The coroner had not taken any inquiſition at all on this death, ſo that the lord of the manor finding himſelf likely to loſe his deodand, had made this application at the aſſizes, where the inquiſition was found, and removed into this court by certiorari.

On this motion, the defendant's council objected to the inquiſition, as being not before the court, for the grand jury had no authority to make ſuch preſentment, &c. under their general charge from the judge of aſſize.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Manſfield. I think this inquiſition cannot be ſupported.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the rule to quaſh the preſentment be made abſolute. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 17.

Corporations.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Sir James Smith's Caſe.

He brought a mandamus to be reſtored to the place of an alderman of the city of London.

The queſtion was, whether Sir James Smith was an alderman at the time of making ſtat. 1 W. 3.? and whether he continued ſo to be, until the firſt day of Auguſt 1689?

And this depended on the judgment in the quo warranto againſt the city of London: for if the corporation was diſſolved by that judgment, then by conſequence Sir James Smith was no alderman at the time of making ſtat. 1 W. 3. and was not obliged to take the oaths, &c.

Per curiam. A corporation may be diſſolved; for it is created on a truſt, and if that is broken, it is forfeited; but a judgment of ſeizure cannot be proper in ſuch a caſe; for if it is diſſolved, to what purpoſe ſhould it be ſeized?

Therefore by this judgment in the quo warranto, the corporation was not diſſolved; for it neither extinguiſhes or diſſolves a body politic.

Wherever any judgment is given for the king for a liberty which is uſurped, It is, that it be extinguiſhed, and that the perſon who uſurped ſuch a privilege libertat. &c. nullatenus intromitat, &c. which is the judgment of ouſter; but the quo warranto muſt be brought againſt particular perſons.

But where it is for a liberty claimed by a corporation, there it muſt be brought againſt the body politic, in which caſe there may be a ſeizure of the liberties, which will not warrant either the ſeizing or diſſolving of the corporation itſelf.

Therefore the corporation being not diſſolved, Sir James Smith was ſtill an alderman, and ought to take the oaths before the 1ſt day of Auguſt; and therefore judgment was given in Hilary term following, that no peremptory mandamus ought to iſſue.

Dolben, Juſtice, doubted on the main point, for it ſeemed to him, that if the liberties of the city were ſeized, then Sir James Smith was no alderman, &c. and that the parliament of 2 W. did affirm the judgment to be of force, by not declaring it to be void from the beginning, but illegal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 52.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Robinſon v. Groſcourt.

The Chamberlain of London brought an action of debt againſt the defendant for a forfeiture on the breach of a bye-law, which being removed into this court by hab. corpus, the Lord Mayor, &c. made this return, viz. That the city London is an ancient city, and that there had been a cuſtom there time out of mind, for the Mayor and Aldermen for the time being, with the conſent of other faithful people, to make bye-laws for the common good of the citizens, as often as there ſhould be occaſion: that their cuſtoms were confirmed by act of parliament; that at a common council held at Guildhall, the 11th of September, &c. a bye-law was made, viz. That whereas the Maſter, Wardens, Aſſiſtants, and Commonalty, of the art and ſcience of muſic, freemen of the ſaid city, had been an ancient brotherhood, and that no perſon, not being a freeman, ought to uſe any art or occupation within the ſaid city for gain; that many foreigners did take on them the art of dancing, not being free of the ſaid city, nor members of any fraternity, &c. For remedy whereof, it was enacted by the Mayor, Aldermen and Commons, that every perſon uſing the occupation of muſic and dancing, within the ſaid city, who ſhall have a privilege to be made free by patrimony, ſhall at the next court of aſſiſtants of the company of muſicians after notice, accept and take on himſelf the freedom of the ſaid company; and that every perſon who has ſerved an apprenticeſhip to the myſtery of muſic and dancing, and not made free, and ſhall yet exerciſe his trade, ſhall forfeit 10 l. for every offence, to be recovered by action of debt or plaint, in the name of the Chamberlain in the Mayor's court, one moiety thereof after conviction to be paid to the chamber of London, the other moiety to the maſter, warden, and aſſiſtants of the ſaid company, for the uſe of the poor thereof.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion as follows:

Per curiam. Though the cuſtom is, that whoever is free of the city, muſt be free of ſome company; yet that cuſtom does not oblige a man to be of any particular company, for if it ſhould, then, though the defendant by birth is entitled to be free of ſuch a company, yet he muſt be alſo free of this; otherwiſe he cannot exerciſe this art, which is unreaſonable.

They may make him take his freedom, but cannot direct in what company; for if they had ordered the defendant to be admitted of the Blackſmith's company, it had not been good.

It may be a queſtion, whether the city has a power to enforce men of no trades to be free of thoſe companies, which are ſuitable to their profeſſions? As dancing is no trade, but it may be called a profeſſion. It is true muſic is ſuitable to it; but it is not abſolutely neceſſary that a dancing maſter ſhould be free of the muſicians company: there is no fellowſhip of refiners; but the court of Aldermen cannot order them to be free of the goldſmith's company, which is moſt ſuitable to them.

So that this cannot be a good bye-law, becauſe the defendant cannot be compelled to be free of that particular company, and it is ſufficient that he is of any other, which he may for any thing that appears on this return; It is in nature of a monopoly to the company of muſicians, who cannot be compelled to make him free of that company, in caſe they had refuſed it. Therefore in Trinity term, 8 W. 3. judgment was given accordingly. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 104.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Burghill v. The Archbiſhop of York, Biſhop of Carliſle, Gibbons, and the Univerſity of Cambridge.

On a writ of quare impedit brought againſt the defendants, the eſſoign was quaſhed by the court, becauſe a corporation cannot appear, and therefore cannot caſt an eſſoign, nor enter into a recognizance. Bendl. 121. 21 Ed. 4. c. 79. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 79.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Knight and his Wife v. The Mayor, Maſters, and Burgeſſes of Wells.

In an action of debt on a bond made to the plaintiff's wife when ſole by the corporation of Wells, by the name of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes. On the defendant's pleading it was not their deed, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. that Q. Eliz. in the 31ſt year of her reign, created them a corporation, by the name of the Mayor, Maſters, and Burgeſſes of Wells, and that K. Charles 2. in the 35th year of his reign, by his letters patent, granted to them, that they ſhould be known by the name of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes, &c. and by this laſt name they entered into the bond; and if this be the bond of the Mayor, Maſters, and Burgeſſes of Wells, then, &c. and adjudged for the defendants, becauſe by taking the ſecond letters patent, the firſt name is intirely extinguiſhed; but it was agreed that a corporation might have two names, the one by preſcription, the other by grant, or both by preſcription, but not two by grant. Hardw. 504. The Attorney General v. The Town of Farnham. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 80.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Clark or Clerk's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 263 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Newton v. Travers.

Adjudged, that a dean and chapter, or a warden and fellows of a college, may grant or leaſe by the name of dean and chapter, &c. and without ſhewing their proper names; and ſo they may plead or be impleaded, becauſe in their corporate capacity they have no name of baptiſm, or any other name than that by which they are incorporated; but it is otherwiſe in the caſe of a parſon and vicar, for they muſt uſe their name of baptiſm. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 103.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. The Company of Framework-Knitters v. Green.

In an action of debt on a bye-law; the plaintiffs declare, that King Charles 2. by his letters patent, bearing date the 19th day of Auguſt, in the 15th year of his reign, incorporated them by the name of the Maſter, Wardens, Aſſiſtants, and Company of Framework-knitters, with power to make bye-laws for the benefit of the corporation, and to inflict penalties for the enforcing the performance of them; and then they ſhew a bye-law, that the maſter, wardens, and aſſiſtants, or the maſter and the greater part of them, ſhall aſſemble together annually on the feaſt of St. John the Baptiſt, and chuſe two perſons, members of the corporation, to be ſtewards for the year enſuing, who, on the day after the feaſt of St. Michael next enſuing, if it were not Sunday, and if it ſhould be Sunday, then the next day after, ſhould provide a dinner for the Maſter, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants, under the penalty of 10 l. or ſuch leſs ſum as the Maſter and Wardens ſhould judge fitting, to be levied by diſtreſs, &c. or recovered by action of debt, to be paid to the Maſter and Wardens, &c. then they ſhew, that the defendant was elected ſteward, being one of the corporation, and had notice thereof, but did not provide a dinner for the Maſter, &c. nor pay the 10 l. to the Maſter, &c. from whence an action accrued to the plaintiffs, for the 10 l. On nil debet pleaded, and a verdict for the plaintiffs. And on a motion in arreſt of judgment, the chief exception was, that the bye-law itſelf was ill, becauſe it is not ſaid that this dinner was appointed to the end that the company ſhould aſſemble, and conſult of matters beneficial to the corporation. For it does not appear, but that this was only for luxury: then the bye-law is unreaſonable, to compel a man to make a dinner, only for the luxury of others, without any benefit to himſelf, or the reſt of the company.

Per curiam. Members of corporations are not bound to perform bye-laws, unleſs they are reaſonable, and the reaſonableneſs of them is examinable by the judges. Then this bye-law to make the dinner cannot be good in this caſe of a new corporation, becauſe it does not appear to what purpoſe the dinner was made, and it may be only for good fellowſhip. But if it had been to make the dinner, to the end that the company might aſſemble and chuſe officers, or any other thing for the benefit of the corporation, it had been well enough. But in the caſe of old corporations by preſcription, a bye-law to make a cuſtomary feaſt has been held good. Therefore judgment was arreſted niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 113.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. The King v. The Mayor and Aldermen of Hertford.

After ſeveral motions and debates at the bar, leave was given to file an information in nature of a quo warranto, in the name of Sir Samuel Aſtrey, againſt the mayor and aldermen of Hertford, to know by what warrant they admit perſons who do not reſide within the borough, to the freedom of the corporation.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, if the defendants were found guilty they ſhould be fined. And the difference of judgments in this caſe, and in the writ of quo warranto is, that in the latter caſe the judgment is to ſeize the franchiſe in the King's hands, but in the other caſe only an ouſter of the particular franchiſe. That the firſt proceſs in this caſe is a ſubpœna, and afterwards a diſtringas; and it being a foreign county, there ought to be fifteen days between the teſte and return. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 426.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

On argument on a mandamus directed to a college at Oxford, the council ſaid, that on a return to a mandamus, they never make a profert in curia, becauſe the party has never oyer, or any plea to make to it; and that it is a rule in corporations, that a Mayor repreſents the whole body, and that the maſter muſt be named in all corporate acts; becauſe without him nothing can be done but that his vote is included in that of the majority. If a man by will gives lands to a college already founded, with charge to take in more into the corporation, that cannot be but by ſurrender of the former charter, and taking a new one, for corporations cannot be at this day without a charter; before ſtat. 13 Eliz. they might take a new charter, and that had been a ſurrender of the old one: but they cannot do it now without an act of parliament, becauſe it is a kind of alienation; for it is giving part of the right of the firſt members away.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The corporation is by name of Maſter, Fellows, and Scholars; and they are, as it were, common council of the college; and though the King made the corporation, yet the founder has power to diſpoſe and order it as he thinks fit. And I take this to be altogether a lay corporation, and then the viſitations belongs to the founder and his heirs; and if he dies without heirs, I take the viſitation ſhall go to the King; of which Vide 5 Ed. 4. Simon de Monford's caſe; and this is my private opinion; and whether the right of viſitation ſhould eſcheat, was a point that divided the court in Dr. Patrick's caſe; and there is a great diverſity between abbot and convent, and maſter and fellows, mayor and commonalty, &c. For in the caſe of abbot and convent, there muſt be the major part, and the abbot beſides; and the reaſon is, becauſe the abbot only acts with the conſent of the major part of the reſt; but in the caſe of maſter and fellows, &c. the maſter himſelf is but part of the acting part, and he is one of the grantors juſt as the reſt. If it be a donative, and a private corporation, though it be ſpiritual, I am of opinion that the viſitation belongs to the founder, though he does not by expreſs words reſerve it to himſelf: for why ſhould it of common right belong to the ordinary? And whether the King may grant the inheritance of a viſitation, may be a queſtion; for it may be ſaid to be privy to his perſon; but without he may grant to whom he pleaſes to be a viſitor for a time. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 232.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Piper v. Dennis.

On a quo warranto brought againſt the town of Liſkard, in Car. 2. time, they ſurrendered their charter, which was not enrolled till Jac. 2. who, in conſideration of the ſurrender, granted a new charter to them. It was held by the court, that the ſecond charter being in conſideration of a void ſurrender, was alſo void. And where by the charter ſurrendered, none could be mayor if he was not a capital burgeſs; and one was made a capital burgeſs by the charter of King James, and after made mayor, or according to the old charter. A queſtion was ſtarted, whether he was a legal mayor?

Per curiam. You ſhould firſt have moved him from being a capital burgeſs; for if we find one in actual poſſeſſion of an office, we ſhall intend him to be the rightful officer till the contrary appears; as for example, if a mere laic be preſented to a benefice, we ſhall take him for a clerk till the firſt ſteps be annulled. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 253.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Bully or Butler, v. Palmer.

The plaintiff brought an action on the caſe for a falſe return to a mandamus, commanding him to ſwear H. to be mayor of the town of Dartmouth, and a peremptory mandamus being moved for. It was reſolved by the court, that if there was an old charter ſurrendered, but the ſurrender not enrolled, and a new charter in conſideration of the ſurrender granted, that the ſecond charter is void; and if there are any other perſons in the new charter than were in the old, any law made by them is void, becauſe they act under a void charter: but otherwiſe, if it be the ſame members in the old charter, becauſe then they act by their firſt charter, which is ſtill good. So if in the firſt caſe, if they had given a bond, and put the ſeal of the new corporation to it, it would be void, as was adjudged in the caſe of Bath and Wells; but if the members of the old charter had gone to election, and ſome, by colour of the new charter, had voted with them againſt their will, there a choice by a majority of the old charter, with ſome mentioned in the new, is good. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 247. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 191.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. The Mayor, &c. of Coventry.

A mandamus was directed to the defendants, commanding them to reſtore O. to the office of common council man in Coventry. They return that they are, and time whereof, &c. have been a corporation by preſcription, known by ſuch a name; and that King James 1. by his letters patent dated in the nineteenth year of his reign, reciting, that they had a cuſtom to elect any one to be of the common council, and to remove him at pleaſure, and reciting other cuſtoms; the King confirmed to them all their ſaid liberties; and then they conclude, that by force of the ſaid cuſtom time whereof, &c. uſed, and according to the form of the aforeſaid letters patent, they removed O. And an exception was taken to the return, that by the election O. had an eſtate for life, and then a cuſtom to remove an officer for life, without cauſe, is not good. But not allowed.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. He is not returned to be an officer for life, but the contrary, becauſe it is returned that he might be removed at pleaſure. And if the conſtitution in the corporation is to elect officers, either by a particular number of perſons, or to elect during pleaſure, &c. in ſuch caſe they ought to purſue their cuſtoms; and they cannot elect in other manner, as for a longer or more durable intereſt; and his eſtate is always liable to the determination annexed to it by the cuſtom, as was determined in Trinity 31 Car. 2. B. R. The King v. Repes.

A ſecond exception was, that they do not ſhew any foundation for this removal; for they inſiſt on their cuſtom and the letters patent; nor do they ſhew any clauſe of grant in the letters patent, which ought to have been pleaded ſpecially. And of this opinion was the court. And therefore a peremptory mandamus was granted niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 391.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. The City of London v. Vanacre.

On a habeas corpus brought in this cauſe, the conſtitution of the city of London as to the election of ſheriffs was returned, and alſo the cuſtom for making bye-laws; and that by ſtat. 7 Car. 1. a bye-law was made, that no freeman of the city choſen to be ſheriff of London, ſhall be exempted from that office, unleſs he will take his oath that he is not worth 10,000*l.* and bring with him ſix perſons as compurgators, ſuch as ſhall be approved of; and that on an open proclamation made in Guildhall of ſuch choice, he being called to come and take on him the office of ſheriff at the next court, and enter into a bond of 1000*l.* to take on him the ſaid office, on default ſhall forfeit the ſum of 400*l.* and if he does not pay that within three months, ſhall forfeit 400*l.* more. On a motion for a procedendo it was objected, 1ſt. This is not within the cuſtom for making bye-laws, becauſe the conſtitution of ſheriff is by the charter of King James, which is within time of memory; but not allowed: for where a franchiſe is granted for the benefit of a body politic, the body politic has power incidently to regulate that franchiſe for the public benefit. And this bye-law is only to require ſubſtantial perſons to undergo that office; and as every member has the benefit of the franchiſe, ſo they are compellable by penalties to undergo the charge and burdens to which the body politic is liable. 2dly. That the party elect may be indicted for refuſal; but not allowed; for though he may be indicted and fined to the King, yet that will not ſave the city-franchiſe; therefore that ſhall not hinder the forfeiture on the bye-law. 3dly. That the bye-law does not provide that the party ſhall have any notice of his being elected, and the perſons who are the ſubjects of the bye-law are all the freemen; and it is not the freemen but the liverymen, who are to be preſent at the election: but not allowed: for ſuppoſing that, yet the freemen are repreſented by the liverymen; and he that is repreſented muſt take notice as much of the act of the repreſentative body, as if preſent; beſides, the election is a notorious thing, and there is a proclamation notifying it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 269. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 142.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. The Borough of Abington.

On the return of a mandamus, the filing whereof was oppoſed on affidavits of ſeveral burgeſſes, that it was made by the mayor, in the name of the major part of the corporation, without conſent of them; it was agreed the return ought to have been by conſent of the majority of the corporation, for they ought to anſwer the writ to whom it is directed; and it being directed to the whole corporation, it ought to be anſwered by the majority of them. And Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, if a writ comes to a ſheriff, and another make a return to it in his name, the ſheriff may come and diſavow it the ſame term, but not in a ſubſequent term. Dy. 182. So here will be two queſtions in this caſe; 1ſt. Whether we ought to admit them to diſavow this return? 2dly. In caſe we do it, whether they ought not to do it in their proper perſons? For to examine here, on affidavit, how that fact ſtands, is without example; but we will handle that perſon roughly that ſhall make a return in the name of the majority without conſent; for as they cannot make a return though they are the majority, without the mayor; ſo the mayor cannot make a return without a majority of them; and the return muſt come by the mayor's hands into this court.

Note. By their charter they are empowered to proceed to an election on ſuch a day.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If they do not chooſe on that day they cannot do it the next day; for they muſt purſue their patent, and that gives power only for one day; and though the mayor be ſick, ſo as he cannot officiate on that day, there is no remedy.

Turton, Juſtice. In ſuch a caſe they are obliged to petition, as in the caſe of the corporation of Norwich; and they ſaid they had known a quo warranto go againſt a corporation for chuſing at another day. At laſt, an information was filed againſt the mayor for making a falſe and undue return; and the principal point was not determined. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 308.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The College of Phyſicians v. Salmon.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. My Lord Coke ſays, that a corporation muſt have a name; but that muſt be underſtood to be either expreſſed in the patent, or implied in the nature of the thing; for example, if the King ſhould incorporate the inhabitants of Dale with power to chuſe a mayor annually; though no name be given, yet it is a good corporation by the name of the mayor and commonalty, &c. So the city of Norwich is incorporated to be a mayor and ſheriffs by the charter of Hen. 4. and are called Mayor, Sheriffs and Commonalty, &c. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 191.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Clapham v. Wray.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a perſon pretending to be mayor of a corporation, put the corporation ſeal to a deed, yet it is not by that the deed of the corporation. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 423.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. The City of London v. Wood.

On a writ of error brought on an action in the mayor's court againſt Wood for 400*l.* as a forfeiture, for that he being duly choſen ſheriff, did not ſerve, or otherwiſe diſcharge himſelf by fining, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In this caſe there are three points to be conſidered; 1ſt. Whether on an action brought on this act of common council for a penalty, incurred, or ſuppoſed to be incurred on it, there ought to be a wager of law. 2dly. Whether on this record, as certified to us, there does not appear a diſcontinuance. 3dly. Whether on certificate, that the record below is amended, we may amend the record before us, by the record ſet right below? 4thly. Whether this action is well brought by the mayor, &c. of London in the mayor's court.

A wager of law will not lie here, becauſe this act of common council does not affect the defendant only, but all the whole body of the city; and there is no caſe, where there is a penalty, to which all the men within ſuch a juriſdiction, precinct, or city, are obnoxious, in which a wager of law has been allowed.

As to the ſecond point, whether there be a diſcontinuance in this caſe, ſurely there is, for every cauſe ought to be continued from court to court, as in Weſtminſter Hall from term to term, if it be not a real action where long proceſs is allowed; and is not amendable, no certiorari lying to this court of the mayor.

As to the queſtion, whether this action be well brought in the Mayor's court, the bye-law inflicting a penalty for the benefit of thoſe that make the law; all corporations as ſuch have power to make bye-laws, and the penalty of bye-laws, may go to the corporation; though where a corporation claims a franchiſe, it ſhall not be judge or jury in a diſpute about it. The true great point is, that the court is held before the Lord Mayor and Aldermen, and the action brought in the name of the Mayor and Commonalty; and that very man, who is head of the city, and without whom the city has no ability or capacity to ſue, is the very perſon before whom the action is brought; and this cannot be by the rules of any law whatſoever; for it is againſt all laws, that the ſame perſon ſhould be party and judge in the ſame cauſe. Now the pleas are virtually held before the Mayor and Aldermen, though in fact the recorder acts, and is as deputy; and the ſteward of a court, who has a deputy, cannot ſue in the court before his deputy; and a deputy acts, and of right ought to act, in the name of his principal. Therefore the judgment was reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 669.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. The King v. The Corporation of Andover.

Their charter is, that the Mayor and major part of the corporation may turn out whom they pleaſe.

Per curiam. There is no remedy for it, their conſtitution being ſo. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 665.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The Eaſt-India Company's Caſe.

In an action againſt the Eaſt-India company for 5000 l. it was moved, that the ſheriff might return exemplary iſſues, becauſe ſeveral writs of diſtringas had been already ſerved to no purpoſe; and the court ſaid, he ſhould return good iſſues, and if he did not, the plaintiff might bring an action againſt him; but at laſt he was ordered to attend. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 191.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. A corporation is not indictable, but the particular members of it are. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 559.

Hilary, 1 Ann. The Mayor of Thetford's Caſe.

On a mandamus directed to the mayor and commonalty of Thetford, the return was made in the name of the corporation, but without the common ſeal, or the hand of the mayor ſet to it: it was moved, that the mayor might be obliged to ſign it or ſeal it with the corporation ſeal, alledging that it was not a corporate act to charge the corporation without the common ſeal, nor the act of the mayor without his hand to it. After ſearch of precedents, which were found both ways,

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A corporation cannot do an act in pais without their common ſeal, yet they may do an act on record; and that is the caſe of the city of London every year, who make an attorney by warrant of attorney in this court, without either ſealing or ſigning; and the reaſon is, becauſe they are eſtopped by the record to ſay it is not their act. So if an action be brought againſt a corporation in this court for a falſe return, they are eſtopped to ſay, it is not their return, for it is the anſwer of the mayor and commonalty on record. Neither is the hand of the mayor neceſſary, for he is liable in his private capacity without it; and it is ſufficient evidence againſt him, that the writ was delivered to him, and that there is a return made, for then it is incumbent on the mayor to ſhew the contrary. At common law no officer was bound to ſign a return. The ſtatute of York obliges a ſheriff to do it, but extends not to a coroner, mayor, or other officer. And the mayor or any other magiſtrate of this corporation that procured this return, is liable not only in his corporate but private capacity. Vide Salk. vol. 1. page 192.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Cuddon v. Eaſtwick.

A habeas corpus was returned on an action of debt for the penalty of a bye-law made by the common council of the city of London. The bye-law was, that whereas the company and fellowſhip of porters had been time out of mind a company and fellowſhip, it was ordained, that they ſhould ſtill remain and continue for ever a company and fellowſhip, and that no maſter of any boat, &c. from place to place, &c. ſhould unload, or ſend on ſhore any goods, but by ſuch perſons as were free of the ſaid company: to which it was objected, 1ſt. That the city of London could not make a corporation. 2dly. That a corporation could not make a bye-law to bind ſtrangers, unleſs founded on public convenience.

Per curiam. The city of London cannot make a corporation, for that can only be created by the crown; but this is only a fraternity, not a corporation, and a corporation may make a fraternity. A corporation is properly an inveſting the people of the place with the local government thereof, and therefore their law ſhall bind ſtrangers; but a fraternity is ſome people of a place united together, in reſpect of a myſtery and buſineſs, into a company, and their laws and ordinances cannot bind ſtrangers, for they have not a local power or government. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 193.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Aſhby v. White.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 29 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Mayor of Wincheſter v. Wilks.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 29 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. One cannot declare againſt a corporation aggregate, as in the cuſtody of the Marſhal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 183.

Hilary, 4 Ann. The Queen v. The Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty of the Town of Ipſwich.

On a mandamus to reſtore Mr. Serjeant Whitaker, to the office of recorder of the town of Ipſwich, an exception was taken to the return.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where a corporation by one name is incorporated anew by another name, the new charter alters the conſtitution of the corporation, and new models it, there it ſhall loſe its old name; otherwiſe, if the conſtitution as to all the integral parts of it, remains the ſame, though the new charter gives them a new name, the old one remains. For inſtance, if a Mayor be added, or Mayor and Maſters are made Mayor and Aldermen, or an Abbot and Convent, a Dean and Chapter; there they loſe their old name, becauſe new integral parts of the corporation are added. And farther, that the court could not take notice of towns, any otherwiſe than they appeared to them on the record, tho' they did of counties. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1233.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. The Queen v. Truebody.

On a mandamus iſſued to reſtore a burgeſs to his freedom, it appeared by the return, that he had abdicated the corporation for above four years laſt paſt; and that he had removed himſelf and family fifteen miles off, and that he had been ſummoned to attend and did not; whereon they diſcharged him, and it was held to be well. If a man attends his office, though he lives out of the corporation, yet his attendance on the office will be ſufficient.

Powell, Juſtice, doubted, if a man lives out of the juriſdiction, whether they need ſummon him out of the juriſdiction? It ſeems not, but if he voluntary attends, he anſwers his duty. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 75. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1275.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Anonymous.

The court was moved for an information againſt a man, choſen of the common council of Briſtol, who refuſed to accept the office, and it was argued, that in caſe perſons might refuſe to accept it, the corporation would ſoon be at an end: and that ſheriffs were always choſen out of the common council: and that the court would take notice of a common councilman, as of a public officer, and that a corporation is a part of the public government.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. That is as far as the place where they have a power as a corporation to make byelaws; and they ſhould make a law to inflict a penalty on him that refuſes, and this is the proper way. But adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 132.

Hilary, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Lane.

A mandamus was directed to the corporation of Glouceſter, to reſtore Lane to the place of a Capital Burgeſs; they return, that Lane wrote a certain ſcandalous letter to one of the Aldermen, amounting to a libel; and being charged therewith at a court held, &c. he conſented to be turned out.

Per curiam. The common council are not judges of a libel; for that is only triable at common law. And ſuppoſe it is a libel, he ſhould be convicted of it at common law, before it can be alledged as a cauſe of removal; and as to his reſignation, if they had deſigned it to be a cauſe of removal, it ſhould have been returned otherwiſe; for here they ſummon him to ſhew cauſe why he ſhould not be turned out for writing a libel; and he appears and ſays, you may turn me out if you will, but I will bring a mandamus, and ſo he does; this is certainly no reſignation. Though a reſignation may be by parol, according to Sir J. Jennings's caſe; but then it ought to have been returned more certain and ſolemn. So the court granted a peremptory mandamus. Holt, abſent. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 270.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. The Caſe of Whitehorn, Mayor of Portſmouth.

This was an information in the nature of a quo warranto againſt Whitehorn, for exerciſing the office of Mayor in the town of Portſmouth, and againſt others for exerciſing the office of Aldermen.

Whitehorn pleads the charter of King Charles I. incorporating the town of Portſmouth, &c. and ſets forth a particular clauſe in the charter, whereby it is declared, that if the Mayor ſhould die, or for juſt reaſons be removed, it ſhould be lawful for the Aldermen to chooſe another Mayor for the remaining part of the year, till the time to elect came again; then he ſets forth that the Mayor died, and that he was choſen by the majority of Aldermen, according to the form of the charter aforeſaid. The Attorney General replied, he was not elected in manner and form, &c.

The Aldermen plead their being choſen under the Mayoralty of Whitehorn, and iſſue was joined.

On the trial at the aſſizes, it was inſiſted, that the defendants to prove the iſſue, muſt firſt prove themſelves qualified, by receiving the ſacrament according to ſtat. 13 Car. 2. which point, inſtead of being found ſpecially, was ſaved by the judge who tried the cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 65.

Michaelmas 10 Ann. The Queen v. Sutton.

On an information brought in nature of a quo warranto againſt the defendant for uſurping the office of a common burgeſs of the town of the Deviſes in Wiltſhire; on a trial at bar on this iſſue, whether Sutton was a Capital Burgeſs, by the mayor, recorder, and capital burgeſſes, ſeveral points were diſputed, and the particular queſtion was, whether by a charter that requires acts to be done by a majority of the corporation, a perſon might be removed by a majority of that body, excluding the perſons that are to be removed, and cannot vote in their own cauſe.

When the whole court were of opinion, that a removal being an act of an odious nature, all clauſes concerning it muſt receive a ſtrict interpretation; and therefore the word majority ſhould be underſtood of a majority of the whole corporation.

Another queſtion was raiſed which was, whether the not ſummoning to a meeting members de facto, diſfranchiſed them, though afterwards on re-examination it ſhould appear they were ſtill lawful members, and whether it would vacate acts done in thoſe meetings?

The court inclined to think it would not vacate them. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 74.

Hilary, 11 Ann. The Caſe of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

On an action of aſſault and battery, brought againſt a member of the Univerſity, and a general imparlance given by the court from one term to another,

The Chancellor claimed cognizance of pleas by grant in Queen Elizabeth's time, whereby the court of the Vice-chancellor was to proceed according to law and the cuſtoms of the Univerſity, in all caſes where any body of that Univerſity ſhould be defendant, which grant was confirmed by a ſtatute of which they produced a copy, and whether this claim ſhould be received was the queſtion.

After hearing council on both ſides the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. The claim being made after imparlance, was made too late; the ſtatute was out of the caſe, for that related only to the matter of conuſance, and was only neceſſary to ſupport a charter, which the crown had no power to grant: for though the crown may grant conuſances, yet it cannot grant them with a power to proceed by any other law than the common law. But as to the time and manner of claiming, the ſtatute is wholly ſilent; theſe are therefore to be governed by the rules of law. Hence it is, that it is neceſſary for this privilege to be pleaded; and there is no reaſon why the rules of law ſhould not govern, as well the time of pleading it, as make it neceſſary for it to be pleaded at all. There is no difference in the reaſon of the thing, between conuſances with excluſive words, and conuſances without, as to this point. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 126.

Hilary, 11 Ann. The Queen v. The corporation of Durham.

On a mandamus to reſtore H. to the office of Town-clerk, two exceptions were taken to the return.

1ſt. That they ſaid, ſuch a year of Queen Eliſabeth, and long before, they were a corporation; and ſo did not intitle themſelves by preſcription, which is ever time out of mind.

2dly, It was not returned, that the town clerk was actually choſen annually, but only that he was annually chuſable, whereas time and uſage are neceſſary to preſcription.

Beſides the office of town clerk is, in the nature of it, in the eye of the law, an office for life; and will be ſo intended till the contrary appear. 1 Ventris. 82.

As to the 1ſt exception, the court were of opinion, that a corporation muſt either be by charter or preſcription, which is ever time out of mind; but yet the exception was diſallowed, becauſe it was only failing in a matter of ſurpluſage.

But as to the 2d exception, the court held it good: for the office of town clerk is an office for life, unleſs reſtrained by charter or preſcription, which ought to be ſhewn on the return, which was not done.

Beſides, though he be annually chuſable he may continue town clerk, and will do ſo until they chooſe another; but this does not appear to be done; the exception therefore is good for both theſe reaſons.

If the return had been chuſable for one year only, his office would have expired at the end of the year, whether they had choſen another or not; but otherwiſe as this return is. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 147.

Michaelmas, 11 Ann. The Queen v. The Borough of Aldborough.

This was a mandamus to the mayor and burgeſſes of Aldborough, commanding them to reſtore one S. to the office of a capital burgeſs of that borough.

To this they return for cauſe for not obeying the writ, that he had not taken the ſacrament within a year before the election, according to ſtat. 13. Car. 2. it was objected, that this ſtat. as to taking the ſacrament, was only directory, what ſort of man they ſhould chooſe, and did not make a nullity of the office; and to mainatin this point, the caſe of The King v. Larwood, Hil. 6 W. 3. was quoted.

Per curiam. This interpretation of the ſtatute was never offered to any court before the caſe of Whitehorn; and ſhould it prevail, the ſtatute would ſignify but very little.

As to the authority of The King v. Larwood, it amounts to no more than this, that a man ſhall not defend one crime by another, viz. his not taking on him the office, by his not receiving the ſacrament.

A ſecond exception to this return was, that it did not ſhew the corporation was in being, at the time this act was made. But not allowed: for the ſtatute extends to all corporations created before and after. 2 Vent. 243.

A third exception to this return was, that it did not appear that the perſon was ſummoned to ſay what he could for himſelf.

Parker C. J. I think it very proper a corporation ſhould hear a man before they expel him No inconvenience in holding corporations in this, for it can only keep thoſe in, that are qualified to ſtay in: and if corporations will unjuſtly, after hearing, expel men, it aggravates the fault, becauſe done againſt knowledge. It is true, the party has an action to be reſtored; but then, in the mean time he is wrongfully kept out. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 100.

Trinity, 12 Ann. The Queen v. The Corporation of Buckingham.

On a mandamus directed to the corporation of Buckingham, to reſtore one Muſcot to the office of a common burgeſs of that corporation, the return in ſubſtance was as follows, viz. that Muſcot in fact was elected; but that he not having received the ſacrament within a year before his election, according to ſtat. 13. Car. 2. his election was void.

On argument this matter was adjourned for further conſideration. And this ſame term, on a ſimilar caſe, the council objected, that in the return they had not ſet forth, that the ſtatute made the election void; but only ſaid, that in default thereof, ſuch placing, &c. was void, but did not ſay by what authority.

It was further objected, that the return had not brought the office within the ſtatute; for the office of capital burgeſs is not named in the ſtatute.

On argument, Eyre, Juſtce, declared his preſent opinion to be, that the ſtatute cited to prove the election was not void, but only voidable, did not reach the preſent caſe, becauſe all the ſtatutes related either to matters of record or ſpecialties entred into with ſome ceremony; and therefore although the ſtatutes made them void, yet it muſt be underſtood in a proper manner, and ſtatutes do always ſuppoſe neceſſary incidents: but now this caſe is the caſe of an election, a matter in pais, and ſo very different. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 173, 178.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. Sir Robert Saliſbury Cotton v. Davies.

On he was not elected returned to a mandamus to ſwear the plaintiff a Capital Burgeſs of Denbigh, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, That by the charters there are to be two Bailiffs, two Aldermen, and twenty five Capital Burgeſſes; and the direction how the Capital Burgeſſes are to be elected, is in theſe words: "And if it happen any of the ſaid Capital Burgeſſes die, or be removed, then it ſhall and may be lawful for the Bailiffs, Aldermen, and Capital Burgeſſes for the time being, or the major part of them, to elect another." That on the 24th of June 1 Geo. there was a vacancy by the death of J. S. and on Michaelmas day following, the Bailiffs, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes met and proceeded to election: That the two Bailiffs, and the major part of the Capital Burgeſſes gave their votes for the plaintiff; and the two Aldermen and the reſidue of the Capital Burgeſſes voted for another.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Parker C. J. This is like the caſe of the city of London, where the Mayor and common council have power to do acts; and yet the act of the majority of the common council is good, though the Mayor diſſents. In this caſe there is nothing required, but the preſence of one Bailiff, and one Alderman, at every election, and they have no negative voices; to which the reſt of the court agreed, and a peremptory mandamus was granted. Vide Strange. vol. 1. p. 53.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. The Caſe of the Corporation of Banbury.

Per Parker, Chief Juſtice. If a Mayor is not choſen by the time preſcribed by the charter; and there is no proviſion in the charter for the Mayor's continuing on till a new Mayor is choſen in, the corporation is diſſolved; and conſequently cannot proceed to a new election.

Indeed ſome are of opinion, that this may be cured, by the iſſuing out of a writ under the great ſeal, impowering them to proceed to a new election; but others are of opinion that even this will not do, and that there is no other remedy but to obtain a new charter from the crown. But nobody ever thought, that in ſuch a caſe the quondam corporation could revive itſelf, by chuſing a new head, without ſuch a writ under the great ſeal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. page 346.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. The King v. The Mayor of Taunton in the County of Somerſet.

On an affidavit, that the defendant at the time of taking the oath of office, did not take the declaration required by the corporation act of 13 Car. 2. againſt the ſolemn league and covenant, a rule was made to ſhew cauſe why an information in the nature of a quo warranto ſhould not go againſt him.

On ſhewing cauſe, the following exceptions were taken; 1ſt. That no private perſon could apply for this information; and, 2dly. That in caſe he might, the affidavit was not ſufficient.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, Powys and Forteſcue, Juſtices, held the affidavit inſufficient, and that any private perſon might apply for the information. But Eyre, Juſtice, was of a different opinion as to both points. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 120.

Trinity, 6 Geo. Barber v. Boulton.

On that he was not elected, being returned to a mandamus, for ſwearing the plaintiff into the office of Mayor of the borough of Macclesfield, wherein the jury found a ſpecial verdict; the caſe was, by the charter the Mayor is to be choſen by the capital burgeſſes out of the capital burgeſſes, who are twenty-four in number. The uſage for fifty years has been, that the common burgeſſes have put five of the capital burgeſſes in nomination; out of which five the capital burgeſſes have choſen one to be Mayor: and this the jury find was according to a bye-law, not now extant in writing, and that there are no footſteps before theſe fifty years of any election in any other manner.

At the charter-day the common burgeſſes met, and put eight capital burgeſſes in nomination, whereof the plaintiff was one, who had a majority of the capital burgeſſes for electing him to be Mayor.

It being agreed that this election was not according to the uſage, the plaintiff's council inſiſted that it was an unreaſonable uſage; for here the common burgeſſes, who have no right in the election under the charter, have it in their power to diſſolve the corporation, by their neglecting to return five; or if it were good, yet it can only have allowance in caſes where they do nominate, and if they do not, then the capital burgeſſes may make the election under the charter out of the whole body.

Per curiam. This is a good uſage, being to avoid popular confuſion: but here the cuſtom purſues neither the charter nor the bye-law. It is not under the charter, for that ſays it muſt be out of the capital burgeſſes at large, and here they have confined themſelves to eight; nor is it according to the uſage, becauſe more than five were nominated, which brings in all the confuſion that was deſigned to be avoided by that proviſion. Therefore judgment for the defendant. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 314.

Trinity, 6 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Carliſle.

On a mandamus brought to reſtore one P. to the office of a capital citizen of Carliſle, the return was as follows:

The corporation conſiſts of a Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and Capital Citizens, who together make a common council, and have the power to elect Capital Citizens; the power of amotion is in the power of the Mayor and Aldermen only, or the major part of them: then the return ſets forth, that on ſuch a day, the common council was aſſembled, and P. being ſummoned, did not appear, and thereon, the Mayor and Aldermen and others aſſembled, made an order for his amotion (for a cauſe allowed to be legal.)

After hearing council on both ſides, on the laſt day of the term, the Chief Juſtice delivered the opinion of the court, that the removal in this caſe was not regular, for there ſhould have been a ſummons for the Mayor and Aldermen to meet in their diſtinct capacity. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 385.

Hilary, 8 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Common Council of Bedford.

On a rule of court made againſt the Mayor and common council of Bedford, to ſhew cauſe why an information ſhould not be filed againſt them, for an undue election of a burgeſs of the ſaid borough; the caſe appeared to be as follows:

The town of Bedford is a borough by preſcription, which time of mind, on the Monday next after Bartholomew day, had put up twenty-ſix burgeſſes in nomination, out of which they chooſe thirteen common council men, who, when choſen, had votes in electing a Mayor, and other officers in the ſaid borough; but at the laſt election, they put one B. in nomination with twenty-five, who were burgeſſes, but B. was not, he being only a freeman of the ſaid borough; and he was choſen by the majority of the other twenty-five burgeſſes to be one of the thirteen common council men.

Afterwards, the Mayor finding that B. was not qualified to be one of the twenty-ſix burgeſſes, for the reaſon before mentioned, proceeded to a new election, and then one D. was choſen to be burgeſs in the room of B. And now H. who was one of the twenty-five burgeſſes, and put in nomination as aforeſaid, and who was duly qualified, and had moſt votes to be a common council man next to the ſaid B. proſecuted an information againſt the Mayor and the twelve common council men, as not being choſen by twenty-ſix qualified burgeſſes; for B. who was one of the twenty-ſix, was a freeman, and no burgeſs, and therefore made the election void, as not warranted by the cuſtom of the borough.

The council for the defendants inſiſted that the rule might be diſcharged; for when an election is made by ſeveral perſons, whereof ſome are qualified to chooſe, and ſome not, it is good as to the perſons qualified; for ſhould it be otherwiſe, the election would be wholly void.

The court declared, that what was inſiſted on by this motion for the proſecution would produce a great inconveniency; for if this ſhould be adjudged a void election as to the whole, then the borough would be deſtroyed, for there cannot be any other Mayor elected, or any other thing done by the common council.

On another day, another queſtion was put for the opinion of the court, which was, if one who is unqualified is choſen by a majority of thoſe who are qualified, and his election is made void, becauſe he is unqualified; then, whether a perſon who is qualified, and has a majority of votes next to him who was not qualified, ſhall be adjudged duly choſen, or whether they ſhall proceed to a new election.

But the court held the new election to be good, as well for the miſtake in not knowing B. was no burgeſs, but only a freeman at the time of his election to be a common council man, as for avoiding an inconveniency, which otherwiſe would be incurable; ſo the election of D. was held good, and the rule diſcharged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 34.

Hilary, 9 Geo. The King v. The Mayor, &c. of Tregony.

The queſtion in this caſe was, where a certain day is appointed by the charter for the Mayor and Burgeſſes to proceed to the election of a new Mayor; and that day is paſt, whether they can elect in any other day in that year; and the court was of opinion they could not, unleſs on the death or removal of the Mayor in being; for if they ſhould elect on any other day, it is not according to the authority given by the charter. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Aldermen of Carliſle.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 285 of this work, under the head Conviction.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. The Mayor of Kingſton upon Hull.

On a motion laſt term, a rule was made, that a mandamus ſhould go to the Mayor of Kingſton, to aſſemble and keep courts, and to do the office of that corporation; and in drawing up the writ, the clerk added theſe words, viz. and to admit all thoſe to their freedom who have a right to be free of that corporation.

It was now moved to ſet aſide this rule, becauſe all who have a right to be free cannot be joined in one mandamus, as it was reſolved in the caſe of the nine common-council men of Cheſter, 6 W. 3. becauſe every one has a ſeparate right; therefore two or more could not be joined in this writ; for where ſeveral are joined, there can be no traverſe taken, becauſe no one is party to it.

And the court was of opinion, that the mandamus was ill, and not warranted by the rule of the court; therefore if it had been returned it ſhould have been quaſhed; but not being returned, it ſhall be ſuperſeded, that the Mayor may not be obliged to make a return. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 210.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Sir Chriſtopher Muſgrave v. Nevinſon.

The corporation were all invited to a treat, when one of the Aldermen deſired leave to reſign, on which his reſignation was taken, and the plaintiff at the ſame time choſen and ſworn in. On a trial at bar the jury found it a good election; and the court granted a new trial, it being fraudulent, and it appearing that one of the members was not there till after the election, and that there was no ſummons to meet to do ſuch a corporate act, that the members might come prepared: the meeting likewiſe was not in the Moothall, but at a tavern, vern, and it was a plain ſurpriſe, and even all not preſent.

As to the point of its being a trial at bar, the court made no difficulty of that, ſince the caſe of Bewdley, and another of Sir Joſeph Tyley v. Roberts in C. B. where on a trial at bar, whether compos or non compos, the jury found againſt the weight of the evidence, and there was a new trial. The caſe in Stiles was after a trial at bar; and in the caſe of an Alderman of Derby, he was afterwards ouſted on a quo warranto.

Raymond Juſtice. Lord Chief Juſtice Holt uſed to ſay, he was of opinion, the practice of granting new trials was much more ancient than the caſe in Stiles; ſince we meet with challenges that the party was ſworn on the former trial, and therefore ought not to be a juror again.

N. B. As to another of the corporators of Apulby, he was put to prove the receiving the ſacrament within a year before his election, it being recent, and therefore the court required it, though no notice was given him for that purpoſe. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 585.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Salter v. Groſvenor.

In ejectment, &c. the caſe was, a corporation aggregate, conſiſting of two Bailiffs and Burgeſſes, &c. and one of the Bailiffs and Burgeſſes made a leaſe of their politic capacity to the other, in his natural capacity; and the queſtion was, whether the leaſe was good or not.

Per curiam. A ſole corporation, as a biſhop or parſon, cannot make a leaſe to himſelf, for he cannot be both leſſor and leſſee; and the law is the ſame in a corporation aggregate, as dean and chapter, for a leaſe cannot be made by the chapter, without the concurrence of the dean; and for the ſame reaſon, a leaſe cannot be made by the dean without the concurrence of the chapter, but it may be made by any of the prebendaries, becauſe it is not neceſſary that any of them ſhould join in the leaſe, for a prebendary is not an integral part of the body corporate.

But in the principal caſe the Bailiffs make but one officer, and the one cannot act without the other; therefore if a leaſe is made by a corporation to one of them, he is both leſſor and leſſee, which cannot be.

And for theſe reaſons the whole court was of opinion, that the leaſe was void, and gave judgment accordingly. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 303.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. The King v. The Mayor of Tiverton.

On a motion for an information againſt the defendant for bribery at an election of a new Mayor for the corporation of Tiverton in Devonſhire, who, when he found he could not ſucceed in the choice of the perſon he wiſhed ſhould be the new Mayor, withdrew himſelf on the day of election, ſo that the new Mayor could not be choſen, tho' the common council did all in their power to proceed to an election, by appearing on the ſtairs in the Town-Hall for that purpoſe, but the door was locked by the defendant, (the old Mayor) and a book belonging to the corporation was taken away; ſo that for want of chuſing a Mayor on the day of election the corporation was diſſolved.

The Chief Juſtice, who was formerly Recorder of this corporation, ſaid, that there was a difference among the members thereof about precedency, ſo a rule was made to ſhew cauſe why an information ſhould not go.

Aftewards in Hilary term, it appeared that there was bribery on both ſides, ſo informations were filed againſt both parties, and the court agreed that bribery was ſufficient cauſe to remove a man from his office, and that it was an offence by which the very conſtitution of the government might be altered. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 186.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. The King v. Hearle.

On a mandamus to ſwear in one P. to be Mayor of Penryn, they returned that an information in the nature of a quo warranto was exhibited againſt him, to ſhew by what authority he exerciſed the office of Mayor, whereon two iſſues were joined, one whether he was duly elected, and the other whether he was duly ſworn: the firſt iſſue was found for the defendant, and the ſecond for the King, whereon judgment of ouſter was given againſt him; and becauſe he was never ſince elected Mayor, we cannot now ſwear him according to the command of the writ.

The queſtion was, whether after this judgment of ouſter he was intitled to a mandamus, to ſwear him into the office in conſequence of his precedent election.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. It ſeems to me, that the election is done away, and that unleſs there had been a new election ſince the judgment, the party is not intitled to this mandamus.

Per curiam. The return muſt be allowed.

On a writ of error being brought in parliament, it was adjudged, that error did not lie, and the writ was quaſhed. Vide Strange. vol. 1. p. 625.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Wannel v. The Chamberlain of the City of London.

On a mandamus to admit the plaintiff to his freedom of the city of London, ſetting forth that he was bound apprentice to one S. V. of London, merchant-taylor, for ſeven years; and had ſerved out his time, and had been admitted into the merchant-taylors company, and in due form preſented to the chamberlain, who refuſed to admit him his freedom.

The chamberlain returned, that London has been time out of mind a corporation, and conſiſts of ſeveral ſocieties, &c. freemen of the city; and that no perſon could ever be a freeman of the city, till he was member of one of thoſe fraternities. That time out of mind there has been a company called the joiners company. Then he returned a power to make bye-laws, and that on the 19th day of Oct. 6 W. & M. a bye-law was made, reciting that ſeveral perſons not free of the joiners company, had exerciſed the trade of a joiner, in an unſkilful and fraudulent manner, which could not be redreſſed whilſt ſuch perſons were not under the orders and regulations of the company, therefore it enacts, that no perſon ſhall uſe that trade, who is not free of the company, under the penalty of 10 l. That the plaintiff did exerciſe the trade of a joiner, and that at the time of his being preſented to the chamberlain, he was not free of the joiners company, and therefore he does not admit him to the freedom of the city.

On this return the queſtion was, whether this bye-law, to oblige a member of one company to be admitted into another, was good or not; and to prove it was not, Robertſon v. Groſcourt, 5 Mod. 104. was cited. The matter was adjourned for the farther conſideration of the court.

In Trinity term laſt, this matter was argued a ſecond time. And this term Raymond Chief Juſtice delivered the opinion of the court as follows.

We are all of opinion, that this is a good bye-law, being made in regulation of trade, and to prevent fraud and unſkilfulneſs, of which none but a company which exerciſes the ſame trade can be judges. This does not take away his right to his freedom, but only his election of what company he ſhall be free; it is only to direct him to go to the proper company.

As to the objection, that it does not appear the joiners company are bound to admit him, we are all of opinion, that it being ſaid he ſhall take up his freedom in that company under the penalty of 10 l. he will be intitled to have a mandamus to prevent a forfeiture.

Per curiam. The return muſt be allowed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 675.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Borough of Chriſtchurch.

On a motion for an information, in nature of a quo warranto, againſt the common freemen; it was held, that they need not be qualified by taking the teſt, for they do not exerciſe any office relating to the government of the town, and therefore an information was denied. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 828.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Jacob Lopes Henriques & al. v. The General Privileged Dutch Company trading to the Weſt Indies.

It was held in this caſe, that where an action is brought by a corporation, they need not ſhew how they were incorporated; for if the name is proper for a corporation, they need not ſhew how they were incorporated, becauſe the name implies a corporation, but on the general iſſue pleaded by the defendant, the plaintiffs muſt prove they are a corporation. Hob. 211. Norris v. Staps. Vide Raym. vol. 2. 1532.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. The King v. Poole.

On a motion for a new trial, on an information in the nature of a quo warranto, againſt the defendant, to ſhew by what authority he acted as Mayor of Liverpoole, for that the verdict was found on a matter of law againſt the direction of the judge; the judge at laſt ordered the jury to find it ſpecially, but they brought in a general verdict.

Reſolved, that the certificate of the judge reporting the matter of fact, as appearing before him at the trial, is concluſive, nor can any affidavit be received againſt it, for that would be to try the matter again on affidavit: therefore let the matter ſtand over.

The principal cauſe came on again, 8 Geo. 2. 1734, Forteſcue, Juſtice, who tried the cauſe, certified, that the verdict was found againſt his direction, and that he was diſſatisfied with it. There were four iſſues, the three firſt were preparatory to the laſt, and were excuſes for the late Mayor's adjournment of the court to a day after the day appointed by the charter, and the jury found, that there was no adjournment, with which verdict the judge reported himſelf ſatisfied. The laſt iſſue was, whether or not the defendant was duly elected Mayor, and the jury found him not duly elected; and this was the verdict with which the judge was diſſatisfied. The point of law was, whether the late Mayor had a power to adjourn the election of a new Mayor to a day beyond the charter.

Lord Hardwicke. A new trial ought to be granted in this caſe.

There are two points, one on the common law, the other on the ſtatute, and had the preſent caſe reſted wholly on the common law, it ſeems no new trial ought to have been granted, for the law before ſtat. 11 Geo. c. 4. was taken to be, that the Mayor's office determined at the end of the year, and therefore it ſeems it would have been a void election, where the adjournment was made a day after the expiration of his office, eſpecially where done without cauſe.

But ſtat. 11 Geo. c. 4. was made to remedy ſuch inconveniencies; and on that act it ought to be tried again.

It ſeems indeed it ought to have been the original intent of that ſtatute to enable corporations to go to an intire new election on a ſubſequent day, where no election had been begun before; but notwithſtanding, as this is a remedial law to prevent inconveniencies ariſing from new elections of annual officers on a charter day, if the words of the ſtatute are large and general enough to comprehend the continuing of elections, begun on the charter day, but not completed within that time, as the miſchief is the ſame, the court ought to give a liberal conſtruction to them; the ſtatute ſays, that where by any accident or default whatever, no election ſhall be made on the charter day, they may proceed to an election on another day, &c. On this, ſuppoſing the Mayor had done wrong in making a voluntary adjournment, the wrong acts of officers are part of what was intended to be provided againſt by this act.

Another objection is, that the adjournment was made between the hours of 8 and 9, inſtead of 10 and 12; but this mention of the hours in the ſtatute is certainly directory, and not reſtrictive, and intended to prevent ſurprize, by beginning at inconvenient times; now as to what appears on this record, there is no pretence of ſurpriſe in the preſent caſe.

The next objection is, that the Mayor, whoſe office had expired the day before, preſided at this election, and if that appeared on the face of the record, it would be a ſtrong objection in favour of the proſecutor; but it does not, therefore the whole matter not appearing on the record, it ought to go again to trial, that if the jury ſhould find a ſpecial verdict, the facts might come more fully before the court.

As to the objection, that it is pleaded to be an election for the year next enſuing, this may be, as it were, a technical year created by the ſtatute, as in corporations where the charter determines the office on a day after a moveable feaſt, the officers nevertheleſs are ſaid to be choſen for a year.

The court concurring in opinion, a new trial was granted on the common rule of paying coſts. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 23.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. The King v. White.

On a motion for an information againſt the defendant in the nature of a quo warranto, to ſhew by what authority he exerciſed the office of Burgeſs of the borough of Calne; the queſtion was, whether being an infant, under the age of twenty-one years, at the time of his election, he was capable of exerciſing this office. A rule to ſhew cauſe was made.

Per curiam. If an infant is not fit to manage for himſelf, he is improper to be a Mayor for the public; but as it is a matter of law not ſettled, the rule muſt be made abſolute to determine it. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 8.

Hilary, 8 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Borough of Boſſiney alias Tintagel, in Cornwall.

The court was moved for a mandamus on ſtat. 11 Geo. c. 4. to proceed to the election of a Mayor, which was oppoſed on a pretence, that on the uſual day one R. was choſen and ſworn into the office; and therefore as there was an actual officer, they ought firſt to ouſt him.

But the court (on conſideration) held the writ ought to iſſue, the ſtatute ſaying, if no due election was made, and this of R. having no ſhadow of right: the intent of the ſtatute was to give the corporation a rightful officer as ſoon as might be, whereas this pretence would waſte the whole year; they ſaid, this was not laid down as a general rule, for it might be otherwiſe where there was a probable election, and room to doubt; and theſe writs were diſcretionary: beſides, there was no harm done, for it is not a peremptory mandamus, and they may return that he is the rightful officer. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1003.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. The King v. The Mayor, &c. of Derby.

Lord Hardwicke. This is a mandamus directed to the Mayor and Aldermen of Derby, bearing teſte the 14th day of June laſt, and returnable the firſt day of Trinity term, commanding them to reſtore S. S. to be a freeman of that borough; to which they have returned, that this was an ancient borough, by the name of Bailiff and Burgeſſes; that by a charter, 18 Car. 1. they were to have a Mayor and Burgeſſes. That the Mayor and Aldermen, and fourteen capital Burgeſſes, are a common council, and may make bye-laws, and let the lands, and tranſact the affairs of the corporation. That the Mayor, &c. in common council, may from time to time, for miſbehaviour, diſplace the common council-men from their offices, and may amove burgeſſes from being freemen. That S. was duly ſworn and admitted a burgeſs, and took the oath, which is, to be true to the Queen, and to aid and aſſiſt the Mayor, &c. and to be obedient to them in all lawful commands, and to obſerve ſuch rules and orders as ſhould be made by the common council for the good government of the corporation, and to yield and contribute to the good of the corporation, as far as he was able, and to uphold all the liberties thereof, &c. That on the 14th day of October 1718, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes, were aſſembled in common council, in the Guildhall of the town, to conſult about the common good of the coporation, and being ſo then aſſembled, the ſaid S. and ſeveral other perſons, contrary to his oath, and the duty of his office, in ſight of the Mayor, Aldermen, and common council, riotouſly aſſembled in the ſtreet, over againſt the Common-hall, to the diſturbance of the common council, and did then and there aſſault the conſtables appointed to keep the peace; and did then and there aſſault F. C. Eſq; an Alderman, and juſtice of peace of the ſaid borough, as he was going to the Common-hall, and prevented him from going to the buſineſs of the corporation, and did terrify, aſſault, and hinder ſeveral other perſons from going to the Common-hall: and though the Mayor made proclamation for them to depart, S. made a great noiſe and ſhouting, to deter and hinder the cryer from making the proclamation, and would not depart, and with great ſhouts did hinder the Mayor in the buſineſs aforeſaid. That S. thereon was ſummoned to appear and ſhew cauſe at the next common council why he ſhould not be difranchiſed; that afterwards the common council met, and continued aſſembled near two hours, and becauſe S. did not appear, nor ſhew cauſe to the contrary, they ordered he ſhould be disfranchiſed; and that he was disfranchiſed accordingly, and therefore they cannot reſtore him.

Several exceptions were taken to this return, but all of them were over-ruled but one, viz. what they have returned is a crime indictable at law, and therefore he ſhould have been convicted by a jury, before they could proceed to disfranchiſe him.

Per curiam. We are all of opinion that the cauſe here returned is ſufficient ground for his disfranchiſement without any prior conviction. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hard. p. 153.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. The Charitable Corporation v. Woodcroft.

In an action of covenant brought againſt the defendant, as ſecurity for J. T. late warehouſe keeper to the charitable corporation, the iſſue was, whether T. actually did receive ſome certain goods with which he was charged.

The defendant's council moved for liberty to inſpect the corporation books, as being public books.

The court doubted whether they were public books, and ſo would make no rule; but they told the council, he might give them notice to produce them at the trial. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 130.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. The King v. Ellis.

By the charter of New Romney, the new Mayor is to be ſworn before his predeceſſor. At the election there were two candidates, Ellis and Whitwick; Ellis had the majority, notwithſtanding which, the Mayor ordered Whitwick to be ſworn; on which the Town-clerk read the oath, and both Ellis and Whitwick had their hands on the book, and kiſſed it. On a trial of the iſſue, whether Ellis was duly ſworn, it was ruled by Eyre, Chief Juſtice, of C. B. at Maidſtone, that it was not a good ſwearing; for as it is to be the act of the Mayor, his aſſent muſt go along with it: and that there is no difference between ſwearing by and before a Mayor. And on a motion for a new trial, the court were of the ſame opinion, and judgment was given againſt the defendant. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 994.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Jordan.

On an information in the nature of a quo warranto againſt the defendant, for uſurping the office of a capital burgeſs of the borough of Weſtbury, the defendant ſet out a cuſtom for the Mayor and capital Burgeſſes, or the majority of them, if there be a vacancy among the capital Burgeſſes, to aſſemble and elect an inhabitant into the ſaid office, which is vacant; and that the perſon ſo elected may be ſworn and admitted at that or any future aſſembly. That there being two vacancies among the capital Burgeſſes, he was on the 18th day of October 1709, at an aſſembly then holden, elected into one of the ſaid two offices ſo being vacant; then he ſaid, that on the 16th day of September 1734, at an aſſembly then holden, he took the oath of office of a capital Burgeſs, and was then duly ſworn and admitted to the office of one of the capital Burgeſſes, the office being at that time vacant. The King's coroner replied, and admitted that he was choſen as in the plea, but not ſworn till 1734, though he had notice of his election; that ſubſequent vacancies happened and that the office into which he was elected was filled up in the year 1714, and that the vacancies happened, and that the whole number of capital Burgeſſes was filled up as often as any vacancies happened.

Lord Hardwicke. If his title depends on the cuſtom ſet out by him, which is a cuſtom, on a vacancy of a capital Burgeſs, to elect one into the office ſo vacant, who is at the ſame aſſembly, or any future aſſembly, to be ſworn into the ſaid office, that is, into the office into which he was elected; now, how has the defendant brought himſelf within the cuſtom? Why, by ſaying he was elected into the office then vacant, and afterwards ſworn to be a capital Burgeſs, the office of capital Burgeſs being then vacant, which is not all within the cuſtom, for he has not ſaid he was ſworn into the ſaid office. If a mandamus goes to admit, tho' that does not ſpecify the particular office, yet, if the return is traverſed, it comes out always on the pleadings what particular office; for every capital Burgeſs is a diſtinct office; and though in common parlance every one is ſaid to hold the ſame, that only means the ſame kind of office; ſo that I think there is no poſſibility to maintain the defendant's plea, as to this part. So judgment was given for the King. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 255.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Holliſter.

The court was moved for the common rule to inſpect the charter and corporation books, there being a rule made to ſhew cauſe why an information in nature of a quo warranto ſhould not go againſt the defendant.

Lord Hardwicke. I think we have done it of late on a rule to ſhew cauſe. So take it. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 245.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2 Kynaſton v. The Mayor, &c. of Shrewſbury.

On a mandamus to reſtore the plaintiff to the office of Alderman, it was returned, that at an aſſembly held on ſuch a day, the plaintiff for being abſent three years, was removed. And on a traverſe of every part of the return, a ſpecial verdict was found, that the removal was not on a charter day, ſo a ſummons of an aſſembly was neceſſary: the Mayor gave orders for a ſummons of all the members, but the ſerjeant being informed, and believing that one of the Aldermen was out of the ſummons, neglected to give him notice, tho' he had a houſe and family in the town, and accordingly returned him out of ſummons. And the court was of opinion, that it was not a regular aſſembly, for every member ſhould be ſummoned; and he had a right to debate as well as vote. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1051.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The Mayor, &c. of Wokingham in Berks.

In an action of debt on a bye-law, a ſpecial caſe was made, viz. that there is a bye-law in this corporation to this effect, that every inhabitant who is choſen a burgeſs, and refuſes to ſerve, ſhall forfeit 40 s. the defendant being a ſecondary burgeſs, was elected capital burgeſs, and refuſed; that the corporation conſiſts of a Mayor, capital burgeſſes, and ſecondary burgeſſes; and for the defendant's refuſal to be a capital burgeſs, this action was brought.

Lord Hardwicke. Here are two queſtions; 1ſt. Whether this bye-law is good or void? 2dly. Whether this refuſal of the defendant is within it? As to the firſt, it is void with reſpect to its extent to the perſons intended to be bound by it; or with reſpect to the ſubject matter. And I think it will be void in neither reſpect; nor in its extent; for it appears on the charter, which is here ſet out, on oyer prayed by the defendant, that the perſons incorporated are the inhabitants, and no diſtinction made between them and the burgeſſes, nor any mention of freemen, or approved men, but in general, inhabitants, and they are to be conſidered throughout the whole charter as the body to be governed: for the charter directs they ſhall make bye-laws for the better government of the inhabitants; and as the capital burgeſſes die, new ones are to be choſen out of the ſecondary burgeſſes; and if they die, new ones are to be choſen out of the inhabitants. Is the bye-law void then in reſpect of the ſubject matter? And how does it affect the defendant? And this is a more difficult conſideration; for if the conſtruction of the bye law is, that the words, inhabitant choſen a burgeſs, mean choſen a capital burgeſs, that would be a void bye-law, becauſe contrary to the charter; which directs only a ſecondary burgeſs to be choſen from among the inhabitants, like the caſe of the Mayor of Oxford v. Wildgrove, 3 Lev. 293. but I think the conſtruction muſt be, if any inhabitant choſen a ſecondary burgeſs, &c. becauſe an inhabitant, merely as ſuch, could not be a capital burgeſs, and then the bye-law is good; but then the bye-law inflicts no penalty for a refuſal of a capital burgeſs, and therefore I think judgment muſt be for the defendant.

And therefore the court unanimouſly gave judgment for the defendant. Vide Caſes Temp. Ld. Hard. page 284.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. The King v. Tomlyn and others.

On a motion for an information, quo warranto, againſt the defendants, who had been choſen jurats of the corporation of Maidſtone, by a ſelect number of the inhabitants; whereas the charter directs the choice to be by the inhabitants, which refers to a majority of the whole,

It was objected againſt granting the information, that there has been a long uſage to chooſe them in this manner.

Lord Hardwicke. Though according to the caſe of corporations in 4 Co. where a charter directs the election to be by the Mayor, jurats, and commonalty, the body may make a bye-law to veſt the power of election in any ſelect number; yet here the queſtion being, whether there is ſuch a bye-law or not? The court cannot determine that on motion, but it muſt be tried; and therefore, in the caſe of Brecknock, tho' the ſpecial verdict found that the defendant's election was according to a very long uſage, yet not having found expreſsly that there was a bye law for that purpoſe, judgment was given againſt the defendant; for no uſage, how long ſoever, in caſe of a corporation by charter, can ſupport an election made otherwiſe than according to the records of the charter, unleſs the jury find there was a bye-law for that purpoſe; though poſſibly it may be otherwiſe in caſe of a corporation by preſcription.

The court therefore granted an information. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hard. p. 316.

Hilary, 11 Geo. 2. Boſworth v. Hearne.

On the return of an hab. corp. it appeared, that the ſuit was brought by the Chamberlain of London, on a bye-law made 15 Car. 2. that no drayman or brewer's ſervant ſhould be abroad in the ſtreets with his dray or cart after one o'clock in the afternoon, between Michaelmas and Lady-day, and from thence after eleven in the forenoon, under the penalty of 20 s. and a cuſtom was returned for the city's having the regulation of carts.

It was agreed both at bar and bench, that ſuch a cuſtom may be good: but that without a cuſtom the bye-law would be void: and the only queſtion diſputed was, whether this was a reaſonable reſtraint?

The court ſaid, that this was only a regulation of trade, of which the city was the beſt judge; it was enough, that it did not appear unreaſonable in itſelf. And that within the reaſon on which many of the city bye-laws had been held good, they were warranted in granting a procedendo. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1085.

Michaelmas, 19 Geo. 2. The Weavers Company, qui tam, &c. v. Forreſt and four Others, on ſeparate Actions.

The company brought actions as common informers, for the penalties in ſtat. 7 Geo. 2. cap. 7. for ſelling printed callico, and ſet out their charter, to ſhew they had power to ſue and be ſued, with a profert. The defendants demanded oyer, and had a copy of the charter delivered to them; after which they put in the general iſſue of nil debet, taking no notice of the oyer. The plaintiffs made up the iſſue, and inſerted the prayer and oyer at the head of the pleas, and demanded to be paid for it; on which the court was moved to expunge it, for though the defendants have a right to ſee whether the plaintiffs may ſue, yet they are not bound to inſert the oyer, but may plead to the merits.

On the other hand it was inſiſted, that the demand and giving oyer is an act of the court, whoſe acts either party has a right to record. And Carthew 301. Lord Raym. 969. 1055. 1 Saund. 306 Lutw. 680. 1 Vent. 37. 2 Mod. 189. Cro. Jac. 679. Co. Lit. 260. a. were cited.

But the court held, that if the plaintiffs would avail themſelves of the letters patent being ſet out at large, they ought to do it by praying them to be inrolled at the head of their replication, and ought not to do it at the defendants expence, and therefore ordered the oyer to be expunged. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1241.

Hilary. 30 Geo. 2. The Maſter &c. of the Vintners Company v. Paſſey.

On an action of debt brought againſt the defendant by the company, on a bye-law, the defendant pleaded ſeveral pleas, viz.

1ſt, Nil debet. i. e. that he was not indebted.

2dly, That there are 12 greater livery companies in London, and other inferior companies, and that an order was made at a court holden before the Mayor and Aldermen, &c. on, &c. at, &c. at which court it was enacted, &c. that no perſon ſhould take on himſelf the livery of any company, being one of the ſaid 12 companies, &c. unleſs he ſhould have an eſtate of 1000 l. &c. and the defendant by his plea averred, that this was one of the 12 companies, and that he had no ſuch eſtate, &c. and therefore was not duly elected.

The plaintiff demurred to the defendant's ſecond plea, and his council offered the following cauſes of demurrer.

1ſt, That the plea does not ſet out by what authority the court which made this order was holden.

2dly, The court is uncertain, for many courts are holden before the Mayor and Aldermen, and it does not follow which of them this is.

3dly, It does not follow what authority the court of the Lord Mayor and Aldermen had to make this order.

The defendant joined in demurrer, and after the ſame was argued by the council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. The plea is admitted to be bad, however one anſwer ſtrikes me, which is, That nil debet may be pleaded, if the party was really unqualified.

The defendant being a liveryman of the company, he ought to know when the next court is, and therefore this objection has but little weight.

Deniſon Juſtice. We can never ſuppoſe the company would chuſe perſons not qualified. If they do ſo, nil debet will bring the matter in iſſue before the court. The order of the Mayor, &c. cannot be taken on this record, becauſe that plea is given up, and therefore the notice ſhall be ſuppoſed to be regular.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 235.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Green v. The Mayor of Durham.

On a verdict found on ſix ſeveral traverſes, to the return of a mandamus, on ſtat. 9*th Ann*, cap. 20. directed to the Mayor of Durham, commanding him to ſwear and admit the plaintiff into the place and office of a freeman of the company or fraternity of free-maſons, &c. of the ſaid city.

The right claimed by the plaintiff was his having been duly elected and admitted a freeman of the company, and the objection to his being ſworn was, that he had not conformed to certain bye-laws, &c. mentioned in the return to the mandamus, and found by the verdict.

The ſeveral bye-laws were ſtated to the court, and after hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. We are of opinion, that none of the objections taken to the bye-laws are well founded, and that the return to the writ of mandamus ought to be allowed, and judgment be entered for the defendant. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 30 Geo. 2. The Chamberlain of London v. Godman.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe againſt iſſuing a writ of procedendo to a writ of habeas corpus directed to the Mayor, &c. of London, commanding them to bring up the body of the defendant, together with the cauſe, &c. to which the following return was made, viz.

That there is a cuſtom in London, "That if any antient cuſtom, hard and defective in any thing newly ariſing, wants amendment, the mayor and aldermen, with the conſent of the commonalty, have always, &c. appointed a fit remedy for the common good of the citizens, ſo as ſuch their ordinances be conſonant to faith and reaſon, and in no wiſe prejudicial to the King or his people, nor repugnant to the laws or ſtatutes of England; and that the cuſtoms of London are confirmed by ſtat. 7. Rich. 2.

That within the city of London, there is a company of butchers, and that at a common council holden on the 27th June 20 Geo. 2. the mayor, &c. made an ordinance, "That whereas many perſons who exerciſe the trade of butchers, have obtained freedoms of other companies, by redemption or otherwiſe, by reaſon whereof the company of butchers is much diminiſhed and fallen into decay: for remedy thereof, It is ordained, That every perſon, not being already free of the city, occupying, uſing, or exerciſing, or who ſhall occupy, uſe, or exerciſe the art, trade, or myſtery of a butcher, within the ſaid city or its liberties, ſhall take on himſelf the freedom of the company of butchers, and that no perſon now uſing, or who ſhall hereafter uſe or exerciſe the trade of a butcher within the ſaid city or liberties, ſhall be admitted into the freedom of the ſaid city by the chamberlain thereof, of or in any other company than the ſaid company of butchers, Provided always, That every perſon, not being already free of the ſaid city, who are or ſhall be entitled to the freedom of any other company by patrimony or ſervice, ſhall be admitted into this company of butchers, on payment of a like fine and fees, as are uſually paid on the admiſſion of a child or apprentice."

And it is further enacted, "That if any perſon or perſons, (except ſuch as are free, &c.) ſhall uſe the trade of a butcher, not being free of this company of butchers, he, &c. ſhall pay 5 l." And directions are therein given how ſuch penalty ſhall be levied, and alſo concerning coſts.

And by the ſaid return it was further certified, "That the defendant was taken on an action brought againſt him in the Mayor's court of London, for the penalty of this bye-law.

After hearing council on both ſides on this matter, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. This bye-law is a reſtraint of trade, and not a mere regulation of it. The preamble don't pretend it to be made to regulate the trade, but merely for the benefit of the butchers company: it is founded on the general power of making bye-laws in the city of London.

Under a general power to make bye-laws, it is certain that a bye-law cannot be made to reſtrain trade.

By the general cuſtom of London, every freeman may exerciſe any trade, without being free of a particular company, which this bye-law requires him to be. We cannot take judicial notice of any particular cuſtom ſupporting ſuch a bye-law as this, when no ſuch particular cuſtom is ſet out, and it certainly is not good, under the general power which is ſet out.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. The bye-law is bad, therefore the rule to ſhew cauſe, why a procedendo ſhould not iſſue, muſt be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 12.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Richardſon.

On a general demurrer brought by the King's Coroner and Attorney, to the defendant's plea to an information, in nature of a quo warranto, exhibited againſt the defendant, to ſhew by what authority he claimed to be one of the portmen of the town or borough of Ipſwich.

After this caſe was ſeveral times argued, it was reduced to this general queſtion.

"Whether the defendant has ſhewn a ſufficient title to the office." Which general queſtion was divided into two ſubordinate queſtions, viz.

1ſt, Whether the nine portmen had been well and duly removed, and admitting they were well removed,

2dly, Whether the defendant was well choſen.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. The general queſtion on the plea is, whether the defendant has ſet out a good title to the office of a portman of the town or borough of Ipſwich.

It is clear from the plea, that the portmen had full notice of the charge againſt them, and full opportunity to have been heard, and therefore I lay all the objections on that head out of the caſe; but if the charge was inſufficient, they had no occaſion to defend themſelves. This brings the whole to this queſtion.

"Whether an abſence from four occaſional great courts, and one on a ſtated day ſo circumſtanced, is a ſufficient cauſe of amotion." There is no authority which ſays it is, and it is not neceſſary, and would be highly improper at preſent, to ſay what kind of abſence, or under what circumſtances non-attendance may be a cauſe of forfeiture; it is ſufficient that the abſence, with all the circumſtances alledged by this plea, is not a cauſe, and we are clearly of opinion, that the cauſe of a motion alledged, and relied on in the plea, is not a ſufficient cauſe of amotion.

Per curiam. Let judgment be entered for the King. Vide Bur. vol 1. p 517.

Hil. 32 Geo. 2. The King v. The Mayor, Bailiffs, and Common Council of the Town of Liverpoole.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 200 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Mich. 33 Geo. 2. The King v. The Maſter and Wardens of the Company of Surgeons in London.

This cauſe ſtood in the crown paper, on a return to a mandamus directed to the maſter and wardens of the company of ſurgeons of London, ſtating a cuſtom of that city, that every freeman of the ſaid city, uſing and exerciſing the art, ſcience, or myſtery of ſurgery within the ſaid city, has a right in reſpect thereof, to have and take apprentices of the age of 14 years or upwards, to be educated and inſtructed in the ſaid art, ſcience, or myſtery, for the ſpace of ſeven years, which ſaid apprentices have been uſed and accuſtomed to be admitted and bound, in the preſence, or with the conſent of the maſter and wardens, or ſome of them." And it further ſet forth, that R. G. a freeman of the ſaid city, and of the ſaid company, being deſirous of taking his ſon aged 15 years, to be his apprentice for the term of ſeven years, had often offered him to be admitted and bound, before the ſaid maſter and wardens, or ſome of them, as his ſaid apprentice for the term of ſeven years, according to the ſaid cuſtom, but they refuſed ſo to do.

The company to this mandamus returned, that by a bye-law of the ſaid company, no perſon was to be bound apprentice to the ſaid art, ſcience, or myſtery, who ſhould not underſtand the Latin tongue; that the ſon of the ſaid R. G. was examined accordingly, and was found entirely ignorant of the Latin tongue, wherefore they refuſed to permit him to be bound as aforeſaid.

It was argued for the King, that this was an inſufficient return, for that the bye-law is a bad one, being made in reſtraint of a natural, general, and common right.

If the bye-law is bad, this young man's not underſtanding Latin will not cure it; the bye-law does not expreſsly forbid ſuch a perſon to be admitted, it is not mandatory, but only directory.

The council for the company riſing to ſupport the return,

Lord Mansfield ſaid it was too plain a caſe to argue.

Per curiam. Let the return be allowed. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 892.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. Oldknow v. Wainwright, or the King v. Foxcroft.

This caſe of Oldknow v. Wainwright was a feigned action, under a rule by conſent to try a right of election to the office of town-clerk of Nottingham, and the ſame rule was made in the cauſe of The King v. Foxcroft, againſt whom an information had been brought by one Seagrave, his competitor.

The queſtion before the court was, whether Seagrave was duly elected into the office of town-clerk?

After hearing the council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. In this caſe there was an aſſembly duly ſummoned. One candidate was named, no other was named. The poll was taken, they had no right to ſtop in the middle of the election; the Mayor did not put any queſtion for adjournment, nor was there any.

Whenever electors are preſent, and do not vote at all, (as they have done here) they virtually acquieſce in the election made by thoſe who do.

Wilmot, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment be entered for the defendant. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1017.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 3. The King v. Sir Thomas Harriſon, Chamberlain of London.

A writ of mandamus having iſſued, directed to the Chamberlain of London, to admit W. C. into the freedom of the ſaid city, having ſerved an apprenticeſhip to J. C. a freeman of the company of cloth-workers, and afterwards admitted himſelf into the freedom of the ſaid company.

The return ſet forth the cuſtoms of the city, touching freemen, and that within the ſaid city there was a certain antient ſociety or company of perſons, uſing the freedom and myſtery of butchers, and that by a bye-law, made at a common council of the ſaid city, on the 20th of June, 1727, for regulating the company of butchers, It was enacted, That from and after the 29th day of September next, every perſon not being already free of this city, uſing the trade of a butcher, within the ſaid city or the liberties thereof, ſhall be made a freeman of the company of butchers, and that no other perſon not ſo admitted as aforeſaid, ſhould exerciſe the ſaid trade in the ſaid city, &c.

And the ſaid return further ſet forth the apprenticeſhip of the ſaid W. C. and his preſentment to the Chamberlain to be admitted, which he refuſed to do for the reaſon aforeſaid.

The council for the proſecutor of the writ argued, that this bye-law was totally void,

1ſt. Becauſe this bye-law is beyond their juriſdiction.

2dly. The cauſe of making it is inſufficient.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. This is a regulation of a very extenſive trade, that concerns every body who eats in the city of London.

It is not neceſſary that all the reaſons of the bye-law ſhould be given in the preamble of it.

Deniſon, Juſtice. I think this is a very good bye-law, and the objections are of no weight.

Foſter and Wilmot Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the return be allowed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1322.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. The Vice Chancellor, &c. of Cambridge.

On an application to this court for a mandamus to complete the election of the Earl of Hardwicke into the office of High Steward of the univerſity of Cambridge, after hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. There are three queſtions that ariſe on this caſe:

1ſt. On the validity of Lord Hardwicke's election.

2dly. If his right be clear, then whether a mandamus is a proper remedy.

3dly. If it is, then how it ought to be directed.

As to the firſt queſtion, there does not ſeem to be the leaſt contradiction as to matter of fact among the witneſſes on the two different ſides, though they differ in opinion as to the right reſulting from them.

It is contended, that the election of High Steward ought to have been in the ſame mode as the election of a Vice Chancellor, and this is reſted on the ſtatutes of Queen Elizabeth.

There is a vaſt deal of difference between a new charter granted to a new corporation (who muſt take it as it is given) and a new charter given to a corporation already in being, and acting either under a former charter, or under a preſcriptive uſage; the latter, a corporation already exiſting are not obliged to accept a new charter in toto, i. e. in the whole, and to receive either all or none of it; they may act partly under it, and partly under their old charter.

Whatever might be the notion in former times, it is moſt certain now, that the corporations of the univerſity are lay corporations, and that the crown cannot take away from them any rights that have been formerly ſubſiſting in them under old charters, or preſcriptive uſage.

The ſtatutes of Queen Elizabeth cannot be ſet up to invalidate eſtabliſhments ſubſiſting long before ſhe was born. Therefore, I am clear that the mode and manner of this election was right.

Then as to the right of Lord Hardwicke under it.

The election was quite fair; the little miſtake in the marking was immediately ſet right, but diſputes ariſing on another matter, the congregation was diſſolved.

The next queſtion is, as to the remedy:

There is no other than what is now applied for, and this is the reaſon of the court's iſſuing the prerogative writ of mandamus.

The laſt queſtion is, how the mandamus ought to be directed.

The arguments uſed by the council for Lord Hardwicke are full and ſufficient, that the rule for a mandamus ought to be founded on the merits of the election, and not on the declaration of the proctors; therefore the mandamus ought to go to the keepers of the ſeal for the time being, requiring and commanding them to put the ſeal of the univerſity to the inſtrument of his appointment, and the two former parts of the rule ought to be diſcharged.

Wilmot, Yates, and Aſton, Juſtices, went fully into the matter, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice, that a mandamus ought to iſſue, &c.

Per curiam. Let the rule be drawn up in the manner we have directed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1647.

Hilary, 6 Geo. 3. The King v. Spencer, Common Councilman of Maidſtone.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why judgment ſhould not be arreſted in this cauſe on the following objection,

That the bye-law under which the defendant juſtified his election into the office, was a bad bye-law, as it reſtrains and narrows the number of electors, without any authority from the charter, and even contrary thereto, &c.

“ The charter directs the nomination and election
“ of common-council men to be by the Mayor, jurats,
“ and commonalty, and their ſucceſſors, or the majo“ rity of them, out of the principal inhabitants of the “ ſaid town and pariſh.

“ The new letters patent of incorporation bear date on “ the 17th day of June, 21ſt Geo. 2. and incorporate “ them by the name of Mayor, jurats, and common“ alty; to conſiſt of a Mayor, thirteen jurats, (in“ cluding the Mayor) and forty common-council
“ men. And power is granted to the Mayor, jurats,
“ and common-council to make bye-laws.”

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. From the caſes cited or alluded to, it appears to me, that where the power of making bye-laws is by charter given to the ſelect body, they do not repreſent the whole community, and therefore cannot aſſume to themſelves what belongs to the body at large; but where the power of making bye-laws is in the body at large, they may delegate their right to a ſelect body, who become the repreſentative of the whole community. I am therefore clearly of opinion that it is a null and void bye-law.

Wilmot, Yates, and Aſton, Juſtices, delivered their opinions at large, and clearly concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be arreſted. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1827.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. The Mayor and Commonalty of Colcheſter v. Seaber, Executor of William Seaber, his late Father.

On an action of debt brought on a bond, &c. a verdict was agreed to be given for the plaintiffs, ſubject to the opinion of the court on the following queſtion: whether the preſent corporation could maintain this action?

After hearing the council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. I am clear on principles of law, that the old corporation was not abſolutely diſſolved and annihilated, though they had loſt their magiſtracy, and that by virtue of the new charter, they are ſo revived as to be entitled to the credits, and liable to the debts of the old corporation.

Wilmot, Yates, and Aſton, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice, that in the preſent caſe the corporation was not diſſolved, and that judgment ought to be for the plaintiffs.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiffs. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1866.

Coſts.

Hilary, 2 W. & M. Cone v. Bowles.

Judgment was given in C. B. for the avowant, and damages, and coſts; and the plaintiff in replevin, brought a writ of error in this court, where the judgment was affirmed.

And now a motion was made, that the avowant might have coſts, on ſtat. 3 H. 7. cap. 19. which enacts, that the plaintiff ſhall recover coſts and damages, where the defendant brings a writ of error to delay the execution of the judgment.

That the avowant here is in nature of a plaintiff, and has a judgment of retorn. habend. given, and is within the reaſon of that ſtatute, becauſe his execution is delayed by ſuch writ of error, as well as the judgments obtained by plaintiffs in other actions, and ſo conſequently alſo is within the equity of ſtat. 3. Jac. cap. 8. which appoints bail to be given in a writ of error to proſecute it with effect, and to pay all coſts and damages to be awarded for delaying of execution. But the court allowed no coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 7.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Willett v. Tiddy.

On an indeb. aſſump. for money received to the plaintiff's uſe; the defendant juſtifies as collector of aid of the King by parliament given, by a diſtreſs warranted by the ſtatute, and found for the defendant, and if he ſhould have treble coſts by the ſtatute given, for being ſued in the exerciſe of his office, was the queſtion on motion. And it was urged, that this is not a matter concerning his office; for it may be for money received to his own uſe, or for the overplus of diſtreſs not returned; and whereas an action was brought by preſentment in the eccleſiaſtical court againſt a conſtable, and found for him, it was adjudged out of ſtat. 7 Jac. c. 5. for it does not directly touch his office. 1 Cro. 285. Jones 305. So in an action on the caſe for falſe preſentment by a conſtable, that the plaintiff's lands were in the pariſh of S. it was adjudged, that he could not have double coſts by ſtat. 7 Jac. becauſe the queſtion wholly ariſes on the place where the lands are, and not on the duty of the conſtable. 1 Cro. 467.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, inclined to that opinion, for if the action was brought for overplus not returned, this does not touch his office, and he does not uſe the ſtatute for his defence: but becauſe it was certified by the judge of aſſize, that it was within the ſtatute, the defendant had treble coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 6.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Gale v. Till.

An adminiſtrator brought a writ of error to reverſe a judgment againſt himſelf, but the judgment was affirmed; and a motion was made that he might pay coſts; becauſe it was his own fault to bring a writ of error to delay the plaintiff, and to put him to charge; and where an adminiſtrator is guilty of any wrong or injury done, which lies within his own knowledge, and which he might prevent, if there is judgment againſt him, coſts muſt be paid.

Per curiam. By ſtat. 3 Jac. it is enacted, that no execution ſhall be ſtaid by writ of error, unleſs the plaintiff in the ſaid writ give bail to the plaintiff in the action in double the ſum recovered, to pay the debts, damages, and coſts, if the judgment ſhould be affirmed; it is always held, that an adminiſtrator, who brings a writ of error, ſhall not give bail, though he is not exempted by the ſtatute, neither ſhall he pay coſts in this caſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 244.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. The Maſter, Warden, and Company of Cutlers in Highamſhire, v. Buſkin.

In debt on a bye law for 40 s. penalty, that a cutler ſhall keep no more than one apprentice; it was aſſigned for breach, that the defendant took and kept two perſons as apprentices, and ſo did not ſay they were apprentices.

Per curiam. The deſign of the company in this bye-law was, to hinder any member from qualifying more than one at a time; but if he had taken one to live with him in the exerciſe of the trade for ſeven years, this is a ſufficient qualification, though the party is never bound as an apprentice; and he ſhall have equal privileges with one bound.

The plaintiffs council then moved for coſts, the action being brought for a ſum certain of 40 s. as a penalty.

Per curiam. That is a ſettled caſe, and coſts were awarded, with this difference put by Holt, Chief Juſtice: where the action is brought by the party aggrieved, and the penalty certain, he ſhall have coſts, becauſe the defendant ought to have paid it without ſuit; and when a penalty is given to the party grieved, it is certain to whom payment ought to be made; but where brought by a common informer, he ſhall not; for he is altogether uncertain, and has no title to the money till he brings his action, and it is that veſts an intereſt in him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 46.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. Roop v. Scritch.

In an action of treſpaſs, ſeveral treſpaſſes were ſet forth, and the defendant was found not guilty as to all but one, which was, walking with his feet, to the damage of 5 s. and no more.

This cauſe began originally in an inferior court, and was removed hither; and the court allowed full coſts, though the damages were ſo ſmall. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 378.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. Roberts v. Cook.

An ejectment was brought in the C. B. and a verdict given for the plaintiff, but he had no coſts; and now the defendant in that action brought a new ejectment in this court againſt the ſame plaintiff; and it was moved, that he might have his coſts before he ſhould be compelled to plead to the new action.

But it was not granted, becauſe he had no vexation, the verdict being for him; but if it had been againſt him, or that he had been nonſuited, he ſhould not have brought another action before the coſts of the ſuit had been paid, becauſe it was a vexation to bring a new action. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 379.

Mich. 6 W. & M. Sir Wilfred Lawſon v. Story.

It is enacted by ſtat. 2 W. & M. ſect. 1. cap. 5. that on any pound breach or reſcous of goods deſtrained for rent, that the perſon grieved ſhall have a ſpecial action on the caſe, and recover treble damages and coſts of ſuit againſt the offenders, &c. Now the queſtion on a motion was, whether the coſts ſhould be trebled in ſuch an action, as well as the damages? and the defendant's council argued that they ſhould not, becauſe at common law, the word damna included as well damages as coſts, and therefore, if the ſtatute had given treble damages without ſaying more, the coſts had been trebled alſo. But now when the parliament inſerts the word coſts after the word damages, it ſhews, that it was not their intent that coſts ſhould be included in the word damages, for then it had been in vain to inſert the word coſts; but it was their intention to make a diſtinction between the coſts and damages. And by the omiſſion of the word treble when the coſts are ſpoken of, it is apparent it was their intent that the parties ſhould recover treble damages, but only ſingle coſts. But not allowed.

Per curiam. The word treble ſhall he referred as well to the word coſts, as to the word damages. And therefore it was adjudged, that the coſts ſhould be treble alſo. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 19.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. Chamberlain v. Huetſon or Hewſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 204 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Reynolds v. Oſborn.

A motion was made for coſts on a verdict in treſpaſs, for breaking his cloſe and his ſoil, and 1 s. damages was given; it was argued, that it was not within ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 9. which does not extend to voluntary, but involuntary treſpaſſes only; as walking over the ground.

Rokeby, Juſtice. I remember a caſe in C. B. where it was laid, that he turned up the ſoil with a plough; and coſts were allowed. And what difference in that from this?

Chief Juſtice. Ploughing a man's ſoil is quite another thing; the ſtatute extends to treſpaſs on the freehold, and not to any treſpaſs on goods and chattels: it will be an hard matter for you to get coſts here. In the caſe of whereby he loſt the ſervice, the coſts are not there given for the battery, but for the degree of it, viz. the lyſs of the ſervice. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 74.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. The King v. Edwards.

Per curiam. The King ſhall pay coſts for an amendment, but ſhall not pay coſts for not going to trial; but where there is a proſecution, he ſhall pay coſts for amendments, and for not going to trial; but then, there muſt be an affidavit of the name of the perſon who is the proſecutor, for that does not appear by the indictment: and if the defendant does not know the proſecutor, he ought to apply to the Attorney General, who will inform him. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 193.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Bigland v. Robinſon.

Adjudged, that where executors ſue on any contract of their teſtator, or for any wrong done to him, they ſhall pay no coſts, either on a nonſuit or verdict againſt them; ſo wherever he muſt ſue as executor; as for inſtance, an executor brought an action of debt on a bond due to his teſtator, and the defendant pleaded payment of the money to himſelf, viz. to the executor, on which they were at iſſue, and a verdict given againſt the plaintiff, yet he paid no coſts; but if he had brought the money into court, then the plaintiff muſt proceed at his peril. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 105.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Blachly v. Fry.

In an action of treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, and for cutting his corn, and carrying it away; the jury found the defendant guilty of all, but carrying away, and the plaintiff's council moved for full coſts on ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 9.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where the title muſt be claimed where the treſpaſs is done, or the title may come in queſtion, there ſhall be full coſts. In Stroud's caſe, for entering his cloſe, and digging his turf, full coſts were allowed; but the judge of aſſize, viz. North, Chief Juſtice, certified, that the freehold came in queſtion. So in judge Eyre's caſe, in an action on the caſe for ſtopping his way. Adjourned. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 193.

Hilary, 8 & 9 W. 3. Bellaſis v. Burbriche.

Adjudged, that where the party aggrieved brings an action on a penal law, he ſhall have coſts, if he recovers; but otherwiſe, if it be brought by a common informer. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 170.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Anonymous.

A motion was made, that a pauper might pay coſts, for not going on to a trial.

Per curiam. He pays no coſts unleſs on a nonſuit, or where the verdict is found againſt him, and then he ſhall pay coſts, or be whipped. See ſtat. 23 Hen. 8. c. 15. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 107.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Anonymous.

By a private act of parliament, it was enacted, that if a trial be between two inhabitants of Newcaſtle upon Tine, and the damages not exceeding 40 s. that in ſuch caſe the plaintiff ſhall have no judgment, but the defendant ſhall have coſts. An indebitatus aſſumpſit was brought, and a verdict given for the plaintiff, and 30 s. damages; and the queſtion was, how the defendant ſhould have his coſts? And now, a motion was made, that this matter might be ſuggeſted on the roll: but the Chief Juſtice ſaid, that the judge of the inferior court ſhould have directed the jury to find for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 367.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Toms or Thomas v. Lloyd.

In an action on the caſe for money received to the plaintiff's uſe; the defendant pleaded his privilege in the Exchequer, whereon the plaintiff demurred; and judgment was given for the defendant, who prayed coſts by virtue of ſtat. 8 & 9. W. 3. c. 11. whereby it is enacted, that for preventing frivolous and vexatious ſuits, that if, on any demurrer, judgment ſhall be given againſt the plaintiff, the defendant ſhall have judgment to recover his coſts.

But the court were of opinion, that judgment on demurrer on a plea in abatement for the defendant, is not within this ſtatute; the intent of the ſtatute being only to give the defendant coſts, where the plaintiff ſhould have it, if the judgment had been given for him. Now, if the plaintiff had judgment on demurrer, in a plea in abatement, he has then no coſts, tho' there be ſome conſideration thereof, at the end of the cauſe, in coſts. Beſides, the intent of the ſtatute is, to prevent frivolous and vexatious ſuits; and on a judgment for the defendant on a plea in abatement, it does not appear to the court, that the action is either frivolous or vexatious; ſo that it muſt be underſtood of a demurrer, where there is a judgment final. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 195.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Coot v. Lynch.

The queſtion in this caſe was, whether a judgment given in this court on a writ of error on a judgment in Ireland could be executed in England for the coſts? For that execution had been taken out againſt the party who was here in England.

Chief Juſtice. Whatever judgment the court gives here, muſt be executed in Ireland: here can be no teſtatum go into a foreign country, the original judgment being given in Ireland. Would you execute a judgment by piece-meals? Shall you execute an acceſſary part of a judgment, when the principal judgment cannot be executed here?

Rokeby, Juſtice. Execution muſt follow the nature of the original action, and this court is to ſend a mandate to the judges in Ireland, to ſee that the judgment which was given here, be put in execution there.

Chief Juſtice. I am of opinion that this execution ought to be ſet aſide, and let a ſuperſedeas iſſue, becauſe he has erroneouſly, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. page 421.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Grant v. Baily.

Per curiam. The reaſon why an executor, being defendant, or plaintiff on a nonſuit, ſhall pay no coſts, is, becauſe the ſuit being in auter droit, he may well be thought miſconuſant of the truth of the cauſe of action. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 440.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. The King v. The Inhabitants of Shipping Farrington.

Per curiam. If a new trial be granted for irregularity, there ſhall be no coſts paid for it; but if a defence is made, it may help the irregularity. If a new trial be on the merits of the cauſe, there muſt be coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 370.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Boiture v. Woolrick.

In an action of treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, for an aſſault, battery, and wounding, and for diſturbing of him in his quiet poſſeſſion, &c. on not guilty pleaded, a general verdict was given for the plaintiff, and damages under 40*s*. and the court was moved to have full coſts, becauſe the defendant was found guilty of a wounding, and diſturbance of the quiet poſſeſſion.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The practice has been always otherwiſe; and I do not remember ſuch a motion to have been made.

Gould, Juſtice, ſaid, that he had moved ſuch a motion, as to the peaceable poſſeſſion, in this court, but it was denied him. This motion therefore was denied. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 566.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. The King v. Purſey.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. When proceedings are ſet aſide for irregularity, there ſhall never be coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 435.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Ballards v. Gerard.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The defendant ſhall have coſts on judgment for him on demurrer in abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 608.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The late ſtatute giving the defendants coſts, does not extend to a judgment for him on demurrer, to a plea in abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 523.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If on notice of trial, the defendant draws his briefs, retains councils, and makes ready his witneſſes before that notice is countermanded, on affidavit thereof, and motion, he ſhall have ſuch coſts as the maſter ſhall tax. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 560.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury v. Fuller.

An action of treſpaſs was brought in an inferior court, and the defendant removed the cauſe by habeas corpus into this court. And on not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and 12*d* damages. And the court was moved for full coſts, becauſe this cauſe being removed by habeas corpus out of an inferior court, was not within ſtat. 22. & 23. Car. 2. c. 9. and ſo it was held by Northey and the practiſers, to be the courſe on actions removed out of the Marſhalſea, and other inferior courts. And ſo it was ruled here. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 395.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Baſs v. Firmen.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 242 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Brown v. Gibbons and Wife.

In an action on the caſe for words ſpoke of the wife, whereby the huſband loſt his cuſtomers; and a verdict under 40*s*. damages given; the queſtion was whether there ſhould be more coſts than damages? and it was ſaid, this was not damages for the words, but for the conſequential damages; which, it was urged, was not within the ſtatute; and it was ſaid to have been adjudged, that in an action brought by the maſter, for battery of his ſervant, he ſhall not be held lower in coſts by reaſon of the lowneſs of damages; and ſo it was ſaid for ſlandering a man's title; and the court agreed to the diverſity between actions for words actionable in themſelves, and by reaſon of conſequential damage. And here the judgment was entered with a blank for coſts, which the court were offended at, for it could not be filled after. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 129. Raym. vol. 2. p. 831.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The King v. Summers.

The defendant was indicted for a treſpaſs, and alſo for a riot; and on not guilty pleaded, it was removed into this court by certiorari, and the defendant went before the maſter who taxed the coſts; and the court was moved that he might go before the maſter again, that the proſecutor might be conſidered in the coſts for his charges below, the maſter having only taxed coſts in reſpect to the charges ſince the certiorari.

Per curiam. The maſter ought not to conſider the charges below, but only on the certiorari.

Then it was moved to aggravate the fine, but that was denied, ſince the party had been before the maſter, and if he inſiſted on it, the court would ſet aſide the coſts already taxed. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 105.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Clerk.

Per curiam. An information tried at the bar, is notwithſtanding the late ſtatute of giving coſts againſt the proſecutor; for that ſays, the party ſhall enter into a recognizance of 20*l*. and that the party ſhall have a ſcire facias thereupon, but 20*l*. would be too ſmall coſts, in the caſe of a trial at bar. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 47.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Smith v. Walker and Nois.

In replevin for taking of cattle at a place called A. the defendants pleaded that they took them at a place called B. abſque hoc, that they took them at A. The plaintiff confeſſed it; and thereupon the defendant's council moved to have coſts; and cited Cro. Eliz. 329. Haſlop v. Chaplin. Cro. Jac. 520. Samuel v. Hoder. Cro. Car. 497. James v. Tutney, that the defendants in replevin, after judgment for them on demurrer, ſhall have coſts. And after ſeveral motions, the court delivered their opinion as follows.

Per curiam. The defendants in this caſe cannot have coſts, becauſe the plaintiff is not barred from having another replevin, and driven to his writ of ſecond deliverance; liverance; but notwithſtanding this confeſſion, and the abatement of this writ, he may have a new replevin. But it had been otherwiſe, if he had been barred, from having another writ of replevin, by this.

And if iſſue had been joined on the place of taking, and found for the defendants, they would have had coſts. Therefore coſts were denied by the whole court. Vide Raym. vol 2. p. 788.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Dr. Watſon's Caſe.

Per curiam. An adminiſtrator ſhall pay coſts for not going to trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 118.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Goodwin v. Hilton.

Per curiam. An executor ſhall pay coſts for not going on to trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 97.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Elwes, Executrix of Elwes v. Mocata.

The plaintiff brought an indebitatus aſſumpſit for monies received after the death of the teſtator by the defendant, to the uſe of the plaintiff as executrix, &c. On non aſſumpſit pleaded, the plaintiff was nonſuited. And now ſhe brought a new action, and the defendant moved to have coſts, before the plaintiff ſhould be permitted to proceed. And 1 Vent. 109. Cro. Car. 219. Atkey v. Heard were cited; where an adminiſtratrix nonſuited in trover, brought by her on a converſion in her own time, paid coſts. And here ſhe might have ſued, without naming herſelf executrix.

Per curiam. In trover, ſhe might have ſued without naming herſelf executrix, if the goods were once in her poſſeſſion; but otherwiſe in this caſe, for theſe debts are not aſſets till recovered.

Note. In another action between the ſame parties, the plaintiff paid coſts, for not going to trial according to notice. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 865.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Garland v. Extend or Exton.

The defendant having pleaded in abatement, the plaintiff demurred, and judgment was given for the defendant; when the court was moved to have coſts on ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. but it was denied, for the judgment in this caſe is not given on the merits, but that the bill be quaſhed; and the ſtatute only meant to give coſts, where the merits of the cauſe was determined on the demurrer. If judgment had been for the plaintiff on this demurrer, it had not been final, but only a reſpondeas ouſter, and the plaintiff could have had no coſts by the ſtatute, which therefore ought to have the ſame expoſition as to the defendant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 194. Raym. vol. 2. p. 992.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Garden v. Exon.

Per cur. There ſhall be no coſts for a defendant on a judgment on demurrer to a plea in abatement, for the ſtatute is to be intended only of a judgment on demurrer, on the merits of the caſe; for if there were judgment of reſpondeas ouſter for the plaintiff, he ſhould have no coſts, and the caſe of Thomas v. Loyd was cited, where the ſame had been reſolved before. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 88.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Fanſhaw v. Morriſon.

On a judgment given in C. B. on a ſcire facias, on a recognizance by bail on a writ of error, that the original plaintiff ſhould have execution on the recognizance, and recover his damages, which he had ſuſtained by occaſion of the delay of execution; and the exception taken was, that the court had no power to award damages for delay of execution, but they ſhould give them for coſts of ſuit.

Per curiam. Damages generally include coſts, which word coſts properly ſignifies coſts of ſuit, and delay of execution is properly damage, viz. the being ſo long out of his money, which the court uſed formerly to aſſeſs, by allowing the party the lawful intereſt: ſo damages of delay of execution, and coſts of ſuit on the ſtatute are very different, and to be aſſeſſed by different meaſures, and the ſtatute only gives coſts of ſuit againſt the bail, &c. Therefore this is error. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 157.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Jenkins and Wife v. Plumbe.

See this caſe in page 208 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

The court having taken time till this term to conſider of the caſe, declared unanimouſly, that the defendant ought to have coſts; on this ground aſſigned by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that if the plaintiff, having married the executrix, had ordered, as he might have done, J. S. to receive this debt, which was due to the teſtator, and he had accordingly received it, that had been a good payment and diſcharge of the firſt debt; and J. S. would now become indebted to the plaintiff by contract in the plaintiff's time, viz. the appointment; and he in that caſe might bring an indebitatus aſſumpſit againſt J. S. for ſo much money received to his uſe as executor: and here, though the defendant received the money without any previous appointment of the plaintiff, yet the plaintiff, by bringing his action, having aſſented to the receipt, it amounts to an appointment, and a diſcharge of the firſt debtor, and makes a contract between the defendant and him: and here the plaintiff need not have named himſelf executor, it being a contract with himſelf; his ſaying it was to his uſe as executor, is true, and therefore no harm, but rather better, for it ſhews how the right came; for if he had been an adminiſtrator inſtead of an executor, and declared as ſuch, and recovered, and then, adminiſtration had been revoked, the defendant would have been relievable by the writ of audita querela.

And it is a true rule, that where the executor need not name himſelf, he ſhall pay coſts on a nonſuit, and the naming himſelf executor ſhall not exempt him from it: and where an executor recovers in a caſe in which he need not name himſelf executor, and dies inteſtate, or makes an executor, who will not prove the will. As to the firſt teſtator's goods, his executor or adminiſtrator, and not the adminiſtrator de bonis non &c. and though here the executor ſhould bring the action in his own name, yet the debts recovered, are aſſets in his hands. If an executor lives at London, and goods, which the teſtator died poſſeſſed of are at Briſtol, yet the executor has ſuch an immediate poſſeſſion of them, that he may maintain trover for them in his own name againſt any converter of them, and the damages recovered ſhall be aſſets in his hands; but if he does not recover ſo much in damages as the goods were really worth, and that happens not through any fault of his, he ſhall anſwer for no more than he recovers; and if the goods are periſhable, and before any default in him to preſerve them, or ſell them at due value, they are impaired, he ſhall not anſwer for the firſt value, but ſhall give that matter in evidence to diſcharge himſelf: but if a perſon takes goods out of his poſſeſſion, he muſt ſue them that took them, to have an opportunity from diſcharging himſelf of anſwering more in aſſets than he recovers: ſo if an executor will omit to ſell the goods at a good price, and after they are taken from him, there the value of the goods ſhall be aſſets in his hands, and not what he recovers, for there was a default in him. And in this caſe, if the receipt was by the defendant after the plaintiff's marriage with the executrix, the huſband alone ſhould have brought the action; but if the receipt was in the wife's time, before the marriage, the huſband and wife ought to join in the action. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 181.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Andrews v. Strowd.

Per curiam. Where the plaintiff in error is nonſuited, or where judgment is affirmed, or a diſcontinuance, there coſts ſhall be allowed, but no coſts where he is barred. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 88.

Eaſter, 6 Ann. Kendall v. John.

Formerly no coſts were given at common law, in any caſe whatſoever, no coſts are now given in real actions, nor in a quare impedit, and till of late, no coſts were given on a ſci. fac. and a prohibition, and yet it was never attempted to form an action on the caſe for thoſe coſts, by calling of them by the name of damages. Vide Forteſcue, p. 116.

6 Ann. The Queen v. Danvers.

On an information againſt Danvers and others, at the aſſizes the defendant was acquitted, and the reſt found guilty; and though the judge did not certify a a probable cauſe, yet it was held, that the proſecutor was not liable to pay this defendant his coſts, becauſe till ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. the plaintiff never paid coſts in any action, if but one defendant was found guilty; ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 18. cannot be intended to make proſecutors otherwiſe liable, than as plaintiffs were before in other actions. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 194.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Modely and Wife Executors v. York.

In an action of aſſumpſit brought by an executor, for money received after the death of the teſtator, if the executor is nonſuited, he ſhall pay coſts: for the law gave this privilege to executors, of not paying coſts, only where the cauſe of action accrued in the defendant's life-time; and there, becauſe it could not be ſuppoſed the executor was conuſant, or privy to the act of the teſtator. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 135.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Buſhell v. Haynes.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 185 of this work, under the head Bail-bond.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Butler v. Cozens.

The court was moved to have full coſts in an action of treſpaſs, among other things, for breaking his lock on his gate; and 2 Vent. 215. and 3 Mod. 39. were cited.

Per curiam. Had it been for taking away the lock, full coſts might have been given.

Powell, Juſtice. But this ſeems to be laid as a treſpaſs in order to try the title; and where the freehold comes in queſtion, there it is held full coſts ſhall be given: but where the freehold does not come in queſtion, there ſhall be no more coſts than damages. But if the Judge certifies the treſpaſs to be voluntary and malicious, there the coſts are to be full, by ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 9. but it was adjourned to ſee if the judge who tried the cauſe would certify. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 198.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Jones v. Wilſon.

In an action brought by an adminiſtrator, he declared on two counts; one on a promiſe to the inteſtate in his life-time, and the other on a promiſe to the plaintiff himſelf, and names himſelf adminiſtrator in both, and on the trial the plaintiff was nonſuited; and the queſtion was, whether he ſhould pay coſts?

Powell, Juſtice, Holt abſent, ſaid, that theſe two counts could not be joined; and if an intire judgment had been given, judgment might have been arreſted. But it is a queſtion, whether it might not have been made good, by taking judgment on one count only. But in this caſe the plaintiff muſt pay coſts, becauſe the nonſuit goes to the whole; and it was ſo ruled by Powell, Powys, and Gould, Juſtices. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 256.

Trinity, 10 Ann. Player v. Bandy.

Reſolved, that in an action of debt on a bond, though the money be tendered before the action is brought, which is refuſed, that yet the plaintiff muſt have coſts. For the ſtatute for the amendment of the law gives the court no juriſdiction till after the action is brought, and therefore they cannot take notice of a tender before: beſides, it was ſaid by Powell, J. and not contradicted, that the ſtatute enabled the defendant to plead payment, or to bring the money into court; but not to plead tender, refuſal, and uncore priſt i. e. ſtill ready. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 26.

Eaſter, 12 Ann. Manners v. Pern.

The univerſity of Cambridge having the laſt term claimed conuſance of pleas, the plaintiff now moved the court, that the defendant might pay all the coſts for all motions about that conuſance.

But the court rejected the motion; for they knew no precedent, nor ſaw any reaſon, that becauſe a third perſon claimed conuſance of pleas, and is refuſed, that therefore the defendant ſhould pay the plaintiff's coſts.

Beſides, in this caſe, the defendant by imparling had as far as lay in him, ſhewn himſelf deſirous of having the cauſe tried in this court.

Add to all this, that the motion was by no means without foundation; for the univerſity only came a moment too late. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 156.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Clerk v. Lee.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 143 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Hilary, 3 Geo. The King v. Powell & al.

A rule for the proſecutor of an information in nature of a quo warranto, to pay coſts for not going on to trial, was moved to be diſcharged.

Per curiam. In the caſe of the King, there can be no laches; but a ſubject in theſe proſecutions ſhall pay coſts as in common actions; executors and adminiſtrators ſhall pay coſts for not going on to trial. Rule to pay coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 33.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. The King v. Poland.

The court was moved for treble coſts againſt the proſecutor of an indictment againſt the defendant for uſing the trade of a glover, on an affidavit, that he was a ſoldier, and diſbanded on the peace of Ryſwicke, by virtue of ſtat. 10 & 11 W. 3. c. 1. which enacts, "that the ſoldiers time ſhall be taken as if actually ſerved, and if they be indicted, they ſhall be acquitted on the general iſſue, and recover treble coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 49.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. Hudſon and Wife v. Aſh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 279 of this work, under the head Conſtable.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Anderſon v. Buckton.

In treſpaſs for the entry of diſeaſed cattle into the plaintiff's cloſe, whereby the plaintiff's cattle were infected, and a verdict for the plaintiff for 20 s.

It was moved to allow the plaintiff his full coſts, on account of the ſpecial damages alledged and put in iſſue, and which would have ſubſiſted of itſelf as a diſtinct cauſe of action, and the plaintiff ought not to be puniſhed for joining it with the treſpaſs, to avoid vexation. And Cro. Car. 163, 307. 3 Mod. 39. 2 Vent. 48. Cro. Car. 141. Ray. 487. were cited.

After hearing council on both ſides, Pratt, Chief Juſtice, Powys and Forteſcue, Juſtices, were for full coſts, becauſe the conſequential damage is a matter for which the plaintiff might have had a diſtinct ſatiſfaction. Therefore the plaintiff had full coſts in this action. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 192.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Bellew v. Aylmer.

On a ſci. fac. againſt an executor, execution was awarded, and then the record went on with a conſideratum eſt etiam i. e. it is conſidered alſo, that the plaintiff ſhould have coſts. It was admitted that ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 10. which gives coſts on a ſci. fac. does not extend to executors, and therefore the judgment for coſts was erroneous. But then it came in queſtion, whether the court ſhould reverſe the whole judgment, or only as to the coſts; and the executor's council inſiſted to have it reverſed in the whole, for that it was one intire judgment, on which they could not have ſeveral executions. In Cro. El. 162. there were damages given to the crown in a quare impedit. and the judgment reverſed in toto. So is 1 Leon. 149. Allen 74. If one defendant dies, and judgment is given againſt all; it muſt be intirely reverſed. 1 Roll. Abr. 775. pl. 2. 2 Keb. 696. 1 Roll. Abr. 775. pl. 4. 1 Vent. 27. 39 Cro. Car. 471. Salk. 24.

Per curiam. Conſideratum eſt etiam does not disjoin it at all. If a man declares for two ten pounds, it is the ſame thing whether judgment be intire for 20 l. or ſeveral for each 10 l. Adjourned.

In Hil. 7. Geo. without farther argument, the judgment was reverſed as to coſts, and affirmed as to the reſt, on the authority of Green v. Waller. Hil. 13 W. 3. and adjudged in this court. Trin. 2 Ann. on error out of Ireland, it was reverſed as to the coſts. and affirmed as to the reſt. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 188.

Hilary, 6 Geo. The Archbiſhop of Dublin v. The Dean of Dublin.

The defendant in a prohibition obtained judgment in Ireland, which was affirmed in B. R. there, and came over hither by a defective writ of error, which was quaſhed; and now the queſtion was, whether the defendant in error ſhould have coſts? there being none given in the courts below, either on the principal judgment or the affirmance. This matter was adjourned for the conſideration of the court: and in Trinity 6 Geo. Pratt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court, that coſts ſhould be paid. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 262.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Davila v. Herring.

On trial of the iſſue, a caſe was made and afterwards argued in court, but the fact not being ſufficiently ſtated, ſo as the court could give judgment according to the juſtice of the cauſe, it was recommended to the parties, and accordingly they agreed to go to a new trial, where the plaintiff was nonſuited. And now the queſtion was about the coſts, whether the maſter ſhould tax the common coſts of a nonſuit, or take into his conſideration all the former proceedings. And on a motion for the court's direction to the maſter, it was ordered, that he ſhould tax the defendant his coſts on the whole, as well with relation to the firſt trial as the laſt. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 300.

Trinity, 6 Geo. Shadford v. Houſtoun.

The court ordered coſts for not going on to execute a writ of enquiry, as they uſed to do for not going on to trial. Vide Stra. vol. 1. 317.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Cutler v. Goodwin.

In error on a judgment in C. B on ſeveral promiſes, on the inquiry damages were given ſeparately, and for the damages and coſts to the amount of 20 s. and then the plaintiff releaſes the damages to two of the counts, and has judgment for the reſidue, with increaſed coſts.

It was objected, that the 20 s. coſts given by the jury went to the whole, whereas by the releaſe the plaintiff confeſſes he has a cauſe of action but as to part. Hob. 168.

Per curiam. All the precedents are ſo; the jury give the ſame coſts in all caſes, and if the defendant is put to any particulr expence as to the bad count, the court can make him an allowance in the increaſed coſts they give. The judgment was therefore affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 420.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. Jordan v. Harper.

Sir Sebaſtian Smith brought an ejectment againſt ſeveral perſons who lived in cottages on the waſte as paupers, to try whether the cottages belonged to him as lord of the manor. The pariſh made defence, and the plaintiff was nonſuited; and paid the coſts to one of the defendants, who was in his intereſt; and on motion, the court ſaid, they could not relieve the pariſh, or the other defendants. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 516.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. Anonymous.

A judgment was given in this court, and on a writ of error brought in the Exchequer Chamber, that judgment was affirmed; and now the plaintiff in the action brought a ſcire facias for the coſts he had ſuſtained by the delay of the execution; and it was objected that it ought not to be allowed, becauſe it was brought in London, and not in Middleſex, where it ought to be brought; and for a default in the writ itſelf, becauſe it did not ſet forth what became of the caſe in the Exchequer Chamber, i. e. it did not ſhew that the judgment was affirmed; for if it was not, then the plaintiff has no right to coſts.

Per curiam. It is true, an action of debt on the original judgment, or on a recognizance, may be laid in any county, but a ſcire facias muſt always go into that county where the execution on the original judgment ſhould be made.

Afterwards, on reading this ſcire facias, it was, as before, obſerved, that it did not ſet forth what became of the cauſe in the Exchequer Chamber, and certainly the plaintiff cannot have this writ without ſhewing what became of the judgment removed by this writ of error; and it is unreaſonable he ſhould have it for coſts in delay of execution, without ſhewing that the judgment was affirmed in the Exchequer Chamber. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 74.

Hilary, 10 Geo. Crundell v. Bodily.

In ejectment, the defendant had a verdict and judgment, and coſts taxed, on which the plaintiff brought a writ of error in the Exchequer Chamber, and pending ſuch writ, he brought a new ejectment; and the defendant's council moved, that the plaintiff might not proceed on this ejectment till he had paid the coſts of the firſt ſuit.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. It is hard the defendant ſhould be doubly vexed, by the proceedings on the writ of error, and alſo by a new ejectment, therefore let a rule be made, that if the plaintiff ſhould proceed on the ejectment, he ſhall pay the coſts of the firſt action, otherwiſe he ſhall not proceed on the ſecond. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 226.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Clark v. Othery.

In treſpaſs, aſſault, and battery on the plaintiff, the declaration went on, for that he made an aſſault on the horſe of the plaintiff. A verdict for the plaintiff and 20 s. damages; and it was moved to have full coſts on account of the ſpecial matter about the horſe; but refuſed on conſideration, and the plaintiff had no more coſts than damages. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 624.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Phillip v. Fiſh.

In an action on the caſe for words, on a verdict for the plaintiff, and one ſhilling damages,

It was inſiſted by the defendant's council, that under ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 2. the plaintiff was entitled to no more coſts than damages, and this being a perſonal action, and the jury having given but 1 s. damages, the plaintiff ſhall have no more coſts.

Per curiam. If the fact that comes under the verum etiam, is only laid in aggravation of damages, ſo that the words are the giſt of the action, then the plaintiff can have no more coſts than damages; but if it be laid as a diſtinct fact, for which another action might be brought, then he ſhall recover full coſts. Therefore the court in Mich. Term. 12 Geo. gave full coſts for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 371.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Wyvel v. Stapleton.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the judgment was reverſed, and adjudged, that the plaintiff in error ſhould recover his debt and coſts, as he would have done below. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 315.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Cowper v. Ginger.

On a writ of error brought by one on a judgment againſt two in C. B. which writ was quaſhed, the defendant in error moved for coſts, as if the judgment had been affirmed.

Per curiam. Let the defendant have coſts, as if the judgment had been affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 317.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Weldon v. Buckler.

On a writ of error brought in this court, on a judgment in C. B. on a ſci. fac. againſt pledges, in a plaint in replevin, removed there from the county court.

Per curiam. Sci. facias's have been often amended, however, in this caſe, let the plaintiff diſcontinue on payment of coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 314.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Portman v. Came.

The plaintiff brought an action of debt on a bond as executor, and on oyer, it appeared to be conditioned, that the defendant ſhould not hunt in any of the lands of the teſtator; and in the replication a breach was aſſigned, by a hunting in the time of the executor, and a verdict for the defendant.

And now the court was moved for coſts, becauſe the hunting which was the cauſe of action, aroſe in the time of the executor, and was a matter within his knowledge. And 6 Mod. 91. 181. 1 Vent. 92. were cited.

Per curiam. The caſes are only where he need not declare as executor, and ſo was Baller v. Delander, Trinity, 1 Geo. But here the bond was the cauſe of action, and he was obliged to declare as executor. And therefore they denied coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 682.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Carter v. Fiſh.

The declaration being for words ſpoken by the defendant, and 1 s. damages; it was moved laſt term for full coſts on the following authorities. Salk. 206. Cro. Car. 140. Salk. 642. Cro. Car. 163. 307. And this term the Chief Juſtice delivered the opinion of the court, that the plaintiff ſhould have full coſts, becauſe this was not laid as an aggravation, but as a diſtinct fact; he ſpoke the words, and procured him to be carried before a juſtice. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 645.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Pocklington v. Peck.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action brought there by a feme ſole: to the ſcire facias quare executio non, the plaintiff in error pleaded in abatement, that the defendant in error was married ſince the judgment, and before the iſſuing of the ſcire facias. On this the defendant in error's council moved to quaſh their own ſcire facias, and the council on the other ſide inſiſted on coſts.

Per curiam. It is the ſame in a ſcire facias as in an action where if you plead in abatement, and the plaintiff's writ is abated, he pays no coſts. Had there been no plea in abatement, and the party had moved to quaſh his own writ, we would have made him pay coſts. The writ was therefore quaſhed without coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 638.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Higgins v. Jennings.

In an action of treſpaſs, quare clauſum fregit, and alſo for erecting a wall, and ſpoiling the graſs, by trampling thereon with his feet, the defendant pleaded not guilty, as to all but the treading down the graſs, and as to that, he juſtified for a way. The plaintiff replies extra viam, in which they were at iſſue, and the jury find for the plaintiff on both iſſues, and 2 d. damages. On motion the court ordered full coſts, though there was no certificate, it appearing by the record, that the freehold was in queſtion. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 726.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Sutton v. Bryan.

The court gave coſts for not going on to execute a writ of enquiry according to notice; and ſaid it was as reaſonable, as in the caſe of a trial. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 728.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Granville v. Vincent.

The plaintiff brought an action of treſpaſs, wherefore he broke the cloſe, againſt the defendant for entering his cloſe, and trampling under foot a hay rick, and the plaintiff had a verdict and damages under 40 s. the court was now moved for full coſts, for that this being an action brought for a treſpaſs, and ſpoil committed by the defendant on a hay-rick, which is a charge ſevered, is not within ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. and for this Raym. 244, 247. Salk. 208. 3 Mod. 3. were cited.

Per curiam. The authorities ſeem to run, that a treſpaſs being laid to be committed on a chattel ſevered, the plaintiff is intitled to full coſts; but, in this caſe, they doubted on the laſt objection, that the chattel was not deſcribed. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 42.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Baldwin v. Morgan.

The plaintiff out of the penalty of a recognizance of bail, levied not only the money received, but ſome coſts, not included in the judgment, but ſuch as he had really been put to: and on motion it was held, that though equitable coſts may be levied out of the penalty of a bond, yet it was too hard to ſuffer it to be done againſt the bail, and ſo the overplus money was ordered to be returned. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 826.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Marret v. Gardiner.

Per curiam. Where an amendment of a writ of error is prayed, on ſtatute 5 Geo. cap. 13. it is to be without coſts; but if the prayer be alſo to amend the aſſignment of errors, the rule is with coſts; becauſe then the party comes for a favour of the court. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 268.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 2. Baynham v. Matthews.

In this caſe the plaintiff prayed leave to diſcontinue; and being an adminiſtrator, it was granted without coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 871.

Trinity, 4 Geo. The King v. Earl.

There was a rule for the proſecutor of an information to pay coſts for not going on to trial: the defendant died before they were paid; and it was held the executor could not have them; nor would he have been liable, if the teſtator had been ruled to pay them. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 874.

Trinity, 5 & 6 Geo. 2. Moſes Burry v. Jefferey Perry.

In an action for words brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant, the plaintiff ſet out in his declaration, that he was an houſe-ſmith by trade, and that the defendant ſpoke the words of him, (which words were actionable in themſelves) by reaſon of ſpeaking which words the plaintiff loſt ſeveral cuſtomers, naming them particularly, &c. to his damage of 100 l. On the general iſſue pleaded, the jury found for the plaintiff, but gave him only 5 s. damages. And the court was moved, that the plaintiff might have full coſts, though the damages were found under 40 s. becauſe he had received a ſpecial damage, viz. the loſs of his cuſtomers; ſo that if the words had not been actionable of themſelves, this action would have been maintainable, by reaſon of the ſpecial damage. And the caſes of Phillips v. Fiſh, and Carter v. Fiſh, were cited, where in an action for words importing felony, as, he ſtole my hens, &c. and, as was argued, laid by way of aggravation of damages, that he carried him before a juſtice of peace, and cauſed him to be impriſoned &c. the jury gave under 40 s. damages; and yet, after ſeveral motions in court, Trinity, 11 Geo. the court made a rule that the plaintiff ſhould have full coſts.

Per curiam. Where the words are not actionable, but the action is maintained by reaſon of ſpecial damages the plaintiff has ſuſtained on account of the words, the plaintiff ſhall have full coſts, though the damages are under 40 s. for it is not the words, but the ſpecial damage is the cauſe of action. 1 Salk. 206. Brown v. Gibbons; but where the words are actionable of themſelves, as in the preſent caſe, and ſpecial damages are laid by way of aggravation, and the damages are under 40 s. there ſhall be no more coſts than damages, for that is properly an action for words within ſtat. 21 Jac. 1. c. 16. And as to the caſes of Carter v. Fiſh, and Phillips v. Fiſh, on conſidering that declaration, the court held, that as it was laid, it was not barely laid in aggravation of damages, but was a diſtinct cauſe of action, importing a charge of felony on him; and therefore the plaintiff had full coſts. In this principal caſe, the court directed the plaintiff ſhould have no more coſts than damages. Vide Raym. vol. 2. page 1588.

Hilary, 6 Geo. 2. The King v. Moore.

An indictment for perjury was removed by certiorari, and the defendant paid coſts for not going on to trial: the proſecutor afterwards moved to quaſh it, which the court refuſed, unleſs he would ſubmit to pay coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 946.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. Deveniſh v. Mertins.

In treſpaſs for taking a gun, after not guilty pleaded, the plaintiff moved to diſcontinue, on payment of coſts. The defendant, on an affidavit of his being a juſtice of peace, and in the execution of his office, moved for double coſts, and the queſtion was, whether it ſhould be done by rule, or by ſuggeſtion. And on conſideration the court held, that this being a diſcontinuance with leave of the court, obtained by rule, they might make this a part of the terms. And that this made it different from the caſe of a verdict or nonſuit, where it muſt be done by way of ſuggeſtion. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 974.

Trinity, 7 Geo. 2. Caſwell v. Norman.

An executor brought error of a judgment after a devaſtavit, and the court held he ought to pay coſts on affirmance. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 977.

Hilary, 8 Geo. 2. Dibben v. Cooke & al.

An action on the caſe was brought againſt two defendants, there was judgment by default againſt one, and the other on pleading not guilty, was acquitted: and the queſtion was, whether he was intitled to his coſts?

And on conſideration, the Chief Juſtice delivered the opinion of the court, that he was intitled to no coſts. Before ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. If one defendant was acquitted, he was not intitled to coſts; the courts conſtruing the former acts to relate only to the caſe of a total acquittal of all the defendants. This being inconvenient, ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. was made and gave coſts where one of the defendants is acquitted, unleſs the judge certifies a reaſonable cauſe to make him a defendant, and that act extends to treſpaſs, aſſault, falſe impriſonment, and ejectment. The preſent action is treſpaſs on the caſe, and though that be a ſpecies of treſpaſs, and in the caſe of the ſtatute of limitations, the word treſpaſs in the proviſo, has been extended to actions on the caſe; yet conſidering theſe acts giving coſts have always been looked on as penal ſtatutes not to be extended by equity, and therefore an avowant not within the word plaintiff. Carth. 179. we muſt take it only to mean the general ſort of treſpaſs vi et armis, 10 Co. Marſhalſea caſe. And he ſaid this was the rule in C. B.. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1005.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. 2. Lock v. Shermer.

On application to ſtay an action of debt on bond, on payment of principal, intereſt, and coſts,

The council ſhews cauſe and oppoſes it, unleſs they pay the coſts of a ſuit in the Exchequer, relating to the ſame matter.

Lord Hardwicke. I believe it has been ruled on the ſtatute for the amendment of the law, that they ſhall do ſo, and coſts in equity relating to ſuits on bonds, have been referred to and taxed by the maſter. So let the rule be abſolute, to ſtay the proceedings on payment of principal, intereſt, and coſts, and of the coſts in the Exchequer. Vide caſe Temp. Ld. Harwicke. p. 116.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Barton and others v. Miles and others.

The defendants were collectors of the tax for window lights, and were ſued in an action of trover by the plaintiffs, who were aſſignees in a commiſſion of bankruptcy againſt one H. and at the trial the plaintiffs were nonſuited, for not being able to prove a title to the goods taken; ſo laſt term the defendant's council moved, that they might have double coſts, for that they were entitled to them by the ſtatute which gives it for all actions brought for acts done in the execution of office, where a verdict is for the defendant, or the plaintiff is nonſuited; and the method of doing it is generally on a certificate of the judge who tried the cauſe, that the defendants were in the execution of their office; but that could not appear in this caſe, becauſe the plaintiffs were nonſuited for not ſhewing a title, ſo that no evidence as to the taking was heard; but he now produces an affidavit, that they were officers, and in the execution of their office, which was read:

And a rule was made for the plaintiffs to ſhew cauſe why a ſuggeſtion ſhould not be entered on the roll to that purpoſe: and the Chief Juſtice ſaid, that though the court gave coſts by rule in a late caſe of this nature, that was done becauſe there was a diſcontinuance of the plaintiff's action, but that in the caſe of a nonſuit, there is a judgment entered for the defendant to have coſts, as is required by ſeveral ſtatutes.

The plaintiff's council came to ſhew cauſe according to the rule; and admitted that double coſts muſt be given in favour of ſome of the defendants, but that two of them were not collectors, but only aſſiſtants, and the act which gives double coſts does not extend to favour them.

Lord Hardwicke. They muſt make their ſuggeſtion as they can, but we take no notice of the ſeveral capacities of the defendants, for it is one taxation, and not ſeparate coſts for every defendant.

Then the plaintiffs council would have queſtioned, whether, as the parties are out of court on this nonſuit, there can be a ſuggeſtion entered on the roll.

Lord Hardwicke. That point is fully ſettled, and not to be diſputed, and the defendants have no other way to get their double coſts. Therefore, the rule was made abſolute. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 125.

Hilary, 9 Geo. 2. Harris and Wife v. Hanna.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why the defendant ſhould not have coſts, the caſe was, that the plaintiff and his wife, who was executrix to one L. brought an action of trover againſt the defendant, and declared for goods which were in the hands of the teſtator in his lifetime, but were after his death converted by the defendant; dant; and when the cauſe came down to trial, the plaintiffs were nonſuited.

Serjeant Eyre, for the defendant. The rule is, that where the cauſe of action ariſes in the time of the executor, he is liable for coſts, for then he may bring an action without naming himſelf executor; but where he is obliged to name himſelf executor, I admit he is not bound to pay coſts; but I ſubmit it, that in this caſe the converſion is the cauſe of action, for it is the foundation and giſt of the action, and that was in the time of the executor; as to the caſe in Lev. there the account was about the aſſets of the teſtator; and I ſubmit it, that the caſe in 3 Lev. is not law, for there even the trover was in the time of the adminiſtrator, and that reſolution is therefore contrary to all the books. And he cited 1 Salk. 314. where in trover by an executor, on a trover and converſion in the time of the executor, if nonſuited, he ſhall pay coſts, for he need not name himſelf executor, and the goods are aſſets in his hands, though he never recover them. The ſame was held 1 Vent. 109. and Cro. Cha. 219. Atkey v. Hard. And Sir W. Jones, 241. cites Yentes v. Wilbeard, Michaelmas, 1724. trover by an executor, and the converſion laid in his own time, and on a nonſuit, held that the plaintiff ſhould pay coſts.

Lord Hardwicke. There was a caſe of Baller v. Delander, Trinity Geo. 1, where coſts were given to the defendant, on the diſtinction that my brother Eyre lays down; where it is neceſſary for the plaintiff to name himſelf executor, and that he muſt bring his action in right of the teſtator, there he is excuſed, though even that had been a pretty liberal conſtruction of the ſtatutes for coſts, becauſe coſts are given as a ſatisfaction, not as a puniſhment; but however, that point is now ſettled, with the diſtinction as above. It uſed to be a ground of giving coſts, or not againſt executors, if the thing or damage recovered was aſſets; but that is now exploded, for even though the cauſe of action ariſe after the teſtator's death, yet the thing, when recovered, will be aſſets; ſo that the matter reſts entirely on the diſtinction laid down by my brother Eyre.

Lee, Juſtice. The cauſe of action is the converſion the executor is privy to: 1 Vent 109. is a caſe exactly in point. There is a good caſe as to coſts concerning executors, which is Jenkins v. Plombe, in 6 Mod. 91. 181. and Salk. 207. The rule is, that where the cauſe of action ariſes after the teſtator's death, the executor is liable for coſts, becauſe he is ſuppoſed a ſufficient judge of the cauſe to found an action.

The rule muſt be abſolute, with coſts, for the defendant. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 204.

N. B. The ſtatutes which give coſts where the plaintiff is nonſuited, or a verdict for the defendant, are 23 H. 8. c. 15. and 4 Jac. 1. c. 3.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Howell.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why the proſecutor ſhould not pay coſts for not procuring an information quo warranto to be tried within a year after iſſue joined, purſuant to ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 18. the words of which are, that the clerks of the crown ſhall not, without expreſs order of the court, in open court, file any information for treſpaſs, batteries, or other miſdemeanors; or any iſſue or proceſs thereon, before having a recognizance from the proſecutor to the defendant, in the penalty of 20 l. to proſecute the information effectually; and in caſe the defendant ſhould appear and plead to iſſue, and the proſecutor ſhall not at his own coſts within one year after iſſue joined procure the ſame to be tried; or in caſe a verdict is for the defendant, or a nolle proſequi is entered by the informer, then the court may award the defendant his coſts, unleſs the judge certifies there was a reaſonable cauſe; and if the informer does not pay the coſts taxed within three months after demand, then the defendant may have the benefit of the recognizance to compel him.

The council ſhewed for cauſe, that theſe proviſions in the ſtatute extend only to ſuch informations as are filed by the coroner without order of the court, or however, theſe informations quo warranto are not within the ſtatute, being neither for treſpaſs, battery, or miſdemeanors meant by the ſtatute, and that this was not a miſdemeanor, but a civil ſuit.

Lord Hardwicke. I have always taken this to be within the ſtatute; I believe this is the firſt application for coſts; it appears to me both from the act, and the practice on the act, to be a caſe within it; as to the practice, a recognizance to anſwer coſts has been always given in theſe informations, which could only be done, as being within the ſtatute. Indeed, the council has endeavoured at a new conſtruction, which, if it ſhould prevail, would entirely defeat the ſtatute. But that can never be the meaning, or the words of the ſtatute, becauſe now no information at all can be filed by the clerk of the crown without leave of the court; but the true meaning of the ſtatute, and warranted by practice, is, that he ſhall file no information without leave, nor iſſue proceſs thereon without a recognizance. As to theſe informations not being for miſdemeanors, it is now too late to make that objection, ſince the practice has been otherwiſe. The court indeed have themſelves made this diſtinction, to grant informations for public uſurpations, but if it is only of a private franchiſe, not concerning public government, as a fair, &c. the court has ſometimes refuſed them, and directed an application to the Attorney General. You cannot in this caſe have a rule for what coſts ſhall be taxed in general, for you can have no more than the penalty the recognizance extends to; but if the cauſe had gone to trial, you might have had your whole coſts, becauſe on ſtat. 9 Ann, judgment would have been given for coſts.

A rule was made for the defendant to have his coſts as far as the recognizance extends. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hard. p. 247.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Carpenter.

A rule was made for the defendant to ſhew cauſe againſt an information in nature of a quo warranto to ſhew by what warrant he claimed to vote in the election of a Mayor of Exon, on pretence that the right was reſtrained to reſident freemen, which the defendant was not. And on ſhewing cauſe, it appearing clearly, that both by the charter and uſage, the defendant was intitled to vote, the court diſcharged the rule with coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1039.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Smith qui tam v. Dunce.

After a verdict againſt the defendant, for ſuing in the Admiralty for a matter done at land, in which caſe double damages are given; it was moved on 2 Danv. 221. that the increaſed coſts ſhould not be doubled. But on citing Carth. 321. 10 Co. 116. and producing the record of the caſe of Child v. Sands; mentioned in Carthew, where doubling the increaſed coſts, was aſſigned for error, and over-ruled; the court was of opinion, that there was no diſtinction between the coſts given by the jury, and thoſe given by the court, but both ought to be doubled. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1048.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. James.

The council for the defendant moved for coſts, for not going on to trial. The proſecutor in an information in this court, ought to bring the cauſe to trial at his own coſts; but in an indictment, which is ſolely at the ſuit of the Queen, he that is indicted muſt bring the cauſe to a trial at his own charges. Styles Pract. Reg. tit. Trial, p. 604.

Per curiam. Let it be referred to the maſter.

N. B. Maſterman ſaid, by the courſe of the court, coſts for not going to trial are allowed in ſuits of this ſort, as well as civil. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 159.

Hilary, 10 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of Glaſſenby in Cumberland.

After a traverſe of a writ of noſtanter, where the jury found 17 l. damages, the queſtion was, whether the proſecutor could have coſts? He inſiſted that by the ſtatute of Glouceſter, coſts are given in all caſes where damages are recovered. On the contrary, it was ſaid, that this was a criminal proceeding, in which the inhabitants could recover no coſts if they were acquitted. That coſts are a penalty, and the ſtatutes giving them to be taken ſtrictly. Salk. 205. And of this opinion was the court, there being no inſtance of coſts given on theſe proceedings, where the inhabitants are brought in collaterally, on the jury finding that the malefactors are unknown. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1069.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. 2. Saltern v. Wynne.

An executor brought error on a judgment againſt the teſtator on bond: and after affirmance, moved on the act for amendment of the law, to pay principal, intereſt, and coſts. It was inſiſted, that as he came for a favour to ſave the penalty, it was but equitable he ſhould pay the coſts in error, which he had put the plaintiff to; for if the plaintiff had taken execution, equity would never puniſh him for taking thoſe expences out of the penalty: and the caſe of Merril v. Jocelyn, Trinity, 13 Ann. in this court, was cited for that purpoſe.

On the other ſide were cited Baynham v. Matthews, Trin. 4 Geo. 2. where an executor diſcontinued without coſts, and Siſney v. Nevinſon, Eaſter, 12 Geo. On the authority of which caſe, the court determined, that as by law, the executor was not to pay coſts on a writ of error, a court of law could not direct them to be taxed, though there was a penalty. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1072.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Middleton and Wife v. Croſt.

The plaintiff in prohibition moved for coſts, having prevailed in one point, and ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. ſect. 3. giving coſts in all ſuits on prohibition, to the plaintiff obtaining judgment, or any award of execution, and it was prayed they might be taxed from the time of the firſt motion, according to ſeveral determinations: and this laſt was acquieſced in, if the court ſhould be of opinion for coſts.

Per curiam. The words of the ſtatute are not to be got over, which give coſts to the plaintiff if he obtains any judgment: and this matter was under conſideration in the houſe of Lords in Dr. Bentley's caſe, where the prohibition ſtood as to ſome articles, and there went a conſultation for the reſt: to be ſure it will be conſidered in the quantum, but we cannot deny coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1056.

Hilary, 11 Geo. 2. Ferguſon, qui tam v. Rawlinſon.

After affirmance of a judgment of C. B. for the treble value on the ſtatute of uſury; it became a queſtion, whether, as the plaintiff recovered no coſts in the original action, he could have his coſts in this court on a writ of error? And on conſideration, the court declared he was intitled to them by the expreſs words of ſtat. 3 H. 8. c. 10. in delay of execution: and that it was the ſtronger ſince ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 10. under which the defendant would have been intitled to coſts, if there had been judgment for him in C. B. and affirmed here. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1084.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. Smith v. Clarke et al.

The plaintiff declared in treſpaſs for entering his houſe, continuing there forty-eight hours, diſturbing him in his poſſeſſion, and eating and conſuming twenty pounds of beef; ſpecifying alſo ſeveral quantities of mutton, veal, lamb, beer, and ale. The jury found for the plaintiff, and half a guinea damages. And the queſtion was, whether the plaintiff ſhould have full coſts; which, on conſideration, were awarded to him; for as to the goods, it is in the nature of an action of trover; and here it is to all purpoſes an aſportation, which always carries coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1130.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. The King v. Woodfall.

On trial of an information for a libel, the jury acquitted the defendant contrary to the direction of the court, on which the defendant moved above for coſts, on ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 18. which provides, that in caſes where the defendant is acquitted, the court is authoriſed to award coſts to the defendant, unleſs the judge at the trial ſhall certify there was a reaſonable cauſe. In this caſe no ſuch certificate was aſked; but it was inſiſted on for the proſecutor, that it was diſcretionary in the court. The Chief Juſtice certified ore tenus, i. e. by word of mouth, that it was a verdict againſt evidence; but then he and all the others held, that it was now too late to enquire into the probable cauſe; and that it was not diſcretionary, but compulſory on them, where there was no certificate. Therefore the defendant had his coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1131.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. 2. Hickman v. Colley.

By ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. c. 15. it is provided, that if one citizen of London ſues another out of the juriſdiction, and does not recover 40 s. he ſhall not only loſe his own coſts, but ſhall alſo pay the defendant ſo much ordinary coſts, as ſuch defendant ſhall juſtly prove it has coſt him in defence of the ſuit.

In this caſe, the verdict was leſs than 40 s. and the court gave the defendant leave to ſuggeſt it on the record, as the only way to get at his coſts. And a ſuggeſtion being made, and a demurrer put in to it, which was adjudged for the defendant, it came to be a queſtion, whether the coſts of the application ſhould be allowed, or only coſts of the trial, and former proceedings, this not being, ſtrictly ſpeaking, coſts of the defence. But the court ordered the coſts of the whole to be taxed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1120.

Eaſter, 15 Geo. 2. The King v. Sidney.

On removing an indictment from the ſeſſions of oyer and terminer, the defendant and his bail entered into 500 l. recognizance to plead, go to trial, and appear at the return of the verdict; he did ſo, and received judgment. And on motion to diſcharge the recognizance, it was inſiſted he ſhould pay coſts: but this not being in 20 l. the ſum required by ſtat. 5 & 6 W. & M. c. 11. the court held it was to be conſidered as a recognizance at common law. And precedents being ſearched it was found, that coſts had not been required. Here therefore being a performance of every thing the words extended to, the court diſcharged the recognizance. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1165.

Hilary, 17 Geo. 2. Duthy v. Tito & al. and Tito v. Duthy.

In both cauſes, the verdict was for the defendants. And now Tito, one of the defendants in the firſt cauſe, moved, that the coſts he was to pay to Duthy in the ſecond cauſe might be ſet againſt the coſts, Duthy was to pay in the firſt.

Per curiam. It cannot be done, there was a neceſſity to be an act of parliament in the caſe of mutual debts; beſides, how can we prefer Tito, who is but one defendant out of five, when the plaintiff in that action may pay the coſts to either of the others. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1203.

Eaſter, 17 Geo. 2. Real & al. v. Macky.

The plaintiff's were Swedes, and brought an action for freight, and the court was moved to ſtay their proceedings, till they ſhould give ſecurity for coſts, as is done where in ejectment, the leſſor of the plaintiff is an infant.

Per curiam. This has never been carried farther than qui tam actions; and it may affect trade, in ſhutting up our courts from foreigners, who perhaps cannot find ſecurity in a ſtrange country. The caſes in ejectment are conſidered as more under the power of the court than other proceedings; and therefore we ſtay a ſecond action, till the coſts are paid of the firſt, which we cannot do in other caſes. There was no rule made. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1206.

Trinity, 18 Geo. 2. Walker v. Robinſon.

In treſpaſs for an aſſault, and taking a rope, the jury gave 18 d. damages. And Mr. J. Burnet, who tried the cauſe, certified his approbation of the verdict, according to ſtat. 43 Eliz. c. 6. in order to prevent coſts. The plaintiff, however, moved (as it was a new caſe) for increaſed coſts, pretending here was an aſportation, which on ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 9. has been always held to carry coſts. But the court in this caſe refuſed it, for ſtat. 43 Eliz. takes in all but a few excepted caſes, of which this is one. And though it has not been uſual to grant a certificate on this act, yet we have often known it threatened. And in the caſe of White v. Smith in C. B. Eaſter 17 Geo. 2. Willes, Chief Juſtice, in an action for taking ſand on Hounſlow-Heath, certified and prevented coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1232.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. Thomas v. Powell.

On a feigned iſſue being tried in the cauſe, and a verdict found for the proſecutor.

The queſtion on this motion was, whether the proſecutor ſhould have all his coſts, previous to the feigned iſſue, or any, and what part of them, or whether he ſhould only have his coſts from the feigned iſſue.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, were clear, that the coſts to be taxed on ſuch feigned iſſue, were only the coſts of the feigned iſſue itſelf, and not any coſts antecedent to the conſent to try the right in a feigned iſſue.

Lord Mansfield. Concurred in opinion, and ſaid coſts muſt be given from the time when the feigned iſſue was firſt ordered, and agreed to. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 604.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. Cooke v. Peter Sayer.

On a motion for directions to the maſter to tax coſts in this cauſe.

The queſtion was, what coſts ſhould be allowed, and to whom, on the following facts ſtated.

On an action on the caſe for criminal converſation with the plaintiff's wife. The defendant (by leave of court) pleaded two pleas, viz. not guilty and not guilty within ſix years, on the firſt plea the plaintiff joined iſſue, to the latter he demurred.

The iſſue on the plea of not guilty, was firſt tried, and a verdict found for the plaintiff with 50 l. damages.

The demurrer was argued, over-ruled, and judgment given for the defendant; ſo each party, plaintiff and defendant, had judgment.

The plaintiff taxed his coſts on the poſtea. The defendant came to tax his coſts on his judgment on demurrer.

L. Mansfield. We are all of opinion under the preſent circumſtances, that the defendant muſt have the coſts of the demurrer, which has been adjudged to him, and on the other hand the plea being found falſe, he ought not to receive coſts of the plaintiff on the trial of that iſſue, which has been found againſt him, yet the plaintiff cannot have damages on it, becauſe on the whole, judgment muſt be againſt him, and therefore neither can have coſts: on the trial there are to be no coſts on either ſide, but each party is to ſit down by his own coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 753.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. Roger Philips.

On a motion on the part of the proſecutor, for the maſter to review the taxation of coſts. The caſe ſtated to the court was as follows:

The defendant had leave to amend his plea on payment of coſts, but the amendments made in it were not eſſential to the real merits, nor ſuch as defaced the record.

The allowance made to the proſecutor on the amendments of the plea itſelf, and of the ſubſequent pleadings dependant on it, had been only made in proportion to the actual amendments made therein, and not as for a quite new plea.

Lord Mansfield. The principle is certainly right, that where the defendant has leave to amend his plea, the proſecutor ought in juſtice to have liberty to reply quite de novo, if he judges proper, and alſo, that in all events, he ought to be allowed the expence of attending, conſulting, and feeing council, in order to adviſe whether it be prudent or proper to reply de novo or not.

Where the plaintiff does not judge proper to depart from his former replication, and reply de novo; but only makes ſuch alterations in it as merely purſue, and are the natural and neceſſary conſequences of the alterations made in the plea by the defendant, and which alterations in the replication do not deface the record (as in the preſent caſe) nothing more ought to be allowed than in proportion for ſuch neceſſary amendments in the replication and its ſeveral dependencies, for it muſt not be left in the proſecutor's power to load defendant unneceſſarily.

Deniſon, Juſtice. Concurred with the Chief Juſtice. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 757.

Eaſter, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. William Lewis, Capital Burgeſs, and Alderman of New Radnor.

On ſhewing cauſe againſt an information, in nature of a quo warranto, to ſhew by what authority the defendant acted in the characters above mentioned, it appeared to the court, that the charge was groundleſs and frivolous.

Per curiam. Let the rule be diſcharged with coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 780.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. Maxwell v. Mayer, Eſq.

On a motion to ſtay the plaintiff's proceedings till ſecurity ſhould be given for anſwering the coſts of this ſuit.

It was moved on an affidavit, that the plaintiff was a Scotchman, reſident in Scotland, where the proceſs of this court could not reach in caſe he failed in his action.

The court anſwered, that this was at moſt no more than the caſe of a foreigner, who brings an action here, in which caſe the court will never oblige him to give ſecurity for the coſts.

Per curiam. Let the defendant take nothing by this motion. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1026.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. Oldknow v. Wainwright, or The King v. Foxcroft.

On a motion by the proſecutor's council for coſts on this proſecution, (ſee this caſe more fully ſtated in page 302 of this work, under the head Corporation.)

Lord Mansfield. The court were tied down by the conſent rule, to direct the coſts of the whole to be paid by the defendant Foxcroft, the words of the conſent rule were, "That the coſts ſhall abide the event of of the iſſue," which muſt mean the whole coſts on the civil ſide would of courſe abide its event, without needing any rule or any conſent for that purpoſe, conſequently this conſent takes in the other coſts on the crown ſide.

Three other judges being on the bench, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the rule be made abſolute. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1017.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. 3. The King v. Palmer and Baine, Eſq; and Others.

On a motion to ſhew cauſe why an information ſhould not be granted againſt two juſtices of peace, and others, for a miſdemeanor relating to a conviction of a poacher, and the circumſtances attending it.

The court thought proper on a full hearing, and on conſidering all the affidavits, and what was urged by the council on both ſides, to diſcharge the rule as to all the defendants, with coſts to be paid to the juſtices; but without coſts as to the others. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1162.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Edie and another v. The Eaſt India Company.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 239 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Denn on the demiſe of Lucas v. Fulford.

In Hilary term laſt, this court had ſtayed the proceedings till the leſſor of the plaintiff, who lived in Ireland, ſhould give ſecurity for the coſts, although it was an ejectment brought under the direction of the court of Chancery, where the bill was retained till after the trial of the ejectment, and ſecurity had already been given there; but that ſecurity was only for 40 l. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1177.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Sir John Aſtley, Bart. v. Young.

The plaintiff declared againſt the defendant on two counts. The defendant demurred to the one, and obtained judgment on the demurrer. To the other, he pleaded, and on the trial of the iſſue, a verdict was given for the plaintiff. The queſtion was, in what manner the coſts ought to be taxed.

The court were all unanimous, that in the preſent caſe, the plaintiff was entitled to coſts on his verdict, and the defendant entitled to none on his demurrer, for that the plaintiff having prevailed on one of his counts, had a right to have his coſts on that count, without any deduction to be made on account of the defendant's having gotten judgment on his demurrer to the other count. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1232.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. Appleton v. Smith.

The queſtion was, whether the plaintiff ſhould have full coſts, or no more coſts than damages on the following caſe.

On an action of treſpaſs, vi & armis, for breaking and entering the plaintiff's dwelling houſe, and there making a great noiſe, affray, and diſturbance, and continuing it for two hours, and till the plaintiff and his father R. A. the elder, and one C. A. were compelled and obliged to give, and did give the defendant their promiſory note for 66 l. 17 s. payable to him the ſaid defendant. The jury found for the plaintiff, and gave him a guinea damages.

The defendant's council inſiſted, that the plaintiff could have no more coſts than damages, for by ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 9. In all actions of treſpaſs, &c. wherein the judge at the trial of the cauſe, ſhall not certify on the back of the record, that an aſſault and battery, was ſufficiently proved, or that the freehold or title was chiefly in queſtion, and the damages found are under 40 s. the plaintiff ſhall recover no more coſts than damages.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. This caſe depends on the words, and till the plaintiff, &c. were compelled, &c. which words are barely an aggravation of the defendant's continuing in the houſe, and nothing more.

Deniſon, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Therefore the court directed the maſter to tax the coſts at a guinea only. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1282.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. Ingle v. Wordſworth & al. In Replevin.

In this cauſe one of the defendants was acquitted on verdict, on a plea of non cepit, and the judge who tried the cauſe did not certify that there was a reaſonable cauſe for making him a defendant.

The defendant's council moved the court, that the plaintiff in replevin might ſhew cauſe, why the maſter ſhould not tax the defendants coſts, as directed by ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. cap. 11.

The maſter had a doubt whether this action of replevin was within the ſtatute, which ſpecifically names only actions of treſpaſs, aſſault, falſe impriſonment, and ejectione firmæ.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court declared their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. We have conſidered this caſe, we had a ſtrong bias to have given the defendant his coſts if it had been poſſible; becauſe it is agreeable to natural juſtice, that he ſhould receive coſts if there was no reaſonable cauſe for making him a defendant.

The ſtat. ſpeaks generally of actions of treſpaſs, and does not particularly ſpecify any actions of treſpaſs, that are not treſpaſſes, quare vi et armis. This is a caſe in replevin which cannot have that liberal conſtruction. This ſtat. of W. and all the other ſtatutes relating to coſts are to be conſtrued ſtrictly. Therefore the rule to ſhew cauſe muſt be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1284.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. The King v. Heydon, Head, and Roper.

On three informations for bribery at an election, the defendant's council moved to diſcharge a rule for referring the matter to the maſter to tax coſts to be paid to the defendants for the proſecutors not going on to trial.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. By the conſtant courſe of the court, the defendant is entitled to coſts, if the proſecutor gives notice of trial, and neither goes to trial, nor countermands it in time.

If the defendant had drawn the proſecutor in to give notice of trial, by giving him hopes of producing any books; that might be a reaſon for not giving the defendant any coſts, but no ſuch thing appears in this caſe.

Deniſon, Wilmot, and Foſter, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the defendants take nothing by this motion. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1304.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 3. The King v. Plunket, Eſq.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 139 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 3. Harris Executor v. Jones.

On a queſtion, whether an executor ſhould be permitted to diſcontinue, without payment of coſts.

After hearing council, the court delivered their opinion.

Per curiam. We are clear that the giving an executor leave to diſcontinue, was a matter of diſcretion in the court, and that they ought not to give him ſuch leave in any caſe where he had knowingly brought his action wrong, unleſs he would conſent to pay coſts. Therefore on conſent of the plaintiff's council, a rule was granted to diſcontinue, on payment of coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1451.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 3. Marder and Wife v. Lee.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 218 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 3. Surman v. Shelleto.

On a motion for full coſts, though the jury had found only 1 s. damages, and they had given 40 s. coſts.

It was on an action for words, and the words charged to be ſpoken were, thou art a rogue, and thou haſt cheated me of ſeveral pounds.

After hearing the arguments of the council, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. The latter words, viz. thou haſt cheated me of ſeveral pounds, are actionable, but the plaintiff muſt be contented with his 40 s. coſts; therefore the motion was denied. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1688.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Dixon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 147 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Righton, Eſq;

On a motion on the part of the plaintiff to ſhew cauſe why the defendant ſhould not pay the proſecutor his coſts expended for not going on to trial, in purſuance of notice given by him for that purpoſe.

The caſe was; the defendant was indicted for refuſing to take on himſelf the office of borſholder, which he removed into this court, and thereon entered into a recognizance to appear, plead, and try ſuch indictment at the next aſſizes.

The defendant obtained a rule for a ſpecial jury, and every thing was ready for trial, but only five of the ſpecial jury appeared, and neither ſide prayed tales, though the defendant had a warrant for tales in his pocket.

The queſtion on this motion was, whether under theſe circumſtances the defendant was obliged to pay coſts for not going on to trial?

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. We are unanimouſly of opinion, that the defendant had not been guilty of ſuch a default as could render him liable to pay coſts for not going on to trial. The proſecutor might have come prepared with a warrant for a tales, if he had thought proper; therefore let the rule be diſcharged Vide Bur. vol. 3. page 1694.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Midlam
Idem v. Eundem

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 261 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Hawes Executrix v. Saunders.

The queſtion that came before the court on this motion was, whether an executor ſhall pay coſts on a judgment of non pros?

The ſtate of the caſe was, the executrix brought the original action, and was non proſſed for want of declaring in due time. The attorney for the original defendant came to the maſter to ſign the judgment as in a common caſe, although the plaintiff had brought her action with an ac etiam as executrix: the clerk of the judgments, as a matter of courſe, not underſtanding the plaintiff to be an executrix, taxed coſts againſt her.

On the judgment of non pros with coſts, the original defendant brought an action againſt the original plaintiff, and this motion was for the original plaintiff, to ſhew cauſe why further proceedings in the ſecond action ſhould not be ſtayed with coſts.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Yates, Juſtice, obſerved, that the caſe of a non pros and that of a diſcontinuance differ. The former ariſes from the executor's own delay, and therefore he thought, and the Chief Juſtice was of the ſame opinion, that this caſe was ſimilar to the caſe of his not going on to trial according to his notice.

The rule to ſhew cauſe being enlarged, the Chief Juſtice delivered his opinion on this caſe as follows:

Lord Mansfield. The privilege of executors is too great already; they ought to be properly informed before they bring actions. The diſtinction made between a diſcontinuance and a non pros is a very good one. It is very reaſonable that the executrix ſhould pay coſts in the preſent caſe: therefore let the rule to ſhew cauſe be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1584.

Courts.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. The King v. Gilbert.

In many places by preſcription, leets are held at other times than within a month after Eaſter or Michaelmas. In all leets they only ſay at a court, &c. held ſuch a day, without ſhewing their authority; it had been a good objection, not to ſhew an authority, if conſtant practice had not been otherwiſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 4.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Temple v. Killingworth.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Of late it is held, that caſe will lie for a proſecution in an inferior court, where the court has not the juriſdiction. The firſt caſe in point, was at Huntingdon aſſizes, and referred to the C. B. and there adjudged, that to ſue a man without any cauſe of action at all, no action lies, unleſs it appears to be with a malicious and vexatious deſign. Vide Mod. Rep. 12. p. 4.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Fiſher v. Baſton.

In error on a judgment given in an inferior court by the ſteward there in court, and affirmed; for though if it be by the ſteward only, without ſaying more, it would be ill, becauſe it might be in a tavern, or other place, yet being ſaid in court, ſhews it to be in court judicially. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 16.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Fletcher v. Ingram.

Per curiam. A ſteward may impoſe a fine on a perſon who is elected by the homage, if he is preſent at the leet, and refuſes to be ſworn to execute the office; but if the perſon is not preſent, the ſteward cannot fine him, but he may be amerced, which muſt be preſented at the next court, and affeered; and after the court is over, the juſtice of peace may adminiſter the oath of conſtable by the power which they have as conſervators of the peace; which power they had at common law, and is now veſted in them, and the rather, becauſe a conſtable is but a ſubordinate officer to them, for the preſervation of the peace. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 131.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Cudmore v. Tripe.

On a writ of error on a judgment given in the provoſt court at Exeter, where the plaintiff declared in an indebitatus aſſumpſit, and alſo on a quantum meruit: but on the quantum meruit did not ſay, that the cauſe of action was within the juriſdiction of the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Indeed there wants the then and there; therefore let the judgment be reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 78.

Hilary, 8 & 9 W. 3. Tregany v. Fletcher.

This being a writ of error on a judgment in the grand ſeſſions of Wales,

The defendant's council took an exception, that in pleading the common recovery, it was ſaid, that the writ of entry in the poſt iſſued out of the Exchequer, and did not ſay, out of the court of Exchequer. But not allowed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This court will take notice, that the Exchequer in Wales is a court. Vide Raymond, vol. 1. p. 154.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Guilliam v. Hardy.

Per cur. If the judgment of an inferior court is removed into this court by certiorari, and the party ſues out a ſcire facias to have execution on ſuch judgment, he ought to ſhew in his ſcire facias, that it is the judgment of ſuch an inferior court removed hither by certiorari, and ought to ſhew the particular limits of the inferior juriſdiction, and pray execution within the particular limits. But if the judgment is removed into this court by writ of error, and affirmed, the party may have execution in any part of England, for by the affirmance it is become the judgment of this court. But in a ſcire facias on ſuch a judgment affirmed here, the plaintiff ought to alledge, that it was removed hither by writ of error. And with this agrees 1 Sid. 213. Hutt. 117, 118. Riſam v. Godwin. And therefore, becauſe in the the principal caſe the ſcire facias did not expreſs by what means the judgment was removed into this court, and general execution is prayed, where it does not appear to the court that they can grant ſuch general execution, for perhaps the record was removed by certiorari. For this reaſon the court adjudged, that the ſcire facias ought to be abated.

The ſcire facias was ill, becauſe it recited the judgment of the inferior court, as by inſpection of the record it appears to us; for if the defendant pleads nul tiel record, it ought to be tried by the record itſelf, and not by inſpection of the record. But it ought to have been, as it appears by the record. And for theſe reaſons, the ſcire facias was abated. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 216.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Shepherd v. Taylor.

In error on replevin, for taking ſix pewter diſhes; the defendant makes conuſance, that a judgment was had in a court baron againſt the plaintiff; and that a levari facias iſſued out againſt him; on which he took the pewter diſhes: the plaintiff demurred, and had judgment; and it was now affirmed, becauſe a diſtringas is the execution on a judgment in a court baron; and not a levari facias, without a particular cuſtom alledged, which is not done; and the avowant ſhould not have begun with the judgment firſt, but have ſhewn a plaint entered, and ſo judgment againſt him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 124.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Truſcott v. Carpenter and Man.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 120 of this work, under the head Aſſault and Battery.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Cook v. Licence.

A motion was made for a prohibition, to be directed to the ſheriff's court in Briſtol, on ſuggeſtion that the cauſes of action ariſing out of the ſheriff's court ought not to be ſued there. And this motion was made on behalf of the defendant in the action, before he had appeared to ſtay the proceedings of the court, who proceeded to attach his goods in the hands of a garniſhee. And the plaintiff's council oppoſed the motion, becauſe the defendant cannot pray a prohibition on ſuggeſtion of a matter he could not plead. Now, here he cannot plead before his appearance, and therefore he ought not to make ſuch a motion before appearance.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A man ſhall not plead to a juriſdiction till he appears. But if the original cauſe of action aroſe out of the juriſdiction of the court, the garniſhee may plead it; and of that opinion was Hale, Chief Juſtice. But if it was debt on ſimple contract, it is attachable where the perſon of the debtor is.

The plaintiff's council then ſaid, that in the caſe of Clerk v. Andrews, Eaſter, 1 W. & M. this court was moved for a prohibition to the court of the ſheriffs of London, to ſtay proceedings, where they attached the debt of the garniſhee, becauſe it aroſe out of the juriſdiction; but it was denied, becauſe the debt was on a ſimple contract, which follows the perſon of the debtor. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 346.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Wilkins v. Mitchell.

The plaintiff was nonſuited in the town-court of Cambridge, held before the Mayor there, and the nonſuit entered and recorded. The defendant prayed to have judgment for his coſts; but the Mayor refuſed it. On which it was moved to this court to have a mandamus to compel the ſaid Mayor to give judgment for the defendant on the nonſuit. But it was denied.

Per curiam. The defendant may have a writ de executione judicii, and a mandamus ſhall not be granted where the party has another remedy.

Note. In the caſe of the King v. the Biſhop of Ely, it was ſaid by Lee, Chief Juſtice, that the law had been held contrary ever ſince Eaſter term, 11 Geo. 2. Dr. Bentley's caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 348. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 196.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Brinſby v. Gold.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit for horſe meat, the defendant pleaded an action depending in the ſheriff's court for the ſame cauſe; and held no plea, becauſe an action pending in an inferior court is no bar to an action in a ſuperior court for the ſame cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 204.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Maſon v. White, Marks et al'.

The plaintiff brought an action on the caſe againſt the defendant White as an attorney, and the other defendants, for entering judgment againſt him without his aſſent, or without his being arreſted, or any proceſs ſued out againſt him, and without having made any warrant of attorney to White; on which a fieri facias iſſued, and his goods were taken, &c. Judgment by default; and a writ of enquiry being executed and returned, the defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, 1ſt. That the declaration is againſt White, one of the attornies of the court of our Lord the King of the Bench here, where it ought to be at Weſtminſter, for it cannot be underſtood what place here means, and therefore it cannot be known what court the plaintiff means. But not allowed.

For the court ſaid, the court of our Lord the King of the Bench, is the Common Pleas; and the judges will take notice that the Common Pleas is at Weſtminſter, and therefore here is at Weſtminſter.

A ſecond exception was, that the plaintiff has not ſaid who were juſtices of the court; whereas he ought to have mentioned the Chief Juſtice by name, and his brethren. But not allowed.

For in the opinion of the court, tho' in pleading of a fine, they plead that the fine was levied before the Chief Juſtice by name, and his brethren, yet there is no neceſſity here, to name the juſtices of the court. So judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 485.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The buſtings is the county court in London, and the ſheriff may grant replevins out of it as ſuch, by ſtat. W. 2. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 320.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Dr. Grenville or Groenvelt, v. The College of Phyſicians.

See page 253 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. The King v. Toler.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that where a writ of error is ſued out of Chancery to remove a record out of an inferior court, returnable here; if they ſue execution afterwards, and before the return, this court will puniſh them. And he cited the caſe of Mr. Starkey in the time of Lord Chief Juſtice Kelynge, who was ſteward of Windſor Court, where a complaint was made againſt him for being judge, plaintiff, and bailiff; and Mr. Starkey, at the bar, ſaid, it did not concern this court; but he was committed, for every ſuch miſdemeanor is inquirable here. Vide Raym. vol. 1. page 555.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. Gilbert.

A preſentment in a court-leet, for a nuiſance, was removed by certiorari, and an exception was taken to it, that it was not ſhewn how, nor by what right, this court was held, whether by patent or preſcription, which was urged, ought to be done, for that the leet is not of common right, but is taken out of the town, and the town is of common right; ſuch derivation therefore muſt be either by grant or preſcription. But the court over-ruled the objection, and ſaid, the precedents were all in this manner. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 200.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Croſſe v. Smith.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 161 of this work, under the head Bail.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Fenwick v. Lady Groſvenor.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In inferior courts the courſe is, to enforce an appearance by diſtreſs, and that ought to be reaſonable; and if a reſcous is made to a reaſonable diſtreſs, the ſteward may impoſe a fine for it. And it would be too much to diſtrain goods to the value of the debt demanded. And the inferior officers cannot juſtify the breaking an houſe to take ſuch diſtreſs. And though an inferior court may grant other proceſs out of court, yet they cannot grant an attachment on a contempt in court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 610.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

A replevin by plaint in an inferior court was removed hither by certiorari; and on the removal the plaintiff changed his declaration.

Per curiam. That cannot be, for whatever is below ought to be now here. And if a perſon removes a replevin by recordare hither, and declares for leſs than he took, the defendant muſt avow for them, and alſo for what he has not declared on; and if he has a return, he ſhall have it for all. And if a perſon replevies part of the goods taken, the other ſhall avow for them, and the reſt alſo, and have return if his avowry go for him for all. And this certiorari removes the pledges below, ſo as a ſcire facias may iſſue againſt them. And the entry here above, in this caſe of the removal of a replevin by plaint, ought not to be of a he was ſummoned, as on an original, but as of a cauſe removed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 453.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Gwin v. Thornborough.

Per curiam. A perſon cannot be amerced in a leet for a private nuiſance, but may for a public one. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 598.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Stedman v. Robiſon or Robinſon.

In a falſe judgment from a county court, where debt was by juſtices; the declaration was, that the defendant was indebted to the plaintiff within the juriſdiction of the court, for goods ſold and delivered; and becauſe it was not alledged that the contract was within the juriſdiction, the judgment was reverſed; for if one is indebted to another, he is ſo wherever he goes. 1 Vent. 243. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 598.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Chambers v. Jennings.

The declaration on a prohibition to the court of the Earl-Marſhal, to ſtay a ſuit there againſt Chambers, ſet forth, that Jennings was a gentleman born, and dubbed a Knight by King Charles the Second, that the plaintiff ſpoke theſe words to, and of him, You a Knight! You are a pitiful fellow, and an inconſiderable fellow, to the great ſcandal of gentlemen, and of the order of Knighthood, and likewiſe, to the great provocation of Jennings to duels, and breach of the peace. And it appeared on the pleadings, that the queſtion was,

1ſt. Whether there was ſuch a court of honour in England as gave remedy for words not actionable at law, tending to the diſhonour of Knighthood, or of any perſon bearing arms.

2dly, If the court of honour had ſuch a juriſdiction, whether it ought not in ſuch caſe to be held before the conſtable and marſhal, and not before the marſhal alone? And the ſtatute of Richard the Second was likewiſe under conſideration.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. It was made an argument ſome years ago, that a prohibition would not lie out of this court to the court of honour; becauſe, as was then ſaid, none ever was known to have iſſued before; and ſtat. R. 2. was relied on, which proves if they ſhould encroach on things not within their juriſdiction, there ſhould be a writ from the Privy Council to reſtrain them. But notwithſtanding this, it was adjudged, that in caſe of incroachments prohibitions would lie, and it was the proper remedy: for it is the duty and buſineſs of this court to reſtrain all manner of inferior juriſdictions, and to keep them within their bounds; and the ſaid ſtatute was made to give a farther remedy by privy ſeal from the council; and the reaſon of that additional remedy was, that Thomas Earl of Glouceſter, the then conſtable, was too great and powerful for the King's courts to deal with him; and, beſides, there could not be application to this court in vacation, when they proceed below; and ſo it was held by all the judges.

Now, the firſt matter here is, concerning the conſtitution of the court; and, no doubt, formerly it was held before the conſtable and marſhal, and ſo all along till the 13th of H. 8. when the then conſtable was attainted of treaſon. How then came it to be held before the marſhal alone, and is there any precedent before that time, that it was held before the marſhal alone? And to make it out by preſcription, you cannot; for the firſt inſtance is within time of memory, and no ancienter than the court of the council of York, which obtained by incroachment only; for firſt it was but a commiſſion of oyer and terminer, yet afterwards, it drew in abundance of other matter, and all by the great power of the preſident of the North: and the Court of Requeſt was only by encroachment, and they acted like maſters in Chancery, and held conuſance of matters of law, without any preſcription; and yet it fell at laſt of itſelf, without any act of parliament; their proceſs was a ſubpœna. And I am entirely ignorant what ſort of juriſdiction a court of honour has, as to matters ariſing within England; for ſtat. R. 2. gives them authority only of matters ariſing out of the realm, and feats of arms within the realm; by which they would have meant coats of arms and eſcutcheons; and he ſaid, the miniſters of that court underſtood this matter of arms well, and gave coats of arms, and kept pedigrees of families; and if they find people that aſſume arms, to whom arms do not belong, or at leaſt thoſe they aſſume belong not to them, their way is, to poſt them up, by what juſtice or law I cannot tell, and in this caſe, what ſatisfaction can they make to the plaintiff? If they fine the defendant, ſhall they enforce the payment of it by impriſonment? We have a well known maxim, that no court ſhall impriſon but a court of record; and the court of honour is none; and the high commiſſion court had aſſumed a ſtrange authority, more indeed than belongs to it, by ſtatute H. 8. or of Queen Elizabeth, and carried their power ſo far, by the authority of ſome great men of the clergy, that were in the commiſſion, that it was hard dealing with them in Weſtminſter-Hall; for that court aſſumed a power to impriſon, though they could not juſtify it; and in my opinion, it were to be wiſhed the parliament would give them juriſdiction of words tending to diſparage men of honour; and ſuch as generally provoke gentlemen to fight.

Powell, Juſtice. If they have juriſdiction of words concerning coats of arms, that is not this caſe: but here you ſay, the words tend to a breach of the peace, and are provoking to fight a duel; and if ſo, they are indictable.

And this term it coming on in the paper, and none appearing for the defendant, the court ſaid, whatever colour there is to hold plea of ſomething before the marſhal alone, there was no pretence to hold plea of words; and ordered the rule for a prohibition to ſtand. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 125.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Wright v. Crump.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 133 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

If a jury in an inferior court will not agree on their verdict, the way is, as in other courts, to keep them without meat, drink, fire, or candle, till they agree, and the ſteward may from time to time adjourn the court till they do agree. Generally a levari facias is not the proceſs of the hundred court, but by cuſtom it may be, and all hundred courts have this cuſtom; but the true proceſs at common law is a diſtringas. All miſdemeanors in judicial officers are a contempt of this court, and attachments go daily againſt ſtewards, for granting attachments againſt all the parties goods.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, remembered a caſe of the Mayor of Hereford, who gave judgment for his own leſſee in ejectment: but for error in judgment a judge is not puniſhable. All this was held by the court on a motion for an attachment againſt a ſteward for diſcharging a jury before they gave a verdict. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 201.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Stanmer v. Davers.

In this caſe it was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice, and the court, that whenever an action is brought in an inferior court or juriſdiction, the compleat cauſe of action muſt be laid to ariſe within the juriſdiction; and if ſo, whatever matter lies in aggravation, need not be laid within the juriſdiction: as if an inn-keeper ſuffer my horſe to be taken out of the ſtable, without my conſent, it is a compleat cauſe of action; for thereby he is a wrong-doer: and though the aiding and beating be done out of the juriſdiction, yet the inferior juriſdiction may hold plea of it: the compleat cauſe of action ariſing from the firſt taking; and the ſubſequent matter only being an aggravation. And note, this was on a writ of error of a judgment in the Marſhalſea court; and the judgment was afterwards affirmed unanimouſly in this court, in Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 7.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Hill & al.

Judgment was given in the town court of Briſtol, the coſts taxed, and a ſci. fac. taken out againſt the bail, and a year afterwards the court granted a new trial, and ſet aſide the firſt judgment, and an attachment iſſued againſt the judge for this cauſe. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 201.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Lucking v. Denning.

In an action on the caſe, brought againſt a ſerjeant at mace for the eſcape of one in cuſtody by virtue of a proceſs of the court of the ſheriffs of London, in an action of debt on a bond ſued there; on not guilty pleaded, it appeared that the bond was made out of the juriſdiction of the court; and thereon it was objected, that the proceedings on the bond were all void, and the ſerjeant a treſpaſſer; and 2 Bulſt. 64. 2 Mod. 30. 1 Ro. 545, 809. 1 Sid. 125. 1 Lev. 95. Hob. 267. Lut. 935, 1560. 2 Mod. 196. March 117. & ſtat. Weſtm. 1. c. 35. were cited in ſupport of this aſſertion.

Per curiam. Where an inferior juriſdiction is confined to perſons, as the Marſhalſea to thoſe of the houſhold, if it appears on the face of the declaration, that the perſons who ſue are qualified to ſue, though in fact they are not, yet if the defendant does not plead to the juriſdiction, but comes in and admits it, he ſhall never take advantage of this afterwards, but is eſtopped and concluded: but if it is not averred in the declaration that the perſon is qualified to ſue, and within their juriſdiction, the whole proceedings are void, and treſpaſs lies againſt the officer.

2dly, Where the inferior juriſdiction is confined to ſome particular things, and the ſuit there is for ſomething elſe of which they have no juriſdiction, all is void, and can be made good by no admiſſion.

3dly, Where they are confined to place, viz. to all contracts ariſing within ſuch a diſtrict; though the contract ariſe out of the diſtrict, yet the court may award proceſs, and the officer may execute it, unleſs it appears to him that it aroſe without the juriſdiction, as if this bond had been dated at York, and that was the caſe, 1 Roll. 809. but he is not bound to inquire, either whether there be a cauſe of action, or where it aroſe, and may proceed in his duty, unleſs the contrary appears to him. The plaint is general without any averment, that it was within the juriſdiction, but that is ſupplied by the court; and if a matter ariſes without the juriſdiction, and the plaintiff declares of it as within the juriſdiction, the defendant may plead to the juriſdiction of the court, and if that be over-ruled, may have a prohibition on the ſtatute of Weſtminſter: but if he waives that, and pleads to the merits, he can never then have a prohibition, nor can he take advantage of their want of juriſdiction, for by the averment of the count, and his own admiſſion, he is eſtopped to ſay that it was a matter that aroſe out of their juriſdiction. It is impoſſible the court ſhould know where a tranſitory matter ariſes, unleſs the defendant acquaints them with it. Accordingly the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 202.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. The King v. Elliot.

The juſtices of a borough committed the defendant for non-payment of a fine ſet on him for a contempt in court. The defendant brought an habeas corpus, and the court held it a good commitment; on which he offered to pay the fine in this court, but they ſaid they could not take it; he muſt be remanded, and pay it below. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 786.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann, or 1 Ann, according to Raymond, Stannian, Stanion, or Stanyon, v. Davis or Davies.

Per curiam. In actions in inferior courts, it is neceſſary that every part of that which is the giſt of the action ſhould appear to be within their juriſdiction, otherwiſe ſuch matters as are inſerted only for aggravation of damages, might be omitted, and yet the action remain. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 153 of this work, under the head Averment.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Emery v. Bartlett.

On a writ of error brought by Bartlett to reverſe a judgment given againſt him by the court of record of the city of Litchfield, in an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes brought by Emery againſt him, and judgment by default, a writ of enquiry executed, entire damages found, and final judgment given. In the declaration there were two counts: The firſt was on a promiſory note made within the juriſdiction of the court, and ſubſcribed by the defendant, by which he promiſed to pay Emery 59 l. 10 s. on demand, for value received. And the exception to that count was, that it was not averred that the value was received within the juriſdiction of the court; the plaintiff in error's council inſiſting, that this was the foundation of the note, and that therefore it was neceſſary to be ſet forth within the juriſdiction, to give the court a juriſdiction over the cauſe. The ſecond count was on an inſimul computaſſet, wherein the plaintiff Emery below declared, that the defendant Bartlett accounted with her within the juriſdiction of the court, for divers ſums of money before then due, and ſtill remaining in arrear and unpaid.

The exception to this was, that it was not averred, that the ſums of money were due within the juriſdiction of the court. And it was urged, that if the defendant was not contracted within the juriſdiction of the court, the laying the accounting to be within it would not be ſufficient, becauſe the accounting did not alter the nature of the debt. And for that were cited the caſes of Harrenden v. Palmer, Hob. 88. Done v. Thorpe, Allen 72. Coney v Laws, Stile's Rep. 472. Sir Thomas Jones, 47. and Lev. 165. Buli v. Palmer. But the court were of opinion, as to the firſt point, that the promiſory note being laid to have been made within the juriſdiction, was ſufficient, becauſe whether it was for value received or not, it would not be material, for an action on a promiſory note payable to a man, or order, tho' it was not for value received, is maintainable on ſtat. 3 & 5 Ann, c. 9. and if the value received is in the note, there is no occaſion to prove that the value was paid. As to the exception to the ſecond count, the court alſo over-ruled it, becauſe the action was grounded on the ſtated account, which was laid to be ſtated within the juriſdiction. And though the ſtating the account might not alter the nature of the debt, yet giving the ſtated account in evidence, would be good evidence to prove the declaration. The judgment was therefore affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1555.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. George Blenkinſon and William Waite v. Francis Iles.

See this caſe fully ſtated in p. 86 of this work, under the head Appearance.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Moravia's Caſe.

On application for an information againſt the judges of the court of the borough of the Deviſes in Wilts, for a miſdemeanor in their office, in unduly diſcharging a debtor out of their priſon:

Lord Hardwicke. Such a miſdemeanor may be puniſhed by information, and alſo by attachment, being conſidered as a contempt of this court, which has a general ſuperintendency over all inferior juriſdictions.

But in this caſe the affidavits not being ſufficient, no rule was made. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 135.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. The King v. Roger Phillips, Mayor of Carmarthen.

Adjudged, that general rules were wiſely eſtabliſhed for attaining juſtice with eaſe, certainty, and diſpatch, the great end of them being to do juſtice, and it is the duty of the court to ſee that this end be really attained. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 301.

Hilary, 31 Geo. 2. Sir Edward Worſeley, & al. Aſſignees of Richard Slader, a Bankrupt v. De Mattos and Slader.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 200 of this work, under the head Bankrupt.

Trinity, 33 & 34 Geo. 2. The King v. Moreley and Others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 260 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 3. Doe, on the Demiſe of Long v. Laming.

Adjudged, that a court of equity is as much bound by poſitive rules and general maxims concerning property, (though the reaſon of them may now have ceaſed) as a court of law is. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1108.

Covenant.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Sawyer v. Killigrew.

In an action of covenant for the ſale of an office, and the vendor to have the penſion belonging to it, judgment was given for the defendant.

On this judgment a writ of error was brought in this court, and the queſtion debated was, whether this was a good grant or not? And it was agreed that nothing but uſage could ſupport it.

Then it was argued, that this covenant was in the nature of a perſonal warranty, and not to be compared to a covenant for quiet enjoyment, where on a diſturbance, the party has a remedy over; but this action reſts on the covenant itſelf, and does not wait on the office; for if the Queen ſhould die, the defendant is ſtill bound, and ſo he is alſo, if the profits of the office ſhould be ſunk.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, and Eyre, Juſtice, were of opinion, that the breach was not well aſſigned: the other two juſtices were of a different opinion; they held that there was a good breach, and that the bar was good, and a direct anſwer to the breach; ſo all were againſt the plaintiff in the writ of error; wherefore he proceeded no farther, and there the matter reſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 39.

Hilary, 3 & 4 W. & M. Glover v. Cope.

In an action of covenant, the plaintiff declared, that the manor of Hackney, in the county of Middleſex, was an antient manor, whereof one meſſuage with the appurtenances in Mere-ſtreet, is copyhold of inheritance.

That there is a cuſtom within the ſaid manor for every cuſtomary tenant thereof, being ſeized in fee of any copyhold lands or tenements, to demiſe the ſame for 31 years, more or leſs, without licence, &c.

That on the 31ſt day of December, 19 Car. 2. Sir William Bolton being then Lord of the ſaid manor, granted the ſaid meſſuage, &c. to G. H. and M. his wife, and to the heirs of the ſaid G. who was thereon admitted.

That on the 20th of February, 1671, the ſaid H. and his wife, by their indenture, did demiſe the ſaid meſſuage to the defendant for 21 years, rendering rent, in which leaſe the defendant covenanted to repair during the term.

That by virtue of the ſaid demiſe, the defendant entered and was poſſeſſed, &c.

That M. H. died, and afterwards, &c. on the 20th of January, 1684, the ſaid G. H. granted the reverſion of the ſaid meſſuage, &c. to his ſon G. H. the younger, and to his heirs.

That afterwards, viz. on the 14th of Auguſt, 1 Jac. 2. the ſaid G. H. the ſon, was admitted tenant, and the ſame day ſurrendered the premiſes to the plaintiff Glover, who was admitted, and now brought this action againſt the defendant for not repairing the premiſes.

The defendant pleaded, that after the leaſe was made to him, and before the reverſion came to the plaintiff, viz. July 24, 28 Car. 2. he the ſaid defendant aſſigned the meſſuage, &c. to S. P. of which the plaintiff had notice, by virtue whereof ſhe entered, and was poſſeſſed, and this &c.

The plaintiff demurred, and the defendant joined in demurrer; on which two queſtions aroſe.

1ſt. Whether this covenant runs with the reverſion? for if ſo, then the plaintiff being a grantee of a reverſion, may bring this action at common law.

2dly, If not, then, whether the aſſignee of a reverſion a copyhold, is aided by ſtat. H. 8.?

Per curiam. A copyholder has an inheritance, tho' he has it in the poſt, and his eſtate is now fixed and eſtabliſhed by the cuſtom; and therefore muſt be conſtrued to be within the equity of this ſtatute, and the rather, becauſe of late he has been held to be within the ſtatute de donis, &c. And ſo without farther argument, judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 80.

Eaſter, 4 W. 3. Pitcher v. Tovey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 128 of this work, under the head Aſſignment.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Buſh v. Cole.

In an action of Covenant, the plaintiff declared, that he leaſed to A. a houſe for years, excepting two rooms, with free ingreſs, egreſs, &c. thro' the parlour, hall, &c. and afterwards the leſſee aſſigned to the defendant, and now alledges a breach, becauſe the defendant had ſtopped the paſſage; and on demurrer, that theſe words do not make a covenant, for they are only the words of the leſſor, and not like 1 Saund. 321. where covenant was maintained on the word dimiſi; for there the uſe of a pump was leaſed by him againſt whom the covenant was brought; but here they are the words of him who brings the covenant; and if covenant lies, it is not maintainable againſt the aſſignee.

Per curiam. Covenant lies againſt the leſſee and aſſignee too, for it is expreſsly laid, that the demiſe was to him and his aſſigns.

Eyre, Juſtice, ſaid, the difference was as taken in Lord Ruſſel's caſe, where the demiſe was of land, except a cloſe, and agreed that covenant did not lie for diſturbance in this cloſe; but where the exception was of a thing dehors to the leſſor, as a way, common, eſtovers, or other profit to take, that is by agreement of the leſſee, the leſſor ſhall have them; and therefore covenant lies. 3 Cro. 657. Mo. 553. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 24.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Midgleys v. Lovelace.

The aſſignee of a reverſion granted over his reverſion, and afterwards brought an action of covenant againſt the aſſignee of the term, for rent arrear before the grant of reverſion: and on demurrer,

Per curiam. If at common law, the aſſignee of a reverſion had granted it over, yet he might afterwards have an action of debt for rent; though he could not diſtrain or have waſte; becauſe his power over the land was determined. It is true, where a man ſeized of a rent in fee, grants it over, there he has no remedy for the arrear, becauſe the diſtreſs, which was his only one, is gone by the aſſignment; but where rent is reverſed on a leaſe for years, it is otherwiſe, becauſe debt lies on the contract; and here the aſſignee ſhall have it as a fruit fallen from the reverſion. Judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 45.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Griffith v. Harriſon.

An action was brought by an executor, on a covenant in an aſſignment of a leaſe, for quiet enjoyment free and clear, and freely and clearly diſcharged, or otherwiſe indemnified of and from all arrears of rent, &c. And the plaintiff aſſigned a breach, that ſo much rent was in arrear; the defendant to part pleaded payment to the leſſor, and to the reſt of the rent alledged to be in arrear, that he left money in the hands of the plaintiff, with an intention that he ſhould pay it to the leſſor; on demurrer it was objected, that the plea was not good, becauſe the intention was not traverſable.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In ſome caſes the intention is traverſable, as if A. be indebted to B. by obligation, and by ſimple contract, and pays money to B. the intention to which debt it ſhall be applied is traverſable: and the court inclined that this plea was good; but held clearly, that if it had been left to pay it had been good, and that he did not leave it in manner and form, &c. had been a good traverſe: but the court took exception to the aſſignment of the breach, for that the plaintiff did not ſhew a diſturbance in the enjoyment, or other ſpecial damage, without which the rent being behind, is not a breach of the covenant, Tollard's caſe, 1 Ro. Abr. 433. and took this difference, viz. where the counter-bond or covenant is given to ſave harmleſs from a penal bond before the condition broken, there if the penal ſum be not paid at the day, and ſo the condition not preſerved, the party to be ſaved harmleſs, does by this become liable to the penalty, and is damaged, and the counter-bond forfeited; but if the counter-bond is given after the condition of the obligation is broken, or to ſave harmleſs from a ſingle bill without a penalty, there the counter-bond cannot be ſued without a ſpecial damage. So here the rent remaining in arrear, and not paid, is not a damage, unleſs the plaintiff is ſued or charged; and if paid any time before ſuch damage incurred by the plaintiff, it is ſufficient. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 197.

Eaſter, 6 W. & M. Green v. Home.

In an action of covenant, the plaintiff declared, that A. being indebted to him, and arreſted at his ſuit, the defendant, in conſideration that he would order the bailiff to let A. go at large, undertook and covenanted with the plaintiff to bring in the body of the ſaid A. and deliver him into the cuſtody of the ſaid bailiff, on ſuch a day, &c. The defendant prayed oyer of the deed, which was, I (the defendant) do promiſe and engage myſelf to bring in the body of A. to the cuſtody of B. bailiff, on ſuch a day; and thereon it was demurred.

Per curiam. 1ſt. The plaintiff cannot ſet forth matter of fact in his declaration not contained in the deed itſelf, ſo as to alter the caſe; therefore all ſuch matter of fact ſo alledged or averred, is immaterial. 8 Rep. 151.

2dly. The plaintiff is no party to the deed, nor ſo much as named in it, and though covenant may be brought on a deed-poll, yet the party muſt be named in the deed. 1 Rol. Ab. 517. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 197.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Smith v. Sharp.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 247 of this work, under the head Breach.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Thwaites and Wife, &c.

An action of debt was brought for rent on a leaſe of a houſe to be made by three judges, purſuant to the ſtatute, for erecting a court of judicature for the determination of differences concerning houſes built in London, whoſe judgment and decrees by the ſaid ſtatute are made a record, and entered into a book, and kept by the Lord Mayor, with the records of the city; in which leaſe the rent of 2 l. 13 s. was reſerved per ann. and the plaintiff declared for 100 l. due for ſo many years; and it appeared on the record, in caſting up the ſums, that he had declared for 8 l. too much.

The defendant pleaded nul tiel record, and there was a judgment for the plaintiff, that he had produced the record.

It was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this being in debt for rent, and an entire demand of a certain ſum, the plaintiff could never have judgment, becauſe it appeared on his own ſhewing, that he had not any cauſe of action for the whole.

Per curiam. If an action of debt is brought on ſeveral bonds, and it appears that one is not due, the plaintiff may recover the reſt. So here the plaintiff demands 100 l. on ſeveral arreſts of rent, and it appears that the whole is not due, but falls ſhort 10 l. He may recover for the reſidue. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 212.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. French, Executor of Squire, v. Trewin.

In an action of covenant brought on articles of agreement between the teſtator Squire and the defendant, by which it was covenanted and agreed between them, that Squire ſhould reſign to the defendant his intereſt in a houſe, &c. and that the defendant ſhould pay to Squire 30 l. The plaintiff aſſigns for breach, that the defendant has not paid the 30 l. The defendant pleads, that Squire did not aſſign his intereſt in the houſe to him. On demurrer, it was adjudged for the plaintiff, becauſe theſe are mutual and independant covenants, and the parties may have reciprocal actions; and therefore the plaintiff may bring his action before the aſſignment of the houſe. And the defendant has a remedy after, if the other party does not perform his part. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 124.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Brewſter v. Kitchell, Kidgel, or Kitchin.

This was a feigned action on the caſe upon a wager, in order to ſettle a difference about the deduction of taxes out of a rent-charge. Upon non aſſumpſit pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. that A. being ſeized of lands in fee, by a deed dated in 1649, granted a rent-charge to one Brewſter and his heirs, and covenanted for farther aſſurance, and on the ſame deed there was an indorſement, that the rent was to be paid clear of all taxes; and afterwards A. confirmed the grant, and covenanted to pay the rent-charge clear of all taxes. By the land-tax 3 W. & M. 4 s. per pound was laid upon land, and power given to the tenant to deduct 4 s. in the pound, with a proviſo not to alter covenants or agreements of parties.

Holt, C. Juſtice held, 1ſt. That the heir of the grantee could not maintain an action of covenant againſt the aſſignee or leſſee of the grantor; but only againſt the grantor and his heirs; for a warranty, though a covenant real, does not bind the land, till judgment had in warrantia chartæ; much leſs that which is only a perſonal covenant. An aſſignee of land may have covenant againſt the covenantor and his heirs, where the covenant runs with the land; ſtat. 42 E. c. 3. ſect. 5. 5 Co. Spencer's caſe; but covenant will not lie merely againſt one as an aſſignee of land. Hard. 87. pl. 5.

2dly. Where the queſtion is, whether a covenant be repealed by act of parliament, this is the diſtinction, viz. where H. covenants not to do an act or thing which was lawful to do, and an act of parliament is made afterwards, and compels him to do it, the ſtatute repeals the covenant: ſo if H. covenants to do a thing which is lawful, and an act of parliament comes in and hinders him from doing it, the covenant is repealed. Vide Dyer 27. pl. 278. But if a man covenants not to do a thing which then was unlawful, and a ſtatute afterwards makes it lawful to do it, ſuch act of parliament does not repeal the covenant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 198. Raym. vol. 1. p. 317. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 368. ibid. vol. 12. p. 166.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Toddard v. Middleton.

An action of covenant was brought on the penalty of certain articles, wherein the defendant had agreed to pay ſo much per chaldron for all coals laden either at Newcaſtle or on the river Tyne, and brought to London; and the breach aſſigned was, that the coals were laden in ſuch a ſhip in the port of Tinmouth, viz. at North-Shields, and brought from thence to London.

To this declaration the defendant demurred, becauſe it did not appear that Tinmouth was on the river Tyne, and ſo the breach is not well aſſigned, and the court cannot take notice judicially, that Tinmouth is on that river; and for this reaſon they inclined againſt the plaintiff; but gave him leave to diſcontinue, on payment of coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 352.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Hannan v. Redman.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where ſeveral lands are charged with a rent-charge, and the owner of theſe lands makes a leaſe thereof, and covenants with the leſſee to ſave him harmleſs, &c. and afterwards the leſſee pays the rent to the grantee of the rent-charge, voluntarily and without compulſion, in ſuch caſe he pays it in his own wrong, and muſt pay it again to the leſſor; but if he is diſtrained for the rent-charge and his goods taken, this is a breach of the covenant, and not before; and the leſſee muſt not alledge generally, that he was compelled to pay the rent, but muſt ſhew how.

A biſhop made a leaſe, in which the leſſee covenanted to repair, the biſhop died, and his executors brought an action for not repairing in the time of the biſhop, and adjudged well. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 108.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Northcote v. Underhill.

In covenant the plaintiff declared, that the defendant by his deed did grant, bargain and ſell, to the plaintiff and his heirs, provided that if the grantor paid ſo much money, it ſhould be lawful for him to re-enter, and that he covenanted to pay the ſaid money to the plaintiff; and a breach was aſſigned in non-payment of the money: after judgment by default, and a writ of inquiry executed, It was objected, that nothing paſſed by the deed for want of inrolment, which was granted; and from hence he inferred, that the covenants were void, like the caſe in Raymond 27. where H. grants all the reſidue of his term, which ſhould be unexpired at the time of his death, and covenants for quiet enjoyment, and gives a bond to perform that covenant, and it was held that the bond and covenant were void.

Holt, C. J. allowed this reaſoning, becauſe that was a relative and dependent covenant. It refers to an eſtate, and is to wait on it; and if there be no eſtate granted, the covenant fails; but in this caſe the covenant to pay the money is a diſtinct, ſeparate, and independent covenant, and it is not material whether any eſtate paſſed, and the plaintiff need not ſhew it, nor ſay that the defendant granted, but the beſt way is to declare with a quod cum teſtatum exiſtit, &c. therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 199.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Cook v. Harris.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 128 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action of covenant, the plaintiff declared on an indenture of ſettlement on a marriage, by which the father ſettled certain lands to the uſe of J. S. for four years, and afterwards to the uſe of the ſon for life, and then to the daughter for life, and then to the firſt, ſecond, &c. ſons of their two bodies in tail, &c. and the father covenanted, that the lands limited in jointure, after the expiration of the four years, ſhould be, and for ever continue, of the annual value of 200 l. per annum; and the breach was aſſigned, that the lands were not of ſuch value. This action was brought by the ſon againſt the executor, who demurred to the declaration. And an exception was taken, that this covenant did but extend to the eſtate for life limited to the wife for her jointure, and ſo the ſon cannot have an action. For the words (eſtate ſo limited in jointure) reſtrained it to this eſtate only; and the ſecurity muſt be intended to have been for the benefit of the wife only, to the end that ſhe might be certain of a jointure of ſuch a value. And it cannot be intended that the father meant to oblige himſelf to ſecure it to his ſon. And he cited Hob. 273. 329. 2 Saund. 413. Alleyn. 10. 2 Vent. 140. being caſes where covenants are reſtrained by the intent of the parties. That the words (for ever continue) cannot be conſtrued to make a perpetual covenant, but muſt have ſome reſtriction; and that which he had not mentioned, ſeemed to be the moſt proper; and if this conſtruction was not made, the words (ſo limited in jointure) would be idle, and of no effect; for it does not appear that there were any other lands compriſed in the deed. But the plaintiff's council argued, that the covenant is, that after the four years the lands ſhall be, and continue for ever, &c. Now, the ſon having, by the limitation of the deed, the next immediate eſtate after the four years is expired, if this covenant is not conſtrued to extend to him, it will be deſtroyed; ſince his eſtate commences immediately on the expiration of the four years.

Which Holt, Chief Juſtice, granted, and ſaid, that the words (lands ſo limited in jointure) were only a deſcription of the lands to which the covenant ſhould extend; and it is advantageous to the wife that the lands ſhould be of ſuch a value to the ſon of her huſband, as thereby ſhe may live in a more plentiful manner. And as to the objection, that the words would be idle, and of no effect, he anſwered, that notwithſtanding any thing to the contrary appearing to the court, there might be other lands mentioned in the deed; and if the defendant would have taken advantage of this exception, he ſhould have prayed oyer of the deed, to the end that it might have appeared, that there were no other lands compriſed; for the plaintiff has no need to ſhew more of the deed in his declaration than concerns his caſe. And as to the extenſiveneſs of the covenant, he made this diſtinction, that it would extend to all eſtates raiſed by the deed: as if H. limits an eſtate to A. for life, remainder to B. for life, remainder to the firſt, ſecond, &c. ſons of their two bodies, remainder to his own right heirs, with ſuch a covenant annexed to it, it will extend to the eſtates for life, and the eſtates tail; but if for default of iſſue of the bodies of A. and B. the reverſion deſcends to the collateral or lineal heir of H. he ſhall never take advantage of it, becauſe he is not privy to the conſideration of the deed, nor party to the deed, nor is his eſtate raiſed by the deed. But if in ſuch caſe the remainder had been limited to the right heirs of A. or B. or J. S. they might ſue on this covenant, becauſe they had taken by the limitation of the deed, and are privy to it. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff by the whole court. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 365.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Greſcot v. Green.

The leſſee covenanted for him and his aſſigns to rebuild and finiſh a houſe within ſuch a time, and after the time expired the leſſee aſſigned over the premiſes, the houſe not being built and finiſhed according to the covenant.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This covenant ſhall not bind the aſſignee, becauſe it was broke before the aſſignment; otherwiſe if it was broke after, as if the leſſee had aſſigned before the time expired, &c. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 199.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Steer v. Shalecroft.

This was an action of covenant for not conveying an eſtate purſuant to articles.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. There is a manifeſt difference between a covenant to make a conveyance at the charge of the covenantee, and a covenant to convey to the covenantee, and he covenants to be at the charge of it; for in the firſt caſe, the covenantor is not obliged to perform till a tender of the charges; but in the ſecond he is to convey at his peril; and if the covenantee will not pay, he has his remedy againſt him on his covenant; but where a covenant is to make a conveyance at the charge of the covenantee, the covenantor ought to give notice to the covenantee, what ſort of conveyance he intends to make, that the covenantee may judge what charge to tender. 2dly, When a perſon pleads a deed, he muſt plead it according to its legal operation, and not according to the words thereof. 3dly, If a covenant is to make a feoffment, &c. before ſuch a day, the covenantor ought to give notice when he will make it, that the covenantee may be there to receive it; otherwiſe, if it be to make a feoffment on a day certain; but in that caſe the covenantor muſt plead a tender on the laſt convenient time of that day. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12, p. 400.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Stanhop v. Pemperton.

A covenant was to build a houſe on land demiſed before ſuch a day, and to keep it in repair, for the leſſee and his aſſigns; and after the day, an action of covenant was brought againſt the aſſignee for not repairing. The defendant pleads the houſe was not built before the day; and on general demurrer, judgment was given for the plaintiff. It was agreed this would not have bound the aſſignee, being a new thing, without expreſsly naming him. 2dly, That the plea was a negative pregnant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 384.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Keeling v. Morrice.

In an action of covenant brought againſt an adminiſtrator of an aſſignee of a term, generally in his own name, on a covenant in the original demiſe to repair, and a breach in his time; it was agreed, 1ſt. That this covenant ran with the land, and bound the poſſeſſor without the word aſſigns. 5 Co. 15. And the Dean and Chapter of Windſor's caſe. Mo. 399. 1 Cro. 229. Jo. 245. And he ſhall not ſay, I ſhall not be charged for my own wrong for want of aſſets, for it is his own act to be adminiſtrator, and he is preſumed to have known the covenant annexed to the leaſes, as executors, under pain of devaſtavit, are obliged to take notice of their teſtator's debts by bonds, and give preference of payment to them; and he might have diſcharged himſelf, by aſſigning over before breach. And by the ſame reaſon that he ſhould be charged for the rent, ſo he ought here for the damages. 2 Inſt. 202. An executor or adminiſtrator ſhall be puniſhed for waſte, whether voluntary or permiſſive, though treble damages are recoverable in it. 1 And. 51, 52. 5 Co. Hargrave's caſe. Allen 42. And judgment was given for the plaintiff, niſi, before the end of the term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 371.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Badger v. Floyd.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If A. covenants with B. to convey to him all his right and title to the manor of D. to which A. has no right; it is not a good plea in an action of covenant, that he had no right, &c. but he muſt take ſuch a conveyance as would in truth paſs all his title, in caſe he had any; and he is eſtopped by his covenant to ſay he had no title. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 398.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Frontin v. Small.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 146 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Lacy v. Kynaſton.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If A. covenants to do a thing, and the covenantee agrees to ſave him harmleſs, that is a defeazance of the covenant. If two are bound jointly and ſeverally in a bond, and a releaſe is given to one of them, it releaſes the ſeveral, as well as the joint lien, if A. is bound by bond to B. and B. covenants not to put it in ſuit till ſuch a time, it is a defeaſance; but if he grants not to ſue on it at all, it is a releaſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 415. Raymond, vol. 1. p. 688.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Robinſon v. Walker.

In an action of covenant, the plaintiff declared, that the defendant and J. S. did agree for himſelf and each of them, &c. that they or either of them would load a ſhip at ſuch a place, and pay the plaintiff for the freight, &c. and the defendant pleaded in abatement, that the other covenantor was alive and not named in the writ. And it was agreed by all, that we bind ourſelves and each of us, was joint and ſeveral.

But Holt, Chief Juſtice, declared, he thought there might be a difference between A. and B. do agree, and each of them agrees, and A. and B. agree for themſelves and each of them, for in the firſt, each of them agrees, expreſsly ſevers the lien, but for each of them, ſeems to go to the thing to be done; that is, that they both or either of them would do it. And a perſon may covenant, that he or A. will do ſuch a thing; ſo if two covenant that they or one of them ſhall do ſuch a thing, that is a joint covenant only; and the word agree, and not for each of them, makes the lien. But the reſt of the court were of a different opinion, viz. that there is no difference between this, and the caſe of we bind ourſelves, and each of us. And judgment was given to anſwer over. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 153.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Lylly's Caſe.

An action of covenant lies not againſt an apprentice, being an infant. 1 Cro. 179. 1 Mod. 271. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 15.

1 Ann, Heron v. Treyne.

In an action of covenant brought by Heron againſt Treyne, it was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, on evidence at the trial at the Lent aſſizes in Southwark, that if A. covenants with B. to make a farther aſſurance to B. at the coſts of B. A. ought to give notice to B. what ſort of aſſurance he will make, and then B. ought to tender the coſts, and then A. ought to make the aſſurance. But if the covenant is, that A. ſhall make a new demiſe to B. at the coſts of B. (as the covenant on which this action was brought, was) or any particular aſſurance ſpecified in the covenant; then B. ought firſt to tender the coſts, and then A. ought to make the aſſurance. For in the former caſe, B. cannot know what coſts will be ſufficient to tender, before he knows what ſort of aſſurance A. will make; but in the latter caſe by the inſpection of the covenant itſelf, he will know what ſort of aſſurance will be made. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 750.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Foxton v. Moſely.

In an action of covenant brought by an apprentice for not teaching him four ſeveral trades in an indenture of apprenticeſhip mentioned, the defendant, inſtead of craving oyer of the plaintiff's indenture, ſet forth an indenture of his own, and pleaded performance of the covenants therein contained.

And on demurrer, it was adjudged for the plaintiff, for the defendant cannot ſhew any other indenture, but crave oyer of the indenture declared on. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 154.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. White v. Bodinam.

A leſſee for years, brought an action of covenant againſt the leſſor, declaring on a demiſe and covenant for quiet enjoyment, and aſſigns for breach, that the leſſor did enter on him, and ouſt him out of the premiſes: the defendant pleads, that he entered to diſtrain for rent in arrear, abſque hoc, that he did ouſt him of the premiſes. To which the plaintiff demurred, thinking the traverſe ill; becauſe if he had ouſted him of any parcel of the premiſes, he had good cauſe of action; therefore he ſhould have traverſed, abſque hoc, that he ouſted him of the premiſes, or any part thereof.

Per curiam. The plea is well enough in this caſe; for if the plaintiff will join iſſue on the matter of the traverſe, and prove ouſter of any part, the iſſue will be for him. And the court made a diſtinction between pleading the general iſſue, (as in debt, you plead, is indebted, nor any part or parcel thereof doth owe) and a ſpecial iſſue as this is. 3 Cro. 83, 84. Robſert v. Andrews. Dyer 115. Therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 150.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

In an action of covenant brought againſt huſband and wife, on a deed of demiſe to the wife, when ſole; whereby ſhe covenanted, that ſhe would every year, during the term, plant ſo many oaken plants on the premiſes: the breach aſſigned was, that any oaken plants in any year during the ſaid term, they or either of them, annually had not planted.

Per curiam. If the wife had aſſigned when ſole, the action for breach would lie againſt the huſband and her jointly: and as to the annually in any year, at moſt it is nothing but ſurpluſage, and ſhall be rejected. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 239.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Arnote or Armit, v. Breame.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 103 of this work, under the head Arbitration.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Seignorett v. Noguire, & al.

An action of covenant was brought on articles of partnerſhip, whereby it was agreed, that the three defendants ſhould contract for 336 ſhares of the Royal Lute-ſtring Company, for which the plaintiffs were to pay the money, and to have the ſhares delivered to them; and the plaintiffs were to have intereſt for their money; that the plaintiffs and defendants were to manage the ſhares in partnerſhip, and in caſe of difference in opinion, the moſt voices to carry it; the plaintiff's to be but one voice: that when any of the ſhares ſhould be ſold, the money ſhould go to ſatisfy the plaintiffs, the principal and intereſt of what they advanced; the partnerſhip to continue for four years, to begin from the day of the date of the contract for the ſhares; that after the expiration of the ſaid four years, the plaintiffs ſhould not be obliged to keep any of the ſaid ſhares, which ſhould then remain unſold, any longer, but might ſell them to make an end of the account of the partnerſhip; and if there ſhould be any loſs, the ſame ſhould be borne, one-fourth part by the plaintiffs, and the other three-fourths by the defendants. The contract for the 336 ſhares was laid to be made the 13th day of April 1693; and for breach the plaitiffs ſhewed, that after the four years elapſed, the plaintiffs ſold 174 ſhares, which were what were then remaining of 336 ſhares, for 2921 l. 10 s. and no more, which was the beſt price that could be got for them, ſo that the damage came to ſo much, three-fourths of which was ſo much, for which the plaintiff brought this action. The defendants craved oyer of the articles, and they were entered in theſe words; and it appeared, that the commencement of the four years was to be from the day of the date of the contract. The defendants pleaded, that before the ſale of the 174 ſhares, viz. on the 23d day of November 1698, the plaintiffs ſold and transferred the ſaid 174 ſhares, viz. 90 ſhares to R. L. and 84 ſhares to W. S. and that at the time of ſelling and transferring aforeſaid, the current and marketable price of the ſaid 174 ſhares was ſo much: and ſo there was no loſs. The plaintiffs replied, and traverſed the ſale of the ſaid 174 ſhares in manner and form, &c. and thereon iſſue was joined, and the jury found a ſpecial verdict, that the plaintiff Seignorett, at the ſeſſions of parliament, 9 & 10 W. 3. was impeached for miſdemeanors, and R. L. and W. S. became his bail: and that the plaintiffs on the 30th day of May 1698, aſſigned over the 174 ſhares to R. L. and W. S. viz. 90 to L. and 84 to S. for their ſecurity, and to ſecure and indemnify them, of and from the recognizances: that afterwards on the 28th day of October 1698, L. and S. were diſcharged from their recognizances, and that they were no ways damnified thereby; but whether this aſſignment was in law a ſale, they leave to the diſcretion of the court.

After this cauſe had been a long time depending, the three judges gave judgment the latter end of this term, but the Chief Juſtice was not ſatisfied. It was agreed by the three judges, that if this partnerſhip had been concerning chattels that had been aſſignable, that then this aſſignment to L. and S. would have been a ſale within the meaning of the covenant, and would have been with the defendants, becauſe the legal intereſt being out of the plaintiffs, they had diſabled themſelves to perform the truſt. But they ſaid, this aſſignment was not like a conveyance in law; that they could not tell what it was; that by it they were not ſatisfied; that though the ſhares were put out of the plaintiffs power, they might have executed the truſt notwithſtanding. And Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, the merits of the cauſe were with the plaintiffs.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, doubted, for he thought there was no difference between the caſes, for that ſuch aſſignments muſt be taken to be within this agreement as the nature of the thing is capable of, whether they were or were not effectual aſſignments in point of law. So if a man aſſigns a bond to J. S. and afterwards receives the money of the obligor, if he does not immediately pay it over to the aſſignee, the aſſignee may maintain an action of covenant againſt him on the word aſſigned, and that was the caſe of Deering v. ——— So if the obligee covenants to aſſign a bond to J. S. on ſuch a day, and will not aſſign it, or before the day receives the money of the obligor, by which means he has diſabled himſelf to aſſign it; in either of theſe caſes it is a breach of covenant, and yet in ſtrictneſs a bond is not aſſignable. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1241.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a farm is out of repair in the life of the anceſtor, and afterwards the heir brings an action, he ſhall recover damages for the whole time; but the heir ought not to alledge a breach in the anceſtor's time, becauſe that belongs to the executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 45.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Rich v. Wilks.

A covenant was, that the defendant ſhould dance, ſing, and act under the ſociety of comedians, and obey orders; and ſhould act, and be aſſiſting to no other theatre, but what was appointed by Mr. Rich; and the breach aſſigned was, that he acted at Oxford, without the conſent of the plaintiff. The defendant demurred to the declaration.

The defendant's council excepted to the declaration, 1ſt. That it is ſet out with poſt hæc, &c. which muſt be conſtrued from the filing of the declaration, (or bringing the writ) and it ſhould have been after the making of the indenture, i. e. that he the ſaid Robert Wilks did covenant that he, for five years after the making, would not act, &c.

2dly. This breach is not well aſſigned, becauſe it does not appear that the play acted was public, and if not ſo, it was no damage to the plaintiff. And the deſign of the covenant was not to reſtrain any dancing, acting, &c. unleſs where it drew others (to lay out their money at another play-houſe) from the play-houſe of Rich.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice, and Powell, Juſtice. That he would not act after this, &c. in the declaration, ſhould have been, that from thence he would not act, &c. Now, after this, &c. was right in the recital of the covenant, but wrong in the declaration; becauſe after this muſt be taken to be after the preſent time; ſo that the breach is laid to be after the declaration. But the matter was adjourned; though the court thought it could not be made good. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 133.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Fitzgerrard v. Trant.

In debt on a bond by the executor of the obligee; on oyer of the bond, it appeared, that A. B. and C. were bound jointly and ſeverally to the obligee; the defendant pleaded a releaſe made by the obligee to B. one of the obligors; and on oyer of the releaſe, it appeared, that the obligee covenanted with B not to ſue him on this obligation; the plaintiff demurred, and and it was adjudged, that a covenant not to ſue one of the obligors, where there are ſeveral, is no diſcharge againſt the others. Judgment was therefore given for the plaintiff; abſent, Holt, Chief Juſtice. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 254.

Hilary, 11 Ann. Hacket v. Glover.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 248 of this work, under the head Breach.

Eaſter, 12 Ann. Sail v. Kitchingham.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 248 of this work, under the head Breach.

Michaelmat, 12 Ann. Turner v. Goodwin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 129 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Hilary, 3 Geo. Chaplain v. Southgate.

This was an action of covenant, and the caſe was thus: the defendant leaſed to the plaintiff a farm called Dale; and there being a pretence of a right of common ſet up to two cloſes, comprehended in the leaſe, the leſſor covenants with the leſſee, that he ſhall quietly enjoy the ſaid two cloſes, againſt all claiming, or pretending to claim any right in them. On this covenant the leſſee brings his action, and aſſigns his breach thus, that one having or pretending to have a claim time out of mind, did enter on the ſaid cloſes.

To this the defendant demurs; and it was inſiſted on by the defendant's council, that the covenant extended only to legal, not to illegal claims; and therefore the plaintiff ſhould have ſet forth, that the claim of him that diſturbed him was a legal one. 2 Cro. 315. Vaughan's Reports 119, 120. Bickerſtaff's caſe.

Per curiam. The words of the covenant extended to all interruptions whatſoever; and ſo was the plain intent and meaning of the parties; for if it was to extend to legal claims only, then would the tenant be under the hardſhip of trying the right of the landlord; which was the very thing the tenant plainly deſigned to prevent by this covenant.

This caſe is very different from the caſe of Kirby v. Hanſacre, for there it did not appear, but the diſturber might claim under the leſſee himſelf; but this is impoſſible here, by reaſon of thoſe words, time out of mind. The breach is well aſſigned, therefore judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 384.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Aleberry v. Walby.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 213 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Perry v. Edwards. Error.

In error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action of covenant, wherein the plaintiff ſet forth a covenant, which recited, that the defendant had ſold a certain quantity of goods to her teſtator, which had been arreſted at Archangel by one E. B. and therefore the defendant covenanted to ſave him harmleſs from any coſts or damages relating to ſuch ſeizure: and then aſſigned for breach, that the ſaid E. B. having arreſted the ſaid goods, under pretence of a debt due from the defendant to him, touching ſuch arreſt the plaintiff was put to 1500 l. expence, which the defendant had neglected to pay.

The queſtion turning on the declaration, it was objected, that the covenant does not extend to wrongful acts, for which the plaintiff has a remedy; and therefore the title of E. B. ought to have been ſet forth, 4 Co. 80. Vaugh. 118. Cro. Car. 443. and that having a legal title, is not enough. 2 Saund. 177. 1 Mod. 219. 2 Vent. 61. Cro. El. 828. All. 41. Mar. 40. Here it is only ſaid under pretence, which is not ſo much.

Per curiam. This pretence of B.'s being recited in the covenant, ſhews it was meant a ſecurity againſt it in all events; and though it ſhould be wrongful, yet being particular, it comes within the diſtinction that has been well made.

Adjourned. And in Hilary term following, the plaintiff had judgment, the defendant's council declining to argue the matter. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 400.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. Lovelock v. Sorrel.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 130 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Wilkinſon v. Meyer.

In an action of covenant brought on an agreement in writing for South-Sea ſtock, wherein the plaintiff covenanted by indenture to transfer the ſtock before the 25th day of March, or within four days after; and the defendant covenanted to accept the ſame, and to pay ſo much money for it within the time aforeſaid, which he had not paid.

On demurrer to the declaration it was inſiſted for the defendant, that here was an indefinite time ſet forth for the performance of this covenant, therefore the plaintiff ought to have ſet forth a requeſt to perform it, otherwiſe he cannot be intitled to this action.

Per curiam. This is a mutual covenant, and in ſuch caſe the plaintiff may maintain his action without laying any requeſt made by him to the defendant to perform it; for the time is not indefinite, as has been ſuggeſted, becauſe the defendant was to accept the ſtock, and pay the money within the time aforeſaid, which muſt be within the fourth day; and therefore there is no occaſion to aver a requeſt in this declaration; this caſe is the ſame with that of Blackwell v. Naſh, only in that caſe one day was appointed, and here are four days. So judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 173.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Lock v. Wright.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 272 of this work, under the head Condition.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Lilly v. Hodges.

The defendant and one G. covenanted for themſelves, and each of them, and for their executors and adminiſtrators, and for each of their executors and adminiſtrators, with the ſaid Lilly and C. to receive the rents due to the plaintiff Lilly, and one C. in Ireland, and likewiſe that they, and each of them would pay a moiety thereof to the plaintiff and C.

And now, in an action of covenant brought againſt the defendant alone by the plaintiff Lilly for his moiety, the breach aſſigned was againſt both the covenantors, viz. that the defendant Hodges, and J. G. received 7000 l. and that the defendant did not pay the moiety to the plaintiff, nor account to him for the rent, &c. And on the general iſſue pleaded, the plaintiff had a verdict.

And now, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this action is not maintainable in this manner: it muſt either be an action againſt the defendant alone, charging him for his own act, or againſt both the defendant and G. charging them on their joint act. This action is neither ſeparate nor joint, but both confounded together; for the receipt of the money is laid to be by both.

Beſides, the breach is aſſigned againſt both the covenantors, which is ill, becauſe the action was brought againſt one, and by one of the covenantees, when it ought to be brought by both on the joint covenant.

Per curiam. Two perſons may engage for the acts of both, as well as for the acts of one, and may each covenant for the other as well as himſelf; but that which is fatal in this action is, that the covenant was made to two, ſo they both ought to join, for otherwiſe one may recover, and ſo may the other, ſo that the covenantor would be doubly charged.

However, they were all of opinion, that the plaintiff ſhould take his judgment, becauſe the defendant had covenanted for the acts of his companion, as well as his own; and the breach and non-performance of the covenant being laid jointly againſt both the covenantors, it is well enough.

The moſt material objection is, that both the covenantees ought to have joined in bringing this action, and that it ſhould not be brought by one of them alone.

But it was adjudged, that the action is ſevered by the ſubſequent covenant, by which the defendant and the ſaid G. covenanted each of them to pay a ſeveral moiety of the rents, for though the covenant was joined in the beginning of the deed, viz. they both covenanted to receive the rents; yet it was ſevered by the apparent intention of the parties by that ſubſequent clauſe of paying the moieties to each of the covenantees; and if that had been omitted in this deed, then the action muſt have been joint againſt both, but now it is ſevered, and well brought againſt one by one. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 167.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Blackwell v. *Naſh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 272 of this work, under the head Condition.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Whitley* v. *Loftus.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 91 of this work, under the head Apprentice.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Theed* v. *Starkey.

In an action of covenant brought againſt an executor for not paying taxes according to a covenant in a leaſe made by his teſtator, wherein he covenanted with the leſſee to pay all the taxes on the lands demiſed; and the breach aſſigned was, for not paying the rates to the church, and poor.

On demurrer to the declaration it was objected, that the breach was not well aſſigned, becauſe thoſe rates are perſonal charges, and not on the land; and for this reaſon the defendant had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 314.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Andrews* v. *Paradiſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 249 of this work, under the head Breach.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Wyvil* v. Stapleton. Shelburne v. *Eundem.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 16 of this work, under the head Accord.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. Monk* v. *Cooper.

In an action of covenant for non-payment of a year's rent, from Michaelmas 1725, to Michaelmas 1726. The defendant craved oyer of the leaſe, in which there was a covenant on the part of the leſſee to repair, except the premiſes ſhould be deſtroyed by fire: and then he pleaded, that before Michaelmas 1725, the premiſes were burnt down againſt his will, and that they were not rebuilt by the plaintiff during the whole year, for which the rent is demanded, nor had he any enjoyment of the premiſes; and therefore prayed judgment whether he ſhould be charged with the rent.

To this the plaintiff demurred, and it was inſiſted on by his council, that whatever may be the default in the plaintiff in not repairing, yet the defendant muſt at all events perform his covenant to pay the rent; and Allen 27. was cited for that purpoſe.

Per curiam. The caſe in Allen 27. is expreſs to the contrary: if the defendant has any injury he will have his remedy; but he cannot ſet it off againſt the demand for rent. The plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 763.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. Ball* v. *Squarry.

The defendant cannot take advantage of any covenant omitted in the plaintiff's declaration on an action of covenant, without craving oyer. Vide Forteſcue, p. 354.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Jodderel* v. *Cowell.

In an action of covenant brought on a leaſe to pay rent, the plaintiff aſſigned the breach in non-payment; the defendant pleaded, that before any rent became due, the defendant, with the aſſent of the leſſor, aſſigned the premiſes to A. who, with the aſſent of the leſſor, entered and paid the rent to the leſſor. To which the plaintiff demurred.

Lord Hardwicke. This is a bad plea, for it is expreſsly contrary to the caſe of Bachelor v. Gage. Cro. Car. 188.

Then the defendant's council took an exception to the declaration, it being laid that the indenture was made in Middleſex, and yet the bill begins, London, to wit.

2dly. There is no averment that the leſſor has performed the covenants on his part.

Lord Hardwicke. I think this is well enough; as to the mention of the county in the margin, that is not of importance, if not referred to in the declaration; for the word to wit, I verily believe, was not originally meant to the county, but only a denotation of each action or paragraph in the record; but now, as it ſtands in this record, the declaration refers to the county in the margin, and therefore, the word London muſt be left out, as being repugnant to the reſt of the declaration, where there is a ſufficient venue beſides. As to the leſſor's performance of his covenants, that lies on the defendant to ſhew: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 343.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Lant, Eſq; v. Norris.

An action of covenant was brought by R. L. ſon and heir of T. L. Eſq; againſt W. N. adminiſtrator of J. N. Eſq; which J. N. was aſſignee of T. W.

The action was founded on an indenture of leaſe, made the 23d of January, 1707, by T. L. deceaſed who was ſeized of certain meſſuages, ground, and premiſes, mentioned in the ſaid indenture of the one part, and the ſaid T. W. of the other part, whereby in conſideration of 200 l. to be laid out, in, upon, or about rebuilding on the ground and premiſes thereby demiſed, and other covenants, the ſaid T. L. did demiſe to the ſaid T. W. All that piece of ground, And alſo all the meſſuages, tenements, houſes thereon ſtanding, in, &c. abutting and bounding, &c. from Chriſtmas, 1715, for 43 years, at 17 l. per ann.

The leſſee T. W. covenanted to lay out the ſaid ſum of 200 l. within 15 years, in erecting, &c. of meſſuages, &c. on the ground and premiſes; and to keep the ſame in repair, &c. and at the end of the term to deliver up the ſame, &c.

T. W. entered, J. L. died the 29th of May, 1722, ſeized, and the reverſion deſcended to J. L. his ſon and heir.

On the 24th of March, 1738, T. W. aſſigned the term to J. N. who entered.

On the 24th of March, 1728, J. L. died ſeized, and the reverſion deſcended to the plaintiff, his brother and heir.

On this action the breaches aſſigned were,

1ſt, That after the term came to J. N. and after the plaintiff became ſeized of the reverſion, and while J. N. was poſſeſſed, viz. on the 1ſt of May, 1745, the ſaid J. N. in his life-time permitted all the ſaid demiſed premiſes to be uncovered, &c. by reaſon whereof the walls of the ſaid demiſed premiſes were out of repair.

2dly, That the ſaid J. N. did permit ſix meſſuages, parcel of the ſaid demiſed premiſes to be proſtrated, and to remain ſo till his death.

3dly, That the ſaid J. N. on the 1ſt of March, did pull down ſix other meſſuages then erected on the ſaid demiſed premiſes.

To the firſt and ſecond breach, the defendant pleaded, that T. W. did not within 15 years, or at any other time lay out the 200 l. agreeable to the covenant.

To the third breach the defendant pleaded non infregit conventionem, i. e. that he has not broke the covenant, to all the breaches the ſame plea as above, to the firſt and ſecond, the ſame plea over again.

The plaintiff demurred generally to the firſt plea to the firſt breach, and ſpecially to the firſt plea to the third breach, generally to the ſecond plea to the third breach, and generally to the laſt plea to all the breaches.

Note, There was alſo a plea of non proſtravit, i. e. he did not pull down, to which the plaintiff demurred, and ths defendant joined in demurrer, to all the demurrers.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. We are extremely clear, that not only the words of the covenant, but alſo the intent of the parties manifeſtly ſhew that it was not intended, that any of the money ſhould be laid out on the old buildings, but that they were to be pulled down, and that whatever he ſhould erect with the 200 l. or otherwiſe for his own convenience, ſhould be kept in repair.

The words, demiſed premiſes are put in oppoſition to the buildings that were to be erected thereon with the 200 l. and the covenant to deliver up is agreeable to that conſtruction. That covenant being to leave the demiſed premiſes together with all ſuch houſes, &c. as ſhould be afterwards erected, &c. ſo well repaired, therefore it is clearly againſt the plaintiff on the firſt and ſecond breach, and his council allows it is againſt him on the third breach.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the defendant. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 287.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. John Enys, Eſq; Executor of Samuel Enys, Eſq; v. Iſaac Donnithorne, Executor of Nicholas Donnithorne.

On an action of covenant brought by the executor of the leſſor againſt the executor of the deceaſed joint leſſee, on an indenture of leaſe, dated the 10th day of October 1735, made between the plaintiff's teſtator of the one part, the defendant's teſtator of the other part, and another perſon; the habendum was for fifty years, if the ſaid grantors ſhould ſo long live, and continue poſſeſſed, the term was to commence immediately on the ſurrender of a former leaſe, dated the 27th day of February 1728, &c.

To the plaintiff's declaration the defendant demurred generally, and the plaintiff joined in demurrer.

The defendant's council took four exceptions to the leaſe on which this action was founded.

1ſt. It is void, for the uncertainty in the commencement of its term.

2dly. By the death of N. D. (one of the joint-leſſees) on the 10th day of December 1737, the whole benefit of the term, and the term itſelf, and the whole charge ſurvived to the ſurviving joint-leſſee J. D.

3dly. It is improper for the plaintiff to ſue as executor, he ought to have ſued directly in his own name abſolutely, and not as executor.

4thly. He is alſo irregular in ſuing the defendant as executor, he ought to have ſued him as aſſignee.

The defendant's council gave up the two laſt exceptions; and after this cauſe was twice argued before the court, they gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. On the firſt point, it is either a ſurrender of the former leaſe, or if it is not, yet the new one is, in point of intereſt, to take its commencement from the determination of the former one only.

On the ſecond point, the action is brought on a joint and ſeveral covenant; the difficulty only aroſe on a miſrepreſentation of Slingby's caſe, which is not ſimilar to this.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1190.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. The Churchwardens of St. Saviours Southwark, v. Smith.

On an action of covenant againſt the aſſignee of a term, the queſtion before the court was,

Whether the aſſignee be anſwerable for the breach incurred before the aſſignment.

After hearing the plaintiff's council, the court thought it unneceſſary to hear the defendant's council, they being clearly of opinion againſt the plaintiff, and therefore gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. The ſingle queſtion is, "whether "an aſſignee is liable for a breach which he never "committed?" Certainly he is not; this breach was committed before his time; and this covenant does not run with the land.

Denniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice, and obſerved that the point was ſettled in the caſe of Greſcot v. Green. Vide Bur. vol. 3. page 1271.

Hilary, 5 Geo. 3. Shubrick v. Salmund.

In an action of covenant on a charter party of affreightment, brought by a merchant who hired the ſhip againſt the maſter of the ſhip, for a breach of contract in not going his voyage as he had covenanted to do, the plaintiff in his declaration aſſigns two breaches.

1ſt. That the ſhip did not ſail and proceed to the place agreed on to load, &c. but on the contrary, the defendant did wilfully abſent himſelf, &c.

2dly. That the defendant did not arrive at the time or place agreed on, but did wilfully abſent himſelf, &c.

The defendant pleaded a plea in bar to this action, and to the ſecond breach pleaded the ſame plea; to which pleas the plaintiff demurred generally, and the defendant joined in demurrer.

After hearing the council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. On the true conſtruction of this agreement, there is no foundation of fact for arguing this point of law.

The diſtinction between implied covenants by operation of law, and expreſs covenants, is, that expreſs covenants are taken more ſtrictly; a man may without conſideration enter into an expreſs covenant under hand and ſeal.

In this caſe, each has bound himſelf by an expreſs covenant under hand and ſeal, and the defendant has broken the covenant on his part.

The words are poſitive and expreſs, that the defendant ſhould go thither; the parties plainly meant that the ſhip was to go thither; and the conſideration fails by the defendant's not doing ſo: therefore the demurrer muſt be over-ruled.

Wilmot, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1637.

Coverture, See Baron and Feme.

Cuſtom.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Hicks v. Woodeſon.

On a writ of prohibition, the plaintiff ſuggeſted, that the pariſh of Huntsſpill was an antient pariſh, of which he was an inhabitant, and occupied lands there; that in the ſaid pariſh there was a cuſtom to pay ſeveral ſmall ſums to the parſon, in lieu of ſmall tithes; which ſums were particularly ſet forth, that this pariſh was within the hundred of Huntſpill, and that there was a cuſtom alſo for every inhabitant and occupier of land within the ſaid hundred to be diſcharged of tithes for the paſture of barren and unprofitable cattle.

The defendant traverſed the cuſtoms, and iſſue being thereon joined, it was found for the plaintiff.

And now it was moved in arreſt of judgment, 1ſt. That a cuſtom alledged of not tithing in a whole hundred is void in law.

2dly. Admitting it to be good, yet that it is not well pleaded here, becauſe the plaintiff had not ſhewn that there was a ſufficient maintenance for the parſon excluſive of thoſe tithes.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. It will be difficult to ſhew a not tithing for any tithes beſides thoſe of wood; for all the caſes which incline to ſuch a cuſtom are but generally, viz. that a county or hundred may thus preſcribe, but do not mention what tithes are in queſtion.

Now, if tithes of wood had been due of common right, to what purpoſe was that canon made by Archbiſhop Stratford, 17 Ed. 3. that tithes of coppice wood ſhall be paid: againſt which canon there was a petition made to parliament in that very year, reciting the ancient uſage to be, that tithes ſhould not be paid for wood; and the petition was anſwered, that a prohibition ſhould be granted againſt the canon, where tithes of wood have not been accuſtomed to be paid.

It is true, the eccleſiaſtical courts hold, that tithes are due of common right, for every thing, nay, even for ſtones, or gravel dug out of pits, but the common law is otherwiſe; for tithes of common right are due only for ſuch things which ariſe by annual profits; now, the trees are renewing yearly, yet they yield no annual profits, and therefore tithes are not paid for them.

Therefore, where tithes are paid for things which do not ariſe by ſuch means, they muſt be by cuſtom.

But ſuch a cuſtom in not tithing cannot be good: therefore a conſultation was granted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 336.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Maſters v. Lewis.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 131 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Michaemas, 7 W. 3. Fletcher v. Ingram.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 276 of this work, under the head Conſtable.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Arnot v. Brown.

Arnot and Brown were owners of two contiguous houſes. Brown had lights in his houſe towards Arnot's yard, and Arnot made up blinds. The court of aldermen, on ſtat. 19 Car. 2. c. 3. ordered they ſhould be removed; but a prohibition was granted in this court. For whatever they may do in their inferior court by the writ of quod permittat, where they have power to determine real actions; it is plain, that the court of aldermen have no power in this ſummary way, unleſs by ſtat. 19 Car. 2. c. 3. and that gave them only a temporary power during the rebuilding of the city. While the city was rebuilding, they had power to aſſign lights; but by being once aſſigned, the party gained a legal title to them, and may maintain an action at common law for the obſtruction, and the court of aldermen have no farther power. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 425.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. Aſhmead v. Ranger.

In an action of treſpaſs brought by a copyholder againſt the lord of the fee, for entering his copyhold, and cutting down timber, though it was the lord's own timber, and no cuſtom for the tenant to cut down any timber.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The lord of a manor cannot enter on his tenant, though a copyholder for life only, and cut down timber without the tenant's conſent; becauſe he has a ſpecial property in the trees as well as in the land, he is as much a copyholder of the trees, as he is a copyholder of the land. Vide Forteſcue, page 152.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. The City of London v. Vanacre.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, general cuſtoms may extend to new things which are within the reaſon of the cuſtoms, 5 Co. Snelling's caſe. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 292 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The cuſtom of the town of Dartmouth is, that if a perſon ſerves his time, and learns his trade there, he is not thereby free; but the corporation have a power to make whom they pleaſe free. It is an extraordinary cuſtom, but who can help it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 336.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Lovelace's Caſe. Error.

In error brought on a judgment in the court of Canterbury, the exception was, that the court was laid to be time out of mind, and the proceſs of the court was alſo laid to be time out of mind, which they ſaid was making one time immemorial ſubſequent to another. But not allowed. For cuſtoms may be time out of mind, and yet co-equal. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 203.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Cutting v. Wilkins. Error.

The plaintiff in the original action declared on a note payable to him or order, according to the cuſtom of merchants; and further ſet forth an aſſumpſit for monies received to his uſe. The plaintiff had judgment by default, and ſeveral damages; but an intire judgment that he ſhould receive the damages aforeſaid, whereon error was brought.

The defendant in error, to ſupport the judgment, inſiſted, that though the action, according to the cuſtom of merchants, does not lie in this caſe, yet the damages being ſeveral, and the judgment, that he ſhould recover the damages aforeſaid, it ſhall be taken as a ſeveral judgment, and not as a joint one.

And therefore, if judgment be reverſed for the damages given on the bad count, yet it ſhall ſtand for the reſt; and inſiſted on the caſe of Miles v. Jacob, Hob. 6. Cro. Jac. 343. 1 Roll. 77. or 771. 3. And alſo the caſe of Reymer v. Grimſtone.

The court were of opinion to reverſe the judgment in toto; and denied the authority of Miles v. Jacob in Hob. 6. For the judgment being intire, cannot be reverſed in part: and therefore the judgment was reverſed niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 24.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Rogers.

On a certiorari brought, the cuſtom of London was returned, that if any citizen ſpeaks contemptuous words of an alderman, or aſſaults him in the execution of his office, an information ſhall be exhibited againſt him in the name of the common ſerjeant in the court of aldermen, and that they ſhould proceed againſt him to fine him; and that at a wardmote held by Sir R. J. the defendant aſſaulted him, and ſaid, I have as much to do here as you; you think ſure you are among your Bridewell birds, but you are miſtaken; for which an information was exhibited againſt him by the common ſerjeant.

Per curiam. It had been doubtful, if the offence had been by words only, becauſe no indictment lies at common law, but he is to be bound to good behaviour; yet for the aſſault he is puniſhable, and that may be by information there, by cuſtom, as well as in this court, though the regular courſe at common law is by indictment.

2dly. The court held, that the information lay in the court of aldermen, though an alderman was aggrieved; otherwiſe of the mayor, for he is an integral part, without which the court cannot be held, but the other may be ſevered, and he muſt not ſit; ſo the mayor and aldermen may grant to an alderman, but the aldermen and city cannot grant to a mayor: but the court held, that a cuſtom to disfranchiſe for contemptuous words ſpoken of an alderman was void, according to 2 Lev. 200, and a procedendo was granted for the reaſons aforeſaid. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 777. Salk. vol. 2. p. 426.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Cudden v. Eaſtwick.

On arguing this caſe, it was ſaid, that a cuſtom againſt reaſon is void, becauſe it deprives the ſubject of the common law, which is his birth-right;

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 293 of this work, under the head Corporations. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 123.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Ogle v. Norcliffe.

In an action brought on a bill of exchange, the defendant pleaded in abatement, that he was clerk to one of the prothonotaries of the C. B. and ought not to be ſued (except for treaſon or felony) in any other court than in the C. B. and laid a cuſtom in the negative, without his conſent. The plaintiff replied, that the defendant conſented to be ſued in this court. The defendant demurred, and the bill was abated, becauſe the conſent intended in the plea is a waiver of the privilege by ſome act in a court of record. And as to the exception taken, that the cuſtom was laid in the negative,

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that it was a privilege due to the clerks of the C. B. of common right, of which this court will take notice. Perhaps it might be otherwiſe, had it been againſt a clerk of the Exchequer. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 869.

Michuelmas, 2 Ann. Evans v. Roberts. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment on a bond before the ſheriff and bailiff of Briſtol in a court, held before them, according to the law of merchants, and according to the cuſtom of the city aforeſaid, from time whereof, &c.

It was excepted, 1ſt, that there is no court held by the law of merchants before the ſheriff, for that muſt be only held before the Mayor of the Staple, and in matters only concerning ſtaple tranſactions.

Per curiam. It being laid to be according to the cuſtom of the city, it will be enough, like the caſe in 1 Cro. 46. where a court of pyepowder, which only is intended as a court for fairs and markets, during the fair or market, and for matters there ariſing, is ſaid to be held at Glouceſter, according to the cuſtom of the city aforeſaid, and an action for 100 l. brought therein, held good, becauſe of the cuſtom, &c. Saund. 87. 311. for it being laid to be an ancient court, it ſhall be intended a common inferior court, for common matters conuſable there.

The 2*d. Exception* was to the writ, for it was to remove the record of the imparlance that remains with you, and it appears the record removed was before his predeceſſor.

Per curiam. The writ being directed to the ſheriff without naming him, is well enough, and if a writ is directed to the ſheriff of B. and before its return another ſheriff is choſen, he ought to return, and execute the writ, and the difference is when it is directed to him by name, and when by the name of his office generally; and this is not like a writ of error from the C. B. for that is always directed to the Chief Juſtice by his name, if there be a Chief Juſtice, or to the other judges by name, and therefore muſt not vary. The judgment was therefore affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 61.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This court will on a writ of error take judicial notice of all private cuſtoms in private places; for they below are as much bound to proceed on their cuſtoms, as the judges here are on the common law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 68.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Mayor of Wincheſter v. Wilks.

On a ſpecial verdict in the mayor's court of Winton, a cuſtom was found to reſtrain any ſtranger from ſetting up the trade of —— unleſs he was qualified according to the cuſtom, &c. It was queſtioned, if ſuch a cuſtom was good in any other city than London; it being a cuſtom reſtraining the liberty of the ſubject in a matter beneficial to the kingdom; and Palmer, 2, 3, 4, 5. 2 Roll's Rep. 203. 8 E. 3 c. 37. Hob. 85. Moor, 871. 4 Mod. 421. were cited.

It was argued, that this cuſtom was not good, and 8 Co. Waggener's caſe, 1 Co. 53. 2 H. 6. 5. pl. 26. Cro. Jac. 196. 210. 2 Roll. 277. 1 Lutwich, 562. were cited as caſes in point; and great ſtreſs was laid on confirmations of acts of parliament in that caſe. 9 Co. 59. 1 Lev. 262. Cro. El. 165. 803.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Whenever a town is incorporated, it is as well for the benefit of the inhabitants in general as for a freeman, where it is for the benefit of trade; and a bye-law will extend to both. The city of London has a power to qualify perſons, and to oblige infants, if they bind themſelves, to ſtand to their indentures, notwithſtanding their nonage; but there is no ſuch cuſtom any where elſe, which occaſioned ſtat. 5 El. which binds infants.

The court ſeemed of opinion, that it was a bad cuſtom. But judgment was given on the defect in the declaration; for that the plaintiffs had not intitled themſelves to the action.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, moſt of the corporations in England, that are by preſcription, aſſume this cuſtom. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 48. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1129.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Bulkley v. Camden.

An aſſumpſit was brought on a foreign bill of exchange, to pay according to the cuſtom of merchants ſo much money, at two uſances, viz. at Amſterdam; but it did not appear what the time of thoſe uſances was.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he would take notice of the cuſtom of merchants here, but not of that Amſterdam or Venice. In ſuch caſe, the cuſtom muſt be ſet forth in the declaration. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 92.

Hilary, 6 Ann. Alton v. Jarvis.

In an action of treſpaſs for entering his cloſe, and taking his cattle, the defendant juſtifies by ſeveral judgments in a court baron, where the plaintiff having levied a plaint againſt the defendant, obtained judgment, for the defendant, and coſts were given him; and thereon the defendant by virtue of a levari facias took the cattle and ſold them; and for this the plaintiff brings his action. The defendant demurred to the declaration.

The plaintiff's council inſiſted, that they could not ſell the cattle on a levari in a court baron, without alledging a cuſtom for ſo doing; and cited Bro. Abr. Execution 80. Lutw. 1524. Dalt. Sher. 419. Lutw. 1410. Kel. 136. The bailiff ought to keep the diſtreſs till the parties are agreed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Diſtraining is levying (Q.) If a man diſtrains for rent, and impounds the diſtreſs, and then brings debt for the ſame rent, the defendant may plead levied by diſtreſs. As to the ſelling by the levari; it is always alledged in the pleading to be according to the cuſtom of the manor, which is the cuſtom in moſt manors, being ſo general, that any court baron, &c. may plead it as a cuſtom. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 144.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Starr v. Rookby.

An action was brought for not repairing of ſences; and the plaintiff declared, that all the tenants and occupiers uſed to repair them, which the council for the defendant ſaid could not be good, becauſe they could not lay the cuſtom for occupiers, and cited 4 Mod. Stroud v. Bitt's caſe; Yelv. 75. Cro. Eliz. 45.

The council on the other ſide inſiſted, Tenants may preſcribe; and cited Cro. Jac. 665. Book of Entries, 140. and ſaid, that this way of pleading is uſed more now than formerly, and this is after judgment by nil dicit. But the court ſeemed to incline that the preſcription was not ſufficiently laid. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 168.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Walker v. Atwood.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 231 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Mrs. Pool's Caſe.

An habeas corpus was directed to the keeper of the Compter, to bring up the body of ——Pool, to which they returned the cuſtom; that a feme covert ſole trading ſhall be ſued as a feme ſole, and that the huſband is neither chargeable in body or eſtate.

It was objected, that the cuſtom was bad, becauſe unreaſonable; for the huſband might take her goods, &c. and if ſhe were liable for debts, and not have her own goods to ſatisfy them, then ſhe may be detained in cuſtody, without a poſſibility of ever being releaſed.

Per curiam. The huſband has nothing to do with the goods or money with which ſhe trades, and thoſe are liable to her debts; as ſhe may be ſued ſole, ſo ſhe may ſue ſole for debts owing to her within the city; but for thoſe due to her elſewhere, the huſband muſt join. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 253.

Hilary, 11 Ann. Mitchell v. Reynolds.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 90 of this work, under the head Apprentice.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Hunt v. Hargill.

A libel being brought in the ſpiritual court for words, viz. for calling whore, in London, the defendant did not inſiſt on the cuſtom of London, but went on to an hearing, and there was a ſentence, and then he moved for a prohibition, but it was denied.

Per curiam. This court is not bound to take notice of the cuſtoms of any city or town; they muſt be inſiſted on, as on a return of an habeas corpus, and coming after ſentence it is too late. Vide Forteſcue, p. 347.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. The Duke of Somerſet v. France and other Tenants in Cumberland.

On a trial at bar on a ſpecial iſſue directed, to try the cuſtom of ſeveral manors of the Duke of Somerſet in Cumberland, i. e. whether he was entitled to a general fine, as his Ducheſs was when ſhe was living. Theſe were tenant-right eſtates in Cumberland; and it was agreed, this cuſtom extends only to the three northern counties; i. e. Cumberland, Weſtmoreland, and Northumberland. The firſt queſtion was on the evidence; for, the Duke's council were forced to make uſe of the evidence of other manors in the ſame counties that had this cuſtom; for it was clearly agreed, that evidence of a cuſtom in one manor, could not be, nor ever was allowed to prove a cuſtom in another. But on the authority of the caſe in 3 Keb. 90. and on what the council, who went the northern circuit, ſaid, that it had been conſtantly allowed in thoſe three counties; the court unanimouſly agreed to it. Vide Forteſcue, p. 41.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Story v. Atkins.

In this caſe, Forteſcue, J. ſaid, it had been long ſince adjudged in this court in the caſe of Stevens v. Britland, that there is no neceſſity to ſet out the cuſtom at large in an agreemint to pay, but laying it to be according to the cuſtom, &c. is ſufficient. Vide Raym. vol. 2. page 1427.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Naylor or Taylor, qui tam, &c. v. Scott.

On a prohibition granted to ſtay a ſuit in the ſpiritual court by the vicar of Wakefield, grounded on a cuſtom for a due for churching of women, which was alledged to be this, viz. that every inhabitant, keeping an houſe, and having a family in Wakefield in Yorkſhire, and having a child or children born in that pariſh, at the time of churching the mother of the child, or at the uſual time after her delivery, when ſhe ſhould be churched, have time, out of mind, paid ten-pence to the vicar of that pariſh, for, or in reſpect of ſuch churching, or at the uſual times when the mother of ſuch child ſhould be churched. Iſſue was taken on the cuſtom, and a verdict was found for the defendant, that there was ſuch a cuſtom. And on a motion made by the plaintiff's council in arreſt of judgment to prevent the granting a conſultation, the court were of opinion, that it was a void cuſtom; 1ſt. Becauſe it was not alledged what was the uſual time the women were to be churched, and therefore uncertain. 2dly. Becauſe it was unreaſonable, as it obliged the huſband to pay, if the woman was not churched at all, or if ſhe went out of the pariſh, or died before the time of churching. Judgment was therefore arreſted. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1558. Fitz-Gibbons, p. 55.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Sherborn v. Boſtock.

The plaintiff having been arreſted by a proceſs out of the Mayor's court in London, brought an hab. corp. cum cauſa, on which it was returned, that by the cuſtom of London, an executor being indebted as executor, by ſimple contract within the city of London, may be ſued by an action of debt for the ſame in the Mayor's court there; and it was averred, that the plaintiff as executor to J. S. was indebted to the defendant within the city of London by ſimple contract, for which, &c.

The plaintiff's council took two exceptions to the return: 1ſt, That it being a debt by ſimple contract, it follows the perſon; and therefore the cuſtom being general, extends to ſtrangers as well as to citizens, ſo that a ſtranger going through the city, or being there but one night, may ſue or be ſued within this cuſtom; wherefore this being a general cuſtom, that may extend to all the ſubjects in England, and being contrary to the common law, is void.

2dly, It is not averred, that the cauſe of action aroſe within the juriſdiction of the Mayor's court; it is only averred the defendant was indebted within the city, which may well be, and yet the cauſe of action might ariſe in any part in England, for this debt follows the perſon; and therefore it ſhould have been averred, that he became indebted within the city of London; and the cuſtom they would return, extends to citizens only, and ſo it is ſet out in Snelling's caſe, 5 Co. 82. Cro. El. 409. Hob. 175. 176. Winch. Ent. 588.

It was reſolved by the whole court, that the cuſtom returned being general, and ſuch a one as may extend to every ſubject, whether citizen or ſtranger, is void.

It was then moved, that the return might be amended, the defendant paying the coſts of the motion, which the court granted.

The return being amended, a motion was made at another day for a procedendo.

Page, Juſtice. It does not appear on the caption of the writ, nor is it ſet forth in the declaration, that the defendant agreed to repay within the juriſdiction a certain ſum of money, received or borrowed within the ſaid juriſdiction; and why ſhould not the plaintiff intitle himſelf to his action within the cuſtom; ſo that the caption would ſeem to be for a cauſe of action ariſing within the juriſdiction of the Mayor's court, ſince the cuſtom is ſo:

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. The cuſtom need not be ſet forth in the declaration, for in London they take notice of their own cuſtoms; if this is the uſual manner of declaring in London, we cannot meddle with this matter as now before us; but they muſt proceed to judgment, and then it will be properly examinable on a writ of error, ſo that I think a procedendo ſhould iſſue; to which the reſt of the judges agreed. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 51.

Hilary, 5 Geo. 2. Thompſon v. Roberts.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking and carrying away ſo many cart load of ſtones; the defendant juſtified, and pleaded that the place in which, is part of the waſte of the manor of L. and that there are many quarries of ſtone there which are open; and that time out of mind there was an ancient cuſtom for the free tenants of ancient meſſuages or lands within the manor, by themſelves and ſervants, to dig and carry away ſtones for repairing their houſes, or building others.

Per curiam. This is an ill plea; for it ought to be pleaded by preſcription, and by way of que eſtate, and not by way of cuſtom, which is the way of pleading by copyholders only; as is the caſe of Crowther v. Oldfield; a tenant for life cannot indeed preſcribe, but here the words tenentes terrarum in law ſignify tenants of freehold and inheritance. Vide Forteſcue, p. 339.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Sharp v. Lowther.

On a prohibition to the eccleſiaſtical court in a ſuit for tithes on a ſuggeſtion, and a plea in that court of a modus, the plaintiff declared, that he was an occupier of an ancient tenement in the pariſh of B. and that within the pariſh aforeſaid, there has been a cuſtom for all tenants and occupiers of the ſaid tenements, yearly to pay 5 s. and to perform certain ſervices to the parſon, in lieu and ſatisfaction of all tithes of corn and hay; which ſaid modus the parſon of the ſaid pariſh has always accepted; the defendant traverſed the cuſtom as laid in the declaration, and thereon the parties went to iſſue; and a verdict was given for the plaintiff.

The defendant's council now moved in arreſt of judgment, and objected, that this is a bad modus, being alledged to be warranted by cuſtom, whereas a cuſtom is local and extends over ſome place; whereas this is laid to extend to the occupiers of ſuch a tenement, and therefore if it were good, it ſhould be laid as a preſcription; and to ſupport this objection, 1 Lutw. 126. Nicholſon v. Smith. Cro. Car. 418. Baker v. Brewman. 1 Vent. 97. Poplins v. Henſtock. 2 Lutw. 1312. Bereſford v. Bacon. Bro. cuſtom, pl. 51. Popham 201. Jackin v. Vivian, were cited.

The plaintiff's council took the diſtinction in Gatewood's caſe, 6 Co. 60. b. between a charge on another's lands, and a diſcharge in his own land, and that therefore a cuſtom that every inhabitant has paid a modus in diſcharge of tithes is good. He cited alſo Hob. 118. Dyer 349. 1 Vent. 3. Yelv. 55. Hob. 300 and 85.

Lord Hardwicke. The queſtion is, whether here is any modus ſufficiently and ſubſtantially found; for if there is now, after a verdict no conſultation can go; the objection is, that though the ſubject matter is a proper modus, yet the manner of laying it is defective, being laid by way of cuſtom; for they ſay a cuſtom extends over ſome place or vill, and that it is a preſcription which extends only to particular perſons; and there are, I allow, many caſes to warrant that, but they are not applicable in this caſe; and the difference laid down by the plaintiff's council, as to the pleading a thing as a charge on another, or in diſcharge of one's ſelf is very material; it is admitted, that cuſtom may be alledged for a particular tenant, where the neceſſity of the caſe requires it; as in caſe a copyholder claims a right of common out of the manor, he muſt lay a preſcription in the Lord; but where he claims common in the waſte of the Lord, he having ſtrictly no inheritance in his land, but only a tenant at will, and for that a preſcription muſt always be had by way of que eſtate, which he cannot alledge, not being tenant in fee; for in ſtrictneſs the fee ſimple is in the lord; therefore the law permits him to alledge it as a cuſtom in the occupiers of ſuch a piece of land, &c. and that ſeems agreeable to this caſe; for the plaintiff here could not preſcribe that the owners of the inheritance, and all thoſe whole eſtates, &c. have been always diſcharged of tithes; becauſe here is no diſcharge claimed, but a ſatisfaction in lieu of tithes, therefore it muſt be alledged in this way; it is allowed, that if the declaration had been laid, that a modus had been paid him time out of mind, it had been good; which ſhews there is no neceſſity of laying a ſtrict preſcription. All the caſes cited, have been in inſtances where it is neceſſary to preſcribe by a que eſtate, and in ſuch caſes a cuſtom may not be alledged, ſo is the caſe in 1 Lutw. 126. ſo is that in Cro. Car. 418, and that in Vent. 97. And the reaſon is, becauſe all preſcriptions in a que eſtate, ſuppoſe a grant made originally, and therefore it ſhould be duly derived down to the claimant, but in this caſe it is impoſſible to ſhew a que eſtate; and therefore it is ſufficient to lay there has been a modus time out of mind; if the word modus had not been uſed; but a declaration ſhould only ſay, that time out of mind, the tenants and occupiers of ſuch a tenement had paid, &c. or had uſed and accuſtomed to pay, that would be good; and why ſhould it differ, becauſe the ſentence begins by ſaying, there is a cuſtom to pay; eſpecially at the concluſion, which ſays, that this cuſtom and modus have been always inviolably preſerved, ſhews it was intended to be claimed as a modus, however, this being a cuſtom alleged in a ſuit of prohibition, it differs from other allegations of cuſtoms, for in thoſe the cuſtom muſt be proved exactly as it is laid; otherwiſe the party fails; but in conſultation the defendant is conſidered as an actor, ſuing for a conſultation; and therefore as in this, if on the whole it appears to the court, that there is a modus, they cannot grant a conſultation; and it has been determined, that if the jury ſhould find what amounts to a modus, the court cannot award a conſultation: therefore I think, taking this caſe in any light, the court cannot award a conſultation.

Page, Juſtice. If 6 d. is inſiſted on, and but 4 d. found due; yet there ſhall not be a conſultation, for the practice is, that in ſuch caſes the judge always certifies that they have proved a modus. Whenever you can ſhew that ſome other thing is due, for which the parſon has a remedy, a prohibition is granted; and for a modus, he has a remedy not only at common law, but in the ſpiritual court alſo, if he will ſue for that. On this verdict it muſt have been proved, that tithes were never paid in kind; I take it that a modus and a cuſtom are the ſame, for a modus is the manner of paying, and the manner of paying for ever is a cuſtom.

Probyn, Juſtice. The fact here is found as the plaintiff laid it, only the deſcription of it as a cuſtom is miſtaken.

Lee, Juſtice. It appears by the caſe in Hob. 85. that the bare uſe of the word cuſtom in pleadings, will not bring them under the ſame regulations as the law has appointed for pleadings of cuſtoms, and in that caſe too, a diſcharge laid by way of cuſtom, was not conſidered as a cuſtom, but as a preſcription. If the fact here alledged is a ſufficient diſcharge, ſure the bare alledging it to be a cuſtom will not vitiate; the force of the word cuſtom in this caſe, is no more than it is cuſtomary; it is allowed, that if this had been laid as a preſcription it had been right; ſo then the queſtion is, whether what is here laid, amounts to a ſufficient deſcription of a diſcharge, and I think it does; in the caſe cited for the defendant, there was not ſufficient to ſhew a preſcription. Therefore the court ordered the poſtea to be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 292.

Hilary, 6 Geo. 3. Heſketh v. Braddock.

On a writ of error brought from the great ſeſſions for the county of Cheſter, who had reverſed the judgment of the Portmote court of the city of Cheſter, in an action of debt brought there for recovering a penalty of 5 l. &c.

Adjudged, that all courts muſt take notice of their own cuſtoms, and their cuſtoms can be tried no where elſe but where they ariſe.

If a cuſtom be a neceſſary foundation for a bye-law, it is neceſſary to prove ſuch cuſtom. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1847.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 6. Butler v. Heathby.

On an action on the caſe brought againſt the defendant for not fetching away his tithes in a reaſonable time, the declaration ſet forth, that the plaintiff ſet out the tithes, and the defendant refuſed to fetch them away.

On the trial of the cauſe, the defendant's council inſiſted on a cuſtom in the pariſh, viz. "that notice "ſhould be given to the owner of the tithes of the ſet- "ting them out." A verdict was found for the plaintiff, and thirty guineas damages, ſubject to the opinion of the court on the following queſtion:

"Whether this cuſtom be good in law or not?"

On a motion for a new trial in this cauſe, a rule to ſhew cauſe was obtained, and on ſhewing cauſe, the defendant's council raiſed two objections:

1ſt. It is ſetting up the eccleſiaſtical law againſt the common law of the kingdom.

2dly. This cannot be done by cuſtom in any particular diſtrict.

Wilmot, Juſtice. By the common law, no notice is neceſſary; by the eccleſiaſtical law it is neceſſary. The queſtion therefore is,

"Whether the eccleſiaſtical law can be introduced "under the notion of ſuch a cuſtom?

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion:

Per curiam. We are all clear that it is a good cuſtom. It is for the prevention of fraud, and for the convenience of the parties: therefore the rule muſt be made abſolute for a new trial, but without coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1891.

See Corporations and Preſcription.

For Conſpiracy, See Indictment.

Damages.

Mich. 2 W. & M. Cone v. Bowles. Error.

In an action of replevin brought againſt three defendants, one of whom was an infant, all appeared and avowed by attorney. Judgment being given againſt the plaintiff, he brought a writ of error, and aſſigned the infancy of one of the defendants for error: and becauſe he might have pleaded this in abatement to the avowry, it was held well enough, and judgment was affirmed; but the court held the avowants ſhould have no coſts; for all ſtatutes that give coſts are to be taken ſtrictly, as being a kind of penalty, and ſtat. 3 H. 7. cap. 10. mentions only writs of error brought by any defendant, or tenant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 205. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 7.

Hilary, 5 W. & M. Lawſon v. Storie.

By ſtat. 2 W. & M. ſect. 1. cap. 5. treble damages and coſts are given againſt the reſcouſor of a diſtreſs for rent: in an action on the caſe for a reſcous upon this ſtatute, the plaintiff ſhall recover treble coſts as well as treble damages; for the damages are not given by the ſtatute, but increaſed, an action on the caſe lying for a reſcous at common law. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 205.

Mich. 7 W. 3. Herbert v. Waters.

In an action of replevin, the defendant avowed as overſeer of the poor for a diſtreſs for a rate on ſtat. 43 Eliz. cap. 2. at the trial the plaintiff was non-ſuited, and no damages being found, the court was moved for a writ of inquiry of damages to ſupply this omiſſion, and it was granted; becauſe if the jury had enquired, they had enquired as an inqueſt of office, on which no attaint would have lain. 1 Cro. 146. 1 Ro. 272. 2 Ro. 112. 1 Sid. 380. And the council diſtinguiſhed this from the caſe 1 Sid. 380. of an avowry for a rent-charge according to ſtat. 17 Car. 2. cap. 7. There a writ of inquiry was rightly denied, for by that ſtatute the ſame jury are to enquire of the rent-arrear, and the value of the cattle; but ſtat. 43 Eliz. does not tie it up only to the ſame jury.

Holt C. J. ſaid, That 17 Car. 2. in the caſe of Burton v. Robinſon, detinue was brought, and on trial of the iſſue, the jury found the damages, but not the value of the diſtreſs; and the court granted a writ of inquiry, which he ſaid was contrary to Cheney's caſe, and as he thought, contrary to law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 85. Salk. vol. 1. p. 205. Raym. vol. 1. p. 59. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 118.

Trin. 9. W. 3. Shore v. Madiſten. Error.

The plaintiff brought an action of debt in C. B. on ſtat. 5 Eliz. cap. 9. for not appearing upon a ſubpœna ad teſtificandum, and recovered judgment, with coſts of ſuit; and upon this judgment, error was brought here, and the court held, that where a ſtatute gives a ſum certain to the party grieved, he ſhall in conſequence have coſts, becauſe he had a right of action antecedent to the bringing of the action. But where a ſum certain is given to a ſtranger, as where it is to him that ſhall proſecute, he ſhall not have his coſts; for till he commenced his action, he had no right of action in him: and the judgment was affirmed. 1 Brownl. 66. Hutt. 22. 1 Lut. 201. No coſts ſhall be in a popular action, be the penalty certain or uncertain; but where the party grieved ſhall have a penalty certain, he ſhall have coſts. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 206.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Prince v. Molton.

In an action on the caſe, wherein the plaintiff declared, that on the 2d day of July, 6 W. 3. he was poſſeſſed of a meadow next adjoining to a river, and to another contiguous to the ſaid river; which river, time out of mind, ran through his meadow to an ancient mill of the defendant's, without any overflowing. That the defendant, on the 3d of Auguſt 6. W. 3. extended and enlarged the foundation of his mill further into the river, whereby he ſo obſtructed the river, and heightened the water, that it overflowed and drowned the plaintiff's meadow, whereby he loſt the uſe and profit thereof, from the aforeſaid 2d day of July to the time of exhibiting the bill. Not guilty pleaded, being a verdict was found for the plaintiff.

It was moved in arreſt of judgment, that entire damages are given to the plaintiff; and from the 2d day of July to the 3d of Auguſt, he had no damages at all, but by his own ſhewing; and it ſhall not be intended, the damages given by the jury are only for the time after the 3d of Auguſt; for the damages ſhall be underſtood to be given not according to law, but according to the allegation of the plaintiff who lays his damage, as reſolved in the caſe of Harbin v. Green, Hob. 189. Moore 887. And at firſt, all the court, except Rokeby, ſeemed to think it well enough; for it may be, the plaintiff laid up his meadow for graſs from the 2d of July; but afterwards judgment was arreſted; for though he might loſe the profit from that time, he, notwithſtanding, could not loſe the uſe; if he had not ſaid uſum they might have given judgment for him: this caſe is the very ſame with Harbin v. Green. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 131.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Weſt v. Cole.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit, and a quantum meruit for meat, drink, and lodging; and on another aſſumpſit, and quantum meruit, in the ſame declaration, for wares ſold; judgment by default; a writ of enquiry, and entire damages given by reaſon of the premiſes; the judgment was moved to be ſtaid, becauſe in the ſecond aſſumpſit, and quantum meruit, there is no averment in fact of the value of the wares, and ſo is void, for which no damages can be given. A quantum meruit for wares ſold, without an averment de facto of the value, is naught; but here being another aſſumpſit well laid, we will ſuppoſe all the damages given for that, and reject the other as ſurpluſage. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Ricards v. Corneforth.

Adjudged in this caſe, that in aſſumpſit, if two breaches are aſſigned, and one is ill aſſigned, and a verdict is given for the plaintiff, and damages entire, he ſhall never recover; becauſe damages are intended as well for the breach which is ill aſſigned, as for the other that is well. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 363.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Parkhouſe or Parkhurſt, v. Forſter Foſter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 277 of this work, under the head Conſtable.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Braſfield v. Lee.

In an action of treſpaſs, aſſault, battery, falſe impriſonment, the plaintiff declared, that the defendant aſſaulted, beat, and impriſoned the plaintiff, 1ſt October, 9 W. 3. and detained him in priſon four months. On not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and entire damages given by the jury. And now it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the declaration was a declaration of Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. and therefore the damages being entire, and given for the impriſonment of four months from the 1ſt October; it appears the damages were given for impriſonment after the action was commenced: therefore judgment was arreſted. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 329.

Summer Aſſizes, 10 W. 3. Windle v. The Hundred of Chelmsford.

In an action on the ſtatute of Wincheſter, in which the plaintiff ſhewed, that he was robbed of a bank bill; on evidence at the trial at Brentwood ſummer aſſizes, before Hatſel, Baron of the Exchequer, he directed the jury to give damages for the whole value of the bill, which they did accordingly. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 727.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Fetter v. Beal.

In a ſpecial action of treſpaſs and battery, for a battery committed by the defendant on the plaintiff, and breaking his ſkull, the plaintiff declared of the battery, &c. and that he brought an action againſt the defendant, and recovered 11 l. and no more; and that after that recovery, part of his ſkull, by reaſon of the ſaid battery, came out of his head, whereby, &c. The defendant pleaded the ſaid recovery in bar. On which the plaintiff demurred; and his council ſtrongly inſiſted, that this action differed from the nature of the former, and therefore would well lie, notwithſtanding the recovery in the other; becauſe the recovery in the former action was only for the bruiſe and battery, but here there is a maihem by the loſs of the ſkull. As if a man brings an action againſt another for taking and detaining of goods for two months, and afterwards he brings another action for taking and detaining for two years; the recovery in the former action is not pleadable in bar of the ſecond. If death enſues on the battery of a ſervant, this will take away the action whereby he loſt his ſervice. And then, if a conſequence will take away an action, for the ſame reaſon it will give an action. If a man brings an action for uncovering his houſe, by which his goods were ſpoiled, and afterward, by reaſon of the ſaid uncovering, new goods are ſpoiled, he ſhall have a new action, which Holt, Chief Juſtice, denied.

Per curiam. The jury, in the former action, conſidered the nature of the wound, and gave damages for all the damages it had done to the plaintiff; and therefore a recovery in the ſaid action is good here. And it is the plaintiff's fault, for if he had not been ſo haſty he might have been ſatisfied for this loſs of the ſkull alſo: therefore, the defendant had judgment niſi, &c.

In Trinity, 13 W. 3. the court was moved in this cauſe for judgment for the plaintiff, becauſe this ſpecial ſubſequent damage is a ſufficient foundation for an action; and that for great reaſon, becauſe the jury could not have conſideration of it in giving damages. And it was compared to the caſe of a nuiſance, that a man might have an action for every new dropping of the water from the eaves of the houſe. 2dly. There is a maim laid here, and therefore the prior recovery in the action of aſſault cannot be a bar.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This is a new caſe, to which there is no parallel in the books. Every one ſhall recover damages in proportion to his prejudice, which he has ſuſtained; and if this matter had been given in evidence, as that which in probability might have been the conſequence of the battery, the plaintiff would have recovered damages for it. The injury, which is the foundation of the action, is the battery, and the greatneſs or conſequence of that is, only in aggravation of damages. In ſome caſes the damage is the foundation of the action, as in an action by the maſter for battery of his ſervant, whereby he loſt his ſervice, but here the battery only is the foundation of the action; and this damage, which might probably enſue, might and ought to have been given in evidence, and muſt be intended to have been given in evidence in the former action, and that the jury gave damages for all the hurt he had ſuffered; for if the nature of the battery was ſuch, as probably to produce this effect, the jury might give damages for it before it happened. As to the caſe of a ſea-wall, the plaintiff would recover damages enough in the firſt action to rebuild it; and if he rebuilds it ill, the fault is his own. And as to the nuiſance, every new dropping is a nuiſance. As to the maihem, that is nothing, for a recovery in battery, &c. is a bar in appeal of maihem, 4 Co. 43. a. becauſe in battery the plaintiff may give a maihem in evidence, and recover damages for it. And Holt, Chief Juſtice, further ſaid, that the original cauſe was tried by him eight years before, and the plaintiff and defendant appeared to be both in drink, and the jury did not well know which of them was in fault; and therefore they gave the leſs damages. The plaintiff could not obtain judgment, the court inclining ſtrongly againſt him. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 339. 692.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The Earl of Kent v. Walters.

In an action of trover, for ſeveral loads of wood, where judgment went by default, and a writ of inquiry was executed, the court was moved to ſet aſide the writ of inquiry; on affidavit that the ſheriff refuſed to receive any evidence of the value of the wood, but directed the jury to find the full damages declared of; and for that it was ſet aſide, on payment of coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 317.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Davila v. Dalmanſer.

Per curiam. If there be two dealers, and they reciprocally pay money for one another, they ſhall have their reciprocal action for it, in which either of them ſhall give ſpecial bail; and neither of them ſhall give the money paid by him in mitigation of damages, unleſs there is an account ſtated, and they never can have an account againſt one another. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 408.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Fenwick v. Lady Groſvenor.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A judge of niſi prius, on executing a writ of inquiry, is only an aſſiſtant to the ſheriff, and has no judicial power; and if the parties come to any agreement, there the way to make it effectual is, to bring it to him to ſign, and after to move above to have it made a rule of court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 610.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The Caſe of the Farmers of Hampſtead-Water.

On the executing a writ of inquiry of Damages, in treſpaſs for digging an hole in the plaintiff's ſoil, whereby his land was overflowed, and continuing the tranſgreſſion for nine months; it was inſiſted, that they might give evidenee of a conſequential damage after the nine months, as well as in a nuiſance which continues nine months, and the cauſe is removed; if the effect continues after, damage may be recovered for it.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he was not ſatisfied, that the parity would hold, for the giſt of the action in a nuiſance is the damage; and therefore as long as there are damages, there is ground for an action; but treſpaſs is one intire act, and the very tort is the giſt of the action; and therefore he ſaid he doubted, whether an action would lie for the continuance of a treſpaſs, as for that of a nuiſance. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 519.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. How v. Acton.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If the plaintiff delay the executing a writ of inquiry, till a year after the interlocutory judgment, he cannot do it after, without a ſci. fac. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 500.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Pratt v. Rutleis.

On a diſtreſs for rent, replevin, and avowry, the plaintiff in replevin nonſuited, a retorno hab. awarded, and a writ of inquiry and damages iſſued out, and before execution a ſecond deliverance; a doubt aroſe whether this ſecond deliverance was a ſuperſedeas of the writ of inquiry?

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The damages are not given by ſtat. 21 H. 8 c. 19. for getting the thing avowed for from the avowant, but for the vexation in bringing a replevin without cauſe; and the nonſuit is ſufficient evidence, that there was no cauſe of replevin, at leaſt it is evidence of a vexation; and if the avowant cannot maintain his avowry, the plantiff ſhall recover damages for the diſtreſs. If a man brings an action and is nonſuited, the defendant ſhall recover damages for the nonſuit; but if the plaintiff brings a new action, and recovers, he ſhall recover damages, but ſhall have nothing for the coſts of the nonſuit; and if a ſecond deliverance is brought before a retorno habendo executed, it ſhall ſuperſede the execution; if after it it is executed, it ſhall notwithſtanding fetch back the diſtreſs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 547.

Summer Aſſizes, 13 W 3. Smithies v. Dr. Harriſon.

In an action on the caſe for words, which imported the committing of adultery by the plaintiff with Jane at Stile, the defendant in mitigation of damages, may give in evidence, that the plaintiff committed adultery with Jane at Stile, but not with any other woman.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice, at Brentwood, Summer Aſſizes, and ruled accordingly. Vide Raymond, vol. 1. p. 727.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Brown and Wife v. Gibbons.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 305 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Cutting v. Wilkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 327 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Brook v. Biſhop.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 119 of this work, under the head Arreſt of Judgment.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Shortridge v. Lamplugh. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given in C. B. on an action of covenant, among other errors aſſigned, was the following, viz. That the plaintiff ought to recover only for the damages that he has ſuſtained at the time of the action brought; but here the jury on the writ of inquiry, have given damages, that the plaintiff ſuſtained after the bringing of the action, viz. till the writ of inquiry ſued, which is erroneous. 2 Saund. 169. Hambleton v. Vere. Hob. 189. Harbin v. Green. Trin. 9 W. 3. Prince v. Moulton.

Holt, C. J. anſwered, 1ſt, That the writ of inquiry recited the declaration, in theſe words, which was well enough. 2dly, That it is not like the caſes cited, where more damages were given than ought to have been given; becauſe the jury in this caſe ought to give ſo much in damages as would repair the tenements, and put them into ſuch condition as they ought to be in, and damages alſo for the rent; and therefore if the tenements were become in a worſe condition ſince the action was brought, they ought to give damages for them. The judgment was accordingly affirmed by the whole court. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 798.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Jenkins and Wife v. Plombe or Plume.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 208 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Ven v. Phillips.

In an action of treſpaſs, for chaſing, driving, and wounding his ſheep, whereby ſome died, and others were damnified, and alſo for taking and carrying away one hog of the plaintiff; the jury found the defendant guilty of all but the taking and carrying away the hog, of which they found him not guilty, and gave 2 d. damages; and the queſtion was, whether the plaintiff could have more coſts than damages; And the court opening the matter, held the plaintiff ſhould have his full coſts, for this is out of ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 9. and the reaſon is, becauſe the ſtatute enacts, that in all actions of treſpaſs, aſſault and battery, and other perſonal actions wherein the judge ſhall not certify an aſſault and battery ſufficiently proved, or that the title of the land came in queſtion, there ſhall be no more coſts than damages, where damages are found under 40 s. ſo that the firſt words are general, yet by the laſt words, actions are reſtrained to ſuch wherein there can be ſuch certifying of the battery, or the like: therefore if it be an action wherein there can be no ſuch certifying, as debt, aſſumpſit, trover, treſpaſs for taking his goods, treſpaſs for ſpoiling his goods, treſpaſs for beating his ſervant whereby he loſt his ſervice, it is out of the ſtatute; but treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, or treſpaſs for riding over his ground, are within the ſtatute. 3 Keb. 184, 3, 8, 9. Raym. 487. 2 Jones 232. Treſpaſs for breaking his ſtall ſituated in the market. And although treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, is within the ſtatute, yet if it goes on to cutting and carrying away his corn, it is out of the ſtatute, unleſs the defendant is acquitted thereof. 3 Keb. 21. 247. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 208.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Fanſhaw v. Morriſon. Error.

On a ſci. fac. on a recognizance in C. B. againſt bail, the plaintiff had judgment for execution on the recognizance, and that he ſhould recover his damages, which he had ſuſtained by reaſon of the delay of execution. On a writ of error in this court, this point was reverſed, for the bail are only liable to coſts of ſuit by the ſtatute, and damages by reaſon of the delay of execution are not coſts, nor coſts of ſuit, but damage ſuſtained by being ſo long out of his money, which is uſually aſſeſſed by allowing the party what lawful intereſt would have come to him in the mean time; ſo that coſts and damages are different in this caſe, given for different ends, and aſſeſſed by different meaſures. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 209. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1138. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 157, 197.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Vivian v. Champion.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 248 of this work, under the head Breach.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a farm is out of repair in the life of the anceſtor, and after the heir brings an action, he ſhall recover damages for the whole time: but the heir ought not to alledge a breach in the anceſtor's time, becauſe that belongs to the executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 45.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Tate v. Whiting.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 37 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 8 Ann. Biſhop v. Eagle.

The plaintiff declared on a prohibition, and on a demurrer to the declaration, an exception was taken to it, becauſe the declaration ſet forth, that the defendant ſued in the ſpiritual court after the King's writ of prohibition to the contrary, directed to him, but does not ſay, delivered, and here appears no cauſe of action, ſince it is not ſet forth, that the prohibition was delivered.

This matter was moved laſt term; and this term the court were of opinion, Holt, Chief Juſtice, being abſent, that when a perſon proceeds for damages, then it muſt be ſet forth, that the prohibition was delivered, and alſo a venire laid: but in this caſe, which is only to maintain the juriſdiction of this court, it is not neceſſary. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 263.

Hilary, 8 Ann. Todd and Wife v. Redford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 212 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Hilary, 12 Ann. Jones v. Gwynn.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 39 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Holroi v. Ebizſon. Error.

An action was brought in C. B. on ſeveral promiſes; and judgment by default; a writ of inquiry executed, and 424 l. damages given. A writ of error being brought in this court, the plaintiff in error was nonproſſed.

The court was moved on ſtat. 3 H. 7. c. 10. that the defendant in error ſhould, beſides his coſts, have intereſt allowed him, for the ſum adjudged due to him, pending the writ of error, from the judgment.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. No man is ſure of making intereſt of his money; a man cannot always place his money out to his mind; he may loſe the principal; and wherever intereſt is made, a hazard is run: but here there is no hazard at all; intereſt was very low when this act was made.

However, if this were a new caſe, I ſhould think it highly reaſonable, that damages ſhould be given for the delay; the word coſts in the act ſeem to me to relate to vexation, and damages to delay.

By the common law, in every action of debt, damages are given, occaſioned by detaining the debt, either by writ of inquiry, or by the court.

Where a penal ſum is recovered, damages are never given. But on a ſingle bill, even by the common law, damages are given for the delay.

This is a key to the ſtatute. Whenever a man is kept out of his juſt debt, the law implies and ſuppoſes a damage. I doubt only by reaſon of the different practice in the Exchequer.

Afterwards, in Trinity term, it was reſolved by the whole court, that the defendant, on a writ of error, brought to this court, ſhould not have intereſt allowed him, by way of damages, for the ſum adjudged due to him, from the time of the firſt judgment, pending the writ of error.

For at the time of making ſtat. 3. H. 7. c. 15. which gives the damages on the writ of error, all intereſt was imputed unlawful; and therefore that ſtatute could not give it.

In fact, when intereſt ran high, as at 10 l. per cent. intereſt has not been allowed.

In writs of error brought in the Exchequer Chamber, intereſt is never allowed, and an uniformity in practice is to be wiſhed and endeavoured. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 274.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. Leeds v. Carlton.

A man ſues in the ſpiritual court for a matter which on the face of the libel appears to be of temporal conuſance, and obtains a ſentence. The defendant appeals firſt, and then ſues out a prohibition. In the declaration in that prohibition, and proceſs thereon, there is judgment againſt the defendant by nil dicit; and a writ of inquiry of damages awarded

It was now debated, whether damages were to be given by the jury on the writ of inquiry for the proceedings in the ſpiritual court, from the beginning of the ſuit in that court; or only for the proceſs in that court, ſubſequent to the delivery of the writ of prohibition.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that damages were to be given only for the proceedings in the ſpiritual court, ſince the prohibition delivered.

This is a ſpecial action for proceeding in contempt of the prohibition, this is the very giſt of the action; on this iſſue is conſtantly joined, which, according to what is now contended for, muſt be an immaterial iſſue; for if the iſſue is found with the defendant, that he has not proceeded after the prohibition delivered, yet if he had proceeded at all, the plaintiff muſt have judgment for his damages. Nay, according to this doctrine, the very pleading the plea, in this ſort of actions, is very impertinent; and on doing which, the plaintiff may ſign his judgment; for he ought not to plead that he did not proceed after prohibition, &c. but that he did not proceed at all.

Prohibition is to the judge, not to the party; and in this caſe, this is not a prohibition to the judge, but to the judge on the appeal.

In prohibition, two things are to be conſidered; 1ſt. Whether the party is to be puniſhed? 2dly. Whether he is to be eſtopped.

His not proceeding after the prohibition delivered, prevents his puniſhment, and excuſes him from contempt; but cannot hinder the plaintiff of his judgment.

If on this iſſue, whether the defendant did, or did not proceed after prohibition delivered, a verdict is found for the defendant, no coſts ever are given.

The late ſtatute about giving coſts was unneceſſary, if this doctrine had been true.

And of this opinion was the court. But Pratt, Juſtice, doubting, the matter was adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 319.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Onſlow v. Orchard.

An action of treſpaſs was brought againſt two, and judgment by default, and ſeparate damages, 20 l. as to one, and 1 d. as to the other; and ſtayed till further motion, on the authority of Heydon's caſe, that the damages cannot be ſevered where the treſpaſs is confeſſed. In Trinity term following the judgment was arreſted. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 422.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Woodford v. Eades et al.'

On a contract for ſtock between the plaintiff and J. S. they each depoſited 200 l. in the hands of the defendant, dant, and J. S. not performing his agreement, the plaintiff ſued for the depoſit, had judgment on demurrer, took out a writ of inquiry, and proved his caſe; but the jury, on a motion that the defendant could not pay the money without the conſent of both parties, gave 1 d. damages; which was now ſet aſide, the court ſaying, that the rule of not ſetting aſide verdicts for the ſmallneſs of the damages did not extend to this caſe, where the jury miſtook in point of law; and the Chief Juſtice ſaid, he knew no reaſon why the court ſhould not interpoſe in the other caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 425.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Read v. Marſhall.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 213 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Spiller and Wife v. Adams or Andrews. Error.

The plaintiff brought a writ of dower againſt the defendant, who was then an infant, and admitted to ſue by his next friend, and pleaded uncore priſt, and judgment being given for the plaintiff in the C. B. Adams brought a writ of error in this court, and aſſigned the matters following for error.

1ſt. That the admittance to ſue by his next friend was wrong, for it ſhould be to defend by his guardian.

To which it was anſwered, and ſo reſolved by the court, that it is true, an infant often proſecutes by his next friend, but yet an admittance to proſecute is good, even where he is defendant; for it is to proſecute his plea, by which he defends himſelf againſt the plaintiff.

2dly. It was objected, that damages are given to the defendant, which ought not to be done, becauſe he pleaded uncore priſt, which is no plea in dower, unleſs an actual aſſignment was made.

To which it was anſwered, and ſo ruled, that damages in this ſenſe are well given, though the defendant had pleaded uncore priſt, becauſe damages may be given on account of the detention of dower.

3dly. It was objected, that tho' damages might be given in this caſe, yet it ought to be on the judgment that ſhe ſhould recover her dower, his being a real action, for before the ſtatute of Glouceſter, no damages were allowed in a real action; therefore the damages ought to be given from the time of the diſſeiſin till after the writ of inquiry returned by the ſheriff, if there were no wilful delay by the demandant.

To which it was anſwered, and ſo reſolved, that by the ſtatute of Merton, c. 1. the widow, in a writ of dower, ſhall recover the value of her dower in damages from the death of her huſband to the day that ſhe recovers the dower itſelf; that is, until the day on which ſhe ſhall have recovered her ſeiſin by the judgment of the court, which by intendment of law is the day on which ſhe had judgment to recover her dower, for from that day ſhe is accounted in the poſſeſſion or ſeiſin of her dower: wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 25.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Armory v. Delamirie.

The plaintiff being a chimney-ſweeper's boy, found a jewel, and carried it to the defendant's ſhop, (who was a goldſmith) to know what it was, and delivered into the hands of the apprentice, who, under pretence of weighing, took out the ſtones, and calling to the maſter to let him know it came to three half-pence, the maſter offered the boy the money, who refuſed to take it, and inſiſted to have the thing again; whereon the apprentice delivered him back the ſocket without the ſtones. And now, in trover againſt the maſter, theſe points were ruled.

1ſt. That the finder of a jewel, though he does not thereby acquire an abſolute property or ownerſhip, yet he has ſuch a property as will enable him to keep it againſt all but the rightful owner, and conſequently may maintain trover.

2dly. That the action well lies againſt the maſter, who gives credit to his apprentice, and is anſwerable for his neglect.

3dly. As to the value of the jewel, ſeveral of the trade were examined to prove what a jewel of the fineſt water that would fit the ſocket would be worth; and Pratt, Chief Juſtice, directed the jury, that unleſs the defendant produced the jewel, and ſhewed it not to be of the fineſt water, they ſhould preſume the ſtrongeſt againſt him, and make the value of the beſt jewels the meaſure of their damages; which they accordingly did. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 505.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Moor v. Thompſon. Error.

In an action of treſpaſs brought by the plaintiff in C. B. for entering on his (the plaintiff's) land, on the 25th March 4 Geo. with a continuando of the ſaid treſpaſs to the 25th March 6 Geo. (which was two years) &c. to the damages, &c.

The defendant pleaded, that the lands were copyhold, and the freehold of one G. The plaintiff replied, and admitting them to be copyhold, ſet forth a ſurrender made to him, and that he admitted a whole year before he brought this action of treſpaſs, &c. viz. 7 April 5 Geo. The defendant in his rejoinder denied the ſurrender: iſſue thereon. And at the trial there was a verdict for the plaintiff; and the jury gave damages for that year only, preceding the 7th day of April 5 Geo. whereas the plaintiff had declared for two years damages; and now, on a writ of error brought, it was inſiſted, that though the plaintiff had a verdict, yet if the jury did not find enough, it was an inſufficient finding; and here they had found damages only for one year, where the plaintiff had declared for two years damages, and the jury cannot ſever the damages for which the plaintiff had declared.

Per curiam. Had the damages been aſſeſſed generally, it had not been good, becauſe on the record it appears, that the plaintiff ought to recover no damages till 7th April 5 Geo. becauſe till then he has no title to the lands: if the damages had been aſſeſſed, they might have been releaſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 78.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Huxfer v. Gapan.

In an action of trover for a ring, the defendant moved for leave to bring it into court, that it might be ſtruck out of the declaration.

This being an action for damages, founded on a ſuppoſed converſion, the motion was denied; but if it had been an action of detinue it would have been granted.

The plaintiff then moved for leave to amend his declaration, and add more counts to it, having only declared for 15 s. damages, and this was to give the court juriſdiction; and though this was ſtrongly oppoſed on the other ſide, he had leave to amend.

Per curiam. In trover the converſion is the point in iſſue, for which the time and place ſhould certainly be alledged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 176.

Hilary, 10 Geo. Parr v. Niblett.

On a writ of inquiry executed, the ſame was ſet aſide, becauſe the jury gave too little damages; and a rule was made, that on payment of coſts, a new writ of inquiry might be executed, which was done, but without paying coſts.

It was now moved, that this laſt writ of inquiry might likewiſe be ſet aſide, and a rule being made for that purpoſe, unleſs cauſe ſhewn on ſuch a day why it ſhould not, it was now ſhewn for cauſe, that the plaintiff had done all in his power to get the coſts taxed, but could not prevail; and that the defendant's attorney promiſed him, that he would take notice of executing this writ of inquiry, as if the coſts had been already paid, therefore, this motion was made, that on payment of coſts, the rule might be diſcharged.

The court ordered the attornies on both ſides to attend the maſter, and that the plaintiff ſhould pay what coſts the maſter ſhould tax, and that on payment thereof, the rule for ſetting aſide the writ of inquiry ſhould be diſcharged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 213.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Herbert v. Morgan.

The plaintiff was arreſted at the ſuit of the now defendant in a fictitious action, and afterwards he brought an action of falſe impriſonment againſt the defendant, and the jury gave him 80 l. damages; and on a motion in arreſt of judgment, becauſe the damages were exceſſive, it was oppoſed by the plaintiff's council, who inſiſted, that he might have the benefit of the verdict, which was granted, and accordingly the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 296.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. King and Wiſe v. Baſingham.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 214 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Baker v. Bache. Error.

The plaintiff brought an action on the caſe againſt the defendant for money laid out, and neceſſaries provided by him, for the defendant's ſons, to whom the plaintiff was by the defendant appointed tutor, &c. and the plaintiff laid the promiſe to be made by the defendant to the plaintiff, on the 19th of June, 1718, to pay the plaintiff for the neceſſaries he ſhould provide for the ſons, and the money he ſhould lay out for them, &c. and avers, that he continued their tutor for five years and nine months, and during that time found them neceſſaries, &c. which came to 140 l. judgment was given againſt the defendant, by nil dicit in C. B. and the writ of inquiry was executed on the 3d of Febr. 10 Geo. 1723, and the inquiſition found, that the plaintiff ſuſtained damages, by reaſon of the aforeſaid premiſes, &c. 129 l. 9 s. 11 d. and final judgment being given for the plaintiff in C. B. the defendant brought a writ of error in this court. And on Monday the 3d of May, this term, the judgment of the C. B. was reverſed, becauſe the jury on the writ of inquiry, had given damages for neceſſaries provided after the action had commenced, and to a time after the writ of inquiry was executed; for the promiſe being laid to have been made on the 19th of June, 1718, and that the plaintiff provided the neceſſaries, &c. from that time for five years and nine months, next following; that time did not expire till the 19th of March 1723, computing by calendar months, and not till about the 25th or 26th of February, computing by lunar months. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1382.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. William Maddox and Robert Godfrey v. Taylor & al.

In an action of treſpaſs brought for breaking and entering the houſe of William Maddox, and taking the goods of William Maddox, and Robert Godfrey, to the damage of them; after a verdict for the plaintiffs, and entire damages, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this action could not be maintained, ſince the jury has given entire damages; for how can William Maddox (who had no right in the houſe, for that was in Robert Godfrey) recover damages for the unlawful entering. So the judgment was arreſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 370.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Anonymous.

In an action of replevin brought, the defendant juſtified taking the cattle damage feaſant, and it was now moved to ſtay proceedings on bringing into court what was due, with coſts.

Per curiam. If you bring in what is due on the replevin bond, proceedings ſhall be ſtayed, but if it is to ſtay proceedings on payment of what is due for damages, it ſhall not be granted, becauſe the court has no rule to guide them in ſuch caſe; but it is otherwiſe for rent, for that is certain. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 379.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Powell v. Hord. Error.

In an action on the caſe againſt the ſheriff of Oxfordſhire, for a falſe return, viz. non eſt inventus, to an alias capias ad ſatisfaciendum, on a judgment in the C. B. recovered by the plaintiff againſt one E. J. for 21 l. 10 s. on a writ of error brought in this court, the judgment was affirmed, on which the whole ſum amounted to 43 l. On not guilty pleaded, the cauſe was tried before Raymond at niſi prius in Middleſex this term. And it appeared on the evidence, that the bailiff on the firſt capias had frequent opportunity of taking J. and that when that return was out, the underſheriff deſired the plaintiff's attorney to take out another capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and promiſed to arreſt J. but did not, though he had opportunities to arreſt him on that writ. And the defendant on the trial attempted in mitigation of damages to prove, that J. might yet be taken, but failed in that proof, it appearing J. had abſconded. On which, by direction of the court, the jury gave the whole 43 l. debt in damages. And the defendant moved for a new trial; firſt, becauſe the judge refuſed to admit the ſheriff's bailiff to be a witneſs on the trial, to prove that he had often endeavoured to arreſt on this capias ad ſatisfaciendum, but could not. But not allowed:

For the court agreed, that the bailiff was no legal witneſs, becauſe he was intereſted in the cauſe, having given ſecurity for his due executing the proceſs, and by conſequence could not be a witneſs in his own cauſe.

Then it was inſiſted on by the council for the defendant, that the damages were exceſſive, becauſe the jury had given damages for the whole debt; whereas they ſaid the jury ought to have given only the charges the plaintiff had been put to in the ſuing the capias ad ſatisfaciendum, &c. in damages. But not allowed:

For on the circumſtances of the caſe, the court thought it very proper the whole debt ſhould be given in damages. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1411.

Hilary, 5 Geo. 2. The Biſhop of London v. The Mercers Company. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. on a writ of quare impedit brought by the mercers company, and E. L. clerk, for the preſentation to the pariſh church of St. Mildred, Poultry, and St. Mary Colechurch in the city of London, the judgment was affirmed.

Afterwards the company moved for damages to be aſſeſſed, by reaſon of the delay of execution, on ſtat. 3. H. 7. c. 10. and that the computation might be at the rate ſet on the enquiry for the value of the church during the time they were kept out by the writ of error, and Cro. Car. 145, 173. and Dyer, 77. were cited.

Per curiam. Though they are intitled to damages, yet they are not to compute them in that manner. For if the writ of error had not been brought, they would not have been intitled to the profits, but their preſentee, and all the real damage they ſuſtain is, the being kept out of 70 l. Let the maſter therefore compute legal intereſt for that, and add it to the coſts: they ſaid the caſes in Croke were unreaſonable, and had never been conſidered. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 925.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Lowfield v. Bancroft et al.

On an action brought for a malicious proſecution, the jury would have found 800 l. damages againſt one defendant, and 100 l. againſt each of the others. But Raymond, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it could not be done; therefore the jury gave a general credit for 1100 l. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 910.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Kent v. Kent. Error.

On a writ of error from Ireland on a ſpecial verdict in dower, the caſe was as follows:

There were two tenants to the writ of dower, Edw. May and R. Kent: the demandant had judgment to recover her dower, and 158 l. for damages and coſts. They both bring error, and aſſign errors, and then Ed. May dies, and there was judgment to abate the writ of error. After which Kent, and R. May, the heir of Edw.

May brought a new writ of error; and the judgment was affirmed in toto; and a writ of ſeiſin awarded for the dower againſt both, and execution for the damages and coſts againſt Kent only, and alſo for the value from the time of the judgment, according to the former computation.

To this an exception was taken, that Kent alone ought not to be charged; for the ſtatute ſubjects not only the tenant in the action, but alſo thoſe who join in the writ of error, as being bound by the judgment.

And after conſideration, the Chief Juſtice delivered the opinion of the court on this point as follows:

We are all of opinion, that as to damages from the time of the judgment in C. B to the affirmance in B. R. in Ireland, the judgment is erroneous, and ought to be reverſed.

We have no doubt but that the King's Bench might award damages from the time of the judgment to the affirmance. But the objections are to the manner of doing it, and they are two. 1ſt. That they have computed it according to the value found by the firſt jury, whereas there ought to have been a writ of inquiry. And, 2dly. Becauſe they have awarded them againſt Kent only.

As to the firſt: This power of awarding damages on the writ of error is not founded on the ſtatute of Merton, for that does not enable the courts to go farther than the effectual judgment to recover ſeiſin in the court where the writ is brought. This gave occaſion to make ſtatute 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 8. which was enacted in Ireland the next year; and thereby power is given to the court to which the cauſe is removed by writ of error, to award an inquiry of the value of the meſne profits after the firſt judgment in dower, and on return thereof to award an execution.

And as it was wrong in this caſe to aſſeſs the damages without an inquiry; ſo, 2dly. It was wrong to lay the whole on Kent.

As to the damages during their joint lives, they muſt be conſidered as joint treſpaſſers, and then the heir is not chargeable, but the whole damages may be levied on the ſurvivor. But for the time the heir was in poſſeſſion, he was equally a treſpaſſer with Kent, and as ſuch equally liable to make ſatisfaction. Could he maintain this writ of error without entering into a recognizance? Certainly he could not. And has he not thereby ſubjected himſelf as much as the other had done?

But then, taking it to be wrong in both particulars, an objection is made, that this being for the benefit of the heir, he cannot aſſign this for error, though Kent may. And to be ſure the general rule is, that a man ſhall not aſſign matter for his own advantage, but he ought to be ſevered from the defendant, who is hurt. Cro. Eliz. 891. 1 Saund. 239. Yelv. 3. Cro. Jac. 92. But we think that was neceſſary here, it being the fault of the court, and differs from the caſe of too long an eſſoign, which is prayed by the party. 8 Co. Beecher's caſe, 2 Saund. 49. 1 Roll. Abr. 759. p. 2.

This part of the judgment therefore being wrong, and the error well aſſigned, it muſt be reverſed as to this part only, and the other being a diſtinct judgment, may be affirmed. Salk 24. To this, we think, proper to add, that we are alſo to do what the court below would have done; which is, to direct them to award a writ of inquiry, for we cannot do it ourſelves, as we ſhould have done in an Engliſh cauſe, ſince it muſt go to a ſheriff out of our power. But we remit the record, with an affirmance of one part, and reverſal of the other, with a command to B. R. in Ireland to award a court of inquiry, and on return thereof to do what by law appertains thereto. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 971.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. Horton v. Kilmore.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 44 of this work, under the head Actions. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 5.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Valentine v. Fawcett.

The defendant, who was an overſeer of the poor, was ſued for what he did in the execution of his office; and on the trial a verdict was given for him; but ſtat. 43 Eliz. c. 2. ſaying, that he ſhall recover treble damages by reaſon of his wrongful vexation, with his coſts, to be aſſeſſed by the ſame jury, or have a writ to inquire of the damages, as the ſame ſhall require; he now moved for a writ of inquiry; which was oppoſed, for that it could only iſſue when the plaintiff was nonſuited, after which the ſame jury could not go on; whereas here the plaintiff appeared, and a verdict was given.

But the court held the writ of inquiry ſhould iſſue. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1021. Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 138.

Hilary, 12 Geo. 2. Jones v. Harris.

In an action of treſpaſs brought againſt ſix defendants, three ſuffered judgment to go by default, and the other three pleaded not guilty; the venire went as well to try as to inquire; and on the evidence it appeared, that the treſpaſs was done after the action was brought, it being a general memorandum: whereon the Chief Juſtice directed the jury to acquit the three defendants, but ſuffered the plaintiff to go on, and aſſeſs his damages as to the others. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1108.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. 2. Wray v. Liſter. Error.

In an action of debt brought on an old judgment, the plaintiff laid the damage at 10 l. the jury gave intereſt, which came to 30 l. and for that and coſts the judgment was entered up. And after error brought, the plaintiff moved to have liberty to remit the ſurplus, and enter judgment for 10 l. And Page, Juſtice, was for doing it; but the Chief Juſtice, and the other two, held it could not be done in another form. And the inſtances of reverſing judgment for this fault ſhew it was never thought to be amendable. Yelv. 45. Vide Stra. vol, 2. p. 1110.

Hilary, 18 Geo. 2. Creſſy v. Webb et al'.

In this cauſe the defendant Webb only pleaded to iſſue, the other defendants let judgment go by default. And it came on at Guildhall to try the iſſue, and alſo to aſſeſs the damages as to the others. On the trial Webb was acquitted; and a doubt aroſe, whether the plaintiff could go on; but the Chief Juſtice thought he might proceed, and he did ſo. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1222.

Hilary, 33 Geo. 2. Gardner v. Croaſdale.

On a caſe reſerved for the opinion of the court, on an action on the caſe brought on a policy of inſurance, after hearing the council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion as follows:

Lord Mansfield. This is an action on the caſe, which is a liberal action, and a plaintiff may recover leſs than the grounds of his declaration ſupport, though not more. This is agreeable to juſtice, and conſiſtent with his demand.

Here are two grounds of the plaintiff's declaration, viz. the policy, and the damage of the ſhip.

As to its being a total loſs, or a partial loſs, that is a queſtion more applicable to the quantity of the damages than to the ground of the action: the ground of the action is the ſame, whether the loſs be partial or total, both are perils within the policy.

As to the defendant's not coming prepared to defend a partial loſs, this indeed would be an objection if it was true, but the defendant does in truth come prepared to ſhew, "that either no damages have happened at all, or at leaſt that damages have not happened to ſuch a degree as the plaintiff has alledged in his declaration, &c."

As to the effects of a judgment by default, the defendant could not have been hurt by the ſame, for the plaintiff could not have recovered even on a writ of inquiry any greater damages than the plaintiff could prove to the jury ſworn to aſſeſs them, "that he had actually ſuffered."

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion; and Deniſon and Wilmot gave their reaſons at large for ſuch their opinion.

Per curiam, unanimouſly, let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 904.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 3. Palmes Robinſon, Eſq; v. Ann Bland, Spinſter, Adminiſtratrix de bonis non, of Sir John Bland, Bart, deceaſed.

On a caſe reſerved for the opinion of the court, as to what time the plaintiff was to receive judgment on an action on the caſe, brought on a bill of exchange for money won at play, drawn by the defendant's inteſtate in favour of the plaintiff.

Lord Mansfield. Although this be nominally an action for damages, and damages be nominally recovered in it, yet it is really and effectually brought for a ſpecific performance of the contract.

The damages given by the ſtatutes are, where the action is againſt ſuch as come in under wrong doers only, or where a ſpecific thing is to be recovered.

The ſtatute of Glouceſter, 6 Edw. 1. (whereby damages are given in real actions on a writ of inquiry, to recover the ſpecific lands) gives damages generally, without ſaying what time, yet the conſtruction of the ſtatute has been, "that they ſhall compute all the damages that have ariſen pending the writ.

Here the jury have left the matter quite open to us. We can bring the intereſt down to the time of the liquidation of the ſum really due from the defendant to the plaintiff; which is the time of giving judgment. Therefore let judgment be entered for the plaintiff.

Ruled, That the poſtea be forthwith delivered to the plaintiff's attorney. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1077.

Date, Day, and Delivery.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Wilſon v. Guttery.

The defendant was arreſted on a Sunday, by a writ out of the Marſhalſea, and now the court was moved to diſcharge him; but it was denied, and he was directed to bring an action of falſe impriſonment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 95.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. White v. Martin.

A declaration was delivered on a Sunday. Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid it had been allowed, but that he was never ſatisfied with it. And Turton, Juſtice, ſaid, in the Exchequer, they rejected a declaration in ejectment for that reaſon, and Eyre, Juſtice, that it was abominable. Vide Forteſcue, p. 375.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Kinſay v. Heyward. Error.

The plaintiff declared as adminiſtratrix to her huſband, againſt the defendant as executor to Heyward, on an indebitatus aſſumpſit. The defendant pleaded non-aſſumpſit within ſix years, and judgment was given in C. B. for the plaintiff, by Treby, Chief Juſtice, Nevil and Powell, Juſtices, againſt the opinion of Blencowe, Juſtice.

Afterwards a writ of error being brought in this court, Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. after argument twice at the bar, the judgment was reverſed, becauſe the continuances of the writ were not pleaded, and it was not ſaid the writ was undetermined.

And on error brought in parliament, the judgment of this court was affirmed on the 1ſt of May, 1 Ann, on the ſame point of not having entered the continuances, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 453.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Cromwell or Crumwell v. Grumſdale or Grunſdall.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 241 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Fanſhaw v. Harris.

A policy of inſurance was, that the defendant undertook to pay the plaintiff 100 l. if Sir Robert Howard lived a twelve-month from the day of the date of the policy, being the 3d of December, 1697, and he died on the 3d of December, 1698.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, directed the jury to find for the plaintiff, and he ſaid, if a man is born on the 3d of December, and dies on the 2d of December, twenty years after, making a will on that day, it would be a good will. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 256. Raym. vol. 1. p. 480.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Pullen v. Benſon.

In an action of debt brought on a ſheriff's bond for appearance, the 20th of Nov. 9 W. 3. conditioned, that William Benſon ſhould appear in this court, on Monday, in 15 days of St. Martin, Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. the defendant pleaded ſtat. 23 H. 6. and that the bond was delivered by him on the 30th of November, 9 W. 3. and that William Benſon, at the time of the making and delivery of the bond, was taken and arreſted by the plaintiff, being ſheriff of Yorkſhire, by a writ returnable in K. B. in Michaelmas term laſt paſt, that being ſo in his cuſtody, he took the ſaid bond from him; and this he is ready to verify, &c. whereon the plaintiff demurred, and ſhewed for cauſe that the plea was double, and wanted a traverſe; and the whole court held the plea to be ill; becauſe when he pleaded the bond to be firſt delivered on the 30th of November, he ſhould have traverſed abſque hoc, that he delivered it on the 20th of November, according to the caſe of Green v. Eden. Yel. 138. Cro. 264. for here the date was material; for ſuppoſe the arreſt was before the return of the writ, and after the return of the writ he took an antedated bond, this bond is void; and therefore the date is material, and ought to be traverſed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The date of the bond is one thing and the bearing date another; the date of the bond is the delivery of it; wherefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 204.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Aſmole v. Goodwin.

In an action on the caſe againſt the cuſtos brevium, the declaration was delivered on Friday morning, and rules given to plead within four days, whereas Saturday and Sunday were not juridical days.

Per curiam. We reckon them not juridical as to matters to be tranſacted in court, and therefore Sundays and Holidays, are no days to move in arreſt of judgment. But as to buſineſs done out of court, as a rule to plead within four days, &c. Sundays are reckoned the ſame with other days. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 624. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 449.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Allen or Alanſon v. Brookbank.

On a libel in the ſpiritual court for incontinency, the citation was ſerved on the Sunday, and fixed on the church door; it was objected to be void, becauſe it is a proceſs, and ſtat. 22 Car. 2. was quoted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. That ſtatute extends not to this proceſs, nor to ſummonſes at the church; but only to ſuch proceſs, which may as well be executed at any other time. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 625.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. The King v. Everard.

A preſentment made at a court leet, for erecting of a cottage, &c. contrary to ſtat. 31. Eliz. c. 7. being removed into this court by certiorari, among ſeveral other exceptions, the following was taken, viz. That the anno domini was in Engliſh figures. But becauſe the year of the King was in words at length, it was held certain enough, and that the year of our Lord was only ſurpluſage. And therefore the motion was denied. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 638.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Lord Bellamont's Caſe.

The Attorney General moved for a trial at bar, laſt paper day, in the term, in an action againſt the Governor of New York, for matter done by him as Governor; and granted becauſe the King defended it. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 625.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. The Caſe of —— Cecil, and others of the Town of Nottingham.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 132 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Thomſon v. Southwell.

The declaration was of Eaſter term; and the cauſe of action laid on ſuch a day in April, which day in fact was within the term. And firſt, it was agreed the court would judicially take notice of the firſt day of that term, viz. what day of the month it was, and conſequently that the cauſe of action accrued after it. Secondly, That a declaration generally of ſuch a term, without any ſpecial memorandum, refers to the firſt day of the term, otherwiſe, if there was a ſpecial memorandum of the time of filing the bill, or of giving bail; ſo if it is made out in fact to have been at a day after the day of cauſe of action mentioned, it may be ſet right. But on examination, it appeared the declaration was accepted by conſent (which Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, was filing common bail of courſe) but there was no writ or proceſs returnable; and thereon Holt declared, if there was a proceſs returnable at ſuch a day certain, and it had appeared when bail had been put in, that would be a ground for amendment; but it being only found that common bail was filed, that muſt refer to the firſt day of term; and therefore judgment was arreſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 647.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Lane v. Green.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant on the 8th of September, 1689, by his writing, obligatory, allowed himſelf to be bound and firmly held, &c. to the plaintiff, and on oyer, the bond bore date the 8th of September, 1699, and for the variance there was a demurrer. And it was urged, that ſince the plaintiff varied the lien from the date of the bond, he ought to ſhew when it was delivered; and the right way had been to declare on the bond with the date it bore, and then to ſay firſt delivered at ſuch a time; and at this rate a perſon might declare on a bond after the action was brought.

Per curiam. Since it is ſaid, that ſuch a day he allowed himſelf to be bound and firmly held, &c. it is well, for that could not be without it was then delivered; it is well enough. Therefore judgment for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 651.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Taylor's Caſe.

The queſtion on a motion made in this cauſe was, whether a ſervice of a declaration in ejectment on a Sunday was now good on ſtat. 29 Car. 2.

Per curiam. It is not; being a proceſs, though not a judicial one; being compulſive to the party to appear; and it may as well be ſaid, that the ſervice of a ſummons in a real action, may be good on a Sunday. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 667.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Fox v. Wilbraham.

In an action of covenant brought againſt the aſſignor of a term, on a covenant, that the leaſe was free from incumbrances, and that the aſſignor had not done nor ſuffered, &c. the breach aſſigned was, that at the ſeſſions held at Cheſter, 4 Jac. the defendant was outlawed. On demurrer the declaration was held ill, becauſe it was not ſhewn, in the time of which King James the outlawry was.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The pleading ought to be very certain, as to ſhew in what term the outlawry was; but this uncertainty of the King's reign is ſtill greater: and the declaration was for this exception held ill. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 668.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Watſon v. Huddleſton. Error.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment given in the court of Carliſle in an action of debt on two bonds. The plaintiff declared there on a bond dated the 10th of February, 6 W. & M. in the year of our Lord 1693; judgment went by default. And on error brought, and the general errors aſſigned, the plaintiff in error's council argued, that there was no ſuch day as the 10th day of February, 6 W. & M. becauſe the Queen died before the 10th of February, in the ſixth year of her reign, viz. on the 27th of December, and therefore the date being impoſſible, the plaintiff ſhould have declared on the delivery. Co. Lit. 46. and other books. And of that opinion Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſeemed to be.

But Powyt, and Gould, Juſtices, held, that in the year of our Lord, 1693, was ſufficient, and that the reſt ſhould be rejected. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 703.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Walgrave or Hargrave v. Taylor.

The motion was to have judgment ſet aſide in treſpaſs after judgment by default, and a writ of inquiry executed; becauſe the Eſſoign day of Eaſter term was Sunday, which not being a day in law, it was held on the Monday, and the declaration in this caſe was delivered on the Sunday, which could not be by ſtat. 29 Car. 2. c. 7. which reſtrains proceſſes in law from being executed on Sundays. If this ſhould be allowed, the plaintiff would gain a term by it, where the ſaid day ought to be the Eſſoign day of Eaſter term, and therefore it ought to be but a declaration of the ſaid term; but the declaration being delivered before the Eſſoign day, which was held on Monday, it will be a declaration of Hilary.

But againſt this it was urged by the plaintiff's council, that the delivery of a declaration was not a ſervice of a proceſs. And that in Hilary 11 W. 3. it was held in this court in the caſe of All'n v. Brookbank, that the ſervice of a citation on a Sunday was good, and not reſtrained by the ſtatute of Charles 2. which was agreed to by Holt, Chief Juſtice, but he ſeemed to incline, that the delivery of a declaration on a Sunday was ill, becauſe the ſaid ſtatute intended to reſtrain all ſorts of legal proceedings. But Powys and Gould, Juſtices, were of a different opinion, becauſe ſuch delivery was but as it were a notice; and as a letter, not a proceſs. But it appearing to the court, that the defendant had appeared, and that a writ of inquiry had been executed, they would not intermeddle, and ſaid, that had made all good. And the judgment ſtood. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 705. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 606. Forteſcue, p. 375.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Clerk.

Note, Midſummer-day was on a Wedneſday this year, and if it had not been Midſummer-day that very Wedneſday had been the laſt day of Trinity term, but now the term ended on the Thurſday.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Trinity term may begin on Midſummer-day, but cannot end on it; there can be no return this year, in three weeks of Trinity, but it muſt be on Thurſday after three weeks of Trinity: and this he ſaid had not happened in one hundred years before. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 16.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a deed has no date, or an impoſſible date, you may declare, that the defendant by his deed on ſuch a day and year did ſo and ſo, and on oyer, there will be no variance; but if you ſay, that by his deed of ſuch a date, or bearing date ſo and ſo, and on oyer the deed has no date, or an impoſſible one, it will be a variance. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 38.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Holman v. Burrow.

The plaintiff brought an action of covenant againſt the defendant, on an indenture of charter-party, which he alledged in his declaration, was made on the 26th of Auguſt, 13 W. 3. The defendant prayed oyer of the deed; which being granted, it was entered in theſe words, this indenture, &c. made, &c. the ſix and twentieth of Auguſt, 1701. And then he pleaded in Abatement of the bill this variance in the date of the deed pleaded, and of that ſhewn on the oyer. The plaintiff demurred; and the council for the plaintiff urged, that this was not a material variance, becauſe the year 1701, was the 13th of W. 3. and the court agreed, that though it was not ſaid in the deed anno domini, 1701, yet they would intend 1701, to be the year of our Lord 1701.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that the plaintiff by his profert in court, the date whereof is of the ſame day and year, had confined himſelf to the deed, dated the 13th W. 3. but the deed produced, not being ſo, it was a material variance; and he inclined for the defendant; the matter was however adjourned. But in Michaelmas term following, he and all the other judges held, that the 26th day of Auguſt, 13th of W. 3. and the 26th day of Auguſt, 1701, were the ſame day; and therefore they awarded that the defendant ſhould anſwer over. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 791. 794.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Parker v. Sir William Moor or More.

The defendant was taken on a Sunday, by virtue of an eſcape warrant, and it was held good; for one may take another on a Sunday on a freſh purſuit, and this is in the nature of it, though it is by a new method, for this is no original proceſs, but the party is ſtill on the old commitment continued down. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 626. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 95.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Lidford v. Thomas.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 111 of this work, under the head Arreſt.

Hilary, 2 Ann. James v. Parſons.

A perſon was taken on an eſcape warrant on a Sunday, and it was moved to have him diſcharged; but the court would not, becauſe the act was made in purſuance of an old authority, and to amend the law.

Per curiam. Bring your audita querela; in the C. B. they are of another opinion; we of this, that they may take him on Sunday, therefore let it come judicially before us; take out your audita querela immediately, and they ſhall plead inſtanter; this act is made in purſuance of a former reaſon of law, when a creditor might ſeize his debtor, and ſo might a ſheriff on an eſcape, though on a Sunday. Statute 29 Car. 2. extends only to ſuch proceſs as was at that time when the ſtatute was made. Vide Forteſcue, p. 374.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Rogers v. Rereſby.

In ejectment by original, the declaration was general of Michaelmas term, the demiſe was laid to be on the 20th day of October. After a verdict for the plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the action was brought before any cauſe of action accrued, the 20th day of October being the Eſſoign day of the term, and the firſt day of it in law. To which it was anſwered, that the ejectment and action may be on the ſame day.

Per curiam. This action being by original, is very conſiſtent, becauſe the ejectment was in full term; yet it being a long term, a man may ſue an original teſte in full term, and returnable before the end of it. Then, ſince it is poſſible that it may be well, the court will intend it ſo after verdict. Farther, if it is a ſlip, advantage ſhould have been taken of it on oyer of the original: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 870.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Sir Chriſtopher Hales v. Owen.

Sunday is not included in the four days to move in arreſt of judgment, but the defendant muſt have four juridical days. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 625.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Harvey v. Broad. Error.

A writ of inquiry was returnable in three weeks of the holy Trinity, which was Sunday, and the writ was executed on the 14th, and that was Monday, which was kept as the Eſſoign day, but was a day after three weeks of the holy Trinity: on which a writ of error was brought.

Per curiam. 1ſt. A writ may be executed the day it is returnable, but not after. 2dly. The court may take notice of this judicially, and there needs no writ of error, and no aſſignment of this for error on the record. So 5 Co. 45. The court took notice that the teſte of the writ of covenant was after the return. Co. Ent. 250. Mo. 571. and Plowden, the caſe of Fiſh v. Brocket, the court took notice the proclamation of a fine was on a Sunday. 3dly. There is no difference between the moveable and immoveable feaſts; for the moveable calculation for Eaſter was made by the council of Nice, but received in England, and made part of the Calendar, which is eſtabliſhed by the law of England: therefore, whether the feaſt is moveable or immoveable, or whether the computation is by the day of the month, or the day of the week, viz. on Monday next after three weeks, &c. as it is in judicial proceedings; we have the ſame law, and the ſame rule, and the court cannot but take notice of what appears to them. 1 Cro. 53. 1 Lev. 196. 1 Sid. 301. Plowd. 265, 266. b. Ro. 524. Dy. 181. pl. 52. 21 H. 6. 13. pl. 4. 3 Cro. 227. Lut. 118. 2 Cro. 506. 548. 1 Jon. 301. ſtat. of the year of Biſſextile: therefore the judgment was reverſed. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 626.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Davies or Davy, v. Salter. Error.

A writ of inquiry was returnable in three weeks of the holy Trinity, which was on the 13th day of June, and the writ appeared to have been executed on the 14th day of June. Judgment was given for the plaintiff. And on a writ of error being brought, it was urged that the court could not take notice of the days of the month. 1 Cro. 275. Yelv. 140. 1 Ro. Abr. 595. But not allowed.

Then it was urged, that Sunday ought not to be reckoned, but Monday in lieu of it. Br. c. 5. 2 Cro. 16. 1 Cro. 11.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If Sunday happens to be the fourth day afterwards, the holding of the term of neceſſity goes over till Monday. So if Sunday happens to be the Eſſoign day: and as to the relation of judgment, where the Eſſoign day is a Sunday, the judgment can only relate to the firſt judicial day. All in fifteen days from the octave are incluſive: here we enter Monday, &c. and that is incluſive: in C. B. they enter from Monday, &c. and yet that is incluſive too; but in the principal caſe, there is no neceſſity; the writ might have been executed ſooner, or returned at another day. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 627. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. f. 250.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Seignorett v. Noguire.

In this cauſe the defendant took exception for ſeveral variances between the declaration and the articles; and particularly that of the commencement of the four years for the continuance of the partnerſhip, which in the declaration was ſaid to be with the day of the date of the contract, in the articles from the day of the date of the contract.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that from the date, does not exclude the date, and ſo was the ſame as with the date; but that from the date, and the day of the date, were not the ſame: and the other exceptions being over-ruled, the plaintiff had judgment. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 323 of this work, under the head Covenant. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1241.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Harvey v. Porter.

Per curiam. If an old notice of trial is given before the firſt day in full term, it is ſufficient; and it need not be given before the Eſſoign day. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 211.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Lord Cornwallis v. Hoyle, or Hyle v. Lord Cornwallis.

A writ of inquiry was executed on the 15th day of June, which was on a Sunday, and held naught, and that they might take advantage of it on a writ of error, though not aſſigned for error. Vide Forteſcue, p. 373.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Hutton v. Stroubridge.

On the 2d day of June, (which was in Trinity term) the defendant brought an habeas corpus, and put in bail; the plaintiff did not proceed in that term, or in Michaelmas term, but in Hilary term following delivered a declaration; and on motion, the court held the defendant's attorney was not obliged to accept it, though but a part of Trinity term elapſed after bringing the habeas corpus, there not being two whole terms. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 361.

Trinity, 13 Geo. Hicks v. Jones.

A ſcire facias was teſted the 15th day of May, returnable on the 29th, which is making both the teſte and return incluſive of the fifteen days; and on conſideration it was held well, and there was no difference whether the proceedings were by bill, or by original. Salk. 599. Sir T. Jones, 228. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 765.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 2. Studley v. Sturt.

The writ was returnable on Wedneſday, and the bail-bond was aſſigned on the Monday following; and the court held the plaintiff was too ſoon by a day, for that Sunday was not to be reckoned. Vide Stra. vol. 2 page 782.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Mathews v. Spicer.

The plaintiff declared in aſſumpſit on a promiſe made the 26th day of March 12 Geo. The defendant pleaded, that after the promiſe, and before the bill was filed, viz. on the 2d day of April, he tendered the money. The plaintiff replied, that after making the promiſe, to wit, on the 12th day of Febr. he filed the bill, &c. On demurrer, the defendant's council objected, that by the plaintiff's own ſhewing he had brought his action before the cauſe of action accrued, for the promiſe he declared on was made on the 26th day of March, and his bill was filed the 12th day of February preceding.

Per curiam. As the plaintiff would not in evidence have been confined to the day in his declaration, there is no reaſon he ſhould be more confined in pleading. Indeed, if this was a note, the day would be material, and an eſſential part of the agreement, from which he could not vary, but in the caſe of a common aſſumpſit, the day is alledged only for the ſake of form, and therefore the defendant cannot confine the plaintiff to the day alledged in the declaration: and on this diſtinction, the caſes of Stafford v. Forcer, Eaſter 1 Geo. and Cole v. Hawkins, Hilary 3 Geo. were adjudged: therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 806.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. Whitlock v. Humphreys.

On debate it was ſettled, that to ſave coſts for not going on to trial, it would be ſufficient to countermand notice in a town-cauſe two days, and in a country-cauſe four days, before the aſſizes; and that it ſhould be a general rule, without conſidering the charges and inconveniencies in any particular caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 849.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. Bullock v. Lincoln.

The latitat was returnable on the Wedneſday; and on debate it was held, that the bail-bond could not be aſſigned till after Monday, for the four days are to be one incluſive, and the other excluſive; and where the fourth day is Sunday, the party has all the next day to put in bail. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 914.

Trinity, 21 Geo. 2. Guy and Wife v. Kitchiner et al.

On an aſſault and battery, the memorandum was generally of Michaelmas term, and the fact, on ſon aſſault proved, was on a day within the term, viz. the 27th day of October. And a caſe being made of this, it was held well enough; for the plaintiff need have given no evidence of this plea, unleſs to aggravate damages; and the court will not nonſuit him, becauſe it is amendable by a new bill. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1271.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Swann v. Broome. Error.

On a writ of error brought from the Common Pleas on a common recovery there ſuffered:

Adjudged, that whilſt the court did ſit on Sundays, the notice muſt follow the practice then in uſe, and muſt of conſequence be given for appearing on the Sunday, but now, that old practice "of their actually "ſitting on Sundays," being altered, and at an end, theſe notices muſt neceſſarily relate to the Monday, when the courts do ſit, and before which day they cannot ſit; and therefore the defendant cannot be miſled by having notice given him to "appear on the "Sunday." Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1595.

Debt.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Newton or Newport v. Godfrey. Error.

On error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action of debt againſt an executor, after the leaſe was determined, for rent due in the teſtator's time, on a parol leaſe; the defendant pleaded an obligation entered into, to A. by the teſtator, beyond which, he had not aſſets, and ſo demanded judgment, and on demurrer judgment was given for the plaintiff in the C. B. and affirmed here.

Per curiam. Debt for rent on a leaſe for years, after the leaſe is ended ſavours of the realty, and is in equal degree with debt on a bond, and therefore a bond is not to be preferred to it: and ſo is the practice of the Exchequer. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 7. Ibid. vol. 4. p. 44.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The College of Phyſicians v. Buſh.

The plaintiffs brought an action of debt on ſtat. 14 H. 8. c. 5. which prohibits the practice of phyſic within London, or ſeven miles thereof, under the penalty of 5 l. for every month, except the party is approved of under the ſeal of the college; and for practiſing phyſic in Weſtminſter ——— months this action was brought.

The defendant pleaded letters patent from King Charles the ſecond, by which free liberty is given to French proteſtants to exerciſe the faculty of phyſic in London and Weſtminſter, &c. and that he was a French proteſtant, &c.

On demurrer the plea was held ill; but then an exception was taken to the declaration, which ſet forth, that the defendant practiſed phyſic in Weſtminſter, and did not ſay it was within ſeven miles of London, for which reaſon the defendant had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 47.

Michaelmas, 4 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Hicks.

An information was brought againſt Marmaduke Hicks, and it was laid in Middleſex, in the name of Sir S. Aſtry, for exerciſing the trade of a grocer for the ſpace of three months, not having ſerved as an apprentice for ſeven years to that trade, contrary to the form of the ſtatute.

The defendant did not live in Middleſex, nor uſe the trade there, but in another county.

And on demurrer the defendant had judgment, becauſe the information being grounded on a penal law, it ought to have been laid in the proper county where the offence was committed, and not elſewhere, by the expreſs words of ſtat. 21 Jac. c. 4.

Per curiam. An action of debt will lie on ſtat. 5 Eliz. in Middleſex, though the offence was done in Cumberland, becauſe the ſtatute of King James did not extend to deprive the courts of Weſtminſter of ſuch actions, but only thoſe which might be brought before the juſtices of aſſize, or of the peace; now informations may be brought before them, as well as in this court; but debt cannot. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 158.

Hilary, 5 W. & M. Coombs v. Talbot.

In an action of debt for rent on a demiſe of an houſe and lands, at the yearly rent of 9 l. per annum, the action was brought for two years rent in arrear.

The defendant pleaded as to 9 l. part thereof nil debet, and as to the other 9 l. he confeſſed the demiſe as laid in the declaration to render annually 9 l. for a piece of land called Chalwell, and 40 s. for the other lands, and 7 s. for another parcel, &c. and as to 40 s. part thereof nil debet, and as to the reſt, he had no intereſt in the tenements; and on demurrer the plea was held to be ill, becauſe in conſtruction of law this laſt plea goes to the whole, though pleaded as to part; and having likewiſe pleaded nil debet, that makes the plea double; for on nil debet the defendant might give in evidence, that he had no intereſt in the tenements; by pleading that he owed nothing, the demiſe was admitted; and then by ſaying the plaintiff had nothing in the lands, &c. that made the plea double and repugnant; but he ſhould have traverſed the whole demiſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 254.

Michaelmas, 5 W & M. Dighton v. Granvil. Error.

A judgment was obtained in this caſe, in the reign of King James 2. in an action commenced in the reign of King Charles the Second, and an action of debt was brought on the judgment in this court after a writ of error allowed.

The defendant pleaded a writ of error depending, and the record certified into the Exchequer Chamber; to which plea the plaintiff demurred.

It was now argued for him, that this was no plea, becauſe debt will lie in this court after a writ of error is brought, and ſo it has been adjudged; the reaſon is, becauſe by the writ of error the tranſcript only, and not the record itſelf is removed; for if the judgment ſhould be affirmed in the Exchequer, the execution muſt be awarded in this court, where the record of the original judgment remains.

Per curiam. At common law before the ſtatute of W. 2. if execution had not been ſued on a judgment in any perſonal action within a year and a day, the party muſt then have brought an action of debt on that judgment; for he could have no ſci. fa. on that judgment; but now the ſtatute applies a proper remedy by giving the ſci. fac. on the judgment, after a year and a day; and it has been held, that a writ of error pending, was a good plea in abatement to ſuch a ſci. fa. But of late days that has been over-ruled, though it has been ſaid, that if there is a judgment precedent to a ſtatute from the ſame perſon who dies, and afterwards a writ of error is brought on the judgment, and pending that writ, the money due on the ſtatute is paid, and there is not enough remaining to ſatisfy the judgment creditor, that the firſt payment to the obligee is good, becauſe by the writ of error, the execution of the judgment was ſuſpended.

But in this caſe the demurrer was held good, and afterwards the defendant was ruled to anſwer over. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 247.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Walker v. Walker.

The defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, becauſe the action was for money won on a wager, on a general indeb. aſſump. which is not a good promiſe in law: for there is no debt, and the verdict being general and entire, the damages given cannot be good. It is true, there are caſes on both ſides, but the point is now depending in a cauſe in the Exchequer Chamber.

On the other ſide it was argued, that though it was depending, yet in Egleſton's v. Lewen's caſe. Hil. 33 & 34 Car. 2. in Sir F. Pemberton's time, a judgment in this point was affirmed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It was ſo: but ſince we came hither, we have held the contrary, that it does not lie; it is merely a wager, and no indeb. aſſump. lies for it; for to make that lie, there muſt be a work done, or ſome meritorious act for which debt would lie; but it does not for this wager, becauſe this is due in a collateral reſpect. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 13.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. Bovey v. Caſtleman.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit, the plaintiff declared, that there was an agreement between the defendant and him, that if the Duke of Savoy made an incurſion into Dauphiny within ſuch a time, that then the plaintiff ſhould give the defendant 100 l. and if the Duke did not make the incurſion into Dauphiny within the time limited, that then the defendant ſhould give to the plaintiff 100 l. which agreement was reduced into writing, and ſigned by both the parties: and the plaintiff avers, that the Duke of Savoy did not make any incurſion into Dauphiny, within the time limited; by which the defendant became indebted to the plaintiff in 100 l. and being ſo indebted, aſſumed to pay, &c. On non-aſſumpſit pleaded, a verdict was found for the plaintiff. And now it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that there was not any conſideration to raiſe a debt, for no debt could ariſe between the plaintiff and defendant on the incurſion of the Duke. For it is but a wager, for which an indebitatus aſſumpſit will not lie, becauſe there wants a real conſideration; but for mutual promiſes aſſumpſit may lie; but not indebitatus aſſumpſit, for indebitatus aſſumpſit will lie only in caſes where debt will lie; but in this caſe debt cannot lie: which was agreed to by the whole court. And therefore judgment was given, that the plaintiff take nothing by his bill. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 69.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Redſhaw v. Heſter.

In an action of debt on a bond againſt an heir, who pleaded be had nothing by deſcent:

The plaintiff replied, that he had lands and tenements by deſcent, before the exhibiting the bill, whence he was able to ſatisfy the aforeſaid plaintiff of the aforeſaid debt, and then put himſelf on the judgment of the court.

And on demurrer, exception was taken to this replication, it being double, for he ought to have concluded to the country.

Per curiam. The replication is good, both by the common and ſtatute law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 122.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. St. Leger v. Pope.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Debt, with an averment in the declaration, differs from the condition of a bond; for the plaintiff here muſt fully intitle himſelf to an action; but the condition of a bond goes only in defeazance, and muſt come on the part of the defendant; and he ſaid, the preſent plaintiff does not intitle himſelf to any action, unleſs the hundred guineas, as well as the value, were unpaid, Where foreign coin is demanded, the action is in the detinet; but if the value is demanded, it is in the debet and detinet; and the averment always is, that the defendant has neither rendered the foreign coin, nor the value. Vide Mod, Rep. vol. 12. p. 81.

Eaſter, W. 3. Thwaites and Wiſe, &c.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 320 of this work, under the head Covenant.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Roberts v. Withered.

An action of detinue was brought for goods forfeited by virtue of ſtat. 12 Car. 2. entitled, An act for encouraging ſhipping and navigation.

On non detinet pleaded, there was a verdict for the plaintiff. And now, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that an action of detinue will not lie, but where the defendant comes by the goods either by delivering, or by finding, and where the plaintiff has an antecedent right, neither of which is this caſe; and it is not enough to ſay, that the ſtatute veſts a property in him who firſt ſues for the forfeiture, becauſe by the expreſs words thereof the right is not attached but by ſeizure, or information, &c. &c.

The plaintiff's council argued, that on reading the act and the declaration, the ſimple queſtion was, whether an action of detinue would lie, or not, in this caſe? And it was inſiſted that it would; for if the act had given only the penalty of 100 l. one moiety to the King, the other to him who ſhall ſue for the ſame, and did not ſay for what action, it will not be denied but that debt would have been the proper action in ſuch caſe for the informer to recover his moiety.

And that there was no difference between debt and detinue for ſuch a forfeiture; for the informer had no antecedent property in neither.

Therefore, without any farther argument, the judgment was affirmed by the whole court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 193.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Wilkinſon v. Kitchin.

The plaintiff being committed to priſon, on two indictments found againſt him for clipping, &c. by the grand jury, ſent for the defendant, a Newgate ſolicitor, and gave him 70 l. at ſeveral days, to procure his diſcharge, and for his pains. And not being proſecuted on theſe indictments, he brought an indebitatus aſſumpſit againſt the defendant for the whole 70 l. And on the trial before Holt, Chief Juſtice, the queſtion was, whether money given to a man to be expended in an ill uſe, might be recovered by the giver, who was a partaker of the crime. And a caſe was cited where a bribe was given to a cuſtom-houſe officer for exempting goods from the payment of cuſtoms, which being diſcovered, and the goods ſeized, the party recovered his money in an indebitatus aſſumpſit; and afterwards it being proved in this caſe, that the defendant confeſſed that he had diſpoſed of this money in bribes, the jury, by direction, gave a verdict for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 89.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Newnham v. Lunn.

An action of debt was brought by a common informer on ſtat. 23 H. 6. againſt the defendant for taking 5 s. 6 d. for an arreſt on a bond. That ſtatute enacts, that the ſheriff ſhall have 20 d. and the bailiff, who makes the arreſt, 4 d. and the ſheriff or bailiff who does the contrary, ſhall pay treble damages to the party grieved, and ſhall forfeit the ſum of 40 l. one moiety to the King, and the other to the party ſuing; and that the juſtices of aſſize, at their ſeſſions, juſtices of the one bench, and of the other, and juſtices of the peace in their county, may determine the ſaid offence.

There was a verdict for the plaintiff, and it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that by the ſtatute of K. James 1. all offences committed againſt any penal ſtatute, for which any common informer may have a popular action, bill, plaint, ſuit, or information, ſhall be proſecuted in the county where the offence was committed, and not elſewhere. So it was adjudged in this court in Eaſter term, 27 Car. 2. between Nicholes v. Cockerill; for if debt will lie here by a common informer on a penal law, then the ſtatute of K. James 1. will be wholly avoided.

The action was brought in London, and the offence was committed in Buckinghamſhire. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Norris v. Mawditt. Error.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment in C. B. on an action of debt, on ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 7. for a falſe return of a burgeſs to ſerve in parliament for the borough of Liverpool; which ſtat. enacts, that if any Mayor, &c. ſhall return other than the perſon choſen by the burgeſſes of the borough where ſuch election ſhall be made, that ſhall forfeit to the King 40 l. and alſo gives an action of debt for 40 l. againſt ſuch Mayor, &c. his executors and adminiſtrators, to any perſon choſen and not returned, or to any other perſon who in default of ſuch burgeſs ſo choſen will ſue for the ſame.

On this writ the general errors were aſſigned; and ſeveral exceptions were taken to the declaration.

1ſt. As to the perſon ſuppoſed to be elected, he ſhould have averred, that he was none of thoſe excluded by the act, as ſheriff, lawyer, merchant, or infant; for the authority given by the act is limited, both as to the perſon to be choſen, and by whom the choice is to be made; and the plaintiff has not brought himſelf within either.

2dly. This action is founded on ſtat. 23 H. 6. which directs how and in what manner the ſheriff, after the receipt of this writ, ſhall make his precept under his ſeal, viz. to the Mayor, &c. (reciting the writ) and commanding him by the ſaid precept (if it is in a borough) to chuſe a burgeſs by burgeſſes.

But this precept, ſet forth in the declaration, is directed to the Mayor to chuſe one burgeſs of the diſcreet men of the borough, and does not ſay by the burgeſſes.

3dly. The action is not well brought as to the form in the commencement of it, for it is in debt as well for the Lord the King as for himſelf, when in ſuch caſe the King ought not to be made a party.

Per curiam. This precept is well enough, for it commands them to chuſe burgeſſes of the ſame borough; which is no more than what the law was before the making of this act.

As to the form of this action, that it is brought as well for the Lord the King as for himſelf, it is true, where a ſtatute gives damages to the party injured; as for inſtance, the ſtatute of R. 2. for a ſcandalum magnatum, it is uſual to join the King with the party; but where a ſum certain is given, as in this caſe, they need not be joined: ſo on the ſtatute of hue and cry they are always joined.

But here is a contempt made by the defendant to an expreſs law, which is puniſhable by fine, and therefore the action may be brought qui tam, &c. There was the like precedent in this court, between Culliford v. The Mayor of Dorcheſter, Anno 3. W. which was an action of debt on a falſe return in this very form. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 311.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Taylor v. Jones.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 274 of this work, under the head Conſideration.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Maddiſon v. Shore. Error.

This was an action of debt brought on the ſtatute for not appearing and giving evidence at the aſſizes, being ſerved with a ſubpœna for that purpoſe. On nil debet pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff; and it was then moved in arreſt of judgment,

1ſt. That it did not appear by the declaration that the ſubpœna was left with the defendant; for the delivery of the ticket, and reading the writ is no good ſervice.

But this exception was over-ruled, for the plaintiff ſhewed that he delivered the very writ of ſubpœna to the defendant himſelf; but the delivery of a ticket containing the ſubſtance of the writ is a good ſervice within the ſtatute.

2dly. It was objected, that the plaintiff had not ſet forth any ſpecial damage which he had ſuſtained by the negligence of the defendant in not appearing to give evidence, as that he was nonſuited, or could not proceed to trial for want of the defendant's evidence, and the action is given to the party grieved. Now, if the plaintiff is not grieved, he cannot bring this action.

The court of C. B. held the declaration to be ill for this laſt objection, becauſe there muſt be a party grieved, otherwiſe there is no cauſe of forfeiture, and there muſt be a particular damage ſet forth, though this was contrary to a judgment in the like caſe, Anno 30 Eliz. where the like exception was taken and overruled.

Afterwards, a writ of error was brought in this court on the judgment; but it was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 355.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Turner v. Maine.

In an action of debt brought by the aſſignees under a commiſſion of bankruptcy, it was not ſet forth in the declaration, that the defendant had notice of the aſſignment.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. No notice is neceſſary, it is all well enough, the place is ſufficiently alledged, therefore let the plaintiff have judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 444.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Bignoll v. Rogers.

In an action of debt againſt the Sheriff of Bucks, for the reward given by the ſtat. 6 & 7 W. & M. to thoſe who ſhould diſcover and convict clippers and coiners.

Note, Here the plaintiff had a certificate from Lord Chief Juſtice Holt, who tried the malefactor, of his having been convicted on the plaintiff's evidence; which being produced, though under his Lordſhip's own hand, yet was proved by his Lordſhip's clerk to the jury.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, the demand of this debt of the Sheriff, after the certificate, did attach the debt on him; and that the money was to be paid out of the profits of the county, or, on failure thereof, out of the Exchequer, and that in ſuch caſe, the action would lie againſt the ſheriff's executor, becauſe given by act of parliament, and attached in the teſtator; but for the penalty given by the ſtatute againſt the Sheriff for default of payment, that would not affect the executor; and if the Sheriff paid the debt and died, it ſhould be allowed to his executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 310.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Marle v. Flake.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Payment of a bond with a condition indorſed, is a good plea before the condition broken, but not after, no more than to an action of debt on a ſingle bill; for when the breach is made, the benefit of the condition, which is always in behalf of the obligor, is gone. Salk. vol. 3. p. 118.

Hilary, 1 Ann. The Caſe of Courtney & Al.

In debt on a judgment in C. B. pending a writ of error, that matter was pleaded in abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 140.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Smith v. Angel.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 23 of this work, under the head Aſſets.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Fiſh v. Horner.

An action of debt was brought on a judgment in the C. B. pending a writ of error, and the writ of error pleaded in abatement, and to maintain the plea, the caſe of Cremer v. Wickett, lately in this court was cited.

Powell, Juſtice. It has often been attempted, but never could be obtained; and ſo he ſaid it had been reſolved by all the judges on conſideration had: but he ſaid, the court would diſcountenance ſuch proceedings; and therefore would not hold the party to bail. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 62.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Ingledew v. Crips, or Grips v. Ingledew.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 152 of this work, under the head Averment.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Hart v. Langfitt or Longfield.

On an indeb. aſſump. on ſeveral promiſes, the plaintiff laid eight counts in the declaration. As to four, the defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit; and as to the other four, demurred. And the firſt exception taken to the firſt count was, that it was an indebitatus aſſumpſit, for that the defendant being indebted to the plaintiff in 20*l.* for the nurſing one Edward Langfitt an infant by the plaintiff, at the requeſt of the defendant, he aſſumed to pay; and that an action would well lie on a collateral promiſe, but not an indebitatus aſſumpſit, becauſe it will not raiſe a debt. And to prove that, Moor 701. pl. 975. was cited,, where, in an indebitatus aſſumpſit, in conſideration that the plaintiff would ſell to D. the defendant's factor, at the inſtance of the defendant, 200 hogs, to the uſe of the defendant, it was adjudged, debt did not lie on error brought. Cro. Car. 107. 193. 1 Roll. Abr. lit. F. pl. 2. Cogan v. Green. 2 Vent. 36. Rover v. Rozer. But not allowed.

Per curiam. It will raiſe a debt; for if A. comes into the ſhop of B. and ſays to him, deliver ſuch goods to C. and I will pay you; this will raiſe a debt in A. and C. is not to pay for the goods, nor is he liable to B. for it is a gift from A. to C. and a debt for them from A. to B. And the caſes cited depended on a repugnancy in the declaration, for the declaration is of a ſale to a third perſon, and he is liable; and the defendant is only a guarantee, and it is only a collateral promiſe in him. And as to the caſe in Cro. Car. 193. Sands v. Trevilian, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that the attorney had a remedy againſt the party for whom he acted, notwithſtanding he was employed by the defendant.

The exception to the three other counts was, that they were for the ſame time of nurſing, and yet he declared on ſeveral agreements, viz. one for three ſhillings a week, another for two ſhillings and ſixpence a week, another for two ſhillings, and he has not ſaid other; and it appears they were for the very ſame weeks. The court held this exception good, becauſe the one count falſified the others, and the plaintiff has contradicted himſelf. But on the firſt count judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 841. Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 148.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Wangford Legatee of Shelly v. Wangford, Debtor and Executor to Shelly.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 242 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Smith v. Ayrey.

In an action on the caſe for money won at play, the plaintiff among other counts, introduced in his declaration, an indeb. aſſump. The defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit, and the plaintiff had a verdict, and intire damages.

On a motion in arreſt of judgment, becauſe the count was not good,

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that winning money at play, did not raiſe a debt, nor was debt ever brought for money won at play, and an indebitatus aſſumpſit would lie for it, but the only ground of action in ſuch caſes, was the mutual promiſes. That though there was a promiſe, yet debt would not lie on that. That he remembered a caſe brought before Hale in the Exchequer, and the ſame caſe was brought again before him in the ſame court, and afterwards here, on an indebitatus aſſumpſit againſt the acceptor of a bill of exchange, and declared that he was indebted to the plaintiff in ſo much on the acceptance of the bill of exchange; but it was held the action would not lie; and yet there was a promiſe in that caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1034.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Sheriff of Middleſex v. Barnes.

In an action of debt on a bail-bond, the plaintiffs declared thus: A. B. and C. B. ſheriffs of Middleſex aforeſaid, complain, &c. and on a ſham plea pleaded, there was a demurrer. And now, an exception was taken to the declaration, that it ought to have been complains, and not complain, becauſe the bond is taken by them as officers, by the name of their office, and they declare by the name of office, and they both make but one officer.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that if the plaintiffs had not named themſelves ſheriffs in the declaration, yet it had been a good declaration at firſt ſight; but indeed, if the defendant had craved oyer of the bond, and of the condition, and on that it had happened, that it was a bail-bond, that might have been ill. He ſaid, that the debt veſted in them in their natural capacity, otherwiſe, on their deaths, it ought to go to their ſucceſſors, like the chamberlain of London's caſe; which it would not do, but to the ſurvivor, and on his death to his executors.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, that unleſs the defendant had craved oyer of the bond and the condition, and it had been entered on the record, they could not take notice that it was a bail-bond: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiffs. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1135.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Jayſon v. Raſh.

The ſheriff brought an action of debt for his fees in executing an elegit; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that it lies, for it is all the execution the plaintiff in the original action can have on this judgment, and he may enter on the land extended, if he can, without force. 1 Cro. 286. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 209.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a legacy is given, or a ſum of money in groſs deviſed to iſſue out of lands, I doubt not but an action of debt might be brought for that money; tho' ſuch an action never as yet has been brought; and I doubt not but it might be brought on the ſtatute of H. 8. For whenever a ſtatute gives a right, it muſt by neceſſary conſequence give a remedy: and the proper remedy in ſuch caſe is debt, which may be founded on that ſtatute.

Powell, Juſtice. If I give money to another to buy goods for me, and he neglects to buy them, for this breach of truſt I ſhall have my election to bring debt or account; and cited four or five caſes.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Contra. If the party did not take it as a debt, but to account, or to merchandize, it muſt be an account, and he ſhall have the benefit of an accomptant; which is, he may plead being robbed, which ſhall be a good plea in the laſt caſe, but not in the firſt. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 91.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Billingſworth v. Spearman, &c.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 211 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Hilary, 8 Ann. Hadley v. Styles or Stiles.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the error inſiſted on was this; an action of debt was brought, and the jury found for the plaintiff as to part, and for the defendant as to the reſt. Now it was objected, that this verdict was naught, becauſe a debt is an entire thing; and on a nil debet the jury cannot ſever; and ſhould a man bring an action of debt for 80 l. and declare for leſs, this would be a variance between the writ and the count, unleſs he ſhew how the reſt was ſatisfied.

To this the court agreed, but yet were of opinion, that if the party brought an action for the whole debt, and part of it was paid, the jury might, on a nil debet, ſever, as in caſe of rent. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 7. Salk. vol. 2. p. 664.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Anonymous.

An action of debt was brought on a bond againſt an executor, who pleaded he had fully adminiſtered. The plaintiff's council gave into court the inventory taken in the ſpiritual court, and put it on the defendant to diſcharge himſelf.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that where in the inventory it was ſet down deſperate debts, thoſe ſhall not be aſſets, unleſs the plaintiff can prove that the defendant has received them. But thoſe debts that are not ſet down deſperate, whether arrears of rent, or any other, ſhall be accounted aſſets, whether paid or not. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Stafford v. Beneath.

In an action of debt for 15 l. the plaintiff declared on two demiſes, and that on the one demiſe there was 10 l. rent behind, and on the other 12 l. To this the defendant demurred. Afterwards the plaintiff entered a remittitur for all that appeared due from the declaration, over and above the 15 l. demanded in the writ.

It was argued for the defendant, that ſuppoſing the declaration naught, the remittitur would not help it. 1 Saunds 285. Duppa v. Mayo, where it was expreſsly reſolved, that a remittitur in ſuch a caſe would ſignify nothing at all; and the reaſon given for it was, becauſe a man that had a good cauſe of demurrer, at the time of his demurring, might by this means be tricked out of it. To prove the declaration bad, this ground was laid down, that in an action of debt for rent, the plaintiff cannot abridge his own demand without ſhewing how the reſt was ſatisfied.

The court were of opinion for the defendant; and obſerved there was a difference between actions brought for a ſum certain, and actions that lay in damages: and ſaid, that on this declaration they could give judgment for no leſs than 22 l. which was more than was demanded in the writ. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 69.

Trinity, 11 Ann. Anonymous.

Per cur. Debt lies in the Marſhalſea, or in any other inferior courts, on judgments in C. B. or B. R. and on nul tiel record the iſſue ſhall be tried by certiorari and mittimus out of Chancery. The judgment being the giſt of the action, quære, how that can be alledged to be within the juriſdiction? which is neceſſary. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 209.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles v. Williams.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 194 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Holroi v. Ebizſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 334 of this work, under the head Damages.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Vaux v. Mainwaring.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. Debt is on the contract or ſale, but indebitatus aſſumpſit is an action on the promiſe, and lies only becauſe of the promiſe; if you bring an indebitatus aſſumpſit for 10 l. for a horſe ſold, if it was ſold for more or leſs, yet the plaintiff ſhall recover what it was ſold for; but if an action of debt is brought on that contract, if it come out to be more or leſs, the plaintiff cannot recover, for it is a precipe that he reſtore ſo much money in particular. This was an action of debt, whereon the plaintiff declared, that whereas the defendant bought of the plaintiff divers goods and merchandizes for ſo much money as they ſhould be worth, to be paid on requeſt, and ſaid in fact that they were worth 437 l. &c. Vide Forteſcue, p. 197.

Hilary, 2 Geo. Baldwin v. Church.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. on an action of debt for 20 l. againſt two executors. The one pleaded plene adminiſtravit i. e. that he had fully adminiſtered, as to all the aſſets in his hands, except 40 s. and concludes, therefore no action has accrued; the other pleaded plene adminiſtravit generally. The plaintiff demurred to both pleas.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court proceeded to give judgment.

Per curiam. Judgment muſt be reverſed; and the ſame judgment given here, as ſhould have been given in the C. B. the plaintiff muſt take care to take his judgment rightly.

The plea is undoubtedly ill; for it ſets forth ſuch a matter, as ſhews plainly, that the plaintiff has good cauſe of action; and yet concludes, no action has accrued, which import the plaintiff ſhould not have brought this action at all.

If a man brings an action of debt for 20 l. and the defendant ſhould plead, that he has paid 40 s. and concludes therefore no action has accrued; this would be bad, and yet the plaintiff might have brought his action for the 18 l. only; whereas in the caſe of an executor, the creditor muſt bring the action for the amount of the debt that is really due, let the aſſets be never ſo ſmall.

The reaſon why, though the aſſets be very ſmall, yet judgment muſt be for the whole debt, ſeems to be for preventing a freſh action, in caſe of more aſſets. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 323.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Coleborne v. Stockdale.

In an action of debt on a bond, &c. the defendant pleaded, that the ſaid bond was given for money won at play; the plaintiff replied, it was not given for money won at play; and on demurrer to this replication, it was inſiſted for the defendant that it was ill, becauſe the plaintiff did not ſet forth, that the money, or any part thereof, was not won at play; for by ſtat. 9 Ann. It is enacted, that all ſecurities, where the whole or any part of the conſideration is for money won at play, ſhall be void; ſo that it is not ſufficient for the plaintiff to alledge, that the money for which the bond was given, was not won at play; but he muſt likewiſe add, nor any part thereof; for if any part is for gaming money, the intire ſpecialty is avoided by the ſtatute.

On the other ſide it was argued, that where the plaintiff has any manner of right, he may alledge it to ſupport his action, and where the defendant pleads but one fact, there can be but one reply.

The court was of opinion, that the replication was too large and uncertain; therefore gave judgment for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 58.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The Chamberlain of London v. Lopes.

In an action for 25 l. brought by the Chamberlain of London, againſt the defendant, on ſtat. 6 Ann, by which an act of parliament for well garbling ſpices was repealed, by which repeal a duty ariſing by that act, and which was part of the revenue of the city of London was taken away, and an equivalent was granted to the ſaid city, by taking money to admit brokers, to exerciſe their office:

The defendant by his plea confeſſed, that he had acted as a broker in the city, and that he was not admitted thereto; but further ſet forth the act of general pardon, by which the King diſcharged all manner of offences, which he might or could in any wiſe pardon; and averred, that this was an offence which the King might pardon, &c. to which plea the plaintiff demurred, and the defendant joined in demurrer.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. This is a duty given to the city of London, for and inſtead of another duty taken from them by act of parliament, and this forfeiture is given as a proviſional ſecurity, for what they might ſuffer thereby; and therefore is not pardonable; and as a right veſts in an informer immediately on bringing his action, ſo in this caſe, in that very inſtant of time in which the offence was done, a right veſted in the Chamberlain, which intitles him to an action for the forfeiture, and which the King cannot pardon. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 103.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Shipton v. Hopton.

This was an action of debt, qui tam, &c. brought by a common informer on ſtat. 5 Ann. c. 14. for 15 l. wherein the plaintiff declared on two ſeveral counts, one for 10 l. for killing two partridges, the other for 5 l. for keeping an engine to deſtroy game, not being qualified, &c. by virtue of the ſtatute, &c. on nil debet pleaded, the plaintiff had a verdict for 5 l. only; and it was now moved, that he might enter the verdict on either of the counts, becauſe the defendant intended to move in arreſt of judgment; for though he may not be qualified by the ſtatute of this land to keep a gun, yet if he is otherwiſe qualified by law, he is not ſubject to this penalty.

Now he may be qualified by law, as being huntſman to a nobleman, who, in coming up to parliament, may kill a deer in any of the King's foreſts; and this he may do by the foreſt law, which is part of the law of the realm; and for this reaſon the plaintiff was ordered to enter his judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 238.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Williams v. Green.

Judgment was given againſt the principal, and a ſci. fac. was brought againſt the bail, and on two nihils returned, there was judgment againſt the bail; and afterward an action of debt was brought againſt one of the bail for all the money due to the plaintiff; and it was objected, that this action would not lie againſt one of the bail, becauſe the judgment againſt them was joint.

It was argued on the other ſide, that the action was brought on the recognizance of bail, which is joint and ſeveral, and conſequently good, either joint or ſeparate; and ſo is the caſe of Corniſh v. Clarke, Michaelmas, 10 Geo. and the court were of the ſame opinion in this caſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 296.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Serle or Searle v. Barrington.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 244 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Springett v. Chadwick.

On an indeb. aſſump. brought for ſeveral things due to the plaintiff, to which declaration the defendant pleaded in bar, that he gave a note of 20 l. to the plaintiff in full ſatisfaction of the debt, &c. and on demurrer to this plea, the plaintiff had judgment, becauſe a note thus given is no diſcharge of a debt or duty. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 290.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Burland v. Tyler.

An adminiſtrator brought an action of debt, in the debet and detinet, againſt the heir of the obligor, and concluded his declaration, to the damage of himſelf, the plaintiff, &c.

On demurrer to the plea, which was admitted to be ill, the defendant's council inſiſted, that the declaration was ill, to which he took two exceptions:

1ſt, For that the action is brought againſt the heir in the debet and detinet, when it ſhould be in the detinet only.

2dly, For that the declaration concluded, to the damages of himſelf, the plaintiff, when it ſhould be in delay of adminiſtration.

The plaintiff's council anſwered, the firſt exception would have been cured, if after a verdict, by ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 8. and if ſo, it will be cured by ſtat. 4 Ann. c. 16. being after a general demurrer.

Per curiam. The Oxford act cured the defect, if a verdict had paſſed, and by ſtat. 4 Ann. c. 16. judgment is to be given without reſpect to any defect in the declaration (unleſs ſhewn for cauſe of demurrer) ſo as the right of the cauſe appears.

2dly, This is only a matter of form; beſides the modern precedents are according to this declaration. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 356.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. Siſney v. Nevinſon. Error.

The plaintiff brought an action of debt on a bond againſt the defendant, as adminiſtratrix; and filed a bill in equity to diſcover aſſets; and had inſtituted a ſuit in the ſpiritual court, to oblige her to give in an inventory. After judgment for the plaintiff in the action, a writ of error was brought in this court, where the judgment was reverſed. After which the plaintiff brought a freſh action, and the defendant moved to ſtay proceedings, on the ſtatute for amendment of the law, on paying principal, intereſt, and coſts. And now on motion for the court's direction to the maſter in taxing the coſts, it was inſiſted for the plaintiff, that the defendant ought to pay the whole coſts of the firſt ſuit, the proceedings in Chancery, and the ſpiritual court: and the caſe of Merril v. Jocelyn, Trin. 13 Ann. was cited for that purpoſe.

Per curiam. We have nothing to do to order coſts for proceedings in another court, which has power to award coſts, if the party is intitled to them; and as to the judgment that is reverſed, there is no reaſon why the defendant ſhould pay for the error and miſtake of the plaintiff. We are of opinion, the proceedings in this cauſe muſt be ſtayed, on payment of the coſts of this ſuit. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 699.

Trinity, 12 Geo. Welſh v. Craig.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 235 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange, &c.

Trinity, 13 Geo. Patterſon v. Scot.

In an action of debt for rent on an indenture laid to be made at London, for the demiſe of lands in Surry, the action was laid in London; and on demurrer, it was held, that the plaintiff had his election to bring it in either, againſt the leſſee; otherwiſe it had been againſt an aſſignee, who is chargeable only on the privity of eſtate. Therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 776.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. The South Sea Company v. Duncomb.

On a trial at bar in an action for money lent, it appeared that 8000 l. was advanced to the defendant by the plaintiffs in the year 1720, on a pawn of 2000 l. ſtock. And the defendant not repaying it, the queſtion to be tried was, whether the plaintiffs could proceed againſt the perſon of the defendant, or muſt ſtand to the remedy againſt the ſtock. And after proof of many particulars, to induce a belief, that in theſe loans no regard was had to the perſonal ſecurity; the court left it to the jury on this point, that where money is generally lent on a pledge, it will not deprive the lender of his remedy againſt the perſon; and that to diſcharge the perſon of the borrower, there muſt be a ſpecial agreement to ſtand to the pledge only. Wherefore the jury found for the defendant. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 919.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Ambroſe & al. Aſſignees of the Eſtate of Ambroſe, a Bankrupt v. Clendon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 198 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Michaelmas, 30 Geo. 2. Roades v. Barnes.

This action was brought on a ſimple contract debt; the defendant pleaded an account ſtated; the queſtion before the court was only on the validity of the plea.

After a long argument by the defendant's council in ſupport of the plea, the court (without hearing the plaintiff's council) held the plea bad in ſubſtance as had been determined in this court in the caſe of Atherly v. Evans. A promiſory note cannot be pleaded in bar to an action on a ſimple contract, though a bond may, becauſe it extinguiſhes the debt. One bond cannot be pleaded to an action brought on another bond; therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 9.

Trinity, 32 & 33 Geo. 2. Collins, Senior, v. Collins, Junior.

On an action of debt on bond brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant for an annuity of 10 l. per annum; and alſo for maintenance in the dwelling-houſe at Crandall End. The defendant, by leave of the court, as to the annuity, pleaded a plea of ſett off, viz. that only 60 l. was due to the plaintiff on account of the ſaid annuity, and that the plaintiff owed him more than 60 l. viz. 500 l.

As to the maintenance, the defendant pleaded that the plaintiff left the houſe voluntarily, and did not lodge and board in the houſe, ſo that the defendant was not obliged to board, waſh, and lodge him; but the defendant averred he was always ready to maintain him, &c. at, and in the houſe, &c.

To theſe pleas the plaintiff demurred, and the defendant joined in demurrer; and after hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. We are all clearly of opinion, that this caſe is within ſtat. Geo. 2. cap. 24. where mutual debts may be ſet off juſt as much as actual payment of the money might have been before.

Since the making of ſtat. 2 Geo. 2. c. 22. and 8 Geo. 2. c. 24. ſtoppage or ſetting off of mutual debts is become equivalent to actual payment: and a balance ſhall be ſtruck, as in equity and juſtice it ought to be.

As it has not been before ſettled, "that a ſett off "may be pleaded in ſuch a caſe as this, where the "condition is for the payment of an annuity or growing ſum," it would be hard to bind the plaintiff down ſtrictly to his demurrer.

Per curiam. Let the plaintiff withdraw his demurrer, on payment of coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 820.

Declaration.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Smith v. Bromley.

A leaſe was made for a year, and the rent payable quarterly, and it was not ſaid to be at the moſt uſual feaſts or days of payment; and avowry was made for rent due at the feaſt of St. Michael, whereas it ought to have been on the 23d of September, according to calculation.

Eyres, Juſtice. If he had declared for rent in arrear at Michaelmas, it would have been well, but here it is for rent due at Michaelmas, therefore not good. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 5.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Temple v. Killingworth.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a declaration is part well, and part ill, it ſhall be good for that which is well declared on: but if a writ of inquiry is executed for the whole, or if intire damages are given, it is a good cauſe to ſtay judgment. 1 Vent. 27. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 5.

Michaelmas, W. & M. The College of Phyſicians v. Baſſet.

In an action for practiſing phyſic without licence; the declaration laid it to be at Weſtminſter, in the county of Middleſex, but not that it was within ſeven miles of London,

London, and therefore bad. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 10.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Anonymous.

In an action of treſpaſs, the declaration was without vi et armis: on a general demurrer, this omiſſion is fatal, for it is ſubſtance, and alters the entry of the judgment, which ought to be with a capiatur when the action is vi et armis, otherwiſe with a miſericordia. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 24.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Haſtrop v. Haſtings.

In an action on the caſe for board and wages, the defendant pleaded in abatement, and prayed judgment of the bill and that the ſame might be quaſhed, for uncertainty in the declaration, on demurrer the defendant's council inſiſted on many faults in the declaration.

Per curiam. The defendant ſhall not take advantage of miſtakes in the declaration on a plea in abatement; but if he would do that, he muſt demur to the declaration, wherefore a reſpondeas ouſter was awarded. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 212.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Camphill v. St. John.

In an action of trover for a box and two hundred ounces of plate, &c.

The defendant demurred to the declaration, the plaintiff demurred to the demurrer of the defendant, and the defendant joined in demurrer. Exception was taken to the declaration, that it was uncertain, becauſe it had not ſpecified what ſort of plate, &c. ſo that the defendant cannot defend himſelf if the plaintiff ſhould bring another action againſt him for the ſame plate, by pleading the recovery in this action. But not allowed; for trover for two hundred weight of medicines, has been adjudged good; and here is as much certainty as there. Another exception was taken to the plaintiff's demurring to the demurrer of the defendant, when he ought to have joined in demurrer, ſo that here is a diſcontinuance, for which was cited Yelv. 137, 138. 1 Brownl. 103. Alexander v. Lamb.

Eyre, Juſtice, ſaid, that he doubted whether the caſe of Alexander v. Lamb was law as to the point of diſcontinuance; but all the court were of opinion, that there was a diſcontinuance here in the principal caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 20.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Bennet v. Talbot or Talboys.

In treſpaſs for entering his cloſe, and treading down his graſs and corn, and hunting there, the defendant being an inferior tradeſman, viz. a clothier, againſt the peace of our Lord the King, and againſt the form of the ſtatute in that caſe made and provided; after a verdict for the plaintiff, it was objected in arreſt of judgment, that againſt the form of the ſtatute, goes to the whole declaration, whereas ſeveral of the treſpaſſes contained are not contrary to any ſtatute; for ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. only gives increaſed coſts.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If an act of parliament increaſes a penalty, or deprives a man of a benefit he had before at common law, in ſuch caſe, if one declares on the ſtatute, and does not bring himſelf within the ſtatute, and concludes againſt the form of the ſtatute aforeſaid, it is naught: this was Penhallow's caſe, 3 Cro. 231. But if there be no act of parliament at all, and the plaintiff concludes againſt the form of the ſtatute aforeſaid, it is only ſurpluſage. This was Ward's caſe, 1. Vent. 103. Here an act gives an increaſe of coſts, and in that only reſtores the common law, which was taken away by ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. The queſtion is now, how the plaintiff ſhall declare in this caſe? In this count ſeveral treſpaſſes are alledged, the laſt whereof only is within the ſtatute, and the concluſion of the count is againſt the form of the ſtatute, which, though in grammatical conſtruction it goes to the whole count, yet in law it only goes to the hunting, and therefore why may we not apply it only to the latter part, and reject it as to the reſt for ſurpluſage, as was done in an indictment in Harwood's caſe. Al. 43. Accordingly the court held, that againſt the form of the ſtatute ſhould only be applied to the latter part, which was really againſt the ſtatute, and that, ſeeing the hunting and breaking could not be ſeparated, the plaintiff ſhould have his coſts according to the new ſtatute: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 213. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 122.

Eaſter, 8 W 3. Thwaites v. Lady Aſhfield.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 320 of this work, under the head covenant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 212. Ibid. vol. 12. p. 93.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Bedam v. Clerkſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 97 of this work, under the head Arbitration and Award.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Weſt v. Troles.

The plaintiff declared, that whereas the defendant on the 6th day of May 1695, for 120 weeks diet then paſt, had promiſed to pay him 7 s. per week, and that the plaintiff afterwards, to wit, on the 5th day of May 1695, having found the defendant diet for 120 weeks then paſt, the defendant promiſed to the worth, and that it was worth 7 s. per week: on non aſſumpſit pleaded, and a verdict for the plaintiff, it was now moved in arreſt of judgment, that the weeks in the quantum meruit are not ſaid to be other than thoſe laid in the ſpecial promiſe, ſo that the defendant is twice charged for the ſame thing. But not allowed; for they do not appear neceſſarily to be the ſame, and without neceſſity the court will not intend them ſo. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 213.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Wingfield v. Jefferys.

An information was exhibited in the court of Exchequer againſt Wingfield, for ſelling live cattle, or cauſing them to be ſold, &c. Judgment being given for the plaintiff in the Exchequer, and a writ of error being brought here, it was aſſigned for error, that the information was uncertain, becauſe in the disjunctive.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, inclined, that it was ill for that reaſon. But on certificate by the barons, that the courſe was ſo in the Exchequer, and ſince the jury had found the defendant guilty of one; the judgment was affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 284.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Cromwell or Crumwell v. Grumſdale or Grunſdale.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 241 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Nevil v. Soper.

On an action of covenant brought againſt an apprentice, the plaintiff aſſigned for breach, that the apprentice before the time of his apprenticeſhip expired, and during the time which he ſerved, departed from his maſter's ſervice: the defendant demurred, and had judgment, becauſe the declaration was repugnant, for it ſhould have been during the time which he ought to have ſerved. The caſe of Lawly v. Arnold. Hilary, 8 W. 3. in this court, was not unlike this: that was treſpaſs for taking and carrying away his timber and brick lying on his land towards the building of an houſe built anew. And the court held this to be nonſenſe, for they could not be materials towards the building of a houſe already built. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 213.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Barnes v. Geering.

Barnes, an attorney of this court, brought an action of debt againſt the defendant, but did not deliver a declaration againſt the defendant till after the ſecond term; but ſome time after, and before the defendant had ſigned a non-pros, he delivered him a declaration, which the defendant refuſed to receive, and then ſigned his non-pros. And the plaintiff ſigned judgment for want of a plea, which was now ſet aſide as irregular; for the courſe of the court is, that if the declaration is not delivered by the laſt day of the ſecond term, that is, on or before it, the court ſitting the laſt day, the defendant may ſign a non-pros, though he may after receive a declaration, if he will, yet he is not compellable ſo to do; but he may well refuſe it; by an expreſs clauſe in ſtat. H. 8. there ſhall be no coſts againſt an attorney on a nonſuit. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 217.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Coxeter v. Parſon.

Per curiam. If a declaration is delivered the day before the laſt day of term, the defendant has two days in the next term to put in an anſwer; for he ought to have four days in the term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 231.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action on the caſe for ſtopping a water-courſe; on not guilty pleaded, a verdict was found for the plaintiff.

It was moved in arreſt of judgment, that it was for ſtopping and obſtructing generally, without ſhewing how, as by a bank, &c. But it was over-ruled; and Gould, Juſtice, ſaid, that 3 Leon 13. ſtopping generally was held good, but that it would be ill on demurrer.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that he had known it held both ways. And the plaintiff had his judgment by the three judges. Holt, Chief Juſtice, not contradicting it. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 452.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Farrow v. Chevalier.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 247 of this work, under the head Breach.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. Dr. Groenvelt v. The College of Phyſicians.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that in an action on the caſe againſt a phyſician, it is ſufficient to ſay, that he adminiſtered phyſic unſkilfully, &c. without ſhewing the particular defect in his ſkill. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 454.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Hartfort v. Jones.

In an action of trover, the plaintiff declared for ſundry cloaths and grocery goods loſt by him, and found by the defendant. The defendant permitted judgment to go againſt him by default, a writ of inquiry was executed, and intire damages were given for the plaintiff. And it was moved in arreſt of judgment on the uncertainty of the declaration in the ſeveral particulars there mentioned; but the chief objection to the declaration was, the ſeventy-two ounces of cloves, mace, and nutmegs, as it did not ſhew the quantity of each.

The plaintiff's council, to maintain the action, cited 2 Vent. 67. Bliſſe v. Froſt, 78. Chamberlain v. Cook, in trover for turks and garnets, ſuch declaration after verdict was held good. 1 Sid. 263. Pledall v. The Hundred of Thiſtleworth, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, the laſt term when this was moved, that the caſes cited by the plaintiff's council were after verdict, and if there was a verdict in the preſent caſe, the judgment would be accordingly, for then they would intend that they were mixed; but this caſe is after judgment by default. There is a great difference, where the thing, for which the action is brought, is one intire aggregate body, though conſiſting perhaps of many different parts; there it will be good, which is the reaſon of the caſes before cited. And for the ſaid reaſon, Trin. 23 Car. 2. in this court, Boroughs v. Hall, trover for a ſhip, with its tackle, was held good; whereas if the action was brought for the guns and rigging ſeverally, they ought to ſhew what, and how much. And ſo it was held in the caſe of Pollexfen v. Criſpe. The true reaſon why certainty is ſo much required is, becauſe a recovery in this action may be pleaded in bar, if another action ſhould be brought for the ſame cauſe. This had been ill in detinue, without ſhewing that they were mixed. But why is not this declaration as certain as a declaration in ejectment for twenty acres of land, thirty of meadow, &c. in the towns of A. B. and C. without ſhewing how much lies in each town: and afterwards this term, on motion, judgment was given for the plaintiff, the court eſteeming theſe to be things mixed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 588.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Snow v. Firebrace.

The plaintiff declared, that the defendant, in conſideration that the plaintiff had found him ſufficient meat and drink, &c. aſſumed to pay him as much as he ſhould deſerve, and avers that he deſerved ſo much, &c. On non aſſumpſit pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff. And a motion was made in arreſt of judgment, that this declaration was intirely uncertain, having neither certainty of time nor of things.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he did not know why the uncertainty of time was worſe than the uncertainty of things, which have been oftentimes adjudged good. And it is enough to aver quantum meruit, i. e. as much as he has deſerved. Vide Raym. vol 1. p. 611.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Hart v. Langfitt or Longfield.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 344 of this work, under the head Debt.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Cutting v. Wilkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 327 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Lent Aſſizes, 1 Ann. Jones v. Hammond.

In an action on the caſe brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant for ſtopping a way, the plaintiff declared, that he was poſſeſſed of the cloſe of A. and that the defendant was poſſeſſed of the cloſe of B. and that the plaintiff had, and ought to have, a way over the cloſe of B. On not guilty pleaded, on the evidence at the trial at Maidſtone, it was objected, that the plaintiff ought to be nonſuited; becauſe it appeared by the plaintiff's declaration, that the defendant was poſſeſſed of the cloſe of B. and for that reaſon ſuch a general declaration, of had and ought to have, is not good, but the plaintiff ought to ſhew his title to the way; for ſuch a general declaration is only good againſt a wrong doer; but in this caſe, if the plaintiff recovered, it might be, that the court at Weſtminſter would hold that this defect was aided by the verdict, becauſe they would intend that the plaintiff ſhewed his title to the way in evidence.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that the defendant had good reaſon to have demurred; but he had authority only to try the iſſue, and the plaintiff need not prove more than was contained in the declaration; and for that reaſon he over-ruled the council's objection, and the plaintiff recovered a verdict. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 751.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Ingledew v. Crips or Grips, v. Ingledew.

See this caſe full ſtated in page 152 of this work, under the head Averment.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Marsfield or Blainfield v. Marſh.

In an action of trover brought by an adminiſtrator, the plaintiff declared on a poſſeſſion in the inteſtate, and of a loſs by him in his life-time, (among other things particularly mentioned in the declaration) of twelve caſks of ſpirits, and fifty galons of cordial water, &c. and then he lays the converſion to be in his own time, &c. On not guilty pleaded, the defendant's council offered to give in evidence, that there was an executor alive; and argued, that this deſtroyed the property in the plaintiff; and in trover he cannot recover; but perhaps it might have been otherwiſe in treſpaſs, becauſe the bare poſſeſſion had been enough. But not allowed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The defendant ſhould have pleaded it in abatement; and it cannot be given in evidence on not guilty pleaded, becauſe here the property is laid in the inteſtate. But if the plaintiff had declared on a property in himſelf, and it had appeared on the evidence, that he claimed the goods but as adminiſtrator to J. S. &c. there the evidence of an executor, &c. had been a bar to the plaintiff, becauſe it would have defeated his property, on which his action is founded. Therefore a verdict was given for the plaintiff, with intire damages,

On which the defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, that the words caſks of ſpirits, with a daſh, and galon, were ſo uncertain, that the court could not underſtand what the plaintiff meant by them; and therefore the damages being intire, they were given for them as well as for the other things; and therefore judgment ought to be arreſted. But after mature conſideration,

Holt, C. J. held, the words caſks of ſpirits, were certain enough, without ſhewing what ſort of ſpirits they were, ſince they were contained in caſks. And he compared it to the caſe of trover for a library of books, without ſpecifying the particulars, where it was held good; and that the words de ſpirit. with a daſh, muſt be underſtood de ſpiritibus, i. e. of ſpirits. 2dly. The court held, that the word galon, was very proper; therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 824.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Martin v. Henrickſon.

In an action on the caſe for ſo negligently managing his ſhip, that it ran over the plaintiff's barge, the plaintiff declared, that he was poſſeſſed of a barge laden with divers goods and merchandizes generally, &c. and the pilot was produced to give evidence for defendant.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that he was no witneſs, becauſe he was anſwerable to the maſter of the ſhip in an action for the damages he ſuffered by his ill management, and conſequently for the damages which ſhould be recovered in this action againſt the defendant, the ſteering the ſhip being his province, and his management therein, the cauſe of damage to the barge. 2dly, He held, the plaintiff could recover no damages for the goods, becauſe the declaration was too general; but the particular goods ought to have been mentioned, as in an action on the caſe for burning a houſe of goods. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1007.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Thorneton v. Bernard.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking two packs of flax, and two packs of hemp, after a verdict it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this was uncertain, not ſetting out the weight or quantity of a pack or bundle.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is well enough; you may plead the recovery in this action in bar to any other action brought for the ſame thing; and if the plaintiff ſhould declare on the taking ſo much hemp by weight, you may aver, that theſe packs or bundles contained that weight. In an action of detinue, you may declare for a box of writings, without ſetting forth any writing in particular, but if you ſet forth a particular writing which concerns land, as a charter of feoffment, then indeed the defendant ſhall not be allowed to wage his law.

Per curiam. Let the plaintiff take his judgment. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 991.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Anonymous.

If a declaration is delivered of Hilary term, and rules for pleading given, if the defendant does not plead before the eſſoign day of Eaſter term, the plaintiff may ſign judgment for want of a plea; but if the plaintiff in that caſe has not given rules in Hilary term, he muſt give them in Eaſter term, before he can ſign judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 22.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Wiat qui tam v. Ayland.

It was a declaration of Michaelmas term generally which at firſt ſight is to be intended to be of the firſt day of the term, and the fact was laid to be on the 15th day of November after, ſo the action was brought, of their own ſhewing, before the cauſe of action aroſe.

Per curiam. If on examination it appears, that the declaration was after the 15th, it ſhall be ſet right, as if the bail was filed after the 15th, or the bill of Middleſex taken out; and ſo it was referred to the maſter to examine. They all agreed that it could not be amended by any ſtatute of jeofail; but if bail was filed after the 15th of November, that would be a good warrant for a memorandum of the day that the declaration was of, for none is in cuſtody of the Marſhall, &c. till bail is filed.

Note, At laſt all parties agreed to waive execution, and go to trial again. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 33.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Green, Executor of —— v. Crane.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 31 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Wangford, Legatee of Shelly v. Wangford, Debtor and Executor to Shelly.

Powell, J. A perſonal action once ſuſpended, is for ever gone. But it is plain the right of action is in the executor before probate, and therefore he may releaſe: nay he may bring an action, though he cannot go on with it till he has obtained the probate, under ſeal, to produce in court, and muſt declare with a profert, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 38.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Dove v. Smith.

Per curiam. If an attorney is well known, and may be found, it is not ſufficient to leave a declaration for him in the office, but it ought to be delivered to him; otherwiſe it ſuffices to leave it in the office. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 153.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Stanyon v. Davis.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 153 of this work, under the head Averment.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Arnote v. Breame.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 103 of this work, under the had Arbitration and Award.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Tilſden v. Palfriman.

Per curiam. If a perſon be in the cuſtody of the Marſhal, the way to charge him in execution is thus: if it be in term time you muſt file a bill againſt him, and deliver a declaration to the turnkey; upon this he ſhall lie two terms before he be diſcharged, even on common bail: but if it be in vacation, the plaintiff muſt go the Marſhal's book in the office, and make an entry that he may remain in cuſtody at ſuit of J. S. But then he muſt be in actual cuſtody, and not at liberty; becauſe then he may be arreſted. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 214.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Mayor of Wincheſter v. Wilks.

In an action on the caſe for exerciſing the trade of a woollen-draper, not being free of the guild of merchants, nor having ſerved ſeven Years as an apprentice, contrary to the cuſtom, &c.

The defendant's council took two exceptions to the plaintiff's declaration, viz.

1ſt. As to the ſetting out of the cuſtom, that it was too generally laid, to ſay, or whereby he was other- wiſe in a legal manner authoriſed according to the uſage of the ſaid city, without ſhewing how that was.

2dly, That the guild of merchants ought to have brought this action.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the defendant on the exceptions taken to the declaration. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1129.

Eaſter 4 Ann. Anonymous.

The court was moved to amend a declaration, which was carried down to Wincheſter to be tried, but ſomething neceſſary being omitted in it, was not tried; it not being a record, but only a paper, it was prayed that it might be amended on payment of coſts; which was granted niſi, &c. Abſent Holt, Chief Juſtice. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 45.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Knight v. Barker.

An action of trover was brought for 400 ends of deal boards: on not guilty being pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff: And it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that it was uncertain what an end of a board meant; it ſhould ſhew how many feet or inches there were. And after ſeveral motions, judgment was given for the plaintiff, becauſe ends of boards ſeem to be a term of art, and are ſufficiently known among workmen. Stile 75. 1 Keb. 34. Walcot v. Tappin. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1219.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. Although a cauſe has proceeded no farther than in paper, yet if the time is out for entering it up on the record, this court will not give leave, on motion, to amend the declaration, on paying coſts. Let them declare de novo. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 92.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Bulkley v. Camden.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 328 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Trinity, 7 Willet v. Boſcomb.

An action of covenant being brought by an heir for rent againſt the aſſignee, the plaintiff did not ſet forth in his declaration, that his father was ſeized of any eſtate when he made the demiſe, only generally that he demiſed, &c.

The defendant pleaded no arrears due: and a motion was made in arreſt of judgment, that the declaration was ill, for not ſhewing a title in his father.

Per curiam. We fear it is a fatal fault. The matter was however adjourned.

In Michaelmas term following this cauſe came on again; and Holt, C. J. then ſaid, ſurely this declaration is naught: the plea ſays the rent was not in arrear, but the declaration and the verdict ſay, it was; and ſo the queſtion is, whether this is not helped by the verdict.

Powell, Juſtice. If you intitle yourſelf to the reverſion, you muſt ſhew that you are heir; but in an avowry perhaps you need not, becauſe in that caſe if you had no title he is a treſpaſſer.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a leſſor brought debt, that perhaps might have been well, becauſe the action there had been on the demiſe, and on the privity of the contract; but where the action is brought on the title, there the title muſt be ſhewn. And here the jury have found a title where no title appears; it will be hard to help this caſe by the verdict. And it was again adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 179.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Withers v. Baker.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, declared, that by the courſe of the court, a man may amend his declaration the ſecond term; but that when the declaration is amended, new rules for pleading muſt be given; for the plaintiff perhaps muſt thereby be put to a new defence. The plaintiff the ſecond term may amend, but not change the venue, though iſſue is not joined, nor in any caſe afterwards. For in tranſitory actions the plaintiff has his election to lay his action where he pleaſes; therefore he ſhall not change it; though the defendant may, on cauſe ſhewn. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 198.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Joddrell v. Heathcot.

In an action of debt for rent, the plaintiff declared, for that whereas by a certain indenture made, &c. it is mentioned, that the plaintiff did demiſe, &c. to the defendant, &c. the defendant pleaded an ill plea, to which the plaintiff demurred, and afterwards pleaded over.

The defendant's council took an exception to the declaration, that it is mentioned, was ill in this caſe.

The plaintiff's council cited 2 Lev. 74. where teſtatum exiſtit, was held well in debt; alſo he ſaid, that though it was ill on a ſpecial demurrer, yet it was helped by their pleading over.

Powell, Juſtice, held the declaration ill; for the demiſe muſt be laid ſo certain, that it may be traverſed. He ſaid it had been held well in covenant, becauſe the precedents are ſo; and as to the caſe in Lev. debt on a charter-party, that is the ſame as covenant, and a declaration in treſpaſs by a for that whereas, has always been held ill.

The plaintiff's council ſeeing the opinion of the court was againſt them, prayed leave to diſcontinue; which was granted on payment of coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 258.

Hilary, 9 Ann. Goodwin v. Godwin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 6 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Hilary, 11 Ann. Parker v. Langley.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 38 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 12 Ann. Johnſon v. Altham. Error.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, delivered the reſolution of the court to be, that the judgment of the C. B. ſhould be affirmed.

Petit judicium de billa i. e. prays judgment of the bill, is the form of pleading in abatement.

Petit judicium de narratione i. e. prays judgment of the declaration, is the form of pleading in bar.

Demanding judgment of the declaration, is underſtood to be demanding judgment of the caſe in the declaration.

The demanding judgment of the bill, is as much as to ſay, ſince the declaration is your caſe, which it is always ſuppoſed to be, you have brought a wrong bill.

In this caſe there being no bill on the file, and the declaration being the firſt ſtep in the cauſe (which undoubtedly is erroneous, for every cauſe muſt begin by writ or bill) neither of theſe two forms of pleading were proper: not petit judicium de billa, for there was none; not judicium de narratione, for it was not the caſe in the declaration, but the want of a bill that was the error. The defendant therefore in the original action ſhould have concluded his plea thus, petit judicium ſi reſpondere compelli debeat, i. e. prays judgment whether he ought to be compelled to anſwer. See this caſe in p. 7 of this work, under the head Abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 211.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Jackſon v. Laveright. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action on the caſe for incloſing ſo many acres of land, parcel communiæ paſturiæ, &c. i. e. common of paſture, &c.

It was urged, that the word communia did ſignify, not the place, but the right of commoning; and a right being a thing of an incorporeal nature, was no more capable of being incloſed than a rent, Bracton, lib. 4. c. 4. and this definition of the word is given in Fleta, lib. 4. c. 19.

Eyre, Juſtice. It is very hard, that after a verdict this word ſhould not receive that ſenſe, which it will do in common parlance, nay, in acts of parliament, and in very good authors; as in Du Freſne's Gloſſary.

Powys, Junior, Juſtice, was of the ſame opinion; and ſaid, if the word was not capable of receiving this ſenſe, he did not ſee why it might not, after a verdict, be eſteemed a miſtake of the clerk, inſtead of communis.

He likewiſe thought it might be rejected as ſurpluſage; for though the legal import of the word terra, when ſtanding alone, is arable land, yet the word terra, in conjunction with other words, will ſignify all ſorts of land; as, here acras terræ, i. e. acres of land, is conjoined with the following words, parcel. paſturæ terræ, vocat. i. e. parcel of paſture lands, called, &c. and thus no abſurdity, as all follows the word communia. Adjourned. But afterwards judgment was given for the defendant in error. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 184.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Walker qui tam v. Laughton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 65 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Seſtern v. Cibber.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 185 of this work, under the head Bail-bond.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Johnſon v. Gardiner. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. it was inſiſted that the declaration was naught, becauſe the action was brought againſt the defendant as executor, on a promiſe made by the executor after the death of the teſtator, that whereas the teſtator was indebted to the plaintiff in March for goods ſold and delivered, which he promiſed to pay on the 23d day of November.

It was argued that this promiſe of the executor, founded plainly on the conſideration of forbearance, made it the contract of the executor, and therefore the action ſhould have been brought againſt him in his own name.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The naming him executor is ſurpluſage, becauſe it appears on the face of the record, that the demand was a demand againſt him on his own account.

In effect, the forbearance is the conſideration of this promiſe, becauſe without forbearance no advantage can be taken of this promiſe. Yard v. Ellard, 10 W. 3.

And to this opinion the reſt of the court inclined. But adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 254.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Cole v. Hawkins.

On an aſſumpſit, the plaintiff declared on a promiſe made the 16th day of January 1706. The defendant pleaded in bar the ſtatute of limitations.

The plaintiff replied, that the bill was exhibited on the 23d day of January 1713, and that the cauſe of action accrued within ſix years. To this the defendant demurred.

It was inſiſted for the defendant, that this replication was a departure from his declaration. For though in tranſitory actions, time and place are not material; and the jury may, notwithſtanding the promiſe at a different time and place, find for the plaintiff; yet the plaintiff ſhall not be at liberty himſelf to vary from, or falſify his own record. 5 H. 7. 28. 3 Lev. 348. 2 Cro. 364. Book of Aſſizes, 22. pl. 86. Cro. Car. 228. Tyler v. Wall. Raym. 86.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. Time is material, if laid ſubſequent to the declaration; time is material, if the defendant anſwers to the time; time is material on the ſtatute of limitations.

As the matter ſtands on the pleading, the plaintiff in his replication ſhews, that his bill was exhibited ſeven years after the cauſe of action.

Now, this being a general demurrer, it ſtands by virtue of the ſtatute for the amendment of the law, as if there had been a verdict; ſo that it muſt be conſidered, whether this is a matter of form, or of ſubſtance.

Powys, Senior, Juſtice. Time here is material on the ſtatute of limitations, not probably to lay it in the declaration ſo many years ago, unleſs the fact was ſo; moſt commonly people lay their cauſe of action at a later time than it really was.

Powys, Jun. J. In tranſitory actions, time and place muſt be laid for form's ſake, as to the defendant and jury; for the jury are not bound by it, and the defendant cannot traverſe it without a ſpecial juſtification. The plaintiff, indeed, in his replication, has verified the plea of the defendant. He has now fixed both the boundaries; in his declaration he has ſhewn the time of the cauſe of his action; in his replication, the time that the bill was exhibited. And yet, if inſtead of a demurrer, iſſue had been joined, the jury might have found for the plaintiff, if in fact his cauſe of action was within ſix years. It is to be conſidered therefore, on the ſtatute for the amendment of the law, whether this not being a ſpecial demurrer, the fault in the pleading is not now cured.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. This may be conſidered likewiſe: that notwithſtanding that ſtatute, it does not follow, that judgment on this general demurrer be given for the plaintiff, becauſe on a verdict for the plaintiff it would have been ſo; and for this reaſon, becauſe on a verdict for the plaintiff, a new fact is laid before the court, viz. that the cauſe of action did ariſe within ſix years. Adjourned.

In Hilary term, 3 Geo. this matter came before the court again, when Parker, Chief Juſtice, delivered the reſolution of the court as follows:

Judgment muſt be given for the plaintiff, for this being the caſe of a parol promiſe, the day in the declaration is not material; and therefore the plaintiff in his replication has only departed from an immaterial part of his declaration, which would be cured by a verdict, and is now aided on a general demurrer, by the ſtatute for amendment of the law.

Were it more than matter of form, a verdict finding the promiſe at another day could never cure it, as moſt certainly it would.

And for this purpoſe he cited the caſe of Lee v. Rayne, 1 Lev. 110. reported likewiſe in 1 Keble, 566, 578. where this doctrine is laid down, that for the plaintiff in his replication, to vary from the time or place in his declaration, in order to follow the defendant's plea, is not a departure.

And unleſs what ſtrictly ſpeaking is a departure, is ſometimes allowed; unleſs the plaintiff, where the defendant by his juſtification makes the time or place material, may follow the defendant's plea, though it leads him to another time and place; all that doctrine, that in tranſitory actions, where time and place are not material, the plaintiff may declare at any time and place, muſt fall to the ground: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 251, 348.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Parker v. Crook.

This was an action of covenant, on a deed indented. It was objected to the declaration, that the defendant is ſaid in the declaration to continue at Fort St. George in the Eaſt Indies. And on oyer of the deed, it bore date at Fort St. George; and therefore the court, as was pretended, had no juriſdiction. Latch. 4. Lutw. 959.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. An action will lie in England on a deed dated in foreign parts, or elſe the party can have no remedy; but then, in the declaration a place in England muſt be alledged for form's ſake. Generally ſpeaking, the deed, on the oyer of it, muſt be conſiſtent with the declaration; but in theſe caſes, from neceſſity, if the inconſiſtency is as little as poſſible, it is not to be regarded; but here the contract being of a voyage to be performed from Fort St. George to Great Britain, does import that Fort St. George is different from Great Britain.

Afterwards, in Hilary term, the plaintiff had his judgment notwithſtanding this objection. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 255.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. Child v. Pierce. Error.

This was an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes, brought by the plaintiffs as aſſignees under a commiſſion of bankruptcy againſt J. S. The plaintiff had judgment by default; and a writ of inquiry was executed.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe this judgment, it was inſiſted that the declaration of the plaintiff was naught. For they declare that the defendant was indebted to them as aſſignees under a commiſſion of bankruptcy againſt J. S. in the ſum of 320*l.* for ſo much money had and received by the defendant from the bankrupt; and not ſaid the money was the money of the bankrupt.

It was acknowledged, that in pleas of bar, which may be ſupported by common intendment, this way of pleading might poſſibly be admitted, and the money be intended the money of the bankrupt; but not in a declaration, where the words ſhall ever be taken in the ſtrongeſt ſenſe againſt him that pleads them.

Formerly, in actions of debt, the whole agreement uſed to be ſet forth, but of late, a more conciſe way of pleading has been practiſed in actions on the caſe. And yet even now, to declare on an indebitatus aſſumpſit for goods ſold and delivered would be naught on demurrer. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 331.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. Banneaux v. Plaſtead.

A declaration was delivered generally as of the laſt term; and in that declaration it appeared, that the cauſe of action did not ariſe before the middle of that term. On a verdict for the plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the declaration being as of the laſt term generally muſt have relation to the firſt day of the term; and conſequently the declaration will in point of law be antecedent to the cauſe of action.

It was urged by the plaintiff's council, that by entering a ſpecial memorandum on the record, viz. ſuch a day of the term, which would not contradict, but explain the record, this motion would fall to the ground; and that this might be done without moving the court.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, and Pratt, Juſtice, were of opinion, that the plaintiff might enter this memorandum of courſe, and without leave, and the rather, becauſe here was no deceit, as to the defendant; for he very well knew he was not arreſted, nor bail put in, till the middle of the term; and conſequently, that this declaration could not be as of the firſt day of the term.

Eyre, Juſtice, was of opinion, that the ſpecial memorandum ought to be entered, but that the proper way was by motion.

On which, to end the diſpute, the court was moved for leave, which was accordingly granted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 340.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. Rudge v. Onon.

In an action of battery, there was two counts, the firſt was good, the ſecond was with a cumque etiam, and intire damages were given, for which the judgment was arreſted. Vide Forteſcue, p. 376.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Windham v. Palgrave.

In an action on the ſtatute againſt removing goods on an execution till a year's rent is paid, the declaration ſtated, that by a ſtatute made in a parliament held the 8th day of July, 8 Ann, it was enacted, &c. whereas the parliament began the 8th day of July, 7 Ann, but was continued by prorogations beyond the 8th of Ann: it was agreed, if it went no farther it would be naught, as is 2 Cro. 111. but concluding contrary to the form of the ſtatute in that caſe made and provided, it is well enough, and not tied up by the words according to the form of the ſtatute aforeſaid; for aforeſaid would tie it up. Vide Forteſcue p. 372.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Atkinſon, Executrix, &c. v. Coatſworth. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given at the aſſizes at Durham, in an action of covenant; the caſe was, S. by indenture of leaſe, demiſed to Atkinſon the teſtator, for a certain term of years, rendering rent, and performing other things therein mentioned; and afterwards Atkinſon made an under-leaſe of the premiſes to the defendant, who therein covenanted with the ſaid Atkinſon to perform and keep all the covenants in the original leaſe, to be kept and performed by the ſaid Atkinſon, his executors, &c. or aſſigns.

Afterwards Atkinſon having made his wife (the now plaintiff) executrix, died. It was aſſigned for error, that the plaintiff in her declaration had not ſet forth, that Atkinſon, her teſtator, did execute the original leaſe on his part. And the defendant's council argued, that if it was not ſigned and ſealed by him, then it was not his deed; it is true, it being executed by S. it had all the eſſential qualities of a deed, but it does not follow from thence that it was the deed of the teſtator, and by conſequence the defendant ſhall not be bound by a covenant relative to ſuch deed.

It was argued for the plaintiff, that by her declaration ſhe had ſet forth, that by an indenture made between the parties aforeſaid, Atkinſon did covenant, &c. Now, theſe words imply that the indenture was executed by him on his part; and therefore ſhe need not ſet forth all the circumſtances of ſigning, ſealing, and delivering, becauſe her alledging that it was made between the parties aforeſaid implies all the reſt.

Per curiam. The ſubſtance of the objection is, that the plaintiff has not ſet forth in her declaration, that the original indenture was ſigned and ſealed by Atkinſon on his part, or that it was his deed; for if it was not, then the defendant is not bound to perform the covenants therein contained; but the plaintiff has alledged, that it was an indenture made between the parties aforeſaid, which implies that both S. the original leſſor, and Atkinſon likewiſe, ſigned the deed, and ſo it became the deed of both parties, for where an indenture is made between two parties, that muſt be implied, and the other circumſtances of ſealing and delivering it as his deed, need not be ſet forth: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 33.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. Lawrence v. Jacob. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the caſe was, the plaintiff, who was executor of a ſecond indorſee of a promiſory note, brought an action againſt the indorſor for default of payment by the indorſor, and after demurrer to the declaration, judgment for the plaintiff in the C. B. and a writ of error brought in this court; the error aſſigned was, that the plaintiff in his declaration did not ſet forth that the drawer had notice of the indorſement, nor alledge any demand or default in the drawer. But not allowed; it being the conſtant form, and matter of evidence; and the judgment was affirmed on the authority of the caſe, and on the reaſon of the thing; for the defendant by his demurrer admits, that in conſideration of the premiſes, viz. the defendant's making the indorſable note, and the indorſing it to the plaintiff, the defendant aſſumed to pay the money according to the tenor of the note. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 43.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Tucker v. Goldburne.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 186 of this work, under the head Bail-Bond.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Wilkinſon v. Meyer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 324 of this work, under the head Covenant.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. Colvin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 136 of this work, under the head Attachment,

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Burges v. Bracher.

By articles made between the plaintiff and the defendant for a horſe match, it was agreed, that the plaintiff ſhould ride without whip or ſtick, or other weapons, except boots and ſpurs; and in an action of covenant brought on theſe articles, the plaintiff ſet forth in his declaration, that he mounted the horſe without whip and ſtick, or other weapons, and did ride in form aforeſaid; on the general iſſue, the plaintiff had a verdict; and now it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this declaration was not purſuant to the articles of agreement, for that he was to ride without whip or ſtick, or other weapons, in the diſjunctive; and the declaration is without whip and ſtick, &c. in the conjunctive.

Per curiam. If the terms of the agreement had not been proved at the trial, the plaintiff could not have had a verdict; ſo it muſt be intended, that the agreement was ſufficiently proved; and there are ſeveral caſes wherein it has been adjudged, that where words may be taken in a double ſenſe, the court, after a verdict, will always conſtrue them in that ſenſe which may ſupport the verdict; now here the jury found, that the plaintiff did ride without whip and ſtick, or other weapons, in which the diſjunctive or in the latter part of the ſentence, qualifies the conjunctive and, and diſjoins that copulative; ſo that it ſhall be taken in the diſjunctive ſenſe; wherefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 239.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Webſter v. Gearing.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 168 of this work' under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. King and Wife v. Baſingham.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 214 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Phillibrown v. Ryland.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 40 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Kent v. Kerry. Error.

In an action of dower in C. B. wherein the plaintiff declared for her dower in three meſſuages, and three tenements, &c. the tenant confeſſed the action, on which judgment was given to recover her dower and damages: a writ of error was brought in this court, and the following errors aſſigned.

1ſt, That the word tenement was of ſuch an uncertain ſignification in law, that the ſheriff could not deliver poſſeſſion of it; and that by the concurrent authorities in the books, an ejectment will not lie for a tenement, for the reaſon before mentioned, neither can a fine be levied of it.

2dly, The plaintiff did not ſet forth, that her huſband died ſeized, for which reaſon no damages can be recovered by the ſtatute; and yet the ſheriff has executed a writ of inquiry of damages, and by virtue of the writ of habere facias ſeiſinam has delivered to the plaintiff ſeiſin of ſuch an houſe, &c. or ſo much thereof as is worth 10*l. per annum*, which is void for the uncertainty.

Per curiam. Here is a demand made of a ſpecific thing, which is to be recovered and aſſigned by the ſheriff; the confeſſion cannot aid the uncertainty. The word tenement is uncertain; the declaration cannot be maintained. The judgment therefore muſt be reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 355.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Burland v. Tyler.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under head Debt.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Wyvil v. Stapleton. Shelburne v. Eundem.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 16 of this work, under the head Accord.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. William Maddox and R. Godfrey v. Taylor & al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 336 of this work, under the head Damages.

Trinity 11 Geo. Beach v. Hobbs.

In this caſe it was ruled by the court, that to leave a declaration in the office before the eſſoign day of the term, is a compleat delivery thereof, if notice is given to the attorney on the other ſide in writing, and he refuſes to pay for the copy; but all attornies ought to deliver a copy of the declaration to the defendant's attornies, where they are known, and willing to pay for it; but if not known or refuſing to pay for it, then it muſt be filed in the office before the eſſoign day of the term, and the attorney for the defendant muſt have notice of it before the eſſoign day, otherwiſe he ſhall have an imparlance of courſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 379.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Henly v. Roſſe.

The defendant was arreſted, and no declaration being filed againſt him within two terms after the arreſt, he procured a ſuperſedeas, and was diſcharged, and immediately afterwards he was arreſted again by a capias out of the C. B. at the ſuit of the ſame plaintiff, and for the ſame cauſe of action; and on a motion to diſcharge theſe proceedings, becauſe irregular,

The court was of another opinion, for that the defendant had a right to ſuperſede the action, becauſe no declaration was filed againſt him in time, and as he had a right to ſuperſede the action, certainly the plaintiff muſt have liberty to proceed in another; for his debt is not loſt for want of declaring in time, but only that action is gone; and therefore a new action may be brought. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 306.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Dobbs v. Edmunds.

In an action of treſpaſs the plaintiff declared, for that whereas the defendant on ſuch a day broke and entered his houſe, &c. and alſo for that whereas, the defendant afterwards on ſuch a day, with force and arms, entered his ſhop, &c. On not guilty pleaded, a verdict was found for the plaintiff, but damages were given ſeverally, viz. 1 d. on the firſt fact, and 40 s. for the ſecond fact.

It was now moved in arreſt of judgment, that taking the damages ſeverally, would not help the fault in the declaration; for the, that whereas, went through the whole declaration, and ſo no fact was poſitively alleged, which is ill in treſpaſs, and has been often ſo adjudged. 1 Rol. Rep. 55.

Per curiam. The word alſo cannot bring the ſecond fact into the that whereas, but ſhould be took to be a poſitive averment, as if the word complains had been repeated again, viz. and alſo complains of him that, &c. which certainly had been good; and therefore the plaintiff had his judgment for the damages found for the ſecond fact; and the court declared, they would be bound by what had been already often determined; but they would be very cautious of extending this exception after a verdict, further than it had been carried before. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1413.

Trinity, 12 Geo. Luke v. Helmer.

In an action of treſpaſs why he broke down, &c. 100 wears or fences of him the ſaid plaintiff; the defendant juſtified the treſpaſs in the words of the declaration, by means of a highway; on which iſſue was joined, and a verdict given for the plaintiff; and it was objected in arreſt of judgment, that the declaration was in the diſjunctive, therefore uncertain.

But the court held that the plea, taking notice what a wear and a fence was, and that they were the ſame, had made the declaration good; and relied on a caſe in Lutw. 1492, the declaration was treſpaſs for taking four fowls, generally, and the defendant juſtified as here, and it was held that the plea made the declaration good; art or myſtery, the ſame thing; Dr. Bonham's caſe, if only a circumſtance. Vide Forteſcue, p. 377.

Michaelmas,

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Wiat or Wyat v. Eſſington.

In an action of treſpaſs for breaking the plaintiff's houſe, and taking away divers goods and chattels of the plaintiff there found, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and intire damages aſſeſſed; and on motion the judgment was arreſted for the uncertainty in the declaration, in not ſpecifying what the goods were, ſo that this recovery could not be pleaded in bar of another action brought for the ſame goods. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1410. Forteſcue, p. 377.

Hilary, 13 Geo. Radley v. Rudge.

On a motion in arreſt of judgment, it was held well enough in trover to declare for a piece of tepee, without ſaying how many yards it contained. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 738.

Hilary, 13 Geo. Bendover v. Sindercombe.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in ejectment in C. B. after a verdict, and intire damages given, the plaintiff in error by his council, offered ſeveral exceptions to the declaration for the uncertain deſcription of the premiſes therein ſet forth.

After hearing council on both ſides on this writ of error,

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that the premiſes for which the plaintiff goes, in his declaration in ejectment ſhould be ſo certainly ſtated, that the ſheriff may know how, and in what manner, to give poſſeſſion on a judgment of the ſame premiſes. But in this cauſe, the exceptions taken to the declaration were over-ruled on the authority of ſeveral caſes in point. And therefore the court affirmed the judgment of the C. B. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1470.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Spark v. Jobber.

On an indeb. aſſump. for 100 l. for divers goods, merchandizes and things by the plaintiff, at the requeſt of the defendant, ſold to the defendant, &c. and a quantum meruit laid in the ſame manner, the defendant demurred to the declaration, and the plaintiff joined in demurrer. The cauſe coming on in the paper the 9th of November, no council appeared for the defendant; whereon the council for the plaintiff prayed judgment, alledging it was only a demurrer for delay. But the court objected, that the word things was a very uncertain word, for it might be for rent, or money due on a bond, &c. for which an indeb. aſſump. would not lie. But the council for the plaintiff informing the court, that the defendant declared he would not defend it, judgment was given for the plaintiff.

Note, This was only an interlocutory judgment on the demurrer. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1450.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. White v. Graham. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in trover, for a parcel of diamonds, the plaintiff in error's council would have diſtinguiſhed this from the caſe of Bottomley v. Harriſon, which was trover for a parcel of packcloths, wrappers, and cords, becauſe that was taken as a bundle of ſeveral things not eaſy to be ſeparated, whereas each diamond was diſtinct: and it ought to have been brought for ſo many diamonds. But the court thought there was no difference, and affirmed the judgment, which afterwards on error in parliament, was likewiſe affirmed, the council declining to argue it. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 827.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Matthews v. Spicer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 341 of this work, under the head Day, Date, &c.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Bottomley v. Harriſon. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment by default in the C. B. in an action of trover for ſeveral parcels of goods, it was objected, that the damages were intire; and as to one parcel of the goods, it was too general, the words being one parcel of packcloths, wrappers, and cords.

The council on the other ſide argued, that of late years more general expreſſions had been allowed; and cited the caſe of Hartfort v. Jones, 12 W. 3. trover, for ſeventy-two ounces of cloves, mace, and nutmegs, and adjudged to be ſufficient, though the particular quantities of each were not ſpecified.

Per curiam. We are not ſo ſtrict as formerly: a ſtack of hay, a library of books, which was an integer, have been held well; this may be taken to be a bundle, and the plaintiff has particularized all the ſeveral ſorts of goods of which it conſiſted. In 2 Sid. 175. there is a caſe cited of two packs of linen-cloth, and other goods, and held certain enough; which is more general than this caſe: and the caſe cited of the ſeveral ſorts of ſpices goes as far as this: and therefore, tho' all the caſes are not to be reconciled, yet ſince there are caſes which will make this good, we are of opinion to hold it well, and affirm the judgment.

In Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. Haſlegrave v. Thompſon, in trover, for fifty pieces of ſquare timber, was held well on error, and the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 809. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1529.

Trinity, 2 & 3 Geo. 2. Lyne v. Moody. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action of treſpaſs, where the plaintiff declared, that the defendant, with force and arms, entered and broke his houſe, and that the defendant, in the plaintiff's ſaid houſe, viz. at D. with force and arms, and illicitly, took an exceſſive diſtreſs, viz. to the value of 100 l. for a rent of 30 s. to the damage, &c. The plaintiff had judgment by default, and damages on the inquiry ſeverally; and he releaſed the damages found on the ſecond count, &c.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. The entry to make the diſtreſs is certainly lawful, and the tort commences by the exceſſiveneſs of the diſtreſs; if this action ſhould lie, it would make the party a treſpaſſer from the beginning, which he cannot be in this caſe, which differs from the abuſe of an authority given by law, as in the caſe of the ſix carpenters: the taking of the exceſſive diſtreſs cannot be intended to have been laid in aggravation of damages; but the action was originally intended and brought for that only; if this ſhould be taken as an aggravation of damages, a manifeſt inconvenience would follow, for the jury may conſider it in treſpaſs; and yet I think judgment in treſpaſs could be no bar to an action on the caſe afterwards brought by the party for this tort for it would not appear by the judgment, that it was conſidered in the damages by the jury: in the preſent caſe, part of the act is lawful.

Page and Reynolds, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice; but Probyn, Juſtice, doubting, the matter was adjourned: however, in Michaelmas term following, the judgment was reverſed. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 85.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. 2. Rogers v. Gibbs.

In an action of aſſault and battery there was a quod cum in the declaration.

Per curiam. This is helped by the writ, which runs, wherefore he did the treſpaſs, which is affirmative.

Forteſcue, Juſtice. The ſtile of the writ, which is rather interrogatory, cannot help the ſtile of the count, which ought to be poſitive and affirmative. 2 Bulſt. 214. Vide Forteſcue, p. 376.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. Vice v. Burton. Error.

In an action of treſpaſs for meſne profits, the declaration was for an entry into meſſuages or tenements, and on error brought it was objected to for the uncertainty; and a caſe cited, where it had been held ill in ejectment. To which it was anſwered, and reſolved by the court, that there was a very eſſential difference; becauſe in ejectment it will be uncertain of what the ſheriff is to deliver the poſſeſſion: ſo the defendant in error made an exception to the writ of error, which was quaſhed, being returnable before judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 891.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. Heſſellgrave or Haſtegrave v. Thomſon. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. where the plaintiff declared in treſpaſs, quare clauſum fregit at D. and goods and chattels, viz. fifty peices materiæ quadratæ, anglice, ſquare timber, there found, took, and carried away, &c. the plaintiff had judgment by default, and a writ of inquiry was executed: the error inſiſted on was, that materia quadrata was no proper Latin word for timber; and then damages being aſſeſſed for that timber, as well as for the treſpaſs intirely, the judgment is erroneous.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. Where there is a proper Latin word it muſt be made uſe of, for the party is not at liberty to coin: and the whole court ſeemed to think that the conſequence muſt be to reverſe the judgment: but the caſe coming another day before the court, the Chief Juſtice ſaid, it was good claſſical Latin for ſquare timber, and ſo uſed in Pliny, and in Cæſar's Commentaries.

Another exception was taken to the declaration, becauſe the nature of the timber ſhould have been ſet out, that the defendant might know how to make his defence at the trial, 2 Vent. 262. and that it was within the reaſon of Playter's caſe.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, the principal caſe differed from that in 2 Vent. becauſe the number was there expreſſed; for there the declaration was, divers pieces, which is quite contrary; and that ſeveral caſes ſince Playter's have gone contrary to it: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 161.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. Horton v. Kilmore.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 44 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. 2. Bern and Wife v. Mattaire.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 216 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Wilkins v. Perry and Salter, Sheriffs of London.

On an action of debt for an eſcape, the court was moved for the defendant, that the plaintiff might be obliged to ſtrike out one of the counts in the declaration; for that they were exactly the ſame: there were two counts: one laid that at the time of the delivery of a declaration, the perſon who eſcaped was a priſoner in the cuſtody of the ſheriffs; and the other laid it, that the ſheriffs had arreſted H. the perſon who eſcaped by his body. The inconvenience to the defendants was, that they muſt prove in this caſe two re-captions, on freſh purſuit.

The court would not oblige the plaintiff to ſtrike out one of the connts, but diſcharged the rule.

Lee, Juſtice. I do not apprehend the court ever ſtrikes out counts, unleſs they appear to be put in for vexation.

Lord Hardwicke. As you have obtained time to plead on this declaration, without applying to the court to have it ſtruck out, or referred to the maſter, which is the uſual way, I think the rule muſt be diſcharged; and though I cannot ſee what evidence can be produced to prove one of the counts, which will not equally prove the other, yet it may be pretty hard to reſtrain the plaintiff from laying his caſe in his own way, when it does not appear that he intends to be vexatious. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 129.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Stacey v. Sutton. The ſame v.——

The plaintiff recovered ſome lands in ejectment, and brought ſeveral actions againſt the ſeveral defendants, who were occupiers of ſmall parcels thereof, and were ſome little ſums in arrear; he brought ſeveral actions of treſpaſs for the meſne profits; the council for the defendants moved that theſe actions might be conſolidated.

But the court refuſed to do it, and ſaid they could not oblige the plaintiff to join them. But if ſeveral actions of treſpaſs are brought for one and the ſame cauſe againſt the ſame defendant, the court will order the plaintiff to join all his actions in one, if it may be done conveniently. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 137.

Hilary, 9 Geo. 2. Wallis v. Smith.

Per curiam. Where common bail is filed by the plaintiff's attorney, according to act of parliament, that is not ſuch a general bringing the defendant into court, as to warrant delivering a declaration by the bye; and to prevent miſtakes, it would be proper to add to the bail-piece, that it was filed by the plaintiff purſuant to act of parliament. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1027. Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 207.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Morgan v. Luckup.

On an application to ſet aſide the proceedings for irregularity, no notice being ſubſcribed to the copy of the proceſs ſerved,

It was ſhewn for cauſe, that the defendant's attorney, viz. one who had been generally concerned for him, had taken the declaration out of the office, and paid for it, and the plaintiff had received the money, which it was argued, was a waiver of the irregularity, as in the caſe of Burken v. Carter, Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. where the irregularity complained of was, that the defendant was in London charged with a bill of Middleſex, and on ſhewing that the defendant had taken a declaration out of the office, and paid for it, the irregularity was held to be diſcharged.

Lord Hardwicke. I do not remember the caſe cited, but it ſeems very reaſonable, for it is like what the court does when no common bail has been filed for the defendant, they will make the action good notwithſtanding, if the defendant has taken a declaration from the office, and paid for it; and therefore I think the plaintiff now is not irregular.

Probyn, Juſtice. The defendant has notice by ſervice of the proceſs, and ſhould have complained then of the irregularity; but now this is a waiver of the miſtake made in ſerving the proceſs.

Per curiam. The rule muſt be diſcharged. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 242.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Franklyn v. Reeve. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in an action of treſpaſs, where after recital of the writ, the plaintiff declared for taking and carrying away ſeveral loads of dung and ſoil, without ſaying of him the ſaid plaintiff; this was objected, and held that it was ſuch a defect of title in the count, as could not be aided by the verdict which aids not a a defective title, but only a title defectively ſet forth.

But though the count was held ill, yet the court thought it might be good by the recital of the writ, which had ſhewn them to be the dung and ſoil of the plaintiff, and was to be taken as part of the declaration, according to the caſes in Cro. Jac. 536. 1 Sid. 150. 187. 1 Keb. 699. 727. Lutw. 1509. 1 Mod. 219. And though it was agreed there was no original (which otherwiſe they would have ſent for up by certiorari) yet as the want of that was aided by the verdict, the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1023.

Hilary, 16 Geo. 2. Mynot v. Bridge & al.

In this caſe two declarations were delivered at the ſuit of the ſame plaintiff againſt the ſame defendants, one of them for a right of a way from one part of a cloſe to one part of a town, and the other was for another way from the cloſe to another part of the town: and the court refuſed to conſolidate them, becauſe the plaintiff may be ready as to one, and not as to the other: and in the caſe of Smith v. Crabb, about two years ſince the court refuſed to conſolidate ſeveral declarations in ejectment for the ſame reaſon. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1178.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The Maſter, &c. of the Vintner's Company v. Paſſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 300 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Whiſkard Aſſignee, &c. v. Wildon.

On a demurrer brought to a declaration on a bail-bond, the defendant's council took the following, exception to the declaration, viz. That the declaration ought to have particularly ſet forth, "That the debt "was ſworn to be by the plaintiff, and that the ſum "ſworn to be due, and for which the defendant was "holden to bail, was marked on the writ," for he alledged, that without ſhewing that, here was no ſufficient authority to arreſt the defendant; and conſequently the bail-bond is not good, ſince ſtat. 12 Geo. cap. 29. but void, nor is it ſhewn, "that the debt was "to the amount of 10 l. nor is the ſum due ſworn to, "or the writ marked," all which are eſſentially requiſite by ſtat. 12. Geo. cap. 29. ſect. 1 & 2.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. This has not been thought neceſſary to be ſet forth till this time, ever ſince the making of ſtat. 12 Geo. nor does it, on reading the act, appear to be an eſſential requiſite to the validity of the bail-bond, nor in the nature of a condition precedent to it: but on the contrary, the ſtat. 12 Geo. appears to be only directory to the ſheriff; ſo that though the ſheriff may be himſelf anſwerable for ſuch an omiſſion, yet the bond is not void.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large on this queſtion, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 331.

Michaelmas, 30 Geo. 2. Shadwell, Eſq; v. Angel, Eſq;

A queſtion came before the court on the conſtruction of the following rule, viz. That on a proceſs returnable the firſt or ſecond return of a term, a plaintiff may (in certain caſes) deliver a declaration de bene eſſe, at the return of the proceſs, with notice "for the defendant to plead within eight days after delivery of the declaration," And if the defendant ſhall not file common bail, and plead within eight days after, &c. the plaintiff (having firſt filed common bail for ſuch defendant, according to the then late act for preventing frivolous and vexations arreſts) may ſign judgment for want of a plea, a rule to plead being firſt duly entered.

The caſe was, the proceſs brought by the plaintiff was made returnable on Saturday the 15th of November, (the ſecond return). The declaration with notice, "to plead in eight days," was filed in the office, on Monday the 24th of November. And on the defendant's not pleading within eight days, nor even before the time of ſigning the judgment: the plaintiff on the 3d of January, (ſix weeks afterwards) filed common bail for the defendant, and (a rule to plead having been duly entered) ſigned judgment on the ſame day.

The maſter informed the court, that he thought the plaintiff's ſigning the judgment was irregular, for that when the defendant was once in court, the plaintiff ought to proceed againſt him as being in court.

After hearing the council on both ſides on this queſtion, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield obſerved, that no further notice (beſides that given on delivering the declaration de bene eſſe) was neceſſary.

Deniſon, Juſtice. The defendant has eight days after the delivery of the declaration de bene eſſe, when ever it may be delivered, (either ſooner or later.)

Foſter, Juſtice. The whole objection in this caſe is, the plaintiff has not proceeded with ſo much ſpeed as he might have done, he might have ſigned his judgment on the 25th of November, the defendant might have filed common bail himſelf, if he thought proper, and then he might have had a freſh rule to plead.

Per curiam. Let the rule of reference to the maſter for irregularity in this cauſe be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 56.

Trinity, 30 & 31 Geo. 2. Harris v. Huntbach.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 49 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 32 Geo. 2. Heylyn and Others v. Adamſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 239 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange, &c.

Hilary, 33 Geo. 2. Croaſdale v. Gardiner.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 337 of this work, under the head Damages.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Sarah Nichleſon v. Stephen Croft.

The queſtion before the court on the maſter's report in this cauſe was, Whether there were, or were not, more counts inſerted in the declaration, than were neceſſary.

It was a declaration on a policy of inſurance conſiſting of ſeven counts.

1ſt, For a total loſs on a policy ſubſcribed by the plaintiff himſelf.

2dly, For an average loſs.

3dly, For 6 l. per cent. to be returned.

The 4th, 5th and 6th counts were exactly the ſame as the 1ſt, 2d and 3d, with this difference, that theſe three laſt counts, alledged the policy to have been ſubſcribed by one M. F. S. the defendant's agent.

The 7th count was for money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe.

The maſter thought that four counts were ſufficient, viz. either the three firſt, with the laſt, or elſe the 4th, 5th and 6th, together with the laſt.

Lord Mansfield. On a declaration for a total loſs, you may recover an average loſs. It is unneceſſary to declare double with reſpect to the ſigning of the policy, one alone of theſe two methods of declaring, is ſufficient.

The court at laſt made a rule for ſtriking out the three firſt counts, but without coſts, as this manner of declaring was allowed to be uſual. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1188.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 3. Bonfield qui tam v. Milner.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 74 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Sulſton v. Norton.

On an action on ſtat. 2 Geo. 2. cap. 24. for the more effectual preventing bribery, &c.

The declaration contained five counts; viz.

1ſt, That the defendant corrupted one M. to vote for Lord V. and Sir R. B. by giving him 5 l. 5 s.

2dly, A corrupt agreement to give M. 5 l. 5 s.

3dly, A corrupt agreement to lend him 5 l. 5 s. on a promiſory note.

4thly, A corrupt agreement to deliver the note to M. on voting.

5thly, For giving the note and counter-note, therein ſtated. A verdict was found for the plaintiff, and entered on the firſt count.

On a motion to ſet aſide the verdict, two objections were made, viz.

1ſt, That the man did not in fact vote for the perſons he promiſed to vote for, but on the contrary voted for their opponents, and therefore the defendant as he did not by any corrupt agreement procure

M. to vote for them, cannot be ſaid to have corrupted him ſo to do.

2dly, That the verdict ought not to have been taken on the firſt count, which was for giving him the money.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. The firſt objection is in the nature of a motion for a new trial, on account of a miſ-direction by the judge.

2dly, As to the verdicts being taken on a wrong count, the evidence does ſupport the firſt count, for this is a gift; the note and all the reſt is mere evaſion, colour, diſguiſe, and device, in order to evade the law: but if it were not ſo, the verdict was given generally for the plaintiff; if by miſtake it had been entered on a count not proved, inſtead of the count which was proved, that is no reaſon for a new trial, the court ought rather to rectify the miſtake, by ordering the verdict to be entered on the right count according to the evidence.

Wilmot, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the rule be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1235.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Morris v. Pugh and Harwood.

On a motion for a new trial in an action of trover, brought for a mare, no actual converſion was proved, the evidence of converſion was a demand and refuſal on the 2d of May.

The defendant's council objected at the trial, that this demand and refuſal appeared to be ſubſequent to the bringing the action, for it appeared on the niſi prius roll, that the bill was filed of Eaſter term, and conſequently as there was no ſpecial memorandum, it muſt refer to the firſt day of term, which was in the begining of April (long before the time of the demand and refuſal on the 2d of May) and there was no other evidence to ſupport the declaration.

Lord Mansfield, reſerved the point for the opinion of the court, and if the court ſhould be of opinion, that it was admiſſible, then the verdict (which was found for the plaintiff) was to ſtand, otherwiſe the plaintiff was to be nonſuited.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion,

Lord Mansfield. A refuſal on demand is not an actual converſion, but evidence of it, if the refuſal on the 2d of May, had been after the action brought, I ought to have left it to the jury as evidence of a converſion before the bringing of the action. If there be no ſpecial memorandum, the bill by fiction of law, relates to the firſt day of the tetm, but fictions of law hold only in reſpect of the ends and purpoſes, for which they were invented.

The bill is not the commencement of the ſuit the writ is, and being after the time to which the bill refers, ſhews there ſhould have been a ſpecial memorandum.

I am clearly of opinion, that the writ was rightly admitted to be given in evidence, and therefore the rule ought to be diſcharged.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the rule to ſhew cauſe why the verdict ſhould not be ſet aſide, and a new trial had, be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1241.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 3. The Mayor of Yarmouth v. Eaton.

On an action on the caſe for toll, to which the defendant demurred, and the plaintiff joined in demurrer, the ſingle queſtion on the demurrer was:

Whether it was incumbent on the plaintiff in this action to ſet forth in his declaration a conſideration for the toll which he demands?

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. This is a very plain caſe indeed, the plaintiffs ſet out, that they have a right by preſcription to the port duties.

The queſtion is, whether they are obliged to ſet out a conſideration.

The making the port is itſelf a conſideration: it is a ſelf evident convenience to the merchant: it ſpeaks for itſelf, it may never require repair; therefore I do not know it is neceſſary to ſhew repair.

This alone would be ſufficient if the reaſon of the thing was not ſo ſtrong as it is.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiffs. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1462.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 3. Grant v. Vaughan.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 240 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange, &c.

Deed.

Hilary, 2 W. & M. Symonds v. Cudmore.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 13 of this work, under the head Acceptance.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The Counteſs of Winchelſea v. Lady Maidſtone.

In an action of trover for goods, tried at the bar by a jury of Kent; on the trial the caſe was as follows:

The Earl of Winchelſea, in the month of Auguſt 1689, made his will, and thereby deviſed to the plaintiff all his perſonal eſtate to pay his debts, &c.

The will was proved. But immediately on the death of the Earl, and before he was buried, the defendant, who was married to the eldeſt ſon of the ſaid Earl, took poſſeſſion of the houſe and goods in the declaration mentioned.

The plaintiff produced the will under the probate, and then ſhe proved that the goods were appraiſed at 1800*l.* She produced an inventory of them, and proved they were the ſame contained in the declaration; ſhe likewiſe gave evidence of the converſion.

The defendant produced a deed of gift of theſe goods made by the Earl in the year 1650, the habendum, to truſtees therein named, for the uſe of his then Lady, (but ſince dead) for the term of her natural life, and afterwards that they ſhould be, and remain to his children.

The plaintiff's council admitted, that though the ſame goods for which this action was brought were likewiſe contained in the deed of gift, yet that deed could not be good againſt a verdict.

That the Earl being in debt, a judgment was obtained againſt him; and by a teſtatum fieri facias, his goods were taken in execution, and ſold by the ſheriff in Hilary term 1657, for 800*l.* which was after this deed of gift.

It was proved that his ſteward paid the money, and redeemed the goods, and the Earl gave him a bond for repayment, which was paid, and the bond cancelled, ſo that by this means he gained a new property.

A copy of the teſtatum fieri facias was produced, and likewiſe the bill of ſale by the ſheriff, and the bond cancelled; and thereon the plaintiff had a verdict. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 51.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. or Trinity 4 W. & M. Thomas v. Howell.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 270 of this work, under the head Condition.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Smith v. Milford.

On a ſpecial verdict in ejectment, the caſe was as follows, viz.

J. D. being ſeized in fee of the lands in queſtion, did by indenture, bearing date the 5th day of June, 17 Car. 1. and made between him of the one part, and J. C. of the other part, in conſideration of a marriage then intended to be had between G. his ſecond ſon, with M. P. and in conſideration of a portion of 200 l. &c. and for the ſettling of his lands on the truſts therein declared, DID covenant with the ſaid truſtees to levy a fine of his ſaid eſtate before Michaelmas term then next following, to the uſe of himſelf and E. his wife, and to the ſurvivor of them for life, then to G. his ſon for life, then to M. his ſon's intended wife for life, and afterwards to the heirs of the body of the ſaid G. to be begotten on the body of the ſaid M. remainder to his own right heirs.

There was no fine levied, but three years after the ſealing of this deed. J. D. made his will, in which (among other things) was this clauſe, viz.

Item, I do ratify and make good all thoſe my eſtates made or granted in marriage to G. my ſon, according to the writing made by me in truſt, &c.

The jury found that there was no writing made by him in truſt to any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, other than the deed of the 5th day of June, which they found to be the very deed of J. D.

They likewiſe found that the ſaid J. D. had iſſue, J. his eldeſt ſon and heir, who entered, and died, leaving iſſue M. his only daughter and heir.

They alſo found that G. his ſecond ſon, and M. died, leaving iſſue a ſon, who was leſſor of the plaintiff, &c.

The queſtion was, whether the will ſupplied the defect in the deed, which, without a fine, would not operate to create an eſtate-tail in G. the ſecond ſon. In wills, if the intention is certain, for tho' not fully expreſſed in words, it is well enough: it was argued, that it did, and that the plaintiff had an eſtate-tail. And accordingly judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 131.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Nurſe v. Frampton.

The plaintiff brought an action of debt againſt the defendant for a certain ſum of 25 l. due to the plaintiff by agreement, on a deed between the plaintiff and defendant. On oyer of the deed it appeared to be thus: viz. It is agreed, that a grey nag bought of J. S. by Mr. F. ſhall run twenty-five miles in two hours time, for, &c. In witneſs whereof we have ſet our hands and ſeals, &c. omitting the names of the perſons between whom this deed was made, but the plaintiff and defendant had ſigned the deed. And on demurrer, the court were of opinion, that inaſmuch as the plaintiff and defendant had ſigned this, although it was not mentioned in the body of the deed, by whom or to whom it was made; yet it will warrant the declarations reciting, that it was made by the plaintiff and defendant: and therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 28. Salk. vol. 1. p. 214.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. When a deed is pleaded with a profert in this court, the very deed itſelf, is by intendment of law immediately in poſſeſſion of the court, and therefore when oyer is craved, it is of the court, and not of the party. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 119.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Pullien v. Benſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 338 of this work, under the head Date, Day, and Delivery.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Feltham v. Cudworth.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 269 of this work, under the head Compoſition.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 339 of this work, under the head Day, Date, and Delivery.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Clarkſon v. Buſſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 269 of this work, under the head Compoſition.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief juſtice. The date of a deed is either expreſs or implied; the expreſs date is the very day and year in which the deed was made, and this is always intended when in pleading it is ſaid, bearing date; the other is the implied date, which is the delivery. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 120.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Fitch v. Wells.

On a trial in ejectment, the plaintiff made his title under ſeveral deeds, and the jury found againſt them, and on motion the court ordered them to be kept in the officers hands, in order for a proſecution for forgery; but on application to the Court of Chancery, from whence the iſſue was directed, a new trial being granted, the plaintiff moved to have the deeds out of court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that they muſt be delivered out as this caſe was, becauſe the deeds were not in iſſue directly on the pleadings in the cauſe; otherwiſe if the iſſue had been, not his deed; and he remembered the caſe of Sir John Hughley, who was ſued as executor to J. S. on a bond of 10,000 l. ſet up by an old woman that looked after J. S. an old miſer, as his nurſe; and on it was not his deed pleaded, it was found on a trial at bar not to be the deed of J. S. And on the authority of Wymark's caſe in 5 Co. it was made a queſtion, whether the bond ſhould not be cancelled? And it was held it ſhould not be cancelled, becauſe the judgment might be reverſed by a writ of error, but that the bond ſhould be kept in court. Vide Salk. vol. 1. page 215.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Vivian v. Champion.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 248 of this work, under the head Breach.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Luttin v. Benin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 243 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Benns v. Parre.

The court was moved for a prohibition on a ſuit depending in the Admiralty for ſeamens wages, on a ſuggeſtion that the contract was made by deed at land: but on reading the ſuggeſtion, it appeared to be general, that the contract was made at land. The court directed him to amend his ſuggeſtion, and inſert that it was by deed. And he amended it, and made it by writing. But the court held, that that was not ſufficient, for it might be by writing, and yet not by deed; and if it were ſo, that would not alter the caſe, for notwithſtanding the writing, it was but a parol contract. But it was urged by the council, that it was a ſpecial agreement, yet the court held that did not draw it from the Admiralty's juriſdiction: therefore the motion was denied. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1206.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Hill v. Ayland.

An action was brought on a ſpecial agreement contained in a note, and a rule was made to ſhew cauſe why the plaintiff ſhould not give the defendant a copy; but on ſhewing cauſe, the rule was diſcharged, becauſe the contract on which the action was founded was a parol contract, of which the note was only evidence; and therefore the defendant ought not to have a copy. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 215.

Hilary, 8 Ann. Sir Edward Seymour's Caſe.

On a trial in ejectment between Sir Ed. Seymour and his mother-in-law, the court allowed the contents of a deed to be given in evidence, by witneſſes; nay by witneſſes who put down the contents of the deed in writing from memory, four or five days after reading the deed. The court ſeemed of opinion, that in caſe a deed was loſt by ſome inevitable accident, that there it might be proved by a copy. But in caſe there was no copy, the contents of it could not be proved from the memory of thoſe who knew the deed; and though it was hard for a man that had no copy to loſe the benefit of his deed, yet the inconveniencies of admitting that ſort of evidence would be greater.

But here the opinion of the court was founded on a particular reaſon, for the deed by which the plaintiff was to prove his title, was not loſt, but proved to be in the hands of the defendant; ſo that in this caſe, the danger of allowing this ſort of evidence was none at all; for if the defendant was wronged by the parol evidence, it was in her power to ſet all right by producing the deed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 8.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Taylor v. ———

It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that a perſon who has not ſet his hand to the witneſſing a leaſe may be a witneſs to it, if thoſe that ſigned it do not appear. For in the caſe of a leaſe for years, it is ſufficient if the leſſor only ſigns in the witneſſes preſence. And ſo it ſeems in other grants of chattels. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. 262.

Trinity, 10 Ann. Thomlinſon v. Dighton. Error.

A tenant in fee of the lands in queſtion deviſed the lands to his wife for life, then to diſpoſe of them according to her pleaſure, provided it was to ſome one of the teſtator's children. The huſband, the deviſor, died, and left behind him a ſon and daughter; the wife married again; then the wife by leaſe and releaſe, and alſo by fine, levied covenants to ſtand ſeized, to the uſe of herſelf for life, without impeachment of waſte, remainder to her daughter by her firſt huſband in tail.

The queſtion was, whether this conveyance of the lands was a good execution of the power, ſo that they ſhould go to the daughter; or elſe, being bad, to the heir at law, viz. the ſon.

The court of C. B. gave judgment for the daughter. And on a writ of error being brought on this judgment: this court, after hearing council on both ſides, gave their opinion as follows:

Powell, Juſtice. The main queſtion of the caſe is, whether the power is well executed? A feoffment to a man's own ſon ſhall operate as a covenant to ſtand ſeized, rather than the intention of the parties ſhould be fruſtrated. Sir Edward Cleer's caſe is expreſs, that where it can paſs no other way than by virtue of the power, it ſhall paſs that way, though the intention of the parties were, that it ſhould paſs another. And as for her own eſtate being limitted without impeachment of waſte, as to the impeachment of waſte, it ſhall be void, becauſe it exceeds the power: the intention of the parties is plain. And therefore he was of opinion for the defendant.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. In Sir Edward Cleer's caſe it was reſoved, that where, according to the way the parties intended, the conveyance would have no effect at all, that there it ſhould paſs another way; but where, ſhould the eſtate paſs the way the parties intended, the conveyance would have ſome effect, though not all that was intended by the parties, there it ſhould paſs no other way than the parties deſigned. But this point ſince has been carried much farther, as that, where it would have ſome effect, but not all that was intended by the parties; that there, to the end that the main deſign of the parties may be obſerved, the eſtate ſhall paſs in another way than the parties intended. For example, ſuppoſe a woman ſeiſed of an eſtate for life, with a power to make a leaſe for three lives, or twenty-one years, ſhe marries, and then ſhe and her huſband join in making the leaſe, and huſband and wife die before the leaſe is expired; here, tho' the huſband in right of his wife, and ſhe in her own right, are poſſeſſed of an eſtate for life, and therefore can as owner make a leaſe, and there appears no intention of the parties (imagining perhaps that they ſhould have outlived the leaſe) that this leaſe ſhould be made by virtue of the power; yet becauſe the leaſe, ſuppoſing it made by them as owners, cannot have all the effect the parties intended, for ſome it would have, (it would be a good leaſe during the lives of the huſband and wife) yet becauſe it cannot have all, it ſhall be eſteemed made by virtue of the power. But in the preſent caſe, the conveyance, as intended by the parties, would be wholly void.

The Chief Juſtice was of opinion for the defendant, and that the judgment of the C. B. muſt be affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 31.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles v. Williams.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 194 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. Atkinſon v. Coatſworth.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in county palatine of Durham, in an action of covenant, brought by the executor of the leſſee, againſt his aſſignee, wherein the breach was aſſigned on non-payment of rent to the original leſſor; it was objected, that it did not appear, the firſt leſſee ever ſealed the leaſe; and if he did not, then there was no obligation on him to pay the rent, and conſequently no action could be maintained on this covenant, which is only to pay the ſame rent to the firſt leſſor, as was payable to the firſt leſſee before the aſſignment.

To which it was anſwered, and reſolved by the court, that the firſt deed being ſet out as an indenture made between the leſſor and the leſſee, by which the leſſee covenanted and agreed to pay the rent, that was an implicit averment of a ſealing by him within the reaſon of the caſe of Taylor v. Dobbins, Michaelmas, 7 Geo. where a note made by himſelf, was held to import a ſigning. Raym. 1377.

2dly, If it was not ſo, yet the defendant by covenanting to pay the rent reſerved by the firſt indenture, was eſtopped to ſay there was no ſuch deed as could raiſe the rent. And therefore the judgment given below, for the plaintiff was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 512.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Lock v. Wright.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 272 of this work, under the head Condition.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Cloud v. Nicholſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 244 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Hilary, 11 Geo. Strong v. How.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 143 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Lawſon v. Dickenſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 144 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Trinity, 12 Geo. Frontin v. Small.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 146 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Moore v. Jones. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. on an action of covenant, wherein the plaintiff declared, that the defendant per quoddam ſcriptum ſuam factum, apud Weſtm. conceſſit i. e. by his certain writing, made at Weſtminſter, granted to the plaintiff an annuity for advice beſtowed, and aſſigns the breach for non-payment thereof for a certain time. On oyer which was ſet out in theſe words, and concluded with, in witneſs whereof I have hereunto ſet my hand and ſeal; the defendant pleaded, that during that time the plaintiff gave no advice; and on demurrer there was judgment by default for want of a joinder.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. Where the word factum i. e. made, being joined to at Weſtminſter, renders it impoſſible to be taken as a ſubſtantive: the word convenit i. e. covenanted in a declaration would never do alone; and though the word convention is alone in the regiſter, yet it is only a ſhort deſcription of the nature of the cauſe, to be explained more at large when the plaintiff comes to declare on it. I do not ſee the plea has made it good.

Page, J. If the word ſcriptum, i. e. written, does not import a deed, (as no body will pretend it does) here is nothing elſe to import it: the oyer does not actually prove it was ſigned and ſealed, for every body knows the words In witneſs, &c. are in the inſtrument, before it is ſo much as ſigned by the party. And indeed oyer of a ſealing was never heard of before.

Reynolds, Juſtice. I think this declaration is not to be maintained: anciently, the words ſigillatum & deliberatum i. e. ſealed and delivered, were required. But now it is held well enough to call it an indenture, made, written, and indented, which imply the circumſtances of ſealing and delivery. A conceſſit ſolvere, i. e. agreed to pay, lies at Briſtol, and yet the word conceſſit, i. e. agreed, does not imply a deed; nor is there any thing in the plea which makes the declaration to be better than on the face of it.

Probyn, Juſtice. I do not think agreed better than promiſed, for if the circumſtances of ſealing and delivery were ſhewn, promiſed would be well enough. The word written alone will not make it a deed, and there is nothing elſe left to imply it.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be reverſed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 814.

Michaelmas, 15 Geo. 2. The King v. Beck.

In this caſe, Lee, Chief Juſtice, held, that a deed altered in an immaterial part, by a ſtranger, is not vitiated thereby. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1160.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Taylor on the demiſe of Atkyns, Eſq; v. Horde, Eſq; and Others.

Adjudged, That where two deeds are made, bearing the ſame date, and are both conſiſtent, they are manifeſtly but one agreement, executed by different inſtruments, to anſwer different purpoſes, the internal evidence of the thing itſelf ſpeaks them to be one tranſaction, and the ſame to all intents and purpoſes as if expreſſed in one inſtrument. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 60 to 127.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Wright, on the demiſe of Plowden, Eſq; v. Cartwright.

A caſe was ſtated from the aſſizes as follows:

E. P. being ſeized in fee, demiſed on the 5th of October 1676, by deed, (viz. by indenture of leaſe between E. P. and E. C. only) to the ſaid E. C. for 99 years, if ſhe ſhould ſo long live, and after her death, if ſhe ſhould happen to die within the ſaid term, or other end or determination of the ſaid term, the remainder thereof to R. C. her eldeſt ſon, (then under age) for and during the remainder of the ſaid term, from thence enſuing, and fully to be compleat and ended, Yielding and paying, &c. and doing ſuit at a mill, &c. with a penalty for every time that ſhe or R. ſhall grind at another mill, and paying a heriot on the death of either; and it was covenanted, that both of them ſhall repair, &c. And the leſſor on his part covenanted that both ſhall quietly enjoy, &c.

E. C. entered and was poſſeſſed, and died on the 4th of September, 1694, whereon R. C. entered and was poſſeſſed till the ſaid R. died, which happened on the 5th of November, 1753.

The leſſor of the plaintiff is heir at law to E. P. the leſſor. The defendant is the perſonal repreſentative of R. C.

The queſtion before the court on this caſe was, "Whether the term exiſted? i. e. whether it continued beyond the life of E. C.; for if the term did not continue beyond the life of E. C. then the leſſor of the plaintiff had a title as repreſentative of R. C.

After hearing council on both ſides, on this caſe, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. The old caſes held, that there could be no remainder or ſubſtitution of a term, after an eſtate for life by deed or will. It was a mere poſſibility.

When long and beneficial terms came into uſe, the convenience of families required that they might be ſettled on a child, after the death of a parent. Such limitations were ſoon allowed to be created by will, and the old objections were removed by changing the name from remainders to executory deviſes.

In this caſe, on the true conſtruction of the leaſe, I am clearly of opinion, "That the land is demiſed to the ſon for ſo much of the 99 years, as ſhould be unexpired at the death of his mother."

If in this leaſe the word be taken in the latter ſenſe, the widow can only have it for ſo many of the 99 years as ſhe ſhould live, and the ſon have nothing afterwards; but it is clear that an intereſt was underſtood to continue after her death, to be enjoyed by her ſon, for by the courſe of nature, it could not be ſuppoſed that ſhe would out-live the 99 years. R. is to pay a penalty for grinding at another mill. He is to pay a heriot on the death of his mother, he is to repair; the leſſor covenants, "that R. ſhall quietly enjoy," i. e. for ſo many years as ſhould be remaining at the death of his mother.

The firſt ſenſe of the word makes every thing conſiſtent and effectual. The ſecond ſenſe deſtroys one half of the leaſe, as repugnant and contradictory to the other. There can be no doubt therefore, in which ſenſe the word ſhould be underſtood.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the plaintiff be nonſuited. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 282.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Zouch, on the demiſe of Abbott and Hallet, v. Parſons.

Adjudged, that all gifts, grants, or deeds, made by infants, which do not take effect by delivery of his hand, are void; but all gifts, grants, or deeds, made by infants, by matter in deed or writing, which do take effect by delivery of his hand, are voidable by himſelf, his heirs, and thoſe who have his eſtate. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1794.

Default.

Trin. 2 Ann. Staple v. Haydon.

In an action of treſpaſs, the defendant juſtified for a way, &c. and iſſue being joined, the cauſe came down to be tried at niſi prius: But the defendant made default, and ſo the inqueſt was taken by default; and now the iſſue being deemed immaterial, the court was moved for a repleader.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The defendant is out of court by the default, and that to all purpoſes but this, viz. that judgment may be given againſt him; therefore being out of court there cannot be a repleacer, unleſs the default could be waived, or the party could be brought into court again.

He ſaid, in perſonal actions, before iſſue joined every default was peremptory, but after iſſue joined the firſt default is not peremptory, but the ſecond is, and that is by the ſtatute of Weſtminſter, c. 27. and Marlb. and this one default is always upon the return of the venire, and not on the diſtringas, for the one default muſt be to the next day, which is the day on the venire. And though the defendant never appears now on the return of the venire, yet heretofore the defendant was then demanded ſolemnly, and if he made default, there iſſued a diſtringas againſt the jury with a clauſe to diſtrain the defendant; and if after this he made default again, it was peremptory, becauſe there was no proceſs left to fetch him in.

Generally, if after iſſue joined the defendant makes default, the plaintiff may proceed to trial, and have the inqueſt taken by default; but he ſhall not have judgment by default, unleſs in ſome ſpecial caſes. In debt on a bond, if the defendant pleads a releaſe, and iſſue is thereon joined, and at the trial the defendant makes default, the plaintiff may pray judgment by default, and the inqueſt need not be taken by default, for by this plea the duty is confeſſed, and the plea is not made good; otherwiſe, on non eſt factum pleaded, for thereby the duty is denied, therefore in that caſe the inqueſt muſt be taken by default: but in treſpaſs, if the defendant pleads a releaſe, and makes default, the plaintiff cannot pray judgment by default, but muſt pray the inqueſt by default; for the debt was certain, but the damages are uncertain.

On an appeal for a Rape, if after iſſue joined the defendant makes default, there ſhall be neither judgment by default nor inqueſt by default, but an alias, pluries, capias, & exigent ſhall be awarded. Vide Jenk. 68. 18 Aſſ. 13. 34. H. 6. 24.

The plaintiff cannot waive the default here, as the demandant may in a real action: If the tenant makes default in a real action, a grand cape is awarded, and on the return of it, if the demandant inſiſts upon the default, he muſt have final judgment: but the demandant may waive the default, and take an appearance on the grand cape; and that is regular, becauſe the tenant comes in by proceſs: and ſo it is of a default on a petit cape, but in a perſonal action there is no proceſs to bring the party into court again: alſo the day of niſi prius not being the ſame with the day in bank, a default at niſi prius cannot be waived at the day in bank.

And the bar was cautioned never to make defaults at niſi prius, becauſe no judgment could be given for the defendant afterwards. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 216. Raym. vol. 2. p. 922. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 1.

Hilary, 3 Geo. Brampton v. Crabb.

After a verdict for the plaintiff on an indebit. aſſump. and 22*s.* damages aſſeſſed, the defendant came into court, and ſuggeſted on the roll that the plaintiff ought not to recover any coſts and damages againſt him in this cauſe on the verdict, &c. (ſetting out ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. cap. 15. made for the recovery of ſmall debts in the city of London, which ſubjects the plaintiff to loſe his coſts, and pay coſts where the parties are citizens, and the damages under 40*s.*) Then the defendant averred, that at the time of making the promiſes in the declaration, and always from thence hitherto, he was and is a freeman of the city of London, reſiding within the city, (viz. in ſuch a pariſh and ward) uſing the trade of a cooper, and that the plaintiff was and is a freeman reſiding within the city, viz. &c. uſing the trade of a barber, and that the cauſe of action aroſe within the juriſdiction of the court of conſcience, which was held every Wedneſday and Saturday in every week ſince the time of the promiſe. He likewiſe averred, that he was indebted to the plaintiff in no more than 22*s.* and that he had expended ſo much in his defence, which the plaintiff ought to pay, according to the form of the ſtatute aforeſaid.

The firſt doubt on this ſuggeſtion was, whether the defendant ſhould not have made it before the cauſe had proceeded ſo far as a verdict: but on the cauſe of Pennel v. Wallis, Michaelmas 9 W. 3. being cited, where, after a verdict for 30*s.* the defendant made ſuch a ſuggeſtion, which was argued on demurrer, and held to be well ſuggeſted after a verdict, this firſt difficulty was got over.

But then it was objected, that it appeared the inqueſt was taken by default, and therefore the defendant was out of court as to all purpoſes, but having judgment againſt him. After a default there can be no repleader Salk. 216. 1 Mod. ca. 1. Salk. 594. Roll. Abr. 430. pl. 4.

For this laſt reaſon the court held, that the defendant could not be received to make the ſuggeſtion, and ſo the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 46.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The Eaſt India Company v. Glover. Eadem v. Lutman et al.

The plaintiffs declared on a ſale of coffee, at ſo much per hundred, which the defendant was to take away by ſuch a time, or anſwer in damages. Judgment went by default; and on executing a writ of inquiry before Pratt, Chief Juſtice, at Guildhall, he refuſed to let the defendant give evidence of fraud on the ſide of the plaintiffs at the ſale, becauſe, he ſaid, the defendant had admitted the contract to be as the plaintiffs had declared, by ſuffering judgment by default, inſtead of pleading non aſſumpſit; and now the only matter before them was the quantum of the damages. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 612.

Defence, ſee Plea.

Demurrer.

Hilary, 3 W. & M. Benbridge v. Day.

On an action of trover brought for ſeveral things, and among the reſt for two poſts: the defendant demurred, and Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to give judgment quod nil capiat, ſaying, the plaintiff may take ſeveral damages, and releaſe as to this, and then take judgment as to the reſt, and all would be well. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 218.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Carter v. Davies.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit and a quantum meruit for wares; as to the firſt count the defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit, and as to the ſecond prayed judgment of the bill, and pleaded in abatement; the plaintiff took iſſue on the non aſſumpſit, and demurred on the plea in abatement, becauſe the plea aforeſaid is inſufficient in law to preclude him from having his ſaid action.

Per curiam. The plaintiff having demurred in bar, where the plea is only in abatement, the ſuit is thereby diſcontinued; but iſſue being joined on the other promiſe, the court ſtayed proceedings on the demurrer, ſaying, the diſcontinuance would be helped by the verdict. Vide Salk. 1. p. 218.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Maſon v. Hanſon.

In an action of debt brought by an adminiſtrator for rent due in the life-time of the inteſtate; on nil debet pleaded, they were at iſſue, and the plaintiff had a verdict; and it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the plaintiff had made out no title; for he had ſet forth adminiſtration was committed to him by the official of the Reverend John Hall, prebendary of the prebend, or peculiar juriſdiction of Brampton within the cathedral church of Lincoln, and did not ſay that it belonged to him to grant adminiſtration, &c.

Per curiam. This might have been a good objection on a demurrer, but it is cured by the verdict ſince ſtat. 17 Car. 2. and before the making of that ſtatute, it has been held, that in an action brought by an adminiſtrator, the omiſſion of a profert, &c. was good after verdict: therefore the judgment in this caſe was confirmed, and the motion over-ruled. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 133.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Hill v. Gallop.

The plaintiff brought an action on the caſe for being diſturbed in his common, and declared that he was poſſeſſed of a meſſuage and ſo many acres of land, with the appurtenances in &c. for a certain term of years yet to come and unexpired, and that during all that time he had, and ought to have enjoyed, common of paſture for all his cattle, levant and couchant, &c.

On not guilty pleaded, the cauſe came to iſſue, the plaintiff had a verdict, and it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the plaintiff had not ſhewn any title in himſelf, either by grant or preſcription. But not allowed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This might be a good exception on a demurrer, but here it is cured by the verdict. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 175.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Combe v. Talbot.

In an action of debt for two years rent due on the demiſe of a meſſuage, and ſeveral parcels of land, rendering 9 l. per annum, the plaintiff demanded 18 l. the defendant as to 9 l. parcel thereof, being the firſt year's rent, pleaded nil debet, and concluded to the country, but there was no joinder in iſſue thereon; and as to the 9 l. reſidue, he confeſſed the demiſe as laid in the declaration rendering annually 9 l. viz. 40 s. for ſuch a parcel, and 7 l. for other parcels; and as to the 40 s. parcel there, he pleaded nil debet, and as to the reſt, he pleaded, that he had no intereſt in the tenements. The plaintiff demurred generally, becauſe the plea aforeſaid, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, and Eyre, Juſtice. 1ſt. One defendant cannot plead two ſuch pleas as to the whole; thus, one defendant cannot plead nil debet, and no intereſt in the tenements.

2dly. If the word plea be a collective term, which was doubted, 1 Saund. 338. Dyer, 325. b. 15 H. 7. 10. b. 3 Cro. 139. 1 Leon. 125. 1 Sid. 39. then the demurrer goes to all; and no judgment can be given for the plaintiff, becauſe the plea of nil debet is a good plea. Wherefore leave was given to amend on both ſides. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 219.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. The King v. Grove.

Per curiam. If a ſpecial matter is pleaded, which looks like the colour of a plea, but amounts to the general iſſue, it is no cauſe of demurrer; as if in debt you plead a releaſe, though you might have given it in evidence on nil debet, yet it is no cauſe of demurrer; ſo in debt for rent, if you plead entry and expulſion, it is no cauſe of demurrer, though it may be given in evidence on nil debet.

After a demurrer is joined, we cannot give leave to the defendant to waive his demurrer, and plead the general iſſue; and here the demurrer is entered on the roll. It is a record of the court, and put into the paper to be read as a record. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 18.

Trinity, 6 W. & M. Campbell v. St. John.

In an action of trover brought for a box and 290 pieces of ſilver, the defendant demurred to the declaration, and the plaintiff demurred to the defendant's demurrer, and concluded, and this he is ready to verify; the defendant maintained his demurrer, and put the matter in iſſue.

The court held, firſt, that trover would lie for plate generally, Style 244. 264. Secondly, that all is diſcontinued by the plaintiff's not joining in demurrer, but demurring on the defendant's demurrer; for there is no difference between pleading over when iſſue is offered, and not joining in demurrer, both are alike and make a diſcontinuance. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 219. Raym. vol. 1. p. 20.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Wilſon v. Law.

In this caſe, among ſeveral exceptions taken, was the following, viz. that the appellant by joining in demurrer as to the time, &c. and then as to the plea, &c. had divided that which the defendant had united, and ſo diſcontinued the whole.

But it was anſwered, that a demurrer is properly called a plea. Co. Inter. 80. and he could not make a joint reply to both; for which reaſons the defendant was ordered to anſwer over. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 75 of this work; under the head Appeal. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 20. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 290.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Leaves v. Bernard.

The plaintiff declared, that in conſideration he had paid to the defendant ſixteen guineas, he promiſed to pay the plaintiff 100 l. if no town in Flanders garriſoned with 2000 men, ſhould be taken or ſurrendered to the French King, before the firſt day of September 1695. And laid an indeb. aſſump. for 100 l. on a wager, and another indebitatus for 100 l. received by the defendant for the uſe of the plaintiff.

An objection was taken to the defendant's form of pleading, that it was neither a demurrer, nor a plea in bar, and therefore it muſt be a plea in abatement; and ſo no final judgment could be given, but a reſpondeas ouſter.

1ſt, It cannot be a demurrer, for that is where the party will go no farther, becauſe the other has not ſhewn ſufficient matter againſt him; and therefore he ſays, that the bill is not ſufficient in law, to make him give any anſwer thereto: whereon he prays the judgment of the court, if he ſhall be compelled to anſwer. All which form is wanting in this plea.

2dly, It cannot be a plea in bar to the action, for then he ſhould have pleaded, that the plaintiff ought not to have his action againſt the defendant; and have concluded his plea thus, wherefore he prays judgment if the plaintiff ought to have or maintain his action aforeſaid againſt the ſaid defendant, &c.

3dly, Therefore it muſt be in abatement, and it is either to the writ or count; if the action is brought by original, then the plea is, prays judgment of the writ, and it muſt conclude in the ſame words; if it is to the declaration, then it muſt be, prays judgment of the bill and declaration, for billa and narratio are the ſame, and in this form the defendant has now pleaded.

The firſt time that ſuch uncertainty in pleading was introduced, was in the 22 Car. 2. where the defendant began his plea in bar, viz. actio non, &c. and concluded in abatement; but all the other entries are otherwiſe.

The court, however, were of opinion, that the ſubſtantial part of a demurrer was in this plea, and therefore the defendant had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 131.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Lug v. Godwin.

A ſci. fac. being iſſued on a judgment againſt the defendant, he pleaded in abatement no ſpecification. The plaintiff demurred in bar, and a reſpondeas ouſter was awarded. Afterwards the defendant pleaded the ſame matter in bar; the plaintiff demurred; and an exception was taken by the defendant's council, that there was a diſcontinuance here; becauſe on the plea in abatement the plaintiff had concluded his demurrer, as if it had been in bar: But not allowed.

Per curiam. Where the defendant pleads a good plea in abatement, and the plaintiff replies new matter, he ought to maintain his writ; but if the defendant pleads an ill plea, though the plaintiff replies and concludes in bar, it is not material. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 393.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Pullein v. Benſon.

In this caſe there was a ſpecial demurrer and want of form ſhewn for cauſe. And Rokeby, Juſtice, ſaid, that if a man ſhews any thing for cauſe of demurrer on record, he may aver other matters, verbally. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 349.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If there be a demurrer to part, and an iſſue on the other part, and judgment be given for the plaintiff on the demurrer, he may enter a non proſ. as to the iſſue, and proceed to a writ of inquiry on the demurrer; but without a non proſ. he cannot have a writ of inquiry, becauſe on the trial of the iſſue the ſame jury will aſcertain the damages for that part which the demurrer was. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 219.

Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. There were ſpecial demurrers at common law, but they were never neceſſary, but in caſes of duplicity, and therefore they are ſeldom practiſed; for as the law was then to be taken on a ſpecial demurrer, the party could take advantage of no other defect in the pleadings, but what were ſpecially ly aſſigned as cauſes of demurrer. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p 122.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Wood v. Branford. Error.

On an action of dower, it appeared on the record certified here, this being a writ of error, that it was aſſigned for error, that the defendant being an infant, had appeared by attorney. And after, on no error pleaded, and a demurrer thereon; it was ſuggeſted, that there was an admittance of a guardian below, and a warrant for receiving of the guardian.

Per curiam. If it is ſo, it is good cauſe to amend the record; and the caſe of Waldgrave v. Lane, in the 5th year of W. & M. was quoted as a precedent: after a good error in fact alledged, if the party will not join iſſue on it, but pleads no error, he admits the fact true, and it is a good cauſe of demurrer. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 124.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, If A. puts in an ill plea, and B. joins iſſue on it, and a verdict is given againſt B. B. ſhall never take the advantage of A.'s bad plea, having ſlipped this opportunity of demurring to it: but it may be aided by the ſtatute of jeofails. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 2.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Shortridge v. Lamplugh. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given in C. B. in an action of covenant, among ſeveral errors aſſigned, was the following, viz.

That the plaintiff in the original action has declared, that he, by virtue of the indentures of bargain and ſale, and releaſe, and virtue of ſtat. H. 8. for transferring uſes into poſſeſſion, was ſeiſed, &c. whereas the releaſe does not operate by virtue of the ſtatute of uſes; but by the common law, and therefore it is informal at leaſt, and the defendant has demurred ſpecially for want of form. But not allowed.

Per curiam. Though it is informal, yet the demurrer is general; for it is not enough to ſay, for which want of form; but the particular want of form muſt be ſhewn. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 798. Salk. vol. 1. p. 219.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Hart v. Langfitt or Longfield.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 344 of this work, under the head Debt.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Croſſe v. Bilſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 3 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Elwis v. Lombe. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in an action of treſpaſs for with force and arms taking away ten mattocks of the plaintiff, in R. the defendant, as to nine, pleaded not guilty; and as to the tenth, no action, becauſe the place in which is his freehold tenement, and that the mattocks were there damage feaſant. On a general demurrer, the ſingle queſtion was, whether this general way of pleading his freehold tenement, without ſhewing any further certainty, was good?

The plaintiff in error's council argued, that the general errors being aſſigned: either the freehold tenement muſt take in all the vill of R. viz. that all the vill is the freehold of the defendant, and then, without queſtion, the plea will be good; or it muſt be taken of a particular place not certainly known or deſcribed within R. and take it to be the laſt, and ſo the more ſtrongly againſt him, yet it will be well, eſpecially on a general demurrer.

But the reaſon why freehold tenement is a good plea, is, that where the plaintiff is general in his writ or count, the defendant may be as general in his plea; and if the plaintiff will have more certainty, he muſt make it in his replication.

Now, to conſider this caſe ſince ſtat. 27 Eliz. on demurrers, before which there was no difference between matter and form, as to point of demurrer, though before that ſtatute one might demur ſpecially; but it was never ſafe or neceſſary ſo to do in any caſe except that of duplicity, becauſe if one had demurred ſpecially, he could have inſiſted on nothing elſe but what he had ſpecially ſhewn for cauſe in his demurrer; whereas if he had demurred generally, he was left at large to inſiſt on any thing except duplicity. Nor was this any way inconvenient, for while all the pleadings were by word of mouth at the bar, though the demurrer was general, yet the matter was ſo ſcanned, that the court and parties well knew what the cauſe of demurrer was. But after that way of pleading came to be diſuſed, neither the court nor party could know it; for which reaſon the ſtatute was made, which reſtores the common law ſo far, that people may know what a demurrer is for, whether for matter or form; for if the demurrer is for matter, the entry is becauſe the matter in the plea, &c. is not ſufficient, &c.

There are indeed ſome exceptions to the rule, that a circumſtantial fault in a plea will not vitiate on a general demurrer: as where a deed is pleaded, and no profert made of it. But the reaſon of that is particular, viz. that by pleading a deed with a profert, you put a great difficulty on the party to anſwer it.

Per curiam. This is a tranſitory action, in which there is no ſuch thing as a place in which; if it had been a local action, without doubt the pleading had been good. If a man declares quare clauſum fregit generally, in ſuch a vill, the defendant may plead a freehold tenement, and if the plaintiff traverſes it, it is at his peril; for the defendant, if he has any part of his land in the whole town, ſhall juſtify it there; and therefore in that caſe, the better way is to make a new aſſignment.

But now there is a fixed courſe eſtabliſhed in the C. B. as was alſo in this court formerly, that in local actions the plaintiff ſhall aſcertain the place in his declaration, to prevent ſuch general pleas, and the prolixity of a new aſſignment; and the defendant is confined to the place aſcertained in the declaration: but here the defendant by pleading of damage feaſant, has made that local which was at large before, and therefore he ought to aſcertain it at his peril.

And the court agreed, that if a man brings treſpaſs for taking his cattle in Black Acre, on ſuch a day, and the defendant juſtifies the taking at another place damage feaſant, the plaintiff may make a novel aſſignment, if there were two takings; ſo if there were two batteries on one day, and the one were on the plaintiff's own aſſault, and the other not, if the defendant will juſtify one de ſon aſſault demeſne, he may make a new aſſignment of the other battery: wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 17.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Turner v. Turner.

To an action of debt on a bond, the defendant pleaded the compoſition act, and on demurrer ſeveral exceptions were taken to the plea, and all over-ruled; on which judgment, niſi, &c. was given for the defendant; whereon the court was moved for leave to diſcontinue, and 1 Saund. 39. 2 Saund. 73. and 1 Saund 23. were cited, where leave was given to diſcontinue after argument of the council at the bar, and of the judges on the bench. But the motion was denied, abſent Powell, Juſtice, becauſe after a rule for a judgment niſi, &c. and then a peremptory rule for judgment, (as was in this caſe), Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he never knew leave given to diſcontinue; and the rule in the old books is, that if after the exception ſtirred, the court has pronounced their opinion, and yet the plaintiff demurs; he does it at at his peril; and if the exception is over-ruled, judgment ſhall be given againſt him. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 856.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Godolphin and Wife v. Tudor.

A demurrer was joined in Eaſter term laſt, and all continuing in paper, they moved to change their plea, and plead an iſſuable matter.

Per curiam. Whilſt it is in paper, it is very regular to change or amend, on payment of coſts; therefore the motion was granted on payment of coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6, p. 38.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Dockminique or Docmanny, v. Davenant.

Per curiam. If a defendant demurs in abatement, the court will, notwithſtanding, give final judgment, becauſe there cannot be a demurrer in abatement; for if the matter of abatement be extrinſic, the defendant muſt plead it; if intrinſic, the court will take notice of it themſelves. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 220.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Stafford v. Beneath.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 345 of this work, under the head Debt.

Eaſter, 11 Ann. Widdrington v. Charleton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 80 of this work, under the head Appeal.

Hilary, 12 Ann. The Queen v. The Corporation of Helſton in Cornwall.

Powys, Junior, Juſtice. If a defendant, in an action of debt on a bond, who has a good defence on the merits, ſhould, by advice of council, hazard his cauſe on a demurrer, which is adjudged againſt him, this miſtake of council would not be allowed in Chancery as a good cauſe of relief. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 203.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Cole v. Hawkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 352 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles v. Williams.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 129 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Haiton & al. v. Jeffreys.

The court was moved for leave to plead a plea, and to demur to the declaration at the ſame time, on ſtat. 4 Ann. the words are, " That it ſhall be lawful for any defendant or tenant in any action or ſuit, or for any plaintiff in replevin, in any court of record, with the leave of the ſame court, to plead as many ſeveral matters thereto, as he ſhall think neceſſary for his defence. Provided nevertheleſs, that if ſuch matter ſhall, on demurrer joined, be judged inſufficient, coſts, &c.

Per curiam. The words of the ſtatute are, that it ſhall be lawful to plead as many ſeveral matters, &c. Now a demurrer is ſo far from being a plea, that it is an excuſe for not pleading. Here you plead, and at the ſame time pray that you may not plead. The word matter imports a poſſibility, that the other party may demur to it; but there can be no demurrer on a demurrer. This was never attempted before. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 281.

Hilary, 2 Geo. Baldwin v. Church.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the head Debt.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Long v. Buckeridge.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 148 of this work, under the head Attornment.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. Layer.

The defendant being indicted for high-treaſon, in compaſſing the death of the King, was demanded to plead; he pleaded miſnomer in abatement, and his plea was received, read, and filed, and afterwards he was ſent back to the Tower, and ordered to be brought again to the bar on Saturday, the Morrow of All Souls; and being accordingly brought up on that day, the Attorney General demurred to the plea, and prayed that the priſoner might join in demurrer.

But his council deſired time to reply, or to join in demurrer, and the rather, becauſe in Fitz-Harris's caſe four days were given by this court, which is ſome proof that it is the courſe of the court, to allow the priſoner to plead in ſuch caſes; and thereon the chief clerk of the Crown-Office being aſked what was the cuſtom of the court in this matter, he anſwered, that in criminal caſes there were precedents, where, on demurrer, time was given to join in demurrer, but never in capital caſes.

Per curiam. In capital caſes no rule is given either to plead or join in demurrer: but the priſoner being at the bar, is obliged to anſwer immediately. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 82.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Phillibrown v. Ryland.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 40 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Griffith's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 273 of this work, under the head Condition.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Burland v. Tyler.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the head Debt.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Weldon v. Buckler.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 68 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Hilary, 12 Geo. White v. Cleaver.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 273 of this work, under the head Condition.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. Courtney v. Satchwell.

In an action of treſpaſs, aſſault, and falſe impriſonment, the defendant juſtified under a proceſs out of the ſheriffs court in London, which is the ſame, &c. and traverſed, being guilty, otherwiſe, or in any other manner; to this the plaintiff demurred, and ſhewed for cauſe, that the traverſe is idle and unneceſſary. And on argument, the court were of opinion that this was ill on a ſpecial demurrer, the words, which is the ſame, being a ſufficient traverſe. Lutw. 1457. And ſo it was held in the caſe of Carvil v. Manby, where on a general demurrer it was allowed to be well enough; but the court ſaid, if it had been a ſpecial demurrer, it would have been otherwiſe: wherefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 694.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Mansfield v. Richman.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit, the defendant demurred to the declaration, and for cauſe ſhewed that there were no pledges on the writ, or mentioned in the declaration.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff, for he may enter pledges any time before judgment, becauſe pledges are not liable before judgment, and even not then if it is for the plaintiff. Vide Forteſcue, p. 330.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The Maſter, &c. of the Vintners Company v. Paſſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 300 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Robinſon v. Raley.

In an action of treſpaſs brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant, the plaintiff declared on three different counts: the defendant by leave of court pleaded ſeveral matters to each plea; the plaintiff replied, and the defendant demurred to the plaintiff's replication to his plea to the fifth count, and alſo to the replication to the plea to the 13th count, to which the plaintiff rejoined.

The cauſes of demurrer ſhewn by the defendant's council were:

To the replication to the defendant's plea to the fifth count, that the replication was multifarious, and that the ſeveral matters ſpecifying them are put in iſſue, whereas only one ſingle matter ought to be ſo.

To the replication to the defendant's plea to the 13th count, that the replication traverſes the licence; and alſo that the replication concludes to the country, whereas it ought to conclude with an averment.

After hearing the council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. Both the demurrers are frivolous.

The ſubſtantial rules of pleading are founded in ſtrong ſenſe, and in the ſoundeſt and cloſeſt logic; and ſo appear, when well underſtood and explained: tho', by being miſunderſtood and miſapplied, they are often made uſe of as inſtruments of chicane.

As to the preſent caſe, it is true, you muſt take iſſue on a ſingle point, but it is not neceſſary that this ſingle point ſhould conſiſt only of a ſingle fact.

The licence is the point in queſtion; and this point whether the licence was given or not, is put in iſſue; the whole turns on this particular propoſition; indeed it may be a difficult caſe, where the whole of the plea is not denied, but only ſome parts of it, but that is not the preſent caſe.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinion at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff on the demurrers. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 317.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Gray v. Aſhton.

On a judge's order for time to plead, on the terms (among others) "of pleading an iſſuable plea," the defendant put in a ſham demurrer; the plaintiff's attorney conſidering this as an evaſion of the judge's order, ſigned judgment.

The defendant moved the court to ſet aſide the judgment, and obtained a rule to ſhew cauſe.

On the plaintiff's council ſhewing cauſe on this motion, he prayed, that the rule might be diſcharged with coſts, which the court ſaid ought to be done.

Note, On this motion, the court made a diſtinction between a real and fair demurrer, and a ſham one. They obſerved, that the former was an iſſuable plea, within the intent and meaning of the judge's order; the latter only an evaſion of it.

Per curiam. Let the rule be diſcharged with coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1788.

Deodand ſee Forfeiture.

Departure.

Trinity, 5 W. & M. The Counteſs of Arran v. Criſpe.

In an action of debt on a bond, the defendant craved oyer of the condition, which was to perform all covenants in an indenture of leaſe, wherein a covenant was, to pay a certain ſum, clear of all taxes, and then ſet forth the indenture of leaſe, and pleaded performance: the plaintiff replied, non-payment of —— for half a year's rent: the defendant rejoined, ſuch a particular ſum was paid in money, and —— in taxes, on the ſtatute for laying 4 s. per pound on land, which being allowed, amounted to the full. The plaintiff demurred.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that the covenant did not extend to parliamentary taxes, for want of the word parliamentary: the other judges thought the words all taxes included parliamentary ones: yet Holt held, judgment was for the plaintiff, though the point of law was againſt him; becauſe the matter of this rejoinder being by way of excuſe, ought to have been ſet forth in the bar; but as it is here, it is a departure; for whereas he ſaid at firſt, he had performed the covenants, now he ſays, he is not obliged to perform. Wherefore the plaintiff had his judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 222. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 54.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Larwood.

An information was exhibited againſt the defendant for neglecting and refuſing to take on him the office of ſheriff of Norwich, ſetting forth the charter of Hen. 4. whereby that city was made a county, and to have two ſheriffs choſen by the commonalty, and alſo the charter of Car. 2. confirming the former, but granting further, that one ſheriff ſhall be choſen by the mayor, ſheriffs, and aldermen only: and that the defendant being choſen by the mayor, ſheriffs, and aldermen, had notice, but did not appear to take the oaths, nor take on him and execute his office. The defendant pleaded ſtat. 13 Car. 2. and that he had not qualified himſelf by taking the ſacrament according to the uſage of the church of England, within a year before the election. The attorney general replied, that by law he ought to have done it, the defendant rejoined, the act of toleration, and that he was a proteſtant diſſenter, and excuſed by that ſtatute; on which there was a demurrer.

All the judges concurred, that the rejoinder was a departure, becauſe it did not fortify the plea, and ſhould have been pleaded at firſt, when he had an opportunity, and might have done it. Therefore judgment was given againſt the defendant. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 29. Salk. vol. 1. p. 167.

Eaſter, 6 W. & M. Primer v. Phillips.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking his cattle in the King's highway at —— the defendant juſtified the taking for damage feaſant; the plaintiff replied, that time out of mind, there had been a certain horſe as well as foot-way, for all perſons, between ſuch a place, &c. and that the defendant drove his cattle over the way, and that as they were paſſing along, the cattle did eat, &c. The defendant rejoined, that the cattle were commorant in the way aforeſaid, and iſſue was joined thereon, which was found for the plaintiff. The court was moved for a repleader, the treſpaſs now tried, being another treſpaſs than that which was complained of.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The treſpaſs is a tranſitory treſpaſs, and the mention of it in the declaration as done in the highway, was nothing to the purpoſe; it was idle and out of time, and mere ſurpluſage; and therefore the plaintiff in his replication, by following the defendant to another way, does not depart, becauſe it is not materially alledged in the declaration; and a departure muſt be from ſomething that is material; and when the iſſue is taken on the commorancy, it admits the plaintiff had a way, but that he continued longer in it than he ſhould. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 222.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Webly v. Palmer.

In an action of trover, the defendant pleaded a releaſe, &c. and it was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that in treſpaſs, if the defendant pleads a releaſe from the time, he muſt alſo go on with an abſque hoc, that he is guilty at any time afterwards; but if he does not vary the time, there needs no traverſe, for ſuppoſe you alledge the treſpaſs to be on ſuch a day, and the defendant juſtifies as to that day, the plaintiff may ſhew another day, and it is no departure; for the defendant has occaſioned this; and there is a great difference between a bond and a treſpaſs; if the declaration lays the bond to be dated on one day, the replication cannot ſay it was dated on another day; but in treſpaſs the plaintiff may depart, if neceſſary. Adjourned. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 222.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Howard or Hoard v. Tenniſon or Jenniſon.

An action on the caſe for work done, was brought by a taylor, and ſix ſeveral promiſes laid, all on the 16th of October; the defendant pleaded under age to all generally; the plaintiff replied as to two promiſes, not precluded, &c. becauſe the defendant was at that time of full age, and as to the reſt, that they were for neceſſary cloathing; hereon the defendant demurred, alledging that this was repugnant; that the defendant could not at the ſame time be of full age, and not of full age: but the court held, that time was but a circumſtance in no wiſe material, nor part of the iſſue; that a man is not tied down to a preciſe day in his declaration; and if the defendant forces him to vary, it is no departure. Accordingly the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 223. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 92.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Thonkin v. Crocker.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 59 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In an action of treſpaſs, aſſault, and battery, if the plaintiff lays the aſſault on one day, and the defendant pleads a ſpecial matter, that juſtifies at another day, whereby the day becomes material, the plaintiff may reply an aſſault on another day, and it is no departure, although it has been held otherwiſe; for the day is not material, and the plaintiff may maintain his count. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1015. Salk. vol. 3. p. 123.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Parkins v. Woollaſton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 163 of this work, under the head Bail.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Cole v. Hawkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 352 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Vincent v. Atwood.

On a ſcire facias brought againſt bail, the defendant pleaded that the principal died before the return of the capias; the plaintiff replied, that the principal did not die before the return of the capias; the defendant demurred.

The defendant's council argued, that the replication was naught.

1ſt. Becauſe the plaintiff did not ſet forth that there was any capias at all iſſued out; but only that the principal did not die before the return of the capias.

2dly. Becauſe by this replication, there is an iſſue formed, wherein the jury muſt at once try matter of law, matter of record, and matter of fact.

It was argued for the plaintiff, that when the defendant pleaded that the principal died before the return of the capias, he certainly admitted, that there was a capias ſued out; and the only thing doubted is the death of the principal, &c. It is neceſſary for the plaintiff only to anſwer the defendant's plea, and not to ſet forth what is admitted by the defendant.

In a ſcire facias it is not neceſſary to ſet forth the awarding of a capias. Lutw. 1281. 2 Cro. 97.

Had the plaintiff replied there was a capias ſued out, and the defendant rejoined nil tiel record, the rejoinder would have been a departure from his bar. How then can it in reaſon be neceſſary, for the plaintiff, in his replication to ſet forth, that which the defendant cannot deny in his rejoinder, without a departure?

Perkins v. Wollaſton, 3 Ann. In an action of debt againſt bail, the defendant pleaded no capias; the plaintiff replied, there was a capias; the defendant rejoined, that the force of the capias was ſuſpended by a writ of error. Reſolved, that this rejoinder was a departure from the bar.

Wherefore judgment was given for the plaintiff niſi, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 257.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Hillier v. Plympton.

In an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes, the defendant pleaded infancy; the plaintiff replied, it was for neceſſaries, and the defendant rejoined a ſtated account, and that thereon the ſaid plaintiff had diſcharged the defendant; and on demurrer judgment was given for the plaintiff, becauſe the rejoinder was a departure from the plea; or if not, yet diſcharged generally will not do, for the party muſt ſhew how he was diſcharged. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 422.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. White v. Clever.

In an action of debt on a bond, with a condition carefully to execute the office of overſeer of the poor ſingly, without the aſſiſtance of the plaintiff; the defendant pleaded that he did execute the office ſingly, without the aſſiſtance of the plaintiff; and the plaintiff replied, he did not execute the office ſingly without the aſſiſtance of the plaintiff; the defendant rejoined, that the plaintiff voluntarily took on him the office without the defendant's requeſt, and that he did it without his requeſt.

Per curiam. This is a departure from the defendant's plea, and a contradiction: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Forteſcue, p. 333. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1449.

Trinity, 3 & 4 Geo. 2. Hyder v. Warren.

In an action of debt on recognizance of bail, the defendant pleaded no ca' ſa' againſt the principal; the plaintiff ſet out one, and the defendant replied, that it was erroneouſly iſſued.

Per curiam. This is a departure. Let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Forteſcue, p. 333.

Michaelmas, 5 & 6 Geo. 2. Owen and others v. Reynolds.

In an action of debt on a bond, conditioned to ſave harmleſs from tonnage of coals due to W. B. the defendant pleaded not damnified; the plaintiff replied, that B. diſtrained for the ſaid coals, and the defendant rejoined, that nothing was due to B. for tonnage; this was held to be a good rejoinder, and no departure, for it fortifies the plea, and gives a good reaſon why he was not damnified. Vide Forteſcue, p. 341.

Detainer, ſee Priſoners.

Detinue, ſee Trover.

Deviſe ſee Wills.

Diſcontinuance, &c.

Eaſter, 2 W. & M. Biſſe v. Harcourt.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit, the defendant pleaded an attainder of high-treaſon in diſability. The plaintiff replied a pardon, for that by the exemplification thereof, &c. (which was held good) and prayed judgment and his damages; to which the plaintiff demurred: and held, that there was a diſcontinuance by the miſconcluſion of the replication; for an ill prayer of judgment is as if there was no judgment at all. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 177.

Eaſter, 3 & M. Carter v. Davies. Error.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 356 of this work, under the head Demurrer.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Walwin v. Smith. Error.

In an action of debt brought on a bond in the court of the corporation of Hereford, conditioned to perform articles, &c. the defendant pleaded performance. The plaintiff replied and aſſigned a breach, on which iſſue was joined. And then there was an entry, that the Mayor was removed and another choſen, but no day was given to the parties, nor any court held; but after this a venire was awarded, and the iſſue tried. On a writ of error brought in this court on the ſaid judgment, it was objected, that ſtat. 32 H. 8. c. 30. does not extend to inferior courts, and that it helps only diſcontinuances of pleas or proceſs, and not of the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is a remedial law, and ſhall be conſtrued to extend to all diſcontinuances, as well in inferior as ſuperior courts; and indeed inferior courts have moſt need of ſuch aſſiſtance. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 178. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 86.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Chew v. Briggs.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. An appearance does not help a diſcontinuance, as it does a miſcontinuance; and it is a queſtion, whether a diſcontinuance in proceſs is helped by the ſtatute of jeofails; a diſcontinuance in pleading may be helped. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 8.

Hilary, 3 & 4 W. Philer v. Boſon.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the court of Exeter, the error aſſigned was the want of a continuance, for it was to the next court, which is ill in an inferior court.

Per curiam. The judgment being given on a verdict, this diſcontinuance is aided; for the ſtatute of jeofails extends to inferior courts, and muſt be favourably conſtrued to give a remedy, and the words are, any diſcontinuance, miſcontinuance, or miſconceiving of proceſs, which are general words, and applicable to all the courts of law. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 130.

Eaſter, 5 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action of treſpaſs and battery, brought againſt huſband and wife, the original, as recited in the declaration, was of a battery only at one time, but the declaration itſelf was of ſeveral batteries done by them at ſeveral times, to which ſeveral batteries the defendants pleaded; and the plaintiff replied as to one of them only, on which they were at iſſue, and it was found for the plaintiff.

Per curiam. The original not being ſet out by craving oyer, we will intend it to be right, but miſ-recited at the top of the declaration; and the plaintiff not replying to one of the batteries, is but a diſcontinuance, which is helped by the verdict. Vide Salk. vol. 3. page 131.

Trinity, 6 W. & M. Campbell v. St. John.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 363 of this work, under the head Demurrer.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Moor v. Green.

In an action of debt on a judgment brought in Trinity term, the defendant imparled till Michaelmas term following, and then pleaded in bar, that the plaintiff on Monday next after the Feaſt of St. Martin was outlawed; to which the plaintiff demurred. It was urged by the defendant's council, that the outlawry was meſne between the action brought, and the plea pleaded, and that all matters in diſcharge of the action, which happen after the action brought, ought to be pleaded puis darrein continuance. Yelv. 140. But the court compared this to the common caſe of a judgment confeſſed by an executor after an action brought, which is never pleaded puis darrein continuance, but as this caſe is. And in theſe caſes, the time of the outlawry, and the time of the judgment, and when it was, appear in themſelves. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 178. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 11.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Saliſbury v. Proctor. Error.

An action was brought againſt two defendants, one joined in iſſue, and the other demurred; the iſſue was tried, and there was a verdict againſt that defendant; ſo that no day was to be given to him; but as to the other, day ſhould be given, and continuances entered till judgment, but none being entered, a writ of error was brought, and theſe diſcontinuances were aſſigned for error; for, being after verdict they could not be helped by the verdict.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Diſcontinuances are helped as well after the verdict as before; and ſo it has been adjudged, for the ſtatute ſays, where the fact is tried, without relating to diſcontinuances before, more than to to thoſe after a verdict. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 130.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Price v. Parker.

On a motion to diſcontinue on payment of coſts, the court held, that after a general verdict there can be no leave given to diſcontinue; for that would be having as many new trials as the plaintiff pleaſes: but that after a ſpecial verdict there may, becauſe that is not complete and final; but in that caſe it is great favour. The ſame point was ſo ruled in the caſe of Reeve v. Gelding. Eaſter 5 & 6 W. & M. in this court. Vide Salk. vol. 1 p. 178.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Keat v. Barker.

An action was brought againſt the defendant for ſix years wages due to the plaintiff for his ſalary, being a ſteward; there was a verdict for the plaintiff at the aſſizes in Berkſhire, and only ſeven pounds damages given.

It was moved to diſcontinue the action, and that the poſtea might be brought in. But not allowed.

Per curiam. After a general verdict, the court will not ſuffer the plaintiff to diſcontinue his action: it has been allowed after a ſpecial verdict, and an argument at bar; ſo likewiſe after joining in demurrer, but not after arguing ſuch demurrer. But ſtat. H. 4. ordains, that after verdict, a plaintiff ſhall not be nonſuited; which was otherwiſe at common law; for if he did not like his damages, he might be nonſuited. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 208.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Lug v. Godwin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 363 of this work, under the head Demurrer.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

The court was moved to diſcontinue a former action pleaded in abatement of a ſubſequent one, on ſuggeſtion, that the attorney in the former action was not to be found.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, would not allow it; but bid them plead nul tiel record, and that the defendant would find their attorney for them: and held, that a perſon cannot plead twice in Abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 230.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Pierceſon v. Huls. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. it was aſſigned for error that there was a miſcontinuance, the continuance being from one day to another in the ſame term, which was urged could not be, the whole term being but one day in law. But over-ruled. Another error aſſigned was, that the imparlance was to fifteen days in Eaſter, inſtead of from the day of Eaſter in fifteen days, which was alſo rejected by the court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 307.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Coux v. Lowther. Error.

Adjudged, on ſtat. 39 Ed. 3. that in treſpaſs a diſcontinuance as to one defendant, is a diſcontinuance as to all. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 597.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Morley v. ———

Per curiam. If a defendant pleads as to part, and ſays nothing as to the reſt, it is a diſcontinuance, unleſs the plaintiff will take judgment by nil dicit. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 421.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Vincent v. Beſton.

On an aſſumpſit on three promiſes for 55 l. each, the defendant, as to the 55 l. mentioned in the firſt count, pleaded, that the plaintiff ought not to have his action, for that the ſaid three ſeveral aſſumptions in the declaration above-mentioned, were for, the ſame ſum of 55 l. which ſum of 55 l. the defendant had paid to the plaintiff before the action was brought; and for this he prayed judgment, if the plaintiff ought to have his action againſt him. The plaintiff replied, that the defendant did not pay, &c. to which the defendant demurred.

The court held, that the whole was diſcontinued, becauſe the defendant pleaded only to the firſt of the promiſes, and therefore the plaintiff ſhould have taken judgment by nihil dicit on two of them; for the defendant had fixed his plea by beginning in this manner to the firſt promiſe, and therefore the ſpecial matter which follows will not aid it. 1 Roll. Rep. 177. 406. But afterwards, this being all done in Michaelmas term, and no continuance being entered on the roll, the plaintiff entered up judgment by nil dicit on the two promiſes to which the defendant did not plead. And this was approved by the court, on a report made by the maſter after reference to him. And judgment was this term given for the plaintiff on demurrer. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 716.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In an action of treſpaſs againſt two, after iſſue joined, and the plea of puis darein continuance, one of them dies; the plaintiff may at the trial get his default recorded, proceed to trial, and obtain a verdict againſt the other; and he may before judgment come and ſuggeſt the death of the defendant who died, and have judgment againſt the other. And taking the inqueſt againſt one, where there are two defendants, and one of them dies, puis darein continuance cannot be error, if the default of the other is recorded, and his death is ſuggeſted before judgment; and the death of a party cannot be pleaded in abatement, puis darein continuance. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 668.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. The City of London v. Wood.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 292 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Crow v. Maſon.

Per curiam. In an action of debt on a bond, the defendant pleaded in bar as to part, that after the laſt continuance he had paid ſo much, which the plaintiff accepted; to which the plaintiff demurred; and it being a declaration of Michaelmas term, it was adjudged, the whole was diſcontinued; for the plaintiff's proper way had been to demur to the plea, ſo far as it was pleaded, as he had a right to do, it being after the laſt continuance, and no acquittance pleaded or produced; therefore let the plaintiff take judgment by nil dicit as to the reſt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 626.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Pierce v. Packſtan.

In an action of debt on a bond, the defendant pleaded payment of part, puis darein continuance, which the plaintiff accepted in bar.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The defendant could not have pleaded it in abatement, but muſt have done it in bar; and whenever a thing, which in its nature happens, and is pleaded puis darein continuance, it admits of no anſwer; and this he ſaid was not like the caſe of foreign attachment, though that was held to be a matter of payment, and therefore a good plea in bar; nor like the caſe of the demandant's entry into part of the land, puis darein continuance, for that is the party's own act only. And he quoted the caſe of 3 H. 7. 3 b. 5 H. 7. 41. a. The firſt was debt on contract, and receipt of part puis darein continuance was pleaded; and there it was held to be no good plea, becauſe it might be given in evidence, but if it had been in debt on a ſpecialty, it muſt have been pleaded in bar. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 541.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Barber v. Palmer.

If after a plea in bar the defendant pleads a puis darrein continuance, this is a waiver of his bar, and no advantage ſhall be taken of any thing in the bar. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 178.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Slanney v. Slanney.

In an action of debt on a bond, a declaration was delivered on the firſt day of Eaſter term, and a plea put in after the rules for pleading were out, beginning with no action, and concluding in abatement; and the doubt was, whether this was not a diſcontinuance, and it was ſaid the books ran both ways, and agreed if it be taken in abatement it came too late, the rule being out. And the caſe of Biſſe v. Harcourt was quoted, where an attainder in diſability of the perſon was pleaded thus; and the plaintiff replied, demanding judgment for damages, ſhewing that it was a diſcontinuance, matter of abatement being pleaded in bar; and he ſaid, if the plaintiff had pleaded matter of fact, anſwering a fact pleaded in abatement, a concluſion of a prayer of damages had been proper; but where he does not reply ſuch a fact, he only ought to pray that his writ be adjudged good; for if on trial of matter of fact pleaded in abatement, the iſſue be for the plaintiff, he ſhall have final judgment: and the caſe of Medina v. Stanton, adjudged in this court, was quoted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where the court awards a reſpondeas ouſter, when the judgment ought to be final, it can do no harm, becauſe the defendant cannot aſſign it for error, no more than he can the awarding an eſſoign, when it ought not to have been, being for his advantage. At another day he ſaid, the defendant begins with a actio non, i. e. no action, becauſe the plaintiff is outlawed in the C. B. and prays judgment of the writ. But if it be for any thing out of the writ, as joint-tenancy, or the like, the condition may be with a judgment of the writ, or otherwiſe in abatement; if one begins in abatement, and concludes to the action, it is ill, if the plea be not ſufficient in bar according to the concluſion; and if a demurrer be put in to ſuch plea, in that caſe judgment ſhall be againſt the defendant, for his concluſion affirms the writ to be good; but if the plea commences in bar with a good matter, and concludes to the writ in abatement, it will be well, for the plaintiff cannot have a good writ if he has not a good cauſe of action. 36 H. 6. 18. And it was ſaid, if in the principal caſe the plaintiff had demurred, or replied in bar, and the court were of opinion that it was a plea in abatement, perhaps it would be a diſcontinuance. At laſt, a rule was obtained for the defendant to conclude his plea well, and then judgment went according to the juſtice of the matter; for if this be made in abatement, it is irregular after the rules are out: therefore let the defendant ſhew cauſe why he ſhould not conclude in bar, for theſe irregularities in pleading are not to be encouraged to inveigle the court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 524.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Hayward v. Kinſey.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action on the caſe, after hearing council on both ſides, on the errors aſſigned, the court gave judgment as follows:

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We are bound by our office to take notice of the practice of every court in Weſtminſter-hall, let us be informed which way we can; the rule of court is one thing, and an eſtabliſhed practice, of which one ſhall have avail without pleading, is another thing; and it is not the judges of that court ſaying that it is the courſe of the court, will determine it.

Suppoſe you had pleaded a right, and a proper original in this manner, that you have done here, you have not ſhewn that it was ever returned, and till return, there is no day in court; and there is no continuance ſhewn to have been entered; and to prevent the ſtatute, it is not enough to take out a writ, even a proper one, but all the continuances, though for ſix or ſeven years, muſt be entered, and ſo ſhewn to the court; for if there is but an omiſſion of one continuance, it ſpoils all. Indeed where it is pleaded in abatement, on another action depending for the ſame cauſe, the plaintiff need not ſhew all the continuances, but yet he muſt ſhew the action is not determined. But by law, in this caſe it is not enough to ſay, it was continued, but it muſt be ſhewn how.

Gould, Juſtice thought it would be well only to alledge a continuance generally; but agreed if a continuance is not alledged, it ſhall be intended a diſcontinuance, for it is ſo of courſe. And for the diſcontinuance only, the judgment was reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 568.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Weeks v. Peach.

In an action of replevin for taking chattels in a certain place called A. and alſo in a certain other place called B. the defendant avowed the taking in the place aforeſaid, in which, &c. for that ſuch a one was ſeiſed of the place in which, &c. To this the plaintiff demurred.

Per curiam. The place in which relates only to one place, ſo that there is a diſcontinuance, the avowry not being an anſwer to the whole declaration; and this diſtinction was made by Holt, Chief Juſtice, viz. if a plea begins with an anſwer to the whole, but in truth the matter pleaded is only an anſwer to part, the whole plea is naught, and the plaintiff may demur; but if a plea begins only as an anſwer to part, and is in truth but an anſwer to part, it is a diſcontinuance, and the plaintiff muſt not demur, but take his judgment for that as by nil dicit; for if he demurs or pleads over, the whole action is diſcontinued. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 179. Raym. vol. 1. p. 679.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Pierce v. Henriques.

In an aſſumpſit on two counts, the defendant pleaded non-aſſumpſit, as to one, and as to the other it being for 100 l. he pleaded payment of 99 l. which the defendant received; but pleaded nothing to the reſt: the plaintiff replied, denying the payment; and on demurrer,

Per curiam. The plea is well as to the 99 l. for a perſon may plead ſeveral pleas, as payment of part, and a releaſe as to the reſt, &c. and here it is a diſcontinuance; for he ſhould have taken judgment by nihil dicit, for ſo much as had not been pleaded to, and plead as to the reſt: but it was agreed here, the defendant could not plead non-aſſumpſit in part, and a releaſe or payment to the reſt; for that would ſpoil the whole plea.

And being ſpoke to again, it was held a diſcontinuance in the whole by the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it might be doubted whether it could be ſo pleaded on an indebitatus aſſumpſit. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 124.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Atwood v. Burr.

Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment on a ſci. fac. againſt bail in the mayor's court of Maidſtone, among other exceptions taken on the writ of error, was the following, viz.

There were two ſci. fac.'s on which this judgment was founded, and the firſt ſci. fac. was not returned, as appeared by the record.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If there is no return, I doubt it will be a diſcontinuance, and that cannot be cured by appearance; but after verdict a miſcontinuance is cured, and there being no return to the firſt ſci. fac. or ſo much as a recital of it in the ſecond, it is not maintainable, and if you do not appear at the return, you cannot appear at all, if the proceſs is not continued down. If there is an original returnable in Trinity term, and the defendant does not appear, but comes in Hilary term, all is wrong if there is not a continuance down to Hilary term duely entered: if a ſci. fac. is returnable on Thurſday next after three weeks of St. Michael, if the party appears on the morrow of St. Martin, it will be an incurable fault, for none can appear when he has no day on the writ, or on the roll, and here is neither. And ſuppoſe the firſt ſci. fac. had been well returned, and an alias iſſues out returnable in June, and the defendant appears in Auguſt, all would be bad without on a continuance entered till Auguſt; becauſe without it the defendant has no day in court; but he ſaid perhaps the want of the return of the ſci. fac. might be cured by the day on the roll, where the teſte and iſſuing out of the writ is, which perhaps may be a ground for an alias, and alſo for a day for appearance; and he ſaid, that on pleading the ſtatute of limitations, he always uſed to plead the return, and not the purchaſe of the writ; for it was the return that gave the poſſeſſion of the cauſe to the court. And if a perſon was to continue a latitat for ſeveral years, he muſt get the firſt returned; on which return, you make your continuances down, though you never take out another; but there muſt be a return of the firſt writ; ſo if a cap. ad ſatisfac. is taken out within a year, you may continue it down as long as you think proper, on a return, that the ſheriff did not ſend the writ, and not be put to a ſci. fac. There is a vaſt difference between the writ to which the defendant has an anſwer, and one to which he has none; for if it is a writ to which the party has a plea, there muſt be ſome ſort of a return, as that it came too late, &c. but ſtill there muſt be ſome return; and for this he quoted Sir John Vidian v. Wellings. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 3.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Bezaliel Knight's Caſe.

An action having been brought againſt Knight in a wrong name, he pleaded the miſnomer in abatement. On which the plaintiff declared againſt him de novo by his right name, and Knight pleaded the firſt action pending, for the plaintiff ought to have diſcontinued it.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it was too late to do it now, becauſe the diſcontinuance only relates to the time of its being entered on the record; ſo that if the plaintiff ſhould now enter it, and reply nul tiel record, it would be againſt him, being a record at the time of the plea pleaded: and it is not like the reverſing a judgment or outlawry on a writ of error, which makes void the record ab initio; ſo that on nul tiel record, if the judgment is reverſed before the day given to bring in the record, it is ſufficient. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1014.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Curluis or Curlewis, v. Padley or Dudley.

In an action of debt, the declaration was of Michaelmas term, and the plea-roll of Eaſter, and no continuance entered; and this on demurrer was ſhewn to the court as a diſcontinuance; but they ſaid, the practice is never to enter continuances till the plea-roll be entered up, though the declaration be of four or five terms ſtanding. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 179. Raym. vol. p. 872.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Turner v. Turner.

In an action of debt on a bond, the defendant pleaded a compoſition, and this being argued ſeveral times at bar on demurrer, at laſt the court made a rule for judgment, unleſs cauſe ſhewn. And it being moved again, the former rule was made abſolute. The next day the court was moved to diſcontinue, alledging, that this was a ſham plea, and no ſuch compoſition ever made, and 1 Saund. 39, 23. 2 Saund. 73. were cited.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. After a rule niſi, and then a peremptory rule for judgment, it was never done: the rule of the old books was, if after an exception was taken, and the court had given their opinions, the plaintiff would be ſo hardy as to demur, he muſt do it at his peril, and ſo it is here. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 197. Raym. vol. 2. p. 856.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Green v. Waller.

In an action of debt on a bond, among ſeveral exceptions taken, was the following, viz.

There was a diſcontinuance in this court, the continuance being at the King's courts ubicunque, which is as if a continuance ſhould be here at Weſtminſter, ubicunque, whereas it ſhould be before our Lady the Queen ubicunque, which is the ſtile of the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that a day being given to the parties, this was but a miſcontinuance, and could not be a diſcontinuance; and that miſcontinuances are helped by appearance. And he ſaid, that where the proceedings are by bill, the continuances are before the Lord the King at Weſtminſter; where by original before, the Lord the King ubicunque. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 891.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Market v. Johnſon.

In an action of debt on a bond for 500 l. the defendant as to 225 l. part of the aforeſaid 500 l. pleaded payment; and the plaintiff demurred.

Per curiam. This is only a plea to part, for in debt on a bond a man may have ſeveral pleas in bar; as for example, ſuppoſe the plaintiff ſues as executor, the defendant may plead the releaſe of the teſtator for any part, and for the reſidue the releaſe of the plaintiff: ſo a man as to part may plead payment, and as to the reſt an acquittance: then there being no anſwer as to the reſidue, here is a diſcontinuance for the reſidue; and the plaintiff ſhould have taken judgment by nil dicit.

Michaelmas, 6 Ann. Falmouth v. Strode.

In ejectment, the caſe was as follows, viz. the aſſizes began on the Monday, and the defendant died the day before, and yet a trial was had, and after a long defence, a verdict was given for the plaintiff: and now it was moved, that judgment ſhould be arreſted, on this objection, that this is a matter of fact, and not aſſignable after a verdict, but that they ought to bring a writ of error.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If he had died the day the aſſizes began, though the cauſe had been tried after, the trial had been good, though he had died at one o'clock in the morning; for there is no fraction of a day, according to Shelly's caſe in 1 Cro. in which caſe Lord Hobart ſaid, any man as a friend to the court may inform the court of ſuch an error. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 136.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Buſhell v. Haynes.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 185 of this work, under the head Bail-Bond.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Joddrell v. Heathcot.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 351 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Eaſter, 11 Ann. Widdrington v. Charleton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 80 of this work, under the head Appeal.

Michaelmas, 11 Ann. Alice v. Gale.

Per curiam. If a defendant pleads in abatement, and the plaintiff replies as to a plea in bar, it is a diſcontinuance. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 112.

Hilary, 2 Geo. Taylor v. Matthews.

Per curiam. If pending the conſideration of the court the plaintiff dies, judgment may be entered without entering the continuances; and then it will have relation to the day in bank. Latch. 91. 1 Leon. 187. Baller v. Delander, a modern caſe. A continuance is nothing about a curia adviſare vult.

The time when in fact judgment was given muſt be entered on the roll, that is only in reſpect to land, that it may not be bound until the time of the judgment given, and ſo purchaſers over-reached. Before this inconvenience was provided againſt, by ſtat. Car. 2. there might have been inconvenience in entering judgment without continuances; there can be none now. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 325.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Long v. Buckeridge.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 148 of this work, under the head Attornment.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Martin v. Wyvill.

In Trinity term laſt, the plaintiff delivered a declaration on a ſtock-jobbing contract, with an imparlance to Michaelmas term, and then, on demurrer to the plaintiff's replication, the paper book was made up, and after the 1ſt of Nov. it was made a concilium, and the plaintiff had judgment niſi, before the end of the term; and the day before the end of the term the rule was diſcharged, and an ulterius concilium made to this term; at the firſt return of which the defendant pleaded puis darein continuance, that the contract was not regiſtered according to the ſtatute: whereon the plaintiff made a ſpecial entry of the continuances from the firſt day of Michaelmas term to that day, when it ſtood in the paper, and ſo on to the laſt day of laſt term, and then again to the firſt day of this term.

The court was moved to ſet aſide the plea, becauſe not pleaded after the laſt continuance, the time for regiſtering expiring on the firſt of November, after which there are two continuances on the roll before the plea comes in, whereas all pleas puis darein continuance ſhould be pleaded before the next continuance after the fact happens; and as to the ſpecial entry here made, he ſaid, that indeed the common practice is only to enter continuances from term to term, becauſe that being ſufficient to prevent a diſcontinuance, attornies for their own eaſe never enter any more; but yet in fact the party has a right to enter all the continuances, the proceedings here being from day to day. Beſides, the plea is falſe in fact, and that is another reaſon to ſet it aſide as dilatory; the words of the ſtatute are, "That "ſuch memorial ſhall be ſigned by the party," and it is on that they ground themſelves, for the contract is regiſtered, and in this manner, "This contract was "made for the benefit of me William Martin, and has "not been compounded;" which being all the plaintiff's hand writing, that is a ſigning, tho' the name is not at the bottom; like the caſe of a will which the teſtator writes himſelf, and begins I A. B. &c. and does not ſubſcribe it, yet that has been adjudged to be a ſigning. 3 Lev. 1.

As to the point of the continuance, the court did not determine the matter.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, and Forteſcue, Juſtice, held that as the fact would warrant it, every act of the court might be entered, and then the plea muſt be ſet aſide, as not coming in time.

Eyre, Juſtice, (abſent Powys, Juſtice) thought this uncommon entry, which was to deprive the defendant of a benefit, which in the common courſe of practice he would be intitled to, ought not to be allowed; however, this point was not determined, being all of opinion, that for the ſecond reaſon the plea ſhould be ſet aſide, as falſe; ſaying, it is the conſtant practice at the aſſizes, to put the party to verify ſuch a plea, before it is allowed; and if the party does not give ſome evidence of the truth of it, the judge will reject it, and go on with the cauſe. And at another day, Eyre, Juſtice, cited Mo. 871. that a plea puis darein continuance could not be pleaded after demurrer. The others gave no opinion as to this, but ſet it aſide on the point of its being falſe in fact, without meddling farther with the continuances. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 492.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Woodward v. Robinſon.

In an action on the caſe for ſeveral promiſes, and among other things, for a note for 65 l. and on an indebitatus aſſumpſit for 36 l. 9 s. 5 d. and a quantum meruit for carpenters work and materials found, wherein the plaintiff averred he deſerved 36 l. 9 s. 5 d. for the work, and the like for the materials.

The defendant, as to the count on the note, pleaded, that he gave a bond in ſatisfaction for the ſaid 60 l. and the plaintiff received it as ſuch. And as to the ſaid ſeveral ſums of 36 l. 9 s. 5 d. and 36 l. 9 s. 5 d. that he gave a note for ſo much in ſatisfaction; and on iſſues tendered, the defendant demurred.

On this cauſe being put in the paper, nobody appeared for the defendant, but it was obſerved by the court, that there was a diſcontinuance. And at another day the defendant's council argued, that there were two diſcontinuances; 1. As to the note for 65 l. where the defendant in his plea has artfully dropped 5 l. and pleaded only a ſatisfaction for 60 l. And, 2dly. In the plea of a note in ſatisfaction, which covers no more than two ſeveral ſums of 36 l. 4 s. 5 d. whereas there are three ſuch ſums in the declaration, Eaſter, 4 Geo. Nichols v. Backhouſe, on an indebitatus aſſumpſit, the defendant, as to ——— parcel of the damages pleaded one plea; and as to ——— reſidue, pleaded another; and on error, when it ſtood to be affirmed, Eyre, Juſtice, obſerved, that between the two pleas the defendant had dropped a penny, and the court held it a diſcontinuance: and ſo is Yelv. 5. Carter 51.

To this it was anſwered and reſolved by the court, that as to the firſt part of the objection, there was no diſcontinuance, it being pleaded as to the whole promiſe; and though it is in law only an anſwer to part, and by that means a void plea, yet it will not make a diſcontinuance; ſo vice verſa, if it is pleaded as to part, it will be a diſcontinuance, though in law it is an anſwer to the whole. As to the other point, they all held it a diſcontinuance; but then Eyre, Chief Juſtice, obſerved, that it being a record of this term, the plaintiff might take judgment by nihil dicit for ſo much as is uncovered by the plea; and cited two inſtances where it was ſo done; Vincent v. Preſton, Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. rol. 183. and the caſe of Marcas v. Johnſon, Hilary, 3 Ann. Salk. 180. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 302.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Hawker v. Hinton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 145 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Miller v. Bradley. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the judgment being affirmed in this court the laſt paper-day of the laſt term, it was inſiſted the capias ad ſatisfaciend. muſt be returnable this term, becauſe the judgment could not be ſigned till the fourth day afterwards, &c. if ſo, then the plaintiff having brought a teſtatum capias ad ſatisfaciend. that muſt be irregular, becauſe there could be no capias ad ſatisfaciendum on a judgment not ſigned, and conſequently nothing to ground a teſtatum ca. ſa. eſpecially as this action was brought by original.

The objection was, that this action being brought by original, no ca. ſa. could iſſue before the judgment was ſigned; and it being obtained the laſt paper-day of the laſt term, it could not be ſigned till after the fourth day afterwards, &c. of this term; ſo there being nothing to warrant a ca. ſa. by conſequence the teſtatum ca. ſa. muſt be irregular.

The council on the other ſide replied, that when the judgment was ſigned, though in the latter end of the laſt term, this by relation is a ſufficient foundation to ſue out a capias the firſt day of the term, which will be a warrant to found a teſtatum returnable in three weeks of Trinity, and ſo good.

To which it was anſwered, that though to ſome purpoſes the term is but one day in law; yet to other purpoſes it is not ſo; as for inſtance, if there are continuances, there can be no judgment before they are entered, and the principal caſe being by original, there could be no judgment entered till the fourth day after of the following term; ſo there could be no ſuch judgment as is now ſet up to ground a teſtatum ca. ſa.

Per curiam. This is a judgment of the firſt day of the term, in which it was obtained by relation, which is ſufficient to ground a ca. ſa. and conſequently a teſtatum ca. ſa. and if there is no difference between an action by bill, and by orginal, it is regular.

As to the continuances being carried on from one term to another, no ſuch thing appears on the record, ſo this execution is regular; it is true, if the continuances had been entered, no execution could be prior to ſuch entry; and ſo is 2 Vent. 104. Prince v. Slaughter, and 2 Lev. 167. Dobſon v. Bell. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. page 190.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. Doe, on the Demiſe of Odiarne v. Whitehead.

Adjudged, that a fine, with proclamations, levied by a tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, will diſcontinue the reverſion in fee as well as diveſt the remainder man in tail, ſo as to put him to his writ of formedon. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 704.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 3. Harris, Executor v. Jones.

On a queſtion before the court, "whether an executor ſhould be permitted to diſcontinue without payment of coſts."

After hearing council on this motion, the court ſaid they were clear that the giving an executor leave to diſcontinue was a matter of diſcretion in the court; and that they ought not to give him leave in any caſe where he had knowingly brought his action wrong, unleſs he would conſent to pay coſts.

Per curiam. Let the plaintiff have a rule to diſcontinue, on payment of coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1451.

Diſfranchiſement.

Hilary, 3 W. & M. The City of Exeter v. Glide.

Per curiam. An alderman deſerting his office is a good cauſe of diſfranchiſement; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, obſerved, that abſenting himſelf from the council, in the very nature of the thing, was the ſame. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 33.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. The King v. Chalke.

On a mandamus directed to the corporation of Wilton, to command them to reſtore an alderman, they made return, that he being Mayor ſuch a year, miſemployed the revenue of the corporation, &c. to ſuch uſe, &c. and that he eraſed one of the books of the corporation, &c. and that being charged with theſe crimes, he had been heard what he could ſay in his defence, and therefore they removed him, &c. An exception was taken to the return, becauſe it did not appear that the party was ſummoned. And the rule in Glide's caſe in this court, Trinity, 4 W. & M. was, that ſummons was neceſſary in all caſes of diſfranchiſement, except where the party does not live within the corporation, but in ſome diſtant place. And though it is ſaid, that he was heard, that might be without ſummons, and therefore unprepared.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A man ought not to be diſfranchiſed until he has been heard in his defence, on notice and preparation; and ſummons is only neceſſary for that purpoſe. Therefore if a man be charged in common council, and ordered to prepare by ſuch a time, this will be good, though there is no actual ſummons; for ſummons is only to give the party opportunity to make his defence, and if he is heard, &c. it is enough. And he ſaid, that he remembered a caſe where the return was, that the party diſfranchiſed in common council, was examined touching particular affairs; and not being able to give ſufficient anſwers, was diſfranchiſed.

The ſecond exception was, that it was not ſaid that the order to remove him was under the ſeal of the corporation.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a burgeſs is conſtituted by patent under the common ſeal, he ought to be diſcharged in like manner; but if by election, there it is only entered in the book, and an order is ſufficient to diſcharge him, ſo that they may diſfranchiſe him without any inſtrument under their common ſeal. And a common council is incident to all corporations of common right, unleſs it is otherwiſe provided by the patent of creation.

The third exception was, that the offences were not ſufficient cauſes of diſfranchiſement; for as to the miſemploying or non-payment of the money, that is no cauſe of forfeiture, becauſe the corporation may have their action for it: beſides, it is not ſaid that he was required to give any account for it. And as to the eraſing of the books, it may be that the entry was wrong, and he only made it as it ought to be; for it is not averred that it was as it ought to be, nor is the eraſure averred to be to the detriment of the corporation. And of this opinion was the whole court; and therefore a peremptory mandamus was granted. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. The Mayor of Coventry.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 292 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Hilary, 4 Ann. The Queen v. The Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, &c. of the Town of Ipſwich.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 293 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. The Queen v. Truebody.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 293 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. The Queen v. Lane.

On a mandamus to reſtore an alderman of Glouceſter, the return was, that he had wrote a letter to another alderman, which was very ſcandalous, and agreed to be a libel.

Per curiam. Though never ſo much a libel, yet there ought to be a conviction for it; it is indictable at common law, and, ſo ought to be proſecuted to a conviction, according to Bagg's caſe; and held to be no good return.

At another day, the council urged, that it was good without a conviction, becauſe he agreed to the fact, and conſented to be turned out.

Per curiam. He cannot conſent, becauſe a libel is a thing of which they have no juriſdiction; they have not the conuſance of the trial of libels.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If he comes to their aſſemblies, and ſhould by parol only come and reſign, I hold that is a good reſignation, if entered on their books as accepted; but a conſent to be turned out I cannot think to be a reſignation, and is no corporate act.

The council then made three diſtinctions.

Firſt, Where the offence is not indictable, but touches the point of office, in ſuch caſe they have juriſdiction to remove without conviction.

Secondly, So likewiſe, where it concerns his duty and office, yet mixed with ſome great crime, why ſhould they have leſs authority, becauſe the offence is greater? as tearing the charters and records of corpoations, that is an offence indictable, and yet much againſt the duty of his office.

Thirdly, Where there is no relation to the office or franchiſe, there it is very juſt that they ſhould have no juriſdiction, as in the caſes of perjury and forgery.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. They cannot examine an infamous offence for the ſake of diſfranchiſing the party; nor can you try whether it is a libel or not a libel, on an action for a falſe return; but I cannot comprehend that this is an offence againſt the franchiſe and duty of his office. 1 Sid. 14. and 1 Sid. The King v. Sadler. Styles 477. Vide Forteſcue, p. 275.

Michaelmas, 11 Ann. The Queen v. The Mayor and Burgeſſes of Pomfret.

In this caſe it was held, that non-attendance at the ſeſſions was not a good cauſe of removal: for the abſence of a ſingle alderman does not hinder the holding of courts, or the validity of the acts of that court; ſo that here abſence does not amount to a non uſer of the office. The court was likewiſe of opinion, that returns to mandamuſes were to be kept to the ſame ſtrictneſs, ſince ſtat. 9 Ann, as before. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 108.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Lord Bruce's Caſe.

On an information in the nature of a quo warranto, being moved for againſt his Lordſhip, to remove him from the office of Recorder, for not attending his duty, it appeared on producing the charter, that there was no clauſe therein, impowering the corporation to remove an officer.

Per curiam. If this is an actual forfeiture, his Lordſhip is out, and you may chuſe another Recorder. If not, it is but a miſdemeanor, and a quo warranto will not lie; beſides the modern opinion has been, that a power of amotion is incident to the corporation. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 819.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. The King v. The Mayor, &c. of Doncaſter.

On a mandamus, directed to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes of Doncaſter, commanding them to reſtore one C. S. to the office of a capital burgeſs of that corporation; the court held that a freeman ſhall not be removed but by charter or preſcription; accordingly the return was quaſhed, and a peremptory mandamus iſſued. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1564.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Richardſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 301 of this work, under the head Corporations.

N. B. In this caſe the court unanimouſly approved of the reſolution in Lord Bruce's caſe, as ſtated in Strange, vol. 2. p. 819.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. The Mayor, Bailiffs, and Common Council of the Town of Liverpool.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 200 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Diſtreſs.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Salter v. Brunſden.

This was an action brought on an act of parliament lately made, empowering the landlord to make ſale of goods diſtrained for rent after a certain time therein limited, in which act there is a proviſo, viz. that in caſe a diſtreſs or ſale ſhall be made for rent (by colour of this act) pretended to be due, when in truth no rent is in arrear, &c. to the perſon diſtraining, that the owner of the goods ſhall have an action of treſpaſs to recover double the value.

The plaintiff had judgment by default, and the court was now moved in arreſt of judgment, and the reaſon offered was, that there muſt be a leſſor and a leſſee to bring this caſe to be within the act, and if there was no demiſe, the act gives no remedy, becauſe it is expreſsly declared therein, viz. that where goods ſhall be diſtrained for rent reſerved, and due on any demiſe, leaſe, or contract, &c. the perſon diſtraining may ſell the ſame, &c.

Now, there is no demiſe ſufficiently ſet forth in this declaration, neither is it ſaid, that the goods were diſtrained for rent in arrear; but that they were taken in the name of a diſtreſs, which is not a good averment that they were diſtrained.

But the court held the declaration to be good. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 231.

Hilary, 7 Ann. Leg v. Stradwick.

The earl of Bedford, on the 2d day of January 1692, demiſed to A. H. from Lady-day 1695, for twenty-one years; which term, by means of aſſignments, came to the defendant; and he, on the 25th day of March 1703, demiſed to J. B. from the 25th day of March, unto the full end and term of one year, and ſo from year to year, as long as both parties ſhould like, rendering 40*l.* rent per annum. J. enjoyed the term from the 21ſt day of March to the 17th day of December, and then died inteſtate; and adminiſtration was granted to the plaintiff, who entered into the ſaid land; and becauſe 60*l.* for a year and an half's rent was due, he avowed taking the cattle. &c. The plaintiff in bar to the avowry ſaid he did not demiſe to B. as he had alledged in the avowry; and on that iſſue was joined, and a verdict found for the defendant.

Laſt term it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that it was but a leaſe for one year to B. then Stradwick's diſtraining for one year and a half's rent was ill, becauſe he diſtrained after the leaſe was ended.

But this term the court gave judgment for the avowant, that the diſtreſs was lawful; for Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, ſuch a leaſe as this is not a leaſe for two years, or a leaſe at will, but it is a leaſe for every particular year, and yet you may diſtrain for ten years rent, at the end of ten years; becauſe one leaſe ſprings ſo out of the other, and out of the ſame contract, as that when one year is ended, there is an end of that leaſe, and when the leſſee enters on another year, it is another leaſe for a year, and ſo on. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 203.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Walter or Walker v. Rumball or Rumbald.

On an action of trover for ſix hogs, a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. that the lands demiſed lying in two counties, viz. part in the hundred of A. in Wilts, and part in the hundred of B. in Southampton, the leſſor for rent in arrear diſtrained in both hundreds, and the diſtreſs being not replevied in five days, notice was given to the owner of the goods, and then he ſent for the conſtable of A. who in the preſence of the conſtable of B. ſold them in the hundred of B. after a legal appraiſement.

Per curiam. Perſonal notice is ſufficient, for notice is the thing required.

2dly, Notice to the owner is ſufficient againſt him in trover; but if the tenant had brought replevin, that would not have ſerved as to him, but he muſt have had notice alſo.

3dly, The act requires the oath ſhould be adminiſtered by the conſtable of the hundred where the goods are, and here the conſtable of A. adminiſtered the oath in the hundred of B. where he had no authority; yet this was held good, becauſe the defendant could not ſever the diſtreſs, it being intire as the cauſe was, and the hundreds contiguous, ſo that the driving was lawful, and a continuance of the firſt taking. Therefore judgment was given for the defendant.

Per curiam. A joint-tenant without any authority from his companion, may diſtrain for the whole rent; but he muſt particularly avow his own right, and for the other part as bailiff of the other. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 76. Salk. vol. 1. 247. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 399. Raym. vol. 1. p. 53.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Britton v. Cole.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a neighbour's cattle eſcape into land, out of which a rent-charge iſſues, and are levant and couchant, (there are good authorities, though they are not levant and couchant) they are diſtrainable for the rent-charge, and the owner ſhall not have them again, unleſs he pays the arrears; which is as hard a caſe as the preſent caſe, for the rent-charge is againſt common right, and commences by the grant of the party. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 305.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Riccards or Richards v. Corneforth, Cornforth, or Cornford. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in replevin, wherein the defendant avowed for rent, and had judgment; the plaintiff in error's council aſſigned for error, that part of the rent became due after the diſtreſs was taken, for the diſtreſs was made on the 26th day of September, 7 W. 3. which was three days before Michaelmas; whereas the defendant had avowed for the Michaelmas rent.

Per curiam. This is naught, for the judgment is to have a return irrepleviſable, i. e. that he ſhall have the diſtreſs as a pledge, till all the rent avowed for be paid, and that was more than was due at the time of the diſtreſs. In this caſe the avowant before judgment ſhould have abated his avowry as to the Michaelmas rent, and taken judgment for the reſt; but the defendant getting his avowry amended in C. B. the roll was amended here in this court, and ſo the error was cured, and the judgment affirmed. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 580. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 363. Raym. vol. 1. p. 255.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Vinkeſtone, Vinkenſterne, or Winkeſline, v. Ebden.

An action of trover was brought for an anchor and ſails, and on not guilty pleaded a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. that the mayor and burgeſſes of Newcaſtle, by cuſtom time out of mind, had uſed and ought to repair the port there, and had in conſideration thereof 5*s.* per chaldron of all coals exported, to be paid by the exporter; and for that, by the ſame cuſtom, had uſed to diſtrain any thing diſtrainable; and that the defendant, being maſter of a veſſel loaded with coals, intended to be carried out of the ſaid port, refuſed, and for this they diſtrained the ſaid anchor and ſails, being part of the tackle belonging to the ſaid ſhip; and if this was diſtrainable they found for the defendant; otherwiſe, for the plaintiff: and it was urged, that the concluſion of the ſpecial verdict being on a ſpecial point, the court could doubt of nothing but what was thereby referred to them. Vide 5 Co. 97. 1 Cro. 21. Mo. 261. pl. 420. However, the court heard and over-ruled all the other objections, and held, 1ſt. That it was not neceſſary the town ſhould ſhew that they actually did keep the port in repair, for their keeping the port in repair is not the conſideration, but their being bound by cuſtom to do it. 2dly. That though the maſter is not ſtrictly the exporter, yet as to port-duties the maſter is always looked on as ſuch, and is the perſon anſwerable; for to put them to ſeek the merchant to anſwer duties is impracticable, and it is but reaſonable the maſter ſhould pay a duty for the benefit of the port, and that the town ſhould have the duty who are to maintain the port.

As to the diſtreſs, it was argued, that inſtruments of trade are not diſtrainable, viz. a millſtone is not; averia carucæ, i. e. cattle of the plough, are not; a horſe in a ſmith's ſhop cannot be diſtrained; and that the goods ſubject to the toll only can be taken, and this was part of the ſhip and going from market. Vide 3 Cro. 227. pl. 14. Dy. 199. 1 Leon. 231. 105. 3 Cro. 550. 569. Noy 68. 1 Inſt. 47. 1 Sid. 348. Dy. 312.

On the other ſide it was ſaid, that averia carucæ are not privileged where there is no other diſtreſs. Vide ſtat. 51. H. 3. 2 Inſt. 122, 123. 565. So it is of inſtruments of trade, as if there be two millſtones, or cattle that are not worked. Mo. 214. Dy. 302. Gobd. 67. Ow. 139. A boat is diſtrainable, ergo a ſhip, and ergo a ſail of a ſhip. Dy. 117. pl. 73.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The duty ariſes from the goods loaded on board the ſhip, with which the maſter is chargeable; therefore the ſhip and every thing thereof, the maſter is chargeable as well as the goods. So the defendant had judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 249. Raym. vol. 1. p. 384. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 216. Ibid. vol. 5. p. 359.

Hilary or Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Horn or Horne, v. Lewin or Luines.

In an action of replevin the defendant made conuſance for 100 l. for rent due and in arrear for one year. The plaintiff, as to 50 l. pleaded that the defendant took the cattle of his own wrong, abſque hoc, that nothing was in arrear, &c. and as to the other 50 l. that he was ready on the land till ſun-ſet, and nobody came to receive it, and that he is ſtill ready to pay it, and brings the money into court: the defendant demurred ſpecially to the firſt plea, becauſe it affected the general iſſue; and as to the other 50 l. he takes it out of the court, and prays his damages; to which the plaintiff demurred.

This caſe being ſeveral times ſpoken to, it was held,

1ſt. That of his own wrong, abſque hoc, &c. was an impertinent round-about way of pleading the general iſſue, and that it amounted to no more than the general iſſue, viz. nothing in arrear, and conſequently was ill on a ſpecial demurrer: alſo this traverſe put the defendant to an unneceſſary replication; therefore as to the 50 l. it was clear for the defendant.

2dly. As to the other 50 l. the court held, 1ſt. That the bare being ready was not ſufficient, and did not amount to a tender without an obtulit, i. e. he offered, and therefore his being ready on the land, ſince he did not tender the rent, did not oblige the grantee to demand the rent before he made diſtreſs. Hob. 207. 1 Vent. 322. and ſo the diſtreſs was lawful without a demand, and then the avowry or conuſance of the defendant ſtands unanſwered. 2dly. The profert of the money was impertinent and idle. Keil. 20. Dy. 227. 2 E. 4. 25. pl. 15. pl. 15. 2 Cro. 126. In debt on a bond, there might be a profert to ſave damages, becauſe there the money is the thing in demand: but it cannot be in an avowry to a replevin, becauſe the avowry is to juſtify the taking the cattle; and whether the money is paid or not, is not the queſtion; but if the diſtreſs was rightfully taken, the avowant muſt have a return, if wrongfully, he muſt anſwer the plaintiff's damages. If then the profert was ſuperfluous, ſo was the avowant's accepting it, and judgment muſt be given for the avowant on the avowry, by which it appears the rent was behind, and the diſtreſs lawful, and to which there is no ſufficient anſwer. And judgment was given for the avowant accordingly. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 584. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 352. Raym. vol. 1. page 639.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. ——— v. Farrell.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a diſtreſs for damage feaſant die in the pound, or eſcape, the party ſhall not retake them; but if it were for rent, in either caſe, he may diſtrain anew; an eſcape of cattle out of a pound, is not like the eſcape of a priſoner out of goal; for if the pound is not good, the diſtrainant may be his own keeper, and put them in his own pound, but he cannot be a keeper of his priſoner; and every pound-keeper is the ſervant of him who impounds the cattle, for that purpoſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 397.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. or Hilary 1 Ann. Vaſper or Vaſpor, or Jaſper, v. Eddows, Eddowes, or Edwards.

On an action of treſpaſs brought for breaking the plaintiff's cloſe, &c. and treading down his graſs with hogs, &c. the defendant, as to all but one hog, pleaded not guilty, and as to that pleaded, that the plaintiff diſtrained it damage-feaſant for the ſame treſpaſs, and impounded it in the common pound; the plaintiff replied, that the hog eſcaped without his aſſent, that he neither then nor yet is ſatisfied for the damage. On demurrer it was ſaid for the plaintiff, that the hog was only as a pledge, and that he could not tie it in the pound, and where a diſtreſs dies, the diſtrainor may diſtrain again. 3 Cro. 162. 2 Leon. 174. pl. 211. 13 H. 4. 17. 2 Inſt. 107. Cro. Car. 148. and that where one pleads levy by diſtreſs, &c. he muſt conclude, and ſo he is nothing indebted, or that he ſtill detains. 28 H. 6. 6. 35 H. 6. 10. &c.

Gould, J. againſt Holt, C. J. and Turton and Powys, Juſtices, who held that there was a time when the plaintiff could not have any action for this treſpaſs, viz. while the hog was in the pound, and it was the plaintiff's fault to put him in a pound which could not hold him; alſo it is the diſtrainor's pound. F. N. 100. He might have put him in any other place, even into a pound covert; and he does not ſay it eſcaped without his fault, but without his aſſent. If a diſtreſs dies in the pound, the action revives, for the diſtreſs failed by the act of God; otherwiſe where it eſcapes, eſpecially unleſs it be made to appear that the plaintiff was in no default; which is not done in this caſe; for his own default ought not to intitle him to another action, nor ſubject the defendant to a double puniſhment for the ſame cauſe, viz. the loſs of his pig, and the damages and coſts of this action: therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 248. Raym. vol. 1. p. 719. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 658. Ibid. vol. 11. p. 21.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Fenwick v. Lady Groſvenor.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 371 of this work, under the head Courts.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If a perſon diſtrain again for the ſame rent, the remedy is a writ of recaption; and if the ſheriff refuſes a replevin, an action lies againſt him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 118.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Morley v. Stacker.

A warant of a juſtice of peace was given to the defendant to levy money by diſtreſs, againſt a perſon convicted of deer-ſtealing, according to the late act of parliament, againſt deer-ſtealers: in purſuance whereof he diſtrained the party's cattle, and ſold them for a certain ſum; but before he paid the money, he was adviſed it was dangerous for him to ſell the cattle, for it was doubtful whether the words of the act warranted a ſale: on this he came to Morley, and proffered him the money if he would ſave him harmleſs, which Morley denied to do: whereon he undid the bargain, and reſtored the money to the buyer, and the cattle to the firſt owner. And now a mandamus was moved for to compel him to pay the money to Morley; and this was the more ſtrongly inſiſted on, for that they could not charge him in any action, without giving the warrant in evidence, which was out of their power, being in his cuſtody.

Per curiam. 1ſt, It has been ſolemnly reſolved in the caſe of the King v. Speed, that theſe words in an act of parliament, to be levied by diſtreſs, muſt be underſtood of a diſtreſs and ſale.

2dly, That a copy of the warrant would be good evidence in this caſe.

3dly, If an officer, who has power to ſell, ſells on credit, when he may ſell for ready money, he is thereby immediately charged to the party for whom the ſale was.

4thly, That in a doubtful caſe it is hard to make an officer ſell at his peril.

Note, In this caſe, after the warrant iſſued out, a certiorari was brought, and the record thereby removed up hither, and that could not hinder the execution; as if a writ of error comes to the C. B. after execution is ſued out, the return of the writ of execution muſt be in the C. B. and if goods are taken in execution before the writ of error is allowed, after the record is returned here above, a writ of venditioni exponas ſhall iſſue out of the C. B. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 83.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Dod v. Monger.

In an action on the caſe, for reſcuing goods which the plaintiff had diſtrained for rent, the plaintiff declared, that he was ſeiſed in fee of a certain meſſuage, &c. and being ſo ſeiſed, demiſed it to J. S. for a year, and ſo from year to year, as long as both parties ſhould pleaſe, by a parol demiſe, reſerving rent; and for rent arrear he diſtrained, and the diſtreſs was reſcued from him by the defendant, for which this action was brought; and here the plaintiff having laid a ſeiſin in himſelf, was forced to prove it; and in proving the leaſe, it appeared to be for a year, and ſo from year to year as long as both parties ſhould pleaſe; and that the leſſee ſhould not go away without giving a quarter's warning: and it was inſiſted on, that the leaſe given in evidence, varied from the leaſe in the declaration, ſo that they failed in proving their declaration.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is well enough; for the agreement concerning the quarter's warning is only a collateral agreement, not at all affecting the land in point of intereſt, but collaterally binding the perſon of the leſſee, and therefore it need not be mentioned in the declaration: and in this caſe, if at the year's end the leſſee had given up the poſſeſſion without any warning, he would have been liable to pay a quarter's rent, by virtue of this agreement; but if he had given a quarter's warning, he might have quitted without more ado; but if he once entered on the ſecond year, he would be bound for all that year, and a quarter's warning, and ſo on; and ſo it would have been if ſuch a leaſe had been by deed: if a leaſe is for a year, and ſo from year to year as long as both parties ſhall pleaſe, that is a leaſe binding but one year; but if the leſſee without a countermand of the leſſor, enter on the ſecond year, he is bound for that year, and ſo on: but if it is a leaſe for a year, and ſo from year to year, till ſix years expire, that is a certain leaſe for ſix years; if it is for a year, and ſo from year to year, as long as both parties ſhall agree, till ſix years ſhall expire, that is a leaſe for ſix years, determinable at every year's end, at the will of either party.

He alſo held, if a landlord come into a houſe, and ſeizes on ſome goods as a diſtreſs, in the name of all the goods in the houſe, that will be a good ſeizure of all: but he muſt remove them in convenient time at common law; and now ſince the late ſtatute of W. & M. immediately, except it is hay or corn; and here, for that the ſeizure was on Monday, though of barrels of beer, not eaſily removeable, if at all, without damage, and no removal till Wedneſday, when the defendant took them by virtue of a replevin, in which the leſſee, not the diſtrainant, was made defendant; and beſides, the plaintiff quitted the poſſeſſion of them the two intervening nights, and had not the poſſeſſion at the time of the taking, by virtue of the replevin, without which there could be no reſcous: the plaintiff was nonſuited. In this caſe it appeared alſo, that the diſtrainant drew beer out of one of the barrels, which Holt held, made him a treſpaſſer from the beginning, as to that barrel only. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 215.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Tracy v. Talbot.

In an action of replevin, the caſe on evidence at niſi prius was as follows, viz. the plaintiff having been a lodger in the pariſh for ſome time before, took part of a houſe there on the 23d day of December, and was rated to the pariſh as an inhabitant for the quarter, expiring at Chriſtmas, and before Chriſtmas the diſtreſs was made for the rate, by virtue of a general warrant made long before for the whole year, firſt in reſpect of ſeparate tenements chargeable to the pariſh.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, one houſe originally and intire and undiſtinct, may become ſeveral and diſtinct, by dividing it into diſtinct partitions, and allotting them diſtinct avenues, ſo as the ſeveral inhabitants have no communication one with another: and in that caſe, if the owner of the houſe lives in one of the ſeparate apartments himſelf, and an inhabitant of another ſeparate apartment goes away, that tenement which he occupied is not now an empty tenement, but the poſſeſſion of it devolves on the owner, and that with the tenement in his poſſeſſion before make now but one intire tenement, for which he is rateable to the pariſh: but if there are two ſeveral tenements originally, and they become inhabited by ſeveral families, who make but one avenue for both, and uſe it promiſcuouſly; yet, in reſpect of the original ſeverally, they continue ſeverally rateable.

He alſo held, that if the party removed into another pariſh in the ſame county, they might diſtrain by a warrant from the juſtices as well as in the ſame pariſh; but if he removed out of the county, that remedy failed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 214.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Griffin v. Scott & al.

In an action of treſpaſs for entering his houſe, and keeping poſſeſſion of his goods eight days, the defendant juſtified under a diſtreſs for rent; to which the plaintiff replied a tender; and on a demurrer it was objected, that it ought to be pleaded with an uncore preſt. Lutw. 591. Tho. ent. 265. Winch. 939. Cro. Jac. 423. Salk. 622.

Per curiam. Be the replication good or bad, yet we muſt go back to the firſt fault, which is in the plea, for the defendant ought to have removed the goods at the five days end; and for the other three he is a treſpaſſer, and there is no juſtification; therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 717. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1424.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. Lynne v. Moody. Error.

The plaintiff brought an action of treſpaſs in C. B. for taking an exceſſive diſtreſs, and on a writ of error being brought in this court, the judgment was reverſed; for that treſpaſs would not lie where the entry at firſt was lawful, and here was nothing ſubſequent to make it a treſpaſs, as there is where the diſtreſs is abuſed: the remedy ought to be by a ſpecial action founded on the ſtatute of Marlebridge, 3 Lev. 48. for at common law the party might take a diſtreſs of more value than the rent, ſo as to make it more eligible for the party to redeem the goods by payment of the rent: here was ſome rent due, ſo a diſtreſs was lawful, and as it was but one act, it cannot be a treſpaſs. Vide Stra. vol. 2. page 851.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Rogers v. Birkmire.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking goods, the defendant juſtified, that he demiſed ſome tenements to the plaintiff for one term, and others for another term; and there being rent in arrear on both demiſes, he diſtrained the goods. And on a demurrer it was held ill, for there being ſeparate demiſes, there ought to have been ſeparate diſtreſſes on the ſeveral premiſſes ſubject to the diſtinct rents; and no diſtreſs on one part can be good for both rents: therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1040.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Browning v. Dann and others.

In an action of treſpaſs for breaking and entering the plaintiff's cellar, and taking and carrying away ſix butts of beer, and for with-holding the poſſeſſion for fourteen days, the defendants juſtified, viz. the ſaid Dann in his own right, and the ſaid other defendants as his ſervants, and Dann pleaded, that the cellar was parcel of a meſſuage, whereof he was ſeized in his demeſne, as of a freehold for the term of his life, and that he demiſed the ſaid meſſuage to one T. K. at will, at the rent of 12 l. 10 s. per ann. by virtue whereof he entered, and being ſo poſſeſſed, 12 l. 10 s. became due and in arrear for rent, and therefore he entered into the ſaid cellar, with the aſſent of the ſaid T. K. the leſſee, in order to diſtrain for the ſaid arrear, and did then and there take the ſaid ſix buts of beer, then being in the ſaid cellar in the name of a diſtreſs for the ſaid rent, and impounded the ſaid diſtreſs in the ſaid cellar, and continued the ſame there, till afterwards he again entered into the ſaid cellar, as his proper freehold, and delivered the ſaid ſix butts to the plaintiff on a replevin thereof granted to him; and ſo withheld the poſſeſſion for fourteen days, as being the proper cellar of the ſaid Dann.

The plaintiff replied, as to the breaking and entering the cellar, and taking ſix butts, that the ſaid ſix buts were in the ſaid cellar, in poſſeſſion of the ſaid plaintiff locked up there, and being ſo locked up in the ſaid cellar, the ſaid defendants in the night time broke and entered into the ſaid cellar in which, &c. ſo locked up as aforeſaid, and then in the poſſeſſion of the ſaid plaintiff, and then and there took the ſaid butts by colour of a diſtreſs, and impounded them in the ſaid cellar, and continued the ſame till afterwards they entered; and this he is ready to verify; and as to the with-holding the poſſeſſion of the ſaid cellar, he replied, that the ſaid T. K. had and continued in poſſeſſion of thereof, from Lady-day 1734, to Lady-day 1735, and on the laſt mentioned feaſt, the ſaid T. K. paid to the ſaid Dann a year's rent, which he accepted.

The defendant rejoined as to the breaking and entering the cellar, and taking the beer, on the ſaid 3d of April, 1734, in the day time, into the ſaid cellar, then being parcel of the ſaid meſſuage, through the ſaid meſſuage, the door of the ſaid meſſuage, and alſo the door of the ſaid cellar then being open, in order to diſtrain, &c. and then and there in the day time the ſaid beer, then being in the ſaid cellar, &c. and traverſed the entering and taking in the night, with and this he is ready to verify; and as to the replication as to with-holding the poſſeſſion, proteſted that T. K. did not pay the ſaid rent as above alledged; they demurred, and ſhewed for cauſe, that the plaintiff had made ſeveral replications to their own plea and juſtification.

The plaintiff by ſur-rejoinder demurred generally to the firſt part of the rejoinder, and joined in demurrer as to the laſt.

And on both theſe demurrers the court were of opinion for the defendants; for on the plaintiff's demurrer to the rejoinder, it was againſt him, becauſe he cannot take advantage of duplicity, which was the objection made to it, without having ſhewn it for cauſe of demurrer, which was not done here: and Lord Hardwicke ſaid he was of that opinion, even if it was not double; and obſerved, that if the outer door of an houſe is open, a perſon may break an inner door to make a diſtreſs; and ſo one may on an execution. And on the defendant's demurrer to the replication, it is likewiſe againſt him, for the replication is double in alledging the diſtreſs to be in the night, and that K. continued the poſſeſſion by payment of rent; therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 167.

Trinity, 21 Geo. 2: Gimbart v. Pelah.

The defendant juſtified impounding cattle damage feaſant. And on evidence it appeared, that he put them in the next pound, though it happened to be in another county. And on 3 Lev. 48. the Chief Juſtice held it did not make him a treſpaſſer, though it ſubjected him to the penalty in the ſtatute 1 & 2 Philip & Mary, c. 12. wherefore a verdict was given for the defendant. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1272.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. Hutchins v. Chambers, and others:

On a ſpecial caſe from the Surry Aſſizes, tried before Willes, Chief Juſtice, on an action of treſpaſs againſt the juſtices of peace, the pariſh officers, the conſtables, and their aſſiſtants, for executing a warrant of diſtreſs made by two juſtices on a poor's rate, amounting to 13 l. 2 s.

In this caſe five queſtions were ſtated for the opinion of the court, viz.

1ſt. Whether the rate and aſſeſſment was good and ſufficient in point of law; if not, whether the plaintiff could avail himſelf of any objection to it?

2dly. Whether the warrant ought to have fixed and limited the time within which the things diſtrained were to be ſold; and if for want thereof the warrant is void, or any, and which of them are treſpaſſers?

3dly. Whether the ſecond diſtreſs taken is juſtifiable?

4thly. Whether the geldings being beaſts of the plough, and uſed by the plaintiff both for the plough and cart, were liable to be taken in diſtreſs for the rate? &c.

5thly. Whether, on the whole ſtate of the caſe, the action is maintainable againſt the defendants, or any, and which of them?

Note. A ſixth queſtion aroſe on the argument, viz.

Whether the ſecond diſtreſs was not exceſſive?

On the firſt argument on this caſe, Lord Mansfield (being informed that the parties intended to ſpeak to it again) obſerved, that every thing about the rates was clearly out of the queſtion, for if they are bad, the parties who thought themſelves aggrieved ſhould have appealed.

After hearing the council on both ſides on the ſecond argument of this caſe, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. As on the firſt argument, the two firſt objections are laid out of the queſtion, and the matter is reduced to the three laſt queſtions. As to the firſt queſtion, "whether cattle of the plough may be taken "for a diſtreſs on the poor's rate, where there are other "diſtrainable goods ſufficient?"

The ſolid diſtinction is, that the ſeizing under ſtat. 43 of Eliz. is but partly analogous to the common law diſtreſs, (as being repleviſable, &c.) but is much more analogous to the common law execution, (like a fieri fac. where the ſurplus after ſale ſhall be returned.)

In the old common law diſtreſſes, which were in nature of a penalty, to compel payment, it would have been abſurd to have ſuffered the implements by which a man gains his livelihood to be holden as a pledge, becauſe that would have been taking from the man the only means he had of being able to pay the debt, but this reaſoning will not hold, where the things diſtrained may be immediately ſold by way of ſatisfaction, which tho' called a diſtreſs, yet really is in this caſe an execution.

On this ground we are all of opinion that there is no objection to the firſt diſtreſs from the cattle of the plough being taken, for they are diſtrainable under ſtat. 43 El. &c.

As to the ſecond diſtreſs, the firſt queſtion relating thereto is, "whether the ſecond diſtreſs can be juſtified; "it was a ſecond diſtreſs taken under the ſame warrant, "when enough might have been taken at firſt, if the "diſtrainer had then thought proper."

A man who has an entire duty ſhall not ſplit the entire ſum, and diſtrain for part at one time, and part at another, becauſe that would be great oppreſſion, if a man ſeizes for the whole ſum due to him, and only miſtakes the value of the goods ſeized there is no reaſon why he ſhould not afterwards compleat his execution by making a further ſeizure.

As to the third objection, viz. it being exceſſive, and as ſuch it being a ſufficient ground for an action of treſpaſs;

It has been ſufficiently eſtabliſhed, that a general action of treſpaſs cannot be maintained for taking an exceſſive diſtreſs.

We are therefore all of us of opinion, that there is no cauſe of action maintainable by the plaintiff in the preſent caſe, nor has he any right to recover againſt any of the defendants, and that the defendants be at liberty to enter a nonſuit.

Per curiam. Let the poſtea be delivered to, and judgment entered for the defendants. Vide Bur. vol. 1. page 580.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 3. Francis v. Wyatt.

On an action of replevin brought for diſtraining a chariot of the plaintiff's, which ſtood in a coach-houſe belonging to, and part of a livery ſtable.

The queſtion on arguing the demurrer was, "Whether a gentleman's chariot which ſtood in a "coach-houſe belonging to a common livery ſtable "keeper was diſtrainable for rent due to the landlord, "from the livery ſtable keeper, for this coach-houſe, "which (together with the ſtables, &c.) he rented of "of the landlord who diſtrained it."

After hearing council on both ſides, on two arguments, no determination was given, the plaintiff in replevin not chuſing to bring the matter to another argument, ment, but Lord Manſfield, Chief Juſtice, and Wilmot and Yates, Juſtices, ſaw this queſtion in ſuch a light, with regard to its conſequences even to landlords, owners, and keepers of livery ſtables, as well as to gentlemen who uſed them, (ſhould this diſtreſs be adjudged a good one) that they informed the landlord who happened to be perſonally preſent, that it might be well worth his while to conſider whether it would be for his own intereſt to wiſh, "that judgment "ſhould be formally pronounced for him."

Note, It appeared clear, that the plaintiff's chariot was liable to the diſtreſs, and that there was not the leaſt ſhadow of legal claim for an exemption. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1498.

Diſtribution.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Petit v. Smith.

A prohibition was granted to the court of delegates, to ſtay a ſuit there. &c. becauſe they compelled an executor to make diſtribution of the ſurplus, he having 50 l. deviſed to him by the will as a legacy; becauſe, there being a will and an executor, the ſpiritual court cannot compel diſtribution, but only where the party dies inteſtate. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 86. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 247.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Oldiſon or Olderoon v. Pickering.

In this caſe it was adjudged, that though an eſtate pur auter vie is made aſſets by ſtat. 29 Car. 2. yet it is not diſtributable within ſtat. 22 Car. 2. for diſtribution of inteſtates eſtates, becauſe diſtribution is a quality not neceſſarily included in the notion of aſſets, as payment of debts is; and this laſt ſtatute is only, that goods and chattels ſhall be diſtributed; now an eſtate pur auter vie is not properly goods or chattels, but remains a freehold, though it is aſſets by the firſt ſtatute. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 138. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 96.

Trinity, 12 or 13 W. 3. Pett v. Pett; or, The King v. Raines.

The court was moved for a mandamus to the ordinary to make diſtribution on ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 10. and the queſtion was, whether the brother's grandſon ſhould have a ſhare with the daughter of the ſiſter of the inteſtate? The words of the ſtatute are, Provided no repreſentatives be admitted among collaterals after brothers and ſiſters children. And it was urged, that this act was a remedial law, to prevent the miſchief of adminiſtrators ſweeping away the whole perſonal eſtate of the inteſtate, and therefore to be taken largely. But not allowed.

Per curiam. Brothers children are the children of the inteſtate's brother; for the inteſtate is the ſubject of the act, it is his eſtate, his wife, his children, and by the ſame reaſon his brother's children; for he is equally the co-relative to all. 1 Vent. Tracy's caſe, in which Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, a conſultation was at laſt awarded. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 250. Raym. vol. 1. p. 57. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 409.

Eaſter or Trinity, 13 W. 3. Blackborough v. Davis or Davies.

Adminiſtration being granted to the grandmother, the aunt moved for a mandamus to have it granted to her, which was denied, and now ſhe moved for a mandamus to have diſtribution, being in equal degree; and it was urged, ſhe was not intitled to it, being not ſo near as the grandmother; for the grandmother ſtands in the place of the mother, and is in the ſecond degree to the inteſtate; the aunts are daughters of the grandmother, and the daughters cannot be in equal degree with the mother. Before ſtat. 1 Jac. 2. c. 17. If a perſon died without wife or child, the mother had all, and his brothers and ſiſters nothing. The father ſurviving, has all at this day, and the reaſon of making that act was, becauſe the mother might marry and carry all that away to another huſband.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. No mandamus ought to be in this caſe. By the common law, before and at the conqueſt, the children, both male and female inherited alike, and the eſtate, whether real or perſonal, deſcended to all equally. Seld. Eadem. 134. Lamb. Sax. laws 36. fo. 167. In the reign of H. 1. females began to be excluded as to the real eſtate, and the males inherited equally the ſocage land. Glanv. l. 7. c. 3. at that time the land deſcended to the father, if the ſon died without iſſue. Lamb. 202, 203. L. L. H. 1. c. 70. And yet about this time, or in the time of H. 2. the father and mother began to be excluded as to the real eſtate, but not as to the perſonal. And as by common law, father and mother are nearer than brother or ſiſter, grandfather and grandmother are nearer than uncle or aunt. And the grandmother in this caſe is the root of the kindred; whereas the aunt is only a branch. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 251. Raym. vol. 1. 684. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 65.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. There never is a diſtribution ordered by the eccleſiaſtical court, but where the party dies inteſtate, or the will directs it; but Chancery does ſometimes inforce a diſtribution where the will does not direct it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 566.

Hilary, 6 Ann. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury v. Willis.

Per curiam. Any perſon that is intitled to diſtribution within ſtat. 22 Car. 2. c. 10. is by conſequence intitled to ſue the adminiſtrator in the eccleſiaſtical court, to make good his account by proof and examination on oath, as a legatee was againſt an executor before that ſtatute. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 251.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. D'Eath v. Baux.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 212 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Hilary, or Eaſter, 3 Geo. 2. Hatton v. Hatton.

A prohibition was prayed to the ſpiritual court, to ſtay a ſuit there againſt an executor for diſtribution of the ſurplus of the teſtator's eſtate after the debts and legacies were paid; it was inſiſted they have no authority when a will is made, 5 Mod. 247. and the prohibition was granted on debate. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 126. Stra. vol. 2. p. 865.

Dower.

Trinity, 2 W. & M. Moraunt v. Thorold, Bar.

The plaintiff brought a ſcire facias as adminiſtrator of the lady T. on a judgment in dower obtained by her againſt the defendant, to have the value of the damages, coſts, meſne profits and waſte, from the time of the death of her huſband, &c. which judgment was removed by writ of error out of the C. B. into this court, and there affirmed; after which, and before the writ of inquiry was executed, the lady died, and adminiſtration was committed to the plaintiff, who brought this writ. The defendant pleaded that no damages were adjudged to the feme in her life-time, &c. To which plea the plaintiff demurred, and the court reſolved that this was a good plea; for if damages had been aſcertained on the writ of inquiry, and judgment thereon, ſuch damages had then veſted in the inteſtate as a debt, and the adminiſtrator would have had them; but ſhe dying before the final jndgment, and when the damages were due to her only by way of ſatisfaction for an injury, which is in nature of a treſpaſs, and the writ of inquiry being in nature of a perſonal action for them, it goes with the perſon, and a ſcire facias lies not for the executor or adminiſtrator: therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Noy 126. 3 Lev. 275. Shower 97. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 252.

Eaſter, 3 W. & M. Burdon v. Burdon. Error.

On a writ of error on a judgment in the court of Durham on a writ of dower; the defendant after imparlance had pleaded detainer of charters, and on demurrer judgment was given by the court for the demandant, which was now affirmed.

Per curiam. He that pleads this plea muſt plead, that from the time of the death of his anceſtors he was provided for, and that ſuch proviſion is ſtill remaining to aſſign her dower, if ſhe would deliver the charters. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 252.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. The Lord Gerard v. The Lady Gerard. Error.

On a writ of error on a judgment in C. B, given on a writ of dower, where the tenant as to part confeſſed the action, and judgment was given in C. B. and a miſericordia entered againſt the tenant; and as to the reſt, the tenant pleaded, that the meſſuage in demand had time out of mind been called as well Gerard's Bromley, as Bromley-Hall; that Sir T. G. was ſeiſed thereof in his demeſne as of fee; and being ſo ſeiſed, King James I. by letters patent under the great ſeal of England, created the ſaid Sir T. G. baron of Gerard's Bromley, and that he reſided with his family in the ſaid capital meſſuage, and ſo the meſſuage in demand became, and had ever ſince continued, the plea of caput baroniæ, brings down the deſcent both of the barony and meſſuage to himſelf, and demands judgment, if of the third part thereof the demandant ought to be endowed. The demandant demurred, and judgment was given in C. B. for the demandant, and another miſericordia entered againſt the tenant, who now brought error, and aſſigned for error,

1ſt. That the demandant ought not to be endowed of caput baroniæ, becauſe it is for the honour of the kingdom to have the chief ſeat kept entire; and for authorities were cited 1 Inſt. 31. b. F. Abr. Dower 180. Bract. lib. 2. 170. b. p. 4. H. 3. Rot. 7.

2dly. That there ought not to be two miſericordias; for it is repugnant to this maxim in law, that nobody can be puniſhed twice for one offence; and ſo is Specot's caſe, 5 Rep. 57. and Peytoe's caſe. As to the firſt point, the defendant's council in error argued, that the authorities cited on the other ſide were of feudal baronies, of which there were not any remaining at this time except Arundel; of which opinion were the whole court. Rokeſby, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that was the ground we went on in the C. B.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Feudal baronies were when the king in the creation of the baronies gave lands and rents to hold of him for the defence of the realm. But the King could not make this a barony which was in the ſeiſin of the Gerards before. As to the ſecond point the council argued, that here were two delays, which are two ſeveral offences, and two ſeveral judgments, and therefore there ſhould be two ſeveral amerciament; 2 Leon. pl. 231. 1 Ro. Abr. 213, 218, Barry's caſe, Fitz. Abr. Judgment 32. Raſt. Ent. 19. Co. Entr. 169. b. and that Specot's caſe was not againſt this, becauſe the ſecond judgment there was erroneous, there being no delay in the defendant. Br. Amerciament, 16, 17, 56. inſinuates, that where there is a final judgment given, there muſt be a miſericordia, and then, if there is a new delay, there muſt be a new miſericordia, and Peytoe's caſe is only a ſaying of the council; therefore judgment was affirmed by the whole court on both points. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 253. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 84. Ibid. vol. 5. p. 64. Raym. vol. 1. p. 64.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Coot v. Berty.

On a writ of dower, the defendant pleaded elopement in the wife; the wife replied, that her huſband had bargained and ſold her to the adulterer; and held bad; and licence by a huſband to a wife, to lie with another man, cannot be pleaded in bar to an action of treſpaſs by the huſband; nor that ſhe was a notorious lewd woman; though theſe matters may be given in mitigation of damages. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 232.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Smith v. Angel.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 123 of this work, under the head Aſſets.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Wood v. Branford. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in dower in the C. B. and on in no error pleaded, it was aſſigned for error, that it was againſt an infant who appeared by attorney, when he ſhould have appeared by guardian.

Per curiam. Though it is after in no error pleaded, yet we may grant a certiorari ad informandus conſcientias, and a dowager is a kind of a purchaſer. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 104.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Booth v. The Marquis of Lindſey and others.

The plaintiff brought an ejectment for lands in Lincolnſhire, on the demiſe of the Counteſs Dowager of Lindſey. On not guilty pleaded, the leſſor made a title under a judgment, on a writ of dower, brought by her for the third part of the manors of G. S. and E. in which ſhe had judgment to recover the ſaid third part of the ſaid manors; and thereon a writ of ſeiſin iſſued, whereon the ſheriff returned, that he had given her ſeiſin of the lands in queſtion, as the third part of the ſaid manors. It was inſiſted, that the plaintiff ought to prove the lands in the return, part of the ſaid manors.

Per curiam. That ſhall be preſumed, unleſs the defendant proves the contrary, becauſe it ſhall not be intended the ſheriff has done wrong. And for the ſame reaſon it ſhall be intended, that the ſheriff has given ſeiſin but of a third.

Then the defendant's council offered to give in evidence an old term for 500 years, created by R. Earl of Lindſey, by his marriage ſettlement, made on the marriage with his firſt Lady (the leſſor being his third wife) which was ſtill ſubſiſting, and was now in the executors of the late Lord Chief Baron Montague, who was ſurviving truſtee, the term being in truſt for raiſing portions for the daughters of that marriage, which truſt was not yet performed, 6000 l. being yet due to the counteſs of Rivers, who was a daughter of that marriage.

The court unanimouſly reſolved, that unleſs the defendants would derive a title under that term, or ſhew they had a title prior to the recovery (which they could not do) they were eſtopped by the recovery to give this term in evidence. For 1ſt, as to the Marquis of Lindſey, who was tenant in the writ of dower, they held, that if he would have took advantage of this term, he ſhould have pleaded in the C. B. to the writ of dower, not in bar of the action, for it is no bar in dower, but in delay of the execution; which he not doing, but pleading never ſeized in dower, he cannot now give it in evidence, for that would be in effect to falſify the recovery; for the Lady has recovered her dower as in poſſeſſion, whereas had this term been pleaded, ſhe would have received but in reverſion; ſo the Marquis is eſtopped to give it in evidence by the judgment. Then the other defendants being all his tenants, are eſtopped likewiſe, claiming under him. But if they could ſhew any leaſes prior to the recovery, then the court would give them leave ſo far to falſify the recovery; but being only tenants to the Marquis, they are eſtopped as well as him.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that theſe defendants were not within the ſtatute, which gives termors leave to falſify recoveries. At common law, no termor could falſify a recovery in a real action; then the ſtatute of Glouc. c. 11. gave termors remedy where judgments were let go by default; then ſtat. 21 Hen. 8. c. 15. gave termors leave to falſify recoveries in any real action in all caſes; but then ſuch perſon muſt ſhew himſelf to be a termor, or derive a title under the term; but the tenant of the land being a mere ſtranger to the term, is not within the benefit of that ſtatute, ſo as to give a term of a third perſon in evidence to falſify the recovery againſt himſelf, or thoſe under whom he claims, which is the preſent caſe. To which the other judges agreed, and refuſed the defendant's council, though very importunate, to admit them to give evidence of that term of 500 years; but offered to ſign a bill of exceptions, which the council declining to offer, but attempted to falſify the ſheriff's return of the writ of ſeiſin, by proving, that the lands in the return, or at leaſt a great part of them were not parcel of any of the three manors.

But as to this, the court was clear in opinion, that for whatever was compriſed in the return, which was not part of the manors in the judgment, the execution was actually void, and advantage might be taken of it in ejectment.

On which the defendants council attempted to prove the lands in the return not parcel of the manors, but being very deficient in their proofs, a verdict was was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1293.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Spiller and Wife v. Adams or Andrews.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 335 of this work, under the head Damages.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Kent v. Kerry.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 354 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Hilary, 7 Geo. 2. Hooker v. Hooker.

A queſtion in dower was ſent by the Court of Chancery for the opinion of this court.

The caſe was; W. Hooker the elder and wife, and W. Hooker the younger and wife, by their deed, dated the 12th day of July 1699, covenanted to levy a fine to the uſe of the conuſee in fee; the fine was levied, and afterwards the conuſees, by leaſe and releaſe, convey to Y. and G. for the uſe of W. Hooker the elder for life, and to his wife, if ſhe ſhould ſurvive, then to W. Hooker the younger, (who was ſon and heir apparent of W. Hooker the elder) remainder to his firſt and other ſons in tail, remainder to his daughters in tail, remainder to Hooker the elder in fee; with power to Hooker the younger to ſettle on any other wife. W. Hooker the elder and his wife died without other iſſue in the life-time of W. Hooker the younger, whoſe wife alſo died. He had two other wives, and the laſt is the plaintiff; and he being dead without iſſue, the queſtion is, whether this laſt wife is intitled to dower in theſe lands?

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Hardwicke. The general queſtions in this caſe are, 1ſt. Whether the contingent remainder was deſtroyed by the reverſion in fee falling on the eſtate for life? And, 2dly. Admitting that it was not, and there might be an opening, whether this poſſibility would deſtroy the dower?

I am inclined to think the remainder is deſtroyed; the collecting the intent of the parties by any ſubſequent act dehors the conveyance ought not to be taken into conſideration, and therefore to ſay any other matter than what appears on the face of the conveyance to have been in the contemplation of the parties, cannot be of any weight. Kent v. Harpool was a very ſtrong caſe.

But ſuppoſing it were not ſo, and there was a poſſibility of the eſtates opening in this caſe to let in the contingent remainder, yet I do not think it would defeat the dower.

The diſtinctions in the law books are, that where a remainder comes in it ſhall work no wrong. I do not find that any of the books ſay, that if the eſtates opened during the tenancy in fee, that the wife ſhall not be endowed; in Cordell's caſe, Cro. Eliz. 316. it is ſaid, that it was reſolved that the eſtate tail in that caſe was not executed for the probability of the meſne eſtate that might interpoſe, and therefore, as it was always disjoined during the life of the tenant in tail, his wife could not be endowed; but in 2 Saund. 336. this caſe is denied to be law; and I have ſeen a note of the like caſe in the C. B. where it was likewiſe denied to be law by Bridgman.

Page, Juſtice. Here is nothing but a poſſibility which has never happened, nor now can happen, to diſtinguiſh this eſtate from an eſtate in fee, therefore I think the wife is plainly intitled to her dower.

Probyn, Juſtice. The diſtinctions taken in this caſe may be allowed, and yet the widow be intitled to her dower; beſides, it is impoſſible now the contingencies ever ſhould happen.

Lee, Juſtice. Kent v. Harpool is to me a very ſtrong caſe; the words of the book are a veſting under ſuch a form, but here there is an actual limitation to the right heirs, which makes the eſtate veſted, and if an abſolute veſting, there never can be an opening to let in remainders, but is an utter deſtruction of it.

Lord Hardwicke. The caſe of Boothby v. Vernon does not come up to this caſe, for the wife there was but a bare tenant for life, with a poſſibility to her iſſue.

Per curiam. We are all clear of opinion that the widow in this caſe is intitled to dower: therefore judgment was given for the demandant. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 13.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. Dobſon v. Dobſon and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 215 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. Kent v. Kent.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 336 of this work, under the head Damages.

Eccleſiaſtical Matters, &c.

Trinity, 1 W. & M. Woodward v. Makepeace.

Woodward, who lived in the dioceſe of Litchfield and Coventry, but occupied lands in the pariſh of D. in the dioceſe of Peterborough, was there taxed in reſpect of his land, as an inhabitant, towards a rate for new-caſting of the bells, and becauſe he refuſed to pay, was cited into the court of the Biſhop of Peterborough, and libelled againſt for this matter.

Per curiam. 1ſt, This is not a citing out of the dioceſe, within ſtat. 32 H. 8. c. 9. for he is an inhabitant where he occupies the land, as well as where he perſonally reſides. Vide Cro. Jac. 321. Cro. Car. 97. 2dly. Though he does not perſonally live in the pariſh, yet by having lands in his hands, he is taxable; and whereas it was pretended the bells were but ornaments, it was held, they were more than mere ornaments; that they were as neceſſary as the ſteeple, which is of no uſe without the bells; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, if he be an inhabitant as to the church, which is confeſſed, how can he not be an inhabitant as to the ornaments of the church? Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 164.

Ball v. Croſs.

The inhabitants of a chapelry within a pariſh were proſecuted in the eccleſiaſtical court, for not paying towards the repairs of the pariſh church; and the caſe was, thoſe of the chapelry never had contributed, but always buried in the mother-church, till about Henry the eight's time, the biſhop was prevailed on to conſecrate them a burial-place, in conſequence of which, they agreed to pay towards the repair of the mother-church; all which appeared on the libel.

And Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that by common law the pariſhioners of every pariſh are bound to repair the church, but by the cannon law the parſon is obliged to do it; and ſo it is in foreign countries. In London the pariſhioners repair both church and chancel, tho' the freehold is in the parſon, and it is part of his glebe, for which he may bring an ejectment.

In the principal caſe, thoſe of a chapelry may preſcribe to be exempt from repairing the mother-church, as where it buries and chriſtens within itſelf, and has never contributed to the mother-church: for in that caſe it ſhall be intended coeval, and not a latter erection in caſe of thoſe of the chapelry; but here it appears, that the chapel could be only an erection in eaſe and favour of them of the chapelry; for they of the chapelry buried at the mother-church till Henry the eighth's time, and then undertook to contribute to the repairs of the mother-church. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 165.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Styrrup v. Stoakes.

Adjudged, that if money is diſburſed by the churchwardens for repairing the church, or any thing elſe, merely eccleſiaſtical or ſpiritual; the ſpiritual courts ſhall allow their accounts; but if there is any thing elſe, that is an agreement between the pariſhioners, the ſucceeding churchwardens may have an action of account at law, and the ſpiritual court has no juriſdiction of the ſame. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 9.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Hele v. The Biſhop of Exeter.

On a writ of quare impedit brought, the Biſhop pleaded, that the church became vacant on the 15th of April, and that the plaintiff preſented to him one H. and that on examining H. he found him ignorant of the dead languages, and on that account an improper perſon to hold a benefice, &c. and therefore refuſed him on the 20th of June, and gave the plaintiff notice; and becauſe no other was preſented within ſix months after the avoidance, he collated the other defendant (the incumbent) who was inſtituted. The incumbent pleaded to the ſame effect. The plaintiff replied, that H. at the time of his preſentation was Vicar of another church: that he was a learned man, and in prieſts orders; that he was licenced to preach; and had celebrated divine ſervice many years, and was ſufficiently learned, to celebrate the ſame. There was a rejoinder, and ſur-rejoinder, (which were laid out of the caſe) and thereon a demurrer.

Per curiam. 1ſt, The Ordinary muſt examine in convenient time, and after that, refuſe in a convenient time; if he does not, he is a diſturber by his delay. 2dly, If the Ordinary refuſes, becauſe the candidate is a bad man, he need not give notice of his refuſal, for the crime is as much in the conuzance of the patron, as of the Biſhop, and in that caſe the lapſe ſhall incur from the avoidance; but if he refuſes, becauſe he is an unlearned perſon, he muſt give perſonal notice, and the lapſe ſhall incur from the refuſal. 3 Cro. 119. 1 Lev. 31. Dy. 327. 2 R. 364. 3*dly*, That the ordinary may well refuſe him now, as unfit for this cure, tho' he had been allowed for a former. 4thly, It was not determined what learning was neceſſary; while the Liturgy was in Latin, that language was undoubtedly neceſſary; but now the Liturgy is in Engliſh: but it was obſerved, that ſtat. 13 Eliz. c. 12. requires that a clerk ſhould be able to anſwer his Ordinary, and give an account of his faith in Latin, according to the articles. 5thly, The court held this pleading too general; becauſe it was not ſhewn what learning he was defective in; whereas it ought to be certain, becauſe it is traverſable; and if the clerk dies, it muſt be tried by a jury, and the King's courts are to judge of it; and the law will the rather require a certainty, becauſe this anſwer is to diſable a man in his profeſſion, and prevent him of a freehold. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff, which was reverſed on a writ of error in parliament. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 134. Salk. vol. 2. p. 539.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Anonymous.

On a libel in the ſpiritual court againſt the defendant for not paying of a rate towards the repairing of a church, &c.

He ſuggeſted, that the lands were in the occupation of his tenant, and that he was not an inhabitant of the pariſh where this church was, &c. and this was held a good ſuggeſtion; for it is contrary to law to charge a perſon with repairs, who does not live in the pariſh; the tenant of the land ſhould be charged, and not the owner.

Per curiam. If a man takes a leaſe of a ſtall in a market town, which he uſes once a week to ſell his wares, but lives in another pariſh, he ſhall not be charged towards the repairs of the church in that market town. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 148.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Waples v. Baſſet.

A ſpecial action on the caſe was brought againſt the defendant, who was Rector of a church, for not keeping a bull and a boar, and on a demurrer to the declaration, theſe exceptions were taken to it, viz. he did not ſet forth, that the defendant was obliged to keep them either by cuſtom, preſcription, or otherwiſe; neither had he alledged any particular loſs or damage by his cattle not encreaſing, or that the defendant ought to find a boar in conſideration of paying him tithes; for which reaſons the declaration was held ill. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 241.

Hilary or Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Chamberlaine or Chamberlain v. Huetſon or Hewſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 204 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Maſters v. Lewis.

See this caſe fully ſtate in page 131 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Trinity or Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Pierce or Price, et al. v. Prouſe or Rouſe.

The churchwardens aſſeſſed a rate for repairs of the church, and afterwards brought a libel againſt a pariſhoner for not paying it. The court being moved for a prohibition.

Per curiam. 1ſt. The pariſhioners ought to aſſeſs the rate, and not the churchwardens.

2dly. The pariſhioners are only bound to repair the church and not the chancel, for that is to be repaired by the parſon. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 165. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 83.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Herman or Harman, v. Denne Renew.

The court was moved for a prohibition to a ſuit in the Conſiſtory Court of London, on ſtat. 22 Car. 2. c. 11. about the rates for repairing the church of St. Swithin.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, Rokeby and Eyre, Juſtices. At common law, there might be an union; but that was only of churches, and but as an appropriation of one rectory to another; but ſtill the pariſhes were diſtinct; and that did not make the pariſh church of A. to be the pariſh church of B. but the incumbent was as well incumbent of B. as of A. and is obliged to ſerve the cure if neceſſary. But by this ſtatute, the pariſh church of St. Swithin is the pariſh church of St. Mary Bothaw, and the other church is thereby deſtroyed; and therefore the pariſh muſt repair St. Swithins; the rates were made diſtinct in this caſe, which the court ſeemed to approve. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 82. Salk. vol. 1. p. 165.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. The King v. The Biſhop of Cheſter et al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 53 of this work, under the head Addition.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Morgan Rees v. The Archdeacon of Cardigan, or the King v. Morgan Rice.

On a mandamus to the archdeacon to ſwear in a churchwarden being duly elected; the archdeacon made this return, that he was a poor milkman, and unfit to execute the office, &c. and thereupon a peremptory mandamus was awarded; for the churchwarden is a temporal officer, he has the property and cuſtody of the pariſh goods, and as it is at the peril of the pariſhioners, ſo they may chooſe and truſt whom they think fit; and the archdeacon has no power to elect, or controul their election. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 166. Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 116. Ibid. vol. 5. 325.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Johnſon v. Lee.

On a writ of prohibition brought, the plaintiff declared, that by ſtat. 23 H. 8. c. 9. It is enacted, That no perſon ſhall be cited to appear out of his dioceſe where he dwells, that the plaintiff was reſident at Hungerford in Berks, in the dioceſe of Saliſbury; that the defendant cauſed him to be cited before the Dean of the Arches in London, and brought a libel againſt him for expences and fees in the Conſiſtory Court of the Biſhop of London, and averred, that ſuch fees were juſtly due according to the cuſtom of the ſaid court, and that he promiſed to pay it; and although he made no ſuch promiſe within ſix years, yet the court proceeded to give ſentence againſt him; and the defendant proſecuted his plea after the writ of prohibition delivered to him, &c.

The defendant for conſultation pleads the very ſame ſtatute; by which it is enacted, "That no perſon ſhould be cited, ſummoned, or otherwiſe called " to appear by himſelf or herſelf, or by any proctor,
" before any Ordinary, Archdeacon, Commiſſory,
" or any other ſpiritual judge, out of the dioceſe, or " particular juriſdiction, where the perſon which
" ſhall be cited, ſummoned, or otherwiſe called, ſhall
" be inhabiting and dwelling at the time of the " awarding of ſuch citation, or ſummons; except
" (among many other clauſes in the ſaid act mentioned)
" that any Biſhop or other inferior judge, having under him juriſdiction in his own right and title, or by
" commiſſion, make requeſt or inſtance to the Archbiſhop, or other ſuperior Ordinary or judge, to take,
" treat, examine, or determine the matter before
" him or his ſubſtitute; and that to be done in caſes
" only where the civil or common law does affirm
" execution of ſuch requeſt or inſtance of juriſdiction
" to be lawful or tolerated."

That the defendant is a proctor in the conſiſtory court of the Biſhop of London, and was retained as ſuch by the Curatrix of the plaintiff (he being then under age) to proſecute a ſuit againſt the executors of his grandfather, for a legacy given to the plaintiff, and to exhibit an inventory; that they were excommunicated for contumacy in not appearing, and that the fees and expences in the libel were juſtly due to him for proſecuting the ſaid ſuit. That he endeavoured to ſue the ſaid plaintiff for the recovery of the ſaid fees in the court of Peculiars of the Dean of Saliſbury; but he being judge of the court, and having juriſdiction in his own right, did, by a writing under his ſeal, require the Dean of the Arches to call the plaintiff before him, to anſwer the defendant in a cauſe for ſubſtraction of fees; which cauſe was there determined accordingly: and the defendant avers, that the civil and common law affirmed the execution of ſuch requeſt to be lawful. Whereon the defendant before the prohibition was delivered to him, did cite the ſaid Johnſon to appear before the ſaid judge of the Arches in the cauſe aforeſaid, and avers it to be the ſame proſecution of which the plaintiff complained.

To this plea the plaintiff demurred, and the defendant joined in demurrer.

1ſt, It was argued, that no conſultation ought to go; for if the defendant will bring himſelf out of the ſtatute, he muſt ſhew, that the requeſt made by the inferior Ordinary, was made to him who had the next ſuperior juriſdiction, which he has not done; for here the requeſt is from the Dean of Saliſbury, who was judge of the Peculiars, to the Dean of the Arches, when it ought to have been to the Biſhop of Saliſbury, being the next immediate Ordinary, unleſs it appears that a peculiar is ſuch a juriſdiction, from which there is appeal to the Ordinary; or that it is a juriſdiction by preſcription.

The judge of the Peculiars is an inferior perſon to the Biſhop, and the Peculiars itſelf may be ſubordinate to him; if ſo, he cannot tranſmit a cauſe per ſaltum to the Archbiſhop, but muſt leave it to the Ordinary from whom his power is derived.

2dly, The defendant does not ſay, that this was a caſe which was permitted by their law, but only that the civil or canon law affirms ſuch requeſt, which is in the disjunctive and very uncertain.

3dly, He alledges, that the Dean of Saliſbury did requeſt the Dean of the Arches to call the plaintiff before him, to anſwer in a cauſe for ſubſtraction of fees; and the libel is for ſubſtraction of fees and expences, which is larger than the requeſt, and therefore not good.

4thly, The principal point was, whether the defendant ought to ſue for fees in the eccleſiaſtical court, ſince ſuch things are properly cognizable at common law, for which he might have a quantum meruit, or an indebitatus aſſumpſit, on the retainer for work and labour, and for money laid out, and the law raiſes the promiſe.

Per curiam. If the proctor had petitioned the court, and not proceeded by way of libel for his fees, in ſuch caſe a prohibition could not lie; ſo that there can be no inconvenience in allowing this juriſdiction, for they are the proper judges of what buſineſs is done in their courts, and can call for vouchers better than a jury can.

Their fees are eſtabliſhed by the canon law, and are leſſened and reſtrained by the power and authority of the court. Rules are made here, to oblige the attornies in matters of practice; and the like rules are made there, to oblige the proctors and miniſters of that court; ſo that they muſt be allowed to be the proper judges in this matter.

Matrimony, and things teſtamentary, were at firſt the whole buſineſs of that court: but now in caſes where they have original juriſdiction, they do retain ſuits even for ſuch matters which may be tried at law, as a libel may be there for not repairing a way leading to a church, &c.

This caſe may be compared to that where a prohibition was prayed to the court of admiralty, becauſe inſtead of ſtipulation, (which is a recognizance in their law as much as bail is here) they had taken a recognizance at common law, wherein the principal and ſureties, and their heirs, goods, and lands, were bound; whereas the libel ought to be againſt the ſhip and goods, and executor againſt the latter, and not againſt the party: but the Civilians argued, that execution might have been taken of the body, though not of the lands; and that this was not in the nature of a recognizance, but a ſtipulation in nature of bail, and might be ſued as well in the court of admiralty as at common law; and no prohibition was granted, but the matter was adjourned.

The caſe in the Modern Report is an expreſs authority to rule this, where a prohibition was denied for a ſuit for proctors fees, and there is no book againſt it. The reaſon of the law is for the plaintiff; for he being a proctor is not a temporal officer, and what he has done is about an Eccleſiaſtical ſuit, and therefore that court muſt judge of it.

Laſtly. The ſtatute of limitations does not extend to this caſe; for it is not properly a debt, becauſe expences and fees are of the ſame nature with the ſubject-matter for which they were demanded: it may as well be alledged, that defamatory cauſes are within the ſtatute; ſo that the eccleſiaſtical court having original juriſdiction of this matter, no prohibition ought to go: it has been denied in the C. B. for regiſter's fees, in a cauſe between Geſtlin v. Froggat. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 238.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. The Caſe of the Churchwardens of St. Bartholomew.

One F. left 25 l. per annum, for the maintenance of a weekly lecture and lecturer, to be choſen by the pariſhioners, riſhioners, and to preach on what day of the week they ſhould like beſt. The pariſhioners fixed on Thurſday, and choſe a lecturer every year; and now, one T. being lecturer, and the pariſhioners having choſe one R. he was oppoſed by T. who would not ſubmit to their choice, whereon the churchwardens ſhut T. out of the church; but the Biſhop of London determined in favour of T. and granted an inhibition and monition, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A prohibition muſt be granted to try the right; for no man can be a lecturer without a licence from the biſhop or archbiſhop; but their power is only as to the fitneſs of the perſon; but not as to the right. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 144.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. The King v. Sanchee.

The defendant and others who were quakers, were cited into the eccleſiaſtical court, to anſwer there on their ſolemn affirmation, &c. concerning tithes with-held by them from the parſon of the pariſh; and for not anſwering, the commiſſary, according to the direction of ſtat. 27 H. 8. c. 20. certifies their contumacy to two juſtices of the peace, by whoſe warrant they were ſeized, and committed to priſon; and being brought by hab. corp. into this court, their council moved that they might be diſcharged.

Per curiam. In many caſes the common law and eccleſiaſtical courts, have concurrent juriſdiction; for example, if a penſion be payable out of a parſonage by preſcription, the remedy for this is either in the ſpiritual court, or a writ of annuity lies for it at common law. But where the nature of the offence is altered by a ſtatute, and a new penalty inflicted; then after the party has been tried at common law and condemned, the eccleſiaſtical court ſhall not proceed againſt him. And therefore the quakers were diſcharged out of cuſtody. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 323.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Moſely v. Warburton.

A levari facias iſſued to the Biſhop of Cheſter, to require him to levy the debt on the defendant, de bonis eccleſiaſticis i. e. out of the effects belonging to the church, Warburton, being a fellow of Magdalen college. On which the Biſhop wrote to the warden and fellows of the college, requiring them to pay the defendant's penſion to him, to which the warden and fellows anſwered, that they had not power to do it. On this a motion was made in this court on behalf of the Biſhop of Cheſter, for advice of the court, what the Biſhop ought to do.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a Prebendary has a ſole body, the Biſhop on a levari facias de bonis eccleſiaſticis, may ſequeſter it; but if he has not a body aggregate with the Dean and Chapter, he cannot ſequeſter it. Then in this caſe the profits of the fellowſhip are but caſual dividends, in which before diviſion the defendant has no intereſt, ſo that they do not make an eſtate; and it ſeems in this caſe the defendant is not a beneficed clergyman, and the Biſhop may return no effects of the church; and though the college has the impropriation of a church, yet it belongs to the whole body, and not to one of them only.

But the court would give no poſitive opinion, becauſe the caſe did not come judicially before them. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 265.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. The Biſhop of St. Davids v. Lucy.

The Biſhop was cited before the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for ſimony, and his council moved for a prohibition on this exception, becauſe the citation enjoined him to appear at Lambeth, and not at the court of Arches, and before the Archbiſhop himſelf, inſtead of before his Chancellor or Vicar General.

Per curiam. The Archbiſhop has a provincial power over all the Biſhops of his province, and may hold his court where he pleaſes, and he may convene before himſelf, and ſet judge himſelf, and ſo may any other Biſhop, for the power of a Chancellor or Vicar General is only delegated; therefore the prohibition was denied. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 134. Vol. 3. p. 90. Raym. vol. 1. p. 447 & 539. Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 56.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Jacob v. Dallow.

A ſuit was depending in the ſpiritual court concerning the right of a ſeat in the church, and it was ſuggeſted for a prohibition, that the right of a ſeat in a church was a temporal matter, and determinable at common law.

Per curiam. If you would preſcribe for a right againſt the Ordinary, you muſt ſhew uſage to repair the ſeat; but in an action on the caſe for diſturbance, you need only lay poſſeſſion againſt any other diſturber; and of common right, the diſpoſal of ſeats in a parochial church, belongs to the Ordinary. 2 Bulſt. May v. Gilbert. Hob. 69. Boothby v. Baily, was held otherwiſe in this court, in Buxton v. Baker's caſe, on a diverſity between an action on the caſe, and a prohibition. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 233.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Lee v. Daniel.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The diſpoſal of ſeats in the mother church belongs to the Ordinary, and ſo the ſeats of a chapel of eaſe belong to the mother church; and to know whether it is a church or not, is by knowing whether it has a font or burying ground. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 228.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. Machin v. Moulton.

The defendant was Rector of S. C. in the dioceſe of York, within which pariſh the plaintiff had lands, but lived in Lincoln in another dioceſe, and now coming to York, the defendant ſued him in the ſpiritual court there, for ſubſtraction of tithes; and it was inſiſted by the plaintiff's council, that this was a citing him out of his dioceſe; at firſt the court held, that the reſidency of the party draws the cauſe to the dioceſe where he lives, in tranſitory matters, but not in local; as for inſtance, an executor muſt be ſued for a legacy where the will was proved, and not where he lives: but the court afterwards ruled this caſe to ſtand on a ſingle reaſon, for whatever the law might be in other inſtances, yet in the caſe of tithes, ſtat. 32 H. 8 expreſsly enacts, that the party ſubſtracting them ſhall appear before the Ordinary of the dioceſe where they were ſubſtracted, and therefore a conſultation was granted. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 452.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Allen or Allanſon v. Brookbank.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 338 of this work, under the head Date, Day, and Delivery.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Lutton v. King.

Adjudged, that before ſtat. 31 H. 8. a Vicar might bring a libel in the ſpiritual court, for an augmentation of his vicarage; for on the creation of vicarages, that power was commonly reſerved, and where it was not reſerved, the Biſhop could not augment them, and libels for that purpoſe were frequently exhibited againſt impropriators, but ſince by that ſtatute, impropriations are made lay fees, the Ordinary cannot intermeddle, neither could they have ſued for tithes in the ſpiritual court, if that power was not particularly ſaved to them by the ſtatute: but there ſeems to be a difference where a Vicar ſues a lay impropriator, and where the impropriator is a ſpiritual perſon, for in the laſt caſe it is probable he may ſue for an augmentation; and in ſome caſes where the impropriation is not a lay fee, as in the caſe of the Choriſters of the Cathedral of Saliſbury, where the appropriation of a parſonage was made to them before the ſtatute, and continues ſo ſtill, and in ſuch caſe the Biſhop may make an augmentation; if that power is reſerved, for the perſons are ſubject to his command. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 378.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Smith v. Waller.

Per curiam. Where the Vicar is endowed, and comes in by inſtitution and induction, he has actually the cure of ſouls, and is not to be removed at the pleaſure of the Rector, who in this caſe has only habitually the cure of ſouls; but where the Vicar is not endowed, nor comes in by inſtitution and induction, the Rector has actually the cure of ſouls, and may remove the Vicar at pleaſure; and where the Vicar is endowed, it is always out of the rectory, and by the act of the Ordinary; therefore, where the queſtion is, whether it is a Vicarage or not, it ſhall be tried in the ſpiritual court; becauſe it could not begin or be created by the Ordinary, and with his concurrence, and ſo it is of an appropriation. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 378.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Turton v. Reignolds

A legacy of 50*l. per annum* was left as a maintenance for a parſon to preach once a week in the pariſh church of B. he was choſe, and removed by the majority of the pariſhioners; who choſe one R. to whom the churchwarden refuſed to open the church; whereon he brought a libel againſt them in the ſpiritual court; and a prohibition was granted, for that he did not ſhew he had a licence from the parſon of the church, in whom the freehold of the church is. It is true, it may be an eccleſiaſtical offence for the churchwardens to ſhut out the parſon, or any other appointed by him to preach in the church; yet it cannot be one not to open the church for one appointed by a ſtranger, without he has the parſon's licence; and you ſhould have ſhewn in your libel, that you had ſuch a licence.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, if the Ordinary had appointed a perſon to come and preach in ſuch a church, yet he could not juſtify doing it without the conſent of the parſon. And if a perſon gives a charity to a certain clerk for preaching in ſuch a pariſh, he muſt do it by the conſent of the parſon, and further ſaid, that let a parſon be ever ſo orthodox and able, yet he is puniſhable for his preſumption, if he preaches without a licence of the Ordinary; but the Ordinary, from a principle of juſtice, ought to give ſuch licence to one that is fit; but if he refuſes, no mandamus will lie, but his remedy is to appeal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 433.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Finch v. Harris.

A prohibition was moved for to ſtay a ſuit in the ſpiritual court, againſt a clerk in orders, for preaching without a licence, on ſuggeſtion that there is a chapel donative within ſuch a pariſh, four miles diſtant from the mother-church, and that it is conſecrated; and that this ſuit below is for preaching there, ſo the Ordinary has nothing to do with it; and the deſign of this libel is to bring in queſtion whether this is a donative or a chapel of eaſe.

Per curiam. None can preach without a licence of the Ordinary, whoſe care it is to prevent hereſies and ſchiſms in his dioceſe; and there is a canon againſt preaching without a licence, and that binds all the clergy. And a clerk ordained cannot preach even in the dioceſe whereof he is, and by whoſe dioceſan he is ordained, without licence; though one would think that the very ordination would amount to a licence to preach within that dioceſe. And though it is true, that the Ordinary cannot puniſh him by depravation of his benefice, it being a donative, yet he may cenſure him otherwiſe; for otherwiſe the inconvenience would be intolerable, that it ſhould be in the power of a man, by putting a clerk into ſuch donative, to exempt him from the cenſures of the Ordinary, and ſubordination to the eccleſiaſtical law.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is againſt the eccleſiaſtical law to preach in a place not conſecrated; and ſo it would be to ſet up a conventicle. Indeed, a perſon may pray in his own houſe or family, but he cannot preach there; and this clerk, without queſtion, is viſitable by the Ordinary, though he has no juriſdiction over the thing, ſo as to deprive, as in caſe of a rectory. And here they at laſt moved for a prohibition as to the reading of prayers; but it was denied. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 640.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Wilmot v. Tiler.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A clerk in orders, on having his clergy, ſhall not be burnt in the hand; and none could have the benefit of his clergy twice, except a clerk. In all caſes before ſtat. 18 El. where a clerk had clergy, he was delivered to the Ordinary, but in no caſes ſince. And where a perſon in orders has his clergy, there ought to be a ſpecial entry made why he was not burnt in the hand; and if he is a clerk in orders, or not, he is triable by his Ordination. And if a clerk ſhews his Ordination, he need not have the book, becauſe it is preſumed a clerk in orders can read. And in the time of Ed. 3. clergy was denied to one not being properly habited, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 448.

Holt v. The Biſhop of Winton.

On a writ of quare impedit, the caſe was, viz. The incumbent being ſeized of the advowſon of the ſame church in fee, died, and the queſtion was, who ſhould preſent, his heir at law, or his executor; and on a demurrer, it was objected againſt the right of the heir at law, that he could not preſent; becauſe the advowſon did not deſcend to him till after the death of his anceſtor, in which very inſtant of time, the church was void; and therefore the avoidance was ſevered from the inheritance, and veſted in the executor.

Per curiam. The heir ſhall preſent, becauſe at the ſame time, that the avoidance veſted in the executor, the inheritance deſcended to the heir, and where two titles concur in an inſtant of time, the elder ſhall be preferred. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 280.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Of a common right, the diſpoſition of pews in a church, belongs to the Ordinary, but the pariſh is bound to repair them; and it is only reſiancy that makes right to a pew in a pariſh; for if a perſon purchaſes a pew there, and afterwards leaves it, his intereſt in the pew is gone; and if he ſhould return again into the place, yet he muſt renew his intereſt; but if a perſon ceaſes to be a houſe-keeper in a pariſh, but continues ſtill in the pariſh as a lodger, and goes to church, and is taken notice of, as a pariſhioner, though he is but a lodger, yet his intereſt which he had in the pew continues. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 554.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

The defendant's council came to the bar, to ſhew cauſe againſt a prohibition, to a ſuit in the eccleſiaſtical court of Ely, for a church-rate, for repairing the church and ornaments. The ſuit ſet forth, that the church was out of repair, &c. and that at a meeting of the pariſhioners, a rate was made by a majority of them, that the plaintiff in the prohibition was an inhabitant, and rated ſo much. The ſuggeſtion was, that J. S. is ſeized in fee of the manor of D. within the pariſh; that he, and all thoſe, who have an eſtate therein, time out of mind, uſed to repair an iſle in the pariſh church, and in conſideration thereof, were diſcharged of all rates for repairing the whole church, and that the defendant is tenant of part of the ſaid manor.

1ſt, Exception, That the libel is for the repair of the church and the church ornaments, and the preſcription goes only to the repair of the church.

2dly, The tendering ſuch a plea below, and refuſal of it, is no cauſe of prohibition, but rather of appeal. 1 Bulſt. 16.

3dly, The preſcription is, that all the tenants of the manor were diſcharged, and he makes himſelf a tenant of part.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Though a man, time out of mind, repairs a chapel, yet if it is not a predial chapel, having chapel-wardens belonging to it, it is not a reaſon to exempt him from a church-rate to repair; and here if he repairs leſs than his proportion amounts to, it may be a queſtion if it ought to diſcharge him? But if he repairs more, or as much, it will be good: but this is not matter to be determined on motion. As to the firſt exception, if you have not diſtinguiſhed how much is demanded for ornament, you have not libelled right; and a prohibition, if it goes at all, muſt go for all. As to the third exception, if the tenant of the whole manor has ſuch an exemption, the tenant in part muſt have it in proportion; and therefore the rule muſt be made abſolute, and the plaintiff muſt declare forthwith; for in prohibition, we may order the declaration to be delivered as we pleaſe in point of time. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 121.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Brown v. Mugg.

In ejectment, on a ſpecial verdict, the caſe was, the defendant had a benefice, with cure of ſouls, of 8 l. per annum, to which he was preſented by J. S. and was inſtituted and inducted; afterwards the defendant was made chaplain extraordinary to his Majeſty, and was preſented by the King with another benefice and cure of ſouls, of 8 l. per annum, and was inſtituted and inducted to that alſo. On which the King preſented the leſſor of the plaintiff to the former benefice as by lapſe. And it was adjudged, after ſeveral arguments at the bar, that the plaintiff ought to have judgment, becauſe by the acceptance of the ſecond benefice the former became void; a chaplain extraordinary to the King not having privilege to retain two benefices with a cure of ſouls, above 8 l. per annum value, without a diſpenſation: and therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 791.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Ladd v. Widdows.

On a motion for a new trial brought on a writ of quare impedit, wherein the point in iſſue was, whether the church was donative or preſentative? Evidence was pretended of ſeveral preſentations; and the court held, that though a preſentation might deſtroy an impropriation, yet it could not deſtroy a donative, becauſe the creation thereof was by letters patent, whereby the land is ſettled to the parſon and his ſucceſſors, and he to come in by donation. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 541.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Newſon v. Bawldry.

The plaintiff declared on a prohibition for libelling in the ſpiritual court, for the payment of a pariſh rate, made at an aſſembly of twenty pariſhioners, fifteen whereof were againſt the rate, and five only for it; and that the money was expended in repairing the chancel and railing it in, and raiſing the floor ſome ſteps higher: to which it was pleaded, that the communion table was, anciently, placed in the chancel; and that there was ancient rails about it, which were out of repair; that at a meeting of a majority of the pariſhioners, a rate was made to replace the communion table in the chancel, and to repair the rails; the plea alſo contained ſome other things which was thought decent to be done at that aſſembly, but the matter being ill pleaded, they were directed to amend their plea, in order to bring in the following points in judgment:

1ſt. Whether, if the communion table was not in the chancel before, or if there was no ſteps up to it, and the pariſhioners, on a meeting, do not find that ſo decent, the majority of them can make a rate to oblige all for altering the place of the communion table, or carrying it into the chancel, or for raiſing it higher?

The court inclined they could; for as to the degrees of order and decency, there is no rule, but as the pariſhioners agree among themſelves; and though they are compellable to put things in decent order, yet there is no other rule for the degrees of decency than the judgment of the majority.

2dly. Whether the majority of the pariſhioners may make a rate to bind the reſt for repairing or adorning the chancel? for that is a ſpecial freehold belonging to the parſon. The council here quoted the caſe of Roſe v. Hawkins, 9 W. 3. in this court, where a libel was for a pariſh rate to repair a church and chancel, and a prohibition was granted for two reaſons; one, becauſe the chancel ought to be repaired by the parſon; the other, for that it was ſuggeſted, the rate was not made by a majority; yet, becauſe they had gone to try that point below, the court ſaid it was no cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. 7. p. 69.

Hilary, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Guy.

A mandamus was directed to the official of ——— to ſwear in A. and B. churchwardens of the pariſh of——

To this, the return was, that they were not duly choſen; and now a rule was made for a peremptory mandamus, for he ſhould have complied with the writ as far as he could, and have ſworn in one of them, if the fact was that one of them had been duly choſen, or elſe have returned that neither of them were choſe.

But it was objected, that this could not be done; for by the cuſtom of the pariſh the parſon was to chuſe one, and the pariſhioners the other: and the pariſhioners inſiſted, that they would chuſe two, and did return two, and the official could not tell which of them to ſwear in.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Then you ſhould have made a ſpecial return, that the pariſh claims a right to chuſe two, and that theſe perſons had an equal number of voices; that the parſon had choſe his man, and ſo you could not ſwear either of the pariſhioners men; or if the pariſh unanimouſly choſe two jointly, when in fact they had a right to choſe but one, that would be void as to both; and in that caſe you might return generally, that neither of them had been choſen; and ſo where two have an equal number of votes. And at laſt, by the direction of the court, it was conſented to, to try the cuſtom in a feigned action. Vide Mod. Rep vol. 6. p. 89.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Adams v. Terretenants of Savage.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This court will take notice of the limits of eccleſiaſtical juriſdictions, which is part of the law of the realm under which we live, and conſequently it will take notice, that a judgment of this court is not within the juriſdiction of the archdeacon of Dorſet. Vide Raym. vol. 2. 854.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Britton v. Standiſh.

The plaintiff was libelled againſt in the ſpiritual court by Mr. Standiſh, the parſon of the pariſh, for not coming to his pariſh-church on Sundays; to which he pleaded, that he went to another church more commodious for him: on this matter ſuggeſted, there was a prohibition, and the plaintiff declared therein; and the ſingle queſtion was, whether he was compellable to go to his pariſh church? It was ſaid he was compellable, becauſe every parſon was obliged not to allow a pariſhioner of another pariſh to partake of ſacraments with him. 2 Spel. Conc. 141. Lyn. 184, 233. Reform. L. Eccl. 106. Spar. Coll. 77, 78, 126, 226, 237, 181, 31. and that this is allowed by common law. 2 Roll. Rep. 438, 455. Hardr. 406, 407. in point, and that the ſpiritual court is to judge of the excuſe. March 93. And by the act of uniformity, every man is required to reſort to his pariſh-church: on the other ſide it was argued, that the diſtribution into pariſhes was by the common law, and that if this diſtribution did by conſequence bring people under a new obligation, ſuch obligation ought to be examinable by the common law; that the ſtatute of uniformity has been always looked on as ſufficiently complied with by going to any church, and ſtat. 23 Eliz. impoſes a penalty on any perſon that abſents from the church, contrary to ſtat. 1 Eliz. and that if theſe acts are conſtrued to give a juriſdiction, that juriſdiction muſt be to the common law courts, and not the eccleſiaſtical courts.

In this caſe it was agreed, that every man was obliged to go to ſome church or other, and that an intire neglect was puniſhable in the eccleſiaſtical court; and that it was a good charge at firſt ſight, that a man went not to his pariſh church, becauſe he ſhall not be ſuppoſed to go to any other: and the court ſeemed to be of opinion, that though the act of uniformity is taken to be introductive of a new law, yet the thing being purely of eccleſiaſtical conuſance, and proper for their examination, yet the court, after conſideration, granted a prohibition Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 166. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 188.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Preſgrave v. The Churchwardens of Shrewſbury.

A prohibition was prayed to a ſuit in the ſpiritual court, where the pariſhioners preſcribed to diſpoſe of the pews, excluſive of the Ordinary.

Per curiam. That cannot be; the Ordinary's not acting might be, becauſe there was no occaſion for his intermeddling; but that cannot veſt the right in them who are only a corporation capable of goods, but not of inheritance. Adjourned. Vide Salk. vol. p. 167.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

If a parſon is inſtituted only, he cannot have an action of diſtreſs till induction.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. He is intitled to the ſpiritual profits, as oblations, &c. before induction: he is likewiſe liable to be ſued in the ſpiritual court before induction, if he neglects the cure; but he cannot ſue for great tithes before induction, for they are temporal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 46.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

If a biſhop grants a patent to a man to be vicar general, wherein he reſerves a juriſdiction to himſelf, it ſeems to be repugnant and void. So where a biſhop grants his chancellorſhip, with a reverſion to himſelf of inſtitution and induction.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, what cannot a vicar general do; if he is reſtrained he is not a vicar general. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 46.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Coleſatt v. Newcomb.

A miniſter of a donative was ſued in the eccleſiaſtical court, for that, when he read prayers, he did not read the whole ſervice, but left out what parts he thought fit, and for preaching without a licence; and the defendant's council moved for a prohibition, on a ſuggeſtion that the church was a donative; and argued that donatives were exempt from the juriſdiction of the Ordinary, and that it was a lay thing, and the biſhop could not viſit it, and that if the incumbent was guilty of hereſy, the Ordinary could not meddle with him, for the parſon was privileged in reſpect to the place, but the patron might by commiſſion examine the matter, and on cauſe deprive him. Yelv. 61, 62. Fairchild v. Gair. 2 Cro. 63. S. C. and Co. Lit. 344. a. that the founder ſhall viſit them; and Bro. Præmunire, 21. to the ſame purpoſe. But

Powell, Juſtice, made this diſtinction; where the ſuit in the eccleſiaſtical court is in order to deprivation, and where only for reformation of manners; in the firſt caſe the court will prohibit, but not in the laſt: and therefore if in this caſe the ſpiritual court proceed to deprivation, the court would prohibit them, but not till then. He ſaid he had known prohibitions denied frequently to ſuits againſt parſons of donatives for marrying without licence. He ſaid, that by the old canon law, preaching was no part of the miniſter's office, however it came to be ſo in vogue now; but only reading maſs, and adminiſtering the ſacraments; and nobody preached then without the licence of the biſhop, but he appointed preachers. And he ſaid, that now, ſince the act of uniformity, if a biſhop denied to grant a licence to a parſon who was fit to preach, they would grant a mandamus to him to grant one; and that by the act of uniformity, the eccleſiaſtical juriſdiction was ſaved: therefore the motion was denied. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1205.

Hilary, 7 Ann. Sawyer v. Loggin.

On an information for ſtriking in the church, and an acquittal thereon; they exhibited articles in the ſpiritual court for brawling in the church; whereon the defendant moved this court for a prohibition. And for the prohibition it was ſuggeſted, that where a man is acquitted at common law, he ought not to be cited or ſued in the ſpiritual court; and ſhewed that an information was exhibited againſt him for the ſame battery, and that he was acquitted, &c.

But the court would not grant the prohibition, becauſe they ſhould have pleaded this matter, which they ſuggeſt here, in the ſpiritual court; and if they had refuſed the plea, then they might have juſtly come here and move for a prohibition.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, brawling and ſtriking in the church were two diſtinct offences; and though they cannot proceed in the ſpiritual court for the battery, after an acquittal at common law, yet they may go on for the brawling, for the common law has not conuſance of the brawling; to which Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſeemed to agree; but ſaid, that it would be hard to proceed in the ſpiritual court for the brawling, after an acquittal at common law for the battery. But for this reaſon, a prohibition was denied. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 200.

Michaelmas, 9 Ann. Fort v. Buviere.

The major part of the pariſh, aſſembled in veſtry, taxed the pariſh for building of a gallery, and each pariſhioner ten times the value of an ancient rate. One pariſhioner refuſed payment, and was ſued in the ſpiritual court, whereon he prayed a prohibition.

1ſt, Becauſe a pariſh could not be taxed for building a gallery, which was neither uſeful nor ornamental to the church; but this was not much regarded by the court.

2dly, The oldneſs of the former rate; but the caſes produced to maintain the prohibition on this head, did not come up to it; they being granted in caſes where the rate was to continue always the ſame: but here there was a new rate modelled by the old, and if ten times the value of the old rate had been put into one intire ſum, it would have been plain; beſides, there is no need for a pariſh to depart from an old rate, till it grows unequal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 13.

Michaelmas, 9 Ann. Forty v. ———

A rate was made for erecting galleries in a church; and in the libel it was ſaid, it was rated according to an ancient and ſtanding rate, and to be continued to a future time.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, and Powell, Juſtice. This old rate is only a meaſure to rate by; they muſt rate according to exigencies of the church, they are not bound to vary; the difference is only in expreſſion, they need not repeat it over again; and they held galleries might be erected, which was in the nature of a new floor, and therefore would grant no prohibition, though there was quoted the caſe of Newcomb in Devon v. Noy. Vide Forteſcue, p. 346.

Michaelmas, 9 Ann. Baniſter v. Hopton.

On a motion for a prohibition, it was agreed, that though a preſcription, as whether a whole pariſh, or a ſelect veſtry ſhould chuſe churchwardens, be a matter triable at common law by a jury, yet ſentence is to be given in the ſpiritual court, according to their verdict; and therefore though this is a matter triable at common law, yet if the party ſubmits to a trial in the ſpiritual court, by not demanding a prohibition, it will be too late after ſentence to move for one. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 12.

Eaſter, 10 Ann. Biſhop v. Eagle.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 17 of this work, under the head Account.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Anonymous.

The court was moved to quaſh a writ de excommunicato capiendo.

The firſt exception was, that the writ ſays only for defamation, but does not ſay what defamation; now there are ſome defamations that are not of ſpiritual conuzance.

This objection was over-ruled by the court, who ſaid, they would not preſume, that any court would exceed its own juriſdiction, unleſs it plainly appeared it had done ſo.

The ſecond exception was, that the ſtanding 40 days excommunicated, did not appear in the writ. But not allowed.

Per curiam. The 40 days are never inſerted in the writ, but the ſignificavit only; beſides this objection is not proper here, but in Chancery; the 40 days excommunication, being the very foundation on which the court grants the writ. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 71.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. D'Eath v. Baux.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 212 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles v. Williams.

In this caſe, Parker, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that at common law, if a Biſhop ſeized in right of his church, or a huſband in right of his wife, had aliened by fine, &c. it was but a diſcontinuance. 3 Cro. 85, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 243.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Clerk v. Lee.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 143 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Trinity, 5 Geo: Dr. Bows v. Jurat.

Dr. Bows vicar of New Romney, brought a libel in the ſpiritual court againſt the defendant, one of his pariſhioners for Eaſter offerings; ſuggeſting that they for time out of mind uſed to be paid in that pariſh.

The defendant made no defence at all in the ſpiritual court; but after ſentence againſt him, moved this court for a prohibition; the motion was granted niſi.

The reaſon why the court doubted whether the prohibition was to be granted or not, was their ignorance of the practice of the ſpiritual court. For the court ſeemed clearly of opinion, that if the practice of the ſpiritual court was agreeable to that of the courts at law, viz. to take every thing for confeſſion againſt a defendant that makes no defence, and ſo give ſentence for the plaintiff without obliging him to prove the truth of his caſe, then the prohibition was not to be granted; becauſe the cuſtom ſet forth by the plaintiff was not denied by the defendant, and conſequently no occaſion for the trial by cuſtom. But in caſe the practice of the ſpiritual court was, not to give ſentence for the plaintiff even in caſe of no defence made by the defendant without proof made in the court by the plaintiff of the truth of his caſe, that then a prohibition was to be granted; becauſe then the ſentence of the ſpiriritual court was founded plainly on a proof made before them of the cuſtom, which is not to be permitted, becauſe the proof required by them is very different from that required by the common law.

The council who ſpoke againſt the prohibition ingenuouſly owned, that it was the practice of the ſpiritual court to require proof: however, the court took time to conſider, and would not make the rule abſolute. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 441.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Aſgill v. Hunt, or Hunt v. Hargill.

On proceſs in the ſpiritual court for calling a woman whore in London; after ſentence, this court was moved for a prohibition.

But the prohibition was denied; for the court ſaid, that it was known to be a rule laid down in the books, that where it does not appear on the face of the libel, that the matter is of temporal and not ſpiritual cognizance, there a prohibition may be granted after ſentence; but where it does not appear it muſt be taken advantage of before ſentence. Now, here the offence in the libel is certainly a matter of ſpiritual cognizance; and though it does not appear in the libel that the words were ſpoken in London, yet it would not take away the juriſdiction of the ſpiritual court, were it not for a particular cuſtom, by virtue of which theſe words are puniſhable in London: but this being a particular cuſtom, the court can no more judicially take notice of it than they can of any other cuſtom of the city of London; and if the cauſe is removed out of the city courts by habeas corpus, the cuſtom muſt be returned, or no procedendo can ever be granted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 440. Forteſcue, p. 347.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Herbert v. The Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter.

On a libel in the ſpiritual court of the dean and chapter, which is a peculiar, againſt Mr. Herbert, who had got poſſeſſion of the new chapel, before B. the commiſſary of the dean and chapter, and who had a leaſe of the freehold of this chapel from the dean and chapter, and after B. had brought an ejectment againſt Herbert to turn him out; the libel was for preaching without licence, and without any pretence of right to demand a licence, and that B. might have juſtice, and Mr. Herbert be perpetually ſilenced; and this was for not having a licence from them as Ordinary, having a peculiar juriſdiction, as pretended.

Per curiam. Let there be a rule for a prohibition, becauſe this ſuit was founded on no canon; for they could not mention one not to preach without licence of the Ordinary, and the act is biſhop or archbiſhop, and this was a ſuit clearly within the act of uniformity, and ſo there is a remedy on that ſtatute, and it is a perſonal power given to the biſhop and archbiſhop, and not to the Ordinary, ſo a prohibition was granted by the whole court. Vide ſtat. 2 H. 4. cap. 15. againſt preaching without licence. Vide Forteſcue, p. 345.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Middleton and Wife v. Croft.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 8 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Palmer v. The biſhop of Exeter.

Sir Thomas Bury ſet up his arms in the church of St. Davis's in Exeter: the Ordinary promoted a ſuit in the ſpiritual court to deface them, as being ſet up without his conſent. The court was moved for a prohibition, on the authorities that an action lies by the heir for defacing the monument of his anceſtor; but Eyre and Forteſcue, Juſtices, ſaid, the Ordinary was judge what ornaments were proper, and might order them to be defaced. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 576.

Hilary, 11 Geo. Archer v. Sweetnam or Swetnam, v. Archer.

Adjudged, that when ſeats are pulled down in the church, in order to a repair, yet a preſcription to have ſeat remains to every one, ſo that if ſeats are built up by the Ordinary, where another had an ancient one, or built on part of it, it is illegal, and if the ſpiritual court interpoſes, a prohibition lies. Vide Forteſcue, p. 346. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 338.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. The King v. White.

On a mandamus directed to the archdeacon, to ſwear in a churchwarden, he returned, he was not elected; on this matter coming before the court, Forteſcue, Juſtice, ſaid, that it was ſettled, and had been often ruled, that the archdeacon could not judge of the election, and therefore this return was ill. Whereon a peremptory mandamus was granted. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 130.

Trinity, .13 Geo Townſhend v. Thorpe.

The plaintiff declared in prohibition, that he was indicted for an aſſault, with intent to commit ſodomy, notwithſtanding which, he was proceeded againſt in the ſpiritual court for the ſame offence, and drunkeneſs. The defendant pleaded, that the plaintiff was pariſh-clerk, and that the ſuit was not only to puniſh him for incontinency, but alſo to deprive him of his office, and on a demurrer thereon, in Michaelmas term laſt, as it was going to be argued, the court propoſed to ſtay till the indictment was tried: and it having been tried, and the defendant convicted, and pillored; the court, without ordering the declaration to be amended, granted a conſulation as to the proceeding to deprive, and confirmed the prohibition as to any other puniſhment. They ſaid he was an eccleſiaſtical perſon as to every thing but his election. Salk. 536. Mar. 101. Salk. 550. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 776.

Trinity, 13 Geo. Thomas v. Batty.

An executor brought a libel in the ſpiritual court, for taking a tankard without his conſent, on pretence that the teſtator gave it the defendant if he died of his then ſickneſs. And the court granted a prohibition, this not being a legacy, but a gift in caſe of death the validity whereof may be tried in an action of trover. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 777.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Caſtle v. Richardſon.

On a libel in the ſpiritual court, for not taking on him the office of chapelwarden, the defendant pleaded, that it was a donative, and thereon moved for a prohibition. And on debate the ſame was denied, the whole court being of opinion, that though there was a difference as to the incumbent, yet as to the pariſh officers, there was none; for they are the officers of the pariſh, and not of the patron of the donative. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 715.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Ferguſon v. Cuthbert.

A prohibition was moved for to a ſuit in the ſpiritual court for calling a woman jilt and ſtrumpet, and ſaying he would cut his wife's legs off if ſhe was ſuch a ſtrumpet; which was denied.

Per curiam. The words are a charge of incontinence, and the ſignification of them well known. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 823.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Sereen v. Cockernutt.

In prohibition for ſuing a quaker in the eccleſiaſtical court on ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 34. for repairing of the church, the act giving a remedy before juſtices of peace; though the juriſdiction of the ſpiritual court is not ſaved in the act, yet the court held a prohibition would not lie, and that it is a new remedy given by the ſtatute, and the old one not taken away; which appears more fully by ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 6. which gives the like remedy for ſmall tithes. Vide Forteſcue, p. 347.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. Edgworth v. Smalldridge.

The executor proved the will in the prerogative court, and a legatee ſued him in the Arches, which is a court held within the dioceſe of London, but belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury. The defendant moved for a prohibition, he living in Hertfordſhire, and therefore by ſtat. 23 H. 8. c. 9. ought not to be cited out of the dioceſe, this not being within any of the exceptions in the ſtatute.

Per curiam. The general ſaving, as to the probate of wills, extends to this, which is in conſequence of their having juriſdiction to cite a man out of the dioceſe to prove a will; and if his living out of the dioceſe in which the will was proved is an objection to ſuing him there for a legacy, it will overthrow the juriſdiction of the ſpiritual court as to legacies: the executor, by proving the will in the Arches, ſubmits to the juriſdiction of that court: it is the Arches, and not the prerogative court, where the will is to be proved; and it is proper the executor ſhould be ſued in the court where he muſt render an account, and get his diſcharge. Vide Stra. v. 2. p. 847.

Michaellmas, 4 Geo. 2. Dr. Gooche v. The Biſhop of London.

The Biſhop libelled in the ſpiritual court, ſuggeſting that Dr. Gooche, as archdeacon of Eſſex, with-held to pay 10*l.* due to the biſhop as preſtation, for the exerciſe of his exterior juriſdiction.

The court was moved for a prohibition, alledging that they had pleaded there was no preſcription; and then, that being denied, a prohibition ought to go for defect of trial.

On the other ſide it was argued, that the libel being general, it muſt not be taken that they go on preſcription; but it is to be conſidered in the ſame light as the common caſe of a penſion, which is ſuable for in the ſpiritual court: and the nature of the demand ſhews it muſt have its original from a compoſition, it being a recompence for the archdeacon's being allowed to exerciſe a juriſdiction, which originally belonged to the Ordinary. 2 Cro. 666. Salk. 58. Cro. Eliz. 675. 2 Inſt. 491.

Per curiam. They may certainly entitle themſelves, from length of time, without laying a preſcription. And as they have only laid it in general, there is no ground for us to interpoſe, till it appears by the proceedings that a preſcriptive right will come in queſtion: if they join iſſue on the plea, it will then be proper to apply; but at preſent there ought to be no prohibition. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 879.

Hilary, 6 Geo. 2. Muſgrave v. Bovey.

A prohibition was granted to a ſuit for theſe words, ſpoken by one clergyman to another, "You are an "old rogue and a raſcal, and a contemptable fellow, "deſpiſed and hated by every body." Cumb. 253, Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 946.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 2. Peake v. Bourne.

The plaintiff declared in prohibition that he was ſued in the ſpiritual court for executing the office of deputy pariſh-clerk, without the licence of the Ordinary.

On demurrer, three points were made; 1ſt. Whether a pariſh-clerk is a temporal or ſpiritual officer. 2dly. Whether he can make a deputy. And, 3dly. Whether the licence of the Ordinary is requiſite.

It was argued three ſeveral times on all the points: but the court, in giving judgment, founded themſelves only on the laſt, as to which they held a licence was not neceſſary, and therefore gave judgment for the plaintiff in prohibition. They ſaid the canon did not require it, and indeed it would be a transferring the right of appointment to all intents and purpoſes to the Ordinary. Inſtitutes of the Canon Law 22, and 2 Roll. Abr. 286. pl. 44.

As to the other two points, the court ſtrongly inclined that he was a temporal officer as to the right of his office, and that he might make a deputy

For the firſt were cited 18 E. 3. 27. 13 Co. 70. 2 Cro. 670. Pal. 379. Mar. 101. 1 Keb. 286. 2 Roll. Abr. 285. pl. 37. 2 Brownlow 11. 1 Lev. 75. 1 Vent. 143. 2 Lev. 18. Salk. 536. Goodb. 163. Old Bendl. 142. 1 Leon. 94. Fitzh. Annuity 40. Hugh's Parſons Law, 275. And when the court were preſſed with their own authority in Townſhend v. Thorpe, they ſaid it was a haſty opinion into which they were tranſport- by the enormity of the caſe.

From the ſecond were cited 1 Roll. Rep. 274. Mo. 845. (3 Bulſt. 77. 2 Roll. Rep. 274. 9 Co. 48.) That a conſtable may make a deputy: and the common diſtinction is between a judicial and miniſterial officer, as a pariſh-clerk certainly is. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 942.

Hilary,

Hilary, 7 Geo. 2. Clews v. Bathurſt.

On an action for maliciouſly procuring the plaintiff's wife to exhibit articles of the peace againſt him, and for living with her in adultery, the plaintiff proved marriage by the parſon and a woman, and alſo a conſummation. To encounter which, the defendant produced a ſentence of the conſiſtory court of London, in a cauſe of jactitation of marriage brought by the woman againſt the plaintiff, wherein ſhe was declared free from all contract, and perpetual ſilence impoſed on the plaintiff, which ſentence was pronounced ſince iſſue joined in this cauſe; and the Chief Juſtice ruled this to be concluſive evidence, till reverſed by appeal; and the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 960.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. 2. Pew v. Creſwell & al. Churchwardens of St. Mary, Rotherhithe.

The plaintiff was libelled againſt in the ſpiritual court for a nuiſance and encroachment on the church-yard; to which he pleaded, that he was owner of four tenements, which formerly ſtood on the ground in queſtion, and that his preſent building was on the old foundation, and did not project farther. And this not being a matter properly triable there, a prohibition was granted; for though interrupting the uſe of a church-yard, as a church-yard, is properly cognizable in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, yet the bounds of it, which is a matter of freehold, ought not to be determined there. F. N. B. 51. A. 2 Roll. Abr. 137. pl. 4. 1 Roll. 12. Mo. 413. 1 Sid. Butler v. Yelman. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1013.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. Lockey v. Dangerfield.

On a libel brought in the ſpiritual court for theſe words, "You are a bawd; the court was moved for a prohibition, and Raym. 115. 3 Mod. 74. were cited, to prove that an action lies: but the court, on conſideration, diſcharged the rule; for it is not a charge of keeping a bawdy-houſe, which is puniſhable as a temporal offence. 1 Roll. Abr. 44. pl. 8. and an action will lie for thoſe words; but for the word bawd only it will not, that being perhaps no more than a ſolicitation of chaſtity. 1 Sid. 241. 1 Vent. 53. Salk. 552. and Trinity 4 Ann, The Queen v. Pearſon, who was convicted at Hicks's Hall for being a common bawd, and procuring men and women to meet and commit fornication, the court, on error, reverſed it, ſince it might only be in a private room, and be but a ſolicitation of chaſtity, and not amount to the temporal offence of keeping a bawdy-houſe, to the nuiſance of the neighbourhood. And the ſame point was determined in this court Hilary 3 Geo. Savil v. Kirby. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1100.

Hilary, 13 Geo. 2. The Rector, &c. of St. George, Hanover Square, v. Stewart.

The pariſh was cited to appear in the biſhop of London's court, to ſhew cauſe why a licence ſhould not be granted to Mr. Stewart to erect a charity-ſchool on part of the church-yard. And on motion of the rector and pariſhioners a prohibition was granted, for the eccleſiaſtical court has nothing to do with this, and cannot compel them without their conſent. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1126.

Trinity, 13 Geo. 2. The King v. The Archbiſhop of Armagh, and Nathaniel Whaley, Clerk.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 9 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Sir John Trelawny, Baronet, v. The Biſhop of Wincheſter.

In an action of debt brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant for 600 l. for five years ſalary, due for ſeveral offices, viz. great or chief ſteward to the biſhoprick and all its caſtles, lordſhips, manors, &c. and conductor of the men and tenants of the Biſhop thereof, with a ſalary of 100 l. per annum, and of maſter-keeper or preſerver of the wild beaſts in all the foreſts, &c. belonging to the Biſhop, and chief governor of all birds, &c. (which was commonly called Chief Parker,) with a ſalary of 20 l. per annum. Theſe offices, &c. were granted to the plaintiff by the late Biſhop of Winton, by letters patent: on iſſue joined between the parties, the jury found a ſpecial verdict; and the queſtion that came before the court on ſuch verdict was,

" Whether Sir J. Trelawny the grantee was intitled " to hold the two firſt mentioned offices, and to reco-" ver thoſe arrears againſt the preſent Biſhop:" as to the office of chief parker, it was given up by the plaintiff's council?

After hearing council on both ſides on this queſtion, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. We are all unanimouſly of opinion, that an office and fee which exiſted before ſtat. 1 Eliz. is not within ſuch ſtat. but may be granted ſince preciſely in the ſame manner as it was granted before, and that the utility or neceſſity of ſuch an office is no more material ſince that ſtat. than it was before; and we think this opinion agreeable to the words and intent of the ſtatute, and to every precedent made ſince: therefore the plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 219.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. The Biſhop of Durham.

On a motion for a mandamus to the Biſhop of Durham, commanding him to exerciſe his viſitorial power over the temporalities of that church, the merits of the queſtion was,

" Whether the ſucceſſor's prebendary (Dr. Sterne) had " a right to two years and a half's profits accruing " during the vacancy of the ſtall, from the death of " Dr. Benſon Biſhop of Glouceſtr, (the laſt preceding " prebendary) which intermediate profits the other " prebendaries had received, and divided among " them?"

After hearing the arguments of the council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield ſaid, he thought an action at law was the proper method; and quoted the caſe of Dr. Young v. Dr. Lynch, p. 26. Geo. 2. 1753, B. R. and alſo Seagar's caſe in Chancery.

" Whether the Biſhop can have a juriſdiction to de-" termine this point, or whether matters of property " in cathedrals can be determined otherwiſe than ac-" cording to the courſe of the law of the land?" is a great queſtion, and certainly the Dean and Chapter muſt have an opportunity to ſhew cauſe againſt a mandamus being iſſued to the Biſhop to exerciſe ſuch juriſdiction.

In this particular caſe the queſtion muſt be litigated not only with the members of the body, but with the executors and adminiſtrators of the deceaſed prebendaries, over whom the Biſhop (ſuppoſing him viſitor, and as viſitor to have conuiſance of ſuch a caſe) can have no power, which alone is deciſive againſt his juriſdiction in this queſtion.

The council on behalf of Dr. Sterne, the prebendary, ſeeing the court clearly againſt his client, declined the motion. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 567.

Trinity, 32 & 33 Geo. 2. Symes v. Symes.

A motion for a prohibition to the eccleſiaſtical court was denied in this cauſe by the whole court, for they ſaid, where the eccleſiaſtical court have juriſdiction, (as in this caſe) and they have pronounced ſentence, the remedy muſt be by appeal, and not by way of prohibition; but if they proceed where they have no juriſdiction at all, there a prohibition may be applied for after ſentence in the eccleſiaſtical court. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 813.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 3. John, late Biſhop of Lincoln, now Biſhop of Saliſbury, v. Wolfarſtan. Error.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment in the C. B. againſt the Biſhop of Lincoln, and T. W. his clerk, in a quare impedit brought by the grantee of the advowſon in fee of the church of Great Sheepy.

The caſe was ; Great Sheepy is a rectory, and a benefice with cure of ſouls, of above the yearly value of 8 l. That T. G. the incumbent, accepted and took another benefice with cure of ſouls, namely, the living of Seale, and was inſtituted, admitted, and inducted into the poſſeſſion of the ſame, and thereon the plaintiff below preſented T. H. to the rectory of Great Sheepy, who tendered himſelf to the Biſhop, and was refuſed by him.

The Biſhop's plea, which was bad, admits the incumbency of Grieſley, and his acceptance of the living of Seale, but ſuppoſes the avoidance of his former church to have been made by his inſtitution to the ſecond, on the 31ſt day of October 1759, and then by computing from the inſtitution, ſhews that ſix months elapſed, whereon he collated T. W. to it by lapſe on the 20th day of June.

The replication (which was informal) ſpecifies the time of Grieſley's induction to Seale to have been on the 22d day of December 1759, and alledges that on the 20th of June 1760, the day when the Biſhop collated his clerk T. W. ſix months from the induction of Grieſley to Seale had not elapſed.

The Biſhop in his rejoinder inſiſts on the lapſe incurring at the end of ſix months from the time of Grieſley's inſtitution to Seale, and traverſes his refuſal of Hall before he himſelf had collated his own clerk, or that Hall tendered himſelf to him before he had collated the other, or within ſix months after the inſtitution of Grieſley to Seale.

On this rejoinder the plaintiff demurred both generally and ſpecially, and the Biſhop joined in demurrer.

The court were clearly of opinion, that as to the lapſe, the voidance of the former benefice does not take place till induction to the ſecond, and that a grant of a next preſentation, or of an advowſon made after the church was actually fallen vacant, was a void grant, and ſaid, that the fact was not ſufficiently aſcertained on the pleadings, for tho' it appeared that the grant was made on the 9th day of November 1759, yet it does not appear at that time Grieſley was inſtituted to the ſecond benefice, conſequently the objection cannot be let in, that it was vacant when the grant was made.

Per curiàm. Let the judgment be affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1504.

Ejectment.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Knight v. Syms or Symms.

In ejectment for five cloſes of arable and paſture, called —— containing twenty acres in D. on not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, but judgment was arreſted, becauſe ejectment lies not of twenty acres arable and paſture, without ſhewing how much of the one, and how much of the other ; and clauſum i. e. a cloſe does not help the matter : furlinga i. e. a furlong is a known meaſure ; ſo is bovata i. e. as much land as one can plough, hida i. e. an hyde, caruca i. e. a carucate of land, but clauſum is not ſo certain in law, and the adding a name to the cloſe is nothing ; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, affirmed Savill's caſe for law. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 254. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 97.

Michaelmas, 4 W. & M. Whittingham v. Andrews. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in ejectment in the court of Durham, and the declaration was of coal mines, without ſhewing the number of mines. It was not queſtioned but an ejectment lies of a coal mine, 2 Cro. 150. But the incertainty in not expreſſing the number was doubted : for the plaintiff it was urged, that the courſe was ſo in Durham, and that the declaration was according to the plaintiff's leaſe ; and as this was the conſtant courſe in Durham, ſo it was well enough underſtood in thoſe parts, comparing it to the ejectment for ſo many acres of mountain, in which caſe this court would not reverſe the judgment, but wrote to the juſtices in Ireland to certify whether the practice there could warrant ſuch ejectments ; and being certified, this court did not reverſe the judgment. And here the court were ſatisfied ſuch ejectments were uſual in Durham, and affirmed the judgment Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 255. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 143.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Gwynn v. Pie.

In ejectment for two meſſuages, two gardens, and ſeventy acres of land, fifteen acres of meadow, and thirty acres of paſture in Much Dew-Church, &c, the plaintiff delivered declarations to two tenants only, and as to the lands in their poſſeſſion, the defendants entered into the common rule ; but becauſe he had made ſeveral ſmall purchaſes in that pariſh, and the plaintiff claimed only twenty acres lately granted to him by leaſe from the Biſhop of Glouceſter ; therefore he moved by his council, that the plaintiff might give a note in writing, before the firſt day of the next term, what lands in particular he claimed, and where ſuch lands lay, and in whoſe poſſeſſion, &c. or otherwiſe that he might not proceed to a trial at the next aſſizes ; for the defendant not knowing what lands the plaintiff would claim, could not tell what purchaſe-deeds to produce at the trial ; but not allowed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 214.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Anonymous. Error.

In ejectment on a demiſe by a corporation aggregate, the plaintiff had a verdict in C. B. and a writ of error being brought here, it was objected, that the demiſe is not ſet forth by the deed ; but the judgment was affirmed ; for the demiſe is confeſſed to be good by confeſſing leaſe, entry, and ouſter ; and the jury could never have found for the plaintiff, if there had not been a good demiſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 113.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Smartly v. Henden.

In ejectment for certain empty houſes, a leaſe was ſealed on the land, and a declaration delivered to the caſual ejector, and judgment and execution had ; yet becauſe they had not moved for a peremptory rule to plead, the judgment was ſet aſide ; and held that in ſuch caſe there muſt be an affidavit of the ſealing of the leaſe, entry, &c. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 255.

Hilary, 8 & 9 W. 3. Partridge v. Ball. Error.

In ejectment for lands in Suffolk, on the demiſe of the corporation of Bury, on not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff. But it was moved in arreſt of judgment in C. B. that it does not appear on the record, that the leaſe was by deed. And the prothonotaries there certified, that the practice was, notwithſtanding the common rule, of confeſſing leaſe, entry, and ouſter, in ejectment for things incorporeal, as tithes, or on demiſes of corporations, to lay the demiſe by deed. But it was adjudged in C. B. that it was aided by the verdict ; and judgment was given there for the plaintiff, on which a writ of error was brought in this court, and that judgment affirmed. And Holt Chief Juſtice ſaid, that at this day, the caſe in 2 Cro. 613. is not law. Swadling v. Pieres. For now ejectments are grounded on fiction. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 136.

Edſter, 9 W. 3. Puliſton v. Warburton et al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 58 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

H. brought an ejectment in C. B. and at the aſſizes was nonſuited, and coſts were taxed on the nonſuit ; the plaintiff brought a new ejectment in C. B. and a rule was made to ſtay all proceedings till the coſts of the nonſuit were paid. Then he brought an ejectment in this court, and on producing the rule of the court of C. B. the ſame rule was made here. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 255.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

A motion was made for a rule to plead in ejectment, and the affidavit was, that the declaration was delivered to the ſervant of the tenant in poſſeſſion; and alſo that ſince that the tenant in poſſeſſion had wrote a letter to him, which he verily believed to be his hand, deſiring him, being attorney for the plaintiff, to intercede with the leſſor (who was a mortgagee) for forbearance; and the rule was granted. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 256.

Summer Aſſizes, 10 W. 3. Boner v. Juner.

It was ruled by Holt Chief Juſtice, at Ryegate in Surry, upon evidence at a trial, that coparceners may join in ejectment. And he ſaid, the caſe in Moor 682. n. 939. was not law. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 726.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

If notice in ejectment is given to an under-tenant, and he does not acquaint his landlord therewith, but ſuffers judgment to go againſt him, the court, on motion, will not ſuffer execution to be taken out, till the right is tried. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 211.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Underhill v. Durham.

The plaintiff moved that the landlord might be joined as a defendant with the tenant in poſſeſſion; but it was denied; for the court cannot compel him without his conſent; otherwiſe if he requeſt it himſelf. In another cauſe, a motion was made on the behalf of the landlord, that he might be made a defendant; and the plaintiff oppoſed it, becauſe he was a member of parliament.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. He muſt be joined, and we cannot compel him to waive his privilege.

A perſon privileged cannot be joined to be a plaintiff, but he may be made a defendant, for every one ought to be allowed to defend his own right. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 256.

11 W. 3. Stocker v. Berny. At the Summer Aſſizes at Lincoln.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If H. has poſſeſſion of land for twenty years uninterrupted, and then B. gains poſſeſſion, on which H. brings an ejectment; though H. is plaintiff, yet his poſſeſſion for twenty years will be a good title for him, as well as if H. had been then in poſſeſſion; becauſe poſſeſſion for twenty years now by virtue of ſtat. 21 Jac. 1. cap. 16. is like a deſcent at Common Law, which tolls the entry. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 741.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

A declaration in ejectment had been delivered to one to whom the keys were given to let the houſe.

Per curiam. The delivery is not good, becauſe it ſhould be to the tenant in poſſeſſion, and he is only a ſervant, and the plaintiff is not without remedy, for he may ſign a leaſe on the land. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 313.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Sherwin v. Sir Walter Clayes.

Per curiam. When it appears to the court, that a ſuit is vexatious, they will not grant a trial at bar in ejectment, without naming a ſufficient plaintiff.

And by favour of the court, one may have a trial at bar, though he ſue in forma pauperis. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 318.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

The plaintiff had a judgment in ejectment, but was hung up by injunction, ſo that the term expired. The court was moved to enlarge the term, the injunction being now diſſolved.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We cannot alter records.

Note, The ſame motion was made Eaſt. 3 Ann. in this court and denied for the ſame reaſon; and ſaid, that it could not be done without conſent, and that in Sir John Roll's caſe (which was cited) the term was enlarged; but it was by conſent. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 257.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an ejectment for lands in Middleſex, the declaration was delivered after the eſſoign day of Michaelmas term; the plaintiff let that term paſs without doing any thing, and alſo till the laſt day of Hilary term in like manner, when he moved for a rule to plead, and for want of a plea, ſigned the judgment: and the court held this to be a ſurpriſe on the defendant, for when he had let all Hilary term ſlip without doing any thing, within which time he might have had a trial, he ought to have given freſh notice: as in the caſe where a man lets an aſſizes paſs in a country cauſe without proceeding; wherefore the judgment was ſet aſide. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 257.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Slabourne v. Bengo.

In ejectment, the plaintiff declared upon two ſeveral demiſes, to have the tenements aforeſaid, &c. by virtue whereof he entered, and was poſſeſſed, until the defendant entered into the tenements, and the plaintiff expelled and removed him out of, &c. his ſaid term not being then expired. The court was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the words tenements aforeſaid were uncertain, and therefore ill, for it did not appear which; the ſame of his term aforeſaid then not expired, which makes the former objection the ſtronger, becauſe it complains but of one. But the court held the firſt to be well enough, and that it would extend to both. And as to the other, if it had been omitted, the declaration had been well enough, and therefore it would not hurt it. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 561.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Badger v. Floyd. Error.

The plaintiff had judgment in ejectment, on which a writ of error being brought, bail was given to proſecute, and anſwer the meſne profits, and pending it, the plaintiff brought an action of debt for rent.

Per curiam. The writ of error does not hinder the plaintiff from bringing an action of debt, or diſtraining for his rent; and here he might have entered without a writ of execution, for only all executions are ſuſpended by the writ of error; and in a real action, after judgment, the plaintiff may enter, notwithſtanding a writ of error, if his entry was lawful without the judgment, for that is not by force of the judgment, which ſhall not put him in a worſe condition than he was in before. And whereas it was urged, that in the Exchequer, they had laid a plaintiff by the heels for ſuch a thing,

Holt, Chief Juſtice ſaid, it muſt have been by virtue of their equitable power, which this court had not. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 398.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Johnſon v. Allen.

Per curiam. Where there be two tenants in common, and one of them does actually ouſt the other, he may maintain an ejectment againſt him, and he ſhall not be admitted to defend, without confeſſing leaſe, entry and ouſter; and in that caſe the plaintiff ſhall only recover his property in an undivided ſhare, and ſhall be put in poſſeſſion of no more; and in ſuch caſe the ſheriff ſhall give the ſame execution as he would do of rent on aſſize, and there can be no mean profits at all recovered in caſe of tenants in common; but if one enters only on another, claiming only as tenant in common, and the other brings an ejectment, it will be hard to enforce the defendant, who has done nothing but as tenant in common, to confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter; and here it was ruled, that there ſhould be a confeſſion of leaſe, entry, and ouſter, in caſe it ſhould appear to be an actual ouſter on evidence at the trial, otherwiſe not; and it was agreed, that to obſtruct one to make the utmoſt profit of his moiety, would amount to an ouſter, but not to conſent to have the rents raiſed on the tenants would not. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. page 657.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Gree v. Rolle and Newell.

The plaintiff brought an ejectment againſt the defendant for lands in Devonſhire; the defendant appeared, and entered into the common rule in ejectment, and pleaded jointly not guilty. The cauſe being brought to trial at the aſſizes at Exeter, the defendant Rolle appeared, and confeſſed leaſe, entry, and ouſter, but the defendant did not appear. On which the plaintiff entered a non pros againſt Newell at the ſaid aſſizes. And as to the defendant Rolle, the jury found a ſpecial verdict; on which the ſingle queſtion was, whether the entry of ceſtuy que truſt would be ſufficient to avoid the ſtatute of limitations, 21 Jac. 1. c. 16.?

And it was held clearly by the whole court, that ſuch entry was ſufficient to avoid the ſtatute; and they would not hear an argument on the point. And a rule was made that the plaintiff ſhould have judgment, unleſs the defendant ſhewed cauſe to the contrary before the end of Trinity term then laſt paſt. On which the court was moved to ſet aſide the ſaid rule, becauſe the retraxit was irregularly entered; and the plaintiff, after the entry of it, ought not to have proceeded, ſuppoſing it had been regularly entered; becauſe by his declaration, he ſays that he has a right againſt both jointly, which ſuppoſal he has falſified by the entry of the retraxit, confeſſing thereby, that he has no right at all againſt Newell.

Per curiam. If an ejectment is brought againſt two, and iſſue is joined, and then one of them dies, and a venire is awarded as to the two defendants, and a verdict againſt two, yet on ſuggeſtion of the death of one of them on the roll, the plaintiff ſhall have judgment for the whole againſt the other. Cro. Jac. 303, 274. 2 Keb. 845. becauſe this action is grounded on torts, which are irregular in their nature, and one may be found guilty, and the other acquitted.

Then it was further argued, that this retraxit was entered irregularly, for the non pros muſt be interpreted a retraxit, or nothing; for it cannot be a nonſuit; for if it were a nonſuit, then the plaintiff being nonſuited againſt one, ſhall be nonſuited againſt both. And as a retruxit, it cannot be good, becauſe the defendants have joined in plea, and therefore neither the plaintiff nor the judge of aſſize can ſever them; and all the caſes where retraxits have been adjudged good, where the pleas were ſeveral, and not joint. Long. 5 Ed. 4. 108. Bro. Judgment 77.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. On the non pros entered againſt one of the defendants, judgment ought to have been entered for him, which could not be done at niſi prius; and before ſuch entry he is not diſcharged, and the plaintiff ought not to have proceeded againſt the other. He ſaid, that he had never ſeen ſuch a retraxit as this; and he was of opinion, that a retraxit cannot be entered againſt one of the defendants where they join in plea. Beſides, that before the ſtatute of York, the plaintiff could not have been nonſuited at niſi prius, becauſe he was not demandable there. And therefore he held, that this retraxit was irregularly entered, and that the plaintiff ought not to have his judgment.

But Powys and Gould, Juſtices, held the contrary; 1ſt. Becauſe the plea is in its nature ſeverable, and therefore a retraxit may be well entered as to one of the defendants. 2dly. That the judge of niſi prius may receive ſuch entry. Wherefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. But afterwards a writ of error was brought on this judgment in parliament; and the judgment of this court was affirmed, and 50 l. coſts given to the defendant in error. Vide Raym. vol. 2. page 716. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 651.

Lent aſſizes, 13 W. 3. Chettle v. Pound.

On an action of debt for rent, the defendant pleaded nil debet.

The plaintiff gave in evidence a note in writing, by which the defendant agreed, to hold for one year, rendering a rent of 15 l. and in fact he was grantee of a reverſion, expectant upon an eſtate for life, which life was dead at the time of the giving of the note, which grant was forty years before, and he was never in poſſeſſion, but the tenant for life was all the time in poſſeſſion during his life. The defendant gave in evidence a prior grant of the ſaid reverſion, and it was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice:

That the defendant in this caſe may give in evidence, he had no intereſt in the tenements, the plaintiff having never been in poſſeſſion, notwithſtanding the note ſigned by the defendant, by which he agreed to hold, &c. But if the plaintiff had been in poſſeſſion, though but a tenant at will, &c. then the defendant could not have given this in evidence, without having been evicted. And therefore the plaintiff was nonſuited. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 746.

Summer Aſſizes, 13 W. 3. Claxmore v. Searle & others.

The plaintiff brought an ejectment againſt the defendants Searle, Field, and Falkner; Field appeared, and confeſſed leaſe, entry, and ouſter, Searle and Falkner did not appear, nor confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter, on which, by the direction of Holt, C. J. at Horſham in Suſſex, a verdict was given by the jury for the plaintiff againſt Field generally; and a verdict was given againſt the plaintiff for Searl and Falkner; and an indorſement was made upon the poſtea that this verdict was for Searle and Falkner, becauſe they did not appear and confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter; and for this reaſon, that they ſhould not have coſts againſt the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff ſhould have judgment againſt the caſual ejector, for ſuch lands as were in the poſſeſſion of Searle and Falkner. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 729.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Fenwick's Caſe.

A motion was made to make the leſſor of the plaintiff's wife a defendant in ejectment, the plaintiff's title being by a pretended intermarriage, which was controverted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. To make the landlord a defendant in ejectment is of right; for otherwiſe he might loſe his poſſeſſion by combination between the plaintiff and tenant in poſſeſſion: and the court inclined to grant the motion, becauſe there could be no inconvenience, and it would make the verdict more conſiderable; but in regard the wife lived in Cheſhire, and muſt have fourteen days notice of trial, and the defendant would not waive that, the court perceived it a trick to put off the trial; ſo nothing was done. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 257.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Withers v. Harris.

An habere facias poſſeſſionem was ſued out on a judgment in ejectment, after a year and a day paſt after the judgment was obtained, without ſuing out a ſci. fac. and it was argued, that there ought to be a ſcire facias, and cited 1 Sid. 361. 2 Keb. 307. On the other hand it was allowed, there muſt be a ſcire facias, for the damages, but not as to the term; for till the reign of King Charles 2. it was doubted whether a ſcire facias would lie on a judgment in ejectment, as appears by 2 Keb. 55. 1 Sid. 317. and before that time no ſcire facias had been brought; and the plaintiff here, as in the caſe of a real action, may execute a judgment in ejectment by entry without a writ of execution. 2 Sid. 156. 1 Rol. Rep. 215. Noy 11. Palm. 263.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that as to the poſſeſſion of the land, an ejectment was real, and was the only remedy for a termor for years, and a recovery in ejectment binds the right and intereſt of him that has the inheritance, and makes a title in the plaintiff; and therefore the ſcire facias is as neceſſary in this as in any real action; and in a ſcire facias on a judgment on ejectment, he that hath the inheritance cannot falſify, nor can his

Heir in fee-ſimple, nor any one that claims under him, except the iſſue in tail; and he cannot falſify ſuch a recovery in the point tried, but only in the caſe of a judgment by default, or elſe by ſhewing that the defendant's anceſtor made but a feingned defence, and did not ſhew ſuch and ſuch pieces of evidence as he ought to have done; and therefore there is no reaſon why this caſe ſhould differ from the general rule of law; ſo it was ordered, that a ſcire facias ſhould go againſt the ter-tenants as well as the defendant: and Powell, Juſtice, obſerved, that on a writ of annuity a ſcire facias lay on the judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 258. Raym. vol. 2. p. 806.

1 Ann. Little v. Heatcn.

An ejectment was brought by the leſſor againſt the leſſee on a condition of re-entry for non-payment of rent, and on a trial before Holt, Chief Juſtice, it was urged, that an actual entry and ouſter was neceſſary.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, that true it was the law had been held ſo, and accordingly it was practiſed till the caſe of Withers v. Gibſon, 25 Car. 2. 3 Keb. 218. In which caſe, Hale, Chief Juſtice, ruled the law to be otherwiſe on a trial before him at the aſſizes in Bucks, and held that the confeſſion of leaſe, entry and ouſter, was ſufficient: that on this opinion of his, a caſe was made and moved in court, where all the judges concurred with him: that accordingly it was held by Scroggs, Chief Juſtice, in the caſe of Sir Robert Pye v. Billing. 1 Vent. 332. But that notwithſtanding this, it became a queſtion again after the revolution, and that he himſelf doubting about it, it was moved again in court, and that his brothers were all of opinion with Hale, and that accordingly he had ever ſince held it; and ſo it was ruled in this caſe. 3 Keb. 282.

N. B. Suppoſe an entry is requiſite to complete the title of the leſſor of a plaintiff. I take it that entry is not confeſſed by general rule, but only the entry of the nominal plaintiff; and therefore in ſuch a caſe the plaintiff muſt prove an actual entry by his leſſor. And Hale in 1 Vent. 248. ſeems to hint ſo. For the rule only confeſſes that the leſſor of the plaintiff made a leaſe, but not that he had a power ſo to do. He confeſſes the leſſor made ſuch a leaſe, that the plaintiff entered, and the defendant ejected him; but how does this relate to the leſſor's entry? Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 259. Raym. vol. 2. p. 750.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. To have judgment againſt a caſual ejector ſtand, all things muſt be very fair on the plaintiff's ſide, for the defendant loſes his poſſeſſion by a a fictitious proceeding. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. page 150.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In the caſe of tenants in common, there muſt be an actual ouſter of the one by the other, or elſe he ſhall not be compelled to confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 39.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Fenwick v. Groſvenor.

Mr. Fenwick obtained judgment on a verdict in ejectment on his demiſe againſt Lady Groſvenor; on this the Lady brought a writ of error, and pending the writ of error delivered a declaration in ejectment to the tenants in poſſeſſion, on her own demiſe; and now the plaintiff moved for the common rule, and it was denied.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. No new ejectment ſhall be brought by the defendant after the recovery againſt him, till he has quitted the poſſeſſion, or the tenants have attorned to the plaintiff, ſo as he be in poſſeſſion, and the defendant out; for if the plaintiff gets judgment in this laſt ejectment, and the firſt judgment is affirmed, then he renders it needleſs and ineffectual by this riding judgment, on which he takes out execution to recover his poſſeſſion. The rule for judgment againſt the caſual ejector is in the power of the court on what terms the court thinks fit. Lady Groſvenor muſt ſhew us a different title, or we will not grant the rule.

The ſame thing was done in another cauſe, Hil 2 Ann. B. R. where the defendant in ejectment pending a writ of error delivered a new declaration in ejectment, and the court was moved that the coſts might be firſt paid. The court thought the payment of coſts ſuſpended by the writ of error, but ſtaid all things for the reaſons before given. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 259.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Turner v. Barnaby.

In ejectment, if at the trial the defendant will not appear, and confeſs leaſe, entry and ouſter, the courſe is to call the defendant and his attorney, if he be within the rule; and then to call the plaintiff himſelf and nonſuit him; and then on the return of the poſtea, judgment will be given againſt the caſual ejector. Alſo the maſter will tax coſts on the rule for confeſſing leaſe, entry and ouſter; and, if theſe be demanded of the defendant, and not paid, the court on affidavit will grant an attachment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 260.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Saunders v. Melhuiſh.

Melhuiſh had got an unknown perſon to aſſume the name of the tenant in poſſeſſion, and to perſonate him in receiving a declaration in ejectment; and on the uſual affidavits, tricked the plaintiff out of his poſſeſſion; and the matter being made out by affidavits, and even by the affidavits of the two parties concerned, viz. he that delivered, and the other that received the declaration, the court ordered reſtitution; for no man's poſſeſſion ought to be diſturbed on the affidavits of ſuch infamous witneſſes. And Melhuiſh, the plaintiff in ejectment, attending, was committed to anſwer interrogatories.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, where a perſon is put to anſwer interrogatories for a fact fully proved againſt him, he ought to anſwer in cuſtody; but where it is any thing doubtful, the courſe is to put him to anſwer, that is, to bind him by recognizance to anſwer. And in either caſe if they purge themſelves by oath, they are diſcharged; but they may be proſecuted for perjury if they ſwear falſe. And if the interrogatories be not exhibited in four days, by the courſe of the court they are diſchanged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 73.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Ford v. Lord Grey.

At a trial at bar in ejectment, the ſtatute of limitations being pleaded, theſe ſeveral points were ruled on evidence:

1ſt, That the poſſeſſion of one joint-tenant is the poſſeſſion of the other, ſo far as to prevent the ſtatute.

2dly, That in proving an entry and claim, it is neceſſary:

1ſt, To prove the claim to be on the land claimed, (without ſpecial cauſe).

2dly, That it be a real claim.

3dly, If a man makes an anſwer in Chancery, prejudicial to his title, and afterwards conveys away his eſtate, this anſwer cannot be read againſt the alinee by any claiming under the alienor.

4thly, That the recital of a leaſe in a deed of releaſe, is good evidence of a leaſe againſt the releaſor, and thoſe that claim under him.

5thly, A fine was produced, but no deed declaring the uſes; but a deed was offered in evidence, which recited a deed of limitation of the uſes; and the queſtion was, whether that was evidence? And the court ſaid, that the bare recital of a deed was not evidence; but that if it could be proved that ſuch a deed had exiſted, and was loſt, it would do if it was recited in another; and it not being proved that there ever was a deed leading to the uſes of the fine, the council of one ſide oppoſed the ſame deed of recital being at all read: but the court ſaid, we cannot hinder the reading of a deed under ſeal; but what uſe is to be made of it is another thing.

6thly, A deed bore date 22 Car. 2. anno Dom. 1671. and notwithſtanding that miſtake, the year of the King being certain, it was well.

7thly, If there are two joint-tenants in fee, and one of them levies a fine of the whole, this amounts to no ouſter of his companion, but is a ſeverance of the jointure, though he is in of the old uſe again; as if a man ſeized of a manor, levies a fine of the demeſnes, the manor is gone for ever: Sir Moyle Finch's caſe; and after the fine, though he has the ſame old eſtate, yet he has it in another manner; for the fine being ſur conuſance de droit come ceo pre-ſuppoſes a feoffment; and if one ſeized as heir to the mother, levy a fine ſur grant and render, the eſtate ſhall go to the part of the father, otherwiſe of other fines.

8thly On a deed of title to the leſſor of a plaintiff of a will, the ſtatute of limitations being pleaded, and an entry and claim being offered in evidence to avoid it, they were to prove the entry to have been in another place than was excepted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 44.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

In ejectment, the term was made for five years, and after a verdict for the plaintiff, he was delayed of judgment and execution, by an injunction out of Chancery, till the term elapſed. And now it was moved to renew the term, and the caſe of Dangdell v. Greenvill was quoted where it was done, and that they uſed to do it frequently in the Exchequer.

Per curiam. We cannot do it without altering the record.

Gould, Juſtice, ſaid, they had held in Sir John Roll's caſe, that it could be done by conſent, but not otherwiſe: therefore the motion was denied. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 130.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Williams v. Hoſkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 63 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If a perſon pretending a title to land, gives ſecurity to the tenants to ſave them harmleſs on paying him the rent, and after another recovers in ejectment againſt them, they have not yet a remedy on the ſecurity, till recovery of the meſne profits, which is from the time of the action brought; and without an actual entry, there can be no recovery of the profits.

If a man ſigns a leaſe in one county or vill of lands in another, yet the jury muſt come from the place where the land lies on an ejectment brought on ſuch leaſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 222.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. It is a great abuſe in ejectment, that people make nominal leſſees of perſons not exiſting or at beſt not known to the defendant; ſo that he thereby may loſe his coſts. And by the whole court, the attorney that does ſo, ought to pay coſts; and in this caſe an attorney was put to anſwer interrogatories for ſuch a practice. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 309.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The plaintiff in ejectment is a mere nominal perſon, and truſtee for the leſſor, and if he releaſes the action, or if an action be brought in his name for the meſne profits, and he releaſes it, he ſhall be committed for the contempt. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 260.

Hilary, 8 Ann. Foſter v. Burden. Error.

The caſe was, judgment was given in ejectment on a demiſe of three years; the defendant brought a writ of error in this court, and the defendant ſued out a ſci. fac. quare executio non; to which the plaintiff in error pleaded, that he had paid 200*l.* in ſatisfaction of the term and damages; and on iſſue joined, the court was moved to change the venue out of Yorkſhire into Middleſex; but the court denied the motion, becauſe the ejectment is local; and the ſci. fac. being grounded thereon, the venue could not be changed Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 263.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Booth v. The Marquis of Lindſey and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 379 of this work, under the head Dower.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Burridge v. The Earl of Suſſex and others.

The plaintiff brought an ejectment for lands in Chevely, &c. in Kent, on the demiſe of Mrs. Leonard, third daughter of Henry Leonard, late brother of the Earl of Suſſex; on not guilty pleaded, the cauſe came to be tried at the bar of this court; and the leſſors, &c. made a title to a moiety of the lands in queſtion, (as the plaintiff had declared) as he is of the body of Richard Lord Dacre, under a ſettlement made by him in King James the firſt's time, the lands being of the nature of Gavelkind; to the other moiety whereof the Earl of Suſſex was admitted by the plaintiff to be intitled; for Richard Lord Dacre, who made the ſettlement, had iſſue, Francis Lord Dacre, and Francis Lord Dacre had iſſue the preſent Earl of Suſſex, Francis, and Henry, the father of the leſſor, &c. and Francis, the brother of Henry, died without iſſue. And firſt it was reſolved by the whole court, that the lands lying in Kent ſhould be preſumed at firſt ſight to be of the nature of Gavelkind, without farther proof, for it muſt lie on the other ſide to prove them diſgavelled: then the council produced an inquiſition taken after the death of Richard Lord Dacre, 5 Car. 1. wherein the deed was found in theſe words, whereby the general tail was created, under which the leſſors of the plaintiff claimed. And it was a deed whereby Richard Lord Dacre covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of ſuch wife as he ſhould marry, and after to Francis, his eldeſt ſon and heir apparent, (who was afterwards Francis Lord Dacre, grandfather of the leſſors, &c.) and the heirs of his body; Richard Lord Dacre did afterwards marry Dorothy, to whom an eſtate for life by a ſubſequent deed was limited, and ſhe enjoyed it during her life. The original inquiſition itſelf, with the writ annexed to it, was produced, being brought from the Roll's Chapel. And it was objected by the defendant's council, that it was not ſufficient evidence to prove the deed. But it was reſolved by the whole court, that it was good evidence, and did prove the deed and entail, and conſequently a title in the leſſors of the plaintiff, taking the lands not to be diſgavelled: but then the defendants gave evidence that the lands were diſgavelled, very clearly as to all but one farm of 30*l. per annum*, and as to that, though their evidence was defective, yet it being left to the jury, they gave a verdict for the whole for the defendants. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1292.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. Newman v. Holdmyfaſt. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in ejectment, for lands, and alſo for common of paſture, after a verdict for the plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that it ought to have been mentioned what ſort of common, becauſe an ejectment will not lie for all ſorts, ſuch as common for cauſe of vicinage, and that a common cannot maintain treſpaſs, and much leſs an ejectment. And Co. Litt. 4. b. Bro. Common, 24. Treſpaſs, 213. Yelv. 143. Cro. Car. 492. 1 Lev. 212. were cited.

Per curiam. After a verdict it ſhall be intended to be ſuch common for which an ejectment will lie; as common appendant, or appurtenant: and the general expreſſion of common muſt relate to that which is moſt uſual; juſt as the word tenure imports a tenure in ſocage; fines and recoveries are of common of paſture, generally. 1 Co. 301. 3 Keb. 738. 1 Jan. 315. Michaelmas 1 Geo. Cave v. Hunt in the Exchequer Chamber, this objection was over-ruled. He that has poſſeſſion of the land has poſſeſſion of the common, and the ſheriff, by giving poſſeſſion of one, executes his writ as to the other. Therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 54.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. Lord Kildare v. Fiſher. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in Ireland in ejectment; it was objected, that it was brought (among other things) for one hundred acres of mountain, with a deſcription of the ſituation, and not the quality of the land. And 11 Co. 55. 2 Roll. Rep. 166, 189. Palm. 100. Hardr. 58. were cited.

After hearing council, and taking the opinion of the Iriſh judges, Parker, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court as follows:

Since there are precedents with the preſent caſe, and the thing reaſonable in itſelf, and the ſheriff may as eaſily know how to deliver poſſeſſion of a mountain as of a cave, or an ox gang: and are all of opinion, that an ejectment will lie for a mountain in Ireland, and conſequently the judgment muſt be affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 71.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Biron v. Philips.

Per curiam. There muſt be the ſame notice of executing a ſcire fieri inquiry, as of executing a common writ of enquiry. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 235.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. Jordan v. Harper.

Sir S. S. brought a ſuit in ejectment againſt ſeveral perſons who lived in cottages on the waſte as paupers, to try whether the cottages belonged to him as lord of the manor. The pariſh made defence, and the plaintiff was nonſuited, and paid the coſts to one of the defendants, who was in his intereſt; and on motion, the court ſaid, they could not relieve the pariſh or the other defendants. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 516.

Hilary, 9 Geo. Lord Coningſby's Caſe.

His Lordſhip brought a ſuit in ejectment, and had a rule for a trial at bar; but it being on the demiſe of a wrong perſon, he delivered new ejectments, and coming again for a trial at bar, the court would not grant it, but on payment of coſts of the former ejectment. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 548.

Hilary, 9 Geo. Smith v. Jones.

The practice of this court is for the plaintiff in ejectment to deliver a copy of the declaration to the tenant in poſſeſſion, or to his wife, with an indorſement in Engliſh of the ſubſtance of ſuch declaration, &c. and if the tenant does not appear in the beginning of the next term, then on affidavit made of the delivery of the copy of the declaration, (affixed to the affidavit,) and of reading the indorſement, or of acquainting the tenant with the contents thereof, the court will make a rule for the tenant to appear, and plead on a certain day, at which time, if he appears, he muſt by his attorney file common bail, and enter into a rule to confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter, and leave it at a judge's chambers, and give notice thereof to the attorney for the plaintiff, that he may proceed.

But if the tenant in poſſeſſion does not appear, than after the day appointed by the court for his appearance, and to plead, judgment by default ſhall be entered againſt the caſual ejector.

Now, in this caſe, a declaration in ejectment was delivered, and a rule made for the tenant in poſſeſſion to appear and plead, which he did, &c. and afterwards withdrew his plea, and confeſſed judgment, which the plaintiff entered againſt the caſual ejector; and now the tenant in poſſeſſion moved by his council to ſet aſide this judgment; the reaſon was, becauſe he might bring a writ of error, for no ſuch writ would lie on a judgment againſt the caſual ejector, therefore the judgment ought to be entered againſt the tenant himſelf; for wherever the defendant is in court, the judgment muſt be entered againſt him, and not againſt the caſual ejector; now here he was in court, for he appeared, and pleaded to iſſue, and might come in at any time, and confeſs leaſe, entry, and cuſter, &c. And if the judgment had been entered againſt the tenant, it had been better for the plaintiff than to have it entered againſt the caſual ejector, becauſe in ſuch caſe the plaintiff will have his coſts, and will be intitled to an action to recover the value of the meſne profits in damages, which he can never recover by a judgment againſt the caſual ejector.

Thereon the court enquiring of the maſter of the office what was the practice of the court in ſuch caſes, both he and ſeveral old practitioners affirmed, that the practice was, to enter judgment againſt the caſual ejector, and that he had often denied to ſign judgment againſt the tenant in poſſeſſion, unleſs he had pleaded; it is true, he had pleaded in this caſe, but afterwards he withdrew his plea, and though he had pleaded, yet he is not a defendant till he enters into a rule to confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter, for then, and not before, he is a compleat defendant, and may plead to iſſue; but whether he appears or not, yet judgment ſhall be entered againſt the caſual ejector; it is true, it is ſometimes entered againſt the tenant in poſſeſſion, but that is by conſent of the parties, and on a promiſe not to bring a writ of error.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that there was no inſtance of a judgment being taken againſt the tenant in poſſeſſion for want of a plea; that the words of the rule are poſitively certain, that judgment ſhall be entered againſt the caſual ejector.

Now, the intent of the rule, for the tenant in poſſeſſion to appear on a certain day, and plead, is only to bring him into court, that when he comes in he may confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter, but not to ſtrip him of that right to which he is entitled by law, as it will if this judgment ſhould ſtand againſt the caſual ejector, becauſe no writ of error will lie in the Exchequer Chamber on ſuch judgment.

This way of delivering an ejectment is in nature of a proceſs to compel the tenant to appear in court, and was firſt inſtituted in Lord Chief Juſtice Roll's time, and never queſtioned till now. There is a difference between appearing and pleading, and appearing and not pleading at all.

Eyre, Juſtice, was clear for the plaintiff, that judgment ſhould be entered againſt caſual ejector, but the other three judges were doubtful, therefore the matter was adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 118.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Grumble v. Bodilly.

There was a verdict for the defendant in ejectment, and the plaintiff brought a writ of error, and a new ejectment, and it was moved to ſtay the proceedings in the ſecond ejectment till the coſts of the firſt was paid. Salk. 255. 258.

Per curiam. Unleſs the plaintiff can ſatisfy us, that the writ of error is brought with ſome other view than to keep off the payment of coſts, we will not ſuffer the plaintiff to proceed in his new ejectment; and he not ſhewing ſufficient cauſe, the proceedings were ſtayed, unleſs coſts were paid in a fortnight. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 554. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 226.

Trinity, 9 Geo. The King v. Unitt.

The court declared, that a declaration in ejectment was ſo far a proceſs of the court, that they puniſh contemptuous words ſpoken on the delivery of it, as a contempt of the court. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 567.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Cooper v. Beale.

An ejectment was brought to recover the poſſeſſion of a Quaker's meeting-houſe; none of them would receive the declaration, and the meeting-houſe was never ver open but on Sundays, on which day the delivery of a declaration was not good; thereupon the plaintiff took a judgment, by confeſſion of the nominal defendant, and now on motion that judgment was ſet aſide, becauſe in fact, it is the confeſſion of the plaintiff himſelf. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 109.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Hooper v. Dale

There being a vacant poſſeſſion, a leaſe was ſealed on the premiſes, and the defendant ejected the leſſee, and then gave a warrant of attorney to confeſs judgment: on which the court was moved to ſet it aſide, and it was argued, that the caſual ejector can in no caſe confeſs judgment. The council on the other ſide endeavoured to diſtinguiſh this from the common caſe, where the caſual ejector is only a nominal perſon; but the court ſaid it was a trick, and ſet it aſide. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 531.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Gravener v. Salter. Error.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe a judgment in ejectment, after verdict, the plaintiff in error's council excepted to the declaration, for that the writ recited therein, had miſtaken the plaintiff for the defendant, and ſo charged a demiſe of the lands to the defendant, inſtead of charging it to the plaintiff, and the declaration purſues the writ by referring thereunto, as he demiſed the tenements aforeſaid, or elſe it is void for uncertainty. 2dly, The venire facias, as contained in the poſtea, is ill, for the omiſſion of the words "do ſay": but after argument, the court over-ruled theſe objections, and affirmed the judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 303.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Waddy v. Newton.

On a ſpecial verdict in ejectment, the caſe was: the tenants in tail covenanted to levy a fine, and ſuffer a common recovery of the lands now in queſtion, and of a fiſhery; and accordingly levied the fine thereof, by the name of 120 acres of land in Stockwell hall, in the county of, &c. and of 10 acres in a running water; and declared the uſe thereof to himſelf and his heirs.

But there being many more than 140 acres ſtatute meaſure, the defendant, who was heir in tail, would conteſt the right to all above the 140 acres; and thereon the plaintiff brought an ejectment, and ſuggeſted, that the whole eſtate was computed to be 140 acres, by the common computation in the country, &c. and on not guilty pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. They found the fine was levied, and the recovery was ſuffered by the name of 120 acres of land, and of 10 acres of running water; and that the whole eſtate entailed was computed in the country to be 140 acres of land.

After hearing council on both ſides the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. It is admitted by the council for the defendant, that if this fine had been levied, and recovery ſuffered, in purſuance of a former agreement or covenant, for a valuable conſideration, and if it had appeared to be the intent of the parties, to paſs the whole eſtate by the name of 140 acres, in ſuch caſe the whole would paſs.

Now here the jury has found that the whole eſtate entailed, was computed in the county to be 140 acres; and it will be difficult to comprehend a difference between a covenant for a valuable conſideration, and a voluntary covenant; for it cannot reaſonably be ſaid, that the ſame words ſhall paſs all the lands in one caſe, and ſhall not paſs the whole in the other caſe, eſpecially when the tenant had it in his power to word it as he pleaſed.

But they held that an ejectment would not lie of a fiſhery; ſo the defendant muſt have judgment as to that matter, but becauſe the Chief Juſtice who tried this cauſe, believed that the defendant was ſurpriſed by the finding of the jury, that the whole eſtate-tail was computed in the country to be 140 acres; they would not tie him down to this verdict, but admitted him to bring a new ejectment to try the truth of that matter. On which the matter was adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 276.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Douglas v. ——.

On an affidavit, that they had tendered a declaration in ejectment, and that the ſervants refuſed to call their maſter, or receive it, ſaying, they had orders to take no papers, the court was moved, that leaving it at the houſe might be ſufficient; which was ordered accordingly. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 575.

Hilary, 11 Geo. Phillips v. Doelittle.

A leaſe was made reſerving rent; and for non payment thereof, that the leſſor might re-enter; the rent was not paid, and thereon the plaintiff brought an ejectment, and had judgment; and now a motion was made to ſtay proceedings, on payment of what rent was due, and all the coſts to this preſent time; and thereon a rule was made, that the defendant ſhould go before the maſter, &c. and he to take an account of what rent was due, &c. and that proceedings ſhould ſtay in the mean time.

Afterwards, it was moved to diſcharge this rule, becauſe it was on an extraordinary motion; for the common motion is to ſtop proceedings on payment of what is due; now there can be no proceedings after judgment; to which it was anſwered, that though the plaintiff had judgment, yet this was a proper motion, where ſuch judgment was in ejectment; and this entirely depends on the rules of the court.

Per curiam. The court uſually ſtays proceedings in ejectment, on reaſonable terms, at any time before execution executed; but in this caſe it was ruled, that if the defendant did not bring in to the maſter, within three days, what rent was juſtly due, and the coſts, that then the plaintiff might take out execution. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 345.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Steed or Stead v. Lateward. Entered Eaſt. 10 Geo. Rol. 234.

Per curiam. There muſt be ſame notice given of executing a ſcire fieri inquiry, as in the caſe of a common writ of enquiry; and ſaid it had been ſo formerly. Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Cawley v. Hayward, and Mich. 6 Geo. Biron v. Philips. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 623. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. 366.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Short v. King.

The plaintiff declared in ejectment, on one demiſe, to which not guilty was pleaded; but afterwards finding it neceſſary to add the demiſe of the truſtees, he delivered a new ejectment, on a double demiſe; whereupon his council moved to ſtay the proceedings on the laſt ſuit, till payment of the coſts, and for notice where the leſſors were to be found; and grounded his motion for the firſt ſuit, on Lord Coningſby's caſe, and for the latter, on the common caſe of a qui tam action, becauſe here the leſſor was to enter into a rule for coſts: the court granted the laſt part, but as to the coſts, they ſaid it was never done, but where it appeared the party was vexatious, or had run the defendant to a great expence, which was Lord Coningſby's caſe, who came for a trial at bar on his new ejectment, after the former cauſe was ready for the bar, which was a matter of mere favour in which they might make their own terms. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 681.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. Noke v. Windham.

The leſſor of the plaintiff being an infant, the court obliged him to name a good plaintiff, who might be anſwerable for coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 694.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. Sullivan v. Seagrave. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in Ireland, in ejectment, for part of a houſe, known by the name of the three Kings in A —, it was objected, that an ejectment would not lie for part of a houſe, and that the ſheriff could not know of what part he was to deliver poſſeſſion, and 2 Roll. Rep. 483. 11 Co. Saville's caſe. 4 Mod. 166. Mo. 702. Lutw. 974. March. 97. Salk. 254. were cited.

But the court was of opinion, it was well enough, the ſituation of the houſe being ſufficiently deſcribed, and the ſame certainty is never required in an ejectment as in a praecipe; therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 695.

Trinity, 12 Geo. Goodright v. Shuffill.

In ejectment, the plea of antient demeſne was allowed to be well, without an affidavit to verify the fact. And ſuch plea had been before allowed to be good in Lord Coningſby's caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1418.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Baſs v. Bradford.

In ejectment, the demiſe in the declaration againſt the caſual ejector, and artewards delivered to the tenant in poſſeſſion, as was laid of the ſecond of June laſt, to commence from Lady-day before; and after the tenant in poſſeſſion had entered into the common rule, in the declaration on the iſſue delivered to the defendant, the demiſe was laid to be as of the 2d of Auguſt laſt, the title of the leſſor of the plaintiff being on a breach of a condition for non-payment of rent due at Midſummer laſt. And the council moved for the defendant, that the iſſue might be made according to the declaration delivered to the tenant in poſſeſſion, becauſe the plaintiff ought not to recover on a title that accrued ſubſequent to the delivery of the firſt declaration: the plaintiff inſiſted, that the firſt declaration was only in nature of a notice, and therefore the ſecond declaration might vary from the firſt as to the demiſe.

Per curiam. By the courſe of this court there can be no alteration in the declaration in the iſſue from the firſt declaration delivered, only in the defendant's name. And a rule was made, that the iſſue ſhould be made according to the declaration delivered againſt the caſual ejector. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1411.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Goodright v. Hart and others.

The defendant, as daughter and heir of the late Admiral Hoſier, brought an ejectment, and recovered, and was put in to poſſeſſion: the other ſide brought an ejectment, and Hart and his wife obtained a rule to be made defendants, with the tenants in poſſeſſion, and entered their appearance; but the tenants haing been practiſed on, refuſed to appear to make any defence; on which judgment was ſigned againſt the caſual ejector, after a trial at bar had been granted; and a writ of poſſeſſion was taken out, and poſſeſſion delivered. The defendant and wife, the landlords, moved to ſet it aſide, inſiſting that the only reaſon for making the landlord a defendant was to ſecure a trial in all events, and to prevent the tenant from betraying the poſſeſſion. But the court refuſed to ſet aſide the judgment; ſaying, that the rule was only that the landlord ſhould be made a defendant with the tenants in poſſeſſion; and therefore, if they would not ſtand the ſuit, the landlord could not be let in. But quere, for this is giving tenants much too great a power, and makes them abſolute maſters of the eſtate, and to chuſe their own landlords. See 11 Geo. 2. c. 19. ſect. 13.

The court refuſing to relieve the landlord, he went down into the country, and prevailed with the tenants, on giving them ſecurity, to attorn to him; and then the plaintiff in ejectment came and complained to the court, and moved for a new writ of poſſeſſion: but the court refuſed to relieve him, there having been a regular execution of the firſt writ; and ſaid, the diſtinction was, that if immediately after the writ had been executed, the tenants had attorned, there ſhould have been a new writ; but not where the poſſeſſion had continued as delivered for above a month, as it had in this caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 830.

Trinity, 2 & 3 Geo. 2. Anonymous. Error.

In a ſuit in ejectment on two ſeveral demiſes of ſeveral diſtinct lands, the plaintiff had judgment in the C. B. which was entered, that the plaintiff recover his term aforeſaid, in the tenements aforeſaid. Now, on a writ of error being brought on this judgment, it was urged, that this judgment is quite uncertain, and therefore the ſheriff cannot know how to execute it. 2 Cro. 124. Cro. El. 186. Hard. 27. 11. Co. 55. Yelv. 114. For it ſhould have been, that the plaintiff recover his term in A. and his term in B.

On the other ſide it was argued, that the words in the tenements aforeſaid, aſcertain the firſt part, and it ſhall be taken as rendering to each his particular ſhare, but the plaintiff had two ſeveral terms in one and the ſame land, then poſſibly the judgment might not be right: wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 83.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. 2. Hatton v. Hatton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 378 of this work, under the head Diſtribution.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. Worral v. Bent and others. Error.

After verdict in ejectment on two demiſes, where the ſecond was laid to be of other lands, it was objected on error, that the judgment is only to recover his term in the ſingular number, and therefore uncertain.

Per curiam. It is of and in the tenements aforeſaid, which rendering in the ſingular number, is well enough, for there is but one term in each part of the premiſes: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 835.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Goodtitle v. Holdfaſt.

After judgment was given againſt the caſual ejector, and before any writ of poſſeſſion was executed, the court made a rule to ſtay proceedings, on payment of all rents due, and coſts: it not being pretended that the ejectment was brought on any other title than a re-entry for non-payment of rent. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 900.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Moore v. Goodright. Error.

On a writ of error coram vobis being brought on a judgment in ejectment, it was aſſigned for error, that the plaintiff in ejectment died before the day of niſi prius. And it being in ejectment, the court ſet it aſide, and ordered the attorney to ſhew cauſe why there ſhould not be an attachment againſt him; for they ſaid it was to defeat the proceedings inſtituted by the court to try the right; and every body knows that the plaintiff is but nominal, or if a real perſon, yet his releaſe is a contempt. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 899.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. Throgmorton, on the Demiſe of Miller, v. Smith and others.

The leſſor of the plaintiff being an infant, the court was moved that he might be obliged to name a good plaintiff, who might be anſwerable for coſts; and the caſe of Noke v. Windham was cited. And on ſearching for that rule, it appeared that the father of the infant entered into a rule to pay coſts: accordingly, in this caſe there was a rule to ſtay proceedings until ſecurity was given; and the laſt day of the term the infant's mother entered into the rule. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 932.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Fiſher v. Hughes. Error.

On error from of the grand ſeſſions in Wales in ejectment, wherein the plaintiff declared, that Robinſon and wife demiſed to him one hundred acres of land; and that afterwards the ſame day, Egerton and wife demiſed to him the premiſes aforeſaid; on not guilty pleaded, the jury find for the plaintiff as to the lands demiſed by Robinſon and wife: and as to the tenements aforeſaid, which Egerton and wife demiſed, they find for the defendants: and the judgment was entered, that the plaintiff ſhall recover his term in the tenements demiſed by Robinſon and wiſe; and as to the other premiſes, let him be in mercy, for his ſalſe claim againſt the defendant for the aforeſaid premiſes, which Egerton and his wife demiſed, and the defendant aforeſaid be diſmiſſed the court ſine die, &c.

The plaintiff in error's council objected, that for want of purſuing the common form, in laying the ſecond demiſe to be of other tenements, the judgments here given are contradictory to each other: the defendant is put without day as to the ſame premiſes for which the plaintiff recovers.

Per curiam. This is certainly far from being a correct entry; but we will not reverſe it, if it be poſſible to ſupport it; we will conſtrue the tenements aforeſaid, which Egerton and wife demiſed, to mean the term in the premiſes, and then it will be good: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 908.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. Martin v. Davis.

In a ſuit in ejectment, the court denied to let the parſon of Hampſtead defend only for a right to enter and perform divine ſervice, notwithſtanding the caſe in Salk. 256. ſaying, it had been often denied ſince. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 914.

Hilary, 7 Geo. 2. Jefferies v. Dyſon.

In an action of treſpaſs for meſne profits, the plaintiff offered a recovery in ejectment againſt the caſual ejector, on which no writ of poſſeſſion was iſſued. And when the defendant would have gone into the title, inſiſted he was eſtopped by the judgment.

But Hardwicke, Chief Juſtice, held, that though it would have been an eſtoppel, if the preſent defendant had been made defendant in the ejectment, and the verdict againſt him; yet this judgment to which he was no party nor privy, could be none; and therefore admitted the defendant to controvert the title. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 960.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. Dobbs v. Paſſer.

The plaintiff ſigned judgment in ejectment, and before he had loſt any trial, the defendant applied to ſet it aſide, though ſtrictly regular, on payment of coſts, and taking notice of trial: which the plaintiff refuſed. And the court being applied to, a diſtinction was offered between ejectments and all other actions, becauſe the right was not bound, but a new ejectment might be brought.

Per curiam. That diſtinction held formerly in many inſtances where it is now exploded; you could not formerly have a new trial as you now may; and great inconveniencies may ariſe from changing the poſſeſſion; timber may be felled, &c. and as the Common Pleas makes no difference, and as we are got into their practice in all other actions, it is proper to follow it here. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 975.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Bircham v. Noright.

In a ſuit in ejectment brought by an infant, a motion was made for a rule to compel the leſſor of the plaintiff to make a real leſſee who might be reſponſible, or to give ſecurity for the payment of the coſts: this being determined to be the courſe of the court in the caſe of Throgmorton on the demiſe of Miller v. Smith, Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. and before in the caſe of Nokes v. Windham, Eaſter, 12 G. therefore a rule for that purpoſe was granted. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 56.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. 2. Bidgood v. Hawes.

In a ſuit in ejectment, the court was moved for judgment againſt the caſual ejector, on an affidavit that the meſſuage in queſtion being empty, and the door ſhut, one Brown did enter thereon, by taking hold of the knocker and ſtanding on the threſhold, and being there in poſſeſſion, did there ſeal a leaſe to Bidgood; and Brown delivered poſſeſſion, by taking hold of the knocker, &c. and Bidgood took poſſeſſion, by taking hold of the knocker, &c. and afterwards Hawes diſpoſſeſſed Bidgood by taking hold of the knocker, &c. and then the deponent delivered an ejectment to the ſaid Hawes.

Per curiam. Let the plaintiff have judgment. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 112.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Holdfaſt v. Freeman and others.

The notice in ejectment was to appear on the eſſoign day of this term; and held ill, for it ſhould be to appear the firſt day in full term, which is the appearance day. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1049.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Thruſtout, on the Demiſe of Turner, v. Gray.

The court was moved to enlarge the time of the demiſe.

Lord Hardwicke. Will the other ſide conſent?

The other party conſented; and it was ruled accordingly. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 165.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Barnes v. Peterſon.

A ſuit in ejectment was brought for lands in Norfolk, and among other things, for five acres of Aldar Carr, and it was moved to be too uncertain; but on the certificate of Norfolkmen at the bar, that it is a term well known there, and ſignifies the ſame as alienetum which is mentioned by Lord Coke, and means land covered with alders, the court held it well enough, alluding to the caſe of Lord Kildare v. Fiſher, where it was held to lie for mountain in Ireland; and Lee, Juſtice, ſaid, that in Yorkſhire it is common to bring ejectments for cattle gates. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1063.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Savage v. Dent.

The leſſee of a public houſe took another, and removed his goods and family, but left beer in the cellar, and there being rent in arrear, the landlord ſealed a leaſe as on a vacant poſſeſſion, delivered an ejectment, and ſigned judgment; which was ſet aſide, the leſſee ſtill continuing in poſſeſſion; and a caſe was mentioned, where leaving hay in a barn at Hendon, was held to be keeping poſſeſſion; it further appeared in this caſe, that the attorney for the plaintiff knew where the leſſee removed, and might have ſerved him perſonally, which is not neceſſary to be done on the premiſes. And in the caſe of renting ground, to which there is no houſe or barn, if it is known where the tenant lives, he muſt be ſerved. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1064.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Thruſtout, on the Demiſe of Turner, v. Grey and others.

On a ſpecial verdict in ejectment, it appeared that the leſſor of the plaintiff claimed as tenant for life: and on affidavit made of his death, it was moved, that all proceedings might ſtay, ſince it would ſignify nothing to argue it on the merits.

Per curiam. The poſſeſſion cannot be obtained, yet the plaintiff has a right to proceed for damages and coſts: all we can do is, to oblige him to give ſecurity for coſts, now the leſſor is dead, as we do in the caſe of infant leſſors, who cannot enter into the common rule. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1056.

Hilary, 11 Geo. 2. Bennington v. Goodtitle. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in ejectment, it was held, to lie for a beaſt-gate, which is a term common in Suffolk, and imports land and common for one beaſt; wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1084.

Hilary, 11 Geo. 2. Berrington v. Parkhurſt and others. Error.

On a trial at bar in ejectment, on the demiſe of J. D. Eſq; for a manor and lands in Bucks, a ſpecial verdict was found upon the family ſettlement; but as neither the King's Bench nor Houſe of Lords gave any opinion upon that part of the caſe, it is unneceſſary to ſtate the ſame.

As to the point on which the judgment was given, it was ſhortly thus. The defendants levied a fine in 1730. To avoid this, the leſſor of the plaintiff made an equal entry on the 6th day of January 1731, and in Hilary term after, brought his ejectment, and laid the demiſe on the 1ſt day of October 1731, which was three months before the actual entry.

And it was inſiſted on for the defendants, 1. That an actual entry was neceſſary to avoid the fine; and, 2. That the demiſe could not be laid before the leſſor had regained the poſſeſſion by the actual entry.

As to the firſt of theſe, it was argued for the plaintiff, that ſtat. 4 Hen. 7. c. 24. was in the disjunctive, ſo as the claim is purſued by action or lawful entry, and that therefore the ejectment is ſufficient, if the actual entry was out of the caſe.

And as to the ſecond it was argued, that on the entry, the leſſor's eſtate was re-veſted, and he might maintain treſpaſs for an act done during the diſſeiſin. And unleſs he was allowed to lay his demiſe backwards, be could never recover the meſne profits.

To which it was replied, 1ſt, That ejectments were not in uſe at the time of making the ſtatute, and real actions only were intended: and if ejectments would do, all the queſtions that have been made about actual entries muſt have fallen to the ground, by the anſwer, that an ejectment was a ſuit that came within the alternative; thoſe queſtions having all aroſe in ejectments. 1 Saund. 319. 1 Vent. 42. 1 Mod. 10. 2 Keb. 555. Skin. 423. And, Hilary, 2 Ann, 1703, at a meeting of all the judges (except Price) it was reſolved, that in the caſe of a fine, there muſt be an actual entry within five years, and that the confeſſion of an entry to deliver a leaſe in ejectment, ſhall not operate to avoid a fine. And the act for amendment of the law, which ſays, the claim or entry ſhall be of no effect to avoid a fine, unleſs an action is commenced within a year after, ſhews it muſt be an actual entry, to be proſecuted with an action, and that the action is not ſuch an entry as is required.

And as to the ſecond point, it was obſerved, that the conſtant doctrine has always been, that one out of poſſeſſion cannot make a leaſe; and therefore in verdicts it is always found, that the leſſor entered and was ſeiſed as the law directs; that here was a time, when certainly the leaſe was void, viz. from the making to the entry; and the queſtion in ejectment always is, whether the leſſor could then make the leaſe; and he is non-ſuited, if he lays the demiſe before his title accrued; that ſuppoſing this may affect him as to the meſne profits, it is his own laches, and the owner is ſuppoſed to live upon them all the while.

And upon this point the King's Bench gave judgment for the defendants; and on writ of error being brought in parliament, the judges were all ordered to attend; when, after two days argument at the bar, two queſtions were put to the judges: 1ſt, Whether an actual entry was neceſſary to avoid the fine? to which they all anſwered, that it was. 2dly, Whether the demiſe being laid before the time of the firſt entry, this ejectment could be maintained? To which they anſwered, it could not. So without putting any queſtion upon the merits, the judgment was affirmed with 10*l.* coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1086. Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 160.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. Thruſtout v. Troubleſome, on the demiſe of Park and his wife.

The leſſors of the plaintiff delivered three ejectments in C. B. and two in this court, for the ſame tenements, and made the defendants attend at five aſſizes, but countermanded in time to ſave coſts. The defendant applied to ſtay proceedings in the laſt ejectment, till coſts were paid of the former, on account of the vexation. But the court would not do it, inaſmuch as coſts were not demandable by the rules of the court. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1099.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. Fitchet v. Adams.

On a ſuit in ejectment on the demiſe of R. H. the jury found a ſpecial verdict to this effect: that R. H. (ſince deceaſed) being ſeiſed in fee of the premiſes in queſtion, and having a wife M. and a daughter E. of the age of ſix years, by his will, dated the 16th day of May 1722, deviſed to his wife and her heirs; but if ſhe married again, then he appointed two truſtees to receive the rents, and apply them to the education of his daughter till ſhe comes of age, and in caſe of ſuch marriage of the mother, he deviſes to the daughter in fee: That Richard died in June 1722, and the wife entered and married a ſecond huſband, on the 15th day of April 1723, and the daughter continued to live with and was educated by her, till her (the daughter's death), on the 5th day of May 1734, when ſhe died without iſſue, and unmarried; and the leſſor of the plaintiff was her couſin and heir: That on the 22d day of May 1738, J. W. on behalf of the leſſor of the plaintiff, did, without any previous authority, make an actual entry on the premiſes, claiming the ſame as the eſtate of the leſſor, by virtue of his heirſhip to Elizabeth, and that the leſſor having notice thereof, did, on the 5th day of June 1738, aſſent thereto.

Upon this caſe two points were made: 1ſt, Whether an actual entry was neceſſary. And, 2dly, If it was, whether this was a ſufficient one.

Theſe points were ſpoken to at the bar, but the court gave no opinion on them, being very clear on the ſecond point, that what was found, did amount to an actual entry, to ſupport an ejectment, being aſſented to before the day of the demiſe in the declaration. Co. Lit. 247, 258. Co. 106. 1 Roll. Abr. 738. pl. 2, 3, 4. And they alſo held, that there was no occaſion for its being by deed or in writing, therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1128.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. 2. Doe, on the Demiſe of the Dutcheſs of Hamilton, v. Robinſon and others.

Several declarations in ejectment were delivered before the eſſoign-day of Eaſter term, and in Trinity term the defendants appeared, and moved for leave to plead to the juriſdiction, that the lands lay in the County Palatine of Cheſter. And on ſhewing cauſe, it was objected, that they came too late.

Per curiam. Though in ordinary caſes, the defendant muſt plead within the firſt four days; yet we all know, that in a country cauſe, the tenants cannot be compelled to appear till four days after Trinity term. As therefore they have come in voluntary before they could be obliged, it is hard to ſay they are out of time And therefore the rule for pleading to the juriſdiction was made abſolute. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1120.

Hilary, 14 Geo. 2. Smith v. Crabb.

Ten declarations on the ſame demiſe were delivered for ten houſes in Steyning in Suſſex, in the occupation of ten perſons. And the court being applied to, to have them put in one iſſue, ſuggeſting that the title was the ſame in all; they, however, refuſed to do it, for they ſaid the leſſor might have ſued them at ten different times, and it would be obliging him to go on againſt all, when perhaps he might be ready in ſome of them only. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1149.

Eaſter, 14 Geo. 2. Doe, on the Demiſe of the Dutcheſs of Hamilton, v. Hatherly and others.

There being judgment for the defendants in the cauſe of Thornby v. Fleetwood, and that judgment affirmed in this court and the Houſe of Lords, on the ejectments being brought by the remainder-man, in the life of Lord Phillip, who, though he had a foreign education, might conform; the Ducheſs now (Lord Phillip being dead) brought a new ejectment, in which ſome of the then defendants were defendants now. And on motion to ſtay proceedings till the coſts in the firſt ejectments were paid; the Dutcheſs inſiſted, that the former was on the demiſe of the Duke and her, and the rule was in the ſingular number, that the demiſor of the plaintiff be chargeable.

Per curiam. We are not going to order the Dutcheſs to pay coſts, but only prevent her from being vexatious; which in 4 Mod. 349. is ſaid to be the foundation of theſe rules. Beſides, in this caſe ſhe proceeded after the death of the Duke: and therefore let the rule be to ſtay proceedings in this cauſe till the coſts are paid in the other. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1152.

Hilary, 16 Geo. 2. Morres, Bart. v. Barry. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in ejectment for lands in Ireland, where there were two demiſes laid of the ſame premiſes, for the ſame term, both as to commencement and duration; and the judgment was, that the plaintiff recover his terms (in the plural number) in the premiſes.

It was objected, that both leſſors could not have a title to demiſe the whole; and therefore there was an inconſiſtency in the judgment, and it does not appear, which of the leſſors right is eſtabliſhed.

Per curiam. As this is after a verdict, a bare poſſibility of a title conſiſtent with the judgment will be ſufficient. The two leſſors might be joint-tenants, and yet refuſe to join in a leaſe; and having an intereſt in every part of the land, it was not improper for each to demiſe the whole. The judgment does not intitle the plaintiff to hold one moment longer than he ought to do, if it had been the word term, in the ſingular number; therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1180.

Trinity, 17 Geo. 2. Goodtitle v. Meymott.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 73 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 19 Geo. 2. Jones v. Edwards. Error.

By ſtat. 11 Geo. 2. c. 19. it is provided, that the landlord may make himſelf a defendant in ejectment, though the tenant refuſes to appear; and though judgment is ſigned againſt the caſual ejector, the court ſhall order a ſtay of execution, till they make further order thereon.

In this caſe the landlord appeared without the tenant; and after a verdict for the plaintiff, he brought a writ of error, on which the plaintiff moved to take out execution, which the court refuſed to grant; for though it is left to their diſcretion, yet that can only be a legal one; the act intended to put the landlord in the place of the tenant, that he ſhould not be ſtripped by any act of the tenant, and it ought to be conſidered as if the tenant had brought error, which would undoubtedly be a ſuperſedeas. This court cannot take on them to judge whether there is error in the proceedings or not. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1241.

Trinity, 21 Geo. 2. Oates v. Shepherd.

The term in ejectment being near expiring, it was amended without any conſent, from five years to ten years. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1272.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Taylor, on the Demiſe of Atkins, Eſq. v. Horde, Eſq. and others.

Adjudged, that an ejectment is a poſſeſſory remedy, and only competent where the leſſor of the plaintiff may enter: therefore it is always neceſſary for the plaintiff to ſhew that his leſſor had a right to enter, by proving a poſſeſſion within twenty years, or accounting for the want of it under ſome of the exceptions allowed by the ſtatute, twenty years adverſe poſſeſſion is a poſitive title to the defendant. It is not only a bar to the action, or remedy of the plaintiff, but takes away his right of poſſeſſion. Every plaintiff in ejectment muſt ſhew a right of poſſeſſion as well as of property: and therefore the defendant need not plead the ſtatute as in caſe of actions. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 119.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Goodtitle, on the demiſe of Cheſter, v. Alker and Elmes.

On a caſe ſtated to the court on a ſpecial verdict in ejectment, for an acre of land lying in the pariſh of St. P. and J. in the county of G. the jury found as to one piece of land, containing fourteen inches in length, and thirty-three feet in breadth, (parcel of the premiſes); and as to one other piece of land, containing three feet ſix inches in length, and ſeven feet in breadth, (other parcel of the premiſes). And as to one other piece of land, containing two feet in depth, and fourteen feet in length, (other parcel of the premiſes contained in the declaration); that T. C. Eſq. was in 1648 ſeiſed in his demeſne, as of fee, of and in the manor of Barton Regis, in the county of G. with the appurtenances; and being ſo ſeiſed, by articles of agreement, dated the 24th day of June 1648, between him and one J. G. whereby the ſaid T. C. diſcharged the ſaid J. G. from an encroachment made on certain ground belonging to the ſaid T. C.

And the jury further found, that the ſaid two pieces of land particularly mentioned in the verdict, are the ſame as were contained in the articles, and from which the ſaid J. G. was releaſed by the ſaid T. C.

And the jury further found, That the ſum of 6*s.* 8*d.* was duly and conſtantly paid in purſuance of the ſaid articles by the defendants, and thoſe whoſe eſtate they have to the ſaid T. C. and the ſucceſſive lords of the ſaid manor (his deſcendants) during a term of 100 years, in the ſaid articles mentioned, and from the end thereof till Lady-day 1750.

And the jury further found, That the defendants Alker and Elmes, in the year 1748, erected paliſadoes, and thereby took in and encloſed the third piece of land, above particularly deſcribed, and that the ſtreet where the encroachments were made, contained in breadth ſixty feet, and no more.

And the jury further found, T. C. the leſſor of the plaintiff to be heir at law to T. C. Eſq. deceaſed, who executed the articles, and as ſuch to be ſeiſed of the ſaid manor, with the appurtenances, as the law requires; and that being ſo ſeiſed, he made the demiſe to the plaintiff, by virtue whereof he entered, &c. and was ejected, &c.

The plaintiff's council made two queſtions on this caſe; viz.

1ſt, Whether an ejectment will lie for the premiſes, as deſcribed in the declaration?

2dly, Whether the defendants are at liberty to controvert the title of the plaintiff, or are eſtopped from ſo doing?

Note. Theſe two queſtions were afterwards reduced to one general queſtion, viz.

"Whether a part of a highway can be recovered in "an ejectment?"

After hearing the arguments of the council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. As to the queſtion, "whether an "ejectment will lie by the owner of the ſoil for land "which is ſubject to a paſſage over it as the King's "highway?"

It is like the property in a market or fair, and there is no reaſon why he ſhould not have a right to all remedies for the freehold, ſubject ſtill indeed to the ſervitude or eaſement. A writ of aſſize would lie if he ſhould be diſſeiſed, and an action of treſpaſs might be brought for an injury done to it.

The caſe of the defendant is moſt unfavourable; for he inſiſts on holding the thing demanded, without any pretence of title, and inſiſts that the plaintiff ſhall have no ſpecific remedy for his land; I am therefore of opinion, that the plaintiff ought to recover on this ſpecial verdict.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, but concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 133.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Denn, on the Demiſe of Burges Widow, v. Purvis and others.

On a ſpecial caſe in ejectment for the opinion of the court, the caſe ſtated was as follows:

R. B. being ſeiſed in fee ſimple of divers premiſes of the tenure of gavel-kind, by will deviſed the ſame to his wife Elizabeth, for life, with remainder to his brother T. B. in tail-male, with remainder to W. B. ſon of J. B. in tail-male, with remainder to his own right heirs for ever.

R. B. died without iſſue, and without revoking or altering his will.

T. B. and W. B. are ſince dead without iſſue.

On the 8th of September 1746. T. B. made his will, and deviſed his ſeveral real eſtates to A. B. his wife for her life.

On the 6th of March, 1755, Elizabeth, widow of R. B. died.

In Eaſter term, 29 Geo. 2. A. B. the deviſee of the ſaid T. B. brought her ejectment for a moiety of the before mentioned premiſes, on a preſumption that her teſtator T. (as brother of the ſaid R.) and W. B. (as nephew of the ſaid R.) were the only heirs of the ſaid R. at the time of his deceaſe, according to the cuſtom of Gavelkind; but it appeared on the evidence given, that R. B. left a neice, (named M.) the only child of W. B. one other brother of the teſtator, who by the cuſtom of gavelkind was entitled as coheir, together with the ſaid T. (the brother) and W. (the nephew of the ſaid teſtator) to the premiſes in queſtion.

By conſent of the parties, the court ordered that a verdict ſhould be given for the plaintiff as to one third part of the premiſes in the plaintiff's declaration, ſubject to the opinion of the court, on the following queſtion:

"Whether the plaintiff, on her declaration for a new moiety of the foregoing premiſes, can recover one-third part of the ſaid premiſes."

After hearing council on both ſides on this caſe, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. This caſe is extremely plain. The rule is undoubtedly right. That the plaintiff muſt recover according to the title. Here ſhe has demanded half, and ſhe appears only entitled to a third, and ſo much ſhe ought to recover.

Deniſon and Foſter, juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam Let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 326.

Trinity, 31 Geo. 2. Doe on the Demiſe of Hitchings, and another, v. Lewis, Eſq;

On a ſpecial caſe from the aſſizes on an ejectment brought by a tenant againſt his landlord, who had formerly obtained a judgment by default in a former ejectment brought by him againſt this ſame tenant, the caſe ſtated to the court was as follows:

T. L. being ſeiſed in fee demiſed to J. H. in conſideration of a fine of 49 l. 13 s. 6 d. to hold for ninety-nine years, if three perſons ſhould ſo long live, at 11 l. 5 s. payable at Michaelmas yearly, ſubject to a proviſo; that if the rent ſhould be in arrear, &c. for the ſpace of one month, being lawfully demanded, and no ſufficient diſtreſs on the premiſes, &c. that then it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid T. L. his heirs and aſſigns, to re-enter, &c.

That J. H. the leſſee, entered, and was poſſeſſed, &c. and then died, having firſt made a will, whereby he deviſed the ſaid term to his ſon E. H. (the leſſor of the plaintiff) and made his wife executrix. The wife duly proved the will, and duly aſſented to the legacy; and the deviſee E. H. (the leſſor of the plaintiff) entered, and became poſſeſſed of the term, being then, and ſtill, unexpired, and continued in poſſeſſion till the 15th day of April 1737.

T. L. the original leſſor, by will deviſed to ſeveral truſtees the premiſes, in truſt for M. L. an infant, &c. The ſaid T. L. died, ſeiſed, &c. and the ſaid deviſees in truſt became ſeiſed, &c. And there being three years rent due and in arrear from the ſaid E. H. for the premiſes, a declaration in ejectment was ſerved on the ſaid E. H. under and by virtue of ſtat. 4 Geo. 2. c. 28. for the ſaid premiſes on the demiſe of the truſtees and deviſees aforeſaid. In this ſuit judgment was given by default againſt the caſual ejector, and a writ of poſſeſſion iſſued on the judgment, and poſſeſſion was delivered by the ſheriff to the truſtees on the 15th day of April 1737: and the ſaid E. H. has not ſince paid nor tendered the rent in arrear, or any part thereof, nor the coſts, nor filed any bill for relief in equity.

On the trial of the ſecond ejectment by E. H. againſt the ſaid L. no affidavit was produced; "that half a year's rent was due before the firſt declaration in ejectment was ſerved on the ſaid E. H. and that no ſufficient diſtreſs was to be found on the ſaid premiſes ſufficient to cover the arrears then due; and that the leſſors in that firſt ejectment had power to re-enter."

On the trial of the ſecond ejectment brought by E. H. a verdict was found for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of the court,

"Whether or no the plaintiff therein ought to recover?"

"Whether E. H. the leſſor of the plaintiff in the preſent ejectment ought to recover or not?" depended on the following queſtion:

"Whether it was neceſſary for the defendant Mr. L. to produce an affidavit that half a year's rent, &c. and that the leſſors in the former ejectment had power to re-enter, &c.?"

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. The general queſtion, "whether the plaintiff in the laſt ejectment ought to recover?" depends on this particular queſtion, viz. "whether the firſt ejectment was regularly brought and proſecuted by the truſtees under T. L.'s will, according to ſtat. 4 Geo. 2. cap. 28. this laſt ejectment being brought near twenty years after the firſt ejectment?"

E. H. being the tenant in poſſeſſion, muſt have been ſerved with the declaration in ejectment, whether it was a common law proceeding, or a proceeding on ſtat. 24 Geo. 2. and if ſo, the judgment muſt have been founded on ſuch an affidavit as the act directs.

The true intention of the ſtatute was, to take off from the landlord the inconveniency of his continuing always liable to an uncertainty of poſſeſſion, and to limit and confine the tenant to ſix calendar months, after execution executed for doing this, or elſe that the landlord ſhould from thenceforth hold the demiſed premiſes diſcharged from the leaſe; I am therefore clearly of opinion, that in this caſe the plaintiff ought not to recover.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, but clearly concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the defendant. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 614.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. George on the Demiſe of Bradley and others v. Wiſdom.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why a writ of habere facias poſſeſſionem ſhould not be ſet aſide with coſts, as being irregularly iſſued and executed, and why poſſeſſion of the premiſes in queſtion ſhould not be reſtored to the defendant.

The caſe was on an ejectment brought, in which W. (the landlord) had (on the tenants refuſing to appear) made himſelf defendant in the place of the caſual ejector (againſt whom judgment was ſigned for want of appearance), and the plaintiff having obtained judgment againſt the defendant, W. the landlord had afterwards moved for leave to take out execution againſt the caſual ejector, from which he was reſtrained by the conditional rule, "for a ſtay of execution againſt the caſual ejector till further order," always made in conſequence of a clauſe in ſtat. 11 Geo. 2. cap. 19. which gives leave for making the landlord defendant in the room of the non-appearing caſual ejector on the foregoing terms.

The court on the whole ſtate of this affair were of opinion, that the day of ſhewing cauſe againſt the rule, was the proper time for the landlord to have made his ſtand againſt the plaintiff's taking out execution and getting into poſſeſſion, and that he ſhould have then ſhewn his writ of error, as cauſe why the plaintiff ought not to have had leave to take out execution, and why it ought ſtill to have been further ſtayed; but having omitted ſo to do, he had loſt his opportunity, and therefore the execution was regular, and ought not to be ſet aſide.

Per curiam. Let the rule to ſhew cauſe be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 756.

Note, In this caſe it was agreed, that a writ of error could not be taken out in the name of the caſual ejector.

Michaelmas, 32 Geo. 2. Aſtin v. Parkin.

On an action of treſpaſs for the meſne profits of a houſe in Sheffield in Yorkſhire, brought in the name of the leſſee or nominal plaintiff, in ejectment againſt the tenant in poſſeſſion, after judgment obtained againſt the caſual ejector by default.

Note. The coſts of ejectment were included and inſerted in the plaintiff's declaration, as conſequential damages of the treſpaſs on which the action was grounded.

On the trial of the cauſe, Lord Mansfield reſerved the point for the opinion of all the judges, which he now delivered.

Lord Mansfield. All the judges are unanimouſly of opinion, that the nominal plaintiff and caſual ejector are judicially to be conſidered as the fictitious form of an action really brought by the leſſor of the plaintiff againſt the tenant in poſſeſſion, invented under the controul and power of the court, for the advancement of juſtice, and to enforce the parties to go to trial on the merits, without being entangled in the nicety of pleadings on either ſide.

The leſſor of the plaintiff and the tenant in poſſeſſion are in truth the only parties to the ſuit. The tenant in poſſeſſion muſt be duly ſerved, and if he is not, he has a right to ſet aſide the judgment; if after he is duly ſerved, he does not appear, but lets judgment go by default, ſuch judgment is carried into execution againſt him by a writ of poſſeſſion.

There is no diſtinction between a judgment in ejectment on a verdict, and a judgment by default. In the firſt inſtance, the right of the plaintiff is tried and determined againſt the defendant; in the laſt it is confeſſed.

An action for the meſne profits is conſequential to the recovery in ejectment. This action may be brought by the leſſor of the plaintiff in his own name, or in the name of the nominal leſſee, and in either caſe it is equally the action of the leſſor of the plaintiff.

The tenant is concluded by the judgment, and cannot controvert the title, conſequently he cannot controvert the plaintiff's poſſeſſion, becauſe his poſſeſſion is part of his title. For the plaintiff, to entitle himſelf to recover in ejectment, muſt ſhew a poſſeſſory right not barred by the ſtatute of limitations.

The judgment given in this cauſe, like all others, concludes the parties, as to the ſubject-matter of it: any thing beyond the time laid in the demiſe proves nothing, becauſe beyond that time the plaintiff has alledged no title, nor could he prove any.

As to the length of time the tenant has occupied, the judgment proves nothing, nor as to the value, and therefore it was proved in this cauſe (and muſt be in all others) how long the defendant enjoyed the premiſes, and what the value of the ſame were. And it appeared, that the time the defendant occupied the premiſes, was within the time laid in the demiſe.

Per curiam. Let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 665.

Hilary, 1 Geo. 3. Sprightly on the Demiſe of John Collins v. Dunch.

On a motion to ſhew cauſe why judgment ſhould not be entered up againſt the caſual ejector, on an affidavit, that B. the tenant in poſſeſſion abſconded, and that the plaintiff had perſonally ſerved his neice, who was the only manager of his houſe, and reſided in it, and had alſo fixed up another copy of the declaration on the premiſes.

The court taking into conſideration the inconveniencies, that landlords might ſuffer by being kept out of poſſeſſion, made a rule on the tenant in poſſeſſion to ſhew cauſe, "Why judgment ſhould not be "entered up againſt the caſual ejector." And further ordered, that notice of this rule being given to any perſon in the houſe ſhould be ſufficient; and if no perſon was in the houſe, then to be affixed to the door, &c. And on cauſe being ſhewn, the rule was made abſolute. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1116.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. 3. Small on the Demiſe of Baker v. Cole and Skinner. Error.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 74 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Fenn on the Demiſe of Tyrrell and another v. Denn.

On a rule to ſhew cauſe why ſervice of a declaration in ejectment in this cauſe, which had been made on a woman who had declared her name was M. C. at the time when the declaration was ſerved on her, at her houſe, ſhould not be deemed good ſervice on the ſaid M. C. herſelf, (as tenant in poſſeſſion) and why the leſſors of the plaintiff ſhould not have leave to ſign their judgment againſt the caſual ejector, on Wedneſday next in default of her appearance. In which rule it was further ordered, that leaving a copy of the rule at the houſe of the ſaid M. C. with ſome perſon there, or if no one can be met with, affixing a true copy of ſuch rule on the door thereof, ſhall be deemed good ſervice thereof on the ſaid M. C.

The leſſor of the plaintiff produced an affidavit, that M. C. was either not at home, or (if at home) was denied, and that her ſervant maid was at home, but could not be ſerved, whereon a copy of the rule was affixed on the door of the houſe: and that at a a ſubſequent day (on a doubt whether what had been aleady done was ſufficient) the maid being at home and opening the window, but refuſing to open the door, and denying that her miſtreſs was at home, another copy of the ſaid rule was affixed on the door, and the maid was told the effect of ſuch rule, and another copy thereof was thrown into the window of the houſe, and the original rule was ſhewn to the maid.

Per curiam. Let the rule be made abſolute. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1181.

Trinity, 1 Geo. 3. Denn on the demiſe of Lucas v. Fulford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 314 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. Fair-claim on the demiſe of Fowler and others, v. Sham-title.

On a motion to diſcharge a rule, whereby it was ordered, That G. Earl G. and T. G. Eſq; landlords of the tenant in poſſeſſion of the premiſes in queſtion in this cauſe, ſhould be joined and made defendants with the ſaid tenant, if he ſhall appear. And the ſaid Earl and T. G. deſiring, that if the ſaid tenant ſhall not appear, that they may appear for themſelves, and conſenting, that in ſuch caſe they will enter into the common rule, to confeſs leaſe, entry, and ouſter, "in ſuch manner as the ſaid tenant ought, in caſe he had appeared." On which the court gave leave to the ſaid Earl and T. G. purſuant to the ſtatute, if the ſaid tenant ſhould not appear, to appear for themſelves, and on their entering into the common rule, to become defendants, in the ſtead of the caſual ejector, and to defend their title to the ſaid premiſes, without the ſaid tenant. The plaintiff was nevertheleſs to be at liberty to ſign judgment againſt the caſual ejector, but execution thereon was to be ſtayed, until the court ſhould make further order therein.

The council for the motion made this objection to the rule, viz. That Earl G. and Mr. G. had never been in poſſeſſion of the premiſes, of which fact they produced an affidavit, and obtained a rule to ſhew cauſe.

After hearing council on both ſides on ſeveral arguments, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. We have thought very fully of this matter ſince it came on laſt, and we are all of opinion, that it muſt be tried between the two claimants, the heir and the Lord. The occupier has no intereſt or concern in the queſtion; he ought not to take ſide or prejudice either; he does not appear; the queſtion ſhould be tried in a way to give neither any advantage from his poſſeſſion. It may be done in a feigned iſſue, or an ejectment may be brought by the Lord, with an admiſſion of his title, which will amount to the ſame thing.

It was at laſt agreed to by the parties, with the conſent of the court, that the Lord, (who never could come into poſſeſſion without an ejectment to be brought by him) ſhould immediately bring his ejectment againſt the preſent leſſors of the plaintiff, and that the ſaid leſſors, (who claimed as heirs of the deceaſed) ſhould be admitted to defend either alone, or together with the tenant in poſſeſſion, and ſuch ejectment was to be tried at the next aſſizes; and the council for the preſent plaintiffs were to admit, that all the lands lie in one and the ſame manor, and that ſuch manor belongs to Earl G. as lord thereof.

Note. The court reſerved the conſideration of the preſent motion and rule now depending, till after trial of the ejectment. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1290.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. Armſtrong on the Demiſe of Tinker and others, v. Peirſe and others.

On an action of treſpaſs and ejectment, for a meſſuage and lands at Biſhop's Canning in Wilts, a general verdict was found for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of the court on the following queſtion:

" Whether a mere truſtee could diſpute the poſſeſ-
" ſion of his own ceſtui qui truſt?"

The court looked on it as a ſettled point, that the formal title of a truſtee ſhould not in an ejectment be ſet up againſt the ceſtui qui truſt, becauſe from the nature of the two rights, the ceſtui qui truſt is to have the poſſeſſion, yet in this caſe that was not the queſtion, for here the leſſors of the plaintiff were not truſtees for the defendant, but for the mortgagee.

Per curiam. Let judgment go for the plaintiff, and let the poſtea be delivered to him. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 1898.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. Oates on the Demiſe of Wigfall v. Brydon and others.

On an action of treſpaſs and ejectment for meſſuages, &c. in Sheffield, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of this court, on the following queſtion:

" Whether the leſſor of the plaintiff be entitled to
" three undivided fourth parts of the premiſes, and can
" recover the ſame in this action?"

After hearing council on both ſides, the court delivered their opinion.

Lord Mansfield. We are all of opinion, that the confeſſion of leaſe, entry, and ouſter is ſufficient to bar a nonſuit for want of proof of actual ouſter.

In all caſes, the confeſſion of leaſe, entry, and ouſter is ſufficient, and it is now ſettled to be ſufficient for an ejectment brought on a condition broken, and alſo in caſes of a tenant in common, without proof of actual ouſter.

Per curiam. Let a nonſuit be entered againſt the plaintiff, and let the poſtea be delivered to the defendant. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1895.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Wharod v. Smart.

The defendant having brought a writ of error in parliament, on an ejectment on the demiſe of B.

The court obliged the defendant to enter into a " rule not to commit waſte or deſtruction pend-
" ing the writ," which not being oppoſed by the defendant's council, he entered into the ſaid rule, and alſo juſtified in 400 l. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1823.

Elections.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Prideaux v. Morris. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. for a falſe return on an election, againſt the ſheriff, the plaintiff declared, that whereas he was duly elected, the ſheriff returned A. B. to be duly elected, who was, in fact, not duly elected. It was objected by the defendant's council, that the right of election was only to be determined in the Houſe of Commons, for that it was a parliamentary matter, which ought not to be tried here, no more than the right of precedency. On the other ſide it was argued, that this court may determine what is an act of parliament. 8 Co. 1. their privileges. Mo. 67. 1 Rol. 903. Dyer 275. The right of peerage: and here the right of election is no otherwiſe in queſtion, than as it is incident to the falſity.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The cauſe of the plaintiff's ſuit is a wrong done out of parliament, and whatever falls under the regulation of law, and is done out of the houſes of parliament, is ſubject to the law of the land, for laws are to be executed out of parliament; but as for the rules of the houſe, as ſitting, meeting, &c. they are within the houſe, and the judges cannot know them, there being no practice of them out of parliament: but if the parliament ſhould make a law concerning them, or they ſhould become neceſſary to be determined on account of ſome other matter cognizable by the judges, the judges muſt take notice and determine them, as in Bynion's caſe

And he ſeemed to be of opinion, firſt, that for a double return, no action lay againſt the ſheriff before ſtat. 7 & 8 W. 3. c. 7. not only becauſe it is the only method the ſheriff has to indemnify himſelf; but when the right comes to be determined in parliament, one indenture returned is taken off the file, and then there is no double return. Secondly, He ſeemed to think, that for a falſe return, the party could have no action, where there might be a determination in the houſe of Commons, becauſe of the inconvenience of contrary reſolutions; and ſo if a ſuit is between A. and B. and A. is voted elected, B. cannot bring an action, and ſay, that he was duly elected and returned; becauſe his name does not appear on record; and he is eſtopped to ſay, that A. was not duly elected and returned; but where the right of election either is determined, or cannot be determined in parliament, as in the caſe of a diſſolution, an action lies for the falſe return, for the courts of law can neither anticipate nor contradict their judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 502.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Aſhby v. White and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 29 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 6 Ann. Kendall or Coundell v. John.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 36 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Bendiſh v. Lindſey.

The plaintiff declared, that he being a good, honeſt, and faithful liege ſubject of Ann our Queen, &c. and having good intereſt among the burgeſſes of the borough of Cambridge, and ſtanding as a candidate for that borough, the defendant a burgeſs of the ſame borough of Cambridge, and having a vote in the election and return of a member of parliament for the borough aforeſaid, &c. being not ignorant of the premiſes, but falſely and maliciouſly intending him the plaintiff unjuſtly to aggrieve, &c. and, to hinder him from being choſen, holding in his hand three guineas, in the preſence of many people, burgeſſes of the ſaid borough of Cambridge, then and there, openly, publickly, falſely, and maliciouſly, ſaid, aſſerted, and ſpoke of the ſaid plaintiff theſe falſe, feigned, malicious, and opprobrious words following, viz. theſe guineas (meaning the aforeſaid pieces of gold coin called guineas) and two more (meaning two other pieces of gold coin called guineas, and two half guineas) are Mr. Bendiſh's (meaning him the plaintiff) money, and were given me to vote for him; and he has bought, (meaning the vote of him the defendant) and he ſhall have it; on iſſue joined, and a trial and verdict for the plaintiff, the court was moved in arreſt of judgment, and the following exceptions were taken by the defendant's council, viz.

1ſt. That theſe words are not actionable; for no words are actionable except they ſubject the plaintiff to a temporal puniſhment, or a ſpecial damage, and here nothing is ſpoken that will ſubject the plaintiff to an indictment on the ſtatute. And Co. 145. ſays, bribey is when a fee is taken in a judicial place.

2dly. That the words are inſenſible, for when the plaintiff has given the money to the defendant, it cannot be the plaintiff's money.

3dly. That it is not averred through the whole pleadings, that the plaintiff did not give the money, &c.

4thly. That the ſheriff directed his precept to the Mayor of the aforeſaid borough of Cambridge, to elect and return two burgeſſes of the ſame borough to ſerve in that parliament for the borough aforeſaid, &c. and it ſhould have been to the Mayor and burgeſſes; and therefore the ſpeaking theſe words is no offence in caſe of ſuch an election.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It need not be averred, that the plaintiff did not give the money to the defendant to vote for him, for it is ſaid, theſe falſe, feigned, malicious words, which is well enough; and as to the precept being directed to the Mayor to chuſe, and not ſaid cauſe to be choſen, he ſaid it was well enough after verdict, becauſe it muſt be proved at the trial that the election was made by the burgeſſes; and as to the merits of the cauſe, he was clear of opinion that the action lay; ſo judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 193.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. Sir Saliſbury Cotton v. Davies.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 285 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Hilary, 8 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Common Council of Bedford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 296 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. The Mayor and Aldermen of Carliſle.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 285 of this work, under the head Conviction.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. The Mayor of Whitchurch, &c.

A rule was made againſt the mayor and other officers of the borough of Whitchurch, to ſhew cauſe why an information ſhould not go againſt them, being choſen into their reſpective offices, and not dwelling in the ſaid borough, and by a jury of non reſidents impanelled for that purpoſe; againſt which choice the inhabitants of this borough proteſted, it being contrary to their ancient uſage, as was now ſuggeſted.

The council for the defendants ſhewed for cauſe againſt this rule, that all the officers of this borough are to be conſtantly choſen by the freeholders thereof, and that ſome of the inhabitants who were freeholders, were ſummoned to be of the jury, but they refuſed to appear, pretending they would not ſerve with thoſe who were not inhabitants of the borough, but out-dwellers, and therefore excluded from being of the jury; and thereon others were returned who would ſerve.

That ever ſince the year 1641, the out-dwellers who had freeholds in the borough, were returned jurymen, which appeared by the entries made in their borough-books, and ſuch out-dwellers had ſerved in all the offices thereof.

That Whitchurch is an antient borough by preſciption, and that the jury thus impannelled as aforeſaid, did not ſerve in a court-leet, but in a borough-court; for if it had been to ſerve in a leet, then it muſt be by inhabitants, but that in a borough-court none but freeholders are to be of the jury, which freeholders might be out dwellers, ſo as they had a freehold within the borough.

That all the jury had freeholds in the borough, and by ſuch a jury aſſembled at a borough-court, the defendants were lawfully choſen.

But the rule was made abſolute by two judges againſt one, there being but three in court; for this being a matter of right, it was fit to be tried by a jury, who are the proper judges of evidence; and on another day the court was moved for a trial at bar, on ſome affidavits, that the freehold to the value of 1000 l. might come in queſtion, but it was denied for no other reaſon, but that it was a borough cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 210.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Tufton, Eſq; v. Nevinſon, Mayor of Appleby in Weſtmoreland.

On a mandamus directed to the defendant, commanding him to ſwear the plaintiff into the office of an Alderman of that borough, being duly choſen; the defendant among ſeveral other facts, returned, that the plaintiff was not elected an Alderman, as by the writ is ſuppoſed; and iſſue being joined thereon it came to be tried at the bar, this term. The plaintiff gave evidence, that he was elected Alderman, on the Monday before Michaelmas, 1723. But it was objected by the defendant's council, that Mr. Tufton ought to prove he had received the ſacrament within a year before his election; the expreſs words of ſtat. 13 Car. 2. cap. 1. ſect. 12. being, that no perſon ſhall for ever hereafter be elected, &c. into any of the offices aforeſaid, that ſhall not have within one year next before ſuch election, taken the ſacrament, &c. and in default thereof, every ſuch election is declared to be void; to which the plaintiff's council anſwered for the plaintiff, that firſt, at the time of the election no ſuch objection was made to Mr. Tufton, as was proved by witneſſes, therefore the plaintiff could not expect this objection would be made at the trial; and came not prepared to make out that fact: but the defendant, if he intended to inſiſt on proof of this matter, ſhould have given notice to the plaintiff before the trial, and then he would have came prepared to have proved it, that ſtat. 5 Geo. cap. 6. for quieting and eſtabliſhing corporations, confirms perſons then in offices, &c. who had omitted receiving the ſacrament, as ſtat. 13 Car. 2. cap. 1. directs, and diſcharges them from all forfeitures for the ſame, and enacts, that no perſon, who ſhould be thereafter elected, &c. ſhould be removed by the corporation, or otherwiſe proſecuted for ſuch omiſſion; nor ſhould any incapacity or diſability, &c. be incurred, by reaſon of the ſame, unleſs ſuch perſon be ſo removed, or ſuch proſecution commenced, within ſix months after ſuch perſons being elected, &c. And Mr. Tufton was elected Alderman on Monday before Michaelmas, 1723, ſo that above ſix months are elapſed ſince the election. But the whole court was unanimouſly in opinion: Firſt, That this caſe was not within the act of the ſeventh of his Majeſty, becauſe the plaintiff never was admitted into the office, and therefore could not be removed, nor incur a forfeiture; ſecondly, that it was incumbent on the plaintiff to prove that he had received the ſacrament, &c. within a year before his election, by ſtat. 13 Car. 2. cap. 1. elſe his election was void, and ſo it was ſaid to have been ruled by Lord Chief Juſtice Parker, in the caſe of Vavaſor v. Hammond. And ſo it was held in the caſe of the King v. Maſket, concerning a member of the corporation of Buckingham, only a difference was there taken, that in caſe a member of a corporation had been long in poſſeſſion of his office, there ought to be notice given, that this would be inſiſted on at the trial. But here the plaintiff has never been admitted into the office, but ſued this mandamus to get himſelf ſworn in. As to this, which was the fifth iſſue concerning the plaintiff's election, the jury, by the direction of the court, found for the defendant. As to the four other iſſues, they found for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1354.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Machell v. Nevinſon, Mayor of Appleby.

The plaintiff ſued a mandamus out of this court, directed to the defendant, commanding him to ſwear the plaintiff into the office of a Common Council-man of the corporation, being duly choſen; to which the defendant returned, that the plaintiff was not elected a Common Council-man, as by the writ was ſuppoſed; upon which iſſue being joined, the iſſue was tried at the bar this term; and on the evidence it appeared, that the corporation was a corporation by preſcription, conſiſting of a Mayor, twelve aldermen, and ſixteen Common Council-men, beſides the freemen at large; that the Mayor was to be choſen out of the Aldermen by the Common Council, the Aldermen to be choſen out of the Common Council or Freemen, and the Common Council to be choſen out of the Freemen by the Common Council; and if the Common Council were equally divided, then the Aldermen were to vote; and if they were equally divided alſo, then the Mayor had a caſting vote; that the Mayor was to ſerve for a year, and until another was choſen; that the members uſed to be ſummoned to meet to chuſe a Mayor, by order of the old Mayor, and no certain time was fixed for the choice of a Mayor; it uſed to be about Michaelmas; but on the 26th day of May 1674, an order was made by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council-men, that they ſhould for the future meet on the Monday before Michaelmas-day in every year, to chuſe a Mayor, under a penalty inflicted on every one of them that wilfully abſented himſelf; that at other days, for filling up vacancies of all Aldermen or Common Council-men, the Mayor uſed to ſummon the body, and they never uſed to meet without ſuch a ſummons; and when they met, acquainted them with the vacancy, and with the occaſion of the meeting, and always ſent out a ſummons for the meeting on the day, which they called the charter-day: that the Mayor, eleven Aldermen, and fifteen Common Council-men met on the 23d day of Sept. 1723, being the Monday before Michaelmas-day, in the Moot-hall, the Mayor declared, their meeting was to elect a Mayor; on which ſome of the Common Council ſaid, there was a vacancy of an Alderman and Common Council-man, and they would firſt proceed to fill up thoſe vacancies; but the Mayor ſaid, they were filled up: on which nine of the Common Council withdrew into the Council-chamber; ſix of them ſtaying in the Moot-hall with the Mayor: the nine elected the plaintiff, a Common Council-man, and ſigned a paper, purporting their election, and brought it, and tendered it to the Mayor, and deſired him to ſwear the plaintiff, but he refuſed, and ſaid, let the law take its courſe. The plaintiff attempted to prove, that it was uſual to fill up vacancies on the Monday before Michaelmas, before they elected a Mayor; but only one inſtance was given in evidence, of one G. choſe Common Council-man on that day before the Mayor was elected, and that but two years before the election of the plaintiff; and it did not appear, but the Mayor directed the going to that election, and that all the Common Council then living were preſent, and conſenting. But all the witneſſes for the plaintiff agreed they never knew before this time an inſtance of proceeding to fill up a vacancy, without the Mayor's declaring the vacancy, and directing them to proceed to fill it up.

The facts appearing thus on the evidence, the defendant's council inſiſted, that on the plaintiff's own evidence the election of him to be a Common Council-man was a void election; for they ſaid, this being a corporation by preſcription, the right and manner of election was to be governed by the uſage: that for the election of Aldermen and Common Council-men at any other time but this Monday before Michaelmas, it was agreed, there ought to be a preceding ſummons from the Mayor for the corporation to meet: and ſo it was in caſe of election of a Mayor before the order in 1674: that ſince that time a ſummons uſed to go to meet that day; that that day was only for electing Mayors, founded on that order: that all the witneſſes agreed, the Mayor uſed to declare the vacancies of Aldermen and Common Council-men, and directed the Common Council-men to proceed to an election, and did not know an inſtance to the contrary till this time: But indeed they ſaid, the Common Council thought that they had a right to proceed to ſuch election when they were met, without ſuch direction; but that was a miſtake in them, for there was no uſage to found ſuch opinion on: that though ſome of the witneſſes ſaid, they had ſeveral times elected Aldermen and Common Council-men on this Monday before Michaelmas, before they elected the Mayor, yet they gave but one inſtance, which was of one G. ſo elected Common Council-man two years before the election in queſtion; and they could not ſay, in that as other caſes they had a general memory of, though they could not recollect particular names, the Mayor might direct the going to thoſe elections, and that all the Common Council-men concurred in it: that the Mayor's preſence being neceſſary at the meeting, he ought to preſide; and for avoiding confuſion, ought in reaſon to give directions, though he did not vote among the Common Council in the election; and that as the uſage gave the Common Council a right of electing, the ſame uſage gave the Mayor a right of directing when they ſhould proceed to the election. But in this caſe the Mayor refuſed it, ſaid the vacancies were filled up, let the law have its courſe; that ſix of the Common Council did not go into the Council-chamber, but ſtayed with the Mayor; and therefore this not being a day appointed for chuſing Common Council-men, nor no ſummons for that purpoſe, part of the Common Council, though the major part, could not elect to bind the reſt; and therefore they concluded, this election of the plaintiff was a void election.

The court were unanimouſly of opinion, that the election was void, for the reaſons given by the council for the defendant; and ſaid it was almoſt the ſame caſe with that of the King v. The Corporation of Carliſle, Trinity, 6 Geo. By the direction of the court, the jury gave a verdict for the defendant. Vide Raym. vol. 2. page 1355.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Sir Chriſtopher Muſgrave v. Nevinſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 296 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Stevenſon, Junior, v. Nevinſon, Mayor of Appleby, and the Common Council of Appleby.

On a mandamus iſſued out of this court, directed to the defendants, commanding them to reſtore the plaintiff to the office of Common Council-man of the borough of Appleby in Weſtmoreland, they, among ſeveral other facts, returned, that the plaintiff was not elected a Common Council-man, as in the writ was ſuppoſed. To which return the plaintiff came in and denied the ſeveral material facts relied on by the defendants in their return; and among the reſt alledged, that the plaintiff was choſe a Common Council-man, as in the writ was alledged, and concluded to the country. On which, as well as the other facts, iſſue was joined; and the ſeveral iſſues were tried at the bar. And after the plaintiff had proved the fact of his having been elected Common Council-man, the defendants council inſiſted, that by the conſtitution of the borough, which was by preſcription, no perſon was capable of being elected a Common Council-man of the borough, who did not hold a burgage tenure, and alſo inhabit within the borough; but the plaintiff inhabited in Bond-gate, which was ſevered from the borough, and no part of it. To prove which conſtitution, the firſt witneſs produced was one R. W. But it being objected by the plaintiff, that he had a burgage tenure, and alſo inhabited in the borough, and could not be a witneſs to prove a right in himſelf, and in ſuch as had his qualifications, excluſive of all others; which fact being admitted, he was refuſed by the court to be admitted to prove this conſtitution. But then one L. was produced as a witneſs for the defendants, to prove it, who was an inhabitant of the borough, but it was admitted that he had no burgage tenure. Whereon he was allowed by the court to be a good witneſs, as to the right fixing in ſuch as held burgage, and alſo were inhabitants, ſince he did not attempt to eſtabliſh the right in the inhabitants only. But after a long examination, a verdict was given for the plaintiff on all the iſſues. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1353.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. The King v. The Mayor of Tiverton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 297 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. The King v. Plympton.

An information was exhibited againſt the defendant for promiſing money, &c. to one W. H. a member of a corporation, to give his vote for the election of a Mayor of the corporation of Tiverton in the county of Devon. On not guilty pleaded, the defendant was found guilty. And the defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, that by ſo much of the charter as is ſet out in the information, it did not appear that the defendant or H. as aſſiſtants, had a right to vote at any election but that of a Mayor; and if there are any clauſes in the charter, which enable aſſiſtants to vote at the election of other officers, they ſhould have been ſet out; for want of which it is informal: and it is not ſufficient to aver, that H. had a right to vote at the election of the other members of the corporation; but the offence charged is, for ſoliciting H. to vote not only at the election of a Mayor, but alſo of the other members; which is laid as one intire offence, and the fine muſt be for the whole; but it ought not to be for ſoliciting H. to vote at the election of other members, becauſe he had no right to vote at them. Then the council further urged, here was no offence at all charged; for it is lawful for one member of a corporation to aſk or perſuade another to vote for his friend, and if he made ſuch a promiſe as in this information, it will be no crime, without ſhewing that the fact was done, that the money was paid and accepted by H. Beſides, the election of other members might only be of Common Council-men, who are not magiſtrates, but only in the nature of private perſons: and in ſuch caſe the offer of money to vote for them would be no offence puniſhable by information. And the promiſe here is void, becauſe there is no good conſideration for it.

But the court were of opinion, that to bribe perſons either by giving money or promiſes, to vote at elections of members of corporations, which are created for the ſake of public government, is an offence for which an information will lie, and that H.'s right to vote was ſufficiently laid: therefore judgment was given againſt the defendant. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1377.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 2. The Caſe of the Borough of Eveſham.

The cuſtom is to give twenty-four hours notice of of an election: a mandamus was granted to chuſe a capital burgeſs; and it was moved on the other ſide to fix a day, or that it might be on ſix days notice. But the court would give no directions, ſaying they could not alter the conſtitution of the borough. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 949.

Trinity, Geo. 2. Stoughton v. Reynolds.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 45 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Davis.

Statute 10 Ann. c. 23. requires the ſheriff to deliver to the clerk of the peace, all the poll-books taken at the election of knights of the ſhire. In the Radnorſhire election, the ſheriff ſwore a clerk, and each of the candidates had two others, and five polls were taken, which were delivered to the ſheriff. He carried in only that which was taken by his clerk, as being the original poll, and the others only checks; and inſiſted, that the ſtatute in requiring all the poll-books to be lodged, meant only in caſes where the poll is going on at different booths, and all the books make but one poll. But the court held that all the books ought to have been carried in; and granted an information againſt the ſheriff for not doing it. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1048.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 3. The King v. Pitt. Idem v. Mead.

Adjudged, that bribery at elections for members of parliament had always been conſidered as a crime at common law, and conſequently puniſhable by indictment or information, but that ſtat. 2 Geo. 2. cap. 24. has introduced a very ſevere penalty, in order to enforce the laws then in being, and remedy the evil. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1338.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Sulſton v. Norton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 357 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 3. The King v. Heydon.

The defendant being convicted of bribery at an election for a member of parliament, and the time limited for bringing the qui tam action, being about to expire in March following, the matter was adjourned till the firſt day of Eaſter term following, and the defendant entered into his own recognizance only in 100*l.* to appear at that time. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1359.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Combe, Eſq. v. Pitt.

This cauſe being tried, and a verdict given for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of the court; it was adjudged, that the crime and the penalty under ſtat. 2 Geo. 2. cap. 24. for bribing at an election is the ſame, whether the bribe be given to vote for one, or to vote for both candidates. This caſe is more fully ſtated in page 10 of this work, under the head Abatement. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1591.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. The King v. The Rector of St. Ann's Soho.

On ſhewing cauſe againſt a mandamus, prayed againſt the Rector of St. Anne's, within the liberty of Weſtminſter, requiring him to nominate and appoint a pariſh clerk, for the ſaid pariſh, according to the form of a ſtatute made in the time of King Car. 2. in the room of ——— Pynyot, deceaſed.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

The court held this to be no diſſent to the rector's nomination; it was an attempt to put up another for election, ſuppoſing, "that they had a right to elect," which in fact they had not. This was a miſtake; and this demand of a poll was all nugatory and void; it was no diſſent to the nomination; if a poll had been taken, it does not appear that the nomination would have been diſſented to; if the majority were really diſſentient, they ſhould have declared their diſſent; but what was done in this caſe, was of no more effect than if they had gone away without giving either their aſſent or diſſent.

Per curiam. Let the rule be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1877.

Error.

Michaelmas, 2 W. & M. Wooldridge v. Cloberry.

In an action for diverting a water-courſe from a mill, againſt ſeveral perſons, who joined in pleading not guilty, one of them died before a verdict.

Per curiam. It is an error in the whole, for when after joinder in pleading, one of the defendants dies, after the venire facias, you ought to come into court, and pray judgment againſt the living perſon only; otherwiſe the writ ſhall abate. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 1.

Michaelmas, 2 W. & M. Cone v. Bowles.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 331 of this work, under the head Damages.

Eaſter, 3 W. 3. Temple v. Killingworth.

A writ of error muſt be of a common return, if on a certain day, it is naught; where the writ of error is ubicunque, &c. the ſci. fac. ought to be on a common day. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 5.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Howard v. Pitt.

In treſpaſs againſt four defendants; the plaintiff recovered in this court, a writ of error was afterwards brought in the Exchequer Chamber, where it pended a year, and then abated by the death of one of the plaintiffs in error; then another writ was brought, which pended half a year, and abated by the death of another plaintiff. The plaintiff in the original action ſeeing no new writ of error brought a third time, and thinking himſelf at liberty, ſued out execution by ca. ſa. againſt the ſurvivors. The court was moved for a ſuperſedeas to this ca. ſa.

Per curiam. Here is no need of a ſcire facias to revive the judgment againſt the ſurvivors, that was ſufficiently revived by the ſeveral writs of error. 2dly, Where a writ of error determines in the Exchequer Chamber by abatement or diſcontinuance, the judgment is not again in this court till there is a remittitur entered; for without ſuch remittitur it cannot appear to this court, but that the writ of error is ſtill pending in the Exchequer Chamber. 3dly, The execution was erroneous for this cauſe, but not void; and 4 Leon. 197. was denied to be law. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 261.

Michaelmas, 4 W. 3. Parker v. Harris.

In an action of debt for rent in C. B. on two ſeveral demiſes, one of which was a reddendum after the rate of 18 l. per annum. After judgment for the plaintiff, the defendant brought a writ of error here, and the court held, that a reddendum after the rate, &c. was void for the uncertainty, and for this it was held the judgment ſhould be reverſed. Then it was a queſtion what judgment the court would give, whether as the court below ſhould have given, viz. judgment for part, and a nil capiat for the reſt, or a bare reverſal.

Per curiam. Where judgment is given for the plaintiff, and the defendant brings error, there ſhall only be judgment to reverſe the former judgment, for the ſuit is only to be eaſed and diſcharged of that judgment: but where the plaintiff brings error, the judgment ſhall not only be a reverſal, but the court ſhall alſo give ſuch judgment as the court below ſhould have given; for his writ of error is to revive the firſt cauſe of action, and to recover what he ought to have recovered by the firſt ſuit, wherein erroneous judgment was given. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 262.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Dighton v. Granville.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 342 of this work, under the head Debt.

Trinity, 6 W. & M. Philips v. Berry.

The plaintiff brought a ſuit in ejectment againſt the defendant for the rectory houſe of Exeter College in Oxford, and judgment was entered for the defendant.

But on a writ of error brought in parliament (becauſe this was by original) the judgment was reverſed. And afterwards in Hilary term it was moved, that this court would enter judgment for the plaintiff, for judgment ought to be entered, and that ought to be either by this court, or the Houſe of Lords; but the Houſe of Lords cannot enter judgment, becauſe they have only the tranſcript of the record, therefore this court ought to do it, leaſt juſtice ſhould be deficient.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The houſe of Lords have in judgment of law, the true record before them, and not the tranſcript; for the writ of error ſays, the record and proceſs, and not the tranſcript; and he took this diſtinction; if ejectment is brought in this court, and on a ſpecial verdict, judgment is given for the defendant, if on a writ of error in the Exchequer Chamber, this judgment be reverſed, the Exchequer Chamber ſhall enter the new judgment for the plaintiff; but if it had been given in this court for the defendant on demurrer, and this judgment reverſed in the Exchequer Chamber, this court ſhall enter the new judgment for the plaintiff; becauſe the Exchequer Chamber could not award a writ of enquiry of damages. He further ſaid, if judgment be firſt given for the plaintiff, and this judgment reverſed on error, the defendant is in his former ſtate, and there he has no need to enter a new judgment. But when judgment is given firſt for the defendant, and this is reverſed on error, a new judgment ought to be entered, to put the plaintiff in poſſeſſion of that which he demands; and it was adjudged by all the court in the principal caſe, that this court cannot enter the new judgment for the plaintiff, becauſe when this court had given judgment on the original, it had wholly executed its authority, ſo that it could do no more. And there is no precedent that ever this court did enter a new judgment on a reverſal in parliament of a judgment given in this court. And afterwards, on application to the Houſe of Lords, they gave the new judgment, as Holt, Chief Juſtice, reported in this court, Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. 1696. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 5.

Trinity, 6 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Knollys or Knolles.

Holt, C. J. Writs of error to remove records out of this court into the Houſe of Lords run thus, before us in our preſent parliament: but in this ſuppoſed judgment the King is excluded. If one may give credit to an old advocate, Fleta, c. 17. he ſays, that all matters of authority and juriſdiction are derived from the King.

The Houſe of Lords has no juriſdiction in an original cauſe, becauſe that ſupreme court is the laſt reſort. Beſides, that for the moſt part, original cauſes are mixed with matter of fact, and it is unworthy of ſo ſupreme a court to try matters of fact, for which reaſon error in fact in this court muſt of neceſſity be brought before the judges of this court.

If the parliament took conuſance of original cauſes, the party would loſe his appeal, which the common law indulges in all caſes, for which reaſon, parliament is kept for the laſt reſort, and cauſes come not there until they have tried all other courts. Within theſe four years, judgment was given againſt the Earl of Macclesfield in the Exchequer; he brought a writ of error in the Houſe of Lords, and the queſtion was, if by ſtat. 31. Edw. 3. the Exchequer Chamber ought not to interpoſe; and adjudged that it ought, and the writ was abated. 4 Inſt. 21. The caſe of the Biſhop of Norwich was to the ſame effect. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 10.

Trinity, 6 W. & M. Lampton v. Collingwood.

Judgment was given againſt A. and B. and a ſcire facias taken out againſt R. adminiſtrator of B. and two nihils returned, and thereupon execution was awarded; and the ſcire facias ſuggeſted the recovery to be againſt A. and B. and that A. died, and B. ſurvived, and afterwards B. died inteſtate, and that R. is his adminiſtrator. Now R. brought a writ of error coram nobis, for error in the execution, and aſſigned for error, that A. ſurvived, and hereupon iſſue was joined, and found for the plaintiff: but the court, notwithſtanding, quaſhed the writ of error, holding this matter not a matter aſſignable for error, becauſe it is contrary to the ſurmiſe of the writ of ſcire facias: and if a ſcire feci had been returned, he might have pleaded it; and ſince it was not, he muſt bring his audita querela. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 262. Ibid. vol. 2. p. 145. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 314. Raym. vol. 1. p. 27.

Michaelmas,

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Wilſon v. Law.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 75 of this work, under the head Appeal; and in page 83, under the head Appearance.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Prinn v. Edwards.

In an action of debt on a judgment, the defendant pleaded a writ of error depending in the Exchequer Chamber; and ſo prayed, that he go hence without a day, &c. Adjudged an ill plea, becauſe no reſummons lies in this caſe, as it does in excommunication, and other caſes. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 145. Raym. vol. 1. p. 47.

Mich. 7 W. 3. Winchurſt v. Maſely.

The plaintiff in error's council moved the court for leave to quaſh his own writ of error, to reverſe a fine, becauſe one of the parties to the fine was omitted in the writ of error.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We cannot do it. How can we take notice of any thing but what is on record? We cannot quaſh it on a foreign ſuggeſtion.

There was a caſe in Pemberton's time, where a fine was levied by three, and two of them brought a writ of error to reverſe it; perhaps the other had nothing in the land, and it was reverſed.

But this is to be conſidered, if a man is intitled to be tenant by the courteſy, and he joins in a fine with his wife, of theſe lands; whether his title to be tenant by the courteſy is not extinguiſhed, if the fine is reverſed after her death. Indeed, if the fine is reverſed in her life-time, he may have a new title; if the huſband makes a feoffment on condition of his wife's lands, and ſhe dies, and then the condition is broken, ſhall he be tenant by the courteſy?

Then you cannot have any coſts, if the party enters a non proſ. for the ſtatute gives coſts on a writ of error only when it is in delay of execution.

We cannot let you quaſh it; but let them ſhew cauſe why you ſhould not diſcontinue. Writs of error are ſeldom diſcontinued, but ſometimes they may be. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 67.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Walker v. Slackoe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 69 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Daſhwood's caſe.

Per curiam. In an action of debt, on a judgment in this court, error pleaded pending in the Exchequer Chamber, is good in abatement; but if the defendant concludes he ought not to anſwer until, &c. it is not good, for we have no re-ſummons here. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 68.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Hartop v. Holt.

In an action of debt brought in this court, the plaintiff had judgment; the defendant brought a writ of error in the Exchequer Chamber, and the judgment was affirmed. The plaintiff then ſued out a ſcire facias in this court, and had an award of execution. Hereupon the defendant brought a writ of error in the Exchequer Chamber, as well in giving judgment, as in adjudication of execution: notwithſtanding all this, the plaintiff in the original action went on and ſued out execution; and now a motion was made to ſet it aſide, becauſe it was ſued out when there was a writ of error depending.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. 1ſt, The intent of ſtat. 27 Eliz. was only to relieve on the very merits of the cauſe, as it ſtood on the judgment, which the juſtices and barons might either affirm or reverſe; but there can be no new writ of error after they have affirmed or reverſed. If this ſcire facias had been ſued out, and there had been no writ of error, then on the award of execution, a writ of error would have lain in the Exchequer Chamber, for then the merits of the firſt judgment had remained yet to be examined; but in the principal caſe the merits of the firſt judgment were examined before the ſcire facias, and thereby the Exchequer Chamber have executed their power and authority. If a plaintiff in error is nonſuited, he ſhall not have a writ of error again. In the caſe of Exeter college, the Lords reverſed the judgment of this court, and ſent their judgment down to be entered here; but this court refuſed it, becauſe the authority of the judges here, determined with the firſt judgment, and they had no more to do with it.

2dly, It was held that the writ of error could be no ſuperſedeas to the execution, and that what the plaintiff did was well, and no contempt. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 263. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 228. Raym. vol. 1. p. 97. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 105.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Bennoyer or Pennoire v. Brace.

On error brought on a judgment given in treſpaſs againſt ſeveral defendants, it was ruled, that where a writ of error is brought by two, and one of them dies, pending the writ, the plaintiff in the original action, by entering a ſuggeſtion on the roll, that one of the plaintiffs in error is dead, may take out execution on the judgment, without ſuing out a ſcire facias, either againſt the heir or executor of the dead perſon. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 338. Ibid. vol. 8. p. 108. Ibid. vol. 12. p. 130. Raym. vol. 1. p. 244.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Pechey v. Harriſon.

The plaintiff being an infant, brought an action by guardian, after a verdict for him, it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that there was no warrant for him to appear by guardian entered upon record. And it was reſolved by the whole court, that the admittance of a guardian ought to be upon record, becauſe it is the act of the court; for the court takes care of infants, that none ſhall ſue for them but thoſe that are reſponſible: for if the infant be prejudiced, he may have his action againſt him. But judgment cannot be arreſted for this cauſe, no more than if no warrant of attorney be filed. But on a writ of error brought, and diminution alledged, and certified in this court, it will be ill, for which the judgment may be reverſed. But judgment can never be arreſted, but for that which appears on the record itſelf; now this admittance ought not to appear on this record, but on the remembrance roll of the prothonotary. In the ſame manner, if a record begins, that A. B. was ſummoned, which pre-ſuppoſes a writ, yet if there is no writ, judgment cannot be arreſted for this reaſon, but the party may have a writ of error. So in this caſe it is ſaid on the plea roll, that he appears by his guardian for this purpoſe ſpecially admitted by the court, which ſuppoſes there is a regular admittance upon the prothonotary's remembrance roll; but if there is none, it is not examinable here. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 232.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Hodgeſon v. Segrave.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the county palatine of Cheſter, the plaintiff in error delayed to bring in the record; whereon the defendant moved for a rule to bring it in, and for the plaintiff to aſſign his errors, or otherwiſe that they might return a non proſ.. to which the court ſaid, that their direct way was to take a certificate from this court, that the record is not come in, and on ſhewing thereof in Chancery, they will have a writ of execution of juſtice of courſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Donford v. Ellys.

The plaintiff recovered in a ſuit in ejectment at York; the defendant brought a writ of error, and gave bail according to ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 8. after which the plaintiff, pending the writ of error, brought an action of treſpaſs for the meſne profits; and the court was moved to ſtop this action; for if judgment ſhould be affirmed, or the plaintiff in error nonſuited, he is to have his damages on a writ of enquiry, according to the ſame ſtatute; and if he ſhould recover damages in this action, he would be doubly ſatisfied; but the court refuſed to ſtop the plaintiff, for it may be, the writ of error was brought for delay, and ſuppoſing it was not, and the plaintiff recovered in treſpaſs, that recovery might be given in evidence to a jury, on a writ of inquiry to leſſen the damages. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 138.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Ellis v. Thomas.

In this caſe a denial of imparlance was generally aſſigned for error.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If it appears on the record, that the defendant is intitled to the imparlance, and he prays it, and it is denied him, it is error. But if no ſuch thing appears on the record, a denial of imparlance cannot be aſſigned for error. Wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 285.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Riccards or Richards, v. Corneforth Cornforth, or Cornford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 374 of this work, under the head Diſtreſs.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Burr and Drue v. Atwood. Error.

The defendant obtained judgment in an action againſt J. S. in which Burr was bail; and afterwards he obtained judgment on a ſci. fac. againſt Burr; upon which Burr brought a writ of error, as well in giving judgment as the adjudication of execution, which was ill, becauſe the bail cannot maintain error on the principal judgment. On which the court was moved, that the writ of error ſhould be quaſhed, as to the principal judgment, and ſtand good as to the judgment on the ſcire facias. And a caſe adjudged in this court, Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Brook v. Sir William Ellis was cited; where Sir William Ellis obtained judgment in debt againſt Brook and J. S. two executors of J. N. and on a ſcire fieri, inquiry was awarded, and a devaſtavit returned againſt Brook, judgment was given againſt Brook on the devaſtavit; on which Brook ſued a writ of error without his co-executor J. S. to reverſe the principal judgment in the action of debt, and to reverſe the judgment of the devaſtavit againſt himſelf; and becauſe he alone, without J. S. could not ſue error on the principal judgment, the writ of error was quaſhed as to that, and ſtood good as to the judgment on the ſcire facias on the devaſtavit againſt himſelf; which cauſe Holt Chief Juſtice remembered well. And therefore herein the principal cauſe the writ of error was quaſhed as to the principal judgment, and was retained for the reſidue. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 328.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Acourt v. Swift.

On a writ of error brought by the bail on a judgment in B. R. in Ireland held ill. But the court refuſed to quaſh it, becauſe the tranſcript was not returned and filed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 329.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. The King v. Sir Henry Bond, Bart.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 53 of this work, under the head Addition.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Hunt v. Lawſon.

A writ of error was brought to remove a record out of the Common Pleas of a plaint between A. plaintiff, and B. defendant, and the record certified, was between A. plaintiff, and B. together with D. E. &c. defendants. And it was moved, that this was not the ſame record; for a record between A. and B. cannot be the ſame as a record between A. and B. together with D. E. &c. but adjudged no variance. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 347.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. Groenvelt v. Burwell, and others.

It was held in this caſe by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that wherever a new juriſdiction is created by act of parliament, and the court or judge that exerciſes this juriſdictions, acts as a court or judge of record according to the courſe of the common law, a writ of error lies on their judgments; but where they act in a ſummary method, or in a new courſe different from the common law, there a writ of error lies not, but a certiorari. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 263. Raym. vol. 1. p. 454.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Gerrard v. Arnold.

Judgment being obtained againſt three defendants, two of them brought a writ of error, and the record was tranſmitted: though in law the record is not removed, becauſe all did not join; yet the execution is ſuperſeded. And therefore in this caſe the other party being taken in execution, and having paid the money to redeem his body, reſtitution was awarded. Stile 105. 1 Keb. 12. Vide Raym. vol. 1. 405.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Coot v. Lynch or Linch.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 304 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. The Biſhop of St. David's v. Lucy.

The Biſhop of St. David's petitioned the Lord Chancellor Somers, to have a writ of error on being denied a prohibition; who having ſome doubt whether it would lie or not, referred it to the Attorney General, who certified his opinion, to be, that a writ of error would lie in this caſe; on which the ſuggeſtion was entered on record, and the denial of the prohibition; and the writ of error was granted, and the whole brought by the Chief Juſtice into parliament. And afterwards on hearing of his opinion, the Lords of parliament were of opinion, that a writ of error would not lie in this caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 545.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. Deſborough v. Kelby. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in aſſumpſit, where the plaintiff declared on ſeveral promiſes; and in the count for an inſimul computaſſet, no time was laid when, nor place where the account was made between them.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is the ſame thing as if a man ſhould declare, that at Cambridge the defendant was indebted to him for goods ſold, and not ſay where they were ſold; it ought to be, that they were then and there to him ſold; therefore the judgment ought to be reverſed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 533.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. Wicket and Foot v. Cremer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 12 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A writ of error may be againſt the King without petition, though anciently that was uſed, and was a decency; but ſince 1640, writs of error have been made out officially. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 264.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Parry v. Villars.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 59 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Jenniſon v. Ellis.

The want of an original was aſſigned for error; and the original certified, being of another term than the plea, and no continuance, the court would not allow it for an original. Cro. Car. 281. 272. Yelv. 108. That it muſt be an original of the ſame term with the pleading, or at leaſt pending the pleading. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 320.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Roſiere v. Sawkins.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a plea in bar is pleaded, and the court gives judgment only to anſwer over, it cannot be aſſigned for error, becauſe it is for the defendant's benefit; as if the court grants an eſſoign, where none lies by law. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 594.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment on a recognizance on a ſci. fa. which ran thus, viz. in adjudication of execution on the judgment aforeſaid, inſtead of on the recognizance aforeſaid, and was for that reaſon quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 371.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Boiſe v. Bruerton.

An original was ſued out into Suffolk, and the action laid in Norfolk, and the judgment thereon was reverſed for this error. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 371.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Coux v. Lowther.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 369 of this work, under the head Diſcontinuance.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Wilbraham v. Doyley. Error.

The court was moved to ſtop a writ of error out of Chancery, for reverſing an outlawry in the County Palatine of Cheſter; the council grounding his motion on 4 Inſt. 214. where L. Coke holds, that in a writ of error to Cheſter, a day ſhould be given for ſo long time, as that three county courts might be held before the return of the writ into this court, which is four months; by which time the juſtices or lieutenants within the ſaid county, might redreſs the error if they would. On the other ſide it was argued, that though there was ſuch an ancient uſage, yet now ſtat. 33 H. 8. cap. 43. has taken away that ancient courſe, and enacted, that the adminiſtration of juſtice uſed heretofore to be had at eight ſhire days, ſhould be thereafter executed by the juſtice of Cheſter, twice in the year only, viz. at the ſeſſions next after Eaſter, and at the ſeſſions next after Michaelmas, (which by ſtat. 33 H. 8. cap. 13. is made moveable at the pleaſure of the juſtice, ſo as proclamation be made of the time, fifteen days before) in like manner as is uſed in the County Palatine of Lancaſter. And by that ſtat. it is made impracticable in point of time; for if it ſhould be executed now, it would delay the party at leaſt two years, inſtead of the four months delay before. 2d. This cuſtom, if it now remained, extends only to caſes of judgments given by the judges by reaſon of the tenure to ſave their fine; and therefore it does not extend to a fine, nor conſequently to this caſe, becauſe the judgment of outlawry is given by the coroner. 3dly, Before ſtat. 33 H. 8. cap. 13. there were no outlawries in Cheſter, the electing of coroners in the ſame county being firſt appointed by the ſaid ſtat. and therefore the cuſtom could not extend to judgments of outlawry.

Holt, C. Juſtice, allowed theſe points, and ſaid, that there was no colour for the motion; and ſaid farther, there was no Chief Juſtice of Cheſter before the time of Queen Elizabeth. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 591.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Dillon v. Walcot.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given in K. B. in Ireland. Walcot's anceſtor having been attained of high-treaſon in Ireland, and his eſtate granted by letters patent by King Charles 2. to the Earl of Roſcommon; the judgment was reverſed by writ of error in this court, and that reverſal affirmed before the Lords; and therefore a mandate to the court of K. B. in Ireland to award reſtitution; which they did without any ſci. fac. againſt the ter-tenant; whereupon Dillon brought this writ of error, ſetting forth the attainder, and a grant to the Earl of R. and that the plaintiff was aſſignee of the ſaid R. and that an award of reſtitution to the damage, &c. The want of a ſci. fac. againſt the ter-tenants aſſigned for error, and on no error pleaded, iſſue was joined.

Per curiam. Here is an extravagant error, for on the reverſal the judgment is, that the party be reſtored to whatever he has loſt, &c. but that muſt be known; and the way is, to come and ſuggeſt he was ſeiſed of ſuch and ſuch land, &c. and to take out a ſcire facias againſt the ter-tenants, and they thereon ought to be ſummoned, and may come and ſhew cauſe againſt reſtitution, as perhaps a fine levied by the heir, &c. or the party himſelf; and it would be prudent in a purchaſer of an attainted perſon's eſtate, to procure ſuch a fine; and this has been done by the purchaſers of H. Martin's eſtate, while he lay under ſentence of death in the tower. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 407.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Finch v. Ranow or Renew.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment, that partition might be made on a writ of partition, before the final judgment; and therefore the record was held not moved, and the writ was quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 610.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Gibbs v. Walkley.

In this caſe a double error in fact was aſſigned.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The way is to plead no error, and ſhew the duplicity for the cauſe to affirm the judgment. Vide 1 Ro. Ab. 763. But if apparent error appear on the record, notwithſtanding the ill aſſigning of the error in fact, by reaſon of the duplicity; yet judgment ought to be reverſed for ſuch apparent error; but here no ſuch error appearing on the record, the judgment was affirmed, becauſe of the duplicity of the error in fact. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 650.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Jones v. Sweetapple.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in an action of debt on a bond in the C. B. and the error aſſigned was, that it was a bond for appearance taken by the plaintiff, under colour of office, and it was no where ſaid that the plaintiff was a ſheriff but only that he took the bond by the name of ſheriff.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Then you ſhould have pleaded the ſtatute, and that matter; and now you are too late; therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 634.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In an action of debt, if the original is recited to be attached inſtead of ſummoned, yet we cannot reverſe the judgment, becauſe it is only a recital. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 513.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If pending a writ of error, the plaintiff dies, and execution is taken out without acquainting the court therewith, it will be ſet aſide for irregularity; otherwiſe if the court is appriſed of it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 494.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Bidolph v. Veal.

On a writ of error from the court of Ely, on a judgment in treſpaſs, the record certified, ſet forth a ſummons on ſuch a day, returnable the ſame day generally; and a return the ſame day of the party's being ſummoned; and thereon an attachment, and a return the ſame day of a nil, and then a capias, returnable the ſame day; and thereon the defendant brought in in cuſtody, declaration, plea, demurrer, and judgment, writ of inquiry executed and returned, and judgment final, all in a day. And this was inſiſted on for error, that the ſummons being made returnable generally ſuch a day, the defendant had that whole day to appear; and then it was erroneous to compel his appearance by capias that day. And that was agreed to by the court; for though in counties palatine and in the grand ſeſſions of Wales, they ſplit days and hours, and perhaps they might do the like here; yet having not done ſo, viz. made the proceſs returnable at ſuch an hour of the day, but generally at ſuch a day as here, it was erroneous to award a capias till the day was over; for the capias is for the contempt in not appearing at the return of the ſummons, and in contempt he could not be till after the time of the return. 2dly. It was reſolved, that the bare appearance on the capias being compulſory, did not help this error, becauſe it was what the defendant could not avoid. 3dly. It was reſolved the omitting to take advantage of it then, but pleading over cured it, for he might have demanded judgment whether he ought to be put to anſwer on the capias, the return of the pone being not yet out. 4thly. It was reſolved it was not neceſſary to have fifteen days on the return of proceſs in a franchiſe; for the reaſon of them in the courts of Weſtminſter is, becauſe that time is judged neceſſary for the people to come from the remote parts, to which the proceſs of thoſe courts does extend, which does not hold in franchiſes. 5thly. The judgment was reverſed for this error, viz. that the writ of error is executed the ſame day with the pone's return, and ſo might be before any pone iſſued out; and no appearance, and pleading can help that. Let the judgment be reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 523.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Oliver v. Hunning.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action againſt two, where one of the defendants was outlawed. An exception was taken to the writ of error, becauſe it mentioned the writ to be brought againſt one only. But it was held good, becauſe the writ, as to the other, was determined by the outlawry. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 691.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

A writ was brought to remove a record before Sir J. N. Knight, Sir J. P. Knight, and —— Jo. B. C. our juſtices of the bench, and the placita, i. e. pleas returned, were before Geo. Treby, Chief Juſtice, &c. and it was moved to quaſh the writ for variance.

Per curiam. The plaintiff's attorney might have ſued execution notwithſtanding this writ, for it was no authority to remove the record; and the writ was accordingly quaſhed niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 523.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Peters v. Benning.

A writ of error ran to the next ſeſſion of parliament, and before that time the parliament by proclamation was diſſolved, and a day fixed for the meeting of a new one: and on motion, the queſtion was, whether this writ were a ſuperſedeas of execution, or even could be a warrant to ſend up the record to the new parliament, there being no term intervening between the return of the writ and the time fixed for the parliament's meeting. It was agreed on, that the court can take no notice of any extrajudicial determination, or order of the Lords.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. If an impeachment be in one parliament, and ſome proceedings thereon, and then the parliament is diſſolved, and a new one called, there may be a continuance on the impeachment; and he quoted the caſe of James v. Bertly, Eaſter 5 W. & M. where a writ of error was teſted the 4th day of May, returnable the 19th day of November following, to which time the parliament was prorogued, ſo that a whole term intervened; and he ſaid, it was his opinion they might ſue out execution notwithſtanding that writ. And he remembered to have known it ruled in Keeling's and Hale's time, that a writ of error was no ſuperſedeas after a prorogation, if a term intervened; that diſſolution determines error actually depending. Ray. 5. That a prorogation, and a whole term intervening, is a ſuperſedeas of a writ of error in parliament; and ſo of a diſſolution, though the errors had been aſſigned. If before the tranſcript be left above, the parliament was diſſolved, the writ was no ſuperſedeas of execution; but if it had been left above, the diſſolution would be a ſuperſedeas of it; but the writ of error would not be diſcontinued, there being a day certain for the meeting of a new parliament, by the very act of diſſolution. It may be a queſtion, if a writ of error to the next parliament, when a parliament is to meet at a day certain, be a ſuperſedeas, though a term does not interpoſe between the teſte of the writ and the time fixed for the meeting of the parliament by the diſſolution of the former parliament; but the Chief Juſtice ſaid, that as the preſent caſe was, the writ in queſtion could not be an authority to carry up the record, neither could the Lords be equally poſſeſſed of it by virtue of that writ. And he ſaid, in caſe of prorogation, the writ of error was returnable to the preſent parliament; but in caſe of adjournment, it was to the preſent ſeſſion. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 605.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. A plaintiff in error cannot move to quaſh his writ of error before error aſſigned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 602.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Dundee v. Petty.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 162 of this work, under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Sir Richard Leving v. Lady Calvary.

On error brought, the want of an original was aſſigned for error, the original having been loſt on the death of the plaintiff below's attorney; on affidavit of this fact, the Lord Keeper granted them a new original, and that ſhould be certified, and a certiorari being brought, and the original being certified, now the defendant in error would bring on the matter, in order to have his judgment affirmed, and coſts. And it was moved, that this would be very hard on the plaintiff, who at the time of the writ of error brought had good cauſe, though that were now cured by a new original; and for this the caſe of Naydon v. Winterbotham, about three years before, was cited.

Per curiam. The plaintiff cannot diſcontinue his writ of error without leave of the court; for if you do not aſſign error, we will affirm the judgment, therefore the court would make no rule. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 561.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If judgment be irregularly obtained, a releaſe of errors ſets it right to all purpoſes. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 560.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Watſon v. Huddleſton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 339 of this work, under the heads Day, Date, and Delivery.

Anonymous.

Adjudged, that where a writ of error is brought, and no record certified at the day of the return of the writ, the defendant in error taking a certificate of this matter from the proper officer of the court, where the writ is returnable, he may take out a writ de executione judicii of courſe, and the party cannot hinder execution thereon, without he brings a new writ of error. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 264.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Cutting v. Wilkins or Williams v. Cutting.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 327 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Tilly v. Richardſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 181 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Atwood v. Burr.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 370 of this work, under the head Diſcontinuance.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Giggeer's Caſe.

An action having been brought by the name of Giggeer, a writ of error was brought as in an action between Giggure and the defendant, whereas his ſurname was Gigger; and it was moved that the defendant notwithſtanding the writ of error might take out execution; and the court held this was a fatal variance, and that the record was not removed by the writ of error, but would not meddle as to the execution.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where a writ of error abates by motion, the defendant in error muſt move for leave to take out execution; but where by reaſon of variance the record is not removed, he need not move the court for execution: but here the record was amended. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 265.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Badger v. Lloyd or Eloyd.

In this caſe it was ſaid, per Holt, Chief Juſtice, that it was adjudged, that pending a writ of error, the plaintiff in the original action may enter if he can; for though this writ forecloſes the court, and ties up their hands, yet it does not alter the right of the parties. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 145. Raym. vol. 1. page 145.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Reginald v. Taylor.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in an action of treſpaſs in the Stannary courts, the following exceptions were taken:

1ſt, That in the record ſent up in the ſtile of the court, ſet forth; they do not ſay, that it was held within the juriſdiction of the court. 1 Co. 51. 1 Inſt. 58. 1 Roll. Ab. 533. 434.

Per curiam. Where you declare in the inferior courts, you ought to lay the fact or cauſe of action, to have ariſen within their juriſdiction; or if you declare, that at a court held, ſuppoſe at Maidſtone, ſuch a thing was done, there you muſt ſay, that the court was held within the juriſdiction of the court, but when you only ſet forth the ſtile of a court, you need not ſhew it.

Another error was, that it was not alledged, that the plaintiff was a tinner; and by ſeveral acts of parliament concerning their juriſdiction, they ought to ſhew it; and for this the judgment was reverſed, niſi, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 103.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Cole v. Henry. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in K. B. in Ireland, in ejectment, the following errors were aſſigned:

1ſt, That no jurors name was entered on the record.

2dly, That the judge who tried the cauſe, calls himſelf the Queen's judge; and it no where appears, that the King was then dead.

Holt, C. J. We are to take judicial knowledge of who reigns over us, and to whom we owe allegiance, and though it is decent to take notice of the demiſe of the King, yet it is not of neceſſity. And when there is a full jury, there never is an entry of their names in a ſuperior court; wherefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 103.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Wood v. Branford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 379 of this work, under the head Dower.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Shortridge v. Lamplugh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 333 of this work, under the head Damages.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Croſſe v. Bilſon.

Adjudged, on a writ of error brought on a judgment in an action of replevin in C. B. that if a reſpondeas ouſter was awarded, it would be no error aſſignable by the defendant, becauſe the ſame would be to his advantage. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1016.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Burdett v. Wheatly.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes, in which, on non-aſſumpſit pleaded, as to two of the counts, a verdict and judgment were given for the plaintiff, and as to the reſt for the defendant. And the error aſſigned was, that the defendant was an infant at the time of the promiſes made, and alſo appeared by attorney: to which aſſignment the defendant in error demurred ſpecially, becauſe it contained matter of fact, and of law alſo. And therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 883.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Andrews v. Lynton.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment by default in an action of treſpaſs in C. B. the error aſſigned was, that the perſon who returned the original was not ſheriff; and urged, that the returning was not a miniſterial act, and that an averment lies againſt what the ſheriff does as an officer, but not as a judge. Yelv. 34. 2 Cro. 12. 7 H. 7. 4. 8 H. 4. 15. 1 Cro. 421. 1 Ro. 758, 760. 2 Lev. 184, 242. 2 Jo. 125.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If the ſheriff did not return the writ, it was irregular, and you ſhould have complained; but that ſhould have been in time: when a writ comes in, the defendant has all the term to complain of irregularity, and in that time the ſheriff might have had leave in C. B. to diſavow the return; but after the term is elapſed, and the writ is filed, and becomes a record, it is then too late, and every one is eſtopped to ſay the ſheriff did not return it. But, The defendant in the principal caſe has admitted the original, by appearing and not challenging the original; as if a venire be returned by one that is not ſheriff, this is not aſſignable for error; becauſe he might have challenged the array for it at niſi prius. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 265. Raym. vol. 2. p. 884.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Sir Edward Longueville v. The Inhabitants of Thiſtleworth.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The giving oyer of a writ where it ought not to be allowed, is no error, nor aſſignable by the defendant, being an advantage to him; but the denial of it, where it ought to be allowed, is error; to which Powell, Juſtice, agreed.

Per curiam. We will conſider of it. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 979.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Gibbons v. Roberts.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the court of Briſtol in an action of debt on a bond, the following objections were taken:

1ſt, It was objected, that the ſtyle of the court is laid to be according to the law of merchants, which cannot be but in a court of ſtaple; and debt on bond is not within the law of merchants.

Per curiam. We will intend this to be another ſort of cuſtomary court under that name; as where a court of pie-powder was to be held by preſcription, which could not be, this court held it to be a cuſtomary court under that denomination.

2dly, It was objected, that here was a day given to the party aforeſaid, and it was not alledged to be given by the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where an award of proceſs or judgment is alledged, it muſt be ſaid by the court, but a day given need not; for though it may be by the prayer of the party, yet it muſt be given by the court.

3dly, It was objected, that the certiorari was awarded to the ſheriff of the county of Briſtol, and the return is by the ſheriff of Briſtol. But not allowed.

Per curiam. We take notice of all counties, being to award proceſs to them every day, and the ſheriff is our officer.

4thly, It was objected, that the return was by a ſucceeding ſheriff, and not by the perſon to whom the writ was directed.

Per curiam. The writ is to the ſheriff as ſheriff, and not to him by this or that name; and therefore different from a writ of error to the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 266.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Shepherd and Baily v. Orchard.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 141 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Evans v. Roberts.

In this caſe the anſwer to the writ of error was, that there came another writ of error to them before that writ, bearing the ſame teſte and return, and recited the writ, and made a return to it; and held good. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 328 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Tyſon v. Hilliard.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the declaration was of Trin. 1 Ann, and the want of an original aſſigned for error, and a certiorari was awarded, and the original returned with the continuances, by which it appeared the declaration was Hil. 13 W. 3. with imparlances till Trin. 1 Ann, and the original of that term; ſo that it appeared to be a ſuit pending in the C. B. before any original, which was the objection. 1 Lev. 69. 1 Keb. 177, 197, 238. 377. Yelv. 108. But not allowed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The certiorari as to the continuances was impertinent, and ſo is the matter returned; and as to the reſt the return is impoſſible, and contrary to the record, and therefore the imparlances ſhall be taken to be in another cauſe. Style 293. Therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 269. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1122.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Hale v. Clare or Claro.

In a borough-court, a plaint was entered as the plaint of A. B. and the declaration was by A. B. executor of J. S. and on a writ of error brought in this court, this variance was aſſigned for error: and the court held, 1ſt. That want of a plaint in an inferior court is the ſame as the want of an original in the court of C. B. and that this could not be a plaint in this action: and though a verdict will cure the want of an original, yet there is no verdict in this caſe. 2dly. If ſuch variance had been in a record of the C. B. diminution might have been alledged, and a good writ certified; but in records out of inferior courts, no diminution can be alledged, and the court muſt take them as they find them. 1 Ven. 6. 2 Cro. 108, 109. Jo. 304. 1 Cro. 282. Hob. 130, 134, 264, 282. Vide Salk. vol. 1. page 266. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 149.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Parkins v. Woollaſton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 163 of this work, under the head Bail.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Carlton v. Mortagh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 255 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Trinity, 3 Ann. The Queen v. Foxby.

The defendant was convicted at the ſeſſions for a ſcold, and adjudged to be ducked; ſhe brought a writ of error, (by leave of the Attorney General) and the Chief Juſtice ſaid, the court was well enough poſſeſſed of the cauſe by writ of error; but the beſt way was to remove it by certiorari into the Crown Office, and then bring a writ of error coram nobis, &c. and on that the courſe is, to give a rule to aſſign errors, and then to move for a peremptory rule; and in default thereof to have a non proſ. and then an award of execution. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 266.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Burnaby v. Saunderſon.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment in C. B. and the want of an original aſſigned for error: the defendant in error came in gratis, and alledged diminution, and prayed a certiorari, and thereon a variant original was certified: on this he came again at the day given, and ſuggeſted another original of ſuch a term, and prayed another certiorari. This appearing on the maſter's report, the queſtion was, Whether it was regular?

Holt, C. J. If a record below be of Eaſter term, and the want of an original be aſſigned for error, the defendant may alledge diminution, and then a certiorari goes to the cuſtos brevium only, to certify an original of Eaſter term, that being the term of which the plea is: if then the cuſtos brevium certifies a wrong original, or that there is no original, then the defendant may come and ſuggeſt, before in no error pleaded, that there is an original of another term, viz. Hilary or Michaelmas; and then there muſt go a certiorari to the cuſtos brevium to certify that, and another to the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. to certify the continuances. Alſo if the cuſtos brevium certifies a wrong original of the ſame term the plea is of, it has been held the defendant may ſuggeſt there is a right original even of that very term; and when both are before the court, the court will apply the record to that which is a good original. 2 Cro. 279. Therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 267. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 174.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. The Queen v. Baines.

Holt, C. Juſtice. A writ of error can be only of one judgment, but a certiorari may affect ſeveral orders or indictments, but then the writ muſt mention the ſeveral orders or indictments. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1199.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Davenant v. Raſtor.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where the want of an original is aſſigned for error, the courſe is, for the plaintiff in error, before he can bring in the defendant to plead to the errors, to ſue out a certiorari; and get a certificate, that there is no original. But if the defendant will come in gratis, without proceſs, and plead a releaſe, he confeſſes the error; and if there be an original, he muſt take out a certiorari, and get it certified; or elſe it ſhall be taken that there is none, and the judgment ſhall be reverſed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1046.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Redham v. Waters.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the court of Berwick, the proceedings were returned in Engliſh.

Per curiam. It was held, that on a writ of error, this court is to take notice of the particular laws and cuſtoms of the place where the judgment was given, and the law of that place need not be returned, but the court muſt inform themſelves of it; alſo that if by law the proceedings below be in Engliſh, they may be ſo entered here; and a difference was taken between a writ of error and a habeas corpus, for in an habeas corpus, the inferior juriſdiction muſt in their return ſet forth the particular law or cuſtom of the place, whereby they juſtify their commitment, otherwiſe the court is not to take notice of it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 269.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 328 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Brown v. Dyer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 80 of this work, under the head Appeal.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Smith and others v. Stoneard.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. after verdict, the plaintiff in error aſſigned for error the want of an original, but did not take out a certiorari, as the courſe is; the defendant in error pleaded no error: and when the cauſe came on in the paper, It was objected, that there ought to have been a certiorari taken out, and a return of the want of an original on that; for there might be an ill original, which is not aided by verdict, though the want of an original is.

Holt, C. Juſtice. If the want of an original be aſſigned for error, and the plaintiff in error does not ſue out a certiorari, the courſe is, for the defendant in error to go to the maſter of the office, and get a rule for the plaintiff in error to return his certiorari; and in caſe he does not get it done accordingly, the aſſignment of errors ſignifies nothing; but if the defendant in error will come in gratis and confeſs the error, there need be no certiorari returned; and as to the objection, that there may be a bad original in this caſe, that is another kind of error; for when the want of an original is aſſigned for error, the court will never intend a bad original: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 267. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1156.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Gibbons v. Dove.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 181 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Trinity, 4 Ann. Wilſon v. Ingoldſon.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in ejectment, teſted the firſt year of the Queen, judgment was not given in the ejectment till the third year of the Queen, and then the record was tranſcribed, and brought into this court. And the defendant in error ſued out a ſcire facias quare executio non, to compel the plaintiff to aſſign errors. And the plaintiff in error pleaded nul tiel record, and on bringing in the record, the council for the plaintiff in error moved, that here was a failer of the record, to which the court agreed. For they ſaid that the plea was, there is no ſuch record; which refers to the ſcire facias, which recites a record of a judgment in the C. B. removed hither by writ of error, which this record never was, no judgment having been given till after the return of the writ was out. The Chief Juſtice alſo ſaid, that this being a record of the ſame court, it would have been more proper to have prayed oyer of it. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1179.

Eaſter, 6 Ann. Wilkinſon v. Tireman.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in action of dower, brought by Elizabeth Tireman againſt J. Wilkinſon, an infant, who, by his guardian, aſſigned the general errors. And the error inſiſted on was in the judgment, that it appeared that the defendant was an infant, and yet amerced. But the judgment was affirmed, the court being all of opinion, that this was aided by ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 8. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1284.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Langthorn v. Taylor.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in action of debt, on the return of an elegit; the declaration was, that M. C. by indenture demiſed an houſe, and certain goods mentioned in a ſchedule, for twenty-one years, if the tenant ſhould ſo long live. That the plaintiff recovered a debt of 300 l. againſt her, and had execution thereon.

It was excepted, that the the execution was taken out pending a writ of error; and that all the precedents are, that it ought to appear with an affirmetur. 1 Saund. 182, 233. 2 Saund. 238, or 233, and 317. And that it not appearing here that the judgment was affirmed, it is erroneous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It muſt either be a non pros, or an affirmance. You have indeed ſhewn, that the execution was ſuſpended by the writ of error, and therefore they ought to have ſhewn a declaration before they had taken out execution. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 197.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Nelſon v. Collins.

On writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the error aſſigned was, that in the declaration it was Collins, by ——— Buſby his attorney, without any chriſtian name.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that he remembered a caſe, where it was aſſigned for error, that the attorney by whom the party appeared, was no attorney of that court. But it was diſallowed for error, that not being the merits of the cauſe; and may be helped by the late ſtatute, it being after verdict. Therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 219.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Bull v. Clifton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 181 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Anonymous.

The court was moved, that the plaintiff in a writ of error on a judgment given in Ireland, might aſſign his errors by attorney, on affidavit that he was reſident in Ireland, and offered to find ſufficient bail; which was granted.

The clerk of the crown ſaid, it had been done ſo in the caſe of York v. Medley. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 257.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Ludlow, Eſq. v. Leonard.

J. K. recovered a judgment in this court againſt the defendant by nil dicit in an action on the caſe, and a writ of inquiry being executed, final judgment was given againſt the defendant for 168 l. whereon the defendant brought a writ of error, returnable in the Exchequer Chamber in Trinity term, 1704, which was ſtill depending; afterwards K. became a bankrupt, and a commiſſion being taken out, the judgment was aſſigned to the plaintiffs; who, as aſſignees of the commiſſioners, ſued out two ſcire facias's in this court on the judgment; in which, on two nihils returned, they obtained judgment, ſued out a fieri facias thereon, and took the defendant's goods in execution. On which the court was moved, that the judgment on the ſcire facias might be ſet aſide as irregular, the writ of error being ſtill depending, and that the defendant might have reſtitution. The matter being referred to the maſter, he reported the fact as above; with this addition, that K. died after the writ of error brought, and after in no error pleaded; and the court held, firſt, That the writ of error was not abated by the death of the defendant in error, after in no error pleaded; ſo that the writ of error was ſtill depending. Secondly, That a ſcire facias does not lie on a judgment pending the writ of error brought on that judgment, but the writ of error pending is a good plea to the ſcire facias, ſo that the ſcire facias was not regular: but then the three judges, Powell, Powys, and Gould, (Holt, Chief Juſtice, being abſent) made a queſtion; whether they ſhould ſet the judgment on the ſcire facias aſide on motion, and the execution ſued out thereon; or ſhould compel the defendant to take out an audita querela? But on conſideration they all held, the whole proceedings were irregular, and ſet them aſide on motion. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1295.

Hilary, 10 Ann. Silk v. Hill.

The queſtion was, whether on a writ of inquiry it was not neceſſary that there ſhould be fifteen days between the teſte and the return, as well as on other writs.

The court ſeemed not to think it neceſſary. But the C. B. differing in their practice, in this particular, from this court, according to the reports of the clerks, it was judged proper, for the judges of both courts, to meet and eſtabliſh one uniform rule of practice. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 82.

Eaſter, 10 Ann. Meredith v. Davies.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given for the plaintiff in ejectment in the Grand Seſſion of Wales; after verdict, the general errors were aſſigned, and in no error pleaded: on arguing of the caſe it appeared, that the declaration ſet forth a demiſe for a term of years to the plaintiff; but it did not ſhew that the plaintiff entered, or was poſſeſſed; and the truth was, that this line was omitted in the tranſcript, and the court held this defect to be fatal. Whereon the plaintiff prayed the court would award a certiorari to the Grand Seſſions. It was argued it could not be done, for that the party had eſtopped himſelf by pleading no error; and though the court might do it in order to be certified of the out-branches of the record, as in the original writ, or warrant of attorney, which are not returned with the body of the record on a writ of error, and which indeed are contained in another roll; yet the court could never do it, to be certified of any thing in the body of the record: they muſt ſuppoſe it to be returned as it ought to be, and muſt take it as it is, and are concluded by the admiſſion of the parties from taking it to be otherwiſe. 1 Roll. Abr. 264. 2 Cro. 6. 9 E. 4. 32.

On the other ſide it was inſiſted, that by pleading no error the defendant admitted the record perfect; for the effect of his plea is, that this record, as it is, is without error; therefore he cannot come and alledge diminution afreſh, and ſay, that there is error by reaſon of ſuch a defect, for that is againſt his former ſuppoſal; and by the ſame reaſon he might be let in to alledge a diminution more than once, and he may alledge it ad infinitum; that the party is therefore bound and foreclosed by this admiſſion, and that equally as to all parts of the record; but the court was not foreclosed, for the writ of error is a commiſſion to them to examine the error, viz. that by inſpecting the record and proceſs, the court may cauſe to be done that which in juſtice ought to have been done.

Therefore no admiſſion of the parties can or ought to reſtrain the court from looking into the record before them: that in the caſe of Carleton v. Mortagh, the plaintiff aſſigned for error the want of an original, and the defendant pleaded a releaſe, but miſpleaded it; and tho' this was a full confeſſion of the party, that there was no original, yet the court awarded a certiorari, and affirmed the judgment; but that had been otherwiſe if he had aſſigned for error infancy; becauſe this could not appear by inſpecting that record: and that wherever by inſpecting the record the court may affirm the judgment, they ought to award a certiorari. And as the party, by pleading no error, is eſtopped to pay a certiorari as to every part of the record, ſo the court is foreclosed as to no part; and the caſes of Gwynn 1 Keb. 55. and of Fanſhaw v. Morriſon, Trinity 3 Ann, in this court, on a ſcire facias, on a recognizance againſt bail, are in point.

The court granted a rule for a certiorari on theſe reaſons, ſupported by an affidavit that the record was right below. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 270.

Hilary, 12 Ann. Skinner v. Newton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 11 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Trinity, 12 Ann. Groſvenor or Gravenor, v. Stephens.

On this writ of error, an error in fact was aſſigned, viz. that the plaintiff was a feme covert at the time of the action brought; but not allowed; becauſe it might have been pleaded in abatement. And it is a general rule not to ſuffer that to be aſſigned for error in fact, which might have been taken advantage of, by being pleaded in abatement. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 166.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. Johnſon v. Altham. Error.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 7 of this work, under the head Abatement; and in page 351, under the head Declaration.

Eaſter, 13 Ann. Shipley v. Shipley. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in dower in this court, it was inſiſted on, that the judgment itſelf was erroneous, for want of the words nil capiat per breve; i. e. that he take nothing by the writ; and for this were cited 8 Co. Rep. 62. Co. Ent 320, 323. 326. 2 Cro. 284.

Per curiam. The utmoſt conſequence of this objection is, that we muſt give the ſame judgment that the court of C. B. ought to have done.

Therefore the judgment in the court of C. B. was affirmed niſi; and the Earl of Clanrickard's caſe was relied on as a caſe in point. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10, p. 225.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Holroi v. Ebizſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 334 of this work, under the head Damages.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Hammond v. Webb.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 182 of this work, under the head Bail in error.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Nutton v. Crow.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 54 of this work, under the head Addition.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. Dorſet v. Chaplin.

On a return to a certiorari, directed to the cuſtos brevium; it appeared that the original was a quare clauſum fregit, an improper original for an action of debt. And though after a verdict, the want of an original is aided by the ſtatute of jeofails, yet an ill original is not aided. 5 Co. Rep. 37.

It was anſwered, that a quare clauſum fregit is no original in an action of debt; and therefore the caſe was to be conſidered, as if there was no original at all.

To this it was replied, that the certificate from the proper officer was the only way of trial what the original in the action was; and he has certified, that a quare clauſum fregit was the original; and this certificate the court is bound to give credit to. 2 Cro. 108. Noy, fol. 4. Cro. Car. 272, 281. Brownlow, 96. Yelv. 108. 2 Cro. 479.

The court were of the ſame opinion, and would have reverſed the judgment, becauſe of an ill original; but the council deſiring to ſpeak to it, it was adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 318.

Hilary, 3 Geo. Cook v. Dutcheſs of Hamilton. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. the queſtion was, whether the record was removed; by reaſon of a variance between the record deſcribed by the writ of error, and the record returned?

The writ of error ran thus; becauſe in the record and proceſs, and alſo in the rendering judgment on the plaint, which was in our court before you and your brethren, our juſtices of the Bench, by our writ between J. S. and thirty-one defendants there named, ſome error has happened, &c. And by the record returned it appeared, that the original action was between J. S. and the thirty-one defendants before named, and one defendant more; and that the verdict was likewiſe had againſt the thirty-two defendants; but that the thirty-ſecond defendant died before judgment, and that notice was taken by an entry on the record of his death; and the judgment was given only againſt the thirty one defendants named in the writ of error.

This was argued, 1ſt. To be a variance between the writ in the record deſcribed by the writ of error, and the writ in the record returned.

2dly. It was inſiſted that the offence or treſpaſs mentioned in the writ of error, which was a treſpaſs by thirty-one defendants, muſt be a different treſpaſs from that in the record returned, which was a treſpaſs by thirty two defendants.

Per curiam. We are of opinion, that this writ of error is well brought, and the record well removed, notwithſtanding both theſe objections. Accordingly the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. page 368.

Hilary, 5 Geo. Chartres v. Cuſack.

On a writ of error from the K. B. in Ireland, on an affirmance of a judgment in C. B. there; the want of warrants of attorney on the writ of error in this court were aſſigned for error; the court ſet the aſſignment of errors aſide, and ſaid it had been done ſo ſeveral times, on account of the delay which would follow on awarding certiorari's. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 142.

Hilary, 5 Geo. Thatcher v. Stephenſon.

On a writ of error coram vobis, &c. infancy was aſſigned for error; and a ſcire facias to hear errors was taken out, and a ſcire feci returned; the defendant did not appear and join in error, and the plaintiff applied to the court to know what to do; and they directed him to put it in the paper, without taking out any rule to join in error. And when it came on, the judgment was reverſed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 144.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Bellew v. Aylmer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 307 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. Cunningham v. Houſton.

On a writ of error brought, the want of an original, and warrants of attorney, were aſſigned for error. The defendant pleaded a releaſe of errors; and on not his deed replied, the plaintiff was nonſuited. Thereon the the court was moved to affirm the judgment, but the court directed it to be put in the paper, and when it came on, they objected againſt affirming the judgment; becauſe the pleading the releaſe was a confeſſion of the errors, and ſo it would be to affirm an erroneous judgment. And beſides the tables were now turned; the queſtion not being whether error or not, but whether barred or not by the releaſe. The court quoted Aſton's Entries 339, where the entry is, that the judgment be affirmed. But notwithſtanding this the court gave judgment, that the plaintiff take nothing by the writ of error. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. Ogburn v. Berrington.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C B. infancy was aſſigned. The court directed a ſeigned iſſue. Found with the plaintiff in error, and judgment reverſed on the return of the poſtea, on motion, without argument in the paper. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 127.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. Gould v. Coulthurſt.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 66 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Hackett v. Marſhall.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in Ireland, It was objected, that the defendant was an infant, and therefore there ought not to have been a capiatur, i. e. let him be taken. To which it was anſwered, and reſolved by the court, that there being a verdict in the caſe, and ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 8. here, being enacted in Ireland by ſtat. 17 & 18 Car. 2. c. 12. the fault was cured; although the adding a capiatur, where neither that or a miſericordia lies, is not expreſsly mentioned, but only the putting one for another, or omitting either of them, it being a matter of like nature not againſt the right of the matter of the ſuit, or whereby the iſſue or trial are altered, therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 3 3.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Newell v. Pidgeon.

Per curiam. If the plaintiff is nonſuited, and a judgment goes againſt him for coſts, error lies in the Exchequer Chamber. 1 Roll. Abr. 774. Vide Strange, vol. 1. page 235.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. The Ducheſs of Hamilton v. Incledon.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and the general errors aſſigned.

The plaintiff in error's council argued, a peer (and conſequently a peereſs) cannot be attached, but ſhould be brought in by ſummons; whereas this declaration runs, that the ducheſs was attached to anſwer.

Per curiam. Whether that be right or wrong, is not material; for if it be wrong, yet according to the modern reſolutions, you cannot reverſe a judgment by the recital of the writ, but muſt bring the very proceſs itſelf before the court. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Brewer v. Turner. Error.

The court was moved to quaſh a writ of error, becauſe the judgment was againſt two defendants, and ſo deſcribed in the writ of error, but then it was laid to be only to the great damage of one of them. And it was urged, that the perſons who are named under the to the great damage, are they, and only they, who bring the writ of error. So that the caſe is no more, than that one defendant brings a writ of error on a judgment againſt two, whereas both ought to join. 6 Co. Ruddock's caſe.

Per curiam. If it had any where appeared, that the other defendant was dead; there is no doubt but this defendant alone, without the executor of the other, might bring a writ of error; but as nothing of that appears, and the judgment is joint, it ſhould ſeem as if all muſt be mentioned under the to the great damage. And to this purpoſe was the caſe of Pennoir v. Brace, in the reign of W. 3. 5 Mod. 338. Salk. 319. 5 Mod. 16, 19. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 233.

Hilary, 7 Geo. Leeds v. Power.

On a motion in this court for a rule for the plaintiff to aſſign errors on a writ of error from the K. B. in Ireland, on a judgment in ejectment from the C. B. there, the court made a rule that unleſs errors were aſſigned within four days after fixing up a new note in the office, the defendant in error ſhould be at liberty to ſign a non pros.

Within the time allowed by the rule, errors were aſſigned; and it was objected, that it is an ejectment for lands in the county of Dublin. And the council offered a ſtatute made in Ireland, 17 & 18 Car. 2. c. 20. which appoints the trial of cauſes ariſing in the county of Dublin, to be at niſi prius in the ſame place where the King's courts ſit, in the county of the city of Dublin. So the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 417.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Kent v. Kent.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 336 of this work, under the head Damages.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Bellew v. Scott.

On a writ of error, as well in the award of execution on a ſcire facias againſt executors on a judgment againſt their teſtator in C. B. in Ireland, as in the affirmation in B. R. there.

The plaintiff in error's council took the following exceptions:

Firſt, The proceedings are againſt a man, and his wife as executrix, and the devaſtavit is returned in this manner, viz. that goods of their teſtator did come to their hands, ſufficient to pay the debt, which they (i. e. the huſband and wife) have waſted and converted to their own uſe, which a feme covert could not do; and 1 Vent. 12. 24. 33, were cited, where in trover it was held ill to ſay a feme covert converted goods to her own uſe; and though this be the caſe of an executrix, who has a particular intereſt in the goods, and may diſpoſe of them as ſhe pleaſes, yet that cannot alter the caſe; becauſe the converſion has quite extinguiſhed that particular intereſt of her's, and can enure only to the benefit of the huſband. 1 Roll. Abr 932. F. 1. ſpeaks of the ſheriffs returning, that the huſband had converted, and he ſays, that in that caſe, the execution ſhall be of the proper goods of the huſband, whereas here it is awarded againſt the goods of them both.

Per curiam. The precedents are the ſame as this in the caſe of a feme executrix. It is ſufficient to ſay, that the wife waſted the goods, without going on to ſpeak of a converſion; and therefore if the expreſſion be not proper, we may reject the converting to his proper uſe. In trover it is eſſential, but here it is not. 1 Roll. Abr. 930 pl. 9. Cro. Car. 519. are, that the judgment on ſuch a return ſhall be the proper goods of both.

Second exception on the writ of error in this court, before errors aſſigned, or diminution alledged, there muſt iſſue a certiorari, by which all the ſeveral proceſſes of execution are brought up and made parcel of the record: whereas the only ground for awarding it can be, to verify or falſify an aſſignment of errors, and therefore it ſhould not have iſſued before.

Per curiam. The court may take notice that the record is imperfect, and award the writ for their own ſatisfaction.

Third exception. In all judgments it muſt appear, that the court has fully conſidered the caſe, and are convinced that the judgment they give is right at the time of pronouncing it; and in Salk. 402. Atwood v. Burr, a judgment on demurrer was held erroneous, for want of the words, becauſe it appears to the court that the plea being inſufficient in law. In the caſe at bar it appears the judgment was affirmed, before the merits of the cauſe had been conſidered, for the record is, becauſe it will appear, in the future tenſe, inſtead of it appears; ſo that becauſe it will appear at a time to come, that the record is right, therefore do they before that time affirm the judgment.

Per curiam. That caſe of Atwood v. Burr was of an inferior court; neither (as Eyre Juſtice ſaid) is the report of it right: indeed that point was mentioned in Mich. 1 Ann, but the cauſe hung till Hil. 4 Ann, when the judgment was reverſed on another point; the clauſe, it appears to the court, is no judgment, Cro. Eliz. 145. and is implied in the therefore in conſideration. There was a caſe in the Exchequer Chamber, where the becauſe it appears was, that the defendant's plea is good, therefore the conſideration is, that the plaintiff have judgment. But the court ſaid, that if it did not appear to be erroneous, they would not traverſe it merely becauſe a wrong reaſon was given for the judgment, therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 440.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Power v. Jones.

The defendant brought a writ of error coram vobis, &c. and aſſigned infancy, and appearance by attorney, for error. The court was moved, that the attorney might be obliged to ſet it right, and Goodright v. Right, and Stratton v. Burgeſs, were cited as caſes in point. But the court ſaid they could not do it in this caſe, becauſe here was no expreſs undertaking to appear, as there was in thoſe caſes; if there had, the court would oblige the attorney to do it in a proper manner. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 445.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Jeffry v. Wood.

The plaintiff in error aſſigned errors in law, and in fact, and on demurrer for duplicity, the queſtion was, what judgment the court ſhould give; and after conſideration they ordered an entry, that it be affirmed, according to Yelv. 58. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 439.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Everett v. Gery.

On the return of the ſecond ſcire facias againſt bail, a four day rule was given, and on the fourth day the principal brings error, and thereon the court was moved to ſtay proceedings againſt the bail, pending the writ of error, and the caſes Myer v. Arthur, and Church v. Throgmorton, in the Houſe of Lords, were cited, where the Houſe threatened to commit the attorney, for proceeding againſt the bail pending error in parliament.

As to the firſt caſe, the court ſaid, it differed, for there the bail came in time, while they might ſurrender the principal, which they cannot do here, after the return of the ſecond ſcire facias, at which time no writ of error was brought, and as to the caſe in the Houſe of Lords, it was there agreed, that the court below could not reſtrain them; but the Lords ſaid they expected more reſpect.

Per curiam. We can make no rule. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 443.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Mayo v. Parſons.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 257 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Gardner v. Claxton.

The court was moved to ſet aſide an execution taken out on a judgment in a ſcire facias quare executio non, becauſe they had aſſigned their errors before; and the matter being referred to the maſter, he reported an old rule of court, that if the party pleads to the ſcire facias, and it goes againſt him, execution may be ſued out; but that the writ of error ſhould iſſue notwithſtanding. Whereon the court in conſideration of the delay, eſtabliſhed it as a ſtanding rule for the future, that if on the return of the ſcire facias, the plaintiff aſſigns his errors, then all farther proceedings ſhall be ſtayed on it; but where he chuſes to ſtand out on pleading to the ſcire facias, execution ſhall go if it be adjudged againſt him. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 390.

Hilary, 8 Geo. The King v. The Dean and Chapter of Trinity Chapel, Durham.

The dean and chapter, &c. denying the archdeacon of, &c. his ſeat therein, and his voice in the chapter, he brought a mandamus in the K. B. in Ireland, directed to them, ſuggeſting that his predeceſſors time out of mind had enjoyed the ſaid liberty, and that the franchiſes and liberties of their corporate body was confirmed by letters patent of H. 8. &c.

The return made by the dean and chapter being adjudged inſufficient in the ſaid court in Ireland, they granted a peremptory mandamus, and then the dean and chapter brought a writ of error in this court.

The principal point in queſtion was, whether a writ of error would lie on a peremptory mandamus.

Per curiam. We are of opinion that the right of any perſon is not to be determined on a mandamus, it gives a remedy where there is a ſeeming probability for it, and it ſettles people in their poſſeſſions, ſo that they may be able to defend their right, or by virtue thereof to bring any action for things incident to the poſſeſſion; and if a writ of error would lie in ſuch caſes, it would entangle all the public acts of annual officers in moſt corporations and pariſhes.

It is againſt the nature of a writ of error to lye on any judgment, but in cauſes where an iſſue may be joined and tried, or where judgment may be had on a demurrer, and joined in demurrer, and therefore it would not lie on a judgment for a procedendo, nor on the return of an habeas corpus.

It is true, if the defendant in error had traverſed the return of the dean and chapter to this mandamus, as by ſtat. 9 Ann he might, in ſuch caſe the writ of error would have been good, becauſe then a final judgment might be given; for on the traverſe of the facts in the return, the other ſide may take iſſue or demur; and ſuch proceedings might be had, as if the proſecutor of the mandamus had brought an action on the caſe for a falſe return; and if he had a verdict on judgment on a demurrer, he ſhall recover his damages and coſts, on which judgmeent a writ of error would lie on a peremptory mandamus: and therefore it was reſolved by the whole court it would not now lie.

Afterward a writ of error was brought on this judgment in the Houſe of Peers: and the Lord Chief Baron, who attended there, together with ſeven other judges, acquainted the Lords in parliament, that all the judges in England were of opinion that a writ of error would not lie; and thereon the judgment of this court was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 27. 183.

Eaſter, 8 Geo. Lawrence v. Jacob.

On a writ of error brought in this court on a judgment in the C. B. the caſe was: the plaintiff who was executor of a ſecond indorſee of a promiſory note, brought an action againſt the indorſor for default of payment by him, and after a demurrer to the declaration, and judgment for the plaintiff in the C. B. and a writ of error in this court, the error aſſigned was, that the plaintiff in his declaration did not ſet forth, that the drawer had notice of the indorſement, nor any demand or default alledged in the drawer; but not allowed, it being the conſtant form, and this conſidered only as a matter of evidence; judgment was affirmed, on the authority of the caſe, and on the reaſon of the thing; for the defendant by his demurrer admits, that in conſideration of the premiſes, viz. the defendants making the indorſable note, and the indorſing it to the plaintiff, the defendant aſſumed to pay the money, according to the tenor of the note. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 43.

Trinity, 8 Geo. Noke v. Coldecot.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the court held, that if there be a warrant of attorney of any term pending the ſuit, it is enough to warrant the proceedings, and there is no neceſſity it ſhould be of the term in the placita. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 526.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Pitt v. Coney.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 182 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Stratford v. Neal.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given in the court of K. B. in Ireland; the caſe was thus:

One Neal libelled in the ſpiritual court there, for two-third parts of the tithes due to him for dry cattle fed in ſuch a pariſh, &c. The defendant ſuggeſted for a prohibition, that the cattle for which theſe tithes were demanded were beaſts of plough, and other dry cattle fed in the ſaid pariſh with hay and ſtubbles of corn, for which tithes had already been paid; whereon a prohibition was granted; and that the right might come in queſtion, the ſaid Stratford was ordered to declare on the prohibition, which he did, and in the ſame manner as before he had ſuggeſted, and concluded his declaration, that the defendant had proceeded in the ſpiritual court after a prohibition delivered, &c. and againſt the prohibition, &c.

The defendant pleaded, that the cattle for which he had demanded the ſaid tithes were not ſuch as the plaintiff had ſet forth in his declaration, nor fed with ſuch hay and ſtubbles, for which tithes had already been paid; and then pleaded, that he had a right to two integral parts of the tithes of all dry cattle fed in that pariſh, and that he had now proceeded againſt the form of the prohibition, &c.

On this they were at iſſue, and the defendant had a verdict, and judgment for a conſultation, which was awarded; on which judgment, the now plaintiff brought a writ of error; and it was inſiſted for him, that there was a variance in the pleadings, and that the verdict would not ſupport this judgment.

1ſt. As to the variance in the pleadings, &c. the plaintiff in the ſpiritual court had by his libel demanded two-third parts of the tithes due to him for dry cattle, &c. and being defendant in the action, he claimed a right to two integral parts of the tithes, &c. ſo that his plea varies from his libel, and therefore a conſultation ſhould not be awarded, becauſe that gives him a power to ſue for any thing not in the libel; therefore he has made no ſufficient title.

2dly. As to the verdict, it was objected, that the jury found that the cattle for which the ſaid tithes were demanded were not fed with hay and ſtubbles for which tithes had already been paid, but they did not find that there were any proceedings in the ſpiritual court after a prohibition delivered; and therefore it was inſiſted for the plaintiff in this action, that if all the iſſues are not found, this judgment cannot be ſupported, and it is part of this iſſue that the defendant had proceeded in the ſpiritual court after a prohibition delivered; and if this had been found, then the plaintiff would have been intitled to damages.

Per curiam. We are of opinion, that the awarding a conſultation is no more than ſetting aſide the prohibition, and giving the plaintiff in the ſpiritual court liberty to proceed on his libel; and that the variance between his libel and his plea is not material; for though in the one two-third parts are demanded, and in the other two integral parts, yet that muſt be underſtood according to the ſubject of the matter.

As to the other objection againſt the verdict, it is true, where ſeveral iſſues are joined, a verdict, which finds one and not the other, is not good; but in this caſe, the not finding any proceedings in the ſpiritual court againſt the former prohibition is but matter of form, however, this verdict hath found all the material parts in iſſue, and therefore it is ſufficient to ſupport this judgment.

Beſides, if the plaintiff would have any advantage by the defendant's proceeding after a prohibition, this being matter of evidence, he (the plaintiff) ſhould have proved it on the trial, and inſiſted on his damages, which he has not done; therefore the judgment was affirmed by the whole court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. page 2.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. The King v. The Archbiſhop of Armagh and Jackſon.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the K. B. in Ireland:

The great queſtion was, whether ſince the one advowſon belongs to the crown, there can be any union by virtue of the act, i. e. whether the King is bound by the general words of ſtat. 17 Car. 2.? The ſecond point was, whether any union could be made when one of the churches was vacant?

Per curiam. We are of opinion that this ſtatute never intended any union ſhould be made of two churches after an avoidance in one, for by the common law (by which this act muſt be conſtrued) there could be no union but by the conſent of both patrons; neither could it be made in immediately but by the conſent of both the incumbents, though the patrons did agree to unite, though it might be made in future without the conſent of the incumbents.

Therefore it would be very hard to conſtrue this ſtatute ſo as to make an union good, where both the churches are not full at the time the union was made; for it is not ſo by the cannon law in caſes of preſentation and conſolidation, and it is that law which ſhould direct in this caſe.

It is clear, that the King cannot be deveſted of any of his prerogatives by general words in an act of parliament, but that there muſt be plain and expreſs words for that purpoſe, though all his other rights are no more favoured in law than the rights of his ſubjects; and it is likewiſe clear, that general words in an act of parliament may be qualified by ſubſequent ſentences or clauſes in the ſame ſtatute; but certainly it was never the intent of the legiſlature by this act to work a wrong to any patron; but if this union ſhould be good, it would diveſt the King of that right which was already veſted in him to preſent to this vicarage; and ſuch a conſtruction of the ſtatute would be a damage not only to the crown, but it may happen ſo to be to ſeveral other patrons.

Beſides, in this caſe there being two benefices united after an avoidance in one, it is plain that the Archbiſhop made the union for his own benefit, which is againſt a principle in law.

As to the plenarty which the defendant pleaded to this writ of quare impedit, the whole court agreed that it was not a good plea in bar to the King's right, and that was the principal reaſon why the court of K. B. in Ireland gave judgment for the King.

And for the reaſons before mentioned, the whole court agreed, that the judgment in Ireland ſhould be affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 6.

Hilary, 9 Geo. Alcock v. Carter.

The court was moved to ſet aſide ſo much of the aſſignment of errors in a cauſe out of Ireland as related to the want of a warrant of attorney; which was oppoſed by the defendant in error's council, who produced an affidavit ſworn before one of the judges in Ireland, with a certificate from the proper officer, that there was no warrant filed; and alſo an affidavit of the agent here, that he received both from Ireland, and believed them to be authentick; and inſiſted that it now appearing they were not ſham errors aſſigned merely for delay, the reaſon, on which the common motion is made, failed.

Per curiam. This is ſufficient to ſatisfy us that there is ſome foundation for our ſending a certiorari, and therefore the errors muſt ſtand; the defendant in error's council moved for time till the next term to return a certiorari, which was granted accordingly. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 545.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. The King v. Earbery.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 179 of this work, under the head Bail.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. Waller's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 168 of this work, under the head Bail.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Belt v. Collins.

A writ of error coram vobis, &c. was brought on a judgment given in this court, and the queſtion was, whether it was a ſuperſedeas before it was allowed by the court.

The Chief Juſtice and two other judges were of opinion, that it would be hard, that the execution of a judgment in this court ſhould be delayed by a writ of error, allowed by a ſecondary; for if that ſhould be ſo, then any man may avoid execution for a whole vacation, at the expence of no more than one ſhilling.

There is certainly ſome variance between a writ of error coram vobis, &c. and other writs of error, for the one is directed to the juſtices of this court, and therefore ſhould be allowed by the court; but the other is directed to the Chief Juſtice only.

But Eyre, Juſtice, was of another opinion; he cited the caſe of Lowns v. Carter in Chief Juſtice Holt's time, where a writ of error was adjudged a ſuperſedeas before it was allowed.

It is true, there is a difference between this caſe and other writs of error; but the reaſon is plain, for where writs of error are brought in the Exchequer Chamber, or in the Houſe of Peers to reverſe the judgment of this court, they are all directed to the Chief Juſtice alone, becauſe he is to certify the record; but where a writ of error coram vobis, &c. is brought, there is no record certified.

Beſides, there never was a motion in a court of law, to allow a writ of error, becauſe it is a writ of right, and due to the ſubject of right.

But admitting this writ is no ſuperſedeas before the allowance, yet it is a good ſuperſedeas after it is allowed, as this was by the ſecondary, and before notice; and ſo it was adjudged in the caſe of Smith v. Cave, in which caſe an execution executed was ſet aſide; but the want of notice excuſed the contempt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 147.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Colebrook v. Diggs.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 182 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Hawker v. Hinton.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the error aſſigned was, a variance between the original and the declaration, the one being Jemiman and the other Jememan Force.

On the other ſide it was ſaid, that the record was right; and on producing, it was, but it was of another number roll.

Then it was objected, that the original was anno, 7 Geo. and the declaration was anno 9, and no continuances entered between the one and the other.

To which it was anſwered, that the continuances might be entered at any time, and that when entered, the plaintiff is intitled to his judgment.

The court was of opinion, that the attorney ought to be puniſhed for making up a ſecond record, but that the plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 243.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Chriſty v. The Bail of Anſtruther.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 168 of this work, under the head Bail.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Wilkinſon v. Meyer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 68 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Gravenor v. Salter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 396 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Trinity 10 & Eaſter 11 Geo. Martin v. Budgell.

This was a motion for leave to file a bill to warrant the proceedings in this court after a writ of error brought in parliament, and the want of a bill aſſigned for error; and on a certiorari directed to the Chief Juſtice, he certified to the Houſe of Lords that there was no bill filed in Hilary term; therefore it was now moved to file a bill as of another term; and a rule was made to move the Houſe of Lords for another certiorari; and the houſe ordered, that the plaintiff ſhould have leave to bring another certiorari to certify a bill filed of another term; and now the court was moved that the plaintiff might have leave to file a bill as of another term, viz. as of Michaelmas term, and to enter continuances to warrant the proceedings; the like having been done in the caſe of Walmſey v. Cerer, where in the C. B. the memorandum was allowed to be amended, and ſet right by the bill, it being to affirm the judgment of this court, which had been affirmed on a writ of error in the Exchequer Chamber.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. I ſee no difference between giving leave to file this bill, and granting an amendment after a writ of error.

Forteſcue, Juſtice. It is expreſsly reſolved, 8 Co.— that what is amendable at common law is amendable at any time. This is the ſame as the caſe of Winchworth v. Clarke, Trinity, Geo. in this court, where continuances were permitted to be entered to the bill of Middleſex after a writ of error was brought. I have often heard it ſaid, that a bill of Middleſex may be filed at any time. Calvert v. Caſtilian.

Reynolds, Juſtice. No writ of error will be ever brought if after an aſſignment of it for error, it may be aided by filing a bill.

Per curiam. It cannot be filed but by motion in court; and on conſidering the circumſtances of the caſe, as here appears to have been the moſt affected delay, the bill may be filed of a term precedent, with continuances, ſo as to agree with the memorandum. But the court took further conſideration of the matter. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 284. 368.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Anonymous.

The plaintiff brought an action in C. B. and laid four counts in his declaration; the defendant demurred to one of them, and the plaintiff joined in demurrer, and had judgment, and then he entered a nolle proſequi as to the other three, but without any miſericordia; which the defendant believing to be erroneous, brought a writ of error in this court and aſſigned this matter, there being a precedent in Coke's Entries, that it is erroneous.

Per curiam. If the entry of a miſericordia had been neceſſary at common law, there is no ſtat. of jeofails which cures the want of ſuch entry; for thoſe ſtatutes extend to judgments entered by confeſſion, nil dicit, or non ſum informatus, but the principal judgment is neither of theſe, for it is a judgment on a demurrer joined.

Now at common law there was no entering a miſericordia in ſuch caſes, becauſe ſuch entry is only for a falſe claim, and here is no colour of any falſe complaint, becauſe the plaintiff ſays, he will not further proſecute; and as for that caſe in the Lord Coke's Entries, many of them have been condemned, therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 198.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Moorfoot v. Chivers.

On a motion to ſet aſide an execution, the caſe was, that a writ of error was allowed about two of the clock in the afternoon, and about the ſame time the execution was ſerved; now it was inſiſted, that from the time of the allowing the writ of error, the hands of the court are tied up, and if ſo, the execution is irregular, and ought to be ſet aſide.

All which was admitted on the other ſide, if notice had been given of the allowance of the writ of error before the ſerving the execution, otherwiſe it is regular; but here the plaintiff in the writ of error did not give the defendant any notice, that it was allowed.

The court was of opinion, that if the plaintiff in error could ſhew, that the writ was ſued out, and allowed before the execution was ſerved, it muſt be ſet aſide, though the defendant had not any notice of it. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 373. Strange, vol. 1. p. 631.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Turner v. Moſſe.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action on the caſe; the error aſſigned was, for that there being but one defendant, the plaintiff had declared, for that to wit, that whereas ipſi idem, i. e. they the ſame, the defendant, &c. inſtead of ipſe idem, i. e. he the ſame, &c.

Per curiam. The word ipſi is but ſurpluſage; and if it had been left out, the declaration would have been good without it; therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 377.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Iles v. Pitt.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment given in the C. B. by default; and one of the errors aſſigned, was the want of a writ of inquiry of damages; and on a certiorari taken out by the plaintiff in error, to verify his error, it was certified, that there was no writ of inquiry.

Per curiam. The judgment muſt be affirmed, becauſe the want of a judicial writ is helped by 18 Eliz. c. 14. after a verdict; and by 4 Ann. cap. 16. for the amendment of the law, &c. all the ſtatutes of jeofails are extended to judgments given on default. And afterwards in Michaelmas term. 4 Geo. 2. in the caſe of Mallory v. Jennings. Accordingly by Raymond, Chief Juſtice, Proby and Lee, Juſtices, the judgment of the C. B. was affirmed. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1397.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Ginger v. Cowper, or Cowper v. Ginger.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 8 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Wyvil v. Stapleton.

On an action brought in the C. B. on a South Sea contract, the defendant had judgment, and on a writ of error brought in this court, judgment was reverſed, and the judgment was that the plaintiff in error ſhould recover his debt and coſts, as he ſhould below.

The court was moved, that the plaintiff in the original action might recover his coſts thereof; but it was objected, no coſts were recoverable at the common law on a writ of error, and that neither ſtat. 3 H. 7. c. 10. nor ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. extend to writs of errors, where judgment is reverſed; only when judgment is affirmed, or a writ of error diſcontinued, there is no precedent for coſts on the reverſal of a judgment.

This court are to give the ſame judgment as the C. B. ought to have done; and how could they adjudge coſts for the writ of error. Holt, Chief Juſtice, called a writ of error a revivor of the cauſe, and removal thereof. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 315.

See this caſe more fully ſtated in page 16 of this work, under the head Accord.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Hunſton v. Howard.

The plaintiff had judgment in the court of C. B. which was now above ten years ſtanding, when the defendant brought a writ of error in this court, and aſſigned the want of an original for error; and now the defendant in error pleaded no error, and the want of an original being not yet certified, he moved to put it off till next term, that he might in the mean time procure an original to be filed, this being a contrivance of his own attorney to defraud him.

Per curiam. This motion ſhould have been made before the cauſe was put in the paper; but it having the countenance of fraud, it was ruled to go over on payment of the coſts of the day. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 327.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Lambell v. Pretty John.

A judgment was given in this court in an action of treſpaſs, and on a writ of error being brought in the Exchequer Chamber, the judgment was affirmed. The defendant then brought a writ of error coram vobis, &c. in this court, which the plaintiff's council moved to quaſh, and cited 1 Vent. 207. 2 Lev. 38. 3 Keb. 28, 29. that it will not lie after an affirmance.

On the other ſide it was inſiſted, that the record was never removed from this court, and that an action of debt will lie on it.

Per curiam. Before the ſtatute of Elizabeth we could not examine our own errors in fact after an affirmance in parliament: and the Exchequer Chamber is now in the ſame degree with regard to us as the parliament was before: therefore the writ of error muſt be quaſhed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 690.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Helbut v. Held.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. it was aſſigned for error, that E. R. who was ſworn as a juror returned on the principal panel, was never returned by the ſheriff; And alſo that there was a diminution in the record for want of the venire facias, and habeas corpus, and to this in no error was pleaded.

Per curiam. The caſe 1 Roll. Abr. 758. pl. 8. is exactly in point, and according to the reaſon of the law in other caſes: therefore the judgment muſt be affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 684. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1414.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Parker v. Stanton.

To a ſci. fac. ſued out by the defendant in error, quare executio non, &c. in order to compel the plaintiff in error to aſſign his errors, the plaintiff in error pleaded, that the defendant in error had ſued execution in the C. B. and levied his debt recovered. And on motion, this plea was ſet aſide as a ſham plea, (as a plea of payment in the like caſe was ſet aſide in Hilary 10 Geo.) for the meaning of ſuing out this writ is only to compel the plaintiff in error to aſſign his errors; and if ſuch pleading as this ſhould be encouraged, ed, it would occaſion great delay, and vexation in the recovery of debts. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1414.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. Eden v. Wills.

An action was commenced in C. B. by a writ of privilege, which was returnable at a day certain: after judgment for the plaintiff, a writ of error was brought, and a ſcire facias quare executio non, was taken out, returnable at a general return. And on motion to ſet it aſide, the matter was ſtirred ſeveral times. And after conſideration and ſearch of precedents, the ſcire facias was ſet aſide, for that it ought to purſue the nature of the firſt proceſs; and whereas, as in the common caſe of actions by original in C. B. the proceſs on error in this court muſt purſue that, and be returnable at a general return; ſo where the proceeding below is by attachment of privilege, which is returnable at a day certain, the proceedings here muſt be returnable in the ſame manner. And a caſe was cited of Vavaſor v. Parker, Trinity 11 Ann, where it was ſo ruled. Theſ. Bre. 121. The writ was quaſhed, but without coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 694.

Trinity, 13 Geo. Merryfield v. Berry.

The plaintiff in error took out a certiorari of a wrong term, which did not verify his error; and now he moved for a ſecond certiorari, which was denied; the court ſaying it may be granted to affirm, but not to reverſe a judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 765.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 2. Freſcobaldi v. Kinaſton.

A writ of error was brought by two executors of a judgment againſt them, to the great damage of both. A ſcire facias was taken out, and ſcire feci returned; and then one of the plaintiffs in error moved for time to aſſign errors till there could be a ſummons and ſeverance of the other, on an affidavit that the other executor was in the intereſt of the defendant in error, and would not join. And time was given accordingly. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 783.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Lewis v. Lewis.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 41 of this work, under the head Actions.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Anonymous.

Per curiam. A writ of error being brought in the Exchequer Chamber of a judgment by original in this court is merely void, and no ſuperſedeas of execution; for the Exchequer Chamber has no juriſdiction: but the writ of error ſhould have been made returnable in parliament. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 67.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. King and Wife v. Jones.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 8 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Bottomley v. Harriſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 355 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Jacob Lopes Henriques and others v. The general privileged Dutch Company, trading to the Weſt Indies.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. the plaintiffs in error's council inſiſted on two errors.

The firſt was, want of warrants of attorney on record, and that on a certiorari directed to the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. he had certified there were no warrants of attorney of Hilary and Eaſter terms in the 11 Geo, but the defendants in error having ſuggeſted, that there were warrants of attorney of Eaſter term, 11 Geo. another certiorari was granted to the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. &c. to which he returned warrants of attorney in this cauſe, both by the plaintiffs and defendants of Eaſter term, 11 Geo. Now the plaintiffs in error's council inſiſted, that thoſe were not good warrants, becauſe they were warrants of Eaſter term, whereas the ſci. fa. was returnable in eight days of the purification in Hilary term, at which day the plaintiff below came by his attorney, but the warrant returned being a warrant of Eaſter term following, could not be a warrant to appear the Hilary term before. To which it was anſwered by the defendants in error's council, that a warrant of attorney might have been entered at any time before judgment. 41 Ed. 3. 1. b. 1 Roll. Abr. tit. Attorney. 1. But by ſtat. 32 H. 8. cap. 30. par. 2. attornies are to enter their warrants of record of the ſame term the iſſue is entered on record, and by ſtat. 18 Eliz. cap. 14. attornies are to deliver in their warrants to be entered or filed on record, in ſuch manner and form as theretofore by the laws or ſtatutes they ought to have done. And ſtat. 4 Ann. c. 16. gives no direction when the warrants of attorney are to be filed; but only ſays, ſo that there be warrants of attorney duly filed, according to the law as is now uſed; and in the preſent caſe the warrant of attorney is entered of the ſame term the placita is of, Eaſter term, 11 Geo. And he cited a caſe adjudged in this court, Trinity, 8 Geo. between Noke v. Caldicot; where in error on a judgment in C. B. want of a warrant of attorney was aſſigned for error, and a warrant was returned on a certiorari directed to the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. of a term ſubſequent to the placita; and it was held to be no error. And the court were unanimouſly of opinion, that this was no error in the preſent caſe, for the reaſons given by the defendants in error's council.

The other error aſſigned was, that by ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 10. par. 3. coſts of ſuit are only given to the plaintiffs on a ſci. fac. if he obtains judgment or an award of execution againſt the defendant after plea pleaded, or demurrer joined: but in this caſe the court of C. B. have given judgment, that the plaintiff ſhall recover againſt the defendant 6 l. 10 s. for damages and coſts occaſioned by the delay of execution, &c. whereas they have no power to give damages for the delay of execution.

The court were all of opinion, that the judgment as to the 6 l. 10 s. for damages and coſts, &c. was erroneous, and therefore they reverſed the judgment as to that, and affirmed the judgment as to the adjudication of execution, and awarded execution againſt the ſeveral plaintiffs in error, only for the ſums in the recognizance.

Afterwards, the plaintiffs in error brought a writ of error in parliament on this judgment, where the judgment of this court was affirmed, and the plaintiffs in error ordered to pay 100 l. coſts. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1532.

Trinity, 2 Geo. 2. Canning v. Wright.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 70 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Bowers v. Mann.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 258 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Hilary, 3 Geo. 2. Sir John Forteſcue Aland v. Maſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 70 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. Worral v. Bent and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 397 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. Rutter v. Redſtone.

After error brought in the Exchequer Chamber, the tranſcript was brought back and amended in this court, by the original record. And it was held neceſſary to make the amendment here, as this differs from the caſe of a writ of error from C. B. becauſe the C. B. ſends up the very record, and the King's Bench ſends only a tranſcript. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 837.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 2. Higgs v. Evans.

The court was moved to quaſh the writ of error becauſe it appeared there was twenty-nine years between the judgment and bringing the writ, whereas the party is reſtrained to twenty years.

Per curiam. So he is, but this will be to deprive him of the benefit of replying to the exceptions in the ſtatute; therefore the motion was denied. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 837.

Hilary, 4 G. 2. The Sword Blade Company v. Dempſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 71 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Gardner v. Merrott.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 71 of this work, under the head Amendment.

Eaſter, 4 G 2. Moore v. Goodright.

On a writ of error coram vobis, it was aſſigned for error, that the plaintiff in the ejectment died before the day of niſi prius. And it being in ejectment, the court ſet it aſide, and ordered the attorney to ſhew cauſe why there ſhould not be an attachment againſt him; for they ſaid it was to defeat the proceedings inſtituted by the court to try the right; and every body knows that the plaintiff is but nominal, or if a real perſon, yet his releaſe is a contempt. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 899.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. Buller v. Luſitano de Pinna.

A writ of error was brought by a feme ſole, which abated by her marriage, and then ſhe and her huſband bring a ſecond; and the court gave leave to take out execution, it being a delay occaſioned by the act of the plaintiff in error. 1 Mod. 285. 1 Vent. 100. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 880.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. 2. Sweetapple v. Goodfellow.

After notice of a writ of error, the plaintiff in the original action took out a capias againſt the defendant, which was returned non eſt inventus, i. e. is not to be found, and ſo proceed by ſcire facias againſt the bail; hereon it was moved to ſet aſide the proceedings againſt the bail: the plaintiff's council urged, that though the proceedings are irregular as to the principal, yet they are right as to the bail.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he believed there was a reſolution 4 Ann, that after notice of a writ of error, the plaintiff might ſue a capias againſt the principal, in order to charge the bail, which he thought againſt reaſon: if the plaintiff directs the ſheriff to return his capias non eſt inventus, he cannot bring an action againſt him for a falſe return, though he had been in the company of the defendant before the return made: in this caſe the proceedings againſt the bail was laid aſide. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 175.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. 2. Lampen v. Hatch.

In an action on the caſe for words, the jury on the writ of inquiry gave 10 s. damages, the coſts were taxed at 13 l. and a judgment given to recover them. On error it was objected, that by ſtat. 21 Jac. 1. c. 16. ſect. 6. if the jury that inquire of the damages find under 40 s. there ſhall be no more coſts: and it was therefore prayed to be reverſed as to the coſts.

For the plaintiff in the action it was inſiſted, on account of the ſmallneſs of the damages, that the judgment ſhould be reverſed in toto, it being a joint judgment, and not like the caſes where no coſts can be given, and there is a diſtinct judgment. And the court without any difficulty reverſed the judgment in toto. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 934.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Berkley v. Howard.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment by default, the plaintiff in error aſſigned the want of an original, and warrants of attorney. And the defendant, without putting him to the expence of returning a certiorari, pleaded no error. And on argument the plaintiff inſiſted, that it was a confeſſion of the errors; and it was agreed ſo to be. But on application to the court, and affidavit, there was an original and warrants of attorney, the court awarded certiorari's, it being in order to affirm a judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 907.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. Marſhall v. Cope.

The rule to aſſign errors was ſet aſide, becauſe given before any rule on the ſcire facias executio non. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 917.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 2. Horne v. Buſhell.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment in the Marſhalſea Court, and error in law aſſigned, and the judgment affirmed: then a writ of error coram vobis, which the court ſaid could not be allowed without leave, and therefore held it no ſuperſedeas. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 949.

Trinity, 6 Geo. 2. Duckett v. Martin.

Pending error to reverſe an outlawry on meſne proceſs, the defendant in error moved to quaſh the writ, becauſe no bail was given.

Per curiam. That is never done till the outlawry is reverſed, and then we take bail to appear to an original to be brought within two terms: and ſo it was done in this caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 951.

Hilary, 7 Geo. 2. Deſbordes v. Horſey.

The condition of a bond was for the payment of 500 l. at ſuch a day, being the ſame ſum mentioned in certain indentures of ſuch a date. And error being brought, the plaintiff in error would have been excuſed from giving bail, becauſe the words of ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. c. 8. are, bonds for payment of money only, whereas this was rather a bond for performance of covenants. But the court held that it ought to be given; for the material part of the condition was the payment of 500 l. and the other words were only added; they were no diſtinct debts, but only different ſecurities for the ſame. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 959.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. 2. Burleigh v. Harris.

A judgment was recovered in the Marſhalſea Court, and a writ of error being brought here, error in law was aſſigned, and the judgment affirmed: then a writ of error coram vobis was brought, and error in fact aſſigned; and the court ſtaid proceedings on it, and gave leave to take out execution. For as error in fact and law cannot be both aſſigned on one writ, there is no reaſon to do it by a more dilatory method: and it is like the caſe of Lambell v. Prettyjohn, where it was held that error coram vobis would not lie after affirmance in the Exchequer Chamber; beſides, it would be very odd, that the ſame court ſhould affirm and reverſe. And as to the caſe in Salk. 337. where it is reported to lie after affirmance, is not warranted by the record which is entered. Hilary, 3 & 4 Jac. 2. rol. 420. by which it appears the writ of error abated, and there was no affirmance; which is agreeable to 1 Roll. Abr. 753. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 975.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. Horton v. Kilmore.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 44 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Ratcliff v. Burton.

Judgment was given in the C. B. againſt Ratcliff the now plaintiff in error, and another defendant; on which judgment, Ratcliff alone brought a writ of error.

The defendant in error's council moved to quaſh the writ of error; for that as the judgment was againſt two, this writ of error cannot be brought by one of them only; and for that he cited the caſe of Brewſter v. Turner, Stra. 233. Michaelmas 6 Geo. 1. and Cooper v. Ginger. Stra. 606. 8 Mod. 305. 2 Raym. 1403. Michaelmas 11 Geo. 1.

On the other ſide it was argued, that the writ of error was amendable under ſtat. 5 Geo. c. 13. which ſays, that all writs of error wherein there ſhall be any variance from the original record, or other defect, may and ſhall be amended, and made agreeable to ſuch record, by the reſpective courts where ſuch writs of error ſhall be returnable. Or however, the record being removed here, ſhall remain here, and we may have a writ of error coram vobis, &c. Yelv. 6. Lord Cromwell v. Andrews. Godbolt 375. Dean and Chapter of Carliſle, and 1 Roll. Abr. 753. So likewiſe the caſe cited, and the caſe of Cooper v. Ginger, are exactly in point.

Lord Hardwicke. It cannot be doubted but this writ of error muſt be quaſhed; and I am not at all ſatisfied that by ſtat. 5 Geo. 1. we can amend it; the way is, if one defendant will not proſecute a writ of error, for the other to proceed by ſummons and ſeverance, I ſhould think that as the act ſays, not only variance from the record, but other defects, may be amended; we might on thoſe words amend any defect in form; but the fault in this caſe is ſubſtance; for it is want of parties. The party who brings a writ of error has a right to a ſcire facias to hear errors; and how can we at the ſingle inſtance of one of the defendants bring a party into the cauſe?

Page, Juſtice. Suppoſe we ſhould think fit to reverſe this judgment, can we reverſe it in favour of a party that is not before the court?

Probyn, Juſtice. If you can bring the other defendant to be joined in this writ of error, why it may ſubject him to a penalty of coſts, though he is now fully ſatisfied what is the judgment below.

Lee, Juſtice. This would be to force a man to join a ſuit nolens volens.

Per curiam. The writ of error muſt be quaſhed, and by ſtat. 4 & 5 Ann, c. 16. for amendment, it muſt be with coſts for the defendant in error. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 135.

Hilary, 9 Geo. 2. Collins v. Muxworthy.

On a writ of error, directed to the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the city of Bath, whereas the ſtile of the court, as appears by the record returned, is the Mayor, &c. juſtices of the city of Bath.

The court was moved on ſtat. 5 Geo. 1. c. 13. that the writ might be amended by the record, and a rule had to ſhew cauſe, and nobody appearing at the day, the rule was made abſolute. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 194.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Franklyn v. Reeve.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in an action of treſpaſs, where, after the recital of the writ, the plantiff counted for taking and carrying away ſeveral loads of dung and ſoil, without ſaying the property of him the ſaid plaintiff. And after a verdict, that was objected, and held that this was ſuch a defect of title in the count as could not be aided by the verdict; which aids not a defective title, but only a title defectively ſet forth.

But though the count was held ill,' yet the court thought it might be made good by the recital of the writ, which had ſhewn them to be the dung and ſoil of the plaintiff, and was to be taken as part of the declaration, according to the caſes in Cro. Jac. 536. 1 Sid. 150. 187. 1 Keb. 699. 727. Lutw. 1509. 1 Mod. 219. And though it was agreed there was no original, (which otherwiſe they would have ſent for up by certiorari) yet as the want of that was aided by the verdict, the judgment ſhould be affirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1023.

Hilary, 10 Geo. 2. Goodright v. Hugeſon.

The plaintiff in error's council moved to ſet aſide a ſcire facias quare executio non teſted the laſt day of laſt term, and returnable the firſt day of this term, becauſe there was no tranſcript of the record below yet returned, and therefore there could be no ground for the ſuggeſtion of the writ, which is that judgment was given below as by inſpection of the record which we have cauſed to be brought before us, appears on record; and he cited a caſe, viz. Eden v. Wills, Hilary 12 Geo. where ſuch a ſcire facias was ſet aſide for the ſame reaſon.

Lord Hardwicke. The practice is, that if the plaintiff in error is dilatory, the defendant muſt give a rule to tranſcribe, and then, if he will not, the defendant may non pros the writ of error.

The court inclined the ſcire facias was not maintainable, but made no rule to ſhew cauſe, becauſe the defendant in error, rather than be delayed, conſented it ſhould be ſet aſide. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 351.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Blackwood v. The South Sea Company.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the C. B. which was directed as uſual to Sir R. Eyre, Chief Juſtice, and was returned as uſual likewiſe, viz. the anſwer of Sir R. Eyre, Chief Juſtice, within named; but the return not ſigned with the Chief Juſtice's hand, as the practice is always to do; and objected, that this was not a return, and therefore the proceedings were not regularly before the court. On this objection the court took a day to conſider, and then the ſenſe of the court was given.

Lord Hardwicke. If this be conſidered as an objection taken on the record, we have formerly determined, that there is no ground for ſuch an exception, for that there is no law requires ſuch a ſigning. There was no need for any name to appear in a return till the ſtatute of York, ſect. 12 E. c. 2. ſect. 5. but that ſtatute does not require that the ſheriff ſhould ſign it, but only that his name ſhould be put with the return, ſo that the court may know of whom they took ſuch return, if need be; and therefore, as the cauſe now ſtands in the paper, this judgment muſt be affirmed. But to put an end to objections of this ſort, we are of opinion that it is no objection in this court; though we are informed the court of C. B. require it ſhould be done, but that it is only a matter of irregularity in that court, with which we have no more to do than we ſhould have with any irregularity in obtaining a judgment there, when returned here to us on record by writ of error; and as we can take no notice of that, ſo here the fact of the return is a matter intirely under the conſideration of the court below; but as this matter ſtands now before us, it is a return in the name of the C. B. and the record is properly before us: therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 344.

Mihcaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Street v. Hopkinſon.

A writ of error was brought, and errors aſſigned, as well in the rendering judgment againſt the teſtator, as in the adjudication of execution againſt the executors. As to the principal judgment, the defendant in error pleaded the ſtatute of limitations, and prayed that the judgment be affirmed. As to the award of execution, no error was pleaded. And that appeared to be in a ſcire facias againſt two executors, one of whom pleaded not at any time executor, and the other pleaded payment by the teſtator: and on this plea there was a verdict againſt it, but no verdict as to the other, and then followed the award of execution.

As to the principal judgment, the only doubt was, whether, as the defendant in error had concluded with a prayer that the judgment be affirmed, the court could give the proper judgment, which was, that the plaintiffs be barred of their writ of error. But the court held they were not bound by the prayer of an improper judgment, and therefore pronounced the rule, that the plaintiff in error ſhould be barred.

And as to the award of execution, they were of opinion it was wrong, and that not being in the ſame court, they could not award a venire facias de novo; and this being a diſtinct judgment, might be reverſed without affecting the other: and it was reverſed accordingly. The caſes cited on the firſt point were, Show 30. Carth. 369, 370. Lutw. 1386. 3 Lev. 58. And on the ſecond point, 1 Roll. Abr. 803. 1 Inſt. 127. 3 Salk. 372. Cattle v. Andrews, Hilary 5 W. & M. rot. 826. in this court. Cumb. 259. Salk. 4. 363. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1055. Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 345.

Hilary, 12 Geo. 2. Dent v. Lingood.

The defendant in error pleaded a releaſe of errors, which was found for him; and the court ordered the entry to be, that the plaintiff ſhould be barred of his writ of error, not quod affirmetur. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 683.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. 2. The King v. The Inhabitants of All Saints in Derby, and Others.

A writ of error was brought on a judgment by the commiſſioners of oyer and terminer for Derby, on an indictment for not repairing an highway. And the indictment ſet forth, that the inhabitants of ſuch a part of the three pariſhes in Derby as the way lies in are bound to repair. The writ of error was on a judgment on an indictment againſt the inhabitants of the three pariſhes in general, to the great damage of them; and for this variance the writ of error was quaſhed: and Michaelmas, 3 Geo. the caſe of Dawſon et al. v. Lowther was cited, where in treſpaſs againſt four, two were convicted and two acquitted; and a writ of error being brought to the great damage of three, was quaſhed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1110.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. 2. Smith v. Nicholſon.

The plaintiff in order to proceed againſt the bail, took out a capias ad ſatisfaciendum on the third of December, on the fourth a writ of error was allowed, notwithſtanding which, he called for a return of non eſt inventus; and then waiting till the writ of error was at an end, proceeded by ſci. fac. againſt the bail. And now on motion, the whole proceedings were ſet aſide; for the ground of them, viz. the return of non eſt inventus, was obtained after notice of the writ of error, which in its nature, ſtopt all ſort of proceedings, and the ſheriff could not ſo much as look after the defendant, in order to ground ſuch a return. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1186.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. Bertie v. Clutterbuck.

After a judgment of a year's ſtanding, the plaintiff ſued out a ſcire facias, on which he obtained an award of execution; of this only the defendant brought error in the Exchequer Chamber; and it was held, that ſtat. 27 Eliz. c. 8. does not extend to this caſe, and leave was given to take out execution. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1102.

Trinity, 13 Geo. 2. The King v. The Archbiſhop of Armagh and Nathaniel Whaley, Clerk.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 9 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Trinty, 17 Geo. 2. Walmſley v. Roſon.

After judgment for the defendant, the plaintiff brought a writ of error, and aſſigned infancy in the defendant, and appearance by attorney; then took out a ſcire facias to hear errors, and after a ſcire feci returned, entered the default, and on producing the record, the judgment was reverſed on motion, without making it a concilium, or putting it in the paper. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1210.

Michaelmas, 18 Geo. 2. Landon v. Pickering.

On error of a judgment in C. B. of Michaelmas, term, 10 Geo. 2. in debt on a mutuatus, after aſſigning the want of an original, and verifying the ſame, the defendant in error pleaded a releaſe of errors, dated the 13th of November, 10 Geo. 2. with an averment, that there was no other judgment between the parties. And the plaintiff in error craving oyer thereof, it appeared, that the warrant of attorney and releaſe of errors were both in one inſtrument, dated the 13th of November; and therefore on demurrer it was inſiſted, that it could not be applied to the judgment in queſtion, which on the oyer appeared to take its riſe only on the 13th of November, whereas the judgment on record was generally of Michaelmas term, and referred to the firſt day of the term: and there was nothing for the releaſe to operate on when it was given. And Cro. El. 837. 5 Co. 70. b. 28 Allen 71. and Salk. 197, were cited.

Per curiam. The two inſtruments are very conſiſtent, if we take in the legal relation, as we ought to do, in order to give every part of the deed its proper operation; and then it will ſtand as a judgment the 23d of October, and a releaſe after. It would overturn many judgments by confeſſion, if what the plaintiff in error contends for ſhould be allowed: the judgment therefore muſt be, that the plaintiff in error take nothing by his writ. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1215.

Trinity, 19 Geo. 2. Lloyd v. Vaughan.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe a common recovery ſuffered at the grand ſeſſions in Wales 5 Ann; the error aſſigned was, that Jane Lloyd, the tenant in tail, who was vouched as a feme ſole, was then under coverture, and died without iſſue in 1739, whereof the plaintiff, who was the reverſioner, brings the writ of error. The defendant in error pleads a bar by ſtat. 10. W. 3. c. 14. as not being a writ of error brought within twenty years after ſuffering the recovery. To this it was replied, that her title did not accrue till 1739, the time of the death of Jane. And to this there was a demurrer, and joinder in demurrer.

After ſeveral arguments at bar, both on the point of the error, and the ſtatute of limitations, it was this term determined on the latter point, the court ſaying they had no occaſion to go into the other queſtion, being of opinion the writ of error did not lie.

And they grounded their opinion on the ſtatute to quiet poſſeſſions, and to fix one certain period, beyond which fines and recoveries ſhould not be impeached. The words are expreſs, twenty years after the recovery ſuffered, and it has not the words that are in the ſtatute of fines, after the title accrued. And though there is a proviſo for perſons under diſabilities within the twenty years, yet that can only introduce the diſabled perſon, and not one who never was under any diſability. The terminus a quo is the ſuffering the recovery, and if we exceed it, there will be no end; a reverſioner, after an eſtate-tail that ſubſiſts an hundred years, might at this rate reverſe a recovery; whereas theſe reverſioners were never the object of the legiſlature's care. It is enough that he has a chance of the reverſion's falling within twenty years, and then he may have error. They ſaid, they muſt keep to the words, as in 1 Lev. 31. where the courts not being open, was held no anſwer to the ſtatute of limitations, as not being one of the exceptions in it: therefore they gave judgment that the plaintiff ſhould take nothing by his writ of error. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1257.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Taylor on the Demiſe of Atkyns, Eſq; v. Horde, Eſq; &c. and others.

On a writ of error brought in parliament, on a judgment of this court in ejectment, the council were allowed to argue the following point for the judgment of the houſe; because if their Lordſhips ſhould be of the ſame opinion with this court, viz. " That this “ ejectment was barred by the ſtatute of limitations:” on which all the judges were ordered to attend, and the houſe propoſed the following queſtion to them, viz.

Whether ſufficient appears by the ſpecial verdict in this cauſe, to prevent the leſſor of the plaintiff, by force of the ſtatute of limitations of the 21ſt of Jac. 1. from recovering in this ejectment?

On which the Chief Juſtice of the C. B. delivered the opinion of his brethren.

Willes, Chief Juſtice. Sufficient appears by the ſpecial verdict in this cauſe, to prevent the leſſor of the plaintiff, by force of the ſtatute of limitations of the 21ſt of Jac. 1. from recovering in this ejectment. Therefore the judgment of this court was affirmed with 5 l. coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 126.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Capron v. Archer.

Per curiam. It is the allowance of the writ of error, that is the ſuperſedeas to the proceedings. The notice of the writ's being allowed, is only to bring the party in poſſeſſion of the judgment below into contempt, in caſe he ſhould perſiſt in proceeding thereon ſubſequent to ſuch notice. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 340.

Trinity, 30 Geo. 2. Hall and Wife v. Woodcock.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe a common recovery, the error aſſigned was, “ That the vouchee, “ before the rendering of the judgment, died without “ iſſue.” On the ſcire faciaſes previouſly iſſued againſt the demandant in the writ of entry, and againſt the terre-tenants, &c. who were returned to have been ſummoned, &c. and thereon errors aſſigned; L. the demandant comes in and pleads, “ That there is no “ error.” And one of the terre-tenants ſuffered judgment by default; but W. who was alſo one of the terre-tenants, prays oyer of the ſcire facias, and pleads non tenure, and that B. and his wife are the terre-tenants, and prays judgment on the ſcire facias. To this plea there was a demurrer by the plaintiffs in error, and a joinder in demurrer by W. the terre-tenant.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. By the eſtabliſhed method of proceeding, there muſt be a ſcire facias againſt the terre-tenants, otherwiſe indeed it is an irregularity, but no more.

The terre-tenant has nothing to do with the matter, all that he can do, is only what any friend of the court may do, viz. produce a releaſe of errors; but he has nothing to do in intereſt: therefore there ought to be a reſpond. ouſter.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large; but concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let there be a reſpondeas ouſter. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 360.

Trinity, 30 & 31 Geo. 2. Far, Spinſter, v. Denn.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe a judgment in ejectment, the plaintiff in error's council aſſigned the following errors:

“ That there is no record of niſi prius;” and “ that “ judgment is given for the plaintiff below, whereas it “ ought to have been given for the defendant:” then a certiorari iſſued to certify the record of niſi prius, which was certified accordingly, and no error was pleaded by the defendant in error.

The plaintiff's council urged, that this writ was brought by the approbation of the C. B. on a conſent to waive a motion there in arreſt of judgment; and to ſhew that he was at liberty to make exceptions not aſſigned for error, he cited Biſhop's caſe, 5 Co. 376. and 1 Salk. 268. Carlton v. Mortagh, and made the following objections to the judgment, viz.

1ſt. The niſi prius roll is erroneous in itſelf.

2dly. The niſi prius record varies materially from the plea roll.

3dly. This may be taken advantage of after a verdict.

4thly. The omiſſion of, that the plaintiff take nothing by his writ as to R. S. Far, makes the judgment erroneous.

5thly. The judgment ought not to have been for more than a moiety of the lands demanded.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court affirmed the judgment.

Lord Mansfield. There is no difficulty in the objections; they are reducible to three; for the three firſt are no more than whether the judge had juriſdiction to try the cauſe between the plaintiff and the living defendant only; the ſuggeſtion, the award, and all the proceedings, ſhew one of the defendants to be dead, and there is an award for the proceedings to ſtay as to that defendant, and to go on againſt the other only, the jury is awarded as againſt the living one, the other being dead; both were alive when the iſſue was joined, and it is properly awarded on the iſſue-roll, and acknowledged. The niſi prius roll is only for the direction of the judge to try it, and it is not traverſable on this roll, and the two laſt points are as plain.

The judgment is right enough, and the execution muſt be taken out according to the right and juſtice of what is really recovered.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 363.

Trinity, 31 Geo. 2. Cottingham v. King.

On a writ of error brought in this court on a judgment of the court of K. B. in Ireland, who had affirmed a judgment in ejectment given for the plaintiff by the court of C. B. there.

After a general verdict for the plaintiff, the plaintiff in error took ſeveral exceptions to the uncertainty of the deſcription of the premiſes ſpecified in the declaration, viz.

1ſt. No vill at all is mentioned thoughout the whole declaration; the lands, &c. are only deſcribed to lie generally in the county of Roſcommon.

2dly. The words are, “ with the town and tene- “ ment of Boyle, and fairs and markets thereunto be- “ longing.”

3dly. A quarter, is another term uſed in the declaration, which term is totally uncertain, and even appears to conſiſt of different numbers of acres, ſome more, ſome leſs.

4thly. It is of “ part of S. M. and D.” which is abſolutely uncertain and vague.

5thly. And of “ a large deer park in the county of “ Roſcommon,” which is vaſtly too uncertain and indeterminate.

6thly. Of “ a ſmall park or field, in the poſſeſſion of — &c.” and not ſpecified where.

7thly. The quantity and quality of the land is not ſufficiently ſhewn.

After hearing the arguments of the council on both ſides, the court affirmed the judgment.

Lord Mansfield. This is after a trial and verdict in the C. B. in Ireland, and the objection is the uncertainty of the claim, or deſcription of the premiſes in the declaration.

It is frequent there to deſcribe the lands of great eſtates even in their ſetttlements, by “ towns.”

Ireland was planted and ſettled by degrees both formerly and lately, and towns came by degrees to be known by certain deſcriptions; and ſo “ quarters” might be after Cromwell's ſettlements there, and the diviſion of it into quarters; “ town,” and “ tenement,” are here uſed as ſynonymous terms.

As the jury of that country underſtood it; and the two courts of that country underſtood it, and have made no difficulty about it: I am ſure I will not after this ſay, “ that it is not to be underſtood.”

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinion at large, but concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 623.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. Chauvet and another v. Alfray.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment on an action of debt, on a bond given to the plaintiff and another, being creditors of one Sutton, by a third perſon, as a ſecurity for a partial payment of a debt of the ſaid Sutton, (which was thereby liquidated and aſcertained) to his ſeveral creditors, viz. 15 s. in the pound by inſtallments; which bond was to be forfeited, if Sutton ſhould make default in the ſaid payment.

The defendant brought this writ of error on the judgment given for the plaintiff, but putting in no bail to the writ of error, the plaintiffs ſued out execution; and this motion was to ſet aſide the judgment for irregularity, on which the queſtion for the opinion of the court was:

> "Whether this bond given to a third perſon, for "payment of a ſum certain by inſtallments, (the "laſt payment being ſtill to come) be an obliga"tion conditioned for the payment of money "only within ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. cap. 8. (made to "avoid unneceſſary delays of execution)?"

After hearing council on both ſides on this motion, the court diſcharged the rule.

Lord Mansfield. The court will not contract the conſtruction of that beneficial ſtat. beyond any precedent, and this bond is clearly for the payment of money only, and liquidated as to the ſum too; all the debts are liquidated, the money is only to be paid by another perſon.

Deniſon, Foſter and Wilſon, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the rule on the plaintiffs, to ſhew cauſe "Why the writ of ſcire facias ſhould not be "ſet aſide for irregularity and the goods levied be re"ſtored," be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 746.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. George, on the Demiſe of Bradley and others, v. Wiſdom.

In this caſe it was adjudged that a writ of error could not be taken out in the name of the caſual ejector. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 756.

Eaſter, 32 Geo. 2. Ballard and another, Chamberlains of Worceſter, v. Bennet. The ſame v. Clement.

Adjudged, That no writ of error lies hither from the courts of the city of London; but in all other cities and corporations, if a habeas corpus cum cauſa iſſues, and a bye-law is returned as the foundation of the action below, the method is not for the defendant to object to the bye-law on motion, but the plaintiff is to begin de novo, and declare over again in this court. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 776.

Michaelmas, 32 Geo. 2. Hawks v. Crofton.

On a writ of error brought in this court on a judgment of the K. B. in Ireland, in an action of treſpaſs, vi et armis, for an aſſault and battery, brought there about fifteen years before, charging ſpecial damages for a violent battery on the plaintiff, whereby he loſt an arm: to this action the defendant pleaded not guilty as to the vi et armis, and iſſue was joined thereon; as to the ſpecial damages, he pleaded ſon aſſault demeſne. To which the plaintiff replied; on which iſſue was likewiſe joined. On the trial of theſe iſſues, the verdict finds the defendant generally guilty of the treſpaſs within written, and gives the plaintiff 850 l. damages; and judgment for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff in error's council objected, that this verdict is incomplete, and the court cannot give judgment on it; it is no verdict at all as to the material iſſue which affects the true queſtion between the parties, or the merits of the cauſe, whereas a verdict ought to be ſufficient both in point of matter and of form.

Here are two iſſues, "whether guilty or not guilty," on which iſſue is joined, "whether the defendant "beat the plaintiff, without the alledged cauſe;" and the verdict is, that the defendant is guilty of the treſpaſs generally; which is no more than the mere fact, which the defendant has acknowledged; but has inſiſted at the ſame time, that he had a cauſe for ſo doing.

After hearing council on both ſides on this writ of error, the court affirmed the ſame.

Lord Mansfield. The queſtion is, whether this verdict is ſo uncertain that the court cannot give judgment on it, but muſt award a venire facias de novo?

It is true, "that where the intention of the jury is "manifeſt, and beyond a doubt, the court will recti"fy matters of form, and the mere act of a clerk."

I think the preſent caſe is ſo clear, that the court may give judgment on the ſubſtantial finding, tho' the clerk may have been irregular and faulty in point of form; it being clear what the jury meant.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, but concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 698.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 3. Bidleſon, Eſq. Adminiſtrator, &c. v. Whytel, Eſq.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 183 of this work, under the head Bail in Error.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Trinder v. Watſon and another.

On a writ of error returnable in parliament on a judgment of this court in an action of debt on a recognizance in error; the plaintiff in error in parliament, not having entered into a recognizance purſuant to ſtat. 3 Jac. 1. cap. 8. the defendant in the writ of error obtained a rule to ſhew cauſe, why the defendant in error ſhould not be at liberty to ſue out execution for want of ſuch recognizance.

After hearing the arguments of council on ſhewing cauſe, the court ordered the matter to ſtand over.

Lord Mansfield, ſaid, he ſhould have thought "That theſe caſes ought to be liberally conſtrued," as they ariſe on remedial laws; but in the caſe of Bidleſon v. Whytel it appeared, "That the determinations had "been otherwiſe;" and we muſt not depart from ſettled determinations.

Wilmot, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let this matter ſtand over to inquire into the practice. On the laſt day the Attorney General moved to enlarge the rule; but it was never drawn up; ſo it may be ſuppoſed, the motion was given up, and the plaintiff had liberty to ſue out execution. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1566.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Leith v. Macferlan.

Adjudged, that a writ of error could not be nonproſſed, without a rule to aſſign errors. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1772.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Johnſon v. Jobb.

Adjudged, that where the plaintiff brings a writ of error to reverſe his own judgment, the common method of bringing a ſcire facias quare executionem non, or a ſcire facias ad audiendum errores, would be improper; therefore if the plaintiff in error will not proceed, this court may and ought to make a rule to oblige him to aſſign errors within a limited time.

Per curiam. Let a rule be made on the plaintiff in error to aſſign errors within four days, or elſe let this writ of error be non proſſed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1772.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Wharod v. Smart.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 403 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 3. Knox, Eſq. v. Coſtello.

On a writ of error brought here on a judgment from the K. B. in Ireland, to reverſe a judgment of their's, affirming a judgment in the C. B. there, in an action of debt for 1800 l. brought againſt W. Knox, by C. Fallon, deceaſed: and alſo, affirming the adjudication of the C. B. in Ireland of execution of the ſame judgment on writs of ſcire facias iſſued out of the ſaid court of C. B. in Ireland againſt the ſaid Knox, at the ſuit of E. Coſtello, and E. Fallon, ſurviving executors of the ſaid C. Fallon.

That a ſcire facias, quare executionem non, iſſued at the ſuit of the ſaid E. Fallon and E. Coſtello, ſuggeſting, "that C. Fallon was dead, and that they were his ſurviving executors; that on this ſcire facias, the defendant pleaded payment, which was found againſt him with 6 d. damages, ; whereon it was adjudged, "That they, as his executors, ſhould have execution "againſt Knox for the debt and damages aforeſaid." And it was alſo adjudged, "That they do recover againſt "the ſaid W. Knox their coſts and expences aforeſaid to "6 d. by the jury aforeſaid, in form aforeſaid, aſſeſſed." And alſo 17 l. 14 s. 8 d. for their coſts and expences aforeſaid, adjudged to them at their own requeſt by the court here, by way of increaſe, according to the form of the ſtatute in ſuch caſe made and provided.

Only one of the executors appeared to the writ of error in the B. R. in Ireland, viz. E. Coſtello, who alone ſued out the writ of ſcire facias quare executionem non in that court, and yet the court affirmed the judgment of the C. B. for both; and the adjudication was, "that both ſhould recover."

The plaintiff in error's council took the following exceptions to the judgment, viz.

1ſt, The court below have given damages for non-payment of the money; whereas damages cannot be given on a ſcire facias.

2dly, The ſcire facias, quare executionem non, in the K. B. in Ireland is prayed by E. Coſtello only, though the writ of error is brought againſt the two executors; and yet there is no ſuggeſtion, "that either of them "is dead," though only one appeared to ſuch writ, and prayed the ſcire facias.

After hearing the arguments of the council on both ſides on this writ, the court affirmed the judgment.

Wilmot, Juſtice. The firſt objection turns on a fact which does not ſupport the objection. Damages for delay of execution cannot be given on a ſcire facias, nor could coſts, till ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. and if the preſent caſe was ſo, the judgment might be reverſed as to the 6 d. and affirmed as to the reſt.

But here the being damnified, and put to coſts to the amount of 6 d. is only meant as a foundation for the increaſed coſts; and the judgment is, "that the plain-"tiffs ſhall recover 17 l. 14 s. 8 d. for their coſts and "expences, &c."

The ſecond objection is, "that the ſcire quare execu-"tionem non, is brought by only one of theſe two execu-"tors."

A ſcire facias executionem non is only to bring the plaintiff in error to aſſign his errors: he comes in on it, and aſſigns his errors. Therefore he waived any objection, and admitted the one executor to be ſufficient to call on him merely to aſſign errors. He might perhaps have moved to quaſh it: but as he did not challenge it, he has waived the objection to it; and we are not to preſume the other executor to be alive.

Yates and Aſton, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, but concurred with their brother Wilmot.

Per curiam. Let the judgment be affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1789.

Eſcape.

Michaelmas, 4 W. & M. Scott v. Peacock.

To a ſcire facias quare executionem non on a judgment, the defendant pleaded that he was formerly taken in execution by a ca. ſa. on the ſame judgment, and the ſheriff ſuffered him to eſcape, to which eſcape the plaintiff then and there conſented: but not allowed; for the aſſent ſubſequent will not make it an eſcape with the conſent of the plaintiff, and therefore he has either his remedy againſt the ſheriff, or may retake the party. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 272.

Michaelmas, 4 W. & M. Ball v. Briggs.

On an action of debt brought on an eſcape, the defendant pleaded freſh purſuit and re-taking of the party the ſame day the bill was filed; and adjudged no plea, the action being once attached in the plaintiff. 1 Jones 145. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 31.

Hilary or Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Wate or Waytes, v. Briggs.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 149 of this work, under the head Averment.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. Williams v. Cray.

An executor brought an action on the caſe againſt a ſheriff, for a falſe return of a fieri facias delivered to him by the teſtator; after a verdict for the plaintiff, it was objected in arreſt of judgment, that this action would not lie, becauſe it was only a perſonal tort done to the teſtator, which dies with the perſon.

Per curiam. An executor cannot have an action for an eſcape on meſne proceſs, becauſe that is merely perſonal, but he may for an eſcape on a capias ad ſatisfaciend', or for a falſe return of a fieri facias, and this by the equity of ſtat. 4 Ed. 3. becauſe the right being determined after judgment, the tort is more than perſonal. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 40. Salk. vol. 3. p. 149.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Wolfe v. Daviſon.

In an action of debt againſt the ſheriff for an eſcape, the plaintiff ſet forth that he had obtained a judgment in the C. B. againſt one D. for 160 l. and coſts; and that the ſaid D. not appearing to ſatisfy the ſaid judgment, was outlawed at the ſuit of the plaintiff, who thereon ſued out a capias utlegatum againſt him, directed to the then ſheriff of Newcaſtle; and that the plaintiff, before the return of the ſaid writ, delivered it to one J. A. then ſheriff of the ſaid vill, who by virtue thereof arreſted the ſaid D. and detained him in priſon for the ſaid debt, and damages, till the ſaid A. was diſcharged from his office of ſheriff; that the defendant was afterwards under-ſheriff, and the ſaid D. was delivered to him in cuſtody, and in execution for the ſaid debt and damages; and that afterwards he ſuffered him to eſcape, the ſaid debt not being paid.

On nil debet pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict.

It was argued for the plaintiff, that when a man was outlawed after judgment, the capias utlegatum is the proper proceſs, and then the plaintiff is at an end of his ſuit; and therefore there can be no default in him for not continuing his proceſs, ſo as to have the priſoner brought into court; and then, on prayer, the defendant is to be committed in execution at his ſuit.

But admitting there was any laches in the plaintiff, or diſcontinuing of the proceſs, yet if the party is in ecution on a capias utlegatum after judgment, he is in execution at the ſuit of the plaintiff if he pleaſes; for though the outlawry is in the King's name, yet it is at the ſuit of the party, and for his benefit: and the ſheriff muſt take notice of the law, that he has him in cuſtody for that purpoſe, whereof he is convicted; for theſe are the words of the writ.

If the defendant promiſes to pay a debt, in conſideration of forbearance to proſecute a capias utlegatum, this is good in law, which proves that an outlawry is at the ſuit of the party; for ſuch a promiſe would be void to ſtay any proceſs at the ſuit of the King.

And the court were of opinion, that it was in vain for the plaintiff to ſue out an outlawry, if he had no benefit thereby, when the party was taken by the capias, without continuing the proceſs; for to what purpoſe ſhould he take out a ſci. fa. after a judgment, when the party cannot be found, and nothing can be done on it? Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 200.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. The King v. Fell.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 264 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Bidolph v. Bruce.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A ſheriff has no power to receive money from the defendant on a capias, for his buſineſs is only to execute his writ; and if in ſuch caſe a defendant paid the ſheriff, and he afterwards becomes inſolvent, and does not pay the plaintiff, ſuch payment ſhall not excuſe the defendant; if the ſheriff ſuffers one in execution to eſcape, the plaintiff has his election to ſue the ſheriff on an eſcape, or elſe the defendant; but he cannot have a capias againſt the defendant, without a ſci. fac. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 230.

Michaelmas 10 W. 3. Odes v. Clark.

On an action of eſcape brought againſt the ſheriff, the plaintiff in his declaration ſtated, that the defendant did arreſt J. S. by virtue of a latitat; but ſaid not of what court, and afterwards ſuffered him to eſcape; and now the ſheriff moved in arreſt of judgment, and pretended, that the proceſs was not well ſet forth in the declaration; and that the ſheriff cannot take advantage of erroneous proceſs.

On reading the declaration, the words appeared to be, by a writ of latitat of the court of our Lord the King at Weſtminſter, without ſaying out of what court it iſſued.

Per curiam. Let it ſtay. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 13.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. Fell.

The defendant was indicted for the eſcape of one Wray, convicted of a miſdemeanor for attempting to counterfeit Exchequer bills; and after judgment, that he ſhould ſtand in the pillory, the ſheriff out of favour delayed the execution beyond the uſual time, and in that time Wray eſcaped; and on the indictment Fell being found guilty, was now in court to be fined.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In this caſe the ſheriff ought to be proſecuted and fined grievouſly, for the judgment ought to be executed in a convenient time, and the ſheriff's reſiſting it is an affront to the juſtice of the nation; but however, that is no excuſe to Fell. But if Fell had retaken the malefactor before an indictment was found againſt him for the eſcape, he ought not afterwards to be troubled for the eſcape; in this caſe he was fined forty merks. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 227.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. King v. Croſſe.

Per curiam. The tipſtaffs are the Marſhal's officers, and he ought to have the putting them in; and the cuſtody of the tipſtaff is the cuſtody of the Marſhal. And it is abſolutely neceſſary in order to charge the Marſhal in debt for an eſcape, that he ſhould have notice of the party's being charged in execution. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 634.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Watſon v. Sutton.

In debt againſt the Marſhall for an eſcape, at the trial a reddidit ſe i. e. he has rendered himſelf in diſcharge of his bail, and a committitur in execution to the Marſhall, was produced in evidence; and after verdict it was moved, that it ſhould be ſet aſide, for the committitur was irregular; for the courſe of the court is, that when any one on a render is charged in execution, there ought to be notice thereof to the Marſhal, without which it were hard to charge him with the eſcape; and the courſe of giving ſuch notice is by making an entry of the committitur in a book kept for that purpoſe by the Marſhal in the King's Bench office; and the Marſhal has an officer on purpoſe in the office to take notice of ſuch entries; and it is not enough that the committitur be entered with the entering clerk: which was agreed by all the clerks to be the practice.

Per curiam. A reddidit ſe in the judge's book is an immediate diſcharge of the bail; but he is not in cuſtody till the plaintiff makes his election by entering a committitur; nor then is he in cuſtody, ſo as to charge the Marſhal, till there be a notice by rule or entry as aforeſaid: but this matter ſhould have been ſhewn, and inſiſted on at the trial; it is now too late: ſo the motion was denied. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 583. Salk. vol. 1. p. 273.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Spencely v. Hutton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 151 of this work, under the head Averment.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Shirley v. Wright.

The ſheriff had the defendant in cuſtody on a ca. ſa. which iſſued after the expiration of a year and a day without a ſci. fac. and let him eſcape; and it was held that he was liable, and ſhould not take advantage of the error; but otherwiſe, had it been on a capias ad reſpond. teſted in Trinity term, and returnable in Hilary, becauſe ſuch proceſs muſt be returnable from term to term, otherwiſe it is out of court. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 723.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Parker v. Sir William Moore or More.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 340 of this work, under the head Date, Day, and Delivery.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Daniel v. Morewood.

The defendant being in the Marſhalſea priſon of this court on a meſne proceſs at the plaintiff's ſuit for debt, eſcaped. Whereon the plaintiff, on an affidavit of the eſcape, procured an eſcape warrant from Mr. Juſtice Gould; by virtue whereof the defendant was took up in St. Clement's pariſh, and carried to Newgate. The defendant moved by his council, that he might be ſet at liberty, inſiſting that he was abroad by virtue of a day rule, when he was took up by the eſcape warrant, it being term time; and on examination, and affidavits, the fact appeared to be, that he was taken by the eſcape warrant before this court ſat that morning; and that after this court ſat, he was in the petition for a day rule among the other priſoners; and a day rule as uſual was made, in which he was. And though there are no fractions in a day, yet the court held, that they ought not to ſet him at liberty, it appearing to them that when he was arreſted he had not any day rule. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 927.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Ball.

The defendant was in the ſheriff's cuſtody on an excommunicato capiendo, and committed to the Fleet, charged therewith, and from thence to the priſon of this court, from whence he was ſuffered to eſcape; and what in this caſe could be done, was the queſtion.

1ſt. It was agreed, that if the firſt writ was not returned, they might take out a new one, and thereon take him up de novo; otherwiſe if it was returned, 1 Roll. Rep. 174. And here it was doubted, whether there could be a new writ in caſe the former had not been returned; becauſe by the hab. corp. and return thereof here on the record, it appears he was in execution on that writ: if the eſcape had been in the preſent Marſhal's time, we could make a rule on him to take him up, but we cannot do it now, the eſcape having been in a former Marſhal's time; becauſe if the eſcape was voluntary, the former Marſhal could not juſtify doing it himſelf, and let us conſider whether we cannot make a record of his having eſcaped, and award a new writ.

Per curiam. Let it ſtay till we know whether the former writ was returned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 78.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Cotton v. Martin.

On an action of debt brought on a bond, the caſe was; the plaintiff had been a priſoner in the Fleet, and having eſcaped, was taken up by a warrant, according to the late ſtatute, and committed to Newgate. And an affidavit davit being made that nothing was due, and the plaintiff, by his being in Newgate, being diſabled from coming before a judge to ſhew his cauſe of action, and that diſability coming from his own wrong, viz. the eſcape, the court ordered common bail; and if he had not eſcaped, he might have got out by a day rule. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 63.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Hotherſhell v. Bows.

The defendant being in cuſtody on meſne proceſs, eſcaped, and was taken on a warrant by virtue of the late ſtatute; and the court was moved, that on bringing the money into court, he ſhould be ſet at liberty; but the court ſaid they could not do it. And on this occaſion Mr. Clerke ſaid, that if a man comes in on an habeas corpus, and the plaintiff does not declare againſt him in two terms, the defendant ſhall be diſcharged on filing common bail, without any rules; and if one come in on an habeas corpus, tho' he afterwards puts in bail; if it be not at the return of the proceſs, he cannot give rules, but muſt wait two terms; and then, if there be no declaration, he ſhall be diſcharged on common bail, without coſts; whereas if he had put in bail at the return of the proceſs, he might ſpur on the plaintiff by rules; or if the plaintiff had paſſed two terms without declaring, he ſhould pay coſts: and the court ſaid, the rules were very hard on one in cuſtody; and they ſaid it was not the intent of the act to make eſcaping priſoners pay the debt right or wrong, or to be in goal for ever; and therefore ordered Mr. Clerke to draw up a rule, that in caſe the plaintiff did not declare in two terms, he ſhould be non proſſed, and thereon the defendant diſcharged. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 21.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If there be two coroners, one whereof being inſolvent, ſuffers an eſcape, it is very hard to charge the other with it. The caſe came before me once, and I would not take on myſelf to determine it, though my brother Levinz reports that I would have over-ruled him in the exception. And that caſe has been ſeveral times argued in the C. B. but not adjudged; but the court thought it would be hard to charge the other. Vide Butcher v. Porter's caſe, in the time of the late King. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 37.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Rich v. Doughty.

The defendant eſcaped out of priſon, and was retaken by virtue of an eſcape warrant on ſtat. 5 Ann, by a rabble, without any officer, as the ſtatute directs, and was by them brought to the ſheriff, who detained him by virtue of that warrant, and on an habeas corpus brought, the ſheriff returned, that Doughty was brought to him by W. R. and others, to him unknown, by virtue of a warrant, &c. and that he (the ſheriff) detained him in cuſtody agreeable to the command of the writ.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This is an inſufficient return; it is true, the warrant was good, but being illegally executed, the ſheriff ought not to detain him, for he ſhall not graft a legal impriſonment on an illegal act; he ought to receive the priſoner from no perſon but an officer, or from one under that denomination. Vide Salk. vol. 8. p. 149. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 154.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Grant v. Southers.

The plaintiff had been in the cuſtody of a former Marſhal, and voluntarily ſuffered to eſcape by him, and he afterwards came voluntarily and returned, and being found in cuſtody by the ſucceeding Marſhal, was detained by him. Whereas, he having brought an action of falſe impriſonment, the court granted an imparlance till the next term, affirming at the ſame time, that it was lawful to detain him, and that to ſuffer him to go at large would be an eſcape in the ſecond Marſhal; and that Hale had been of the ſame opinion. And they declared that they knew no ſuch thing as a perpetual imparlance, though they had known perpetual injunctions. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 183.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Fox v. Tilly.

In an action of debt on a bond conditioned to ſave the plaintiff harmleſs againſt all eſcapes, which he had ſuffered as warden of the Fleet Priſon; on demurrer to the rejoinder, which was itſelf a departure from the plea, which was, he was not damnified, and a ſpecial damage replied, and a continuance given to the firſt day of this term, the court took a diſtinction between a bond to ſave harmleſs againſt future eſcapes, for that would be void, and a bond to ſave harmleſs againſt paſt eſcapes; for though it were unlawful to ſuffer them, yet a perſon may contract to indemnify himſelf againſt a penalty already incurred againſt law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Tilſden v. Palſriman or Parſriman.

Per curiam. If a perſon who is in cuſtody of the Marſhal eſcapes, and is taken on a judge's warrant, that is no new impriſonment, but a continuation of the old; and a diſcharge of that commitment will be a diſcharge of the firſt; but if he had eſcaped out of the county goal without the conſent of the goaler, there the Marſhal may retake him: as for example, if a perſon is in the cuſtody of the Marſhal for debt, and eſcapes, and afterwards the ſame plaintiff takes him up on another debt, and lets him go again, yet the Marſhal may retake him for the eſcape. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 353.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Luttin v. Benin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 112 of this work, under the head Arreſt.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

On an action of debt for 200 l. on bond, conditioned to pay 100 l. for want of bail the defendant was committed to the Marſhal, and he applied to the juſtices of peace of Surry, and procured a diſcharge on the late act for the relief of inſolvent debtors. The plaintiff obtained an eſcape warrant, on which the defendant was taken up; and on a motion to be diſcharged, the court held this was an eſcape; for being a priſoner, both indebted and alſo charged in above 100 l. debt and damages, the juſtices had no authority for what they did, and therefore the diſcharge was illegal and void. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 273.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. The Queen v. Belwood.

On an indictment, the caſe was: a juſtice of peace had power to commit to ward, which is the word in the ſtatute: the juſtice committed one to the goaler of the county.

Per curiam. The ſheriff, and conſequently his goaler, is the proper officer; and if he ſuffers him to go at large, it is ſuch an offence as is indictable. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 79.

Trinity, 5 Ann. Jackſon v. Humphry.

In an action of eſcape brought againſt the ſheriffs of London, the plaintiff declared that he levied a plaint in the ſheriff's court againſt J. S. being then in the Compter in cuſtody on a former plaint levied againſt him by J. N. and that the defendant being ſo in cuſtody was ſuffered to eſcape: the defendant demurred, and inſiſted, that there ought to have been a precept ſued out on the latter plaint, on which the ſheriff might have returned a cepi corpus; as if H. is arreſted by the ſheriff at the ſuit of A. and afterwards another writ is delivered at the ſuit of B. he is now in cuſtody for B. and the very delivery of the writ to the ſheriff was an arreſt in law, and in debt for eſcape, B. muſt declare that H. was arreſted on this writ; for the declaration muſt be according to the operation of law, and not according to fact. Vide 5 Co. 89. But after this matter had been two terms in debate, Holt, Chief Juſtice, having looked at Mackally's caſe, ſaid, that on entering a plaint in the Compter, there never is any precept awarded; but the ſerjeant at mace arreſts the party by his general authority, and therefore there is nothing more to be ſet forth than is ſet forth in this caſe; for by entering the plaint, and charging the defendant in the Compter, he is in actual cuſtody of the ſheriff: ſo if the ſheriff of Northumberland have a man in cuſtody in Northumberland, and the ſheriff is himſelf here in town, and a writ is delivered to him againſt that perſon, he is in his cuſtody immediately on that writ; otherwiſe if the man was out of the county at the delivery of the writ, as in caſe the ſheriff was bringing him to Weſtminſter on a writ of habeas corpus. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 274.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. Parks v. Crawford.

An action of eſcape was brought againſt the Marſhal of this court on ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 27. ſect. 9. The words of the ſtatute are, That if any Marſhal or Warden for the Time being, or their reſpective deputies, ſhall after one day's notice in writing, given for that purpoſe, refuſe to ſhew any priſoner, committed in execution, to the creditor at whoſe ſuit ſuch priſoner was committed, or to his attorney, every ſuch refuſal ſhall be adjudged an eſcape in law.

In this caſe, the notice was given by the creditor on the Friday to produce the priſoner on the Tueſday following. At twelve o'clock the priſoner was demanded of the turnkey; but not being produced, this action was brought.

This being the ſtate of the caſe, the poſtea was ſtayed by the direction of Parker, Chief Juſtice, who tried the cauſe.

It was now objected, firſt, that the notice was inſufficient; and ſecondly, if the notice was ſufficient, the demand and refuſal were not alledged as they ought to be.

The queſtion before the court was, whether the time appointed by this notice is certain enough? Or whether it ought to have been confined to ſome particular part of the day; and not ſaid on ſuch a day generally?

It was further argued, that the demand was faulty, being made at twelve o'clock at noon, when the defendant had till the cloſe of the evening for the performance of it.

A ſecond objection as to the demand, was in reſpect to the perſon on whom the demand was made, viz. the turnkey. It was obſerved from the other clauſes in the ſtatute, that by the word deputy, was to be underſtood a deputy marſhal, viz. ſuch a deputy as an action may be brought againſt; and not any inferior officer, as a turnkey, &c.

The court inclined to think that the Marſhal had all that day for producing of the priſoner. They ſeemed likewiſe to think that by the word deputy was to be underſtood a deputy marſhal, and not a more inferior officer; but that, however, the plaintiff could not ſuffer by their non-attendance, becauſe a demand at the priſon, though nobody was there, would be ſufficient. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 394.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Hinchliffe v. Payne.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 281 of this work, under the head Contempt.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Lord Cornwallis v. Hoyle.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 341 of this work, under the head Date, Day, and Delivery.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Crompton v. Ward. Entered Hilary 4 Geo.

In an action for the eſcape of M. O. the declaration ſet forth, that in Mich. term 2 Geo. in C. B. the plaintiff recovered judgment againſt her for 232 l. which coming into this court by writ of error, the writ was nonproſſed, and execution awarded, which judgment is ſtill in force: that on the 12th of June 2 Geo. the ſaid O. ſurrendered herſelf to the Fleet in diſcharge of her bail, from whence ſhe was removed by habeas corpus to Newgate, &c. where the plaintiff intended to have charged her in execution, but the defendant, ſheriff of Middleſex, voluntarily permitted her to eſcape. The defendant confeſſes, that the ſaid O. was in his cuſtody, as, &c. but ſays, that on the 20th June a hab. corp. was delivered to him, requiring him to bring her to the Chief Juſtice's chamber, on which he made a warrant to his bailiff, commanding him to carry and bring her ſafe back again, by virtue of which he took her out of Newgate, and in carrying her along ſhe was reſcued. The plaintiff demurred. And in Michaelmas term 5 Geo. the plaintiff's council took three exceptions to the defendant's manner of pleading.

1ſt. It is improperly pleaded: the defendant ſhould not have ſet forth the fact, but the operation of law reſulting from that fact; therefore pleading the reſcue from the bailiffs is wrong; it ought to have been from the ſheriff, for the law takes no notice of a bailiff or his acts. Cook's caſe, Hilary 2 Geo. 2 Saund. 97. 2 Vent. 149 2 Co. 266. 3 Lev. 290.

2dly. The defendant ought to have averred, that ſhe was not afterwards found in his bailiwick. Dalt, 215. 216. Officina Brevium, 203, 204, 217, 226.

3dly. The habeas corpus requires her to be brought under ſafe and ſecure conduct, but the defendant has not ſhewn that he complied with this direction; and this he ought to do when he pleaded a reſcue.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. Here the fact pleaded is true, that ſhe was in the cuſtody of the bailiff, and reſcued from him; and though this amounts in law to the cuſtody of the ſheriff, yet it differs from the caſes of grants, for there the fact was not true: it was not for a grant but a releaſe, and a covenant to ſtand ſeiſed, but here the fact is true, and properly pleaded. 2dly. The defendant has confeſſed and avowed, and therefore it lay on the plaintiff to ſhew a re-caption in his replication. The third objection likewiſe has nothingin it.

As to the principal point, I cannot ſee how this caſe is diſtinguiſhed from a cuſtody on a meſne proceſs, where a reſcue is pleaded. The ſheriff was obliged to bring her out; and as ſhe was not in execution, ſhe can only be ſaid to be in on a meſne proceſs.

Powys, Eyre, and Forteſcue, concurred with the Chief Juſtice. But the matter was adjourned.

In Hilary term 7 Geo. it was argued a ſecond time, when the queſtion was, whether after judgment, and before any charge in execution, a reſcue on the party's being brought out on an habeas corpus, is a good excuſe for the ſheriff in an action of eſcape.

After argument, the judgment was again affirmed, and this term Pratt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the reſolution of the court.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. It was admitted at the bar, and is not now to be diſputed, but that on the one hand, if the ſheriff arreſts the party by virtue of a meſne proceſs, and he is reſcued as he carries him to goal, it will be a good excuſe for the ſheriff, Cro. Jac. 19. And on the other hand, if the party is once within the walls of the priſon, tho' the cuſtody is on meſne proceſs only, yet a reſcue from thence by any but common enemies, will be no excuſe: if a company of rebels break the priſon, and let out the priſoners, yet the ſheriff is anſwerable, becauſe the law ſuppoſes the ſheriff and his poſſe are ſufficient to reſiſt ſuch a force. 1 Roll. Abr. 811. 4 Co 84. theſe, I ſay, are grounds that are not to be diſputed.

The caſe at the bar is new, and differs from both theſe; but, however, we muſt take it up on the different reaſons of theſe caſes. In the caſe of a meſne proceſs, the ſheriff, if he meets the party againſt whom he has ſuch proceſs by accident, and is told it is the defendant, he is bound to arreſt him; and then, becauſe it is not ſuppoſed that he always has the poſſe along with him, he is excuſed againſt a reſcue. But in the preſent caſe there is no danger of a ſurpriſe, he has notice before, that on ſuch a day he is to bring the party out of priſon; and it is his duty, and ſo he is directed by the writ, to provide for the ſure and ſafe conduct of the party. Here he has not taken that caution, whereby the plaintiff, who had an intereſt, a ſort of property in the body of the priſoner, has ſuſtained a damage. This damage has happened by the neglect of the ſheriff, and therefore he muſt anſwer it to the plaintiff in this action. Accordingly judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 429.

Eaſter, 7 Geo. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If a man eſcapes, and returns again, and afterwards commits a ſecond eſcape, he cannot be taken up for the firſt eſcape, it being purged by his return. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 423.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Webb v. Thompſon.

In Michaelmas, 6 Geo. the plaintiff brought his action, and the defendant put in bail, and in Hilary term following, iſſue was joined, and notice of trial given and countermanded, and the defendant was the ſame term ſurrendered in diſcharge of his bail. He lay all Eaſter and Trinity terms, and in the vacation made his eſcape, on which in the beginning of this term an eſcape warrant iſſued againſt him, which the court was moved to ſuperſede, becauſe the plaintiff having ſlept three terms, the defendant was intitled to be diſcharged on common bail. This was oppoſed by the plaintiff's council, becauſe he had been guilty of an eſcape, and therefore intitled to no favour, but ought to lie till he has tried the cauſe by proviſoe.

Per curiam. He is not indeed a proper perſon to pray a favour, but it would be hard he ſhould lie by till you think fit to try the cauſe; for it is not to be ſuppoſed one who cannot find bail ſhould be able to bring it on by proviſoe. And beſides, as ſoon as he is in cuſtody by means of the eſcape warrant, he will be intitled to his diſcharge by the rules of court; ſo that to prevent vexation and expence, we think proper to ſuperſede the warrant. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 401.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Wilkinſon v. Matthews.

On a motion to diſcharge a perſon taken up on an eſcape warrant, after he had obtained a day rule, it was ruled, that the defendant ſhould ſhew cauſe on ſuch a day; and on that day he ſhewed for cauſe, that the taking on this warrant was about eight of the clock in the morning, and long before the court ſat, ſo that the plaintiff could not have a day rule at that time; but this was over-ruled, becauſe in this caſe there ſhall be no fraction of a day; and the opinion of the late Chief Juſtice, Holt, was now mentioned, viz. that where a perſon is taken on an eſcape warrant, who had obtained a rule for that day, that the proſecutor ſhall be committed; and it was ſufficient if the party had delivered in his name in writing to the clerk the night before the day he moved for a day rule as ſoon as the court ſhould ſit; but it appearing in the principal caſe, that the day rule was obtained after the party was taken on the eſcape warrant, on purpoſe to avoid the commitment by virtue of that warrant; and that his name was not delivered to the clerk the night before, but while the court was ſitting; it was ruled that he ſhould continue in cuſtody. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 80.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The Goaler of Shrewſbury's Caſe.

The court was moved for an attachment againſt him for a voluntary eſcape of one in execution for obſtructing an exciſe officer in the execution of his office; but the court refuſed to grant it, there being no precedent for that purpoſe; however, they ordered him to ſhew cauſe why there ſhould not be an information. Vide Sttra. vol. 1. p. 532.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Ceaſar or Sheather v. Holt and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 135 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. The King v. Dunbar.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 136 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Huggins v. Durham and Wife.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 214 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. Cook qui tam v. Champneys.

In an action for the eſcape of S. C. who was taken on a writ of outlawry on a meſne proceſs, the defendant's council moved in arreſt of judgment, that the action would not lie, for the plaintiff is at the end of his ſuit, and the King only has intereſt in the forfeiture; and the body is kept for the contempt; and cited Cro. El. 706. 13 H. 4. 1 Salk. 80.

Per curiam. She may never be taken again, and the confinement would have enforced her appearance to action, to reverſe the outlawry; ſo the plaintiff has an intereſt and a damage, and muſt have judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 901.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 2. Stonehouſe v. Mullins.

The plaintiff in Trinity term laſt brought an action of eſcape againſt the Marſhal, who imparled to Michaelmas term, and then pleaded a recaption on the 20th of October. The plaintiff demurred, and judgment was given for the plaintiff, becauſe to ouſt him of his action it ſhould have appeared, that the recaption was before the action was brought; and this appears to be long after. 3 Co. 44. 52. 1 Jon. 148. Cro. Jac. 657. 1 Roll. Abr. 808.

It was alſo held, that debt lies by ſtat. 1. R. 2. c. 12. as well where the eſcape is negligent, as where it is voluntary. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 873.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Willing v Goad.

The court was moved to diſcharge the defendant out of the cuſtody of the Marſhal, the plaintiff in the actoin having ſent an order for his diſcharge. On a rule to ſhew cauſe, the Marſhal inſiſted, that the defendant had broke the priſon, and let out himſelf and another priſoner, who was in execution for 500 l. and that though the plaintiff's diſcharge came whilſt he was out of priſon, yet he had ſince taken him for his fees, and had charged him in cuſtody with a declaration for the eſcape of the other. But there being no caſe to warrant the goaler's retaking for fees, and the plaintiff in the action being ſatisfied; the court held the retaking to be illegal, and conſequently the delivery of a declaration to him void, and that the Marſhall ought to diſcharge him. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 909.

Trinity, 6 Geo. 2. Gambier v. Wright. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in C. B. in an action of eſcape againſt the warden of the Fleet: the declaration ſet forth, that W. W. being indebted to the plaintiff in 200 l. for goods ſold and delivered, he ſued out a latitat againſt him, by virtue whereof the defendant was arreſted and brought by hab. corp. before Mr. J. Denton, a judge of the C. B. who committed him to the Fleet, charged with the plaintiff's latitat, and that the plaintiff ſued him to judgment, and then the defendant permitted him to eſcape. On not guilty pleaded there was a verdict and judgment for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff in error's council argued, that the priſoner being in the cuſtody of this court, could not be taken from thence without ſome proceſs of the C. B. which ought to be ſet out, and without which the judge had no power to commit him. And if he was there illegally, the warden was in the right to let him go. And he cited 1 Roll. Rep. 217, 276. Cro. El. 223. 31 H. 6. 10. Lutw. 1468. Mo. 274. 2 Leon. 84. 2 Bulſt. 62. Cro. El. 877. Cro. Jac. 394. Salk. 273. 70.

The court ſeemed ſtrongly inclined to think the declaration was well enough, but ordered the matter to be further conſidered, and this term, on the plaintiff in error's council declining to argue it, the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 951.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Wilkinſon v. Salter and Perry Sheriffs of London.

In an action of debt for an eſcape, the plaintiff declared, that he recovered a judgment againſt one H. C. and by a ca. ſa. on that judgment, he charged him in execution, cution, in the cuſtody of L. and W. the late ſheriffs; who, at the going out of their office on the 29th day of September, delivered the priſoner over to the preſent defendants, who have voluntarily permitted him to eſcape. The defendants pleaded nil debent, and likewiſe that the ſaid H. C. broke the goal and made his eſcape, and that they purſued and retook him, and have him now in cuſtody to anſwer the plaintiff. The plaintiff replied, that the defendants voluntarily permitted him to eſcape.

The defendants having pleaded nil debent, put the plaintiff to prove his whole declaration, and accordingly, a copy of the record of the judgment was firſt read; then an examined copy of the ca. ſa. and the return, that the ſheriff had him in cuſtody, and on the writ an indorſement, that the writ and the priſoner were delivered to the preſent ſheriffs, at the other's going out of their office.

Then an objection was made by the defendant's council, that as the plaintiff had laid the particular day of the defendant's being turned over, and it not being under a ſcilicet, i. e. tow it, it was material to be proved; now, the day laid in the declaration is the 29th day of Sept. but they ſaid, the time when the old ſheriffs quitted their office, and turned over the priſoners, was the 28th, and for that purpoſe they examined the ſteward of the ſheriff's court, who confirmed it, and ſaid, the plaints are levied on the 28th before the new ſheriffs; but he had no plaints ready to produce as evidence thereof; and the deputy recorder being in court, the Chief Juſtice aſked him as to this matter, who anſwered, that it is generally taken, that the new ſheriffs are chargeable with the priſoners from the time of their being turned over, which is always on the 28th day of September, about ſeven in the evening.

However, the Chief Juſtice ſaid, they are not ſworn in at the Exchequer till the 29th, and he thought they did not enter into their office till that time, and therefore over-ruled the objection, but ſaid, if the defendants had a mind he would ſave the point to them.

The evidence of the eſcape was, that the priſoner was ſeen at large out of the priſon; that the plaintiff's attorney aſked the goaler if he was in cuſtody, who told him he was gone out of the priſon on an errand for the priſoners, and that the goaler had made him turnkey of the priſon, ſo that he had the keys of the priſon in his cuſtody, and let people in and out of the priſon.

Lord Hardwicke. Here is plain evidence of an eſcape, the only queſtion is, whether there is a voluntary or negligent eſcape; for if it is a negligent eſcape, the ſheriff may juſtify by re-caption; but if it is a voluntary eſcape, he may not juſtify; and this appears plainly to me to be a voluntary eſcape; for as he has been truſted with the keys of the priſon, he may go out when he will; the only doubt that could poſſibly be raiſed in this caſe would be the queſtion, which was in the caſe of the King v. Huggins in the Exchequer. An information of eſcape was exhibited againſt Huggins for the eſcape of B. a ſmuggler, and the defendant pleaded a re-caption; and the Attorney-General replied, a voluntary eſcape: and the evidence was, that the turnkey let him out of priſon; and the court was of opinion, that the turnkey, not being the warden's deputy, therefore his permiſſion did not make it a voluntary, but only a negligent eſcape in the warden; but they held, that a permiſſion by the warden's deputy would make a voluntary eſcape in the warden. So that even that doubt is now cleared on this evidence, becauſe it appears that the goaler himſelf appointed him to be turnkey; therefore you muſt find for the plaintiff for his debt; and accordingly they found for the plaintiff, and 12 d. damages.

N. B. By ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 27. if a goaler refuſes to ſhew his priſoner on demand, it is evidence of an eſcape, that no retaking or freſh purſuit ſhall be given in evidence, unleſs ſpecially pleaded; nor ſuch plea received, unleſs oath made in writing, that the priſoner eſcaped without his knowledge or conſent. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 310.

Eaſter, 18 Geo. 2. Wightman v. Mullens.

In an action againſt the Marſhal for an eſcape, it was laid, that the priſoner being brought before Sir William Chapple, one of the juſtices of our Lord the King, at his chambers in Serjeant's Inn, was there committed to the cuſtody of the Marſhal, at the ſuit of the plaintiff, as by the ſaid commitment may more at large appear.

To this the defendant demurred, and ſhewed for cauſe, that it did not appear that the commitment was of record. And on argument the court held it ill; for he is not in point of law in Marſhal's cuſtody, till the commitment is entered on record; nor can the court take notice that Sir William Chapple had any power to commit him, he being only ſtiled one of the juſtices of the King, which every common juſtice of the peace is. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1226.

Hilary, 31 Geo. 2. Roſe v. Green.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 199 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Eſtates,

Freehold and Copyhold.

Hilary, 3 & 4 W. & M. Glover v. Cape.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 127 of this work, under the head Aſſignments.

Eaſter, 5 & 6 W. & M. Benſon v. Scott.

In a ſuit in ejectment a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. a cuſtom, that the tenants of the manor having a mind to alien, might ſurrender into the hands of two copyholders, &c. That Scot being a copyholder in fee, and ſurrenders, &c. to the uſe of the plaintiff in fee, and died, leaving his wife, who claimed her free-bank by the cuſtom, and at the next court the ſurrender was preſented, and thereon the plaintiff was admitted; and the queſtion being, whether the ſurrenderee, or the wife, or the wife, for her free-bank, ſhould have theſe lands? It was adjudged for the plaintiff, for the wife's title does not commence till after the death of the huſband, and then only to thoſe lands of which he died ſeiſed; but the plaintiff's title began by the ſurrender; for the admittance relates to that; and the caſe of two joint-tenants, 1 Inſt. 59. b. rules this caſe. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 185. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. 251. Ibid. vol. 12, p. 49.

Trinity, 7 W. 3 The King v. Kempe or Kemp.

A ſcire facias iſſued out of the petty bag-office in Chancery to repeal letters patent bearing date the 29th day of December, 27 Car. 2. by which the King granted to the defendant the office of ſearcher in Plymouth. The caſe was ſhortly this; King Charles 2. granted this office to J. M. during good pleaſure. Afterwards, by other letters patent, reciting the grant to M. he granted this office to one Fryar for life, to commence after the death, ſurrender or forfeiture of M. F. M. F. afterwards ſurren- his letters patent to the King; who afterwards, in conſideration of the ſurrender of the letters patent of F. granted by letters patent this office to Henry Kempe for life, to commence after the death, ſurrender, forfeiture, or other determination, of the eſtate of F. and afterwards to W. Kempe for life, (the now defendant) to commence after the death, ſurrender, forfeiture, or other determination of the eſtates of F. and H. Kempe. H. Kempe died, and then King Charles 2. died; and now, this ſcire facias is ſued out againſt the defendant to repeal theſe letters patent.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The queſtion is, whether Fryar's letters patent were good? For if they were not, thoſe of Kempe will not be good neither. But I am of opinion thoſe of Fryar are good.

1ſt. It has been objected, that they were void, becauſe they were not to commence on the determination of the eſtate of Martin, but on his death, ſurrender, or forfeiture, becauſe it was but an eſtate at will.

To which I anſwer, that an eſtate at will among common perſons cannot be ſurrendered, becauſe, being at the will of both parties, either of the parties may determine his will. But in the caſe of the King, it is not at the will of both parties, but of the King only, and the party cannot determine his will, but by ſurrender. For if it be an office of truſt, forbearance of execution is fineable; and ſurrender in ſuch caſes is conſtantly practiſed, as in the caſe of Hall v. Scroggs, C. J.

Then, if this office granted at will was ſurrenderable, as it certainly was, the expreſſion of the King in his letters patent was proper enough.

2dly. It has been objected, that it was not forfeitable.

To which I anſwer, that the King's tenant at will may be ſaid to forfeit. For perhaps the King on ſuggeſtion of crimes committed by the party, before he determined his will, ſhall be informed by inquiſition of the record, and then, on the very return of the inquiſition, the record is forfeited. But if it was an eſtate for life, then there ought to be a ſcire facias to repeal the letters patent.

Admitting the law to be ſo, this grant to F. was good, and might have commenced after the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture of M.

3dly. It has been objected againſt this grant to F. that ſuppoſe the King had determined his will during M.'s life, yet the grant to F. could not have taken effect, becauſe the eſtate of M. did not determine by the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture of M. and then, if the grant to F. was good, there would be a freehold to commence in future, which is againſt the rules of law.

To which I anſwer, that this grant would neverthel eſs have taken effect, but not till the time limited by the letters patent, which muſt have been after M.'s death, and in the mean time the King might have granted it to whomſoever he pleaſed; and when M. died, F.'s grant would have commenced.

As to the objection, that a freehold cannot be granted to commence in future, I anſwer, that this muſt be underſtood of a freehold in eſſe, as 5 Co. 93. Berwick's caſe; but a rent de novo may be granted to commence in future, or may be granted in fee, with fractions, 1 Co. Corbet's caſe, or to commence on any contingency; becauſe it is a creature of the grantor, who may mould it in what form he pleaſes. And the grant of this new office reſembles the grant of a rent de novo; for ſince there is no eſtate in eſſe, but it is new created by the King, he may mould it as he pleaſes. And altho' there is ſuch an office as this of ſearcher, yet the eſtate is new, and ſubject to any limitations. And no reaſons can be given why a grant in future of ſuch a new office ſhould not be good, as well where there is ſuch a precedent eſtate, as where there is none at all. For ſuppoſe, there being before a grantee for life, the King grants to another, to commence after the death of the grantee for life; this firſt grant is of no avail to make good the laſt grant, for the laſt grant is not a remainder, for then it ought to have been created at the creation of the particular eſtate; nor is it a reverſion, for neither the King, nor any other, has any reverſion of the office, and a grant by ſuch a name is void; but the King may grant an office in reverſion; not in reſpect of the particular eſtate, but it is only a future intereſt to commence in future. 1 Cro. Young v. Stanwell, and Young v. Fowler.

But if the King has the inheritance of an office, ſuch a grant as this had been void. And it ſeems to me, that the King's intent was, not to determine his will during M.'s life, but that after his death the grant to F. ſhould commence; and not to give an opportunity for any ſolicitation, to determine the eſtate of M. before his death. Laſtly, F.'s letters patent being good, the ſurrender of them was a good conſideration in the grant to Kempe, ſo that the letters patent granted to Kempe are good: and therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 49. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 275. Salk. vol. 2. p. 465.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Warſopp v. Abell.

In treſpaſs and ejectment for a copyhold, on the demiſe of J. S. the jury found a ſpecial verdict, the ſubſtance whereof was, that J. S. purchaſed this copyhold, and on the 23d day of October, anno 1652, made a ſurrender thereof to the uſe of himſelf for life, and then to Alice his wife, and to the ſurvivor of them; and after their deceaſe, then to the uſe of the laſt will of the ſaid J. S. and for default of ſuch will, to his own right heirs; and that he was admitted, &c. that he made a will, and deviſed all his whole eſtate, both real and perſonal, to A. his wife, after his deceaſe, the remainder to be divided between his relations on both ſides, according to the diſcretion of his executors, and ſome time after died.

They find that the executors did enter with an intent to divide the eſtate, purſuant to the will; but that they were not admitted to this copyhold.

So that the queſtion was, what eſtate was veſted in them before admittance, and what paſſed by this will.

And it was held, that the admittance of a tenant for life, on a ſurrender, is an admittance of thoſe in remainder. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 306.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Page v. Smith.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, whatever may paſs by deed without ſurrender, though it may be neceſſary to inrol the deed, is no copyhold: likewiſe whatſoever may paſs by ſurrender according to the cuſtom of the manor, without ſaying, at the will of the lord, is no copyhold. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 100.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Leigh or Lee v. Brace.

On a ſpecial verdict in ejectment, the caſe was:

W. B. being ſeiſed of the lands in queſtion, did on the 25th day of July, anno 1622, make a feoffment thereof in fee to T. W. and T. F. and their heirs, to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after his deceaſe to the uſe of his ſon T. B. and his heirs for ever; and for default of iſſue of the body of the ſaid T. B. then to the uſe and behoof of the right heirs of the feoffor for ever.

That W. B. afterwards died ſo ſeiſed, and T. his ſon entered on the lands, who, on the 16th day of April 1661, made his will, and, among other things, deviſed the ſame to his ſon-in-law J. C. and his heirs, on the body of R. his then wife begotten, or to be begotten, paying his debts and legacies. That the ſaid T. B. died ſeiſed of the ſaid lands; and after his death J. C. entered by virtue of the ſaid deviſe. That S. B. the defendant, is ſon and heir of the ſaid T. B. and that the ſaid S. after the death of his father, did likewiſe enter on theſe lands; that J. C. afterwards entered, and made a leaſe to the plaintiff for ſeven years, by virtue whereof he entered, and was poſſeſſed until S. B. ejected him, and ſo make a general concluſion.

The ſingle queſtion was, what eſtate T. B. took by this feoffment?

It was argued, that he had a fee ſimple, for ſuch an eſtate was expreſsly limited to him; and if the deed had gone no further, it muſt be an eſtate in fee, and no otherwiſe. But the words which immediately follow, raiſe a doubt, viz. and for default of iſſue of the body of the ſaid T. B. then to the grantor and his heirs.

Per curiam. The intention of the feoffor is plain, that an eſtate in fee ſhould not paſs to his ſon, for the ſubſequent words ſhew, that he intended no abſolute eſtate ſhould veſt in him; it is no more than if a gift had been made to a man and his heirs, viz. to the heirs of his body. Wherefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 266. Raym. vol. 1. p. 101.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Head v. Tyler.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If there be a copyhold eſtate for life, remainder to B. if the tenant for life forfeits, it is not ſuch a determination as to let in the remainder; but the lord enjoys it during the life of the tenant for life. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 123.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A tenancy eſcheated to the lord, becomes part of the manor; but if the lord purchaſe part, it is only holden of the manor, and not part of it; but the rent and ſervices are part. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 138.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Winter v. Lovedore, Lovedure, or Loveden: or Loveday v. Winter.

In ejectment, a ſpecial verdict was found, that G. P. was ſeiſed in fee of the manor of M. and on the marriage of his ſon, ſettled the ſaid manor to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to his wife for life, remainder to his ſon in tail, with a proviſoe, that he ſhould have power during his life, and his wife alſo after him, to demiſe the premiſes in poſſeſſion, for one, two, or three lives, or thirty years, or for any number of years determinable; on one, two, or three lives, ſo as ſuch demiſe be not of the demeſne lands. G. P. reciting, that J. S. and his wife held a copyhold tenement for life, demiſed the ſaid copyhold tenement to the leſſee for thirty years, to begin after the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture of J. S. and his wife; and the queſtion being, whether this leaſe of a copyhold was purſuant to, and warranted by the power? It was held in this caſe by Holt, Chief Juſtice.

1ſt. That any leaſe to commence in future is in ſome ſenſe a leaſe in reverſion, as it is oppoſed to a leaſe in poſſeſſion; but a leaſe within ſuch a power muſt be conſtrued of a leaſe to commence in poſſeſſion after another leaſe or intereſt already created before the reverſion of the power, and not after; and that a leaſe to commence after any other leaſe, is properly a leaſe in reverſion; but that a leaſe for life, to commence after another leaſe in being, is a concurrent leaſe, becauſe a freehold cannot expect, but muſt commence in poſſeſſion preſently; however, this may be ſaid to be a leaſe in reverſion within ſuch powers.

2dly. That G. P. might make a leaſe in reverſion abſolutely for thirty years, by virtue of this power, becauſe the limitations and reſtrictions are disjoined, and the latter part is carried on by way of enlargement of the power; to which Turton and Eyre, Juſtices, agreed; but Rokeby, Juſtice, was of a different opinion.

3dly. That this leaſe was void, becauſe it was of copyhold lands; for by a grant of the demeſnes the copyholds will paſs; and for the ſame reaſons, by excepting the demeſnes, the copyholds are excepted; and the rather, becauſe the power is derived out of the inheritance, and the tenant at will by his leaſes might deſtroy the copyhold, which is unreaſonable; and if there were nothing elſe for the power to work on in this caſe, he may by virtue thereof demiſe the rents and ſervices: therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 537. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. pag 244. 378. Ibid. vol. 12. p. 147. Raym. vol. 1. p. 267.

Summer Aſſizes, 10 W. 3. Clerk v. How.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 270 of this work, under the head Condition.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. Aſhmead v. Ranger.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 327 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Fiſher v. Nicholls.

In this caſe, Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that Copyhold Eſtates are ſubject to the rules of law, and will not paſs by ſuch words in a conveyance as are improper to paſs other eſtates, unleſs there is a cuſtom for that purpoſe, for that may and often does diſtinguiſh them; thus by cuſtom in ſome manors a grant to A. B. and C. ſhall be conſtrued as a gift to A. for life, remainder to B. for life, remainder to C. for life. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 100.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Fiſher v. Wegg

Copyhold lands were ſurrendered to the uſe of A. B. and C. and their heirs, equally to be divided between them and their heirs reſpectively.

Gould and Turton, Juſtices, held this a tenancy in common, by reaſon of the apparent intent of the parties.

And ſaid, that it was here as in the caſe of an uſe, which muſt be conſtrued according to wills to fulfil the intent; and in the caſe too of a copyhold, wherein, to ſupport the intention of the parties, limitations of the eſtate have been admitted, which are not allowed in freeholds. 1 Ro. Ab. 67. 2 Cro. 434. Pop. 125. 1 Saund. 151. 2 Vent. 365.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, on the contrary held it a joint tenancy, for that the words equally, &c. import no more than was implied in the foregoing words, to have alike, which they cannot but have as joint-tenants; and that copyholds will not paſs by more improper words than freeholds.

If a feoffment be to A. and B. equally to be divided, they are joint-tenants; for they have the land by one title and eſtate, and equally to be divided, imports nothing but what was implied before; but if it be to A. and B. to hold one moiety to A. and the other to B. they are tenants in common, for they have ſeveral titles, and there muſt be ſeveral liveries, and the words to hold are conſiſtent. But if it were to hold ten acres to one, and ten to the other, the words to hold would be void for repugnancy.

As for the word divided, he held that did not import a tenancy in common, for their poſſeſſion muſt be entire and undivided; to divide would be to deſtroy it, and it is ſtrange to create an eſtate from a word which implies only what would deſtroy it.

Tenants in common hold by ſeveral titles, or ſeveral rights; but their poſſeſſion is entire. At common law they were not compellable to make partition. And therefore in ſuing out a writ of partition, the party never ſhews whether he is tenant in common or joint-tenant; the poſſeſſion of the one is the poſſeſſion of the other, and he cannot be a diſſeiſor without an actual ouſter. Hob. 120. Mo. 868.

A deviſe to two and their heirs, equally to be divided, was formerly looked on as a joint eſtate. Vide Dy. 25, 158. Bent. 19. 3 Cro. 330. Now indeed it is an eſtate in common, not by force of the words, but that it appears to be the intention of the party, that there ſhould be no ſurvivorſhip: a deviſe to two equally to be divided to hold to them and the heirs of the ſurvivor, is a joint-tenancy. Style 211. 434.

Laſtly, He ſaid, joint-tenancies were favoured, for the law loves not fractions of eſtates, nor to divide and multiply tenures.

N B. Whilſt the eſtate continues in joint-tenancy, there is no alteration of the tenure. But if you turn it into a tenancy in common, all the entire ſervices multiply.

Judgment however was given according to the opinion of the other two juſtices. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 392. Raym. vol. 1. p. 622. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 296.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Smartle v. Penhallow.

In a ſuit in ejectment, a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. that the lands in queſtion were parcel of the manor of Tregoan, of which the biſhop of Exeter, leſſor of the plaintiff, was ſeiſed; and that by the cuſtom of the manor the ſaid lands were demiſeable by copy of court roll to two or three perſons for their lives, and the life of the ſurvivor, to have and to hold ſucceſſively in the manner mentioned in the charter, and not otherwiſe, and that the lord was to have a heriot on the death of every tenant dying ſeiſed. They farther find that one N. was tenant for life of the manor by grant from the predeceſſor of the biſhop; and that he by copy granted the tenement in queſtion to A. and his aſſigns, for the lives of B. and C. and of the ſaid A. and that N. is dead. The queſtion was, whether this grant be warranted by the cuſtom? And it was urged for the plaintiff, that A. had the whole eſtate, and that B. and C. were not named to take an intereſt but by way of limitation; and that if A. dies, here is room for an occupant, which is to put a tenant on the lord without his conſent: alſo if A. ſhould become a bankrupt, this eſtate would be aſſignable; and on this leaſe the lord can have but one heriot; whereas in the cuſtomary leaſes the lord is to have three. They admitted that where a power or cuſtom warrants a greater eſtate, it will warrant a leſſer, as if the lord may grant for three lives, he may for one: but then it muſt be of the ſame nature. If H. has a power to leaſe for three lives, he cannot leaſe for 500 years, though it be a leſſer eſtate in law. If a biſhop makes a leaſe for thirty years, it is wholly void as to the ſucceſſor, becauſe his power is exceeded: ſo in this caſe.

On the other ſide it was argued, that this was no greater eſtate than what the cuſtom allowed; that if this grant had been made to A. B. and C. To have and to hold ſucceſſively for their lives, they might have ſurrendered to three others, and the lord was compellable to admit them, and they would have an eſtate pur auter vie, that if the tenant may by his own act make ſuch an eſtate, it is moſt unjuſt to ſay that the lord cannot. As to the lord it is the ſame thing, whether A. takes for his own life, and the life of B. and C. or A. B. and C. take for their lives: and that cannot be an occupant of copyhold lands, neither are they within the ſtatute of frauds to be aſſets or deviſeable, 2 Ch. caſ. 201. and as to the heriot, it will be due on the death of every aſſignee that is admitted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. 1ſt. There can be no occupant of a copyhold eſtate for the prejudice it would do to the lord: but if the copyholder being tenant pur auter vie dies, the lord ſhall enter. As if there be a tenant for life of a copyhold, remainder to another for life, and the tenant for life commits a forfeiture, the lord ſhall enter. If H. grants a rent out of his lands to A. pur auter vie, and A. dies, ſhall not the rent ceaſe? What is the reaſon? Becauſe here wants a grantee. So it is here; an occupancy is for ſupplying a freehold: in copyholds the freehold is in the lord; the tenant has only an eſtate at will.

2dly. He held that the cuſtom conſiſted in three parts: 1ſt. The conſtitution of the eſtate, viz. by copy. 2dly. The extent for three lives. 3dly. The manner of the eſtate, which by operation of the cuſtom differs from the conſtitution at common law, viz. to three, to have and to hold ſucceſſively.

What is done here is not ſo much as the cuſtom: the cuſtom enables him to grant for three lives, and he grants but for one. If the cuſtom be to grant in fee, and not otherwiſe, yet the lord may grant for life, or to A. for life, and remainder to B. in tail. If the cuſtom be to grant for life, the lord may grant during life. 3 Cro. 323, 373. This is not like the caſe of a biſhop's leaſe: that cannot be good for any part, becauſe the ſtatute ties it up to an expreſs form. Otherwiſe perhaps, had it been that biſhops ſhould make leaſes for any number of years not exceeding ſuch a number.

As to the ſuppoſal of the bankruptcy, Powell at firſt doubted on that inconvenience, ſaying it could not be good if it prejudiced the lord; but Holt thought that made no difference; for if the copyholder being a bankrupt, his eſtate was aſſigned, the aſſignee would have the eſtate determinable on the death of the copyholder, and then the heriot would be due, and not by the death of the aſſignee; for ſo it was originally, and cannot be altered by any act of the copyholder.

Per curiam. This is a ſuppoſal not in the caſe, and therefore it was not determined: judgment was given for the defendant. 1 Roll. Abr. 511. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 188. Raym. vol. 2. p. 994. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 63.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Parker v. Kett.

In ejectment; on trial, the following caſe was ſtated for the opinion of the court, viz. Charles Kett being ſeiſed in fee of a copyhold, demiſed it to his wife for life, remainder to Elizabeth his wife in fee. Mr. Keck, the maſter in Chancery, was ſteward of this manor by patent, to act by himſelf or deputy. Mr. Keck appointed one Clerk to be his deputy, who acted as ſuch many years, and was ſent for by Charles Kett to take a ſurrender of the lands. Clerk went himſelf, but by a writing under his hand and ſeal appointed A. and B. to be his deputies jointly and ſeverally, only to take this ſurrender, which was done by A. accordingly, and afterwards preſented; and Elizabeth Kett the defendant admitted thereon, by Clerk.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court as follows:

Clerk, who was Mr. Keck's deputy, (and ſo it is of any other deputy, where a deputy may be appointed,) had full power to do any act or thing which his principal might have done. This is ſo eſſentially incident to a deputy, that a man cannot be a deputy to do any ſingle act or thing, nor can a deputy have leſs power than his principal: and if his principal makes him covenant that he will not do any particular thing which the principal may do, the covenant is void and repugnant: as if the under-ſheriff covenants that he will not execute any proceſs for more than 20 l. without ſpecial warrant from the high-ſheriff; this is void, becauſe the under-ſheriff is his deputy, and the power of the deputy cannot be reſtrained to be leſs than that of his principal; ſave only that he cannot make a deputy, becauſe it implies an aſſignment of his whole power, which he cannot aſſign over. That by conſequence A. was as well authoriſed by Clerk's writing, given him under his hand and ſeal, as if Mr. Keck himſelf had given it; of which there could be no queſtion, it being to do a particular act.

Though A. acted in his own name, without reciting his power or any relation to it, yet this taking of a ſurrender muſt be good; for he muſt be conſidered either as an attorney, or an under-deputy. Suppoſe the firſt, the law is plain; where a man does ſuch an act as he cannot do, ſo as to be effectual, any otherwiſe than by virtue of his authority, that ſhall be taken to be in execution of his authority: but where a man has an intereſt and authority, and does an act without reciting his authority, it ſhall be taken to be done by virtue of his intereſt. 6 Co. 17. And though an under-ſheriff muſt act in the name of the high-ſheriff, becauſe the writs are directed to the high-ſheriff, and for other particular reaſons; yet any other deputy may act either in his own name or in the name of his principal. So is the judgment of Comb's caſe, though in arguing it, it is ſaid otherwiſe; and ſo it is of an attorney, but it is more regular to act in the name of the principal. Laſtly; ſuppoſing him to be an under-deputy, as if he had not been conſtituted to do a particular thing, but to be Clerk's deputy, this had been void, and he had no real authority: yet even that conſtitution would have given him the colour and reputation of an authority, to act as a ſteward de facto. And what he does as ſuch, is ſufficient among the tenants, for they have no power to examine his authority, nor is he to render them any account of it. The caſes of Mo. 109, 110. 1 Lev. 288. 2 Cro. 552. 2 Ro. 7, 101, 130. are ſtronger. And ſo it is of an executor de facto, i. e. de tort executor.

Authorities by letter of attorney are either general or ſpecial; thus a letter of attorney may be to ſue in all caſes moved or to be moved, or to defend a particular ſuit. Sir Philip Sidney, when he went to travel, gave a letter of attorney to Sir Thomas Walſingham to act and ſell all his lands, and all his goods and chattels; and this was held good: where the authority is particular, the party muſt purſue it: if the act varies from it, he departs from his authority, and what he does is void; but that muſt be intended of a variance, not in circumſtance, but of a variance material and ſubſtantial; as where the perſon, the thing, the eſtate, or the date is miſtaken. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 96. Raym. vol. 1. page 658.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Machil v. Clerk. Error.

On a writ of error brought in this court, on a judgment given in the C. B. where the queſtion on a ſpecial verdict in ejectment was, viz. a tenant in tail, in conſideration of a marriage of his ſon, covenants to ſtand ſeized to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to the uſe of his ſon and heir, and the heirs male of his body by his intended wiſe, with ſeveral remainders over; and after he ſuffers a recovery in which he himſelf is tenant to the precipe, and vouches over the common vouchee; which recovery was to other uſes than thoſe mentioned by the covenant: ſo the queſtion was, whether the tenant in tail, notwithſtanding the covenant to ſtand ſeiſed, continued ſeiſed in tail, for then the recovery was good, otherwiſe it could not be good in this caſe, he coming in as tenant to the precipe.

Per curiam. We are of opinion that the recovery notwithſtanding the covenant to ſtand ſeiſed was good. And the Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it would be reaſonably expected from them to give the reaſons of their opinion, for though there were ſeveral authorities expreſs to the point, yet the reaſons of theſe judgments were not ſo obvious; for it has been a queſtion if a tenant in tail, by bargain and ſale, leaſe, and releaſe, or covenant to ſtand ſeiſed, conveyed the lands whereof he is ſeized in tail, to another and his heirs; whether that eſtate ſo conveyed does actually determine, (as Lord Littleton ſeems to hold) on the death of the tenant in tail; or does continue till entry of iſſue in tail: and we hold, that notwithſtanding the covenant has not that operation here; yet if a tenant in tail, bargain and ſell, leaſe and releaſe, or covenant to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of one of his blood in fee, that ſuch bargainee, &c. has a baſe fee, not determined by the death in tail, but continuing in the bargainee or releaſee, &c. till the iſſue in tail make an actual entry: this indeed ſeems to differ from the opinion we now give, but we will by and by make the diſtinction.

And it will be worth while to know and conſider the reaſon hereof, becauſe it ſeems to contradict Littleton.

The firſt reaſon then is, becauſe the tenant in tail himſelf has an eſtate of inheritance in him, which is not denied, before the ſtatute de donis he had it, and it was called a conditional fee; and the ſtatute de donis does not make any alteration of the eſtate, ſo as to make it not an inheritance, but only fixes it, ſo that there ſhall not be an alienation of it to the diſinheritance of the iſſue in tail, yet ſo as a baſe fee, may be made of it: and of baſe fees, ſee 1 Inſt. 18. a. If lands be given to a villain in tail; and the Lord enters, he has a baſe fee, that is, to his heirs, while the villain has heirs, of the entail; ſo that the tenant in tail has an inheritance in him, which may be turned into a baſe fee, then when he bargains and ſells, leaſes and releaſes, &c. this inheritance to another and his heirs, it is but reaſonable it ſhould paſs a baſe fee, eſpecially if nothing in the ſtatute be againſt it.

2dly. The tenant in tail has the whole eſtate tail in him; and why ſhould not he that has the whole eſtate by bargain and ſale, leaſe and releaſe, or covenant to ſtand ſeized, diveſt himſelf of the whole, and put it in the bargainee for the power of diſpoſing is an incident inſeparable to his eſtate.

3dly. Turning of the eſtate tail into a baſe fee, is not at all contradictory to the ſtatute de donis, nor any branch of it: that ſtatute has very ſtrong words to hinder an alienation to the prejudice of the iſſue in tail; yet we know the conſtruction that has been made of them. If a tenant in tail make a feoffment or buy a fine, it is ſo far a prejudice to the iſſue, that he ſhall be put to his action; and his entry is taken away, and he has no remedy but by a formedon in diſcender, and yet ſuch fine or feoffment was never taken as a breach of the ſtatute de donis. Sure then it ſhall be no breach of the ſtatute to have him put to his entry to recover the eſtate: ſince then it is his inheritance, and all is in him, and that a power of alienation is incident to the property that he has, and that an alienation made by him to put the iſſue to entry, is no breach of the ſtatute of donis.

From hence I infer, that ſuch eſtate by bargain and ſale, &c. made by him to one and his heirs, is not actually determined by his death; Seymour's caſe, 10 Co. 95. is in point.

Another inſtance comes home to the caſe in queſtion, and that is the caſe of an exchange; the eſtates muſt be equal, you cannot give an eſtate for life in change for an eſtate in fee; you may indeed give an eſtate for life, in exchange for another eſtate for life; an eſtate in fee for an eſtate in fee, that is, each party muſt take an eſtate of equal extent; if one gives an eſtate tail, and takes a fee, it is bad: if a tenant in tail and a tenant in fee make an exchange, they both have a fee ſimple (1 Inſt. 51. a.) without more ado, for in caſe of change there needs no livery, but only a reciprocal execution by both parties, and this is notwithſtanding a good exchange, and a fee ſimple paſſes from the tenant in tail, and ſhall continue till avoided by the iſſue; and here he is not put to his action to avoid it, becauſe here being no livery, there was no diſcontinuance. 1 Inſt. 332. Then the exchange muſt have this effect, that it paſſes a baſe fee till avoided by his iſſue: and if the iſſue will not agree to it, he may wave the land in fee conveyed to him, and enter into the other. But if he does not do ſo, but continue in the land given, the exchange ſtands good during his life; and after his death, his iſſue may avoid it by entering, and ſo on, from time to time. It therefore follows, that a baſe fee does paſs, otherwiſe it could not be a good exchange; if ſo, then, there is the ſame reaſon, that when a tenant in tail bargains and ſells, leaſes, and releaſes, and covenants to ſtand ſeiſed to uſes in fee, ſuch conveyances ſhould paſs a baſe fee, ſhould continue till determined by the act of the iſſue in tail. So the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. 18.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Brown v. Dyer.

If a copyholder dies, and his wife has her free bench, Quere, if this excreſcent eſtate does not ſo take away the deſcent, as if the ſon dies before the eſtate actually comes to him, that then the next heir to the father ſhall claim; and if this will not make a poſſeſſion of the brother? Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 70.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A copyholder has only a poſſeſſory property in timber trees, which if ſevered from the freehold by tempeſt or otherwiſe, the property would be in the lord. He ſaid further, and ſo was the opinion of the court, that it would be a hard cuſtom for the tenant to claim ſuch trees; for ſuch cuſtom would be to give away the property of the lord; eſpecially in this caſe, which was occaſioned by the act of God. He alſo queſtioned if there could be ſuch a cuſtom, as for a copyholder to cut timber; he having only a poſſeſſory intereſt, by reaſon of its being annexed to the copyhold land. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 69.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. For the nature of freehold lands, and lands held by copy of court, Roll. vol. 4. Rep. 31. 5 Rep. 84. or 34. At the will of the Lord, is the diſtinguiſhing mark of a copyhold, vol. 2. Lutt. 1165. 1171. 3 Bulſt. 230. 2 Vent. 143. Cro. El. 185. As to ſetting forth a cuſtom, Raſtal's Ent. 62. 2. Brownlow's Decla. 96. Cro. Car. 418. Where a cuſtom is, that all lands held of that manor ſhall paſs by ſurrender, and admittance; yet the lands may be freehold; and the manner of conveyance is cuſtomary in as much as livery is not requiſite. The freeholders themſelves can never be parcel of the manor, but it is the ſervices. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 85.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Crowther or Crowder, v. Oldfield.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 28 of this work, under the head Action.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Idle v. Cook.

A ſurrender was made of a copyhold eſtate for life, the remainder to a man and his wife for life, and their heirs and aſſigns; and for default of ſuch iſſue, the remainder over: the queſtion is, what eſtate the man and his wife have? there not being the words, of their bodies. Gould, J. held it an eſtate tail; and he ſaid, he made a difference between a copyhold and freehold eſtate as to this; he compared this caſe to Beriſford's caſe, in Jones's Rep. and Peck's caſe, in Littleton's Rep. he ſaid, ſuch iſſue qualified the general words. Litt. Rep. 347. Moor 424. He took a difference between a grant to a man and his heirs, and the heirs of him. Plowd. 541. 1 Lev. 50. Powis held it a fee-ſimple; to make an eſtate tail, it muſt appear from what body the iſſue muſt come. Litt. ſect. 31. But in caſe of a deviſe, it is otherwiſe, becauſe of the intention. Hob. 32. Co. Litt. 27. And in a conveyance, the words of the body are an eſſential part, but there may be words tantamount. 37 Aſſ. pl. 17. 5 H. 5. 6. Cro. El. 473. Fitz Abr. 743. It being an eſtate to the huſband and wife, and their heirs; the words, and for default of ſuch iſſue, are uncertain, whether it is meant the iſſue of both, or of the ſurvivor; made no difference between the limitation of a freehold and a copyhold; and cited Cro. Car. 367. 2 Sid. 41. The will of the donor is to be obſerved in eſtates-tail, but then the will muſt be manifeſtly expreſſed. In conveyances, the limitation of eſtates have known words; and he ſaid, it would be of dangerous conſequence to allow a latitude. Powell held it a fee-ſimple; for the words were, and to the heirs of the aforeſaid baron and feme, and for default of ſuch iſſue. He was not for confounding eſtates tail and fee; for though the intent of the parties might be to make an eſtate-tail, yet he would ſuffer a miſchief rather than an inconvenience. He inquired if there was any thing in this caſe to make it a fee-ſimple conditional at common law, which the ſtatute de donis has now made a fee-tail; for this ſtatute was made to prevent the abuſes of the wills of donors, by letting a ſecond huſband or wife be dowable, or tenant by curteſy. He could not ſee the difference that Gould took between a gift to a man and his heirs, and to the heirs of that man; he thought they had gone too far already in matters of intent, which made the law ſo uncertain; and in this caſe there was nothing but general words, for the words ſuch iſſue to refer to. Holt held, that this is a fee, and by no means can be conſtrued a fee-tail. He owned the intention was to make it a tail, but it could by no rule of law be ſo done, without manifeſt violation of law. He ſaid, ſurrenders muſt be conſtrued as deeds. Litt. ſect. 31. To make a tail, there muſt be a deſcription of the body from whence the heirs muſt come. Co. Litt. 27. There is a great deal of difference between a man's expreſſing his intent in a will, and in a conveyance; for in the laſt, the law has eſtabliſhed certain legal words, and no other, though they are tantamount, will do; but in a will, the ſtatute 33 H. 8. gives him power to convey away his lands at his will and pleaſure; and he relied on the words will and pleaſure: had the ſubſequent words, for default of ſuch iſſue, been conſiſtent with the firſt words, they would have qualified the general words. If a man gives an eſtate to a baſtard, and his heirs, if he dies without iſſue, the remainder over is void; for it is a limitation on a fee, to defeat and defraud the lord of his eſcheat. Jones 342. A. v. T. he ſaid was a great authority in this caſe; and he ſaid he could not diſtinguiſh between them. Co. Litt. fol. 20. He ſaid, a grant to a man and his heirs lawfully begotten, would be a fee, but to a man and the heirs of him would be a tail.

To conſtrue this an eſtate-tail would be repugnant to the premiſes, becauſe it is to them and their aſſigns, ſo that it is deſigned an aſſignable eſtate, which is contrary to an eſtate-tail, for that is reſtrained by the ſtatute. Hob. 170. Dyer 264. As the intent of the parties is to be conſidered, ſo the rules of law are to be obſerved. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. page 57. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1144. Salk. vol. 2. p. 620.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Brown v. Dyer.

In the caſe of a ſurrender to the uſe of A. the lands were found to be ſurrendered into the hands of the lord himſelf in full court; and that the lord aſſeſſed a fine on the ſurrenderee, but never admitted him.

Per curiam. The heir of the ſurrenderee had no title; for the title of the ſurrenderee is wholly by the copy of the court roll, made from the entry on the court roll, which before admittance cannot be. But in caſe of a deſcent, the heir may ſurrender before admittance, becauſe he has a title by deſcent; but the lord in this caſe ſhall have a fine. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 73.

Michaelmas, 5 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A copyholder has a poſſeſſory property, and when his poſſeſſion is gone, his property is gone; now ſhall the ſeverance transfer the property? &c.

Powell, J. Suppoſe a cuſtom, that if the houſe fall, the materials ſhould be the tenant's, could that be good? Again, ſhall the act of God do a wrong to the lord? Frank-bank was to encourage the tenant to go into the wars; if they were killed, the lord would not take the benefit, but gave the eſtate to the wife, to encourage them to fight, and this, I think, was the original of frank-bank. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 94.

Michaelmas, 7. Ann. Adams v. Hincloe.

On a ſpecial verdict the queſtion was, whether a copyhold could be entailed without laying a ſpecial cuſtom for ſo doing? Adjudged by the whole court that it might.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, rejected the notion of Lord Coke about the ſtat. de donis, co-operating with the cuſtom; and held that that ſtatute turns all thoſe eſtates, which at common law were fee-ſimple conditional, into eſtates-tail; and if a copyholder by licence make a leaſe for years, the ſurrenderee (leſſee) of that copyhold is within the ſtat. 32 Hen. 8. to bring debt as aſſignee. Vide Mod. Rep. val. 11. page 199.

Trinity, 10 Ann. Thomlinſon v. Dighton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 160 of this work, under the head Deed.

Trinity, 10 Ann. Backhouſe v. Wells.

The caſe was, Thomas Backhouſe deviſed lands to John Backhouſe for his life only, without impeachment of waſte, and after his deceaſe, then to the iſſue male of his body lawfully to be begotten, and then goes on, with remainder to the heirs male of the body of ſuch iſſue lawfully to be begotten, with two remainders over in the ſame words.

In Hilary, 12 Ann. the Chief Juſtice delivered the reſolution of the court in this caſe, as follows:

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The queſtion is, whether this is an eſtate for life, or an eſtate-tail? It is an eſtate for life, and not an eſtate tail. I do not know how there can be clearer words than theſe; the words are proper and legal, and ſuch as a lawyer would make uſe of, and the vulgar ſenſe of the words is the ſame as the legal ſenſe.

The word iſſue has been made equivalent to heirs of the body, but that is not always ſo; for otherwiſe the ſubſequent words of limitation muſt be rejected. One may indeed gueſs from other parts of the will, what the party might mean, but that is no concluſive argument.

As to the word only, that is, in ſome caſes that may be put, of no effect; but though in a clear caſe it may make no alteration, yet it does not follow, but in a doubtful caſe it may be explanatory and reſtrictive. It would change the ſenſe of the word iſſue, only to reject the ſubſequent words; ſtronger words could not be invented to make iſſue in tail take as a purchaſer, than the words in this caſe. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Forteſcue, p. 133. Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 181.

Hilary, 11 Ann. Thornley v. Fleetwood, otherwiſe the Ducheſs of Hamilton's Caſe.

In a ſuit in ejectment in the court of C. B. the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. 1ſt. That Charles, Lord Gerard, in Nov. 1660, ſettled the eſtate in queſtion, to the uſe of himſelf and the heirs male of his body, with remainder to the heirs male of the body of Thomas, mas, the firſt Lord Gerard, remainder to his own right heirs. 2dly, In 1684, Charles, Lord Gerard, on the death of Digby, Lord Gerard, (only ſon of Lord Charles,) without iſſue male, entered on the eſtate in queſtion (not in jointure) claiming the ſame as heir male of the body of Thomas, the firſt Lord Gerard, by virtue of the ſame limitation in that ſettlement, and the reſidue when the jointure fell in; and during the time of this his enjoyment, ſuffered ſeveral recoveries, and ſettled the eſtate on his marriage, in the year 1689, and died without iſſue in the year 1767, leaving Philip his only brother then ſurviving, who is heir male of Thomas, firſt Lord Gerard, and is now living.

Charles and his brother Philip were in the year 1676, ſent by their father to St. Omers, and educated there for five years in the Romiſh religion, which religion they profeſſed. The laſt Lord Charles died in the year 1707, and on his death the Ducheſs of Hamilton claimed the eſtate, as right heir of the firſt Charles, Lord Gerard; notwithſtanding the eſtate tail, limited to the heirs males of the body of Thomas, firſt Lord Gerard, ſtill ſubſiſts in Philip; alledging that the laſt Lord Charles and his brother Philip, having been educated in a popiſh ſeminary, are utterly incapable of taking any eſtate, and that ſhe has the right of entry.

The principal queſtion was, whether one brought up in a popiſh ſeminary, was, notwithſtanding any incapacity by him incurred on that account, ſtill capable of ſuffering a common recovery? Judgment having been given for the defendant in C. B. a writ of error was brought here; but the court being divided in their opinion as to the judgment given in the C. B. by conſent of the plaintiff in error, a writ of error was brought in parliament, where after ſolemn argument, and the opinion of all the judges taken thereon, who were of opinion, that the Ducheſs could not enter during the life of Philip (who was a monk) and the houſe thinking that to be a material objection, affirmed the judgments given in the courts below. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 113. 356. 406. Strange, vol. 1. p. 318.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Smith v. Trigg.

On an iſſue directed out of Chancery, for the opinion of this court, the caſe was, H. H. being ſeized in fee of the premiſes in queſtion, married J. the widow and relict of J. T. the leſſor of the plaintiff's great uncle. That after the marriage H. H. ſurrendered the premiſes to the uſe of his will, and afterwards deviſed the ſame to J. his wife, and her heirs, and died without iſſue by her; after whoſe death J. was admitted, and likewiſe ſurrendered to the uſe of her will, and deviſed the ſame to J. D. her daughter and heir by her firſt huſband J. T. and to her heirs for ever, and ſoon after died. That J. D. before admittance, made her will, and thereby gave the premiſes to the defendant, in the words following: Item, I give and bequeath all my freehold, and alſo all my copyhold eſtate, which I intend to ſurrender to the uſe of this my will, lying in Edmonton, in the county of Middleſex, unto my couſin T. T. (the defendant,) for and during the term of his natural life, with remainder over. That after making the will, and before any court-day, J. the deviſor died, having never ſurrendered to the uſe of her will; but the defendant, who is the deviſee, is notwithſtanding admitted under the deviſe.

Per curiam. Adjudged, That J. was in by deſcent, becauſe ſhe was heir at law to the teſtatrix; and that where two rights meet together in one perſon, (as they did in this caſe,) the one being by deviſe, and the other by deſcent as heir at law; the deſcent is the moſt noble means to come to an eſtate, and therefore the law adjudges that the beſt title ſhall ſtand.

So where a feoffment is made to ſeveral uſes, the reverſion in fee to the heirs of the feoffor, in ſuch caſe the heir ſhall take the reverſion by deſcent, becauſe it was part of the old eſtate of the feoffor; for ſo much of the uſe of the lands which he did not diſpoſe of by the feoffment ſtill remained in him as part of the old eſtate.

But in the caſe of a will, if a man deviſe any other eſtate to the heir at law than what he was to take by deſcent, (as for inſtance, if the teſtator deviſes a leſs eſtate to him, or any eſtate in fee to ariſe on a condition,) there it is otherwiſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. page 23. Strange, vol. 1. page 487.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Shaw v. Weigh et al'.

On an ejectment brought in the court of Great Seſſions in Wales, by the plaintiff againſt the defendant, and fourteen others, on two demiſes, on trial of the iſſue, the jury find one of the defendants not guilty, and as to the others, find a ſpecial verdict, to the following effect, viz.

That T. R. was ſeiſed in fee of the premiſes in queſtion on the 1ſt day of Auguſt 1675; that on the 2d day of Auguſt, in the ſame year, he made his will, and deviſed the ſaid premiſes to his wife D. for her life, and for her better ſupport, he alſo deviſed her 500 l. to be raiſed by the ſale of timber, or digging of coal; and after her deceaſe, he deviſed the premiſes to three truſtees, and the ſurvivor of them, in truſt for his two ſiſters, A. L. and D. E. equally between them, during their natural lives, without committing any manner of waſte; provided that whatever part of the 500 l. ſhould be paid his wife by either of his ſiſters, the ſame ſhould be re-imburſed to them, by getting of coal on the premiſes only; and if either of his ſiſters ſhould happen to die, leaving iſſue or iſſues of either of her or their bodies, lawfully begotten, then in truſt for ſuch iſſues of the mother's ſhare, or elſe in truſt for the ſurvivor or ſurvivors, and their reſpective iſſue or iſſues; and if it ſhould happen that both the ſiſters ſhould die without iſſue, as aforeſaid, and their iſſue or iſſues to die without iſſe or iſſues lawfully begotten, then in truſt for J. S. in tail male, remainder to R. G. (the leſſor of the plaintiff) and the heirs male of his body, with ſeveral remainders over: that the deviſor died, and his wife entered and enjoyed for life; and on her deceaſe, the two ſiſters entered, and were poſſeſſed: that A. one of the ſiſters, died without iſſue, and D. E. (the other ſiſter) ſurvived her, and on the 29th day of April 1683, levied a fine, and ſuffered a recovery, to the uſe of herſelf in fee: that J. S. died without iſſue in the lifetime of D. E. who is ſince dead without iſſue; on whoſe death R. G. entered, and made the leaſe to the plaintiff, who entered, and was poſſeſſed till ejected by the defendant, &c.

On this ſpecial verdict judgment was given in the court of Grand Seſſions for the defendant, and on error brought in this court, the general errors were aſſigned.

Per curiam. We are all of opinion that the judgment given below is erroneous, and ought to be reverſed.

We are all of opinion that the ſiſters took an eſtate for life only, with contingent remainders to their children; and this both from the words and intent of the will. As to the words: it is to them during their natural lives, without committing any manner of waſte, and theſe are the ſtrongeſt words that can be uſed in a will for that purpoſe. As to the intent: 1ſt. The precedent deviſe to his wife is in the ſame words, and it is plain and manifeſt he intended ſhe ſhould have it but for life. 2dly. The proviſo for raiſing the 500*l.* is a ſtrong argument that he meant they ſhould take only for life; for if it was in tail they might fell timber, and dig what coals they pleaſed; and it is obſervable, that he has given the two ſiſters leſs power in that reſpect than he gave his wife; for the wife could raiſe money by the ſale of timber or digging of coal, but the ſiſters are to raiſe it by the getting of coal only. 3dly. It is very obſervable, that the iſſue of the two ſiſters have not that power given them, which ſhews he knew the general power they would have, tenants in tail, did not need to have ſuch a clauſe added to them. 4thly. The clauſe by which he reſtrains his ſiſters from committing waſte is an evidence of his intent to give it but for life. 5thly. The words, and if either of my ſiſters happen to die, leaving iſſue, then in truſt for ſuch iſſue, do not make iſſue a word of limitation, but only a ſhewing of the perſon he intended ſhould take after his ſiſters. The word iſſue has not one determinate ſenſe, in which it is to be taken in all caſes, no not in a common law conveyance, and much leſs in a will, where the intent of the party is chiefly to be regarded. If a man makes a feoffment to A. and his iſſue male, this is not an eſtate-tail in the feoffee, for want of the word heirs. 1 Roll. Abr. 837. r. 1.

The words ſurvivor or ſurvivors of them, if they are of any uſe, muſt refer to the iſſue, and not to the two ſiſters, out of which there can be no ſurvivors; and ſince they may, conſiſtently with the other words of the will, be applied to the iſſue, we think they are too material to be rejected; and rejected they muſt be, unleſs they are ſo applied. The word iſſue may have a different conſtruction even in the ſame will. A deviſe to A. and his iſſue will make it a word of limitation; but if it be to A. for life, and after to his iſſue, and the iſſue or heirs of the body of ſuch iſſue, in the firſt part it will be a pointing out of the perſon, and in the ſecond a word of limitation; and that was the opinion of the court in the caſes of Loddington v. Kime, and Backhouſe v. Wells, where they did not intirely found their judgment on the word only.

So that on the whole we are of opinion, that the two ſiſters took only an eſtate for life; the conſequence of which is, that the fine and recovery, though they were a forfeiture of the eſtate for life, could not bar the remainder to the leſſor of the plaintiff, againſt whom judgment was given below; which we think ought to be reverſed, and judgment given for the plaintiff to recover damages, but not the poſſeſſion.

Afterwards this cauſe by writ of error was brought before the Houſe of Lords, where the judgment of this court was reverſed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 798. Forteſcue, page 58. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 253. 382.

Mich. 12 Geo. The Duke of Somerſet v. France & al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 329 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Sir William Hatton, Bart. v. Haſſel.

At niſi prius in Middleſex, in an action brought for a fine of 75 l. for an admiſſion of the defendant to a copyhold, it appeared that the premiſes were of the value of 50 l. per annum, and a year and half, being 75 l. was aſſeſſed: the defendant inſiſted on paying only 24 l. it appearing his rent was but 16 l. the reſt ariſing from improvements made under an old leaſe, by licence of the Lord. And Lord Hardwicke was of opinion, that the fine ſhould be ſet according to the preſent improved value, which is all the Lord has to look after; and if it was otherwiſe, this might open a door to defeat the Lord in a great meaſure. Therefore there was a verdict for the plaintiff for 75 l. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1042.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Dubber v. Trollop. Error.

A remainder was deviſed to the teſtator's ſon for life, and his heirs male, and ſeveral remainders over; and the heir of one of theſe remainder men being plaintiff in ejectment in the C. B. judgment was given on a ſpecial verdict for the defendant; and on a writ of error in this court, the only queſtion was, as below in the C. B. whether theſe words in the will do make an eſtate-tail in the teſtator's ſon, or only an eſtate for life? The opinion of the court below was, that it was an eſtate-tail.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave their opinion.

Lord Hardw. ſaid, he thought it a plain caſe; and cited the caſe of Millar v. Seagrave, Mich. 10 Geo. in C. B. where a deviſe was to Serjeant Miller and Charrock his wife for life, remainder to the next heir male of their bodies; and the court held, that if the word heir male be in, no addition of firſt, next, right, &c. makes any variation, but it will go in courſe of deſcent, unleſs there are other words, viz. words of purchaſe, and not of limitation, as in Archer's caſe; and cited 8 Roll. Abr. 832. let. k. where land given even in a grant to a man, and his heir paſſes a fee, becauſe the word is a collective term.

Page and Lee, Juſtices, were of the ſame opinion clearly, and Lee mentioned a caſe cited by Lord Hale in 1 Vent. 230, where the words were next heir male, and determined to make an eſtate tail; and he obſerved, that this caſe is ſtronger than that, becauſe of the words which follow, viz. for want of heir male, which are reſtrictive. Therefore the judgment was affirmed. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 160.

Hilary, 10 Geo. 2. Moor v. The Mayor and Jurats of Haſtings.

On a mandamus to admit the plaintiff to his freedom, on great debate in court, the poſtea was ordered to be delivered to the plaintiff; the proof being well enough, for a reaſonable fine does not from the force of the term import an uncertain fine; and if it may be applied either way, it is well enough. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1070.

Michaelmas, 17 Geo. 2. Everall v. Smalley.

In ejectment, a caſe was made for the opinion of the court, viz. that by the cuſtom of the manor of Collingham, a tenant in tail of a copyhold might ſurrender the ſame and bar his iſſue, without ſuffering a recovery; and that by the ſame cuſtom a recovery might be ſuffered in the manor court, and have the ſame effect. The leſſor of the plaintiff in this caſe claimed under a bare ſurrender; and it was objected, that the cuſtom to bar by ſurrender could only be ſupported from neceſſity, where there was no other way; whereas here it could be done by recovery, and therefore no neceſſity appeared.

Per curiam. There is no caſe to warrant any ſuch diſtinction, and there is nothing unreaſonable in allowing two ways of alienating eſtates; the cuſtoms are both of equal antiquity, and we cannot prefer one to the other. The ſurrender is the moſt natural way, and the cheapeſt. The poſtea muſt be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1197.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The Earl of Bath v. Abney, Spinſter.

On a caſe out of Chancery for the opinion of this court on the two following queſtions, viz.

1ſt, Whether the ſurviving executor of the ſurviving truſtee of a term of 99 years, ought to come in to be admitted tenant of certain copyhold premiſes?

2dly, In caſe he ought, whether the Lady of the manor will be entitled to any fine on ſuch admittance?

After hearing council on both ſides, and taking time maturely to conſider this matter, the court gave their opinion.

Per curiam. We are of opinion, that the ſurviving executor of a ſurviving truſtee of a term of 99 years, ought to come in to be admitted tenant of the copyhold premiſes, and that the Lady of the manor will be entitled to a fine on ſuch admittance. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 206.

Eaſter, 33 Geo. 2. Martin on the demiſe of Henry Weſton v. Mowlin.

This was a ſpecial caſe from Dorſetſhire aſſizes, on an ejectment brought for the recovery of a cloſe of paſture of twelve acres, called New Cloſe, part of the manor of Wyke Regis and Ellwell, in the county of Dorſet. On not guilty pleaded, and iſſue joined thereon, the cauſe was tried; and a verdict was found for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of the court on a caſe ſtated, which was by the conſent of the plaintiff's council reduced to two queſtions, viz.

1ſt. Whether any eſtate-tail was created by the will of old Hen. Weſton the grandfather to Hen. Weſton the ſon, and Ann his wife, and the heirs of their two bodies?

2dly. If any ſuch eſtate-tail was thereby created, then whether it was barred by the ſurrender of Hen. Weſton the ſon without his wife Ann?

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. As to the conſtruction of the will of old Hen. Weſton, if it appeared that the teſtator really meant and intended to deviſe this cloſe as land, it would then be a deviſe of land, the mortgage being forfeited by law, and the eſtate in the land become abſolute; but if it appears that the teſtator meant and intended it as a bequeſt of money only, then it would be conſidered in a court of equity as a ſpecific bequeſt of money, and a court of equity would not direct the money to be laid out in land without expreſs words in the will to ground ſuch direction on.

As to the eſtate's being barred in caſe it had paſſed by the deviſe, there is no doubt but it would have been well barred by this ſurrender.

By the cuſtom of the manor, intailed copyhold eſtates are barrable by ſurrender in the lord's court, and Hen. Weſton the ſon here actually made ſuch a ſurrender, though he would not bar it in one form he might do it in another. Wherever the tenant in tail of a freehold eſtate could by any means bar the eſtate, there this tenant in tail of this copyhold might do it by ſurrender, and his ſurrender ſhall operate as a good recovery, conſequently on this point the leſſor of the plaintiff can have no title.

Per curiam. Let the poſtea be delivered to the defendant, and judgment entered for him as in the caſe of a nonſuit. Vide Bur. vol. 2. page 969.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 3. Stephenſon, Gent. v. Hill.

Adjudged, That a lord cannot preſcribe for his cuſtomary freeholders, though he may preſcribe for his tenants and farmers of copyholds holden at will. Vide Bur. vol. 3. page 1275.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 3. Baddeley v. Leppingwell.

On an action of treſpaſs for breaking &c. the plaintiff's cloſe, called the Hop-ground, the defendant pleaded not guilty; and alſo a juſtification of his entry under a grant in fee from T. A. Eſq; lord of the manor of Hedingham-borough, com. Eſſex, made to him on the 10th Dec. 1761, at a court-baron, to hold to him and his heirs, by copy of court-roll. The plaintiff in her replication admitted, that T. A. Eſq; was lord of the manor aforeſaid, and was ſeiſed in fee of the cloſe aforeſaid, but alledged, that at a court held for the ſaid manor on the 3d July, 1754, the lord made a prior grant of the ſame premiſes to the plaintiff and one E. B. her ſiſter, to hold in coparcenary; and that E. B. died, and thereon at a ſubſequent court the lord granted her moiety to the plaintiff in fee, and ſhe was admitted to the ſame on the 25th June 1765, and ſo became ſolely ſeiſed. The defendant in his rejoinder alledged, that the lord had made a former grant to T. J. in fee, who died, and the premiſes thereon deſcended to T. J. his nephew and heir, who conveyed the ſame to the defendant, and traverſes the grant alledged in the replication to have been made by T. A. Eſq; to the plaintiff and her ſiſter E. B. On the traverſe iſſue was joined, and the cauſe was tried at Eſſex aſſizes, and a ſpecial caſe was ſtated for the opinion of the court, which was afterwards reduced to the two following queſtions, viz.

1ſt. Whether S. B. took an eſtate in fee, or for life only, under the will of T. J?

2dly. If ſhe took an eſtate for life only, then whether the defendant could take advantage thereof on the iſſue joined on theſe pleadings?

After hearing the arguments of council on both ſides, and taking time to conſider the caſe, the court gave judgment thereon.

Wilmot, Juſtice. On the firſt queſtion, which is the material point, we are clearly of opinion, "That "S. B. took an eſtate of inheritance."

As to the ſecond queſtion, it is extremely clear, it depends on the nature of copyhold eſtates.

Formerly copyhold eſtates were mere tenancies at will; a middle eſtate between freeholders and villains: at length they acquired ſtability by cuſtom. The lord is not intitled to his fine till admittance, but the admittance is merely form. On a ſurrender of a copyhold, the eſtate remains in the ſurrenderer till admittance. The lord, by the cuſtom, has only a cuſtomary power to make an admittance, according to the form and effect of the ſurrender.

The preſent admittance was on a deſcent: for the plaintiff and her ſiſter E. B. held in coparcenary. The defendant could traverſe nothing here, but the grant which the plaintiff had alledged in her replication; and if ſhe was not heir, the admitting of her as ſuch is void.

If Sarah took a fee under the will, then the admiſſion of the plaintiff in fee is good; but if ſhe took only an eſtate for life under the will, then the grant to the plaintiff was void, and the grant to the defendant L. would be ſubſtantiated, he claiming under the heir at law of the teſtator; and in that caſe the defendant would not be a wrong-doer. If it had reſted on that, I ſhould think that the validity and operation of the grant would have come in queſtion on this iſſue.

On the other hand, if ſhe took an eſtate of inheritance, (as we hold that ſhe did) this totally varies the caſe, for then the plaintiff had a good title under her deviſe, and the ſubſequent deſcent, and the defendant could have none under the heir at law, and poſſeſſion alone would be ſufficient for her to maintain this action againſt the defendant, though it could not have been ſo in caſe the real title had been in the defendant.

Per curiam. Let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1533.

Evidence.

Hilary, 2 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Fezat.

Pending a ſuit in the ſpiritual court, the woman exhibited an indictment in this court againſt all the witneſſes who might prove the marriage, and it was for a conſpiracy by force and arms to carry her away againſt her will, &c.

The court would not ſtay the proceedings on the indictment, but it was tried at the bar, and the woman being produced as a witneſs, it was objected againſt her, that ſhe ought not to be allowed to give her evidence, becauſe there was a marriage proved in the ſpiritual court; and where the conſequence of the evidence will redound to the benefit of the witneſs, he is always rejected.

Per curiam. Brown was executed for ſtealing Mrs. R. and ſhe was allowed to be a witneſs in that caſe.

And in Fulwood's caſe on the ſtat. of H. 7. the woman was allowed to be a witneſs; and ſo ſhe was in this caſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. page 8.

Anonymous. Before Holt, Chief Juſtice. At Niſi Prius at Hertford, 1690.

In debt for rent, on nil debet pleaded, the ſtatute of limitations may be given in evidence, for the ſtatute has made it no debt at the time of the plea pleaded, the words of which are in the preſent tenſe; but in caſe on non aſſumpſit, the ſtatute of limitations cannot be given in evidence, for it ſpeaks of a time paſt, and relates to the time of making the promiſe. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 278.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The King v. The Inhabitants of Hornſey.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. On a preſentment for not repairing a highway, on not guilty pleaded, you cannot give any thing in evidence, but only that the way is repaired. If they plead, they ought not to repair, they muſt ſet forth who ought. You cannot give in evidence no highway, but may traverſe it.

Eyres, Juſtice, was of a contrary opinion. Dolbin, Juſtice. They may give in evidence, that it is no highway, but not that they ought not to repair. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 13.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The King v. Lord Preſton.

Lord Preſton was committed by the court of Quarter-Seſſions for refuſing to be ſworn to give evidence to the grand jury on an indictment of high-treaſon. He was brought by habeas corpus into this court, and Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it was a great contempt, and that had he been there he would have fined him, and committed him till he paid the fine; but being otherwiſe, he was bailed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 278.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. On a Trial on the Cuſtom of the Manor of Bray.

On evidence, the court ſaid, that a copy of a court roll of a manor is good evidence; for where ever the original is evidence, there a copy is. The copy of a probate is good evidence. Sir F. L. was refuſed to be a witneſs of a cuſtom, becauſe he claimed by it; but any tenant of a manor, that claims not by the cuſtoms is a good witneſs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 24.

Michaelmas, 4 W. & M. Howard v. Tremaine or Tremain.

On a bill exhibited in Chancery to perpetuate teſtimony, &c. the defendant (who was heir at law) ſtood in contempt, and would not anſwer, and thereon the plaintiff had a commiſſion, and examined witneſſes to the matter of his bill de bene eſſe, and the defendant joined in the commiſſion, and croſs-examined ſome of the witneſſes produced for the plaintiff, and before the anſwer came in, the witneſſes died: and on a trial in ejectment, in which the plaintiff made title under this will, the queſtion was, whether theſe depoſitions could be given in evidence? And a verdict was taken for the plaintiff, but the poſtea ſtayed till the opinion of the court was had on this point: and it was not queſtioned, but if the defendant had anſwered, and theſe depoſitions had been taken after, they had been good evidence againſt the ſame parties, and thoſe that claim under them.

Eyre, Juſtice. It might be very inconvenient if this ſhould not be allowed as evidence: how otherwiſe can a deviſee examine witneſſes to perpetuate teſtimony? For the heir at law will not anſwer to the plaintiff's bill; and on the other ſide, he will not call in queſtion the title of the deviſee, as long as he has witneſſes alive to prove the will; but as ſoon as they are dead, then he will commence his ſuit. Shower, 463. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 279. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 146.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Brook v. Smith. At Niſi Prius, Middleſex.

On an action of aſſumpſit, evidence was given, that the debt was attached by the cuſtom of London before the action brought, and condemnation had there before plea pleaded, and it was urged that this ſhould relate to defeat the action.

Per curiam. It has been ruled, that if an attachment and condemnation be before the writ purchaſed, it may be given in evidence on the general iſſue, becauſe that is an alteration of the property before the action brought; but if the attachment only be before the writ purchaſed, it ought to be pleaded in abatement of the writ; and if the condemnation be after the action commenced and before the plea pleaded, then it may be pleaded in bar, but ſhall not be given in evidence on the plea of non aſſumpſit, for that the property is not altered until condemnation; and in this caſe the plaintiff had a verdict. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 280.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Anonymous.

Adjudged, That where ſeveral defendants are joined in an information, and ſome of them have not pleaded, the Attorney General may enter a noli proſ. as to them, and they are good witneſſes. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 40.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Anonymous.

In an action of debt on a bond brought by J. S. ſheriff of the county of ——. the defendant pleaded that the ſaid bond was acknowledged by J. N. to the plaintiff, for the office of under-ſheriff, and that he was ſurety in the ſaid bond; and then he pleaded ſtat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. c. 16. againſt buying and ſelling offices, &c. and on the trial A. was produced as a witneſs, to prove on what account, or on what occaſion this bond was acknowledged, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to admit A. to be a witneſs, becauſe it appeared, that he was privately intruſted by both parties, to make the bargain, and keep it ſecret. And alſo ſaid, a truſtee ſhall not be a witneſs, in order to betray the truſt. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 733.

Eaſter, 6 W. & M. Smartle on the Demiſe of Newport v. Williams.

On a trial at bar in this cauſe, a deed of bargain and ſale acknowledged by the bargainee and inrolled, by which a term for years was aſſigned, was given in evidence without any proof made of the bargainor's ſealing and delivery thereof; and after debate it was allowed: for the acknowledgement of the party in a court of record, or before a maſter extraordinary in the country (as this was) is good evidence of its being ſealed and delivered; and ſuch an acknowledgment eſtops a man from pleading it is not his deed. Alſo inrollments of deeds on the ſtatute are admitted every day in evidence without witneſſes of the ſealing and delivery; and it is the acknowledgment which gives it credit, and not its operation or contents. Alſo they held a ſworn copy of a deed inrolled good evidence. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 281.

Eaſter, 6 W. & M. Anonymous.

A ſhop-book is not evidence for the tradeſman, but is good evidence againſt him, or for a ſtranger. The ſame law holds of a ſcrivener's book, for money paid by him, or received to the uſe of aſtranger, or the book of a burſar of a college. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 745.

Lent Aſſizes at Cambridge, 6 W. 3. Anonymous.

The diſpute was between the Lord of the Manor and the deviſee of a copyhold of the ſame manor. It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that the recital of the will in the copy of the admittance was good evidence of the deviſe againſt the Lord or any other ſtranger. But if the ſuit had been between the heir of the copyholder and the deviſee, the will itſelf ought to have been produced.

2dly, He ruled that the foul draught of admittance made by the ſteward was good evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 1. 735.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. The Earl of Bath v. Batherſea.

It was agreed, that the depoſitions which were read againſt my Lord Bath in the othe rcauſe, are no evidence in this, becauſe that trial is not between the ſame parties; and depoſitions are never evidence, but where they are mutual; and this defendant does not claim under any one that was party to the former ſuit.

Per curiam. They may be read, becauſe the defendant ſhelters himſelf under the other's title, and the title of the land is not in queſtion, but to whom the rent ſhall be paid. If the defendant gives the plaintiffs anſwer in Chancery in evidence, he may inſiſt only to read ſuch part as he will, for it is like the examination of witneſſes; but then the other ſide may inſiſt to have the whole read after. Therefore a verdict was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 9.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. The King v. Paine.

On an information for a libel againſt the government, on not guilty pleaded, on trial the Attorney-General offered in evidence depoſitions taken before a juſtice of peace relating to the fact, the deponent being ſince dead.

Per curiam, on advice with the juſtices of the C. B. In caſes of felony ſuch depoſitions before a juſtice, if the deponent die, may be uſed in evidence by ſtat. 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. c. 13. But this cannot be extended farther than the particular caſe of felony, and therefore not to this caſe. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 281. Raym. vol. 1. p. 729. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 163.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. The King v. Croſby.

On a trial at bar for high-treaſon, the priſoner, Mr. Croſby, took exception to Aaron Smith's evidence, having ſtood in the pillory on a judgment on an information againſt him for a libel. Mr. Solicitor General inſiſted, that the infamy flowed from the crime and not from the puniſhment, and that Mr. Smith's crime was not infamous, nor did it deſerve ſuch puniſhment.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, without determining this point, held, that Aaron Smith was reſtored by the general pardon of 2 W. & M. which operated by way of reſtoration, and made him a new creature. 3 Lev. 427. Vide the caſe of Cheſter v. Hawkins, that the diſability flows from the infamous judgment, and not the nature of the crime; for if a man be convicted for a cheat, and adjudged to ſtand in the pillory, he cannot be a witneſs; otherwiſe if he be not adjudged to ſtand in the pillory: alſo they held the infamy was by the judgment to ſtand in the pillory, and not from the actually ſtanding there, and that he was diſabled to be a witneſs, though he never ſtood.

Note. In theſe caſes the diſability is a conſequence, and the pardon, which makes him de cætero a new creature, diſcharge all conſequences, dependencies, &c. And therefore in the caſe of the King v. Weeden Ford, Michaelmas 12 W. 3. in this court, the queſtion being where the King could pardon the diſability, and where not?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, took this difference; where the diſability is only the conſequence of the judgment, the King may pardon it; but where the diſability is part of the judgment itſelf, the King's pardon will not take it away; therefore if a man be convicted of perjury on the ſtatute, the King's pardon will not reſtore; for it is not a conſequence, but part of the judgment, viz. that in future he be not received as a witneſs. Vide Co. Ent. 368. But a pardon by act of parliament will reſtore him in that caſe. Quære of a perjury at common law, and if the law be the ſame; for there the diſability is only a conſequence, and not part of the judgment; otherwiſe if a jury be convict in an attaint. Raſt. 86. a. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 690. Raym. vol. 1. p. 39. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 15. Ibid. vol. 12. p. 72.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Stainer v. The Burgeſſes of Droitwich.

On an iſſue directed out of Chancery, wherein the queſtion was, whether by the cuſtom of Droitwich ſalt-pits could be ſunk in any part of the town, or in a certain place only? On the trial at bar Cambden's Britannia was offered in evidence, but refuſed; for the court held, that a general hiſtory might be given in evidence to prove a matter relating to the kingdom in general, becauſe the nature of the thing requires it; but not to prove a particular right or cuſtom: ſo in the caſe of St. Catharine's hoſpital, Hale, Chief, Juſtice, allowed a chronicle to be evidence of a particular point of hiſtory in Edw. the 3d.'s time: ſo a year book may be evidence to prove the courſe of the court; yet in this caſe it was admitted, that heralds books are good evidence as to pedigrees, and pariſh-regiſters as to births and marriages, from the nature of the thing; and it was ſaid that in the Exchequer the queſtion being, whether the abbey de Sentibus was an inferior abbey or not? Dugdale's Monaſticon Anglicanum was refuſed for evidence, becauſe the original records might be had in the Augmentation Office.

N. B. In this cauſe was cited a caſe about twelve years before of one Neale v. Fry, where a deed was produced ſaid to be made 1 Ph. & Mar. wherein all the titles were given Philip, which he uſed after the ſurrender of Charles 5. Now, tho' Charles had then ſurrendered, yet Philip did not take thoſe titles on him till that ſurrender had been received by the council of Spain, which was ſix months after; ſo that the deed muſt needs have been forged; and to prove the time of receiving that ſurrender, chronicles were produced and admitted as evidence. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 282. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 85.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. The King v. Davis and Carter.

The defendants Davis and Carter being convicted for forging a bill under the Seal of the bank of England, and having ſtood in the pillory for it, were now brought to the King's Bench, and prayed, that they might be turned over to the Marſhalſea, becauſe the ſheriff of London oppreſſed them in Newgate; where they were detained till they paid the fine, &c. and there their own affidavits were offered to prove the oppreſſion.

It was objected, that a perſon who has had an infamous judgment, and has ſtood in the pillory for an offence which is contrary to the faith, credit, and truſt of mankind, as a forger cannot be a witneſs in any cauſe; to which it was anſwered, that one Cunning, who was convicted of a libel, and ſtood in the pillory, was allowed to be a witneſs before the court of delegates, and ſo Aaron Smith was an evidence in Croſby's caſe.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Aaron Smith was pardoned, and we gave no opinion to this point: I do not underſtand the nature of his offence: it was only for giving Stephen College notes how to defend himſelf on his trial.

In the principal caſe the affidavits were not read, but the laſt day of term, the court ordered the ſheriffs to return the money which they had taken from them; and remanded them to Newgate. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 74.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Hoe v. Nelthrope or Nathrop.

Reſolved by the court, that the immediate copy of an original is good evidence, where the original itſelf is evidence. Therefore the copy of a church regiſter, the copies of town books, of proceedings in courts baron, and the copy of a probate of a will, which concerns perſonal goods, is good evidence, but the copy of a probate of a teſtament, as to the real eſtate, is not evidence, becauſe the probate itſelf is not evidence in ſuch caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 154. Salk. vol. 3. p. 154.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Anonymous.

Ruled per Holt, Chief Juſtice, that on non aſſumpſit pleaded, the defendant cannot give the ſtatute of limitations in evidence, becauſe the iſſue is joined in the præter tenſe, viz. on what was done, and the evidence only proves the effect thereof to be now avoided; but on nil debet, the ſtatute may be given in evidence, for it proves, there is nothing now owing according to that iſſue. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 154.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Lynch v. Clerke.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The ſubſtance of a deed cannot be proved, but by the deed itſelf, unleſs it is burnt, or in the poſſeſſion of the plaintiff himſelf; and if ſo, then this matter, as it happens, muſt be ſworn, and that the deed was executed: and in this caſe he ſaid, that a copy of a fine or recovery, is good evidence, ſo as it be ſworn to be a true copy and examined; ſo likewiſe an old deed is good evidence, without any witneſs to ſwear that it was executed: that where-ever an original is of a public nature, and would be evidence, if produced, an immediate ſworn copy thereof will be evidence, as the copy of a bargain and ſale, or of a deed inrolled, of a church regiſter, &c. but where an original is of a private nature, a copy is not evidence, unleſs the original is loſt or burnt: he likewiſe ſaid, that if the plaintiff will read the defendant's anſwer in Chancery againſt him in evidence, the defendant may likewiſe take advantage thereof, for all is evidence, or none. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 154.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action on the caſe for money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe, on the evidence it appeared, that the plaintiff's wife was executrix, and that the money was paid to the defendant as due to her; and the plaintiff was nonſuited, becauſe the action ought to have been brought by huſband and wife as executrix, for it being paid without any authority from the huſband, it remains as a debt due to the executrix; and if the huſband dies, the wife may bring an action for it; but if the money had been received by authority from the huſband, then it had been as his receipt, and as his money, and the action might well have been brought in his name, and the money would have been aſſets in her hands. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 202.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Kingſtone v. Grey.

A creditor was admitted by Holt, Chief Juſtice, to prove his bond, and the debt due on it, on he has fully adminiſtered being pleaded, he having before received it of the adminiſtrator, and delivered up the bond. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 745.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Haines Barley's Caſe.

In a ſuit in ejectment for lands in Eſſex, it happening that one Francis Douglas had at that time an eſtate for life in theſe lands as her jointure, but the jointure-deed could not be produced: but they proved that in 1661 ſhe levied a fine ſur conceſſit, and did demiſe the ſame to one Woolley for ninety-nine years, if ſhe lived ſo long, for ſecuring the payment of 400*l.* which mortgage was afterwards aſſigned to one Monteatz, and both of them joined in a leaſe to W. Wade for ſixty years, if the ſaid Francis lived ſo long, under the yearly rent of 200*l.* this was admitted to be a ſufficient proof of the jointure. And to the like purpoſe depoſitions in Chancery were produced, which were offered to be read, the bill and anſwer being taken off the file and loſt; and the council offered to give evidence that it was once filed, which was by the ſix clerks book; and produced an inrollment of the decree, which mentioned both bill and anſwer. The court gave their opinion, that the jointure deed being loſt, they might ſupply the proof by memorials thereof, ſince it was impoſſible to ſhew the deed itſelf. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 211.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Breedon v. Gill.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 77 of this work, under the head Appeal.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Pyke v. Crouch.

It was reſolved in this court on evidence in a trial at bar. 1ſt, That a legatee cannot be a witneſs to prove the will, becauſe the legacy is deviſed to him, unleſs he has releaſed the legacy. But after ſuch releaſe, he will be a good evidence to prove the will. But if the council on the other ſide has permitted ſuch legatee to be ſworn, and to be examined as a witneſs, without having taken exception againſt him, they cannot aftewards except againſt his evidence becauſe he was a legatee.

2dly, If the duplicate of a will be written by the direction of a teſtator, and ſent by him to a ſtranger, to keep it ſafely, and the ſtranger ſends back a letter to the teſtator, in which he makes mention, that he has received the ſaid will; after the death of the ſtranger, ſuch letter may be read as circumſtantial evidence, to prove that ſuch duplicate of the will was ſent by the teſtator to the ſaid ſtranger.

3dly, If a man produced as a witneſs for the plaintiff in ejectment, confeſſes that there was ſuch a will made as the defendant's council pretends, and under which the defendant makes title to the lands in queſtion: yet that is not ſufficient proof, to prove that there was ſuch a will; but the will itſelf ought to be produced, or other legal proof made of it.

4thly, If ſeveral eſtates in remainder be limited in a deed, and one of the remainder-men obtains a verdict for him in an action brought againſt him for the ſame land, that verdict may be given in evidence for the ſubſequent remainder-man, in an action brought againſt him for the ſame land, though he does not claim any eſtate under the firſt remainder-man; becauſe they all claim under the ſame deed.

5thly, If a man ſworn a witneſs at a former trial, who gave evidence, and ſince died; the matter that he depoſed at the former trial, may be given in evidence at another trial, by any perſon who heard him ſwear it at the former trial. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 730.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. The Earl of Suſſex v. Temple, &c.

In evidence brought on a trial at bar in ejectment, the caſe was thus, Sir A. T. ſeized in fee of the lands in queſtion, levied a fine, to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to his wife for life, remainder to Sir P. T. and Ann, ſecond daughter of Sir A. T. and wife to Sir P. T. for their lives, and the life of the ſurvivor of them, remainder, to the firſt, ſecond, third, &c. ſons in tail, remainder to the iſſue female of their bodies, and the heirs of their bodies begotten, remainder to E. T. third daughter to Sir A. T. in tail, &c. Sir P. T. had iſſue by Ann, two daughters, Ann the eldeſt, and Martha. Martha died without iſſue, afterwards Ann died, and the Earl of Suſſex as grandſon and heir of the body of Elizabeth, by T. Lord Dacres, claimed the moiety of M. by virtue of the remainder limited to Elizabeth in tail, and the defendant T. claimed as heir at law to Ann, who in her life-time ſuppreſſed the deed.

1ſt, To prove the deed the plaintiff gave in evidence an anſwer in Chancery, in which Ann acknowledged the deed, and referred to a ſpecial verdict for greater certainty, in which the deed was found in theſe words. And this was admitted as ſufficient evidence, without ſcruple, to read the deed againſt T. but the other defendants, who were purchaſers under Ann, objected, that they had been in poſſeſſion 20 years, and therefore the credit of that poſſeſſion was ſufficient for them prima facie, ſo as they ſhall not be compelled to ſhew their title; and therefore the anſwer of Ann in Chancery ſhall not be read againſt them, till the plaintiff proves, that they derive their title under Ann. But the plaintiff proving conſtant reputation, that theſe lands belonged to Ann; the court permitted the anſwer of Ann to be read againſt them alſo, unleſs they ſhewed another title from a ſtranger. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 310.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Thompſon v. Leach.

In ejectment on a trial at bar, the jury find a ſpecial verdict, viz. that Nicholas Leach was ſeiſed in fee of the lands in queſtion, and on the 9th day of November, 14 Car. 2. made his will in writing, by which he deviſed the lands to Simon Leach for life, remainder to his firſt, ſecond, third, &c. ſons in tail, remainder to Sir Simon Leach (who is the now defendant) in tail, remainder to the righ theirs of Simon Leach; afterwards Nicholas Leach died, and Simon Leach entered, and was ſeiſed for life; and being ſo ſeiſed, by deed, bearing date the 20th day of Auguſt, 25 Car. 2. purporting a ſurrender, ſurrendered the eſtate to Sir Simon Leach; afterwards Simon Leach had iſſue C. Leach, the leſſor of the plaintiff, and died; the jury further find, that Simon Leach, at the time of the deed of ſurrender made to Sir Simon Leach was non compos.

Per cur. This deed of ſurrender made by Simon Leach, the inſane perſon, was abſolutely void. The caſes of infants and inſane perſons are parallel in all things, except that an inſane perſon cannot ſtultify himſelf ſo as to avoid his grant. Now, the ſurrender of an infant is adjudged void, 1 Cro. 502. Lloyd v. Gregory, which is a caſe in point, for there is the ſame reaſon why the ſurrender of an inſane perſon ſhould be void. If an infant grants a rent charge, the grantee diſtrains, the grantor may maintain treſpaſs. The ſame law in the preſent caſe of Perk. ſect. 21. which proves the grant to be void; for if it was only voidable, ſome act ought to be done to avoid it. And where it is ſaid in 5 Co. Whelpdale's caſe, that the deed of an infant, is not void, but voidable; the book only means, that the infant ſhall not plead not his deed, and give infancy in evidence, but ſhall plead his infancy ſpecially; becauſe the deed by all appearance has all the things neceſſary to a deed, and ſeems to be juſtly executed, but for ſome latent cauſe has no operation in law; which cauſe ought to be ſhewn, whereby it may appear to be ineffectual. In the ſame manner, if an infant makes a letter of attorney, it is void, but he cannot plead not his deed. So if an inſane perſon ſigns a letter of attorney to make a livery on a deed of feoffment, he cannot avoid it, no more than if he had made a feoffment in perſon, yet the feoffment is void. But the reaſon why the feoffments of infants and inſane perſons are voidable only, proceeds from the ſolemnity of livery of ſeiſin in the ſight of the country, which takes notice of the notorious alteration of the poſſeſſion. But otherwiſe of a deed, which may be delivered in a private manner. As to the objection to the writ of, while he was non compos, &c. which has the words has demiſed, we anſwer, that means only a feoffment, with livery to himſelf; for feoffments and fines were the ancient conveyances, and the only conveyances uſed in thoſe days. And for theſe reaſons we are all of opinion, that this ſurrender is void, and all ſtrangers may take advantage of it, and that the eſtate remained in Simon Leach notwithſtanding, and ſo the contingent remainder veſted in the leſſor of the plaintiff before the particular eſtate determined. Vide Raym. vol. 1. page 313.

Lent Aſſizes, 9 W. 3. Hockley v. Lamb.

It was ruled by Holt, C. J. at Wincheſter, that if A. B. C. D. and E. claim common in a place called —— Dale, excluſively of all other perſons, and the common of A. comes in diſpute, B. may be a witneſs to prove that A. has right of common there; becauſe in effect it charges himſelf, viz. he admits another to have common with himſelf. But if the preſcription be, that all the inhabitants of Blackacre ought to have common there, one of the inhabitants cannot be a witneſs, to prove that another of the ſaid inhabitants ought to have common there, becauſe in effect he would ſwear to give himſelf right of common there. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 731.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where a perſon is convicted of perjury on the ſtatute, and is afterwards pardoned, yet he cannot be a witneſs, for the puniſhment is part of the judgment appointed by the ſtatute; but it is otherwiſe if the conviction is at common law. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 155.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. The King v. Sir Richard Raines, Judge of the Prerogative Court.

On a motion to ſuperſede a writ of mandamus granted againſt the defendant, on a ſuggeſtion that one J. G. died inteſtate, commanding him to grant adminiſtration; the court directed a ſuperſedeas, and Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that ſuppoſing the court ſhould not ſuperſede the writ, yet it would not be of any advantage to the other party; for ſuppoſing Sir Richard Raines ſhould return that there was a will made, he might go and prove the will, and in their action on a falſe return, give the probate in evidence; which probate as long as it ſtands in force, ſhall conclude all others from ſaying the contrary. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 136.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Dr. Groenvelt v. Dr. Burrell, &c.

Dr. Groenvelt brought an action of falſe impriſonment againſt the defendant, under a judgment given againſt the plaintiff by the college of phyſicians, and a fine impoſed by them, and commitment to priſon. See p. 213. And now the court was moved in behalf of the plaintiff, that they would make an order, that the regiſter of the college of phyſicians ſhould permit the plaintiff to have copies of the proceedings and judgment, to enable the plaintiff to reply to the plea of the defendants, who were cenſors of the college. But not allowed.

Per curiam. This court cannot oblige the college of phyſicians to permit the plaintiff to have any copy of their proceedings; for they act in a judicial manner by authority of an act of parliament, and therefore it ſhall be preſumed, that they have done right, and this record may be pleaded without a profert in curia, and therefore the defendants ſhall not be bound to give a copy, for it would be in effect to diſcover their evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 252.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Cox v. Copping.

On an ejectment brought for a houſe by the impropriator againſt the churchwardens of the pariſh of Aldgate. The council for the plaintiff moved, that he might have a rule to ſee the pariſh books, on ſuggeſtion that they would make the title appear, and that they were common books belonging to all the pariſh; and that it did not differ from the caſes where a rule is granted, for the defendant to ſee court-rolls, and the books of a corporation. But denied.

Per curiam. Where the parſon claims a diſtinct intereſt from that of the pariſh, it is not reaſonable to compel the pariſh to ſhew their title, by ſhewing the books, which are kept only for their own uſe. But the title of the copyholder depends on the court rolls. So of corporation books, which differ from the preſent caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 337.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, at Guildhall, that in an action on a policy of aſſurance of a ſhip, if the plaintiff's witneſs ſwears that the ſhip was condemned by proceſs of law, it is good evidence to prove it; but if the defendant had offered that matter in evidence by his witneſſes, it would not have been ſufficient without producing the ſentence of condemnation. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 732.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Middleton v. Fowler & al.

On an action on the caſe on the cuſtom of the realm, brought againſt the defendants as maſters of a ſtage-coach, the plaintiff ſet forth, that he took a place in the coach for ſuch a town, and that in the journey the defendants by their negligence loſt a trunk of the plaintiff's: on not guilty pleaded, on the evidence it appeared, that this trunk was delivered to the perſon that drove the coach, and he promiſed to take care of it, and that the trunk was loſt out of the coachman's poſſeſſion; and if the maſter was chargeable with this action, was now the queſtion.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that this action did not lie againſt the maſter, and that a ſtage-coach was not within the cuſtom of the realm as a carrier is, unleſs ſuch as take a diſtinct price for carriage of goods as well as perſons, as waggons with coaches; and tho' money be given to the driver, yet that is a gratuity, and cannot bring the maſter within the cuſtom: for no maſter is chargeable with the acts of his ſervant, but when he acts in execution of the authority given by his maſter, and then the act of the ſervant is the act of the maſter; and therefore the plaintiff was nonſuited. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 282.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. Whiting.

On an information againſt the defendant for a fraud, on trial the fact appeared to be, that he had a promiſe of a note for 5 l. from his mother-in-law, and by ſome device got her hand to a note of 100 l.

Per Holt, Chief Juſtice. The mother cannot be a witneſs, being concerned in the conſequence of the ſuit, which is a means to diſcharge her of the 100 l. For though the verdict on this information cannot be given in evidence in an action on the note for the 100 l. yet we are ſure to hear of it to influence the jury; and he ſaid he could not diſtinguiſh this from the caſes of perjury or forgery, where the party, whoſe intereſt is defeated or prejudiced by the deed, &c. is no evidence to prove the perjury or forgery. Vide Salk. vol. 1. page 283. Raym. vol. 1. p. 396.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

It was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice, in this court, that if a man deſtroys a thing that is deſigned to be evidence againſt himſelf, a ſmall matter will ſupply it. And therefore the defendant having torn his own note, ſigned by him, a copy thereof ſworn to was admitted to be good evidence to prove it. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 731.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

At a trial at bar, an anſwer in Chancery, though not ſworn to, was given in evidence, becauſe it was proved to have been filed in the Six Clerk's Office. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 231.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Dupays v. Shepherd.

In an action on the caſe on a wager concerning the day of the concluſion of the peace, to prove it to be the 10th day of September, the printed proclamation was produced; and it was objected that it ought not to be given in evidence, unleſs it had been examined by the roll in Chancery, or proved to have been under the Great Seal.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held it good, notwithſtanding; and that ſuch things as theſe in print, as are of as public a nature, as a public act of parliament, and that even a private act of parliament in print, that concerns a whole country, as the act relating to Bedford Levell, may be given in evidence without comparing it with the record. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 215.

10 W. 3. Kent v. Wright.

On a trial held at Hertford ſummer aſſizes in caſe for ſtopping the plaintiff's lights, the defendant pleaded not guilty; and gave in evidence, that the corporation of Hertford were lords of the ſoil where &c. and preſcribed to ſet up ſtalls there, being near the market-place. And it was admitted by Holt, Chief Juſtice, to be given in evidence on the general iſſue, becauſe this is to claim property in the ſoil; but where the defendant or he, under whom he claims, claim only a particular benefit, as common or eaſement, as a way, and not the property in the ſoil; he ought to plead it ſpecially, and cannot give it in evidence on the general iſſue. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 732.

10 W. 3. St. Legar v. Adams.

At a trial in ejectment at the ſummer aſſizes for Kent, on evidence it appeared, that a will was made by W. H. in 1647, of the lands in queſtion, which will was loſt, but mention was made of it in the Calendar, of the regiſter of the Spiritual Court, and alſo in the ſeal book. A commiſſion iſſued in April 1648, to examine the executors on their oaths, &c. and that being returned, a probate was granted the 11th day of May 1648, which probate was produced in evidence.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, allowed it to be good proof of the will, but he reſerved it for his further conſideration. Afterwards the parties agreed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, afterwards, as well in this court, as at niſi prius on other trials, declared that he held it to be good evidence, and that he continued of his former opinion, and that without doubt the regiſter's book is good evidence to prove a will. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 731.

11 W. 3. Lake v. Billers and others.

In an action of treſpaſs brought againſt the ſheriff for goods taken, on not guilty pleaded, he gave in evidence, that he levied them in execution by virtue of a fieri facias. The plaintiff made title to the goods by a prior execution, but fraudulent, and by a bill of ſale made of them to him by the officer, viz. the ſheriff, a predeceſſor to the defendant. And on this trial before Holt, Chief Juſtice, at Hertford, it was held by him, after argument of the council on both ſides, that the defendant, though ſheriff, ought to give in evidence a copy of the judgment. But it would have been otherwiſe if the treſpaſs had been brought by the perſon againſt whom the fieri facias iſſued. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 733.

Lent Aſſizes at Eaſt Grinſtead, 11 W. 3. Goring v. Evelin.

It was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that if an anſwer to interrogatories in Chancery be given in evidence at a trial, they ought to be proved by the examiner himſelf, to have been taken the ſame day that they are dated. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 734.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. The Warden of the Fleet.

In this caſe a witneſs who had really been a priſoner and voluntarily ſuffered to eſcape, was produced to prove the eſcape.

To whoſe being a witneſs it was objected, that he had given a bond for his being a true priſoner, which he had forfeited by eſcaping; and beſides, he had been retaken.

Per curiam. If this were a bond for true impriſonment, it would be good; but if for eaſe and favour, void, and is an eſcape.

2dly. A conviction here could be no evidence againſt the warden, in an action of debt on the bond, nor for the priſoner in an action of falſe impriſonment againſt the warden, becauſe it would not be between the ſame parties; for a conviction at the ſuit of the King for battery, &c. cannot be given in evidence in an action of treſpaſs for the ſame battery, nor vice verſa; the like law of an uſurious contract.

3dly. That no record of conviction or verdict can be given in evidence, but ſuch where the benefit may be mutual, viz. where the defendant as well as the plaintiff might make uſe of it, bring it into court, and give it in evidence, in caſe it made for him. So if the record had been for the plaintiff's advantage, and that they could not give it in evidence, the defendant ſhall not give it in evidence for that very reaſon: and this point was determined this term in the caſe of Sir Walter Clarges v. Sherwin. (See page 446 of this work.) Suppoſe there had been no bond or retaking in this caſe, he would have been a good witneſs, for he would be ſubject to be retaken by his plaintiff, and then his ſwearing would not avail him; for ſince he is liable to be retaken, no matter to him at whoſe ſuit it is: then there is no objection againſt him but the bond; and ſure the bond being a diſtinct and collateral matter to the eſcape, ſhall not hinder a witneſs; and it is not like the caſe of an uſurious contract, for there the very bond is part of the crime, and no diſtinct act from it; and the party's coming to prove it, is a diſcredit to the bond, it being part of the crime. In ſecret tranſactions, if any of the parties concerned be not, for the neceſſity of the thing, admitted for evidence, it will be impoſſible to detect the practice; as in caſes of the ſtatute of hue and cry, the party robbed ſhall be a witneſs to charge the hundred. And in the caſe of Cook v. Watts in the Exchequer, where one, who had been prejudiced by the will, was admitted an evidence to prove it forged. So in the caſe of The King v. Harris, 1 Sid. 431. where a feme covert was received as a witneſs to convict one on an information, for fraudulently drawing her in when ſole, to give a warrant of attorney for confeſſing a judgment on an unlawful conſideration, whereby execution was ſued out againſt the huſband; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that a feme covert could not by law be a witneſs for or againſt her huſband; yet in Lord Audley's caſe, it being a rape on her perſon, ſhe was received to give evidence againſt him. And the court concurred with him, becauſe it was the beſt evidence the nature of the thing would allow, and a verdict here could not be given in evidence againſt the bond.

But Holt, Chief Juſtice, denied what was urged, that at common law the party whoſe deed was forged, or to whoſe prejudice the perjury was, could be a witneſs, and that the ſtatute has made any alteration.

Another exception to the ſame perſon's evidence was, that he had been convicted of common barratry; but in anſwer to this exception was read ſtat. 6 & 7 W. & M. which pardoned all that the King could pardon; and the court held, that pardon made him a legal witneſs; and that even the King's pardon by charter would make him a legal witneſs.

And it was agreed, that the conſent of the parties at whoſe ſuit the commitment was to the eſcape, is good evidence for the defendant.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, if there be an executor in truſt, and ceſtuy que truſt agree to the enlargement of the priſoner, that is evidence of the conſent of the executor, but not concluſive evidence.

Another queſtion ariſing, whether a perſon who had been attorney for the defendant ſhould be compelled to be a witneſs?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he had differed from his brethren ſome years before in the caſe of one Holford, they holding, that an attorney ought not on any account to be received to reveal his client's ſecrets; but that in his opinion, any thing an attorney knew otherwiſe than as an attorney, he ought to declare, and if a client brings a forged deed to his council, the council ought to proſecute him.

And in reſpect to a perſon who had been burnt in the hand, if it were for manſlaughter, and afterwards pardoned, it would be no objection to his credit; for if it was an accident which did not denote an ill habit of mind; but otherwiſe if it were for ſtealing, for that would be a great objection to his credit even after pardon; but the record of the conviction ought to be produced. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 337. Salk. vol. 2. p. 691.

Hilary, 11 W. 3. Pitman v. Maddox.

Indebitatus aſſumpſit on a taylor's bill; at the trial, Holt, Chief Juſtice, a ſhop-book was allowed for evidence, it being proved that the ſervant that writ the book was dead, and this was his hand, and he accuſtomed to make the entries; and no proof was required of the delivery of the goods; and the Chief Juſtice ſaid it was as good evidence as the proof of a witneſs's hand to an obligation; and he held, that though ſtat. 7 Jac. 1. c. 12. ſays, a ſhop-book ſhall not be evidence after the year, &c. that it is not of itſelf evidence within the year. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 690. Raym. vol. 1. p. 732.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. The King v. Kirk and Caſe.

The defendants were indicted on the coroner's inqueſt for murder. On the trial the caſe appeared to be as follows: Popham and Seymour having a ſudden quarrel in St. James's Park; after ſome blows there, Popham, Seymour, Kirk, and Caſe, immediately walked out of the Park, and Seymour in his way took up one Morely as his friend with him; and as ſoon as they got out of the Park, they all four fought, where Seymour received a wound from Kirk, which threw him in a fever, whereof he died; and Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that the evidence ſworn before the coroner could not be offered here, if they could have the witneſſes themſelves. And though their going out of the Park was by mutual conſent; and though they had done it for more conveniency, yet it being on a ſudden falling out, and in purſuance of that heat, it cannot be murder; nor is it material who drew firſt, ſince both had their weapons drawn; and if one be guilty the other muſt be ſo too; and it may be a queſtion, whether the deceaſed's ſecond may not be deemed an acceſſary likewiſe: and though the wound were not the immediate cauſe of Seymour's death, it ſuffices that it be the mediate cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 304.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Richardſon v. Williams.

Adjudged, that a verdict in a civil cauſe may be given in evidence in a criminal cauſe; but not vice verſa; and the court ſaid, they would hardly grant a new trial where a verdict might become evidence in a criminal cauſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 319.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action on a bill of exchange, the original drawer was offered as an evidence, to prove that he did not draw the bill, but was denied, becauſe at laſt the burthen muſt fall on him; but the party gave him a releaſe in court, and that was ſufficient. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 345.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Sir Walter Clarges v. Sherwin

At a trial at bar in ejectment of lands in Yorkſhire, part of the Duke of Albermarle's eſtate, wherein the legitimacy of Duke Chriſtopher was the only queſtion, it was ruled by the court, that a former verdict between other parties concerning other lands depending on the ſame queſtion and title, could not be read in evidence; for if it was in affirmance of the plaintiff's title, they could not read it as being between other parties; and what would not be evidence for one ſhould not be evidence for the other.

But notwithſtanding, the verdict was read, to let them in to give evidence, that a witneſs produced by the plaintiff had ſworn now directly contrary to what he had ſworn at the trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 343.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Bignoll v. Rogers.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 344 of this work, under the head Debt.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

A man deviſed a legacy out of his lands, and died, leaving ſufficient aſſets for the payment of all his debts and legacies.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This legacy ought to be paid out of the land, for it is a charge on the land, and not on the goods. Though it was ſaid by the King's council, that in Chancery, if it is not expreſſed that the legacy ſhould be paid out of the land, and not out of the goods, if there is ſufficient aſſets, they will charge them in caſe of inheritance. To which Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, if Chancery meddle with wills they ought to proceed according to law; and in this caſe a probate of a will was given in evidence, it being of fifteen years ſtanding, and the witneſſes being three, and all dead; poſitive proof was made of the death of two of them, and circumſtantial proof of that of the third. Vide Mod Rep. vol. 12. p. 343.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Robins v. Robins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 24 of this work, under the head Actions.

Summer Aſſizes at Durham, 11 W. 3. Sherwood v. Adderley.

On an action of debt againſt the heir on the bond of the anceſtor, &c. Reins per deſcent was pleaded. The heir gave in evidence an extent againſt him on a debt owing by father on bond to the King. It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that a copy of the bond ſworn to, or the bond itſelf, ought to be given in evidence, the ſuit being by a creditor, otherwiſe the extent ſhould not be allowed. And for want of this, Holt diſallowed ſuch extent.

And next morning, in another trial between Thorn and the ſaid defendant Adderley, the bond acknowledged by his anceſtor to the King, was produced in evidence, the iſſue being the ſame as in the other action. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 734.

Summer Aſſizes, 11 W. 3. Sir John Bridgeman. v. Jennings.

It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, at Warwick aſſizes 1699, that if A. be ſeiſed of the manors of B. and C. and during his ſeiſin of both, cauſes a ſurvey to be taken of the manor of B. and afterwards the manor of B. is conveyed to E. and after a long time there are diſputes between the lords of the manors of B. and C. about their boundaries; this old ſurvey may be given in evidence. And ſo it was done in this caſe. otherwiſe; if the two manors had not been in the hands of the ſame perſon at the time of the ſurvey taken. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 734.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Ford v. Hopkins.

In an action of trover for million bank lottery-tickets, on the evidence it appeared, that the plaintiff had given the tickets in queſtion to a goldſmith to receive the money due on them; that ſome payments were due, and ſome were not; that this goldſmith had received tickets of the defendant, and given a note to pay him ſo many million bank lottery-tickets; that the plaintiff's tickets were delivered to the defendant by the goldſmith on this note. It was inſiſted on, that this note under the goldſmith's hand could be no evidence againſt the plaintiff; but it was read.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that the way and manner of trading is to be taken notice of, and the beſt proof, that the nature of the thing will afford, is only required; when goldſmiths give their notes, no witneſſes are by; and their notes to pay money or tickets are evidence of the receipt of money. If money is ſtolen and paid to another, the owner of the money can have no remedy againſt him that received it: but if bank-notes, Exchequer-notes, or million bank-notes; or the like, are ſtolen or loſt, the owner has ſuch an intereſt or property in them, as to bring an action againſt whoſoever has them: money or caſh is not to be diſtinguiſhed, but theſe notes or bills are diſtinguiſhable, and cannot be reckoned as caſh, and they have diſtinct marks and numbers on them. He agreed in this caſe, that if the Exchequer, or any private perſon had paid to the goldſmith the money or the tickets, it would have been a good payment againſt the owner; but whether it would be ſo where tickets not due are bought for a valuable conſideration, he doubted; but as the caſe was, the goldſmith having tickets of the plaintiff, and of the defendant, the delivery of the plaintiff's tickets to the defendant was no change of the property, or any conſideration; for though the owner gave the goldſmith power to receive money for the tickets, he did not give him power to change them for other tickets: and accordingly a verdict was given for the plaintiff. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 284.

Lent Aſſizes at Thetford, 12 W. 3. Smith v. Veale.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to admit depoſitions in Chancery, to be given in evidence, after the bill was diſmiſſed. But it was reſerved as a point for his further conſideration. And after conſideration and conference had with the practiſers in Chancery, he gave his opinion, that notwithſtanding ſuch diſmiſſion of the bill, the depoſitions were good evidence. And ſo he held it afterwards at Guildhall the ſittings after Hilary term, 1 Ann. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 735.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. The Leſſees of Newgate Market v. The Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's

At niſi prius, before Holt, Chief Juſtice, the queſtion on evidence was, whether every houſe round the market had not ſo many feet of ground towards the market belonging to it.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If the ſtatute for building of London orders a man to build his houſe contiguous to his neighbour's ſoil, it of neceſſary conſequence gives him all the eaſements over his neighbour's ſoil, as lights, paſſage, &c. without which a perſon cannot uſe his houſe, but it thereby gives no intereſt in the ſoil: and in this caſe a houſe-keeper, who pretended the like intereſt before his door, though he derived his title under another perſon, was denied to be a witneſs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 372.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

On an avowry for a rent charge deviſed to the plaintiff, he could not produce the will that belonged to the deviſee of the lands charged, who claimed them by the ſame will; but he produced the ordinary's regiſter of the will, and proved former payments; which was held ſufficient evidence. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 375.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Adams v. Arnold.

In an action of treſpaſs for an aſſault on the plaintiff's wife, and getting her with child, what the wife declared in her labour was rejected to be evidence. And in this caſe Holt, Chief Juſtice, would not ſuffer the plaintiff to diſcredit a witneſs of his own calling, he ſwearing againſt him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 375.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Car v. King.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 207 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Crow v. Brown.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. I have known it held, that a legatee ſhould not be a witneſs to prove aſſets in the hands of the executor in an action of debt by a creditor; and it has been an old exception, but I ſee no reaſon for it, for he ſwears to leſſen the aſſets, and one creditor may be a witneſs to prove aſſets in an action brought by another creditor: and in this caſe the legatee was ſworn. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 385.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. ——— v. Cutts.

In a trial at bar concerning the right of members of a corporation, it was moved on one ſide, that the town clerk ſhould attend with the corporation charter.

Per curiam. Of right you are not intitled to that, becauſe you may have a copy of it at the Rolls; but it being merely to try the right, it was thought hard to put them to the charge; and the clerk was ordered to attend at the charge of them that made the motion.

Per curiam. If a tenant claims by copy, the Lord, on motion, is only ordered to let him have a ſight of the court rolls, but not to bring them into court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 394.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Gallaway v. Suſach.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. On an action of debt for rent, if the defendant pleads a levy by diſtreſs, and not indebted, a releaſe or payment is good evidence; for it proves there is no debt, and that is the iſſue. Vide Cro. El. 140. which agrees; but if the defendant pleads eraſure, and ſo not his deed, nothing elſe is evidence but eraſure. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 284.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We never order charters to be brought into court on trials, when copies of them may be had at the Rolls; but we will compel them to give you ſight of them. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 414.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Thurſton v. Slatford. Error.

In an action on the caſe in C. B. on an indebitatus aſſumpſit for 5 l. received to the plaintiff's uſe, being fees of the office of clerk of the peace of Oxfordſhire: On non aſſumpſit it was inſiſted on that the plaintiff had forfeited his office by not qualifying himſelf according to law: they ſhewed he was admitted in April, and produced the record to prove he had not taken the oath: the plaintiff tendered a bill of exceptions to this evidence, which was brought into this court with the record by writ of error.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a judge admits that for evidence, which is not, the other ſide cannot demur for that cauſe, but muſt tender a bill of exceptions: but he held that this record was evidence: that indeed, if there be a miſ-entry, it might be ſupplied and corrected by other evidence; for the defendant in error ſhould not be concluded by the miſtake or negligence of the officer; but ſtill it is a record, and ſome proof, though not a complete proof, and might be left to the jury. He remembered a caſe where the univerſity of Oxford entitled themſelves to a preſentation, by the conviction of the Earl of Shrewſbury for recuſancy, and on giving evidence that the record was loſt, the Univerſity was permitted to prove the effect of it by other evidence: but judgment was afterwards given on another point. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 284.

Lent Aſſizes, 13 W. 3. Dike v. Polhill.

In a ſuit in ejectment on the trial at Maidſtone, the copy of the regiſter of a will was produced in evidence, to prove a pedigree, and not to derive any title by the will; and alſo the probate of the ſame will was offered for the ſame purpoſe. But Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to admit them.

1ſt. As to the probate, it is only evidence of a will as to chattels.

2dly. He ſaid, that there was the ſame reaſon to admit the copy of the regiſter to be evidence, as the copy of court rolls, or of a regiſter of a church; but the practice having been always otherwiſe, he would not ſubvert it: and therefore the copy of the regiſter not being evidence to prove the will, it cannot prove the pedigree, becauſe that depends on the credit of its being a will, which is not proved by the copy of the regiſter: therefore the evidence was denied to be admitted by him. But afterwards, the ſame circuit, at the aſſizes at Eaſt Grinſtead, on an iſſue directed out of Chancery to try in a feigned action heir or not, the ſaid probate was offered to Baron Tracy to prove the pedigree; and he admitted it, notwithſtanding the other caſe was cited to be ruled as aforeſaid; becauſe, he ſaid, the other caſe was in ejectment, and this only in caſe; and he could not know that the title of land would come in queſtion, &c. but it ſeems there is no difference, becauſe the title to the land was not derived under the will in ejectment, Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 744.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

If a witneſs going to ſea be by rule of court examined on interrogatories before a judge, and the trial comes on before he is gone, his depoſition ſhall not be read, but he muſt appear; for the rule was made on a preſumption of his abſence. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 691.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Weſt v. Chamberlain.

On debate concerning evidence to be given about the corporation of Tiverton:

Per curiam. Wherever an original is evidence, a copy of that original will be evidence alſo; and it was alſo directed, that the adverſe party in this caſe ſhould have the ſight of the corporation books, and leave to take copies; but not that the books themſelves ſhould be produced. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 494.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. How v. Acton.

Per curiam. If a witneſs, not likely to be had at a trial, be examined before a judge, and croſs-examined by the other party, and his depoſitions put into writing; yet if at the trial it be proved, that the party might have him there, his depoſitions are not to be read. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 493.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The King v. Sims.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. On an indictment for oppreſſion, battery, &c. the party oppreſſed may be a witneſs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 511.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Dillon v. Crawly. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment, on demurrer to the evidence in C. B. the witneſs to the ſealing and delivery of a deed, being ſubpœnaed, did not appear. But to prove it the party's deed, they proved an indorſement made by him thereon three years after; reciting a proviſo therein, that if he paid ſuch a ſum, the deed ſhould be void, and acknowledging that the ſaid ſum was not paid; and a fine was levied of the very lands mentioned in the deed to Crawly, and by the indorſement he expreſsly owned it to be his deed; and on this the deed was read. And now it was objected, that this was not good evidence, becauſe not the beſt the nature of the thing would admit of, but only circumſtantial; which never ought to be admitted where better may be had from the nature of the caſe, becauſe circumſtances are fallable and doubtful; and it is on this reaſon that a copy of a record is good, becauſe one cannot have the record itſelf; but a copy of a copy will not do. On the plea of not his deed to a bond, one of the witneſſes being ſubpœnaed, did not appear; and it was offered to prove, that he owned it to be his bond, but denied.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Can there be any better evidence of a deed than to own it, and recite it under his own hand and ſeal?

Per curiam. The judgment muſt be affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 500.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The King v. Croſs.

The defendant was indicted for a miſdemeanor, in receiving ſtolen goods, knowing them to be ſtolen; and the very thief was produced as an evidence, who confeſſed the fact, he being brought up by an hab. corp. ad teſtificand. from the Compter.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Theſe indictments were never thought good by me before I came on the Bench, though I have been over-ruled in it once; but let us try the fact firſt, and it ſhall be conſidered afterwards, whether the indictment is maintainable. And he ſaid, ſome judges would try a trover for the goods before an indictment for the taking; but he never would do it, but rather get a juror withdrawn, if the matter had proceeded ſo far, that the plaintiff might not be nonſuited. And the plaintiff in this action was bound in a recognizance to proſecute the principal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 520.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Key v. Gordon.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit brought by an under-officer againſt his colonel for his pay, proof was admitted of the hand-writing of a perſon proved beyond the ſeas. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 1. p. 521.

13 W. 3. Chattle v. Pound.

On an action of debt for rent. On nil debet pleaded, the plaintiff gave in evidence a note in writing, by which the defendant agreed, to hold for one year, rendering the rent of 15 l. And in fact he was grantee of a reverſion expectant on an eſtate for life; which life was dead at the time of the giving of the note. Which grant was forty years before, and he was never in poſſeſſion, but the tenant for life was all the time in poſſeſſion during life. The defendant gave in evidence a prior grant of the ſaid reverſion. And it was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that the defendant in this caſe may give in evidence he had nothing in the tenements, the plaintiff having never been in poſſeſſion, notwithſtanding the note ſigned by the defendant, by which he agreed to hold, &c. but if the plaintiff had been in poſſeſſion, though but tenant at will, &c. then the defendant could not have given this in evidence without having been evicted: and the plaintiff was nonſuited. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 746.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Adjudged, That to maintain an action for the being bit by a dog, it muſt be proved, that the defendant knew his dog was accuſtomed to bite; but one inſtance is ſufficient in that caſe, though to ſatisfy the words of the ſtatute of Eliz. concerning leaſes of lands uſually letten, the lands muſt have been letten twice at leaſt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 555.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Adjudged, That none can be admitted to give evidence of what was done at the former trial, without the proceedings at ſuch trial are proved. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 555.

Summer Aſſizes at Warwick 1699. Wood v. Drury.

A deed was produced, to which there were two witneſſes, one of whom was blind. It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, that ſuch deed might be proved by the other witneſs, and read, without proving that this blind witneſs is dead; or without having him at the trial, proving only his hand. And ſo it was done in this caſe. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 734.

Summer Aſſizes at Maidſtone, 13 W. 3. Broughton v. Harpur.

In ejectment, the plaintiff made title to his leſſor to the lands in queſtion, as ſon and heir of J. J. and H. his wife, in right of H. The defendant gave in evidence, that J. J. was married, before he was married to H. and the woman, to whom it was ſuppoſed he was married before, was produced at the trial at Maidſtone, to prove this marriage. The council for the plaintiff oppoſed her teſtimony, becauſe ſhe ſwore for her advantage, viz. to have a huſband, the huſband then being living. But nevertheleſs, Gould, Juſtice, then judge of aſſize, admitted her teſtimony. But afterwards, the ſame cauſe on the ſame title, between the ſame parties was tried before Holt, Chief Juſtice, at the aſſizes in March at Maidſtone, 1 Ann, and he refuſed after debate to admit the former wife to be a witneſs for this purpoſe; but on other evidence, the former marriage was proved to the ſatisfaction of the jury, being gentlemen, whereon they found a verdict for the defendant. But in the former trial before Gould, Juſtice, the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff. Vide Raym, vol. 2. p. 752.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Holden v. Sutton.

Adjudged, That a perſon cannot give evidence of any thing done at a former trial, without producing the record of ſuch trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 565.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. The King v. Daws.

Adjudged, That the copy of a charter under the Great Seal cannot be given in evidence, but a copy of the record thereof may. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 579.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. In an action of debt on a bond, on iſſue of not his deed, if the plaintiff proves that the witneſſes are dead, beyond the ſeas, or that he has made ſtrict enquiry after them, and cannot hear of them, he ſhall be permitted to prove their hands. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 607.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous. At Niſi Prius.

The caſe was, A. being indebted to B. gives him a note in a feigned name for the debt; afterwards the wife of B. ran away with another man, and took the note with her; A. pays the money to C. the perſon with whom the wife ran away, B. ſues A. for the money in the feigned name. And at the trial C. offered to make oath of all this, but was rejected by Holt, Chief Juſtice, for it was to prove a right in himſelf to the money received from A. for which otherwiſe he was accountable to A. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 565.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. The King v. Worſenham and others.

An information was preferred againſt the defendants being cuſtom-houſe officers, for forging a bond, ſuppoſed to be given by a merchant to the King for his cuſtoms. A motion was made on behalf of the proſecutor, to have the cuſtom-houſe book, in which the entries were made, &c. brought into court, to convict the defendants. But the motion was denied, becauſe the ſaid books are a private concern, in which the proſecutor has no intereſt; and therefore it would be in effect, to compel the defendants, to produce evidence againſt themſelves. And the court never makes ſuch releaſe, but only of records, or deeds of a publick nature. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 705.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

In an action of debt brought by the huſband, it appeared to have become due to the wife as a ſeparate dealer, and a diſcourſe of the wife's concerning it was given in evidence for the defendant, by leave of the court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 566.

14 W. 3. Tyley v. Cowling. At Niſi Prius.

Mr. R. V. ſent a box with 100 guineas, &c. in it by Tyley, the Bath carrier, to London, on which box the direction was only to Mr. Vaughan. member of parliament; Tyley, carried the box to London, and on his arrival, Cowling an inn-keeper in Piccadilly, came to Tyley's inn, for goods directed to be left at Cowling's houſe. Afterwards, this box being loſt, Tyley pretended that it was delivered to Cowling among other goods, on which Tyley brought an action of trover againſt Cowling. And at the trial at the ſittings at Weſtminſter, before Holt, Chief Juſtice, Mrs. Vaughan, the wife of Mr. V. was produced to be a witneſs to prove what was in the box.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſe to admit her to be a witneſs, becauſe whether Tyley recovered or not, this verdict might be given in evidence by Mr. Vaughan, in an action to be brought by him againſt Tyley, on oath made of what was ſworn for Tyley on this trial. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 744.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Geery v. Hopkins.

The plaintiff brought an action againſt the defendant for money received to his uſe, and on other counts. The queſtion was on the acceptance of one of Mr. S. the goldſmith's notes, who was become a bankrupt, &c. and on notice for trial being given the court was moved, 1ſt. For a habeas corpus ad teſtificandum, to bring S. out of the Marſhalſea, where he was in execution, to Guildhall; which was granted, 2dly. To have a rule, that the caſh book of the Old Eaſt India Company, kept by their treaſurer, and alſo their transfer book, and alſo a note of acceptance of 1000 l. bank ſtock, ſigned by the defendant, kept by the accountant of the company, ſhould be brought to the trial at the plaintiff's expence; and it was granted.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If the Bank deal in the transfer of their ſtock, and that cannot be done by any other means than by entry made in their books, it is very reaſonable that they ſhould be produced for the benefit of the party, as well as corporation books. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 851. Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 555.

Trinity, 1 Ann. George v. Pierce.

In order to a new trial, an affidavit was read, that one of the witneſſes had declared he had received a guinea to ſtifle the truth.

Gould, Juſtice. An affidavit of him who received the guinea were ſomething, but his ſaying is nothing. A witneſs laying a wager in the cauſe is no hinderance to his being a witneſs, for the other has an intereſt in his evidence, which he cannot deprive him of. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 31.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Templeman.

After pleading guilty to an indictment, any thing may be given in evidence that juſtifies the fact, or proves the perſon was not guilty of the fact; for the entry is, he will not contend with our Sovereign Lady the Queen, but throws himſelf on the mercy of the court. And ſo it is not like the caſe where one is found guilty by verdict. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 40.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Lord Wharton v. Sir John Robinſon.

On a trial at bar conerning the boundaries of lands, the parſon of the pariſh, the land lying in two pariſhes, was refuſed as a witneſs, becauſe he might enlarge his own pariſh, and by conſequence the tithes. But one who about ſeven years before had taken the profits under the title of one of the parties, was allowed as a witneſs, becauſe now he might plead the ſtatute of limitations. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 63.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Brown and Wife v. Gibbons.

In an action on the caſe for words ſpoken of the wife, viz. Mrs. B. is a whore, and has done as all whores do; whereby, &c. the defendant on not guilty pleaded at niſi prius, gave evidence by way of mitigation of damages, that Mrs. Brown was a whore; and the evidence was very ſtrong. On which the jury gave only 20 s. damages to the plaintiffs. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 831.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Sewell, alias Beaus.

The defendant was indicted for uſury in taking 9 l. for the uſe of 45 l. for a year, againſt the form of the ſtatute, &c. The caſe was, the defendant lent the proſecutor 45 l. on a pledge of jewels, and it was agreed to pay the ſaid intereſt; afterwards, the proſecutor gave his bond for the ſame money, and the bond not being diſcharged, the proſecutor was produced as an evidence, and ſworn by Holt, de bene eſſe, as he ſaid; and he ſaid, it was a queſtion, whether the new bond was void or not; and he put this caſe, a man makes an uſurious contract, and gives the lender unlawful intereſt, and agrees to give him a bond for the principal; and after, by a ſubſequent agreement, gives a bond, for the ſum lent, to one J. S. to whom the lender owes ſo much in ſatisfaction of his debt; this bond is not voidable by the ſtat. If a man lend money at the legal intereſt, and after a ſubſequent agreement is made for more intereſt, which is uſury, yet it will not avoid the firſt contract. 2 Mod. & 1 Saund.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, declared it to be law, that where a man is intereſted in the conſequence of that which he ſwears for; if ſo be, the doing of the act which he is now evidence to invalidate or ſet aſide, was a means to obtain his liberty from impriſonment, or an exemption from corporal puniſhment, he ſhall be a witneſs; as in the caſe of Dureſs, though it be to ſet aſide his own bond, yet it being given to obtain his liberty, he ſhall be a witneſs alſo, where the nature of the thing allows him no other evidence: as for example, if a woman give a note or bond to a man, to procure her the love of J. S. by ſome ſpell or charm; in an indictment for the cheat, though it tend to avoid the note, yet ſhe ſhall be a witneſs.

Here it could not be given in evidence, that the defendant was a common uſurer, becauſe he could not be ready to give an anſwer to that matter. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 118.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Marsfield or Blainfield v. March or Marſh.

The plaintiff brought an action of trover as adminiſtrator, and declared on the poſſeſſion of the inteſtate; and on not guilty pleaded, at the trial, the counſel for the defendant offered to give in evidence, that the pretended inteſtate made a will and an executor; but Holt, Chief Juſtice, over-ruled it, and made this diſtinction, that where an adminiſtrator brings an action of trover on his own poſſeſſion, the defendant may give in evidence a will, and ſo may an executor, on not guilty pleaded; otherwiſe, if it be on the poſſeſſion of the inteſtate, (as in the principal caſe) for there the defendant ought to plead it in abatement, and if he does not, he ſhall not give it in evidence. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 285.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Norris v. Napper.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held in this caſe, that if A. advances money to carry on a cauſe, and has a ſecurity depoſited in his hands for it, part of which is the thing in demand, though the reſidue of the ſecurity, excluſive of this, is ſufficient ſecurity for the money, yet he cannot be a witneſs in the cauſe, becauſe he ſwears with a view to mend his own ſecurity. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1007.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Title v. Grevett.

On an ejectment brought, Holt, C. J. held, that if a tenant at will enters on a quarter, though but one day, he cannot determine his will, but the leſſor may determine his will at any time; but if he does in the middle of a quarter, he loſes that rent. 2dly. A man that conveys lands may be a witneſs to prove he had no title, becauſe that is ſwearing againſt himſelf, but he is not compellable to give ſuch evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1008.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Tilly's Caſe.

On a trial at bar in the C. B. in the courſe of the evidence it appeared, that depoſitions had been taken in Chancery to perpetuate the memory of a fact, and it happened afterwards, that the inheritance of the land deſcended to the party, who was ſworn as a witneſs, and was a party in the ejectment; the juſtices of that court not being agreed whether theſe depoſitions could be read in the cauſe, requeſted the opinion of this court, who unanimouſly agreed that they ought not to be read, the intent of ſuch depoſitions being to perpetuate teſtimony in caſe the witneſſes died, and therefore could not be read in any caſe between other parties till after the witneſs's death, who ought to appear and give evidence ſo long as he lived; much leſs in the preſent caſe, where the witneſs is a party. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1008.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Ford v. Grey.

In ejectment on a trial at bar, the ſtatute of limitations was inſiſted on, and theſe points were ruled by the court.

1ſt. That a claim or entry to prevent the ſtatute of limitations muſt be on the land, unleſs there be ſome ſpecial reaſon to the contrary.

2dly. If a perſon ſwears an anſwer in Chancery which is prejudicial to his eſtate, it may be given in evidence againſt him, but not againſt his alienee.

3dly. That a recital of a leaſe in a deed of releaſe is good evidence of ſuch leaſe againſt the releaſor, and thoſe that claim under him; but as to others it is not, without proving there was ſuch a deed, and it was loſt and deſtroyed.

4thly. If one joint-tenant levies a fine, it ſevers the jointure, but does not amount to an ouſter of his companion. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 268.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Martyn v. Hendrickſon.

In an action on the caſe, for managing the defendant's ſhip ſo negligently, that it ran over the plaintiff's barge, the declaration ſet forth that he was poſſeſſed of the ſaid barge, laden with divers goods and merchandizes: and, 1ſt. Holt, Chief Juſtice would not ſuffer the pilot to be a witneſs; becauſe he was anſwerable, if faulty in ſteering, to the maſter. 2dly. He would not ſuffer any damages to be recovered for the goods, becauſe not ſet forth particularly, ſaying, they ought to be ſet forth ſpecially, as where an action is brought for burning his houſe: ſo in caſe for words, whereby ſhe loſt her marriage with J. S. and other perſons, he ſaid he would not ſuffer them to give in evidence a loſs of marriage with any one but J. S. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 287. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1007.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Green v. Waller.

In this caſe Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that the exemplification of a ſentence in the Admiralty, under the ſeal of the court, was concluſive evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 893.

Eaſter, 2 Ann, Lucas v. Haynes.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 230 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange.

Trinity, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Mead, an Attorney, &c.

The defendant and eight others were incorporated under an act made in the 39th Eliz. by the name of the Surveyors of the Highways at Ayleſbury in the county of Bucks, and were truſtees of a charity called Bedford's Gift. An information was preferred againſt the defendant, for executing this office, being an office of truſt, without having took the oaths, contrary to ſtat. 25 Car. 2. c. 2. to which he pleaded not guilty. And the court was moved for a rule, that the proſecutor might have two books produced, which theſe ſurveyors kept, in which they entered their elections, and alſo their receipts and diſburſements; and that he might take copies of what he thought neceſſary, and that the books might be produced at the next aſſizes at the trial. But the propoſal was denied, becauſe they are perfectly of a private nature, and it would be to make a man produce evidence againſt himſelf in a criminal proſecution. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 927.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Price v. The Earl of Torrington.

The plaintiff being a brewer, brought an action againſt the Earl of Torrington for beer ſold and delivered; and the evidence given to charge the defendant was, that the uſual way of the plaintiff's dealing was, that the dray-men came every night to the clerk of the brewhouſe, and gave him an account of the beer they had delivered out, which he ſet down in a book kept for that purpoſe, to which the draymen ſet their hands; and that the drayman was dead, but that this was his hand ſet to the book: and this was held good evidence of a delivery; otherwiſe of the ſhop-book itſelf ſingly, without more. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 285.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Ford v. Lord Grey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 393 of this work, under the head ejectment.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Mackartny & al.

The defendants were indicted for defrauding J. S. by impoſing on him a quantity of beer mixed with vinegar, and grounds of coffee, for Port wine; one of the defendants pretending to be a broker, and the other a Portugueze merchant, for the better carrying on of the cheat.

J. S. was allowed by Holt, Chief Juſtice, to be a witneſs to prove the fact on the trial, for in ſuch private tranſactions no body elſe can be a witneſs of the circumſtances of the fact, but he that ſuffers. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 286.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. The Queen v. Chapman, late Mayor of Bath.

On an information againſt the defendant for making a falſe return to a mandamus, which commanded him to proceed to the election of a town-clerk for the corporation, it was held by Holt, Chief Juſtice.

1ſt. That there needs no other evidence to prove this return to be the Mayor's, but the copy of the writ, and the return thereof into the Crown Office.

2dly. That though on the conſultation the majority is againſt him, and make a return in his name, yet it ſhall be taken to be his, if he does not come and diſavow it.

3dly. That it is not neceſſary to prove a delivery of the writ to the Mayor, no more than to a ſheriff in a falſe return againſt him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. page 152.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Turner v. Nurſe.

Adjudged, that an order of the Court of Chancery is not to be given in evidence, without producing a copy of the bill on which it was made; yet a commiſſion out of Chancery to fix the boundaries of certain lands, returned and acquieſced under, and an enjoyment accordingly, is good evidence that the land ſo bounded, is rightly bounded, but a bare commiſſion returned without more, is no evidence at all. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 149.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Dove v. Smith.

In an action of treſpaſs for breaking the plaintiff's cloſe, and treading on his graſs, it appeared on evidence, that the plaintiff had a cloſe adjoining to the back part of the defendant's houſe, which was a public-houſe: the defendant uſed, ſometimes, to ſet a table for his gueſts in the ſaid cloſe, and ſerve them there: that he often uſed to walk there for his pleaſure, and with others, who ſhot with bows and arrows there.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. You muſt give evidence of the value of the damage done, or you cannot recover, for the law goes by evidence. And if in this caſe the jury give under 40 s. damages, though the title of the land does not come in queſtion, yet will I certify for coſts, for this is a voluntary malicious treſpaſs, and the ſtatute is only to be underſtood of ſmall accidental treſpaſſes. And here it being on not guilty pleaded, they could not give any matter of right in evidence, not even in mitigation of damages. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 153.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Oſbourne v. Hoſier.

An action of debt was brought on a ſingle bill for the payment of 230 l. on demand. On not his deed pleaded, one of the ſubſcribing witneſſes was produced, and gave full evidence of the ſealing and delivery of the bond. On the other ſide was produced a perſon of the ſame name and ſurname with the other ſubſcribing witneſs, who acknowledged that the hand was very like his, but it was not his; that he never knew either of the parties, nor the other witneſs; nor could the other witneſs ſay he was the man; and both their reputations being made good in proof, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ordered them both to write their names, and thereon left it to the jury, who found for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 167.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Wilſon v. Gary.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 32 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Johnſon et Ux. v. Browning.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 32 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Stillingfleet v. Sir Harry Parker.

On a trial at bar in ejectment, the queſtion in debate was concerning the time of the commencement of the leaſe, which was to commence on the determination of a leaſe then in being, to Queen Elizabeth; and to prove ſuch a leaſe to the Queen, an ancient book, in which were entries of leaſes of the premiſes ever ſince Henry the ſeventh's time, and found among the evidences of the biſhops (this being biſhop's land) was offered, and oppoſed, becauſe not ſuch good evidence as they might have had, for this being to the Queen muſt have been inrolled, wherefore they might have brought a copy of the inrolment.

Per curiam. An inrolment is better evidence of a leaſe in fact than the book; therefore it muſt be produced. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 248.

Michaelmas,

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Stanyon v. Davis.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 153 of this work, under the head Averment.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Per Holt, C. Juſtice. In a caſe in Lord Hale's time, viz. Combe v. Mayo, a counterpart of an ancient deed was admitted as evidence of the deed, and the ſpecial verdict was drawn up as finding the deed with a prout patet by the counterpart, which he ſaid was done to preſerve the precedents; and now by all the court, the counterpart of a deed, without other circumſtances, is ſufficient evidence, unleſs in caſe of a fine, in which caſe a counterpart is good evidence of itſelf. Vide Salk vol. 1. p. 287.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Kinſman v. Crooke.

On a trial at bar of an iſſue directed out of Chancery, to try if a leaſe was made in purſuance of a power to make leaſes for the beſt rent that could be got, a witneſs, named Ruſhley, was examined in Chancery concerning the value of the land, having been collector of the rents; and at the time of his examination in Chancery, he referred to and conſulted his rental. But now at this trial he was become blind, and therefore his examination in Chancery and depoſitions there were admitted to be read; becauſe if he had been ſo ill as that he could not have come to the trial, they had been good evidence, and now he is diſabled to conſult the rental by the act of God, and therefore the ſame reaſon holds. He alſo gave evidence of what he remembered beſides.

Secondly, 6000 l. was divided to A. and B. in truſt to purchaſe lands to be ſettled on F. G. for life, with remainder to his ſons in tail in contingency, remainder to W. G. for life, with contingent remainder to his ſons in tail, remainder to H. K. in fee, with power to make leaſes, as above, &c. F. G. made a leaſe to C. rendering 170 l. per annum rent, and died; and the queſtion was, whether the value was 270*l. per annum*, at the time of the purchaſe or not. Lord G. and M. L. the truſtees, were produced as witneſſes to prove it; and it was objected, that they were not legal witneſſes, becauſe K. the remainder man not joining in the purchaſe, and who now conteſted the leaſe, if the lands were not of that value, it would be a breach of truſt in the truſtees, and they would be liable in Chancery to make ſatisfaction to the ceſtuy que truſt, and therefore they were to give evidence to excuſe themſelves: but not allowed, and they were ſworn and gave evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1166.

[Michaelmas, 5 Ann. Watſon v. Sparks.

In an action of treſpaſs, wherefore he broke his cloſe, &c. On not guilty pleaded, on the trial the defendant gave evidence, that it was in a highway.

Per curiam. It is a ſpecial juſtification, and ought not to be allowed to be given in evidence on the general iſſue.

Holt, C. Juſtice ſaid, in caſe for diſturbing the plaintiff of his common, on not guilty pleaded, he had known the defendant permitted to give in evidence, that he had a right to common there; but he never thought it right, and never allowed it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 288.

Charnock's Caſe.

Charnock was indicted, for that he, on the 10th day of February, 9 W. 3. and divers other days and times, as well before as after, in the pariſh of St. Clement Danes, did traiterouſly conſpire to kill the King.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Evidence may be given of a treaſonable conſpiracy, &c. any time before or after the time alledged in the indictment: 1ſt. Becauſe it is only a circumſtance, and of form: ſome day muſt be alledged, but it is not material. 2dly. The indictment lays it to be at divers days and times, as well before as after, and thereby comprehends what was done laſt year, as well as this; and as the evidence may be of matters before that time, ſo it may be of matters alſo at any time after the time ſpecified in the indictment, provided it be not after the time the indictment was found; neither is the evidence tied up to the place; for it may be of any place, provided it be not out of the county; and ſo it is in all criminal caſes. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 288.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Wright v. Sharp.

A corporation-book was offered in evidence at the aſſizes to prove a member of the corporation not in poſſeſſion; but was refuſed. No bill of exceptions was then tendered, nor were the exceptions reduced to writing; ſo the trial proceeded, and a verdict was given for the plaintiff. Next term the court was moved for a bill of exceptions, and the matter was debated in court. It was urged, that the law requires that the party ſhould propoſe his exception, and no time is appointed for the reducing it into writing, and the party is not aggrieved till a verdict be given againſt him; and the ſame memory, that ſerves the judges for a new trial, will ſerve for bills of exceptions. Vide 2 Inſt. 437. N. B. 21. 540. b. Vet. Intr. 96, 136. Raym. 405. Brownl. Red. 433. 2 Lev. 236. Stat. Weſt. 2. c. 31. On the other ſide it was ſaid, that this practice would prove a great difficulty to judges, and a delay of juſtice; that the precedents and entries ſuppoſe the exception to be written down on its being diſallowed, and the ſtatute ought to be conſtrued ſo as to prevent inconvenience; beſides, the words of the act are in the preſent tenſe, and ſo is the writ formed on the act.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If this practice ſhould prevail, the judge would be in a ſtrange condition: he forgets the exceptions, and refuſes to ſign the bill, ſo an action muſt be brought: you ſhould have inſiſted on your exception at the trial: you wave it if you acquieſce, and ſhall not reſort back to your exception, after a verdict againſt you, when perhaps, if you had ſtood on your exception, the party had other evidence, and need not have put the cauſe on this point: the ſtatute indeed appoints no time, but the nature and reaſon of the thing requires the exception ſhould be reduced to writing when taken and diſallowed, like a ſpecial verdict, or a demurrer to evidence; not that they need be drawn up in form; but the ſubſtance muſt be reduced to writing while the thing is tranſacting, becauſe it is to become a record: accordingly the motion was denied. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 288.

Hern v. Nichols. Before Holt, Chief Juſtice. At Niſi Prius.

In an action on the caſe for a deceit, the plaintiff ſet forth, that he bought ſeveral parcels of ſilk, for ——ſilk, whereas it was another kind of ſilk; and that the defendant well knowing this deceit ſold it him for —— ſilk; on the trial, on not guilty pleaded, it appeared that there was no actual deceit in the defendant, who was the merchant, but that it was in his factor beyond the ſeas: and the doubt was, if this deceit could charge the merchant?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that the merchant was anſwerable for the deceit of his factor, though not criminally, yet civilly; for ſeeing ſome-body muſt be a loſer by this deceit, it is more reaſonable that he that employs and puts a truſt and confidence in the deceiver, ſhould be a loſer than a ſtranger: and on this opinion the plaintiff had a verdict. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 289.

Anonymous. Before Holt, C. J. At Niſi Prius.

In an action of trover for money received, it appeared on evidence, that the plaintiff's ſon had a general authority from his father to receive and pay out his father's money. The ſon took a bill for money due to his father, and received it without a particular authority for that purpoſe, and this receipt was with an intent to embezzle and ſpend it; but he gave a receipt as for money had to his father's uſe, and this money was given to the defendant. The queſtions were, 1ſt. If the ſon could be a witneſs in this caſe to prove the delivery: And, 2dly. Whether the father could maintain an action of Trover?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that the ſon might be admitted as a good witneſs, his teſtimony being corroborated by other circumſtances; and that the action was maintainable for the father, for that the general authority that the ſon had to take his father's money, made the receipt of the money to be to his father's uſe, and a good diſcharge of the debt, ſo as that the father could not avoid the payment, and charge the perſon that paid the money with an action; and then, if the payment was a good diſcharge, it is reaſonable it ſhould be his money, and the poſſeſſion of the ſon is the poſſeſſion of the father, the ſon being to this purpoſe as his father's ſervant; and according to this opinion the plaintiff had a verdict, who ſaid he was willing to have a caſe made of it; but the defendant acquieſced. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 290.

Hilary, 7 Ann. Blackham's Caſe. At Niſi Prius in Middleſex.

In an action of trover, at the trial the plaintiff proved the goods to be in his poſſeſſion, and to be taken away by the defendant: the defendant ſhewed that theſe were the goods of Jane Blackham in her life-time, and that the defendant had taken out letters of adminiſtration to her, and ſo was intitled to the goods: on this the plaintiff proved that ſome few days before her death, ſhe was actually married to him; and in anſwer to this it was inſiſted, that the ſpiritual court had determined the right to be in the defendant; for they could not have granted adminiſtration to the defendant, but on ſuppoſing there was no ſuch marriage, and that this ſentence being of a matter within their juriſdiction, was concluſive, and could not be contradicted by evidence.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A matter, which has been directly determined by their ſentence, cannot be contradicted: their ſentence is concluſive in ſuch caſes, and no evidence ſhall be admitted to prove the contrary; but that is to be intended only in the point directly tried; it is otherwiſe if a collateral matter be collected or inferred from their ſentence, as in this caſe, becauſe the adminiſtration is granted to the defendant, therefore they infer that the plaintiff was not the inteſtate's huſband, as he could not have been taken to be, if the point there tried had been married or unmarried, and their ſentence had been, not married. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 291.

Trinity, 7 Ann. Brown v. Hedges.

In an action of trover, on not guilty pleaded, it appeared on evidence, that the defendant was tenant by the curteſy of lands in Ireland, and had cut down and ſold the trees off the eſtate, and that the reverſion belonged to the plaintiff, and two others in coparcenary: on a caſe made for the opinion of the court, it was reſolved, 1ſt. That in local actions, as in treſpaſs, wherefore he broke his cloſe, the plaintiff cannot prove a treſpaſs but where he lays it, nor lay it in any other place than where it is; but it is otherwiſe in tranſitory actions, as trover: therefore, in the preſent caſe he may lay the converſion here, and prove it in Ireland. Style 331. 2dly. One joint-tenant, or tenant in common, or parcener, cannot bring trover againſt another, becauſe the poſſeſſion of one is the poſſeſſion of both; if he does, it is good evidence on not guilty pleaded: but if one joint-tenant brings trover againſt a ſtranger, in that caſe the defendant may plead it in abatement, but cannot take advantage of it in evidence. 2 Lev. 113. Cro. El. 544. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 290.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Lord Altham v. Lord Angleſea.

On an iſſue directed out of Chancery, to try the validity of J. late Earl of Angleſea's will, there were two points argued, which were ſaved at the trial.

1ſt, As to the matter of evidence, whether depoſitions taken in Ireland, by virtue of a dedimus, certifying, that the papers ſent over were true copies of certain fines and recoveries ſuffered there, and witneſſes ſwearing that they were the ſame, and had received no alteration, &c. were good evidence. 2dly, Whether there being no deed to lead the uſes, according to the ſtatute of frauds and perjuries, the uſe reſulted to the conuſor, or went to the conuſee, ſo as to make a good tenant to the praecipe.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. As to the firſt point the law requires the beſt evidence that can be had. But we cannot compel any one to come out of Ireland; nor oblige any one to go and inform himſelf, in order to be a witneſs: but this rule is to be interpreted with reſpect to the perſon depoſing; as that a man's affidavit ſhall not be read when he is here to give his evidence by word of mouth; but when the perſon cannot be brought into the court, tho' there be other witneſſes to give verbal evidence, yet the depoſitions of thoſe that are abſent may be read.

To the ſecond point, he held that this caſe was out of the ſtatute of fraud and perjuries, for in his opinion ſince the ſtatute, there muſt be a parol averment to make the uſe reſult; for at common law, if a fine was levied, it was for the uſe of the conuſee till ſuch averment: and that this ſtatute extends only to ſtrangers, and not to the conuſee of the fine. Accordingly the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 210.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Anonymous.

In an action of aſſault and battery, brought by the huſband againſt the defendant for an intent to raviſh his wife, ſhe was admitted an evidence (which Holt ſaid, was becauſe the wife cannot give any conſent, though it be not felony) and held that A. having laid 5 l. of the event of the cauſe, was no objection to the wife of A. being admitted to be an evidence; becauſe it ſhall not be in the power of a third perſon to diſqualify one, who otherwiſe would be a good evidence; and thereon ſhe was admitted to give evidence. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 224.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Maſon v. Hogſden.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that barely being a factor, does not incapacitate a man for being an evidence in a cauſe; otherwiſe if he be intereſted. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 226.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Anonymous.

An action of debt was brought on a bond againſt an executor, who pleaded he had fully adminiſtered; the plaintiff's counſel gave into court the inventory taken in the ſpiritual court, and put it on the defendant to diſcharge himſelf.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that where in the inventory it was ſet down deſperate debts, thoſe ſhall not be aſſets, unleſs the plaintiff can prove that the defendant has received them. But thoſe debts, which are not ſet down deſperate, whether arrears of rent, or any other, ſhall be accounted aſſets, whether paid or not. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 225.

Trinity, 8 Ann. Young v. Slaughterford.

On a trial at bar in an appeal of murder; a perſon being produced to be an evidence againſt the appellee, who was under twelve years of age; the appellee's counſel objected to him for that reaſon; and beſides, they ſaid he had taken money.

Holt, C. J. held, that if the party knew the danger of an oath, he might be an evidence; (and that appearing he was admitted) and ſuppoſe he had taken money, that is no reaſon why his evidence ſhould not be taken: but if it be proved, the jury may give the leſs credit to his evidence.

But ſuppoſe one gives or promiſes a witneſs money if the cauſe go on that ſide, he cannot be admitted to give evidence.

It was objected, that in an indictment, evidence of diſcourſe preceding the fact, is not to be given.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, replied, that they might give in evidence any thing that explains the fact. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 228.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Tybbald v. Tregott.

On an action on the caſe, brought by a ſilk dyer againſt his ſervant for money received to his uſe; on the evidence it appeared, that A. ſending ſilk to be dyed by the plaintiff, the plaintiff ſent his ſervant, the defendant, home with it, and A. paid him for every parcel as he received it; A. was produced as an evidence, that he paid the money to the defendant.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, would not admit his evidence; for that would be to admit a creditor to ſwear in diſcharge of himſelf: he ſaid, that if a man pays money by his ſervant, the ſervant may be a witneſs; but that is allowed for the neceſſity of the thing. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 261.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Taylor v. ———.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, a perſon who has not ſet his hand to the witneſſing a leaſe, may be witneſs to it, if thoſe that ſigned it do not appear; and ſo he ruled it. For in the caſe of a leaſe of years, it is ſufficient if the leſſor only ſigns in the witneſs's preſence; and ſo it ſeems in other grants of chattels. Quere, if ſo in freeholds, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 262.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Burridge v. The Earl of Suſſex, and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 394 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Lady Dowager Lindſey v. Lord Lindſey.

In a ſuit in ejectment, the plaintiff made title by a recovery in dower, and produced in evidence the record of the judgment, the habere facias ſeiſinam, &c. the defendant offered to prove a term of ninety-nine years ſubſiſting, and that prior to this title, but it was diſallowed; for if he had pleaded this in bar of the writ of dower, yet the plaintiff muſt have recovered with a let execution be ſtayed, and the defendant had a proper time to have pleaded it then, and has ſlipped his opportunity: alſo a chattel-intereſt was at common law bound by a recovery in a real action, ſo that the defendant had an intermediate execution, without regard to the ſubſiſting term: and though by ſtat. H. 8. a termor may falſify, yet it muſt be the termor himſelf, and not another for him. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 291.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. ——— v. Layfield et al'.

In an action on the caſe for money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe, it appeared on evidence, that Layfield and the other defendants were bankers and partners, and that the plaintiff had given Layfield 20*s.* for which he received a ticket in the double exchange lottery, and Layfield undertook to pay what benefit ſhould happen thereon: that the ticket came up a 40 l. prize, and for that money the action was brought; and it was objected for the defendants, that the action was brought againſt Layfield and his partners, and it did not appear that any had undertaken to be truſtees in the lottery but Layfield, and therefore he ought to be charged, and not his partners; to which Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, that it appeared they were partners in their trade, and goldſmiths, and the adventurers put in their money on the credit of ſeveral goldſmiths, who had undertaken to pay the prizes, and it ſhould be preſumed the act of Layfield was the act of the others, and ſhould bind them, unleſs they could ſhew a diſclaimer, and a refuſal to be concerned in it; and accordingly the plaintiff had a verdict for 40 l. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 292.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. The Queen v. Sutton.

On an information in nature of a quo warranto againſt Sutton, for uſurping the office of a common burgeſs of the town of the Deviſes in Wiltſhire, on the trial at bar it appeared, that the recorder had made a deputy-recorder, by writing under his hand and ſeal, and afterwards had revoked this deputation by another writing, a copy of which was offered in evidence of the revocation. But this held not good evidence, becauſe it did not appear, but they might have produced the original. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 74.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Lord Say and Seals's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 142 of this work, under the head Attorney.

Hilary, 11 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of Hornſey.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. No one living in a hundred ſhall be allowed an evidence for any matter in favour of that hundred, though ſo poor as on that account to be excuſed from the payment of taxes, becauſe though poor at preſent, he may become rich. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 150.

Hilary, 11 Ann. The Caſe of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Adjudged, That a copy of an act of parliament was no evidence, unleſs the act had been before allowed of, and ſo made a record of this court; for otherwiſe nothing ſhall be allowed of, as ſufficient evidence of the act, but the exemplification of it under the Great Seal. And the reaſon is, becauſe the court is party, which cannot pray oyer as the party may; ſo that the court would be in a worſe condition than a common perſon if they were to receive for evidence a copy offered them. 35 H. 6. 14. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 126.

Michaelmas, 11 Ann. Stennil v. Brown.

A condemnation of a ſhip as a prize, in the Admiralty Court of France, was attempted to be proved by a copy of the condemnation, ſubſcribed by the officer of the court.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, who tried the cauſe, would admit of no evidence, but an exemplification of the condemnation under the ſeal of the court.

A copy of a rule of court, ſigned by the officer of the court, is no evidence in any other court, unleſs the judge of the court ſet his hand to it himſelf: but at niſi prius, the hand of the officer is enough, becauſe it is the ſame court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 109.

Michaelmas, 11 Ann. Lord Lanſdown's Caſe.

On an ejectment brought by three co-heirs againſt Lord Lanſdown, on the trial his Lordſhip offered in evidence parol declarations of the teſtator, that it was his intention the iſſue male ſhould take by the will: but this was oppoſed by the counſel for the plaintiffs, and refuſed by the court:

The reaſon of the law in this point being clear and ſtrong; for if parol evidence be once allowed to explain a will, and give it another ſenſe than what can be collected from the will ſtanding alone, what purchaſer under a will can be ſafe? or what lawyer can give his opinion on a point that depends on will? Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 97.

Eaſter, 12 Ann. Caſe of the Corporation of Bewdley.

Thoſe that produce an evidence ought to examine him in chief only: but they, againſt whom he is brought, may examine him on a voyer dire, if they pleaſe, whether he is concerned in intereſt.

The matter in iſſue was, which was the charter by which the corporation of the town of Bewdley was to act, whether by the ancient one, or by one of later date.

Now, an evidence being brought to eſtabliſh the ancient charter, his evidence was excepted againſt, as being a mortgagee under the old corporation, which they proved by an anſwer of his to a bill in Chancery. But this anſwer being ſo uncertainly penned, as that it might be true, and yet his mortgage of ſuch a nature as not to prevent his evidence; it was inſiſted that he might be called to explain the ambiguity of his anſwer.

The court was of opinion he might, ſince his anſwer depended on his veracity, as much as the evidence he could then give; and if the one be to be credited, why not the other?

But afterwards his evidence was rejected on another conſideration, viz. that in his anſwer he lays the whole ſtreſs of his defence on the matter then in iſſue, viz. the ſubſiſting of the preſent corporation. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 151.

Michaelmas, 12 Ann. The Queen v. Muſcot or Muſket.

A queſtion was ſtarted on an indictment for a judicial perjury, whether one produced as evidence for the Queen might not be exempted on a voyer dire, as the common uſage is in civil actions?

Parker, Chief Juſtice. It is a principle of the common law, that every man ſhall be tried by a fair jury, and that evidence ſhall be given by perſons diſintereſted. The law gives the party tried his election, to prove a perſon offered as evidence, intereſted, two ways, viz. either by bringing another evidence to prove it, or elſe by ſwearing the perſon himſelf on a voyer dire; but though he may do either he cannot have recourſe to both. It was never objected before, that a perſon ſhould not be ſworn on a voyer dire; nor will (I hope) ever hereafter. Objections have indeed been ſtarted as to the nature of thoſe queſtions, that ſhall be put to a witneſs on taking ſuch an oath.

As to the caſe of the robbery, that is founded on the neceſſity of it, and that only.

As to the caſe grounded on the ſtatutes, where forty pounds reward, &c. they admit of this anſwer, that the intention of thoſe acts will be quite defeated, if the reward is to take of their evidence.

The ſame anſwer likewiſe may ſerve to the caſe of an indictment for felony, for ſtolen goods, and where the indictment is removed by certiorari, &c. For who in the firſt caſe but the owner can prove the property of the goods? And in the ſecond, if the giving of coſts would take off the evidence of the proſecutor, that act of parliament which was deſigned to diſcountenance the removing of ſuits by certiorari, would give the greateſt encouragement to them that is poſſible. As to the diſtinction taken between the intereſt of the witneſs appearing on record, and its appearance ſome other way, it is an irrational diſtinction, and a reflexion on the wiſdom of the law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10, page 193.

Hilary, 1 Geo. Reeves v. Symonds, at Niſi Prius.

This was an action brought by Reeves for a quantity of ſtockings ſold to Symonds, who in his defence ſaid, that it was not he that bought the ſtockings, but his ſon, who ſent them to France in the way of trade, and to prove this, he would have called his ſon.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he cannot be an evidence, becauſe here is an advantage made by way of trade; and to whom this advantage ſhall accrue, depends intirely on this queſtion, who made this contract? And now one comes to ſwear, that he made the contract himſelf.

The defendant's council argued he may be a witneſs, becauſe he will neither get nor loſe by the event of this cauſe; for what is now given in evidence, cannot be given in evidence in another action.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. If an action be brought by a commoner for his right of common, ſhall another perſon that claims a right of common, or the ſame title, be allowed to give evidence. No, and yet it is certain that he can neither get nor loſe in that cauſe; for the event of that cauſe will no way determine his right. But though he is not intereſted in that cauſe, he is intereſted in the queſtion on which the cauſe depends; and that will be a bias on his mind. It is not his ſwearing the thing to be true that gives him any advantage; but it is the thing's being true; and the law does judge, that it is not proper to admit a man to ſwear that to be true, which it is plainly his intereſt ſhould be true. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 292.

Trinity, 2 Geo. Clark v. Elwick.

See this article fully ſtated in page 105 of this work, under the head Arbitration and Award.

Hilary, 3 Geo. Godfrey v. Norris.

In an action of debt on a bond, on not his deed pleaded, iſſue was joined thereon.

The plaintiff was adminiſtrator de bonis non of the obligee, and the only ſurviving witneſs to the bond; and the proof given on this iſſue was only a perſon who ſwore to the hand-writing, and alſo ſeveral letters from the obligor, making mention of this bond.

To this it was objected by the other ſide, that the hand-writing is not ſufficient proof where the witneſs is living. That it was the fault of the plaintiff to bring himſelf under this incapacity, that he might have let another perſon have taken adminiſtration to his uſe, or adminiſtration as to this bond only.

But it was ruled by Parker, Chief Juſtice, that this was good evidence; and he compared it to the caſe of a will, where the witneſs happens to be a deviſee under the will, in which caſe, if there is no other witneſs, the proof of the hand is allowed: whereon a verdict was given for the plaintiff. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 34.

Trinity, 3 Geo. Dyer v. Mills et al'.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking the materials of an houſe; on not guilty pleaded, Parker, Chief Juſtice, would not admit the defendant to give evidence of taking the goods as a deodand, becauſe he might have juſtified, and then the plaintiff would have had an opportunity to have given an anſwer to it. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 61.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. Anonymous.

The queſtion in ejectment being parcel or not parcel, a ſurvey was offered in evidence on the plaintiff's ſide, which was taken by one under whom the leſſor claimed, wherein the lands in queſtion were not included. But this being an act to which the defendants were not privy, and conſequently not bound, and being dangerous, and tending to encourage people to take more than their own in a ſurvey, Pratt, Chief Juſtice, rejected it. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 95.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. The King v. Motherſell.

On a motion for a new trial, the queſtion being, whether a particular matter offered in evidence was well over-ruled by the judge? The court ſaid, that if he had rejected that which was good evidence, it would be ground for a new trial; but if the matter offered was not legal evidence, then the firſt verdict ought to ſtand. And as to that, the fact was, that on an information in the nature of a quo warranto, the proſecutor produced in evidence a book, which appeared only to be minutes of ſome corporate acts ten years ago, all written by the proſecutor's clerk, who was no officer of the corporation. And this being oppoſed by the other ſide, as being never kept amongſt, or eſteemed as one of the corporation books, in which the entries were always made by the town-clerk, and there being ſome ſuſpicion that this book was not genuine, the judge, before he admitted it to be read, required an account where it had been kept for theſe ten years, and whether any body had ſeen it before, concerning which the proſecutor not being able to give any evidence, he rejected it.

Per curiam. Corporation books are generally allowed to be given in evidence, when they have been publicly kept as ſuch, and the entries made by the proper officer; not but the entries by other perſons may be good, if the town-clerk be ſick, or refuſes to attend, but then, that muſt be made appear. Whoever produces a book muſt eſtabliſh it before he delivers it in. We often make people, when they produce deeds, give an account where they have been kept, and how they came by them. Therefore we are of opinion this evidence thus offered was well over-ruled, and conſequently there is no ground for a new trial. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 93.

Trinity, 4 Geo. The King v. Arnold.

The defendants were indicted, for that they being churchwardens, and two others, overſeers in due man- ner appointed, did refuſe to join with the overſeers in making a poor's rate.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, held, the proſecutor ought to ſhew an appointment of the overſeers under the hands and ſeals of two juſtices, as the ſtatute requires: and he rejected parol evidence, becauſe he ſaid it muſt be produced, that he might judge whether it was a ſufficient appointment. He quoted the caſe of Willoughby v. Dixey in C. B. where a will entered in the ſpiritual court books, to be delivered out to the executor, was refuſed to be read, till application and refuſal of the executor was proved. And the ſame in Sir Edward Seymour's caſe: wherefore the defendant was acquitted. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 101.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Baker v. Lord Fairfax.

On an iſſue directed out of Chancery, one of the witneſſes, after his depoſitions were taken, became intereſted, and confeſſing it now on a voyer dire, he was rejected. Then it was deſired to read his depoſitions as if he was dead; and a caſe was quoted, where in Chancery a witneſs was made executor, and revived the ſuit, and his depoſition was read at the hearing.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, remembered the caſe in Salk. 286. which was the reſolution of two courts on a trial at bar; and ſo he refuſed to hear the depoſitions read. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 101.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. Jones v. White.

On a trial at bar on a feigned iſſue out of Chancery, where the queſtion was, deviſed or not deviſed, to overthrow the will, the defendant inſiſted, that the teſtator was non compos at the time of making it, which was on the 29th, having ſhot himſelf on the 31ſt. And among other circumſtances, the coroner's inqueſt, which found him lunatic, was offered to be read, which being oppoſed by the other ſide, the court delivered their opinions as follows:

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The plaintiff in this caſe is executrix, and the inqueſt for her advantage, ſince the perſonal eſtate is ſaved by finding lunacy; and therefore I think it may be read againſt her. In Lord Derby's caſe, an inqueſt after death was allowed to be given in evidence; if this is read, it will have but very little weight, for it only finds him lunatic on the 31ſt, which is no concluſive evidence that he was ſo on the 29th.

Powys, Juſtice, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Eyre, Juſtice. This is a criminal matter, and ought not to be given in evidence on a civil proceeding. A verdict on an indictment of battery cannot be read in an action for the battery. An inquiſition after death was in the nature of a civil proceeding, but this is criminal, for it might induce a forfeiture of the goods, if he had been found felo de ſe.

Pratt, Juſtice. If a verdict is given in evidence, it muſt be between the ſame parties; and therefore an indictment, which is at the ſuit of the King, cannot be read in an action, which is at the ſuit of the party. The wife is no witneſs here, as ſhe was before the coroner; ſo that this would be to give evidence againſt herſelf. The reaſon why an inquiſition after death may be read is, becauſe of the antiquity of it, or to prove a pedigree.

The court being divided, the depoſition was not read, till Pratt, Juſtice, deſired it might for this time, being only to inform the conſcience of the Chancellor, and that nothing might ſeem to be omitted that might tend to clear this queſtion. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 68.

Hilary, 5 Geo. Pitton v. Walter, at Surry Aſſizes.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. The bare producing the poſtea is no evidence of the verdict, without ſhewing the copy of the final judgment; becauſe it may happen that the judgment was arreſted, or a new trial granted. But it is good evidence that a trial was had between the ſame parties, ſo as to introduce an account of what a witneſs ſwore at that trial, who is ſince dead.

The queſtion being, whether the leſſor of the plaintiff was heir at law to him that laſt died ſeiſed, to prove the pedigree, the Chief Juſtice admitted a viſitation in 1623 made by the heralds, entered in their books, and kept in their office, to be read in evidence: he alſo admitted the minute book of a former viſitation, ſigned by the heads of the ſeveral families, which was found in the library of Lord Oxford. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 162.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. The King v. Smith.

The court was moved for a rule on a juſtice of peace to produce an examination at a trial; and the court doubting, the matter was adjourned. And afterwards Pratt, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court as follows:

Where things are evidence of themſelves, as corporation books, we make no rule to produce them, but only that the party may have copies, which copies are evidence: but this examination is not evidence of itſelf, without proving the hand writing of the party; and ſo it is of warrants and affidavits, and therefore a copy of them is no evidence; and we muſt have the original, for nothing elſe concludes the party. Make the rule, that the juſtice cauſe to be produced the examination at the trial, and give the party a copy in the mean time. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 126.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. Fotheringham v. Greenwood.

A. having money of the plaintiff's in his hands, loſes it at play. The plaintiff brings an action after three months on ſtatute, 9 Ann, c. 14. againſt gaming and produces A. as a witneſs. On a voyer dire he confeſſed, that if the plaintiff recovered he was not to be anſwerable; but if he failed, the money was to be deducted out of his fortune in the plaintiff's hands.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice. Though the recovery againſt the defendant will not ſink the demand for the money embezzled by A. yet his apprehenſion, that the plaintiff will not trouble him for it, is a bias on him; for if a witneſs thinks himſelf intereſted in the queſtion, though in ſtrictneſs of law he is not, yet he ought not to be ſworn.

In this caſe was quoted the caſe of Mr. Chapman of Bucks, who owned himſelf to be under an honorary, though not a binding engagement, to pay the coſts; and Parker, Chief Juſtice, on ſolemn debate, rejected his evidence, and ſo it was done in this caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 129.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Moody v. Thurſton.

In this caſe, acceſs was granted to the books of the commiſſioners for ſtating and determining the debts of the army, at the prayer of the defendant, being an officer's widow. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 304.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Leighton v. Leighton.

On a trial at bar, the defendant made title under an old in-tail, and among other things offered as evidence an inquiſition taken after death in 25 H. 8. whereby it was found, that the deceaſed tenant was ſeiſed in fee, and on traverſe of this it went down to be tried, and found to be only a ſeiſin in tail, on which judgment was given, and an amoveas manus iſſued. This was objected to by the council for the plaintiff, becauſe it was taken and tried in the county of Salop, whereas the lands lay in Wales, and this being before ſtat. 27 H. 8. which united Wales to England, was before no judge, and a miſ-trial. But the court ordered it to be read, ſaying, it was not void but voidable; and cited Murrey v. Wiſe, where on a trial at bar depoſitions regularly taken were allowed to be read. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 308.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. Brocas v. The Mayor, &c. of the City of London.

The plaintiff moved that he might have a copy of the poll, and that Sir John Ward, who, as Mayor, preſided at the election, might produce the original at the trial; and his council cited two caſes, and produced the rules, where a copy of the poll was ordered to be given, and the original to be produced. 12 Ann, Sir Peter Delme's caſe, and Trinity 4 Geo. Parminter's caſe.

Eyre, Juſtice. In the caſe of Marlborough the original was ordered to be produced, but then it was on affidavit of an eraſure.

Forteſcue, Juſtice. This poll is a public thing, like corporation books; or elſe it is only in nature of the officer's own private memorandum. If the firſt, then a copy thereof is as much as you can aſk, without ſome particular foundation. If it be only of a private nature, then you cannot have ſo much as a copy: therefore the plaintiff took nothing by his motion. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 307.

Trinity, 6 Geo. The King v. Tilly.

A conviction for deer-ſtealing was quaſhed, becauſe the ſame perſon was both informer and witneſs, and was intitled to a part of the penalty. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 316.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Leighton v. Leighton.

The court was moved, that the keeper of records and fines in the county of Monmouth might attend the trial at bar with ſome of the original records, to anſwer an objection that had been made on a former trial, that all the records were worn out and obliterated.

Per curiam. We cannot do it: you may have a rule for copies. And though the officer cannot be examined as to matter of record, yet he may give evidence to the condition of them in general, without producing them, and that will anſwer your purpoſe as well. Vide Stra. vol, 1. p. 210.

Hilary, 7 Geo. Dunſley v. Weſtbrown.

In an action of treſpaſs for beating his ſervants, whereby he loſt their ſervice; the plaintiff called one of the ſervants to prove the caſe. It was objected, that he having a right to bring an action in his own name, it was in effect ſwearing for himſelf, and he muſt be under a bias, becauſe what he ſays now on his oath, may be given in evidence againſt him in his own action.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, inclined to the objection, ſo the plaintiff ſet him aſide; and in the debate of it the Chief Juſtice put this caſe: A ſailor ſues for wages, and the queſtion turns on the loſs of the ſhip: no ſailor, who has wages due, ſhall be a witneſs as to the ſalvage of the ſhip, becauſe he is concerned in the event of that queſtion. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 414.

Hilary, 7 Geo. The King v. Hall.

On an information for a libel againſt the doctrine of the Trinity, the witneſs for the crown, who produced the libel, ſwore that it was ſhewn to the defendant, who owned himſelf the author of that book; errors of the preſs, and ſome ſmall variations, excepted. The council for the defendant objected, that this evidence would not intitle Mr. Attorney to read the book, becauſe the confeſſion was not abſolute, and therefore amounted to a denial that he was the author of that identical book. But Pratt, Chief Juſtice, allowed it to be read, ſaying, he would put it on the defendant to ſhew that there were material variances. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 416.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Buſby v. Greenſlate.

In this caſe, a perſon, who had ſold the inheritance without any covenant for good title or warranty, was allowed to be a witneſs to prove the title of the vendee. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 445.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. Hawkins v. Perkins.

In an action on the caſe on a note, the plaintiff called one of the defendant's bail to prove the hand writing; and whether he was bound to give evidence was the queſtion. The Chief Juſtice ſaid, if he was a ſubſcribing witneſs he would oblige him; but otherwiſe he would leave him to his liberty. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 406.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. The King v. Guyn, Mayor of Chriſt-Church.

On a trial at bar, the queſtion was, whether A. B. at the time he did a corporate act, was an out-burgeſs or not. And to prove he was, the defendant, who had a rule for copies of all the books and records of the borough aforeſaid, produced a copy of a letter fifty years old, and found in one of the corporation cheſts, wherein A. B. was mentioned to be of another place: but the court refuſed to hear it read, becauſe not a corporate act within the rule, ſo that a copy is not evidence, but the original ought to be produced. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 401.

Hilary, 8 Geo. The King v. Reaſon and Tranter.

The defendants being indicted for the murder of Mr. Lutterel, were brought to the bar and arraigned, when they pleaded not guilty.

On the trial (which was at bar) the council for the King offered to give in evidence ſeveral declarations made by the deceaſed on his death bed, whereby he charged the defendants with barbarouſly murdering him; and without much heſitation, the court permitted that evidence. Whereon a clergyman, who attended him, was called, and when that gentleman had finiſhed his evidence, the court called on the council to produce a paper that had been written from the mouth of the deceaſed, ſaying, it was better evidence than the memory of the witneſs; whereon they informed the court, that they had not got the original, it being in the cuſtody of one of the Juſtices, whom, on attempting to ſubpœna, they found was in Wales, but the clergyman ſaid, he had a copy of it, which he took for his own ſatisfaction, before he delivered in the original to the coroner, and he offered to ſwear this to be a true copy.

Whereon a debate aroſe, whether this copy was evidence or not? The council for the King inſiſted, that the firſt paper being only the writing of the witneſs, not ſigned by the examinant, this, which, he now produced, was as much an original as that. But the court refuſed to let it be read, unleſs they could ſhew that the original was loſt; whereas they might have had it to produce, if they had ſent after it in time.

It was then objected by Pratt, Chief Juſtice, that ſince the written evidence was not produced, the whole evidence of the deceaſed's declaration ought to be rejected, for the firſt, ſecond, and third being all to the ſame effect, are but one fact, of which the beſt evidence was not produced; and therefore he was of opinion that they could not be let in to give any account of the firſt and third conference.

But the other judges were of opinion they might, ſaying, they were three diſtinct facts, and there was no reaſon to exclude the evidence as to the firſt and third declarations, merely becauſe they were diſabled to give an account of the ſecond.

Thereon the witneſs was directed to repeat his evidence, laying the examination before the juſtices out of the caſe, which he did accordingly. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 449.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Brownſon v. Avery.

The caſe was, A. ſells goods to B. and afterwards C. deſires D. to pay A. and promiſes to repay him; D. pays A. and afterwards B. allows the money to D. on account; and in an action againſt C. B. was called to prove the account, (it amounting to payment.) And it was objected, that the contract being originally between A. and B. B. was ſtill liable to A. and was therefore ſwearing to diſcharge himſelf. But Pratt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he would allow him to be a witneſs to prove the payment as a ſervant to C. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 507.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Denniſon v. Spurling.

In an action brought by an infant, the wife of the procbein amy was called; and Pratt, Chief Juſtice, allowed her to be a good witneſs. Vide Stra. vol. 1. page 506.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Lord Bernard v. Saul.

On a motion for leave to plead double, the court declared, that on non aſſumpſit, the defendant might give in evidence an unſurious contract, becauſe it makes it a void promiſe; but in the caſe of a ſpecialty, it muſt be pleaded. And on the trial the defendant was admitted to that evidence on the general iſſue, and the plaintiff was nonſuited. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 498.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Shuttleworth v. Bravo.

By the bankruptcy act it is provided, that if the bankrupt has within one year before loſt 5 l. in one day at gaming, he ſhall not have his certificate, nor the uſual allowance: and on an iſſue out of Chancery to try the point of gaming, a creditor of the bankrupt was called to prove the gaming. But Pratt, Chief Juſtice, would not allow him to be a witneſs, becauſe he would be intitled to a ſhare out of the uſual allowance of the bankrupt, which if he has not, by having forfeited on account of gaming, the dividend to the creditors will be the larger. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 507.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Hammond v. Stewart.

The defendant ſummoned one T. as a witneſs to attend the trial of the cauſe, who, on ſervice of the ſubpœna, ſaid, he would not attend, but run the hazard of forfeiting the 100 l. penalty: on affidavit of this, the court was moved for an attachment, that they might not be put to bring this action on the ſtatute, ſaying, they do it every day in Chancery, even for not attending a maſter on his ſummons. And in the principal caſe, the court made a rule to ſhew cauſe.

And this term the rule for the attachment niſi againſt the witneſs was diſcharged, it appearing that the ſubpœna was not ſerved till two in the afternoon in the city, to attend the ſitting that day in Middleſex, which the court ſaid was too ſhort a notice, and that witneſſes ought to have a reaſonable time to put their own affairs in ſuch order, that their attendance on the court may be of as little prejudice to themſelves as poſſible. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 510.

Trinity, 8 Geo. Anonymous.

Pratt, Chief Juſtice, allowed the wife's declaration, that ſhe agreed to pay 4 s. per week for nurſing a child, was good evidence to charge the huſband; this being a matter uſually tranſacted by the women. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 527.

Trinity, 8 Geo. Robinſon v. Davis.

On affidavit that the original award was loſt by coming up in the Briſtol mail, which was robbed; the court was moved on a copy of it, and a rule was granted for an attachment niſi. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 526.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Atwood v. Dent.

The plaintiff called a witneſs, who was ſet aſide on an exception taken by the defendant; but afterwards the defendant thought fit to call him, and then the plaintiff oppoſed his being examined. But Pratt, Chief Juſtice, ordered him to be ſworn, for he is a good witneſs, (nay a better) witneſs for the defendant, though he is not to be admitted againſt him. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 480.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Moody v. Thurſton.

By the ſtatute for ſtating the debts of the army, the commiſſioners have power to call the officers and agents before them, and if it appears there is any money due from one to the other, the commiſſioners are to give the party a certificate, and he may maintain an action for the money as on a ſtated account. The plaintiff in this cauſe produced his certificate; and the defendant offered in evidence his accounts, by which he ſaid it would appear, he had at that time no money in his hands; and beſides the commiſſioners had never heard him, but on the firſt ſummons made the certificate, and refuſed to give him time to produce his accounts. But Pratt, Chief Juſtice, would not let him into this evidence, being of opinion, that the certificate was concluſive. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 481.

Hilary, 9 Geo. Alcock v. Carter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 419 of this work, under the head Error.

Hilary, 9 Geo. Moſſe v. Bennet.

In treſpaſs on the caſe againſt the defendant, for diſturbing the plaintiff in his common; wherein he ſet forth, that the defendant had covered three acres of the common field with hurdles, and had incloſed three acres more, &c.

The defendant pleaded that the college of Newelme in the county of Oxford, was ſeized in fee of the lands in the declaration mentioned, and being ſo ſeized, made a leaſe thereof to the defendant for life, and that he the defendant had a right by preſcription to have a fair on the ſaid common every year, on ſuch days in the year, and to have hurdles to keep and encloſe cattle there, and a right to ſo much of the ground on the ſaid common as would keep the ſaid hurdles from fair to fair, and ſo juſtified the encloſing three acres with hurdles, and the covering three acres, with the hurdles aforeſaid, and avers it to be the ſame treſpaſs.

And on a demurrer to this plea, it was objected, that it was ill and repugnant, becauſe a ſeiſin was laid in the college, and an eſtate for life in the defendant; but it was diſallowed, for it is good, rendering to each his own.

It was further objected, that the defendant had juſtified the encloſing three acres, but did not ſay, that the covering was in three other acres; that the plaintiff having declared for a diſturbance in ſix acres, the defendant had only juſtified in three acres, which the court held to be a fault incurable, and the rather becauſe this being an action on the caſe for diſturbing the plaintiff in the enjoyment of his common, the defendant might have pleaded the general iſſue, and have given this ſpecial matter in evidence. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 120.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Dale v. Johnſon. At Niſi Prius. Error.

The defendant in an action aſſigned for error, that the plaintiff died before judgment, and to prove it he called the wife of the plaintiff, and Pratt, Chief Juſtice allowed her to be a witneſs. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 568.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Hiliard v. Phaly.

On a trial at bar on an iſſue directed out of Chancery; the queſtion was, whether Mr. H. the plaintiff's brother (who was ſeized in fee of the lands in queſtion, of the yearly value of 600 l.) was married to S. P. the mother and guardian of the defendant, before ſuch a day, which was his birth day; there were three other iſſues to the ſame purpoſe, ſhe having three other ſons.

On the trial it was proved on the plaintiff's ſide, that on the death of Mr. H. this woman got into her cuſtody all the writings concerning the inheritance of thoſe lands; and on a bill in Chancery, exhibited againſt her to diſcover the ſame, ſhe anſwered, that ſhe was married to Mr. H. about three years before he died, and ſo inſiſted to keep the writings, which anſwer was now offered to be given in evidence; but it was oppoſed on the other ſide; for though it might be concluſive againſt herſelf, if ſhe pretended to any dower, or to a jointure, yet it cannot be given in evidence againſt a third perſon not deriving any title under her; and the court being of that opinion, the anſwer was not read.

Then they offered to give the proceedings in the ſpiritual court in evidence, but that was likewiſe denied, becauſe what was done in the ſpiritual court cannot be evidence at common law, where the title of lands is in queſtion.

So the jury gave a verdict for the defendants. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 180.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Burr v. Davall.

On an iſſue directed out of Chancery to try the validity of Sir Thomas Davall's will, at the trial the council for the plaintiff objected againſt a witneſs produced by the defendant to prove that the teſtator was not compos mentis, viz. that he was intereſted in the ſucceſs of the cauſe: to which it was anſwered, that there were but two ways of excepting againſt a witneſs, either as to his oath, or by proving that he was a diſabled perſon, and this muſt be done on the other ſide. Then if there ſhould be any doubt, whether the words in the will were dying with iſſue, or without iſſue, it ought to be taken in that ſenſe which makes the will conſiſtent with reaſon and good ſenſe: the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 60.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Collier v. Morris and others.

One Ridings was ſupœnaed as a witneſs on behalf of the plaintiff in a cauſe which was tried at the ſittings after the laſt term in Middleſex, and was three times called, but did not appear, wherefore an application was made to the court from the plaintiff for an attachment againſt him.

And now his council ſhews cauſe, and produces an affidavit of Ridings, that he did attend at the trial, and was ready to give evidence, but came too late, after he was called, and that he could give no other evidence than was given by one of the witneſſes who was ſworn, and that notwithſtanding his abſence, the plaintiff had a verdict and 90 l. damages.

As to that it was anſwered for the plaintiff, that two of the defendants were acquitted, whereby the plaintiff has been obliged to pay 20 l. coſts.

Lord Hardwicke. I do not ſee any reaſon in this caſe to proceed by this extraordinary way of attachment, for the ancient and ordinary remedy is by action on the ſtat. which if you think yourſelves wronged, you may purſue. The rule was diſcharged. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke. p. 180.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. Layer.

The defendant being indicted for high treaſon, one Mr. D'Oyley depoſed, that ſome papers in a bundle, were as he believed of the priſoner's hand writing; for that he, this witneſs was acquainted with his hand, he being his clerk about fourteen years ſince, and that he had received a letter from the priſoner about five years paſt, which he believed was written by him.

Then the papers were produced to be read, which was oppoſed by the council for the priſoner, becauſe ſimilitude of hands was no evidence, and ſome caſes were cited to prove that matter.

But this was over-ruled by the court, who were of opinion, that if theſe papers were not written by the priſoner, yet being found in his cuſtody, they ought to be read; and ſo it was reſolved in Lord Preſton's caſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 89.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Stevenſon v. Nevinſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 405 of this work, under the head Elections.

Trinity, 10 Geo. The King v. Smart.

On a certiorari to remove an indictment, the defendant entered into a recognizance to try it at the next aſſizes, which he could not do by reaſon of the indiſpoſition of ſome witneſſes; and this appearing to the court on affidavit, it was moved to ſtay the eſtreating of the recognizance, which was granted on payment of coſts, and entering into a rule to try it at the next aſſizes following, eſpecially ſince the proſecutor can get nothing by the eſtreat of the recognizance, but now he gets his coſts. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 288.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Serle or Searle v. Barrington.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 244 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Trinity, 10 Geo. The King v. Moiſe.

The defendant was indicted for tearing a note, whereby he promiſed to pay to A. B. ſo much money, A. B. was produced as a witneſs, and it was objected, that it was ſwearing to ſet up his own demand, becauſe if the defendant was convicted, the court would oblige him to give a new note. But Forteſcue and Raymond, Juſtices, allowed her to give evidence. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 595.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Duel v. Harding.

In an action for beating his ſervant, whereby he loſt his ſervice, Forteſcue and Raymond, Juſtices, allowed the ſervant to be a witneſs. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 595.

Trinity, 10 Geo. The King v. Purſell.

The defendant being proſecuted for oppreſſing an honeſt man, under colour of a warrant of the Chief Juſtice, was ordered to anſwer on interrogatories; and on his examination he forſwore himſelf, and was indicted and convicted of perjury; and now he moved to ſet aſide the ſaid conviction, it appearing on affidavit, he could not be ready to make any defence at the trial; and on this motion the verdict was ſet aſide on payment of coſts, and entering into a rule to try it forthwith. Vide Raym. vol. 8. p. 289.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. The King v. The Biſhop of Cheſter. Error.

On error brought of a judgment in a quare impedit brought in the County Palatine of Lancaſter againſt the Biſhop of Cheſter, for refuſing to admit one Peploe to the wardenſhip of Mancheſter-College, on the preſentation of the King.

The Biſhop pleaded, that he claimed nothing but as ordinary, and ſet forth, that this College was founded by Car. 2. who appointed a warden thereof, and that all ſucceſſive wardens ſhould be batchelors of divinity; and that the ſaid Peploe was not a batchelor of divinity; therefore he (the Biſhop) could not admit him to be warden. And on iſſue joined, whether he was a batchelor of divinity or not, the cauſe was tried, and evidence was given, that the Archbiſhop of Canterbury had granted a faculty or degree of batchelor of divinity to the ſaid Peploe inſtanter, which faculties were grantable by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury for the time being, by cuſtom and uſage immemorial, and this was confirmed to them by ſtat. 25 H. 8.

The council for the defendant tendered a bill of exceptions to this evidence, which was over-ruled below: and thereon a verdict was found for the King: and now the defendant brought a writ of error, and aſſigned theſe errors following:

1ſt. It did not appear that this faculty was ſtamped, or that the duty was paid at the time it was enrolled in Chancery, as it ought to be by virtue of ſtat. 9 W. 3. therefore it not being ſtamped when enrolled, it is void.

2dly. This faculty was not ſubſcribed and regiſtered by the Archbiſhop's clerk of the faculties, as required by the ſaid ſtat. 25 H. 8.

3dly. That it was not ſubſcribed and enrolled by the King's clerk of the faculties in Chancery as it ought, becauſe he is empowered by the ſtatute to tender an oath to the perſon who hath obtained it, which ſtatute was made to reſtrain the extravagant grants of the Pope in thoſe days; and therefore ſhould be fully and ſtrictly performed by the clerks themſelves, and not by their deputy clerks.

But theſe objections were over-ruled, and the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 365.

Trinity,

Trinity, 11 Geo. The King v. Fletcher.

Two perſons were indicted for an aſſault, one ſubmitted, and was fined 1 s. and paid it: the other pleaded not guilty, and on the trial, Raymond, Chief Juſtice, allowed him to call the other defendant, the matter being now at an end as to him. Vide Stra. vol. 1. page 633.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Bourne v. Turner.

The court was moved on affidavit that the tenant in poſſeſſion was a material witneſs for the landlord, that therefore the landlord might be made a defendant in the room of the tenant in poſſeſſion.

The council on the other ſide inſiſted, that it was never done, and that it would not make him a witneſs when done.

Per curiam. He is liable for the meſne profits. The declaration is regularly delivered to the defendant in poſſeſſion. It was never done in this court. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 632.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Shank, qui tam v. Payne.

In an action on the ſtatute of uſury, Holt, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to let the party to the contract be a witneſs to prove the re-payment of the money, becauſe till that was proved he was no witneſs at all. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 633.

Trinity, 11 Geo. The King v. Azire.

On an indictment againſt the huſband for an aſſault on the wife, Raymond, Chief Juſtice, allowed her to be a good witneſs for the King; and cited Lord Audley's caſe, in the State Trials. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 633.

Trinity, 11 Geo. Philips v. Fiſh.

In an action on the caſe for words ſpoken of the plaintiff, the court held, that where a treſpaſs is with a whereby, &c. whatever comes under the per quod muſt be proved, otherwiſe the plaintiff cannot have a verdict, becauſe that is the giſt of the action. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 372.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Sir John Walrond v. Jacob Senior Henricus Van Moſes.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 170 of this work, under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Anonymous.

On a motion made by the plaintiff to examine witneſſes at a judge's chamber, they being mariners, and now going to ſea on a long voyage, it was oppoſed on the other ſide, becauſe this would be to deprive the party of the benefit of this evidence by croſs-examining them at the trial; it is true, ſuch motions have been made where the defendant would put off a trial, or where he deſires ſome other favour of the court; but here it is in the power of the plaintiff to bring on the trial when he pleaſes; and the defendant cannot bring it on but by proviſo, and then this motion might be proper.

This motion would have been granted, if the defendant had agreed to it; or if he had deſired any favour of the court, it ſhould not be granted, unleſs he would admit the plaintiff to examine his witneſſes; but that not being the caſe, the plaintiff took nothing by this motion. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 326.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Price v. Brown.

Payment after the day, and before bringing the action, was pleaded to be a payment of the principal and all intereſt then due: on evidence it appeared a groſs ſum was paid, which on computation did not amount to the full intereſt, but it was ſworn that the plaintiff accepted it in full. It was objected, that they ought to prove it, as they had pleaded; but the Chief Juſtice thought it well enough, on which there was a verdict. And the next term the court was moved on affidavits of the falſity of the defence, and that no defence was expected, and therefore they were not ready to contradict the ſingle witneſs, who ſwore to the payment of the money. But the court would not grant a new trial, ſaying, it would be of dangerous conſequence to ſuffer people to ſet up new evidence, after they knew what was ſworn before. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 691.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Chambers v. Robinſon.

In an action for a malicious proſecution of an indictment for perjury, Raymond, Chief Juſtice, allowed the plaintiff to give in evidence an advertiſement put in the papers by the defendant, of the finding the indictment, with other ſcandalous matter, though an information had been granted for it as a libel, not (as he ſaid) that the jury were to conſider it in damages, but only as a circumſtance of malice. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 691.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. The King v. Travers.

The defendant was indicted the laſt ſummer aſſizes at Kingſton, for a rape on the body of a child, then ſix years old. And becauſe Lord Chief Baron Gilbert refuſed to admit the child as an evidence againſt him, he was acquitted.

But at the ſame aſſizes an indictment was found againſt him for an aſſault with an intent to raviſh the ſaid child, and this indictment coming now to be tried before Raymond, Chief Juſtice, the ſame objection was now taken, viz. that the girl being now but ſeven years of age, could not be a witneſs: the council inſiſting, that it had formerly been held, that none under twelve years of age could be admitted to be a witneſs.

On the other ſide it was ſaid, that in capital caſes, which concerned life, this objection might be allowed, but in caſes of miſdemeanor only, as this was, ſuch a witneſs might be admitted: the council inſiſted, that the objection went only to the credit of the witneſs.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, held, that there was no difference betwixt capital offences and leſſer offences, in this reſpect. And that a perſon who could not be a witneſs in the one caſe, could not in the other. The reaſon why the law prohibits the evidence of a child ſo young is, becauſe the child cannot be preſumed to diſtinguiſh betwixt right and wrong: no perſon has ever been admitted as a witneſs under the age of nine years, and very ſeldom under ten. And in the preſent caſe, the child was refuſed to be a witneſs: and there not being evidence ſufficient without her, the defendant was acquitted. Vide Stra. vol 2. p. 700.

Trinity, 12 Geo. Hill v. Bateman et al.

The defendant Bateman being a juſtice of peace, had convicted the plaintiff for deſtroying game, and though (as it was proved) the plaintiff had effects of his own, which might have been diſtrained, ſufficient to anſwer the penalty he had incurred, yet the defendant ſent him immediately to Bridewell, without endeavouring to levy the penalty on his goods: and an action of treſpaſs and falſe impriſonment being brought againſt Bateman for this commitment, the Chief Juſtice was of opinion that this action will lay.

And it was agreed, that where actions of this kind are brought againſt juſtices of peace, they are obliged to ſhew the regularity of their convictions; and the informations, &c. laid before them, on which their convictions are grounded, muſt be produced and proved in court. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 711.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. The Duke of Somerſet v. France, and other Tenants in Cumberland.

In this caſe an admiſſion under the hand of the ſteward, though above forty years old, was rejected in evidence, becauſe they could not prove the ſteward's handwriting. See this caſe fully ſtated in page 329 of this work, under the head Cuſtom.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Martin et al, v. Horrell.

The plaintiffs were goldſmiths, and one S. their apprentice, over-paid a bill 10 l. and in an action brought for the money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe,

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, allowed S. to be a witneſs; though it was objected, that unleſs the money was recovered back from the defendant, S. would be anſwerable to the plaintiff. But the Chief Juſtice ſaid, he did it on the neceſſity of the thing, and it would be of miſchievous conſequence, if in tranſactions of this nature a goldſmith's ſervant ſhould not be a witneſs: therefore the plaintiffs recovered the 10 l. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 647.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. The King v. Fox.

On an indictment for an aſſault, it was proved, that the proſecutor had laid a wager, that he would convict the defendant. And the Chief Juſtice held him to be a good witneſs for the King, though it might affect his credit. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 652.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. Powell v. Hord.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 336 of this work, under the head Damages.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. The King v. Reeks.

An information in the nature of a quo warranto, was filed againſt the defendant, to ſhew by what authority he claimed and exerciſed the office of a burgeſs of the borough of Chriſt-Church, Twineham, in the county of Southampton, from the 19th day of December 1721, to the time of exhibiting the information. On the trial at bar, an admittance of the defendant to his freedom, written two months after the time, and not ſigned, &c. was refuſed to be admitted in evidence. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1445.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Batſon et al', v. Sayer.

In an action for a falſe return to a mandamus to ſwear the plaintiff into the office of churchwarden, the plaintiff ſet out, that he was elected, and preſented himſelf to be ſworn, but was refuſed; and that he was not elected was returned.

The Chief Juſtice held, that by law there may be a ſelect veſtry, and that in this caſe the plaintiff need not prove the preſenting himſelf to be ſworn, becauſe that is but a circumſtance, and not to the point of the truth or falſity of the return. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 728.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Murray v. Thornhill.

The court refuſed to make a rule on the Eaſt-India Company to inſpect their private books relating to the appointment of their ſervants. Vide Stra. vol. 2. page 717.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. The King v. Rhodes.

The defendant was indicted for forging a letter of attorney, whereby he transferred Mr. Heyſham's ſtock; and Forteſcue, Juſtice, refuſed to let Heyſham be a witneſs. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 728.

Hilary, 1 Geo. 2. Wilſon v. Poulter.

In an action of trover, the defendant was charged with his confeſſion in a depoſition taken before the commiſſioners of bankruptcy.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to let the defendant into any parol evidence to explain it. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 794.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Field v. Curtis.

It was held, that no releaſe could make the bankrupt a witneſs to prove his own act of bankruptcy. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 829.

Eaſter, 2 Geo. 2. Jones v. Maſon.

John Ward of Hackney (who had been convicted of forgery) was a ſubſcribing witneſs to a bond, and on producing the record of his conviction, the plaintiff was allowed to prove his hand as if dead. Vide Strange, vol. 2 p. 833.

Trinity, 2 Geo. Wyatt v. Winkworth.

An attachment was granted againſt Rolfe Bayley, an attorney, for not attending at the aſſizes on a ſubpœna and tender of his charges, whereby the plaintiff was non-ſuited. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 810.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 2. Caſtel, Widow, v. Bambridge and Corbet.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 81 of this work, under the head Appeal.

Trinity, 3 & 4 Geo. 2. Baynham v. Matthews.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. The plaintiff in this caſe having declared on a note of a ſpecial date, cannot give in evidence a note bearing a different date: and hereon the plaintiff had leave to diſcontinue, without coſts, he having brought the action as executor. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 130.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. King v. Morrice.

In an action on the caſe, the plaintiff declared that he brought an action of debt againſt one H. in this court, and obtained judgment for 200 l. that thereon he ſued out a fi. fa. againſt the effects of the ſaid H. and that on the delivery of the ſaid execution, the ſheriff of Middleſex made out his warrant to the defendant, being high bailiff of Weſtminſter, commanding him, " That he cauſe to be levied of the " goods and chattles of the ſaid H. 200 l. which the " aforeſaid King has recovered, as it is ſaid againſt " the aforeſaid H. to ſatisfy, &c." That the ſaid warrant was delivered to the defendant, who though the ſaid H. had goods in the liberty of Weſtminſter ſufficient to ſatisfy the ſaid judgment, yet falſely and maliciouſly returned that the ſaid H. had not goods within, &c. to the plaintiff's damage, &c. On the trial the plaintiff to make out the declaration, produced the ſheriff's warrant to the defendant, which ran thus: " To levy 200 l. of the goods of the ſaid H. which the plaintiff recovered againſt —— to ſatisfy the plaintiff for the debt and coſts, whereof —— is convicted, &c.

To this it was objected, that the warrant ſtated in the declaration ran, that the judgment was recovered againſt H. whereas the warrant produced runs againſt —— and ſo varies from the declaration, and conſequently the plaintiff had failed in evidence. Hereon the plaintiff had a verdict, but the poſtea was ordered to be ſtayed till the court ſhould give their opinion on the above point.

Afterwards on motion, Raymond, Chief Juſtice, obſerved, that the fieri facias, which iſſued on the judgment againſt H. was given in evidence at the trial; and then the warrant being laid in the declaration to have iſſued thereon, viz. the fi. fa. muſt be underſtood to be in purſuance of it: ſo that by reference to that, the words againſt H. muſt be ſupplied: ſo the poſtea was delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 198.

Hilary, 4 Geo. Lord Ferrers v. Shirley.

On a feigned iſſue out of Chancery, directed to be tried at bar, whether a deed pretended to have been executed by Robert Earl Ferrers, in the year 1683, was his deed or not. Several witneſſes were called to ſwear to the hand-writing of the ſubſcribing witneſſes, now dead; and among others, one J. J. who would have ſwore to the hand-writing of one J. C. whoſe name was to the deed as a witneſs, becauſe he had ſeen ſeveral letters wrote by J. C. whereon he was aſked whether he had ever ſeen the ſaid J. C. write, to which he anſwered, that he never had, nor ever ſaw the perſon who wrote the ſaid letters; but that his maſter, to whom the letters were wrote for the rent of a part of the eſtate of the late Earl Robert Ferrers, which his ſaid maſter held, informed him that they were the letters of J. C. Lord Ferrers's ſteward, who was the perſon pretended to have atteſted the deed in queſtion. Hereon it was objected to his teſtimony, becauſe he could not ſay with any certainty whether or no the writer of the letters was the ſame perſon that atteſted the deed; for that J. C. who was ſuppoſed to write the letters, might get ſome other perſon to write thoſe very letters for him; and the council inſiſted, that in all caſes, where a witneſs would ſwear to the hand-writing, he muſt be able to ſay, that he ſaw ſuch perſon write: therefore the court rejected the ſaid J. J. becauſe he could not aſcertain the identity of the perſon.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that it is not neceſſary in all caſes that the witneſs has ſeen the perſon write, to whoſe hand he ſwears; for where there has been a fixed correſpondence by letters, and that it can be made out that the party writing ſuch letters is the ſame man that atteſted a deed, that will intitle a witneſs to ſwear to that perſon's hand, tho' he never ſaw him write.

It was further objected to the ſaid witneſs, that he ſhould produce the letters, that the court and the jury might be able to judge of the reſemblance between the hand-writing to the letters, and that to the deed: but this was over-ruled by the court, becauſe the witneſs might have acquired a knowledge of C.'s character, by having ſeen ſeveral letters wrote by him.

Againſt the deed one J. N. was produced, who ſwore that he wrote the body of the deed in diſpute in 1720, by the direction of the late Earl Waſhington Ferrers. To deſtroy whoſe evidence, the council on the other ſide would have read a bill preferred in equity by the now defendants againſt the ſaid Earl Waſhington in 1719, by which it would appear, the deed now in queſtion was then in being; and likewiſe the anſwer of the ſaid Earl to the ſaid bill, put in on the 17th day of September 1720, which was ſome months before the time on which the ſaid J. N. ſwore he ingroſſed the ſaid deed. But the court would not ſuffer the ſaid bill and anſwer to be read. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 195.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. 2. Lewis v. Fog.

In an action by the maſter for the defendant's dog's biting his apprentice, whereby he loſt his ſervice,

Raymond, Chief Juſtice, allowed the apprentice to be a witneſs. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 944.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. Ruding v. Newell.

In an action brought for a falſe return to a mandamus, the queſtion was, whether the office of regiſter to the Archdeacon, had been uſually granted for three lives. And in order to prove the uſage, it was offered to be given in evidence, that other Archdeacons in the ſame dioceſe, had made grants for three lives, as the plaintiff's grant was. But the Chief Juſtice refuſed to admit this evidence, and compared it to the caſe of cuſtomary manors, where the cuſtoms of other manors are never allowed, except in the north of England, where they are conſidered as border laws, and an evidence of the law of the country. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 957.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. Wariner v. Giles.

After the fire of London, power was given to the city to ſet out the public markets, which was done in a very accurate manner, and entered in their books. An ejectment was brought by the leſſee of one of the markets, wherein the boundaries were in queſtion. And it was moved on behalf of the plaintiff to have liberty to inſpect the books, and take copies; which was granted: and the court compared it to the caſe of the Court of Rolls, which are not conſidered as the evidence of the Lord, but in the nature of public books, for the benefit of the tenant as well as of the Lord. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 954.

Hilary, 8 Geo. 2. Crew qui tam v. Saunders.

On an action brought againſt the defendant on ſtat. 9 Ann, c. 10. ſect. 44. for intermeddling in elections, being poſt-maſter of Namptwich; it was moved on behalf of the plaintiff, for liberty to inſpect the poſt-office books, and take a copy of his deputation.

Per curiam. Inſpecting court-rolls was the original of theſe motions; but then it was confined to the caſe of perſons intereſted, the rolls being the common evidence, which of neceſſity muſt be kept in ſome one hand. But lords and tenants of different manors have always been denied as ſtrangers. In the caſe of public companies, it is reſtrained to the entry which concerns the party himſelf. And as to the cuſtom-houſe, they are really the merchants books for that purpoſe. The conſtitution of the officer is private, and therefore not neceſſary for the plaintiff to prove: and againſt the defendant his acting will be ſufficient. The plaintiff took nothing by his motion. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1005.

Trinity, 8 Geo. 2. Collet v. Jennis.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 172 of this work, under the head Bail.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. 2. The King v. Reading.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 223 of this work, under the head Baſtards.

Hilary, 9 Geo. 2. Hopkins v. Neale and another.

The plaintiff, an infant, ſeventeen years of age, being riding on horſeback behind her father, was aſſaulted by the defendants, and therefore ſues them by one Wright her next friend; and her father being called on as a witneſs for her, was objected to, he owning that the ſuit was carried on at his expence.

Lord Hardwicke. It is no crime in the father to be at the expence of a ſuit for his child; but ſince he is, he cannot be a witneſs; for he can never be reimburſed without the plaintiff recovers; becauſe ſhe being an infant, is not bound, if ſhe ſhould promiſe to pay at all events: and if ſhe has no property, ſhe might be admitted in forma pauperis, for the ſtatute only requires an oath that the perſon has no property. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 202.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Hill v. Fleming.

In an action of aſſault, one A. was joined in the ſimul cum, and was offered to be examined for the defendant, but was objected to by the plaintiff, becauſe he had kept out of the way after being ſerved with the proceſs, but the plaintiff could not ſhew he had been ſerved, and ſo he was examined at the ſittings after term in London. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 264.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Nunez.

On the trial of an indictment for perjury, committed in an anſwer in the Exchequer, the caſe made by the plaintiff was, that ſhe gave the defendant a note for twenty guineas, which he promiſed not to put in ſuit againſt her, but to take it of a debtor of the plaintiff's; notwithſtanding which he had ſued her, and therefore ſhe prayed an injunction. The defendant denied any ſuch agreement, and on this denial the perjury was aſſigned, and the plaintiff called as a witneſs on the authority of Paris's caſe. 1 Vent. 49. 1 Sid. 431. and the King v. M. Trin. 10 Geo. Ante. 595.

Lord Hardwicke ruled, that ſhe could not be a witneſs, and relied on the caſe of The King v. Whiting in Salk. 283. He ſaid Paris's caſe was againſt Twyſden's opinion, and had not been much liked ſince. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1043. Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 265.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Gibſon v. M'Carty.

On an iſſue out of Chancery, to try whether ſome notes, under the hand of Lady M'Carty deceaſed, payable to the plaintiff's inteſtate, to the value of 1500 l. were the real notes of the ſaid Lady, or forged notes?

The preſent plaintiff was a few days ſince convicted of forging a note under the ſaid Lady Margaret M'Carty's hand, payable to himſelf, and the plaintiff having read in evidence the depoſition in Chancery of a dead witneſs, to prove Lady Margaret's acknowledgment of the notes in queſtion, to be her notes; and the ſame witneſs having likewiſe ſworn to her acknowledgment of the note, for forging whereof the plaintiff was ſince convicted,

The council for the defendant offered to give the record of that conviction in evidence for two reaſons; 1ſt, Becauſe it goes to the credit of the witneſs's evidence, as to the acknowledgment of the notes in queſtion. 2dly, Becauſe there is at all times liberty to examine into the plaintiff's character.

Lord Hardwicke. This is a pretty tender thing, and the general rule is, and has been ſo ſtrictly adhered to, that in the caſe of the family of the Hilliards, on a trial at bar, in a queſtion of legitimacy, the court refuſed to admit a ſentence of excommunication in the ſpiritual court, for fornication between the father and mother of the party whoſe legitimacy was impeached, to be given in evidence, but you may produce the paper for forgery, whereof he was convicted, and ſhew the marks of forgery attending it; and give that in evidence, as to the credit of the witneſs, which was accordingly done. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 311.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Sherman and Idle.

The defendants were indicted for aſſaulting and beating A. and his wife; Idle pleaded miſnomer of his ſurname in abatement, and for want of a replication by the King's coroner, judgment was entered, that he be diſmiſſed and diſcharged from the premiſes ſpecified in the ſaid indictment, and that he depart without a day; the reſt of the defendants pleaded not guilty; and at the trial of this iſſue, at the ſittings in Middleſex after term, the proofs to charge the defendants were only A. and his wife; and the witneſſes for the defendants one woman, who was not indicted, that was there preſent, and the ſaid Idle; and no objection was made to this evidence, though the proſecutor ſwore Idle was in the affray; but on the contrary, Lord Hardwicke, in ſumming up the evidence, left it to the jury on the credit of the witneſſes, and ſaid, here are two witneſſes againſt two. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 303.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Bliedſtyn v. Sedgwick.

In an action brought on a policy of inſurance of a ſhip, the ſhip had been condemned by the Court of Admiralty, in Carolina, and the acts of condemnation given to the Captain, were ſince loſt by bad weather at ſea, and the queſtion was, whether the Captain might give parol evidence of the reaſon that court went on in condemning the ſhip.

Lord Hardwicke, would not ſuffer it to be done, for the rule is, that you cannot give evidence of written evidence that may be produced, without ſhewing that it is loſt; but what was here loſt, was only a copy of the evidence, and if you thought it material, you ſhould have the proceedings themſelves here, and not give parol evidence of what they were. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 304.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Tireman v. Henwell.

In an action brought on a policy of inſurance of a ſhip; a witneſs for the defendant proved a deviation, to diſcredit which witneſs, the plaintiff offered to give in evidence, an examination on oath of this man before the Mayor of the town where they got on ſhore, wherein they ſaid he ſwore otherwiſe; this examination was ſigned by the Mayor, but not by the witneſs, nor any of thoſe who were ſuppoſed to have made oath.

But Lord Hardwicke, would not let it be read, for no examination ſhall be read, unleſs ſigned by the party. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 306.

Trinity, 9 Geo 2. Cary v. King.

In an action brought on a policy of inſurance, for inſuring goods on the ſhip A. the plaintiff declared, that the ſhip ſprung a leak, and ſunk in the river, whereby the goods were ſpoiled; and the evidence was, that many of the goods were ſpoiled, but ſome were ſaved; and the queſtion was, whether the plaintiffs might give in evidence the expences of ſalvage, that not being particularly laid as a breach of the policy in the declaration.

Lord Hardwicke. I think they may give it in evidence, for the inſurance is againſt all accidents. The accident laid in this declaration is, that the ſhip ſunk in the river; it goes on and ſays, that by reaſon thereof the goods were ſpoiled, that is the only ſpecial damage laid; yet it is but the common caſe of a declaration that lays ſpecial damage, where the plaintiff may give evidence of any damage that is within his cauſe of action as laid; and though it was objected that ſuch a breach of the policy ſhould be laid, as the inſurer may have notice to defend it; it is ſo in this caſe, for they have laid the accident, which is ſufficient notice, becauſe it muſt neceſſarily follow, that ſome damage did happen. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 334.

Trinity, 9 Geo. 2. Witherington v. Buckland.

In an action on the caſe, the plaintiff declared, that in conſideration, that the plaintiff undertook to pay to the defendant what he ſhould deſerve for his labour, the defendant undertook to repair, alter, and enlarge the ſaid houſe, particularly a room in the ſaid houſe, called the club-room; but repaired it ſo ill, that the rain beat into the ſaid room, whereby the plaintiff loſt the uſe of his room, for four or five months, which he laid to his damage. On non-aſſumpſit pleaded, the evidence was, that the plaintiff's houſe having been damaged by fire, and he applying to one of the inſurance offices to make it good, they employed the defendant to repair the damage of the ſaid houſe for a certain ſum; and the plaintiff agreed with him likewiſe to make at the ſame time ſome alterations in the club-room.

Lord Hardwicke. You have not declared on any general cuſtom of the realm, that workmen are bound to do what they undertake in a workman-like manner; nor as the declarations are againſt a ſmith for pricking a horſe in ſhoeing him, but you have declared on a ſpecial contract, and therefore you ought to prove the contract as laid; now the contract you have proved, was made with the aſſurance company, for the repair of the houſe; and if any contract was made by the plaintiff with the defendant, it was but for one room's alteration. Therefore you muſt call the plaintiff, who not appearing was nonſuited. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 309.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. 2. Savage and Haddon v. Field.

In an action of debt on a judgment, to which the defendant pleaded under ſtat. 2 Geo. 2. c. 20. that he was a fugitive for debt, and intitled to return and ſurrender himſelf, and was duly diſcharged according to that act by the quarter-ſeſſions for the county of Surry, the plaintiffs replied, that they had not notice of his diſcharge, as they ought to have had by the act; and iſſue was joined thereon, and at the trial of the cauſe, the evidence to prove the notice was, the duplicate of the priſoner's diſcharge, which ſays, "notice having been given to the creditors;" likewiſe the wife of the perſon employed to give notice, the perſon himſelf being dead; who ſwore that her huſband went with an intent to give notice: alſo another witneſs who ſaw that perſon attending at the ſeſſions, but was not in court, and ſo did not hear him give evidence of the notice.

Lord Hardwicke. This queſtion ariſes on a ſpecial iſſue, whether thirty days notice was given to the creditors according to the act; for the act has made the notice in the Gazette, and particular notice, to be both neceſſary. There is no clauſe in the act which makes the duplicate to be concluſive evidence; the duplicate ſays, it was made to appear on oath, that due notice was given, but it does not ſay that notice for the ſpace of thirty days was given, which would have been much ſtronger; but the ſeſſions have taken on them to determine that due notice was given: according to the rule of law, that the beſt evidence ſhould be produced, the way would have been here to prove the duplicate as they prove records, and then to have proved what the witneſs had ſworn. On the circumſtances of this caſe, I am of opinion, that the evidence to prove the notice was ſufficient; the act directs as to fugitives, that they not being priſoners at the ſuit of any one creditor, they are to ſurrender themſelves, &c. and their oaths are to be allowed, unleſs the creditor diſproves it; and the fugitive is to give thirty days notice; then the queſtion is, whether ſuch notice is neceſſary to found the juriſdiction of the quarter-ſeſſions, or only matter of proceeding; if it be neceſſary to their juriſdiction, I ſhould think the duplicate not evidence of notice, becauſe then their judgment muſt be taken in a matter to found their juriſdiction; but their juriſdiction is found on the party's being a fugitive, and applying to be diſcharged; but the notice ſeems to me to be only their manner of proceeding, and not an eſſential to found their juriſdiction, for the act requires the notice to be proved before them on oath, ſo that they are judges thereof; and therefore as they have ſaid there was due notice; I think it is ſufficient, and in this caſe the perſon that gave the notice being dead, it is the beſt evidence of notice that could be produced.

The poſtea muſt be delivered to the defendant. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 186.

Hilary, 10 Geo. 2. The King v. Robins.

On a motion for a new trial on behalf of the defendant, on an information in the nature of a quo warranto, for the office of Mayor of Tintagel, the queſtion on which the defendant's title turned was, whether the former Mayor had a right to name two eliſors to return a jury, if the town-clerk, who might nominate one, was abſent, or refuſed. The ſecond eliſor nominated by the Mayor was called as a witneſs to prove the cuſtom, and it was objected to his competency, that he having acted under ſuch a nomination, was liable to an information, and therefore could not be examined. And the judge who tried the cauſe in Cornwall, rejected him. It was now moved for a new trial, for that the objection went only to his credit; and 2 Roll. Abr. 685. pl. 3. was cited, where A. B. and C. were ſeverally indicted for perjury, in proving a bond, and allowed to be witneſſes for each other. 2 Lev. 231. 236. 2 Sid. 109. Salk. vol. 2. p. 690.

Per curiam. The boundaries between what goes to the credit, and what to the competency, are very nice, and the latter carried too far: in this caſe he was but an officer for the day, whoſe power has long ſince been at an end. It was a bare authority, and not an intereſt: and nothing is more common than to examine former Mayors as to the right, though there is no limitation to informations. We think this goes only to his credit, and there ought to be a new trial on payment of coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1069.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. Bray.

On an information againſt the defendant quo warranto, he acted as Mayor of Tantagin in Cornhill: the defendant pleaded a cuſtom, that at the court-leet for electing a Mayor, the former Mayor is to nominate one eliſor, and the town-clerk another; or in caſe of the abſence or refuſal of the town-clerk, the Mayor is to nominate two eliſors, which eliſors are to return a jury of freemen, who are to elect a new Mayor; and on the trial of this iſſue, one P. H. was produced as a witneſs, and rejected as ſuch by Mr. Baron Thompſon who tried the cauſe at the aſſizes, he being one of the eliſors named by the former Mayor to return the jury; and one J. H. was likewiſe rejected as an incompetent witneſs, he being one of the ſame jury; by which jury the defendant was named as Mayor. And thereon, without examination of any witneſſes for the defendant, a verdict was given againſt him.

But the court was now moved for a new trial: 1ſt. As this was a miſ-direction of the judge of aſſize. And 2dly. Becauſe the merits did not come in queſtion.

Many caſes were cited pro and con; and the court took a day to conſider, and then were unanimous of opinion that there ought to be a new trial.

Lord Hardwicke, It is proper to conſider the caſes of theſe two witneſſes ſeverally, for the objection is the ſtrongeſt againſt P. H. the eliſor; and with regard to him, it conſiſts of two parts; 1ſt. That he is intereſted in the event of the cauſe, becauſe his authority aroſe under the cuſtom, which he was produced to proved. 2dly. That if there was no ſuch cuſtom, then the Mayor had no authority to nominate him, and that therefore he was liable to an information quo warranto. The general queſtion which ariſes from theſe two objections is, whether it appears he was intereſted in the event of this ſuit. There have been variety of opinions as to what ſhall go to the competency, and what to the credit of a witneſs, and I think it is impoſſible to reconcile all the caſes; moſt of them have happened at niſi prius, where points have not ſo much conſideration as in court, and in ſome points the boundaries ſet between what goes to competency, and what to credit, are extremely nice; and I believe there have been many, where, when a judge has ſeen a witneſs inclined to be partial, he has carried the incompetency further than he could be warranted; and ſo it was in the caſe of the King v. Whiting, where in an information for a cheat in drawing in a perſon by ſlight to ſet her hand to a promiſory note, Lord Holt repelled the teſtimony of the perſon ſuppoſed to be cheated, becauſe, though the verdict in that information could not be given in evidence on an action for the note, yet he ſaid, we ſhall be ſure to hear of it to influence the jury, &c. and yet, if that were examined into, it would be found to be rather an objection to the credit, than the competency; nevertheleſs, that has been followed ever ſince. The true notion of this matter may be gathered from the queſtion which is aſked on a voyer dire, viz. whether the witneſs is to get or loſe by the event of this ſuit? For if he can anſwer that fully, he muſt be a witneſs: and therefore there is a diſtinction between what will take away the competency of a witneſs, and what is matter of challenge to a juror, becauſe a juror muſt ſtand abſolutely indifferent as he ſtands unſworn, but a witneſs need not be ſo; and the reaſon is, becauſe you may make the objection to his credit, but if a juror be once ſworn, he ſtands equally a juror with the reſt: the queſtion is therefore, whether the matter here objected to this witneſs goes to his competency or to his credit only? and I am of opinion it goes only to his credit; for the authority under which he claimed was over long ago; it was not an office, but merely an authority, for it is no more than an eliſor nominated by a court of juſtice, or to return a jury to try a cauſe when there is ſome defect in the ſheriff or coroner: and I know no inſtance where a man by having a bare authority, which gives no intereſt, can be hindered from being a witneſs, if he is not a party in the cauſe: and ſo a bailiff who executed a writ may be a witneſs, if he is not a party; but an office is always an intereſt. Then, as to the objection, that he was liable to an information quo warranto, that ſeems to me to be more immaterial than the other; for I do not know that it has ever been ruled, that becauſe a man is liable to an information for a paſt fact, there his teſtimony is to be refuſed; if we ſhould allow of ſuch doctrine it would go too far, for it is daily experienced, that perſons who have executed offices in corporations, when that office has afterwards been called in queſtion, have been allowed as witneſſes to prove, if it depends on cuſtom, what was uſually done; and yet they are liable to informations quo warranto, if the cuſtom ſhould not warrant the office, and thoſe are commonly the beſt witneſſes in ſuch caſes: therefore if we ſhould allow that the perſon whoſe office is over, ought not to be a witneſs, becauſe liable to ſuch an information, it would be a great damage to many corporations; nay, it would go further, for at that rate, if an information were brought for an act done at a corporate aſſembly, and the perſons there preſent could be no witneſſes, there then could be no witneſſes at all. The caſe in 2 Roll. Abr, 685. Pl. 5. which is cited by Lord Hale in his Hiſt. Plac. Coron. 20. p. 280. is full as ſtrong as this, and went only to the credit of the witneſſes. The caſe of Champion and Atkinſon in 3 Keeble 90. on the reaſon of it is ſomething material in the preſent caſe, for the queſtion was, whether a fine was due to the lord during minority on the tenant's admiſſion, and the ſteward was allowed to be a witneſs for the infant Lord, though it was objected, that he was entitled to a fee on admiſſion, which he would loſe if not admitted; therefore, on the authority of this caſe, and the reaſon of the thing, I am of opinion that the objection in the preſent caſe goes only to the credit of the witneſs. As to the objections made to the other witneſs, who was one of the jury, they are ſtill weaker.

For my own part, whenever an objection of this ſort is made at niſi prius before me, I am always inclined to reſtrain it to the credit, rather than the competency of the witneſs, unleſs it is like to introduce great perjury, becauſe it tends to let in light to the cauſe, and there may be ſtill an objection made to his competency. Therefore I think there muſt be a new trial. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 358.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. 2. May v. May.

On a queſtion as to the plaintiff's legitimaey he produced the general regiſter of the pariſh, wherein he was entered as the ſon of his father and mother, in the ſame manner as lawful children are entered; this regiſter the clerk ſaid, was a book into which the entries were made once in three months, out of the day-book, wherein the entries are made immediately after chriſtening, or next morning.

To encounter this, the defendants aſked him if any notice was taken of baſtards; and he ſaid, their method was, to add B. B. which ſtood for Baſe-born, and then they offered the day-book, from whence the other entry was poſted, in which B. B. was inſerted; and inſiſted that was the original entry. And this being oppoſed, the opinion of the court was taken.

Page, Juſtice, was for allowing it to be read; but the other two judges were againſt it, ſaying, the other was the only regiſter, and there could not be two regiſters in one pariſh, ſo the book was rejected. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1073.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Small v. Whitmill.

An attachment was moved for againſt a witneſs for not attending, being ſubpœnaed, and having a ſhilling left. But it appearing not to be perſonal ſervice, the court held it not ſufficient to warrant proceeding criminally againſt him: whether it would do in an action, they would not declare. It was alſo ſaid, that tho' a ſhilling is what is conſtantly given with a ſubpœna, yet if the witneſs comes a long way, there ought to be a tender of reaſonable charges. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1054.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. 2. Wakefield's Caſe.

The plaintiff moved for an attachment againſt one Wakefield, for not attending to give evidence, being ſerved with a ſubpœna. The ticket and ſubpœna were not ſworn to have been ſerved perſonally; but delivered to a ſervant at the witneſs's houſe, who carried it up to his maſter, and brought down word that he had delivered it to his maſter, who ſaid he would attend.

Lord Hardwicke. This way of proceeding by attachment, is a new method; I do not know that it has been determined, that ſerving a ſubpœna on a ſervant, would be ſufficent ſervice to maintain an action; but however, to be ſure, it is not a ſufficient ground for an attachment; ſo the court refuſed this motion. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardwicke, p. 313.

Trinity, 11 Geo. 2. Hall v. Hill and Wife Adminiſtratrix.

In an action brought for wages earned by the plaintiff's wife of the defendant's inteſtate, the Chief Juſtice would not allow the wife's owning the receipt of 20 l. to be given in evidence againſt the huſband. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1094.

Trinity, 11 Geo. 2. The King v. Frederick and Tracy.

The defendants were indicted for a joint aſſault; and at the trial in Middleſex, it was inſiſted on to examine the wife of the defendant Tracy, as a witneſs for the other defendant: but there having been material evidence given againſt the huſband, and it being a joint treſpaſs, and impoſſible to ſeparate the caſes of the two defendants in the account to be given of the tranſaction.

Lee, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to let her be examined. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1095.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. 2. Jarvis v. Hayes.

In an action againſt the defendant as maſter, for his carman's negligently driving his cart, whereby the plaintiff was thrown off from a ladder, and bruiſed. On ſhewing a releaſe from the maſter to the ſervant,

Lee, Chief Juſtice, allowed the maſter to examine the ſervant; though it was urged, that if the plaintiff fails againſt the maſter, he may ſue the ſervant, which is a bias on the ſervant. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1083.

Eaſter, 12 Geo. 2. The King v. Hebden.

On an information in nature of a quo warranto againſt the defendant, as bailiff of Scarborough, he made title as elected under the bailiffſhip of B. and A. and on iſſue joined, whether they were bailiffs or not; the record of a judgment of ouſter againſt them was read in evidence. And on a motion for a new trial, it was held, that it was properly admitted in evidence, and was ſo done lately in a trial at bar, relating to the corporation of Oxford; and a new trial was denied. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1109.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. The King v. Ellis.

On an indictment for perjury on the evidence given at the trial of an ejectment, Lee, Chief Juſtice, refuſed to let any of the defendants in the ejectment, againſt whom the verdict was given, be examined as witneſſes for the proſecutor. And it was ſaid to have been ſo ruled on conference with all the judges. 4 Geo. The King v. Newens. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1104.

Michaelmas, 12 Geo. 2. Yates v. Boen.

In an action of debt brought on articles, the defendant pleaded not his deed, and on the trial offered to give lunacy in evidence.

Lee, Chief Juſtice, at firſt thought it ought not to be admitted, on the rule in Beverley's caſe. 4 Co. 123. b. that a man ſhall not ſtultify himſelf: but on the authority of Smith v. Carr, 5 July, 1728. where C. Baron Pengelly in the like caſe admitted it, and on conſidering the caſe of Thompſon v. Leech, in 2 Vent. 198. Lee, Chief Juſtice, ſuffered it to be given in evidence; and the plaintiff on the evidence became nonſuited. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1104.

Hilary, 13 Geo. 2. Ruſſel v. Boheme.

To prove a property in the cargo on an action on a policy of inſurance, the plaintiff produced a bill of parcels of one G. at Peterſburgh, with a receipt to it, and proved his hand-writing. The defendant objected, that this was no evidence againſt the inſurers; but Lee, Chief Juſtice, allowed it. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1127.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. Goater v. Nunnely.

The diſpute was between the plaintiff, a factor in Smithfield, and the defendant, a grazier: and on the defendant's motion, the court made a rule for the plaintiff to ſhew cauſe, why he ſhould not produce at the trial the ſeveral books, wherein he entered the accounts of beaſts ſold, and of monies received on the defendant's account. The plaintiff ſhewed no cauſe, therefore on affidavit of ſervice, the rule was made abſolute. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1130.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. 2. The King v. Watkinſon.

On an indictment for perjury in an anſwer in Chancery, the maſter who took the anſwer was called, but could not ſwear to the identity of the perſon. On which the proſecutor inſiſted to examine the defendant's ſolicitor, who was preſent at the putting in of the anſwer, and had been ſubpœnaed; but inſiſting on his privilege, the Chief Juſtice would not compel him to be ſworn: ſo the defendant was acquitted. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1122.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. 2. Jordan v. Lewis.

The plaintiff and another was indicted at the Old Bailey for forgery, and acquitted, and a copy of the indictment granted to the other only. In this action, which was for a malicious proſecution, the plaintiff offered the copy of the indictment in evidence; and the order at the Old Bailey was read by way of objection.

Lee, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he could not refuſe to let the plaintiff read it, for an order was not neceſſary to make it evidence, nor is it ever produced in order to introduce it; ſo it was read, and a verdict obtained for the plaintiff. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1122.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. 2. Warren, on the demiſe of Webb v. Greenville.

On a trial at bar, the leſſor of the plaintiff claimed under an old intail in a family ſettlement, by which, part of the eſtate appeared to be in jointure to a widow at the time her ſon ſuffered a common recovery, which was in 1699. And the defendants not being able to ſhew a ſurrender of the mother's eſtate for life, it was inſiſted that there was no tenant to the precipe for that part, and the remainder under which the leſſor claimed was not barred.

To obviate this, it was inſiſted by the defendant, that at this diſtance of time a ſurrender ſhould be preſumed: according to 1 Vent. 257. and what is laid down in Mr. Pigot's book of Common Recoveries, and to fortify this preſumption, they offered to produce the debt book of M. E. an attorney at Briſtol, long ſince deceaſed, where he charges 32 l. for ſuffering the recovery, two articles of which are, for drawing a ſurrender of the mother 20 s. and for engroſſing two parts thereof 20 s. more, and that it appeared by the book the bill was paid.

And this being objected to as improper evidence, the court was of opinion to allow it, for it was a circumſtance material on the inquiry into the reaſonableneſs of preſuming a ſurrender, and could not be ſuſpected to be done for this purpoſe; that if E. was living, he might undoubtedly be examined to it, and this was now next beſt evidence; and it was accordingly read. After which the court declared, that without this circumſtance they would have preſumed a ſurrender; and deſired it might be taken notice of, that they did not require any evidence to fortify the preſumption, after ſuch a length of time. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1129.

Hiliary, 14 Geo. 2. Walker v. Kearney.

A rule for an attachment niſi being granted on the affidavit of the defendant, the party complained of, ſhewed for cauſe, that the defendant had been convicted of forgery, and ſtood in the pillory, and produced the record, and an affidavit of the identity of the perſon.

Per curiam. The rule muſt be diſcharged, for we cannot ſuffer this affidavit to be read. Salk. 461. 5. Mod. 74. Hawk. 461. Mich. 12 Geo. 2. in C. B. Niccol's v. Delahunt, the affidavit to hold to bail, being made by one convicted of forgery, his affidavit was read; but that was to defend himſelf againſt a complaint, where the proſecutor had in a manner appealed to his affidavit: but even there it was ſaid, that to ſupport a complaint it ſhould not be read. If he cannot be a witneſs in a civil ſuit, where a third perſon is intereſted in his evidence a fortiori he ſhall not be received here. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1148.

Eaſter, 14 Geo. 2. Chapman v. Pointon.

A witneſs was ſerved with a ſubpœna at Cheſter, to attend at the ſittings at Guildhall, and two guineas, were tendered by the perſon who ſerved it, and being objected to as too little, he declared he would give no more.

The witneſs not coming up, an attachment was moved for; and on ſhewing cauſe diſcharged: the court ſaying it was too little, and that the witneſs is not obliged to truſt to the court's allowing him more when he comes to the book, for perhaps the party may not call him, and then it may be difficult for him to get home again: that this way of puniſhing as for a contempt was new, and practiſed only in this court; the C. B. not doing it to this day, but leaving the party to his remedy on ſtat. 5 Eliz. c. 9. and therefore they would not enter into any nice calculations of the expence, but confined their inquiry to the queſtion, whether the non-attendance was through obſtinacy or not. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1150.

Eaſter, 14 Geo. 2. Neal, on the Demiſe of the Duke of Athol v. Wilding.

On a trial at bar, where the Duke was to make out his pedigree as heir of the Derby family, he offered (amongſt other evidence) a ſpecial verdict in 1706 (to which the preſent defendants were not parties) to prove three of the deſcents, which verdict was given in a cauſe where the premiſes in queſtion were recovered on a general verdict, and the ſpecial verdict related, only to other premiſes. Wright, Juſtice, was for receiving it, becauſe in the caſe of pedigrees many things are received, which are not allowed in other caſes, as entries in family books, monumental inſcriptions, heralds books, recitals in deeds, &c. which were introduced from the difficulty of proving pedigrees ſince inquiſitions after death were left off. But the reſt of the court refuſed to let it be read, being (as they ſaid) a thing between other acts, and the ſame evidence, for any thing they knew to the contrary, might be ready to be laid before this jury, that was laid before that. Vide Carth. 79. 181. 5 Mod. 386. Sir T. Jones 221. 2 Mod. 142. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1151.

Hilary, 17 Geo. 2. The King v. Bridgman.

A rule being made for the defendant to ſhew cauſe why an information in nature of a quo warranto ſhould not be granted, to ſhew by what authority he claimed to hold a court-leet in the borough of Wigan in Lancaſhire: he moved for the common rule to inſpect the books of the corporation, who were the proſecutors, and it was granted. But on a ſpecial motion it was afterwards diſcharged, this being a matter of a private claim between the defendant and the corporation; and if this ſhould prevail, one private man would have as good a right to inſpect the deeds and evidences of another. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1203.

Trinity, 17 Geo. 2. The King v. Cornelius et al.

An information was granted againſt the defendants for a miſdemeanor in taking money on granting licences to ale-houſe-keepers at Ipſwich.

The proſecutor moved for a rule to inſpect the books of the corporation, alledging the defendants were only juſtices as they were bailiffs.

But the court on conſideration refuſed to grant it, their right to be bailiffs or juſtices not being in queſtion. And it is in effect obliging a defendant indicted for a miſdemeanor, to furniſh evidence againſt himſelf. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1210.

Michaelmas, 17 Geo. 2. Underwood v. Parks.

In an action for words, the defendant pleaded not guilty, and offered to prove the words to be true, in mitigation of damages: which the Chief Juſtice refuſed to permit, ſaying, that at a meeting of all the judges on a caſe that aroſe in C. B. a large majority of them had determined not to allow it for the future, but that it ſhould be pleaded, whereby the plaintiff might be prepared to defend himſelf, as well as to prove the ſpeaking of the words. That this was now a general rule among them all, which no judge would think himſelf at liberty to depart from, and that it extended to all ſorts of words, and not barely to ſuch as imported a charge of felony. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1200.

Michaelmas, 17 Geo. 2. Green v. Brown.

The ſhip Charming Peggy was inſured in 1739 from North Carolina to London, with a warranty againſt captures and ſeizures. And in an action, the loſs was laid to be by the ſinking at ſea. All the evidence given was, that ſhe ſailed out of port on her intended voyage, and had never ſince been heard of. And ſeveral witneſſes proved, that in ſuch caſe the preſumption is, that ſhe foundered at ſea, all other loſſes being generally heard of. The underwriters inſiſted, that as captures and ſeizures were excepted, it lay on the aſſured to prove that the loſs happened in the particular manner declared on. But the Chief Juſtice ſaid, it would be very unreaſonable to expect certain evidence of ſuch a loſs, as where every perſon on board is preſumed to be drowned; and all that can be required is the beſt proof the nature of the caſe admits of, which the plaintiff has given; he therefore left it to the jury, who found the loſs according to the plaintiff's declaration. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1199.

Hilary, 18 Geo. 2. The King v. The Fraternity of Hoſtmen in Newcaſtle upon Tyne.

A mandamus was granted to admit a perſon into this company: and by the return it appeared to be a queſtion, whether the maſter he ſerved had been admitted to his freedom in the corporation at large: whereon he moved for a general rule to inſpect the books of the corporation. This motion was oppoſed on behalf of the corporation, as they were no parties to the diſpute: and the caſes of Cobb v. Oldfield Hilary 4 Geo. 1. Shelling v. Farmer; Crew v. Saunders; and The Caſe of Dr. Bridgman, were cited. But the court ſaid every member of the corporation had, as ſuch, a right to look into the books for any matter that concerned himſelf, though it was in a diſpute with others. And the return having pointed out the neceſſity of inſpecting them for a particular purpoſe, they would aſſiſt him with a rule; but it ſhould be confined to the book wherein admiſſions of freemen are entered. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1223.

Hilary, 18 Geo. 2. Lekeux v. Naſh.

In an action of debt for rent brought againſt the defendant as aſſignee of a term, he pleaded that he had made a further aſſignment to one R. before the time for which the rent was demanded. To which the plaintiff replied, he has not aſſigned. And on the trial it appeared, that the defendant being weary of the aſſignment he had taken, employed a perſon to find him one who would take it off his hands; and R. a poor woman then in the Fleet, was prevailed on to accept it; and the defendant, in conſideration of 5 s. (which it appeared he had lent her for that purpoſe) made a formal aſſignment. The defendant inſiſted that this was not proper evidence on non aſſignavit, but that the plaintiff ſhould have replied by fraud. The Chief Juſtice held it could not be gone into on this iſſue, according to the caſe in Hob. 72. 166. Therefore the plaintiff became nonſuited. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1221.

Eaſter, 19 Geo. 2. Holdfaſt on the Demiſe of Anſtey, v. Dowſing.

On an ejectment brought for lands in Cambridgſhire, on the demiſe of C. A. D. D. and M. his wife, on a trial at bar the jury found a ſpecial verdict.

That J. T. Eſq; being ſeiſed in fee of the premiſes in queſtion, and of ſound mind, ſigned, ſealed, and publiſhed a paper writing, purporting to be his laſt will, dated the 10th day of February 1742, and which is found in theſe words: by this he declares that he deviſes to the defendant the lands in queſtion for life, remainder to his firſt and every other ſon and ſons in tailmale; remainder to his daughters as tenants in common, with a reverſion in fee to the right heirs of the deviſor; then he charges all his real and perſonal eſtate with particular annuities and legacies, and particularly with an annuity of 20 l. per ann. to E. the wife of J. H. for her life, and to her ſeparate uſe; and he alſo gives a legacy of 10 l. each to J. H. and his wife for mourning. That to this will there are three perſons who ſubſcribe their names as witneſſes, whereof J. H. is one, and that in their preſence, and of nobody elſe, he ſigned, ſealed, and publiſhed the paper-writing as and for his laſt will: and they three atteſted the ſame in his preſence. They find the identity of J. H. the legatee, and ſubſcriber, and that E. his wife was ſtill living. That the deviſor died the 28th day of May 1743, without iſſue, and ſeiſed as aforeſaid; and that Mrs. A. (one of the leſſors) is his aunt and heir at law: they find that before and at the time of the trial, the defendant made a tender to J. H. of 20 l. for his and his wife's legacies, which he refuſed to accept, and that thoſe legacies are not diſcharged. Then they find the entry and demiſe by the leſſors, &c.

Per curiam. The queſtion on this ſpecial verdict is, whether in the light in which H. now ſtands, he is to be conſidered as a credible witneſs within the intent of the ſtatute of frauds? And we are all of opinion he is not.

We therefore hold this not to be a good atteſtation of a will of lands; and then the title of Mrs. A. the leſſor of the plaintiff, as heir at law, is not defeated by what is ſet up as a will: and conſequently the plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1253.

Michaelmas, 19 Geo. 2. Wilſon v. Rogers et al'.

The plaintiff was ſued in the court of conſcience in London, and was taken in execution, for which he brought an action of treſpaſs and falſe impriſonment; and now moved for liberty to inſpect the books of their proceedings; which on debate was granted, ſo far as related to the ſuit againſt himſelf only, on this ground, that every man has a right to look into proceedings to which he is a party. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1242.

Michaelmas, 20 Geo. 2. Lowfield v. Stoneham.

On the plea of fully adminiſtered, a queſtion aroſe, whether 1000 l. received by the defendant, was due to her in her own right, or as executrix of her huſband, and conſequently aſſets. The queſtion aroſe on the following deviſe: I give to my loving brother John Stoneham 1000 l. and in caſe of his death to his wife Suſanna, (who was the defendant.) It appeared that John Stoneham ſurvived the teſtator; and therefore the plaintiff inſiſted, that this legacy (which the defendant admitted to have received) veſted abſolutely in him, and was aſſets in her hands.

On the part of the defendant it was offered to give in evidence, that the teſtator in his laſt moments declared he meant to give his brother the intereſt of 1000 l. and that the defendant ſhould have the principal in caſe ſhe ſurvived him.

This parol evidence was oppoſed by the plaintiff's council, as being contradictory to the plain words of the will. And Lee, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it could not be allowed; and in the caſe of Selwin v. Brown, the Houſe

Houſe of Lords had refuſed it, even where it was to ſupport the legal interpretation of the will; and Lord Hardwicke about two years ago held it in the ſame manner in the caſe of the Earl of Inchiquin v. Obrian. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1261.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Tooker v. The Duke of Beaufort.

On a motion for a new trial on a ſuppoſed miſ-direction of the judge who tried the cauſe, in admitting a commiſſion under the ſeal of the court of Exchequer, P. 33 Eliz. Roll. 290, to be given in evidence, although objected to at the trial; which commiſſion was of things among others, of which the Beaufort family could have no notice, nor opportunity to defend, and therefore could not affect them, conſequently it ought not to be admitted as evidence, on the ſame principle that a verdict in a cauſe between other parties cannot be given in evidence in a cauſe between ſtrangers to the former cauſe.

This matter, after being debated at the bar, and fully conſidered by the court, they gave their opinion as follows:

Per curiam. The evidence given at the trial was admiſſible, though not concluſive, and therefore the evidence was well and properly received, and the rule for ſhewing cauſe muſt be diſcharged.

N. B. Pending this queſtion before the court, the Duke of Beaufort died, on which the plaintiff's council moved for leave to enter up this judgment as of the term next after the verdict.

Lord Mansfield. This motion ſeems reaſonable, therefore let the plaintiff take a rule to ſhew cauſe, which was afterwards made abſolute. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 146.

Trinity, 30 & 31 Geo. 2. Harris v. Huntbach.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 49 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Wright on the Demiſe of William Clymer v. Littler and others.

Adjudged, that the competency of evidence depends on the circumſtances under which ſuch evidence is given, and that the declarations of a perſon in his laſt illneſs are competent, and material evidence of the matter to which ſuch declarations of the party relate. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1255.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 3. Morris v. Pugh and Harwood.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 358 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. 3. Plumer Spinſter v. William Marchant, Adminiſtrator of Peter Marchant.

A caſe from the aſſizes for the county of Suſſex, was reſerved for the opinion of the court, on the following queſtion:

"Whether the defendant as adminiſtrator of the inteſtate Peter Marchant the younger could on the plea of plene adminiſtravit give in evidence the following covenant" to ſupport ſuch plea.

The ſaid Peter Marchant the younger by articles of agreement, dated the 7th day of Auguſt 1759, between him and his uncle of the firſt part, M. L. mother and S. L. daughter of the ſaid M. L. of the ſecond part, and the defendant William Marchant, and J. B. of the third part. The ſaid Peter Marchant the younger covenanted that he would in and by his laſt will and teſtament, or that his executors and adminiſtrators ſhould within ſix months after his death, pay and deliver either in money, goods, chattels, or effects, out of his perſonal eſtate, the full ſum of 700 l. to the ſaid William Marchant the defendant and J. B. or the ſurvivor of them, or to the executors or adminiſtrators of the ſurvivor of them; the intereſt to be paid to the ſaid Sarah L. for life, for the maintenance of herſelf and children, and after her deceaſe the money to be equally divided among the children of the marriage, as they attained their reſpective ages of twenty-one years; if daughters, on their attaining ſuch age, or day of marriage; and in default of iſſue of ſuch marriage, to be paid to ſuch perſons as the ſaid Peter Marchant the younger ſhould by his laſt will appoint.

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. It is now ſettled, that a retainer of a debt may be given in evidence.

Deniſon and Wilmot, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let there be judgment of nonſuit. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1380.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. 3. D'Ayrolles, Eſq; v. Howard.

On ſhewing cauſe againſt a rule obtained for a new trial on the ground of a miſ-direction of the judge who tried the cauſe; it was an action of treſpaſs brought by the lord of the manor againſt the commoner for ſpoiling and deſtroying his peat, and filling up the holes out of which it was dug.

The principal queſtion on the trial was,

"Whether the plaintiff could on this iſſue give in evidence, that there was a ſufficiency of common left?"

The court were of opinion that it could not be given in evidence, but thought the preſent verdict for the defendant ſhould be ſet aſide, on payment of coſts by the plaintiff, and a new action brought by the commoner againſt the lord, in which all the matters inſiſted on (which were many) might be given in evidence. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1385.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Combe, Eſq; v. Pitt.

Adjudged, that in penal actions the material facts muſt be charged, and a fact muſt be proved in ſuch a manner, that all thoſe conſequences will follow the verdict which ought to attend it; but aggravations, and all circumſtances that do not vary the offence are out of the caſe as to the neceſſity of proving them. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1589.

Execution, ſee Judgment.

Executors and Adminiſtrators.

Trinity, 1 W. & M. The King v. Ayloff. Error.

An executor brought a writ of error to reverſe an attainder of high treaſon of his teſtator, and Holt, Chief Juſtice, doubted whether it lay for the executor; for by reverſal the blood and land is reſtored, which is of no advantage to him, and the goods were forfeited by the conviction of the teſtator, and not by the attainder. But the other three judges were againſt him; for he is privy to the judgment, and may have loſs thereby. 3 Cro. 225. 273. 558. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 295.

Hilary, 2 W. & M. Hodge v. Clare.

On a ſci. fa. brought by the plaintiff as adminiſtrator to A. Hodge, during the abſence of H. Hodge, on a judgment recovered in this court, on which a writ of error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, and the judgment affirmed.

To this ſci. fa. the defendant demurred, and for cauſe ſhewed, 1ſt, That it does not appear, that any judgment was given in the Exchequer Chamber (on which this ſci. fa. is now brought) to have execution, for the words was adjudged, were left out.

2dly, It is not averred, that Hannah was abſent at the time of adminiſtration committed to J. Hodge, and ſo continued.

N. B. The court obſerved, that this objection ought to have been pleaded.

3dly, That the adminiſtration was void, becauſe of the uncertainty, for having prayed oyer of the adminiſtration, which being read in theſe words, it appeared to be granted during the abſence, &c. and does not ſay from what place the perſon was abſent.

This objection was anſwered by the court, that it it ſhall be intended to be out of the kingdom.

4thly, That it muſt be void, becauſe the ordinary has no power to grant adminiſtration by the common law; the authority under which he acts, being given him by particular ſtatutes.

Per curiam. Theſe objections will not hold, for all of them may as well be made againſt an adminiſtrator during his minority, which is ſimilar to the preſent caſe, and yet ſuch an adminiſtration is held good, becauſe it is in a manner granted to the right perſon, who has thereby good authority to receive the eſtate. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 17.

Eaſter, 2 W. & M. Whitehall v. Squire.

On an action of trover brought by the plaintiff as adminiſtrator of J. M. for a gelding, on not guilty pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. that J. M. was poſſeſſed of the gelding, and put him to the defendant to paſture, and died inteſtate: that before adminiſtration was granted, the plaintiff deſired the defendant to bury J. M. decently, who accordingly buried him, and laid out 93 l. therein; whereon the plaintiff agreed, that the defendant ſhould have the horſe in part of ſatisfaction of funeral charges, and for 13 l. reſidue thereof, gave him his note; afterwards the plaintiff took out adminiſtration, and now brought an action of trover for the horſe.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, was of opinion, that the action lay; for that the defendant was a tort executor, and the plaintiff's conſent, when he had nothing to do with the matter, would not alter the caſe; for if he had then releaſed, yet he might have taken adminiſtration, and brought an action afterwards; but Dolben and Eyre, Juſtices, diſſented, and the defendant had judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 295.

Hilary, 3 W & M. Anonymous.

Adminiſtration may be granted to the next of kin; or to the wife, or to the next of kin to the inteſtate, as the ſpiritual judge pleaſes; the wife ſhall come in for a ſhare by the new ſtat. and as to creditors, they are all one adminiſtrator; the court may divide the adminiſtration, or give it all away as they pleaſe. But the huſband ſhall have adminiſtration of the wife before all others; ſo if ſhe has credits. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 16.

Trinity, 3 W. & M. Newport v. Godfrey. Error.

On an action of debt brought in the detinet againſt the defendant as executor of one Turner, for rent in arrear, in the life-time of the teſtator, on a parol leaſe, it appeared on the declaration, that the leaſe expired in the life-time of the ſaid Turner.

The defendant pleaded ſeveral bonds entered into by the ſaid Turner, for the payment of money, which he averred to be juſt debts, and that he had adminiſtered all beſides, &c. which he retained to ſatisfy the ſaid bonds.

On demurrer to this plea, judgment was given in the C. B. for the plaintiff, that the rent ought to be paid before the bonds. For though it was objected, that if the leaſe had not been determined, the rent then due might be preferable to a bond debt, becauſe the goods of the teſtator are liable to a diſtreſs: but now the leaſe was determined, it was only a perſonal thing, and could not take place of ſpecialties; yet the court was of opinion, that the debt for this rent did ſtill favour of the realty, and that the determination of the leaſe made no alteration in the contract; but that the action might be maintained by reaſon of the profits of the lands which the teſtator had received.

On this judgment a writ of error was brought in this court, and the judgment given in the C. B. was affirmed. 2 Cro. 233. Barwick v. Foſter. Fitz. Abr. tit. Avowry 240. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 44.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Anonymous.

Per curiam. Where there be ſeveral executors, and only ſome of them appear and plead, judgment muſt be given againſt them all; but execution againſt his own effects ſhall go againſt him that has appeared. Alſo ſubmiſſion to award by an executor is a devaſtavit. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 10.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Hill v. Mills.

Adjudged, That the bankruptcy of an executor is no cauſe of granting adminiſtration to another. Where there is a natural diſability, there is a neceſſity of doing it; but it muſt be to the uſe and benefit of the executor, ſo the laſt granting of adminiſtration is a nullity, and ipſo facto void. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 9.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Beak v. Kent. Error.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit brought againſt an executor, &c. for wares ſold, the defendant pleaded ſeveral judgments, &c. and that he had not aſſets beyond.

The plaintiff replied particularly to each judgment, and that they were kept on foot by fraud.

The defendant in his rejoinder put all the judgments together, and ſaid they were not kept on foot by fraud.

On demurrer, the queſtion was, whether he ſhould have made ſeveral rejoinders to all the judgments in particular, and not have put them all together, like the caſe of Warkhouſe v. Symonds, which was an indebitatus aſſumpſit for fees, where the defendant pleaded ſeveral judgments, as in this caſe, &c. and the plaintiff made the like replication.

The defendant rejoined and ſaid, that the judgments were all ſatisfied, and that he did not keep the ſeveral judgments on foot by fraud (and had left out, nor any of them) and on demurrer, judgment was given for the plaintiff in the C. B. which judgment was affirmed on a writ of error brought in this court.

Per curiam. The plaintiff need not aver in his replication, that every judgment, but that the ſeveral judgments aforeſaid, are kept on foot by fraud, which had been a good averment, and then this rejoinder had been likewiſe good.

If the jury had found but one judgment kept on foot by fraud, there muſt have been a verdict for the plaintiff, becauſe ſufficient matter of iſſue would then be found for him: for it is enough if the ſubſtance entitles the plaintiff to an action, and avoids the defendant's plea. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 63.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Hills v. Mills.

A prohibition was prayed and granted to the eccleſiaſtical court of Canterbury, to ſtay a ſuit there, to repeal or revoke the probate of a will, becauſe the executor was become a bankrupt, and to grant adminiſtration to another. And though one Coates's caſe was cited, where an adminiſtration was revoked for that cauſe, yet the court ſaid that caſe differed: for the executor is conſtituted by the teſtator himſelf, and by him entruſted: but it ſeemed to be agreed, that if an executor become inſane, the ſpiritual court may commit adminiſtration, becauſe that is a natural diſability. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 36.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Fawtry v. Fawtry.

H. died inteſtate, leaving a wife and a brother: the ordinary had granted the adminiſtration of ſome particular debts to the brother, and of the reſidue to the wife. The court was moved for a mandamus to grant adminiſtration to the wife.

Per curiam. Where the huſband dies, the ordinary is at election either to grant adminiſtration to the wife, or the next of kin; for this is grounded on ſtat. 21 H. 8. c. 5. Yet in that caſe ſhe ſhall have her ſhare on the ſtatute of diſtributions. But where the wife dies, adminiſtration muſt be granted to the huſband by ſtat. 31 Ed. 3. Alſo the court held, the ordinary may grant adminiſtration to the brother as to part, and to the wife for the reſt; in which caſe neither can complain, ſince the ordinary need not have granted any part of the adminiſtration to the party complaining. But if the inteſtate leave a bond of 100 l. the ordinary cannot grant adminiſtration for 500 l. to one perſon, and 50 l. to another, becauſe this is an entire thing. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 36.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Manning v. Napp.

H. died inteſtate, leaving no children or kindred: the King appointed the plaintiff to take out adminiſtration, the defendant, though he knew there was no kindred, entered caveats, and put the plaintiff to great charge; whereon the plaintiff brought an action, and on demurrer the court doubted, whether an action would lie; becauſe, there was a damage without injury; for the property of the goods till adminiſtration was in the ordinary, and the plaintiff had neither right in the one nor the other. Otherwiſe, had the plaintiff been next of kin, becauſe he had a right to adminiſter by the ſtatute; and the King's appointment by letters patent was, but a kind of recommendation. And the court further held, that in the caſe of an inteſtate without kindred, the ordinary may diſpoſe in pious uſes; but the uſual courſe is for ſome perſon to procure the King's letters patent, and then the ordinary admits the patentee to adminiſtration; yet they thought this was rather out of reſpect, than of right, and denied the opinion in 9 Co Henſloe's caſe; and held that adminiſtration originally belonged to the biſhops, and the inſtance of ſome Lords of manors is not a proof to the contrary. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 37.

Trinity, 4 W. & M. Maſon v. Hanſon.

On an action of debt for rent by an adminiſtrator, due in the life-time of the inteſtate, on nil debet pleaded, they were at iſſue, and the plaintiff had a verdict; and it was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the plaintiff had made out no title; for he had ſet forth, that adminiſtration was committed to him by the official the Reverend John Hall, prebend of the prebendary and peculiar juriſdiction of Brampton, in the cathedral church of Lincoln, and does not ſay that it belonged to him to grant adminiſtration, &c.

It was argued, that this official is neither biſhop, ordinary, or archdeacon; and therefore it ſhall not be intended, that he had an authority, if not ſhewn by the plaintiff, it is otherwiſe in the caſe of a defendant.

This is a peculiar juriſdiction, and therefore in entitling himſelf, the plaintiff ought to ſay, to whom adminiſtration belonged, &c. and ſhew that he had a lawful power to grant it, for it ſhall not be preſumed to be proved at the trial; he may have a peculiar juriſdiction to be exempt only from the viſitation of the biſhop, but not to grant adminiſtration.

On the other ſide it was argued, that this might have been a good objection on a demurrer, but it is cured by the verdict ſince ſtat. 17 Car. 2. and before the making of that ſtatute, it has been held, that in an action brought by an adminiſtrator, omitting the bringing into this court the letters of adminiſtration, was good after verdict; ſo the judgment in this caſe was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 133.

Trinity, 5 W. & M. Shelley's Caſe.

In an action on the caſe againſt an executor, on the plea of he has fully adminiſtered; three points were adjudged by Holt, Chief Juſtice; 1ſt. That the plaintiff muſt prove his debt, otherwiſe he ſhall recover but 1 d. damages, though there be aſſets, for the plea admits a debt, but not the quantity. 2dly. That all the debts mentioned in the inventory ſhall be counted aſſets in the executor's hands; for that is as much as to ſay that they may be had for demanding, unleſs the demand or refuſal be proved. 3dly. That in ſtrictneſs, no funeral expences are allowable againſt a creditor, except for the coffin, ringing the bell, parſon, clerk, and bearers fees, but not for pall or ornaments. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 296.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Harding v. Salkill.

In debt againſt the defendant as executor, the defendant pleaded in bar, that he was adminiſtrator; relying on Dyer 305. pl. 61. But the court held it no plea in bar; for if an action be brought againſt an adminiſtrator by the name of executor, and judgment had therein, this judgment may be pleaded in bar to another action brought againſt him as adminiſtrator. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 296.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. Gale v. Till.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 303 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Eaſter, 6 W. & M. Newton v. Richards.

A ſcire facias on a judgment againſt the teſtator was now ſued againſt his executor, who pleaded he had fully adminiſtered, &c. The plaintiff demurred ſpecially, and ſhewed for cauſe, that the defendant did not ſhew how he had adminiſtered; and had judgment; for againſt a judgment he ought to ſhew how he adminiſtered, but it had been good on general demurrer. Mo. 158. All. 48. 3 Keble 258. 2 Keb. 736. 3 Cro. 575. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 296. Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 296. Raym. vol. 1. p. 3.

Hilary, 6 & 7 W. & M. Wate v. Briggs.

An action was brought by the plaintiff in his own proper right, for the eſcape of a priſoner in execution on a judgment recovered by the plaintiff as adminiſtrator.

Per curiam. The action is ill brought, for the firſt judgment being in right of the inteſtate, the action of eſcape ought to be in right of the inteſtate alſo. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 36.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. Williams v. Crey or Carey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 20 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Fooler v. Cooke.

The plaintiff brought aſſumpſit againſt the defendant as executor, who prays judgment, whether he ought to anſwer the bill aforeſaid, becauſe, he ſays, that adminiſtration was granted to him, in which caſe he ought to be ſued as adminiſtrator, and not as executor, and concludes, with praying judgment, whether he ought to be compelled to anſwer the aforeſaid bill, &c. The plaintiff demurred, and it was objected, 1ſt. That he had not traverſed, abſque hoc that he adminiſtred as executor. 2 Brownl. 184. But not allowed: for it is better without a traverſe, and the plaintiff's declaration is well confeſſed and avoided; for an intermeddling with the goods intitles the plaintiff to an action againſt the defendant, and now he has ſhewed the cauſe of his intermeddling, and on what account, which, if true, he ought to be charged accordingly; it is true, if he intermeddled before adminiſtration, he may be charged as an executor of his own wrong, but that ſhall not be intended; for all acts are intended to be rightful till the contrary appears; and if the caſe were ſo, the plaintiff ought to reply it: a traverſe would be impertinent; for though the declaration ſuppoſes an intermeddling, yet it does not ſuppoſe how nor in what manner; and to deny an intermeddling as executor de ſon tort, is to traverſe that which is not alledged.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The diſtinction is between ſuing one as executor, as in this caſe, for then there needs no traverſe, and ſuing one as adminiſtrator to J. S. for then, if the defendant pleads he is an executor, he muſt go on and traverſe abſque hoc that the ſaid J. S. died inteſtate, and the reaſon is, becauſe, unleſs there was a dying inteſtate, no action could be brought againſt one as adminiſtrator, and to ſay he was made executor, is by implication only an anſwer to the dying inteſtate. 2dly. It was objected, that the bill could not be abated on the concluſion of this plea, which was to the juriſdiction of the court, and not to the bill; and the court inclined that every plea ought to have its apt concluſion, and that they ought not to abate the plaintiff's writ or bill in this caſe, becauſe the defendant had not prayed it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p, 298.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Petit v. Smith.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 378 of this work, under the head Diſtribution.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Truelock v. Hartfield.

In debt on a bond as adminiſtrator; the plaintiff in his declaration ſays, that adminiſtration was committed to him by J. S. official of the Dean of Sarum, lawfully conſtituted ordinary of that place, to whom adminiſtration of right belonged, without ſaying, at that time belonged, or how conſtituted, and held good notwithſtanding. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 100.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Yeoman v. Bradſhaw.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 226 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Trevillian v. Andrew.

In a ſuit in ejectment, the jury find a leaſe for ninety-nine years, if three perſons ſhould ſo long live, and that one of the ſaid perſons was living.

They alſo find another leaſe made to the leſſee for ninety-nine years, if he ſhould ſo long live, and that he aſſigned his term to the other, who died inteſtate, and that this perſon was living.

One Spry, who had a grant of the reverſion, entered before adminiſtration de bonis non was granted, and died ſeiſed. The queſtion was, whether that had taken away the entry of the adminiſtration?

Per curiam. The term had an exiſtence as ſoon as adminiſtration was granted, and the adminiſtrator may have a ſpecial action of treſpaſs. Vide. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 384.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Powers or Bowers, v. Coot or Cook.

The plaintiff brought debt on an obligation againſt the defendant as executrix of J. S. The defendant pleaded that J. S. died inteſtate, and that adminiſtration was committed to her, and prays judgment, whether ſhe ought to anſwer the aforeſaid bill, &c. On this the plaintiff demurred, and inſiſted that the defendant ſhould have traverſed; abſque hoc that ſhe intermeddled before adminiſtration committed to her; for if ſhe did, ſhe made herſelf liable as a tort executrix; and cited 3 Cro. 566, 810, 102. 3 Leon. 197. Yelv. 115. Brownl. 97.

Per curiam. Such a traverſe had been ill; for ſuch intermeddling is not alledged, and the defendant ought not to traverſe that which the plaintiff doth not alledge in his declaration. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 298. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 136. Raym. vol. 1. p. 63.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Aſton or Aſhton, v. Sherman.

In debt on a bond againſt an executor, the defendant pleaded ſix ſeveral judgments for 100 l. each, and that he had not aſſets beyond 10 l. which was bound by them; the plaintiff replied ſeverally as to five of the judgments, that they were kept on foot by fraud, and prayed judgment for his debt and damages in the concluſion of each plea; and as to the ſixth he pleaded that the defendant had aſſets beyond the 10 l. ſufficient.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Adjudged, 1ſt. That the plaintiff may reply ſeverally as to each, and that it is at his election to reply to all, or ſome, or any one of the judgments ſet up by the executor. But, 2dly. That the plaintiff's replication is wrong in this, that he pleaded as to five judgments by fraud, and as to the laſt, that he has aſſets, concluding to the country; for when a man pleads ſix judgments, he confeſſes aſſets for above five, ſo that it is an allegation of what is already confeſſed, and driving him to an unneceſſary iſſue thereon; but becauſe there are precedents this way, as 1 Saund. 336. the plaintiff had leave to diſcontinue, and afterwards amended on payment of coſts. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 298. Raym. vol. 1. p. 263. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 153.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Sparks v. Crefts.

The plaintiff brought an action againſt the defendant as adminiſtrator generally to J. S. The defendant pleaded, that he was adminiſtrator during the minority of his wife; and this was in abatement; to which plea the plaintiff demurred.

Adjudged, that the defendant ſhall anſwer over. For though a man cannot charge an adminiſtrator during minority generally as adminiſtrator, becauſe it is a particular ſort of adminiſtration, and if a man obtains judgment againſt ſuch an adminiſtrator, if afterwards the adminiſtrator or executor comes of age, a ſci. fa. lies againſt him on this judgment; yet the defendant ought to aver, that he continues adminiſtrator during the minority, which he has not done here, for he has not ſaid that his wife is living, and under the age of ſeventeen. 5 Co. 29. Pigot's caſe. Afterwards the defendant came and pleaded, that adminiſtration were committed to him during the minority of his wife, and that his wife died ſince the laſt continuance.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. 1ſt. This plea is contradictory to the admiſſion of the defendant; for by ill-pleading before, the defendant admitted himſelf adminiſtrator generally, and therefore this plea is ill. 2dly. I doubt whether a man can plead a plea puis darrien continuance after a demurrer; although Hob. 81. Stoner v. Gibſon is ſo. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 265.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Atkinſon v. Corniſh.

The plaintiff brought an action as adminiſtrator to J. S. during the minority of A. B. and C. adminiſtrators of J. S. with the will annexed, and averred that A. was within the age of twenty-one years; the defendant pleaded that A. was of the full age of twenty-one years, whereon the plaintiff tendered iſſue, and the defendant demurred. And it was argued, that judgment ought to be given for the defendant; for if A. is ſeventeen years of age, the adminiſtration granted during his minority ceaſes: therefore the plaintiff could not have an action after.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The difference is: if adminiſtration is granted during the minority of an executor, the adminiſtration ceaſes when the executor obtains the age of ſeventeen years; but if adminiſtration be granted during the minority of a perſon who is not executor, but only adminiſtrator, the adminiſtration does not ceaſe till the adminiſtrator attains the age of twenty-one years: and therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff.

And in the caſe of Thomas v. Freake Eaſter 13 W. 3. it was adjudged accordingly, that the adminiſtration during the minority of an adminiſtrator, does not ceaſe till the adminiſtrator attains the age of twenty-one years; where the plaintiff brought his action as adminiſtrator during the minority of an adminiſtrator, and averred he was under the age of twenty-one years, viz. eighteen years; and on demurrer to the declaration, judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 338. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 194.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. The King v. Sir Richard Raynes.

A mandamus iſſued to grant a probate of the will; the ordinary returned, that the executor was an abſconding perſon, incapable, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held this return was inſufficient; for that there is a will admitted, and ſince the teſtator has thought the executor a proper perſon to be intruſted truſted with his affairs, the ordinary cannot adjudge him otherwiſe on a diſability by the canon law, for that is not admitted here, but as far as it has been received from time immemorial; ſo a peremptory mandamus was granted.

Neither can the ordinary inſiſt on ſecurity from the executor; for the teſtator has thought him able and qualified, and he has a temporal right which he cannot ſue for before probate; and there have been no precedents nor practice of this nature. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 299. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 205.

Lent Aſſizes, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 445 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. Cage v. Acton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 206 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Richardſon v. Seiſe.

A feme covert, by the conſent of her huſband, made her will, and another feme covert her executor; her father, on oath of her dying a widow, obtained adminiſtration; and being cited below by the executrix to have the adminiſtration revoked, moved for a prohibition, on ſuggeſtion that ſhe was covert at the time of her death, and had a rule niſi; but the matter being opened to the court, they diſcharged the rule.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, a married woman cannot make a will, even as executrix, without the conſent of her huſband. Ro. Abr. 912. If a feme covert be executrix and legatee, adminiſtration de bonis non ought to be to the huſband; if ſhe be not legatee, and others are, it ought to be given to them; if there be no legacies, to the next of kin to the firſt teſtator.

A papiſt convict cannot be executor, otherwiſe he may. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 306.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Blank v. Newcomb.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A perſon may be ſued as executor, and as heir both; for why may not a man make uſe of both his ſecurities. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. page 327.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Grant v. Baily.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 305 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Tho' an executor de ſon tort pays debts duly, with all the aſſets that comes into his hands, yet the rightful executor ſhall maintain treſpaſs againſt him; indeed he may give ſuch payment in mitigation of damages, but the right of the action and verdict ſhall go againſt him. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 441.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Gidley v. Williams.

In debt, the plaintiff declared on a bill obligatory as adminiſtrator, not ſaying in the body of the declaration by whom adminiſtration was committed, concluding with, and he brings into court the letters of adminiſtration of the aforeſaid Richard, who was the inteſtate; the defendant pleaded not his deed; and a verdict for the plaintiff. And now exception was taken to the declaration.

Per curiam. 1ſt, Want of ſhewing by whom adminiſtration was committed, is naught on demurrer; for it might be by a peculiar, and then it muſt be averred, to whom the right of granting adminiſtration of right belonged, or, ordinary of that place. And there is a good reaſon why it ſhould be ſet forth by whom adminiſtration was committed; for the defendant may conteſt the right of the perſon granting, and may plead adminiſtration was granted to another, or that there were bona notabilia.

2dly, A verdict does not help this, for it is not a matter neceſſary to be proved on this iſſue, the title of adminiſtrator being not then in queſtion.

3dly, This defect was cured by the defendant's plea in chief, which admits the plaintiff to be a good adminiſtrator.

4thly, Though the verdict did not cure it at common law, yet it is now remedied by ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 8. And the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 37. Raym. vol. 1. page 634. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 443.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Tilny v. Norris.

The plaintiff brought an action of covenant againſt an adminiſtrator, and declared on a leaſe for years to the inteſtate, wherein was a covenant for him, his executors and aſſigns, to repair, and ſhews that the eſtate of and in the premiſes came to the defendant, and that he entered, and after that the premiſes fell into decay, and he had not repaired: the queſtion was, whether an adminiſtrator was liable in his own proper right, as an aſſignee? And Mr. Williams argued, that this covenant runs with the land, and binds the aſſignee; and for that reaſon an executor may may be charged as a ter-tenant; as in caſe an executor enters and does waſte. 1 And 52. And he prayed judgment of the proper goods, and inſiſted, that where he anſwers as aſſignee, the judgment againſt him is of the proper goods; but where as executor, though the breach be in his time, it is of the goods of the teſtator. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 309. Raym. vol. 1. p. 553.

Eaſter, 12 W. 3. Hilliard or Siliard v. Cox.

On an aſſumpſit brought by an adminiſtrator: plea in bar, the inteſtate died at ſuch a place in another dioceſe than that from whoſe ordinary the adminiſtration was committed to the plaintiff, and was inhabitant there at the time of his death; on demurrer, judgment for the defendant. For if a man has two houſes in divers dioceſes, his dying in one of them without known effects in the other, intitles the ordinary of that dioceſe to adminiſtration; otherwiſe, if he were on a journey, and ſo died. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 385.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Rock v. Leighton, or Layton, Sheriff of Salop.

An action was brought for a falſe return of a fieri facias againſt an adminiſtratrix of the goods of the inteſtate, and on not guilty pleaded, the plaintiff had a verdict and a caſe was made for the opinion of the court, viz. the plaintiff being an adminiſtratrix, was ſued by A. and, pending that ſuit, let judgment be obtained againſt her by B. and did not plead this judgment in bar of the ſaid action, but ſold the goods of the inteſtate to pay B. A. recovered, and ſued a fi. fa. on which the ſheriff levied part, and as to the reſt returned a devaſtavit: and it was ſaid for the plaintiff, in maintenance of the action, that the judgment by default, was no confeſſion of aſſets, and alſo that the ſheriff ought not to have returned a devaſtavit on the fi. fa. but a nulla bona, and on that there ought to have been a ſci. fa. inquiry.

Per curiam. 1ſt, The ſheriff may return a devaſtavit on the firſt fi. fa. if he will: it is at his peril if falſe, and the inquiry is only for his ſafety.

2dly, If an executor confeſſes or ſuffers judgment by default, he admits aſſets in his hands, and is eſtopped to ſay the contrary.

3dly, He might have pleaded the firſt judgment obtained by B. againſt the action of A. and nothing beyond, but not having done it, he has confeſſed he has aſſets to anſwer the judgment in this as well as the firſt action; and if a ſci. fa. inq. had been awarded on the ſaid judgment, and a devaſtavit returned, and non devaſtavit pleaded, the adminiſtrator could not have given in evidence the firſt judgment, becauſe he had not pleaded it when he might; ſo there was no occaſion for an inquiry, nor is he injured by this return of a devaſtavit on the fi. fa. ſince it could not have been avoided if there had been an inquiry.

4thly, The adminiſtrator's not pleading the firſt judgment, and nothing beyond, when he might, is an admiſſion of aſſets as to the ſecond judgment, ſo that he has ſlipped his time, and is eſtopped; ſo the jury are eſtopped as well as the plaintiff, and their verdict is void, and the ſheriff ſhall take advantage of all eſtoppels between the parties; as if an action be brought againſt a feme ſole, and ſhe marries, and judgment is againſt her, and then execution, and the ſheriff takes her by that name, ſhe ſhall be eſtopped to ſay the contrary. Judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 310. Raym. vol. 1. p. 589.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Dubois v. Trant.

Adminiſtration being committed to one during the minority of an executor, the queſtion was, whether on his dying under age it might be repealed and committed to his reſiduary legatee?

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where there is an executor under age, if there be legacies, the reſiduary legatee ought to have adminiſtration during the minority, and not the next of kin to the inteſtate, becauſe by ſtat. 31 Edward 3. it is to be committed to the next friend of the inteſtate: and the making a reſiduary legatee in ſuch a will is a manifeſt indication that ſuch teſtator took that perſon whom he has ſo made to be his next friend. If a feme covert dies inteſtate, leaving divers debts due to her before coverture, and adminiſtration is committed to her brother, or other next of kin, it ſhall be repealed, and granted to her huſband; and that has been ſo adjudged in the C. B. in the caſe of Duncomb v. Maſon. But the principal caſe is very conſiderable; and there was the like point in C. J. Pemberton's time, and a prohibition granted, but the point not determined: moſt certainly, by this grant of adminiſtration an intereſt is granted and veſted in the adminiſtratrix. If adminiſtration be granted to a creditor, and afterwards a more principal creditor comes, it ſhall not be revoked for him.

Before ſtat. 31 Ed. 3. the adminiſtrator was but a mere ſervant of the Ordinary, removeable at pleaſure, but ſince he has the abſolute property. Indeed an adminiſtrator during the minority ſhall do nothing to the prejudice of the executor, and there is a diverſity in point of determination between an adminiſtrator during the minority of an executor, for that ſhall only endure till the executor attains ſeventeen years, at which age he may act as executor, and a grant of adminiſtration during the minority of J. S. for that ſhall hold till he comes to twenty-one.

Gould, Juſtice, agreed, and ſaid, it was hard to maintain that a grant of adminiſtration to one during the minority of one that has a right to adminiſtration, is a bare authority.

Per curiam. It is a point worthy of conſideration, and much may be ſaid to prove that the Ordinary has executed his authority; therefore let a prohibition go, and declare thereon immediately. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 436.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Ingram v. Foot.

Adjudged, That when an executor pleads a recognizance, he muſt ſet it forth to the court, that they may judge whether it ought to be performed. If it be on an action of debt brought againſt him, he need only ſay, that a judgment was obtained againſt him in ſuch a court, if in any of the courts at Weſtminſter: but if brought in an inferior court, he muſt allow their juriſdiction. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 613.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Jackſon v. Bridge.

The defendant covenanted to ſerve the plaintiff's teſtator, and his aſſigns for eight years; and the queſtion was, whether the plaintiff as executor was an aſſignee in law; for by the agreement it is not fixed to the perſon of the teſtator; for if it were, the executor ſhould have it, and it would be aſſets in his hands. Plowd. 287. b. 288. a. And it was ſaid, that if the executor did ſet up ſuch a trade as the ſervant was to be employed in by the covenant, it ought not to be determined by the death of the covenantee; otherwiſe, it were hard to transfer the ſervant to another ſervice: and ſo it was ſaid, it would be in the caſe of an apprentice; and here it being averred, that the plaintiff, uſed the ſame trade in which the defendant had covenanted to ſerve, he had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 650.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Parker v. Kett.

In this caſe, Holt, C. J. held that an executor de ſon tort, who is but an executor de facto, if he does lawful acts with the effects as paying of debt in their degrees, it ſhall alter the property againſt the lawful executor, who ſhall not avoid that payment; and yet it is an act done by one that has no right; it is true, he is not quit againſt the rightful executor, but he ſhall maintain trover againſt him: but what ſhall he recover in damage? only for ſo much as he has miſapplied, and all that he has well applied ſhall be abated in damages. And what is the reaſon of this? Why, becauſe the medling with the goods is that which gives the creditor notice who is executor, and bound to pay the debts; and the creditor is not bound to inquire into the executor's title, if there be a colour and appearance of it, it ſuffices; if an executor de ſon tort gets 300 l. of the teſtator's goods, and pays it duly to a juſt creditor, there the lawful executor, in my opinion, ſhall not even maintain trover againſt the wrongful executor, becauſe it is a good payment, and no prejudice to the executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 472.

Eaſter or Trinity, 13 W. 3. Blackborough v. Davis, or Davies.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 378 of this work, under the head Diſtribution.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Freke or Beck v. Thomas.

An adminiſtrator during the minority of an adminiſtrator, may act and ſue till the adminiſtrator, in whoſe right he acts, be of the age of twenty-one years; for adminiſtrators are by the ſtatute, and he is not a legal perſon in the eye of the law, capable to act for another as truſtee, till twenty-one. So that during the minority of an adminiſtrator ſhall be underſtood during legal minority, i. e. under twenty-one, before which age he is not by judgment of law fit for the truſt; otherwiſe, where it is the act and judgment of the party, as where one is made executor; for by the ſpiritual law he may be an executor at ſeventeen, and therefore an adminiſtration during the minority of an executor ceaſes at that time: adjudged ſo in debt on a bond.

Note. There is a neceſſity for this; for the ſpiritual court will not grant adminiſtration to any one under twenty-one; and this is by conſtruction on the ſtatute of diſtributions, becauſe they are to give bond, &c. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 39. Raym. vol. 1. p. 667. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. page 500.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Hall v. Bond.

On an action of debt brought by an adminiſtrator, to whom adminiſtration in due manner was committed; the defendant pleaded over.

Per curiam. This had been bad if demurred to, but it is now helped by pleading over; for you thereby admit he has a right of ſuit, and is adminiſtrator. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 537.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Parker v. Atfeild, or Atfield, v. Parker.

In debt on a bond brought againſt an adminiſtrator, he pleaded ſeveral judgments, and nothing beyond 5 s. which was found: the plaintiff as to one judgment replied, there was but ſo much due, which the debtee was willing and ready to accept in full, and that the defendant by fraud deferred the payment of that money, and the judgment was kept in force to defraud the creditors; and replied the ſame matter as to another, and demurred as to the reſt: the defendant rejoined, that as to one judgment, it was not kept on foot by fraud, &c.

and as to the ſecond, no aſſets beyond ſo much, which was liable to the judgment, the ſame to the third, and as to the reſt joined in demurrer.

Per curiam. 1ſt. The beſt way for an adminiſtrator to plead, is to plead truly and honeſtly, and though there is a judgment for a penalty, he ought to plead the judgment, and ſhew how much is due.

2dly. If he pleads ſeveral judgments, and any one judgment be ill pleaded, or ſound fraudulent, the plaintiff ſhall have judgment.

3dly. If an adminiſtrator pleads twenty judgments, it a confeſſion of aſſets to ſatisfy twenty judgments, and the nothing beyond 5*s.* is but form, not material nor traverſable.

4thly. If a judgment being pleaded, and by fraud replied thereto, and iſſue is taken thereon, and by evidence it appears the debtee was willing to take leſs than is recovered, it is evidence of fraud; but if it be ſhewn that the adminiſtrator had not aſſets to pay that ſum, it is no fraud.

5thly. If an adminiſtrator pleads two or more judgments, and the plaintiff confeſſes the plea to be true, and prays judgment of aſſets in future, if afterwards aſſets come to his hands, he may ſatisfy the judgments pleaded; for the judgment of aſſets in future is only to be paid off after the other judgments are ſatisfied, and therefore there is no inconvenience in making the pleading of fraudulent judgments a confeſſion of aſſets.

6thly. The concluſion of the replication with and this he is ready to verify to every judgment, is well; but a general concluſion to the whole had been better. 2 Saund. 338. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 312. Raym. vol. 1. p. 678. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 496.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Holdin v. Sutton.

An action of debt was brought by the plaintiff on an eſcape permitted by the defendant, who was marſhal of this court in the time of the teſtator, and it was brought in the debet & detinet. On nil debet pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff. And now the court was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this action could not be maintained in the debet and detinet, but ought to have been brought in the detinet only. And it was admitted, that after demurrer it would have been ill. But at another day it was argued for the plaintiff, that this was aided after verdict, by ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. 8. 1. and 1 Sid. 342. Comber v. Watton was cited, where in an action of debt againſt the heir, brought in the detinet only, on a bond of the anceſtor, in which he bound himſelf and his heirs, the action was held good after verdict, though it ought to have been in the debet and detinet; and 1 Sid. 379. Fruen v. Porter. But the court inclined to the contrary, becauſe it would alter the nature of the action, and therefore the right was not tried; and judgment ſtayed, niſi, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 698.

Sir George Sands's Caſe.

Sir George Sands adminiſtered to his ſon, and afterwards a woman pretending to be his wife, ſued for a repeal, but a prohibition was granted, becauſe the Ordinary had an election to grant it either to the father or wife, and had executed his power by granting it to the father.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Where a feme covert died inteſtate, and the next of kin to her obtained adminiſtration, and the huſband ſued for a repeal, a prohibition was denied; becauſe in this caſe the Ordinary had no power or election to grant it to any perſon but to the huſband; and this is not within the ſtatute of H. 8. but within the ſtatute of Ed. 3. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 22.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Sir Richard Rains v. The Commiſſary of the Dioceſe of Canterbury.

One R. a ſeamen died beyond ſea; the place of his habitation while in England, was Sandwich, within the dioceſe of Canterbury, and he had no effects in any other dioceſes within the province of Canterbury, the commiſſary of the dioceſe committed adminiſtration to the wife, and a creditor of the inteſtate was ſet up in the prerogative court, to cite the woman to have her adminiſtration repealed; and to this ſuit, a prohibition was moved for, and a rule niſi was granted. And now the judge of the prerogative court, alledging that this was in derogation of his juriſdiction, which he deſired to maintain; and it appearing on the very ſuggeſtion, that there were effects, it was urged, that that was a confeſſion, that the adminiſtration committed by him was void, and no perſon ought to be prohibited from repealing a void adminiſtration.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We do not prohibit you from committing adminiſtration, which you may do if the adminiſtration committed by the commiſſary, be void as you ſay; but we prohibit the repealing of an adminiſtration, which for ought we know, is duly committed; and if it be by the archbiſhop, as he is a metropolitan, though there be no effects, it is good till repealed; and if it be void, he may commit a new adminiſtration without more ado, and then let the two adminiſtrators contend the matter between them: but we will not repeal this, becauſe it is in derogation of your juriſdiction below; for you would commit it to this perſon that now has it. But all the queſtion is, whether you or they ought to grant it of right? And where you both pretend a right, it will be hard to let you be your own judge; and all depends on the conſtitution of the province of Canterbury; for if there is ſuch a uſage for them to grant prerogative adminiſtration, it is hard to hinder them of it; and the matter being thus, it is fit a prohibition ſhould go, and then we will give final judgment, and you may bring a writ of error if you pleaſe.

And here it was ſaid, that if adminiſtration be committed in a dioceſe where there are no effects, though ſuch grant be ipſo facto void, yet they do not grant a new adminiſtration in the prerogative court before they repeal that, and in that caſe they ſhall not be prohibited: but this caſe is different, being a queſtion of right. At laſt it was propoſed as an expedient to try the queſtion, that Sir R. Rains ſhould bring an action on the caſe againſt the commiſſary, for granting prerogative adminiſtration to the prejudice of his juriſdiction, or that he ſhould bring an indebitatus aſſumpſit for the fees, as for money received to his uſe, and the laſt was done by conſent. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 146.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Taylor v. Rains.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 207 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Shardelow v. Naylor.

A woman by deed ſettled her eſtate in truſt, reſerving a power to herſelf to give by her laſt will and teſtament, as ſhe ſhould think fit, ſo much of her eſtate in legacies; and this was done before marriage, with the conſent and privity of the intended huſband, who refuſed nevertheleſs to be a witneſs or a party to the deed: the marriage took effect; the wife made a will and died, and the executor proved the will.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This is not a will, neither ought the Ordinary to prove it; if he does, a prohibition lies. Where a woman is an executor and marries, there ſhe may make a will with conſent of her huſband, and cannot without. 1 Jon. 157. So if a woman having debts due to her marries, ſhe may make a will as to theſe, and the Ordinary may prove it. In other caſes ſhe cannot, for it is only a writing in form of a will. However, in the principal caſe it appearing, that the Ordinary had only granted adminiſtration as to the goods in this will, it was allowed as reaſonable. Cro. Car. 219. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 313.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Rouſe v. Etherington.

On an action brought in the C. B. againſt two executors a capias iſſued againſt both, which as to one was returned non eſt inventus, but the other appeared, and judgment was given againſt both; whereon he that appeared brought a writ of error, and concluded to the damage of him, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. By ſtat. 9 E. 3. If debt be brought againſt ſeveral executors, and one appears, and the other makes default on the grand diſtreſs, the court may proceed againſt him that appears; and if the plaintiff recovers, judgment ſhall be againſt all the executors for the goods of the teſtator; and ſtat. 25 E. 3. c. 17. which gives a capias in debt, has been always conſtrued within the equity of ſtat. 9 E 3. ſo that if there be ſeveral executors defendants, and a cepi corpus is returned as to one, and a non eſt inventus as to the reſt, the plaintiff ſhall proceed againſt him that appears, and ſhall have judgment againſt all; for the default on the capias is the ſame as on the grand diſtreſs.

Thus the judgment being againſt all, one only ought not to bring the writ of error; for the judgment is to the great damage of them all, and the coſts, which are only adjudged againſt him that appeared, are but an acceſſary to the principal judgment, which cannot be reverſed as to them only. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 312. Raym. vol. 2. p. 870.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If H. gets goods of an inteſtate into his hands after adminiſtration is actually granted, it does not make him executor of his own wrong; but if he gets the goods into his hands before, though adminiſtration be granted afterwards, yet he remains chargeable as a wrongful executor, unleſs he delivers the goods over to the adminiſtrator before the action is brought, and then he may plead that he has fully adminiſtered. 5 Co. 33. b. F. N. B 44. But if he takes on him to act as excutor, he is chargeable with the event. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 313.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Brook v. Stroud.

Two perſons were made executors, and in an action brought by them, they ſet forth that they were made executors, and that they both did prove the will, and by the probate produced, it appeared, that one only proved it, and the matter being pleaded in abatement: the plaintiff had judgment of ouſter awarded. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 39.

Trinity, 1 Ann. George v. Pierce.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If an executor de ſon tort, delivers the goods to the adminiſtrator before the action brought, he may plead plene adminiſtravit; if adminiſtration be firſt granted, and then another perſon takes the goods, he is not thereby an executor de ſon tort. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 31.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Goodwin v. Hilton.

Per curiam. An executor ſhall pay coſts for not going on to trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 98.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous

Per curiam. An adminiſtrator ſhall pay coſts for not going on to trial. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 118.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Burſton v. Ridley.

One H. entered into a recognizance of 100 l. before Glyn, Chief Juſtice of the upper bench in 1658, to A. On a certificate of this into Chancery, there iſſued a writ of extent reciting a recognizance for the ſame debt, taken before Glyn, Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas, requiring the ſheriff to extend the lands of the conuſor. Accordingly certain lands were extended, and on a liberate delivered to J. S. who died poſſeſſed of goods of the value of 5 l. in the dioceſe of London, and alſo in Durham, the leſſor of the plaintiff in ejectment, took out adminiſtration in Durham and alſo in London, and in that right took out a new extent, and brought an ejectment. And the court held, that unleſs the firſt extent was void, the ſecond could not be good, for the party could not have two extents, nor two ſatisfactions. But it was objected to the plaintiff's title, that he ſhould have had a prerogative adminiſtration.

Per curiam. Neither Archbiſhop has to do in the other's province. If a man leaves effects in ſeveral dioceſes of the ſame province, there muſt be a prerogative adminiſtration. If one leaves effects in two dioceſes of Canterbury, and in two dioceſes in the province of York, there muſt be two prerogative adminiſtrations; but if it be as here, it is otherwiſe, and this adminiſtration in the one dioceſe and the other was held good. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 39. Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 223.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Marſfield or Blainfield v. Marſh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 349 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Elwes or Eaves, Executrix of Elwes v. Mocata or Mocato.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 306 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Berwick v. Andrews.

A judgment was obtained againſt J. S. as executor, and now the executor of him that obtained the judgment brought an action of debt on that judgment againſt the ſaid J. S. ſuggeſting a devaſtavit in the life-time of his teſtator, and had judgment by nihil dicit in C. B. And on a writ of error being brought in this court, it was objected, that the plaintiff was not privy to the judgment, and therefore ought firſt to have brought his ſcire facias, and then have ſuggeſted a devaſtavit according to the caſe of Wheatly v. Land, 1 Saund. 216, and that this was carrying devaſtavits a ſtep farther than they had yet gone.

Per curiam. It lies for the executor of him to whom the wrong was done, though it lies not againſt the executor of him that did the wrong. Here the defendant is the perſon againſt whom the recovery was, and he has admitted aſſets; and the executor may as well maintain this action, as he may an action of debt for an eſcape where his teſtator might. So an executor of a parſon ſhall maintain debt for tithes, as the teſtator might: for in this caſe the tort was to the property of the teſtator, and veſted an intereſt in him, and is within the equity of the ſtatute de bonis eſportatis; and the ſame reaſon holds for an action of debt as for a ſci. fac. 2 Sid. 102. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 314. Raym. vol. 2. p. 971. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 125.

Hilary, 3 Ann. Wangford legatee of Shelly v. Wangford Debtor and Executor to Shelly.

See page 242 of this work, under the head Bonds, and alſo page 350, under the head Declaration.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Clerk v. Dealy,

The plaintiff as executor, brought an indebitatus for money of the teſtators, received after his death to the plaintiff's uſe, and produced the teſtator's debtor, who paid it, as a witneſs; but he was rejected.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The plaintiff by bringing this action, determines the election he had of ſuing the original debtor, or the receiver, and allows of the payment; but if he is nonſuited, the matter is at large again, and he may ſue the debtor, and therefore the debtor ſwears to diſcharge himſelf, and by conſequence is no witneſs.

It appeared alſo, that another ſum of money mentioned in the declaration, was found by the defendant in the teſtator's room after his death, which he took.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. As to that, the plaintiff miſtook his action; for he ſhould brought trover, and not an indebitatus for money received to his uſe: therefore the plaintiff was nonſuited. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 151.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Adams v. The Ter-tenants of Savage.

On a ſci. fac. brought on a judgment in this court, the plaintiff as adminiſtrator of J. S. by his profert, ſhews an adminiſtration granted to him by the Archdeacon of Dorſet. The heir and ter tenants pleaded riens per deſcent, &c. and the plea being adjudged naught, the ſci. fa. was abated by judgment that he take nothing by his writ; which in this caſe the court ſaid was a bar to the action of the writ, but not to the action; and the reaſon of their judgment was, becauſe the plaintiff having made this adminiſtration his title, the court could not intend any other, and the pleading over could not admit that to be a title which to the court appeared to be no title. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 40. Raym. vol. 2. p. 854. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 134.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Smith v. Harman.

The plaintiff as adminiſtrator to J. S. ſued out a ſci. fac. againſt the defendant, ſetting forth that his inteſtate ſued the defendant as executor in ſuch an action, that judgment was given againſt the defendant by nihil dicit, and a writ of inquiry of damages awarded, which abated by the death of the inteſtate before the return of the writ; and that adminiſtration was granted to the plaintiff; and the writ of ſci. fa. commanded the ſheriff to ſummon the defendant to ſhew cauſe, why the plaintiff ſhould not have judgment? The defendant pleaded, that the plaintiff ought not to recover, becauſe his teſtator was indebted to A. in 100 l. by bond, on which A. ſued him and recovered judgment, and that he had no aſſets beyond, &c. To this the plaintiff demurred, and had judgment; for that the ſtatute never intended that the executor ſhould ſtand in any other circumſtances to make another defence than the party to the contract himſelf might have made againſt the inquiry, and he could have pleaded nothing but a releaſe, or other matter in bar ariſing puis darrien continuance. He is by the words of the ſtatute to ſhew cauſe why damages in ſuch caſe ſhall not be aſſeſſed and recovered; and if he ſhall appear at the return, and not ſhew any matter ſufficient to arreſt the final judgment, then a writ of inquiry ſhall be awarded, &c. And arreſting judgment is by matter apparent in the record, and not extrinſic; and heretofore they pleaded in arreſt of judgment, as now we move. 5 H. 7. 23. 2 Ro. 716. 12 H. 4. 24. Co. Ent. Error 95. Yelv. 152. 2 Cro. 220. And the executor cannot be hurt by this, for the judgment is only de bonis teſtatoris, as if recovered againſt the teſtator himſelf. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 315. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 142.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Jenkins and Wife v. Plombe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in pages 208 and 306 of this work, under the heads Baron and Feme, and Coſts.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Trail v. Edwards.

Per curiam. If an executor ſuffers judgment to go againſt him by default, on executing a writ of enquiry, he ſhall not give in evidence the want of aſſets if he is eſtopped, as if it had been the caſe of an heir; for he ſhould have pleaded that he had fully adminiſtred, or ſpecially what aſſets he has. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 308.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Trevivan or Treviban v. Lawrence and others.

On a ſci. fa. brought by an adminiſtrator, on a judgment in Trinity term, the record being in truth of that term, but no judgment till Michaelmas term following; and the defendants being all except one ſummoned, and returned, pleaded nul tiel record, and the record of Michaelmas term produced, and judgment on the ſci. fa. returned and an award of execution given, an elegit taken out, and an extent thereon, and an ejectment brought to get poſſeſſion; and now it was found out, that there was no ſuch judgment as the ſci. fa. recited.

Per curiam. All the tenants here but one are eſtopped, from ſaying, that there was no ſuch judgment; and as to him too, he is eſtopped if he does not ſhew a title paramount to the judgment on the ſci. fa. for this is an eſtoppel that works on the intereſt of the land. So the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 256. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1048.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Clerk v. Withers.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 5 of this work under the head Abatement.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Denham v. Stevenſon.

In an action of debt brought by an adminiſtrator againſt the heir on a bond of the anceſtor, he declared to whom adminiſtration belonged of all the goods, &c. by ſuch a Peculiar in a lawful manner was committed; without ſaying that he had Ordinary juriſdiction, or that it did belong to him to commit adminiſtration; the defendant demurred to the declaration,

Firſt. Becauſe he had not ſhewn how the defendant was heir; and to ſhew the neceſſity thereof was quoted Hob. 333.

Per curiam. The diſtinction is where he ſues as heir; there, becauſe he is preſumed conuſant of his pedigree, he ought to ſhew it; otherwiſe where he is ſued, becauſe ſtrangers ſhall not be compelled to ſhew what lies not in their knowledge.

The ſecond exception was, that he makes title by virtue of adminiſtration committed by a Peculiar, without alledging any right in the Peculiar to commit adminiſtration, and that is matter of ſubſtance and traverſable; for of common right here in England it belong to the Ordinary.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It cannot be ſaid to be form only; for it is the committing adminiſtration by a perſon having legal authority that veſts the cauſe of action in the plaintiff; and the Ordinary by law is to commit adminiſtration; and in all caſes of Peculiars, you muſt ſhew title and right to grant adminiſtration, and the leaſt averment that can do it, is to ſay that of right it belonged to him to grant adminiſtration; for the court cannot take notice of Peculiars, but may of Biſhops; and bringing into court letters of adminiſtration, is not enough, for they only certify what is on the face of them, viz. that adminiſtration was committed to the plaintiff by ſuch a one, but it does not import that he had any right ſo to do. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 41.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Slaughter or Slater, v. May.

One H. being an adminiſtrator during the abſence of J. S. brought an action of debt on a bond, but did not aver where J. S. was abſent, or that he was abſent.

Per cur. It is but reaſonable the Ordinary ſhould have power to grant adminiſtration during abſence, as well as minority, or; pending a ſuit; and ſuch adminiſtrator is accountable to the executor: we will intend he is abſent beyond ſea, but the plaintiff ought to aver that he was abſent: therefore judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 42. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1071.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Wallis v. Lewis.

In an action on the caſe, the plaintiff declared as executrix, and the declaration ſet forth, that the defendant was indebted to her as executrix for monies of the teſtator received after his death by the defendant to the plaintiff's uſe as executrix; and being ſo indebted, promiſed, &c. the plaintiff had judgment by nil dicit, and a writ of inquiry of damages returned. And the court was moved in arreſt of judgment, that the plaintiff had not in the declaration made any profert of the letters teſtamentary, &c.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. This declaration being grounded on a promiſe made to the executrix herſelf, the naming her executrix was but ſurpluſage. For if an executor gives an authority to another to receive the teſtator's money, payment to that perſon is payment to the executor. So where J. S. receives the teſtator's money of his own head, the executor may, if he pleaſes, allow the receipt; and then it is money received to the uſe of the executor. So if an executor be poſſeſſed of the goods of his teſtator, and they are taken out of his poſſeſſion, and the executor brings trover or treſpaſs, he may in the declaration name himſelf executor if he will, but he need not produce the will in court, becauſe he is ſufficiently intitled to the action on his poſſeſſion.

And Powell, J. ſaid, that he might bring the action in his own name, though he never had actual poſſeſſion.

And afterwards, at another day, on motion, judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1216.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Lamine v. Dorrell.

In an indebitatus aſſumpſit brought for money received by the defendant to the uſe of the plaintiff as adminiſtrator of J. S. the defendant pleaded non aſſumpſit, and on evidence it appeared, that J. S. died inteſtate, poſſeſſed of certain Iriſh debentures; and the defendant pretending a right to be adminiſtrator, got adminiſtration granted to him, and by that means got theſe debentures into his hands; then the defendant's adminiſtration was repealed, and adminiſtration granted to the plaintiff, who brought this action againſt the defendant for the money he ſold the debentures for. And it being objected, that this action would not lie, becauſe the defendant ſold the debentures as one that claimed a title and intereſt in them, and therefore could not be ſaid to receive the money to the uſe of the plaintiff, which indeed he ſold to his own uſe; but that the plaintiff ought to have brought an action of trover or detinue for the debentures: the point was ſaved to the defendant, and now the court was moved, and the ſame objection made.

Powell, Juſtice. It is clear the plaintiff might have maintained detinue or trover for the debentures; but when the act that is done is in its nature tortious, it is hard to turn that into a contract, and againſt the reaſon of aſſumpſits. But the plaintiff may diſpenſe with the wrong, and ſuppoſe the ſale made with his conſent, and bring an action for the money they were ſold for, as money received to his uſe. It has been carried thus far already, Howard v. Wood's caſe goes as far: there the title of the office was tried in an action for the profits.

Afterwards on the laſt day of the term, on motion, judgment was given for the plaintiff.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that he could not ſee how it differed from an indebitatus aſſumpſit brought for the profits of an office by a rightful officer againſt a wrongful one, as money had been received by the wrongful officer to the uſe of the rightful officer. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1216.

Hilary, 6 Ann. Archbiſhop of Canterbury v. Wills.

In an action of debt brought on a bond entered into by an adminiſtrator to the Ordinary on taking out letters of adminiſtration, the queſtion was, whether an adminiſtrator by virtue of this obligation was bound to give in his account in the ſpiritual court without being cited?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, who delivered the opinion of the court, ſaid, 1ſt. That it appears by the ſtatute of Edward 3. that an executor was compellable to account before the Ordinary, and ſo was an adminiſtrator: but then the Ordinary was to take the account as given in, and could not oblige them to prove the items of it, nor ſwear to the truth of them. Noy 78. 2 Inſt. 6. So it was if a creditor ſued in the eccleſiaſtical court, for he had a proper remedy at common law: but if a legatee had ſued for an account in the eccleſiaſtical court, the defendant, before the ſtatute, was compellable to prove the whole account, for the legatee had no other remedy, and the eccleſiaſtical court which had a juriſdiction of legacies could not otherwiſe do right: yet in ſuch a caſe, if the executor would pay him, he could not ſue further, for he had right done him, and the executor was not liable, but of neceſſity that right might be done. Raym. 407, 470, 471.

2dly. A perſon intitled to diſtribution on ſtat. 22 Car. 2. is in conſequence intitled to ſue for an account as a legatee is; for the next of kin is a legatee by the ſtatute, and as a ſtatute-legatee ſhall have the ſame remedy as the other legatee might before the ſtatute. The condition of an adminiſtration-bond was to account when required: ſo it appears by Co. Ent. therefore he was not to account before he was legally cited, which could not be officially, and therefore ſtat. Jac. 2. whereby the Ordinary is prohibited from citing him in officially, had really no effect at all, for the law was ſo before; but ſince 22 ſtat. Car. 2. the condition of adminiſtration-bonds being, that he account on a day certain, he muſt account accordingly at his peril, and that without citation or ſuit; and this account muſt be in court, and if he comes at the day, and no court is held, he ſhall be excuſed, for he may plead he was there ready, and no court, &c. But then this account is not examinable, unleſs a party intereſted comes in and controverts it: and whereas by the words of the condition he is to adminiſter well and truly, that ſhall be conſtrued in bringing in his account, and not in paying the debts of the inteſtate; and therefore a creditor ſhall not take an aſſignment of the bond and ſue it, and aſſign for breach the non-payment of a debt to him, or a devaſtavit committed by the adminiſtrator, for that would be needleſs and infinite. Vide Salk. vol. 1. page 316.

Eaſter, 7 Ann. Billingſworth or Billinghurſt, v. Spearman.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 211 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Hutchinſon v. Savage.

George Hutchinſon, adminiſtrator of J. D. brought an action againſt Robert Savage for goods ſold by the inteſtate to the defendant. The defendant pleaded that the plaintiff on the 15th day of December 1708 releaſed to the defendant, his heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators, all and all manner of actions, cauſe and cauſes of actions, ſuits, bills, bonds, writings obligatory, debts, dues, duties, accompts, ſum and ſums of money, judgments, executions, extents, quarrels, controverſies, treſpaſſes, damages, and demands whatſoever, as well in law as in equity or otherwiſe, which the plaintiff had againſt the defendant, &c. The plaintiff replied, and craved oyer of the releaſe; on which a general releaſe is ſet out of all debts, dues, and demands, &c. of Hutchinſon, ſo that George Hutchinſon, as creditor of Savage, (it ſays, that he and others, the creditors of Savage, do releaſe him) and then ſays, that at the making of that releaſe the defendant was indebted to him in his own right in the ſum of 6 l. and that he gave the releaſe to releaſe that debt, &c. to which the defendant demurred.

The defendant's council argued, that ſuch general releaſes did diſcharge the debt due to him as adminiſtrator, and cited 1 Roll. Abr. 404.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, that the caſe in Roll. Abr. was taken out of the year-book of E. 3. 39. Ed. 3. 96. at which time the law was held, that a grant of all his goods by an executor or adminiſtrator, paſt goods which he had as executor or adminiſtrator; but now that caſe is held contrary, and there is no difference between a grant and a releaſe; therefore that caſe of a grant of all his goods will govern this preſent caſe: but if there had been no other debts for the releaſe to work on, then it had releaſed this debt. On this argument the caſe was adjourned, and the laſt paper-day of this term, the defendant's council argued, that it was plainly the intent of the parties, that it ſhould diſcharge all the debts, as well in his own right as adminiſtrator; for it ſays, all actions, that we, every or any of us, &c. and every man's deed muſt be taken moſt ſtrongly againſt himſelf, as a releaſe to A. B. of all actions, releaſes as well joint-actions as ſeveral; and as to the objection, that a grant of all his goods does not paſs goods as adminiſtrator; he ſaid that the caſe in 1 Roll. was well adjudged, and a good authority. He cited 1 Leon. 203. Plowd. 209. Noy, 106. and Cro. Jac. 318. where the huſband granted him his right, title, and intereſt of and in the tithes, which he had in right of his wife; and it was held, that they paſs, tho' he had them in his wife's right.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If he had no goods but as adminiſtrator, that muſt paſs by a grant of all his goods. Adjourned. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1306.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Jones v. Wilſon.

On an action brought by an adminiſtrator, he declared on two counts; one on a promiſe to the inteſtate in his life-time, the other on a promiſe to the plaintiff himſelf, and names himſelf adminiſtrator in both; and on the trial the plaintiff was nonſuited; and the queſtion was, whether he ſhould pay coſts?

Per curiam. Theſe two counts could not be joined; and if an intire judgment had been given, judgment ſhould have been arreſted. But it is a queſtion, whether it might not have been made good by taking judgment on one count only. But in this caſe the plaintiff muſt pay coſts, becauſe the nonſuit goes to the whole. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 256.

Eaſter, 9 Ann. Weſton v. James.

In an action of debt on a bond brought againſt an adminiſtrator, the defendant pleaded aſſets in his hands to the value of 200 l. only, and that A. obtained a judgment againſt the inteſtate in an aſſumpſit by nil dicit, and that the inteſtate died, and that after a ſcire facias was awarded againſt the defendant for damages on the ſaid judgment, on which he having no cauſe, a writ of inquiry iſſued, and damages thereon found to the value of 300 l. and judgment given thereon for the plaintiff, that he recover his damages aforeſaid againſt the ſaid inteſtate, and avers that he had no aſſets beſides. To this plea the plaintiff demurred, and it was admitted that this plea at common law had been naught, for by the death of the defendant the action had abated, and judgment could not be given againſt him after his death; but the queſtion was on ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 10. which after interlocutory judgment gives a ſci. fac. againſt the adminiſtrator in caſe of the defendant's death, which was compared to the caſe of a judgment on ſtat. 17 Car. 2. c. 8. where the defendant dies after a verdict. But to this it was anſwered, that the ſaid ſtatute makes the judgment good againſt the defendant himſelf only, and makes not a judgment againſt his executor or adminiſtrator; but by this ſtatute it is to be a judgment againſt the executors or adminiſtrators of the party, for they are expreſsly taken notice for this end, and the ſcire facias is to be againſt them; and all this appears on the ſame record, and therefore this can never be made a judgment againſt the inteſtate himſelf, nor ſo pleaded; to which the court inclined. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 42.

Michaelmas, 9 Ann. Bukley v. Pirk.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 125 of this work, under the head Aſſets.

Eaſter, 10 Ann. Sadler v. Daniel.

The queſtion was, whether a man might be ſued in the ſpiritual court for taking the goods of an inteſtate from the adminiſtrator, or whether a prohibition ſhould not go?

Reſolved, that there ſhould be a prohibition, for when an adminiſtration is made, the power of the Ordinary is determined; and there being a competent remedy at the common law, for the adminiſtrator in an action of trover, the party would by this means be doubly harraſſed; for an excommunication could never be pleaded in bar to an action of trover.

It is difficult to ſay when this power was firſt veſted in the Ordinary, but probably ſuperſtition was the cauſe. However, now by the ſtatute law, the Ordinary muſt grant adminiſtration, and then his power is determined; and the adminiſtrator, when put in by the Ordinary, derives his power not from the Ordinary, but the law. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 21.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. D'Eath v. Baux.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 212 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Trinity, 12 Ann. Nutton v. Crow. Error.

An indebitatus aſſumpſit on three promiſes was brought by the plaintiff as executor to B. As to the two firſt promiſes, the declaration ſtood thus; that Crow, on the 22d day of January 1708, in the life of the teſtator, being indebted, &c. and on the defendant's craving oyer of the letters teſtamentary, a probate is recited as made four months before the time of the promiſes.

The third promiſe was a promiſe to the executor himſelf, on the ſtating the accounts between the executor and the defendant, touching only the dealings between the teſtator and himſelf.

The plaintiff entered a remittitur damna on the two firſt promiſes given, and obtained judgment on the third in the court of C. B.

On error brought, two things were chiefly inſiſted on, viz. 1ſt. That it appeared from the plaintiff's own ſhewing, that this will was proved in the life-time of the teſtator, and was a void probate.

The ſecond objection to the judgment was, that here were promiſes made to the teſtator, and a promiſe made to the executor, all joined in one action, which ought not to be.

The court were of opinion, that the promiſes might very well be joined in one action: that the taking of the account did not at all vary the nature of the debt: that the plaintiff lay under a neceſſity, to introduce the cauſe of the action, of naming himſelf executor: that the pleading being here the ſame, the judgment the ſame, and the effect of the judgment the ſame, as would have been in ſeparate actions, there could be no reaſon given for dividing them, but multiplying actions, which the law abhors, and is againſt Magna Charta.

Hobart 88. held to be a ſtrong authority for the defendant in error.

The court agreed that an executor could not be ſued for debts due from the teſtator and himſelf in one and the ſame action, becauſe the judgment is different. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 171.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Johnſon v. Gardiner.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 352 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles v. Williams.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 194 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. Betts, Executor of —— v. Mitchell.

In an action on the caſe for ſeveral promiſes made by the defendant to the teſtator:

As to the fifth promiſe; the plaintiff declared, that the defendant on the 13th of Auguſt, 1713, made a promiſory note to him as executor to ſuch a one, payable to the plaintiff or order; and then the plaintiff concludes, that the defendant not minding his promiſe, did not pay, &c. To this declaration the defendant demurred.

It was inſiſted on, that this fifth promiſe was of ſuch a nature, as could not be joined with the other promiſes made to the teſtator. For though the note is made to him as executor, that is only a deſcription of his perſon. The note is payable to the plaintiff or order; and by virtue of the ſtatute, concerning promiſory notes, it is transferable by indorſement; and the indorſee might maintain an action.

This is as much a new contract, as if a bond had been given to the plaintiff for his money.

The defendant cannot plead to this note fully adminiſtered; but muſt plead non aſſumpſit.

The plaintiff might have brought an action on this note, without naming himſelf executor.

This note will go to the adminiſtrator of the executor, and not to the adminiſtrator de bonis non, &c.

The court were clearly of this opinion, and judgment was given for the defendant, niſi, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 315.

Hilary, 2 Geo. Baldwin v. Church.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the head Debt.

Trinity, 2 Geo. Carrington v. Warren.

The court was moved, that the executor, being likewiſe heir at law, might have leave to plead double, viz. payment at the day, and nothing by deſcent, to an action of debt on a bond.

The court refuſed to grant the motion, without an affidavit that he had nothing by deſcent. The ſame law in the caſe of an adminiſtrator, who ſhall not be allowed to plead fully adminiſtred, and no aſſets, without an affidavit; for this is a matter incumbent on the plaintiff to prove, and yet lies more in the knowledge of the defendant than of the plaintiff. It is the duty of the court not to aſſiſt the defendant by giving leave to plead double, but on probable ground, that the demand of the plaintiff as to the defendant, cannot be maintained. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 335.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. Baldwin v. Church. Error.

A writ of error was brought to reverſe a judgment of the C. B. in favour of the defendant. The original action was an action of debt for 20 l. againſt two executors. The one pleaded fully adminiſtred as to all the aſſets in his hands, except 40 s. the other pleaded that he had fully adminiſtred generally.

Per curiam. The judgment muſt be reverſed; and the ſame judgment given here, as ſhould have been given in the C. B. the plaintiff muſt take care to take his judgment rightly.

The plea is undoubtedly ill; for it ſets forth ſuch matter, as ſhews plainly, that the plaintiff had good cauſe of action: and yet concludes, quare actio non, which imports that the plaintiff ſhould not have brought this action.

If a man brings an action of debt for 20 l. and the defendant ſhould plead, that he has paid 40 s. and concludes quare actio non, this would be bad; and yet here the plaintiff might have brought his action for the 18 l. only: whereas in the caſe of an executor, the creditor muſt bring the action for the ſum, the debt that is really due, let the aſſets be ever ſo ſmall. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 323.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. Elwell v. Quaſh and others.

There were three executors, one of which gave a warrant of attorney to confeſs a judgment againſt himſelf and his co-executors, purſuant to which a judgment was entered againſt all the executors of the goods of the teſtator for the debt, and againſt the executor who gave the warrant, of his own proper goods for the coſts.

On motion to ſet this aſide, it was held to be ill, for executors may plead different pleas, and that which is moſt for the teſtator's advantage ſhall be received. 1 Roll. Abr. 929. A. 1. B. 5.

So in the caſe of Baldwin v. Church, Eaſter, 1 Geo. in C. B. one executor pleaded a good plea, and the other a bad one; and on demurrer judgment was given in C. B. for both defendants, but reverſed on a writ of error, and a new judgment given for the plaintiff againſt one executor only. This is really eſtopping the others from ſaying they are not executors, and being without their knowledge, it may be ſubjecting them to a devaſtavit for the paying of other debts. The judgment accordingly was ſet aſide. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 20.

Trinity, 4 Geo. Waring v. Duberry or Newman.

Goods being taken in execution, and the money levied thereon, the landlord's adminiſtrator moved the court to have a year's rent paid him out of the effects ſo levied.

Per curiam. He comes too late, the fiction of law by relation, will not diveſt an intereſt veſted in a ſtranger. See ſtats. 8 Ann. c. 17. 2 W. & M. c. 5. Vide Forteſcue, p. 360. Strange, vol. 1. p. 97.

Trinity, 4 Geo. The King v. Earle.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 309 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Michaelmas, 4 Geo. Young v. Holmes.

On not guilty pleaded in ejectment, the caſe was, that the leſſee for years, deviſed the term to the executor for life, paying 50 l. to J. S. remainder to the leſſors of the plaintiff. The executor died, and his executrix entered on the reſidue of the term, and poſſeſſed herſelf of the leaſe.

1ſt, It being proved, that the defendant had the leaſe in her cuſtody, and refuſing to produce it; an attorney who had read it, was allowed to give evidence of the contents. And the Chief Juſtice ſaid, he would intend it made againſt the defendant, it being in her power if it was otherwiſe to ſhew the contrary.

2dly, For the defendant it was inſiſted, and agreed to by the Chief Juſtice, that James Holmes took the term as executor, and not as legatee; and then the remainder over was not executed, and that it was incumbent on the remainder-men to prove a ſpecial aſſent thereto as a legacy. On this they called a witneſs, to prove payment of the 50 l. charged on the term in the hands of the legatee; and this was held a ſufficient aſſent, and the plaintiff had a verdict. Plowd. 544. a. 8 Co. 95. a. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 70.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Palgrave v. Windham. Error.

In an action on the caſe brought by the plaintiff as adminiſtrator of J. S. againſt the defendant as bailiff of the liberty of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, for executing a fieri facias, and removing the goods off the premiſes, before the landlord was paid his year's rent, purſuant to ſtat. 8 Ann. c. 17. the general iſſue was pleaded, and a verdict and judgment given for the plaintiff in C. B. on which a writ of error was brought, and the general errors aſſigned.

The plaintiff in error's council made the three following points, 1ſt, Whether on this ſtatute any action lies againſt the officer? 2dly, Admitting it does, whether in this caſe the plaintiff has diſcloſed ſufficient matter to maintain an action? And 3dly, whether it will lie for an adminiſtrator.

Powys, Juſtice, held, that the action lay againſt the officer for the tort, and that though notice is requiſite, yet the want of alledging it is helped by the verdict. And that the removal of the goods was a wrong done to the eſtate of the inteſtate, for which his adminiſtrator might maintain an action.

Eyre, Juſtice. As the officer had notice, that is enongh to ſubject him, though it does not amount to a demand of the money of the plaintiff in the execution; which though the ſtatute is ſilent, yet on the reaſon of the thing, I take to be neceſſary. Executors and adminiſtrators may ſue for an eſcape, and here the inteſtate had an intereſt, for which his adminiſtrator may bring an action. To which Forteſcue, Juſtice, agreed, and the judgment of the C. B. was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 212.

Hilary, 7 Geo. Shepherd v. Shorthoſe.

In an action on the caſe brought by the executors of the aſſignee of a commiſſion of bankruptcy for goods ſold and delivered by the bankrupt: the defendant prayed oyer of the letters teſtamentary, which were ſet out, and then demurred. And the defendant's council objected, that the declaration was of Trinity term, when the executor ſays, that he brings into court the letters teſtamentary, by which, ſays he, it ſufficiently appears to the court, that I am executor of the will, and therefore ought to have execution, &c. Whereas on oyer it appears, that the inſtrument produced under the ſeal of the Ordinary, does not bear date till November following, ſo the objection is, that the executor declares before the probate, contrary to all the caſes, where it is held, that though he may commence an action, yet he can not declare on it before probate.

Per curiam. The inſtrument here produced is not the probate, but an exemplification of it; and that ſhewing there was a probate before the action is ſufficient: this is their conſtant way, when the probate is loſt; for they never grant a ſecond probate, only exemplify the firſt, and thoſe exemplifications have been allowed to be given in evidence. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 412.

Trinity, 7 Geo. Bellew v. Scott.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 416 of this work, under the head Error.

Trinity, 9 Geo. Anonymous.

The court was moved for a mandamus to the official of the Biſhop of Glouceſter, to commit adminiſtration to the widow of the inteſtate.

Per curiam. That will be to deprive the next Ordinary of his election, in granting to her, or to the next of kin; therefore take your mandamus generally, to grant adminiſtration of the goods of the inteſtate. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 552.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. Coatſworth and Wife, Adminiſtrator of W. S. v. Shaftoe.

On an action of trover, the plaintiff declared, that their teſtator, W. S. on the 8th of December 1718, was poſſeſſed of ten horſes, and being ſo poſſeſſed thereof, the ſame day and year died inteſtate, after whoſe death, to wit, on the 23d of April, 1720, adminiſtration was committed to the plaintiffs; and that afterwards, to wit, on the 28th day of April, the ſaid horſes were loſt; and the ſame day and year were found by the defendant, who converted them, &c. on not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the defendant.

On a motion that the defendant might recover his full coſts, the court ſaid; all the caſes were conſidered, and the point ſettled in the caſe of Pauler v. Delander. The true diſtinction is, wherever an executor brings an action, and on his declaration ſhews matter ſufficient to enable him to ſue in his own name, without ſtiling himſelf executor, if a verdict paſs againſt him, he ſhall pay coſts; but otherwiſe where he is obliged to ſue as executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 109.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Seviniack v. Marſhall.

This was an action brought againſt an adminiſtratrix, who pleaded, that ſhe had not aſſets at the day of exhibiting the original bill, when the action was brought by bill, and not by original; and for this cauſe the plaintiff demurred, and had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 288.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Burland v. Tyler.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the Debt.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Anonymous.

An executor moved the court to enlarge the time for pleading, the rules being out; which was oppoſed, unleſs he would enter into a rule not to plead any judgments obtained againſt him after the rules were out; for otherwiſe he might confeſs judgments in the mean time, and plead them in bar to the plaintiff's demand.

The court ſaid they would not deprive the plaintiff of any advantage he had by law to recover his debt, unleſs the defendant would enter into ſuch a rule; which he refuſing, the court would not enlarge the time. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 308.

Hilary, 12 Geo. Portman v. Cane.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 309 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Trinity, 12 Geo. The King v. Betteſworth.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 217 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. Gradell v. Tyſon. Error.

In an action of debt brought on a bond by the executor of the ſurviving executor of the obligee, the plaintiff had a verdict; and on a writ of error brought, it was objected, that it was not ſhewn, that the firſt executor proved the will; and if not this executor could not maintain an action, but it muſt be brought by the adminiſtrator with the will annexed. But being after a verdict, the court held that it was well enough, and affirmed the judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 716. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1441.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. Holiday v. Fletcher.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 156 of this work, under the head Averment.

Hilary, 2 Geo. 2. Chace v. Chace.

The executor of a landlord, after the death of his teſtator, had rent due, and the goods of the tenant were taken in execution, and the executor gave notice before the removal of the goods.

Per curiam. An executor ſhall have the benefit of the ſtatute as well as the landlord himſelf; for it is an intereſt veſted, as in the caſe of Wyndham and Dalgrave, Vide Forteſcue, p. 359.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Betteſworth.

On a mandamus to grant adminiſtration to John Cullom, of Joan his wife, the return was, that by articles before marriage it was agreed, that the wife ſhould have power to make a will, and diſpoſe of her leaſehold eſtate; that purſuant to this power ſhe made a will, and named her mother executrix, who has duly proved the ſame.

To this return it was objected, that ſhe might have choſes en action not covered by the deed, and the huſband was at all events intitled to an adminiſtration as to them.

Per curiam. A general conſent to make a will does not ſeem ſufficient, but there ſhould be a conſent to that particular will; beſides, this is going beyond her power, which did not extend to the making an executor: this is rather an appointment (which in equity will controul the adminiſtrator as to the leaſehold eſtate) than a will; and as there may be other effects not covered by the deed, the return is ill, and therefore there muſt be a peremptory mandamus. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 891.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. Smith's Caſe.

The court was moved for a mandamus to Dr. Betteſworth, commanding him to grant adminiſtration to Smith of the goods of his deceaſed ſon, during the minority of his grandſon.

Per curiam. When we grant a mandamus, it is to oblige the judge to do right to the party who ſues the writ; but as there is no law which ſays to whom theſe adminiſtrations during minority ſhall be granted, there is no law to be put in execution; in the caſe of the next of kin he is intitled of right, and therefore in that caſe we grant a mandamus of courſe. But we will grant no mandamus in this caſe. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 892.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. Woollaſton v. Walker. Error.

The plaintiff in the original action declared on a promiſory note, as adminiſtrator pending the ſuit. On a writ of error brought, it was inſiſted on, that there being a will, the Ordinary has no power to grant adminiſtration. Mod. Rep. 636. pl. 874. rules this caſe in point. The council on the other ſide argued, that it is as juſt the Ordinary ſhould grant adminiſtration pending the ſuit, as during minority or abſence; for otherwiſe the inconvenience would be great; for in that interval, any one may take and embezzle the teſtator's goods, and yet be anſwerable to nobody. It was anſwered, that the reaſon why the Ordinary may grant adminiſtration during minority is, that for that time there is a dying inteſtate, becauſe the executor is not able to perform the will of the dead; and the reaſon of during abſence is, that there the executor commits a default, which the Ordinary muſt ſupply.

After ſeveral arguments, Mr. Juſtice Page and Mr. Juſtice Probyn held this a good adminiſtration, and that the judgment of C. B. in favour of the defendant in error ought to be affirmed.

But Lee, Juſtice, doubting, the caſe was adjourned. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 202. Stra. vol. 2. p. 917.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 2. Baynham v. Matthews.

In this caſe the plaintiff prayed leave to diſcontinue, and being an adminiſtrator, it was granted without coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 871.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Harriſon v. Weldon.

W. Weldon died inteſtate, leaving Ann his wife, and Amphillis his ſiſter; the ſiſter on the common oath, that ſhe believed he died inteſtate without wife or children, obtained adminiſtration. And in a ſuit to repeal it, as obtained by ſurpriſe, it appeared to be the courſe of the court never to grant it to the next of kin, until the wife is cited.

The ſiſter moved for a prohibition, and inſiſted that the Ordinary had executed his authority, and cited 1 Sid. 179, 370. 1 Lev. 186.

But the court held, that the Ordinary could not be ſaid to have executed his authority, having never had the opportunity to make the election which ſtat. 21 H. 8. c. 5. gives him: that it was incident to every court to rectify miſtakes they were led into by the miſrepreſentation of the parties: that if there was no ſurpriſe, (of which the court below were judges) there ought to be a prohibition, becauſe then the adminiſtration will have been duly and regularly granted: but here was a plain ſurpriſe, and therefore a prohibition was denied. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 911.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. Harriſon and Wife v. Mitchell.

A. dies inteſtate, and his ſiſter having obtained adminiſtration, a citation iſſued at the ſuit of the inteſtate's widow againſt the adminiſtratrix, to ſhew cauſe why the adminiſtration ſhould not be repealed; to which ſuit a prohibition was now moved for; the plaintiff's council admitted, that the Ordinary has an election to grant the adminiſtration either to the wife or to the next of kin; but that election being once determined, the Ordinary has choſen his power, and cannot repeal the adminiſtration ſo granted. Sir G. Sands's caſe, 1 Sid. 179.

The council for the defendant brought affidavits to prove that the courſe of the ſpiritual court is, to ſuſpend the granting of adminiſtration for fourteen days after the inteſtate's death, and that during that time the plaintiff had amuſed the widow, by aſſuring her that nothing ſhould be done in prejudice of her right, which prevented any oppoſition to the adminiſtration granted to the ſiſter: for the ſiſter, before the letters of adminiſtration granted to her, had made oath in the ſpiritual court, not only that ſhe was the next of kin, but alſo that the inteſtate was never married; and therefore they argued that the adminiſtration was obtained by ſurpriſe and fraud, and that the Ordinary not having had an opportunity to exerciſe the election which he has within ſtat. 21 H. 8. it is but reaſonable he ſhould now be ſuffered to proceed in the repeal of the adminiſtration; that ſo the matter being left at large, he may judge who is the fitteſt perſon for the adminiſtration.

Page, Juſtice, and Probyn Juſtice, ſaid, that the adminiſtration having been obtained by ſurpriſe, and by a falſe ſuggeſtion to the court, the ſuit for a repeal was reaſonable; that this differs from Sir G. Sand's caſe, becauſe it does not appear what the circumſtances of that caſe were.

Lee, Juſtice, ſaid, that it was the common courſe of the ſpiritual court to require an affidavit that the party is the perſon intitled before they grant the adminiſtration to him, and therefore the ſame ſurpriſe muſt be ſuppoſed to have been in Sands's caſe as here, tho' as to that the book is ſilent: and the reaſon there given is, that the power being once executed, the Ordinary cannot go back: if ſuch ſuits are allowed, it cannot be ſaid in what time after the adminiſtration granted, they may proceed to repeal it. Adjourned.

This caſe being moved at another day, the court unanimouſly denied the prohibition. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 303.

Michaelmas, 7 Geo. 2. The King v. Betteſworth.

J. Kynaſton, Eſq; made his will, and appointed two perſons executors, and left the reſidue of his perſonal eſtate to his youngeſt ſon Edward. The executors renounced, and the reſiduary legatee moved for a mandamus to be admitted to prove the will, and have adminiſtration with the will annexed. And a rule was made to ſhew cauſe. On ſhewing cauſe it was inſiſted on, that this caſe differed from Lord Londonderry's, Hilary 3 Geo. 2. where the commiſſion of appraiſement was ſet up againſt the immediate grant of a probate, which ſtat. 21 H. 8. c. 5. requires ſhall be without any fruſtratory delay. And the Ordinary has no election there; whereas in the preſent caſe he is not bound to grant adminiſtration to the reſiduary legatee, none of the ſtatutes mentioning him; on the contrary, ſtat. 21 H. 8. c. 5. which takes notice of the renunciation of executors, leaves the matter to the election of the Ordinary.

And of this opinion were the court, who ſaid, if the commiſſion of appraiſement was a grievance, it would be proper matter of appeal; but they could not break into the practice of the court below. And Lord Hardwicke mentioned the caſe of Wheeler v. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in Chancery before Lord Macclesfield, where it was held, that theſe ſort of adminiſtrations are not within the ſtatute of diſtributions, which brings it to Smith's caſe, Hilary 4 Geo. 2. Therefore the rule for a mandamus was diſcharged. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 956.

Hilary, 9 Geo. 2. The Bank of England v. Morrice.

See this caſe fully ſtated in pages 72 and 126 of this work, under the heads Amendment and Aſſets.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. 2. Saltern v. Wynne Executor. Error.

In an action of debt on a bond in C. B. judgment was given for the plaintiff; and on a writ of error brought in this court that judgment was affirmed; and an action being brought on that judgment in this court; on motion it being referred to the maſter to tax the principal, intereſt and coſts; a doubt aroſe before the maſter, whether this being the caſe of an executor, he ſhould allow the coſts of the affirmance of the judgment on the writ of error; and thereon application was made to the court for their direction.

The court were clearly of opinion not to allow coſts, becauſe the executor is not liable by law to pay coſts on a judgment affirmed in error, and that the coſts to be paid in theſe caſes are only what the defendant is by law liable to pay; and the maſter was directed not to tax any coſts on the judgment affirmed.

It was ſtrongly urged for the plaintiff in the above caſe, that the penalty being forfeited in law, the defendant ought not to be ſaved from it, but on equitable terms, &c. but the court thought otherwiſe. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 367.

Hilary, 12 Geo. 2. Vaughan v. Brown.

The defendant was ſued as executor; and pleaded a judgment given to himſelf in the life of the deceaſed, and a retainer: the plaintiff replied, that he was executor only de ſon tort: and the defendant, by way of plea puis darrein continuance rejoins, that he has ſince obtained letters of adminiſtration. On a demurrer it was objected, that this is to abate the plaintiff's writ, which was well brought, by the ſubſequent matter not depending on any act of the plaintiff's; and that a rejoinder a departure from the plea.

But the court held that it was well enough; for the firſt plea does not ſay there was a will, and the defendant could not at that time do otherwiſe than admit an acting as executor: and they ſaid, it would be very hard to lay it down, that if a man who ſues for adminiſtration is oppoſed, and the cauſe runs out into any length, that the acting during the ſuit ſhould be conſtrued ſuch a wrongful executorſhip, as never can be purged, ſo as to give him the benefit of retaining: beſides, theſe pleas of puis darrein continuance begin with a relinquiſhing of the verification of the former, which ſhews it may be departed from: therefore the defendant had judgment. Vide Stra. vol. 2. page 1106.

Hilary, 12 Geo. 2. Marſh v. Yellowly.

In an action brought by the plaintiff as executor of an attorney, one count was, that the teſtator in his lifetime was employed by the defendant, and did buſineſs for him, but dying in the midſt of it, the plaintiff cauſed the ſame to be finiſhed, and the defendant in conſideration thereof undertook to pay, &c. The plaintiff was nonſuited at the trial. And now the defendant moved for coſts, on the authority of the caſes where it has been held, that if the plaintiff might have declared on a promiſe made, or wrong done to himſelf, he ſhall pay coſts, it being a cauſe of action ariſing in his own time.

Per curiam. We are all of opinion, that the plaintiff ought to pay coſts. The reaſon why executors have been excuſed, ariſes from the words of ſtat. 23 H. 8. c. 15. which ſpeaks of contracts with, or wrongs done to the plaintiff, here is a demand for which the executor might undoubtedly maintain an action in his own right: and it falls within the reaſon of paying coſts where an executor declares on a converſion in his own time. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1106.

Trinity, 13 Geo. 2. Folkes v. Docminique.

The plaintiff declared on a bond in the detinet againſt the defendant as adminiſtrator during minority, with the will annexed: and on oyer, the condition appeared to be, for exhibiting an inventory, and duly adminiſtering by paying debts and legacies, the performance of all which the defendant avers, the plaintiff replies, that he had not paid a legacy of 1500 l. though he had more than ſufficient to pay all the debts, to wit, 500 l. and on demurrer it was objected, that this was a void bond, not warranted by ſtat. 21 H. 8. c. 5. or at common law, by requiring an adminiſtrator to pay legacies or diſtribute according to the eccleſiaſtical deciſion; and ſhould be taken to be obtained by compulſion.

Per curiam. Theſe adminiſtrations are not within ſtat. 21 H. 8. and therefore we deny a mandamus. We muſt therefore conſider it as a bond at common law; and then it is ſufficient, if it be good in that part on which the breach is aſſigned; as we think this is, and we cannot take it to be a bond by compulſion. Therefore the plaintiff muſt have judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1137.

Michaelmas, 13 Geo. 2. The King v. Betteſworth.

On a mandamus to grant adminiſtration to the huſband it was returned, that the wife's mother having by her will given her ſeveral effects for the ſeparate uſe of the wife, excluſive of the huſband, and to be by her diſpoſed of as ſhe ſhould think fit, ſhe had accordingly made a will, whereby ſhe deviſed her ſeparate eſtate to truſtees, with whom the huſband was now litigating the validity thereof in the eccleſiaſtical court, pending which ſuit the Dean of the Arches could not grant adminiſtration.

Per curiam. This is an inſufficient return, for here is no act of the huſband's to expreſs his aſſent to her making a will; and ſhe may have choſes in action, or other rights, beſides what are included in her mother's will: in theſe caſes there muſt be ſome act done by the huſband, to exclude himſelf, which not being pretended in this caſe, there muſt be a peremptory mandamus. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1118.

Michaelmas, 14 Geo. 2. Elletſon v. Cummins.

In an action of debt on an arbitration bond, wherein the plaintiff and defendant ſubmitted all matters between them or either of them, the arbitrators awarded 30 l. to the plaintiff in full of all demands, either in her own right, or as executrix to her huſband. And on demurrer, it was inſiſted, that the arbitrators had exceeded their authority. And Carth. 118 was cited, and a caſe put of a grant of all goods and chattles, which does not paſs goods the property of another.

But the court held, that the ſubmiſſion was general enough. For the demand as executrix was a matter depending between them. And 1 Roll. Abr. 246, pl. 2. 3. 3 Bulſt. 65. are ſtrong to this purpoſe. And though in Cro. Car. 433. there is an averment, that both ſorts of demands were ſubmitted, yet the court held it was not neceſſary. Therefore the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1144.

Trinity, 21 Geo. 2. Hookin v. Quilter. Error.

There were three counts in the declaration as executrix, and the fourth was for the uſe and occupation of the plaintiff's houſe, judgment was obtained by default in the C. B. and on a writ of error brought, the court delivered their opinion as follows.

Per curiam. There being no verdict, we can preſume nothing, but the fourth count is, as it appears, in her own right, which cannot be joined with the others; and the damages are intire; therefore the judgment muſt be reverſed. Vide Strange, vol. 2. page 1271.

Hilary, 3 Geo. 3. Howard, Widow, and another, Executors v. Jemmet, Executor.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 203 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Eaſter, 3 Geo. 3. Plumer, Spinſter v. William Marchant, Adminiſtrator of Peter Marchant.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 468 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 3. Harris, Executor v. Jones.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 314 of this work, under the head Coſts.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 3. The King v. Sir Edward Simpſon.

On ſhewing cauſe againſt a rule made on the judge of the prerogative court of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for him to ſhew cauſe why a writ of mandamus ſhould not iſſue, requiring him "to admit of the re-"traction of E. B. one of the executors named in the "will of S. E. A. Latour, widow, of his renunciation "of the ſaid will, and to grant a probate thereof, with "the codicils annexed, to the ſaid E. B. and A. Layton, "being the ſurviving executors named in the ſaid will."

After hearing the arguments of the council on both ſides on this rule, the matter was adjourned, and afterwards by the concurrence of all the parties, a conſent rule was made.

Lord Mansfield. As neither of theſe two perſons have any intereſt of their own in the effects, and each charges the other with inſolvency, and here is no council at all on behalf of the ceſtui qui truſt; it would be much the beſt method, and moſt agreeable to reaſon and prudence, that adminiſtration ſhould be by conſent of all parties, granted to ſome third ſolvent perſon; therefore let the ceſtuy qui truſt have notice of this propoſal, that they may give their anſwer thereto.

On this matter coming on again, a rule was made by conſent of all parties, "that the probate ſhould be "granted to both; but that Mrs. L. ſhould not receive "any more money, or further intermeddle, but that ſhe "was to be paid her own legacies and coſts, and to be "indemnified." Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1463.

Exceptions, ſee Pleas and Pleadings.

Factors ſee Merchants.

Fairs, Markets, and Tolls.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Warrington v. Moſely. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment in the County Palatine of Cheſter, they preſcribed for toll of goods bought within a manor, and the queſtion on the pleadings was, whether ſuch a toll independant of all markets and fairs can be good?

It was argued, that the preſcription was unreaſonable.

1ſt, For the manner, viz. the Lord only claims the toll in his manor, and it is not for goods bought or ſold in a market, &c.

2dly, For the matter, viz. he preſcribes to a toll of 2 d. for every pack bought in Mancheſter, called Mancheſter wares, except of the burgeſſes there.

Per curiam. We are not ſatisfied with this preſcription, becauſe there was no recompence for it, and every preſcription to charge a ſubject with a duty, muſt impart a benefit or recompence to him, or elſe ſome reaſon muſt be ſhewn why a duty is claimed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 319.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Burch v. Scory.

On an action of trover brought for goods; to which it was pleaded by the defendant, that he had bought them in the market overt.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. You muſt prove the ſale in a market overt, and at a convenient time. If goods be bought on liking, the vendee muſt return them, otherwiſe his detaining, or not ſending them back, is ſufficient evidence of a liking; ſo if he declares his diſlike, but afterwards diſpoſes of them; ſo if goods be ſold on liking, and before the day on which the party by the agreement is to return them, he ſells or diſpoſes of all or part of them, it is a liking; and the time of liking or diſliking of goods, is eight days by ſtat.. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 309.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

On an action of trover brought for a ſilver cup againſt a goldſmith in the Strand, it appeared his apprentice had bought it in the ſhop.

Per curiam. A ſale of goods in a ſhop in the Strand, or elſewhere out of London, does not alter the property.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Even in London, if the felon be convicted on the owner's evidence, it is ſufficient; and here, becauſe he could not prove a demand of the maſter, but only of the apprentice, he was nonſuited. The reaſon why it alters the property in London is, becauſe the ſale in a ſhop there is deemed to be in a market overt. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 521.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A toll is not of common right incident to a market. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 12.

Trinity, 8 Ann. Burdett's Caſe.

In an action of treſpaſs, the defendant juſtified as clerk of the market within the diſtrict of Whitechapel, for a diſtreſs of 3 s. 4 d. for not uſing meaſures marked according to the ſtandard of the Exchequer. On demurrer, it was urged for the defendant, that this was an authority given by ſtat. 14 E. 3. c. 12. ſect. 2.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that the clerk of the market could not have power to eſtreat fines and amerciaments, otherwiſe than as a franchiſe; and it is more reaſonable the clerk ſhould bring the ſtandard with him, than that the people ſhould follow him, or attend at a place out of the market. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 227.

Eaſter, 16 Geo. 2. Hartop v. Hoare and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 191 of this work, under the head Bailment.

Michaelmas, 16 Geo. 2. Holloway v. Smith.

In an action of treſpaſs, the defendant juſtified for a toll, and ſet forth a cuſtom in Daventry to hold a fair on St. Auſtin's day, and to take toll; and that Queen Elizabeth reciting all this, had granted them two new fairs, one on the Tueſday after Eaſter, and the other on St. Matthew's day, with all profits, commodities, emoluments, liberties, and free cuſtoms to ſuch fairs belonging. On demurrer the juſtification was held ill, for toll is not incident to a market or fair of common right, and therefore not within the words of reference; and theſe being new fairs, on which no toll is granted by expreſs words, the cuſtom cannot extend to them. So the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1171.

Michaelmas, 19 Geo. 2. The Mayor, &c. of Northampton, v. Thomas Ward.

The plaintiffs declared for a treſpaſs committed by the defendant in breaking and entering their cloſe called the Butcher Row, and erecting a ſtall there. The defendant pleaded ſeveral pleas, which went to iſſue, and were found againſt him. But his third plea was, that there is a public market held every Saturday in the ſaid place, for ſelling of butcher's meat; wherefore he entered the market with his meat, in order to ſell it, and for that purpoſe erected a ſtall in the open market, for the neceſſary expoſing his meat to ſale, and laid his meat on the ſtall, as he had a right to do, &c. The plaintiffs replied, that they were ſeized in fee of the cloſe and market, and that the defendant, without their licence, and of his own wrong, entered and ſet up the ſtall. To this there was a frivolous rejoinder, and a demurrer.

It was three times argued at the bar, and inſiſted on for the defendant, that he had not only a right to come into the market, but alſo to erect a ſtall there; and that if he had not, yet treſpaſs was not the proper remedy.

Per curiam. As to the firſt point, we are all of opinion, that though every perſon has of common right a liberty of coming into a public market for the purpoſe of buying and ſelling; yet he has not of common right a liberty of placing a ſtall there; but he muſt acquire that by a compenſation, which is called ſtallage; and in Blunt's Law Dictionary, Minſhew's, Boyer, and Spelman's Gloſſary, the word eſtallage is defined to be a ſatiſfaction to the owner of the ſoil, for the liberty of placing a ſtall on it; and if in the erecting one the ſoil is broke, it is called piccage. And this right of ſtallage is ſo fixed to the owner of the ſoil, that in Mo. 474. it is held to deſcend to the borough-Engliſh heir, though the right to hold the market goes to the eldeſt ſon. It is not properly a toll, which can only be due by grant or preſcription, whereas ſtallage is demandable in the caſe of a new erected market; and the ſoil is no farther conſidered as dedicated to the public, than the common right of entry goes. 2 Inſt. 220. 1 Raym. 149.

As to the ſecond point, we are of opinion that an action of treſpaſs is the proper remedy for the owner of the ſoil againſt one who wrongfully places a ſtall there: and he could have no other remedy; he could not diſtrain damage feaſant, or if he could, it would not follow that treſpaſs does not lie. He cannot bring debt or aſſumpſit, for there is no certain duty, or implied contract:

They held therefore that the plaintiffs had a right to a ſatisfaction as owners of the ſoil, and that they had purſued the proper remedy: wherefore judgment was given for the plaintiffs. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1239.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 3. The Mayor of Yarmouth v. Eaton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 358 of this work, under the head Declaration.

Fees.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Stockwell or Stockhold, v. Colliſon or Collington.

In an action brought by the plaintiff againſt the defendant for his trouble, in ſerving the defendant as a commiſſioner to examine witneſſes in a ſuit between him and one B. for that the defendant promiſed to pay him for his pains; it was alledged, that a commiſſioner could not bring aſſumpſit on ſuch a promiſe, for he ought to be indifferent, and it is unlawful to be paid for ſuch ſervice.

Per curiam. A commiſſioner is named by the party, and it is intended he ſhould favour him, and therefore it is a challenge to the favour, that he is a commiſſioner at the nomination of the party, though no principal challenge. 1 Inſt. 157. b. and a commiſſioner takes pains to attend the examination of witneſſes, and therefore deſerves recompence as well as a commiſſioner of bankruptcy, and there is a difference between him and a ſheriff: ſo the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 9. Salk. vol. 1. p. 330.

Hilary, 5 W. & M. Johnſon v. Oxendon.

A prohibition was moved for to the Arches to ſtay a ſuit there commenced for fees, againſt which it was urged, that they are the proper and beſt judges of their own fees, which generally ariſe by conſtitutions provincial; and for this reaſon a prohibition was denied in C. B. to a proctor, who libelled in the ſpiritual court for his fees; and for the like cauſe it was denied in this court, Hilary 16 Jac. and the reaſon then given was, that it is juſt a proctor ſhould be recompenced for his trouble and charge, though a ſuit was commenced in a court chriſtian for a cauſe of which that court had not an original juriſdiction.

It is true, in Hilary 35 & 36 Car. 2. the Court of Exchequer made a queſtion of this matter, but afterwards they refuſed to grant a prohibition in the caſe of Skelton v. Lee; and ſince that time the court of C. B. Hilary 2 W. & M. would not prohibit them in the caſe of Froggat, the official of Wells v. Joſſelin.

Per curiam. It is cuſtom, and not the authority of the conſtitutions, which intitles proctors, &c. to take fees, for which an action will lie at common law, and therefore the ſpiritual court ought to be prohibited; the rule was, that they ſhould declare on the prohibition. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 254.

Hilary, 5 W. & M. Goſlin v. Elliſon.

A prohibition was moved for and granted to ſtay a ſuit in the Archdeacon of Litchfield's court againſt church-wardens, for a fee for ſwearing them, and taking their preſentments; the court was moved afterwards to diſcharge the rule, but the motion was over-ruled: it being inſiſted, that no fees could be due but by cuſtom for work done; in which caſe an action might be brought on a quantum meruit. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 330.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Heſcot's Caſe.

An Under-ſheriff refuſed to execute a capias ad ſatiſfaciendum till he had his fees. And on motion againſt him, the court ſaid, that the plaintiff might bring an action againſt him for not doing his duty, or might pay him his fees, and then indict him for extortion. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 330.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. Anonymous.

The court was moved, that an Under-ſheriff might attend for refuſing to execute a fi. fac. till his poundage was paid: the court would not grant the rule, but ſaid it was extortion, for which he might be indicted. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 331.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. Brockwell v. Lock,

In an action of debt by the bailiff of the palace court of the Biſhop of Rocheſter for fees, on the execution of a judgment in that court, being 12 d. per pound for any ſum under 100 l. and 6 d. per pound over and above that ſum; and this is by virtue of ſtat. 29 Eliz. in which there is a proviſo, that it ſhall not extend to fees taken or had within a city or town-corporate.

The plaintiff had a verdict; and on a motion in arreſt of judgment, becauſe of that clauſe in the ſtatute, it was alledged that this caſe was not within that proviſo, it being neither a city nor town-corporate, where the execution was made.

Now the reaſon why execution fees are not to be taken in ſuch places is, the juriſdiction is narrow, the ſheriff is at leſs trouble, and not ſo much in danger of an eſcape; but here the juriſdiction of the Biſhop is as large as his dioceſe, and ſo not within the like reaſon.

Bailiffs of franchiſes and liberties are named in the ſtatute, and the plaintiff being ſuch, and the place not within the proviſo, he is intitled to this action; and it has been ruled, that where a bailiff of a franchiſe made execution on a fi. fac. he ſhould have his fees by virtue of this ſtatute.

Per curiam. An officer of a liberty ſhall have his fees for executing the proceſs of this court; but it was never intended by the ſtatute that he ſhould have any for executing judgments obtained in inferior courts; therefore this judgment was ſtayed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 97. Salk. vol. 1. p. 331.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. Johnſon v. Lee.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 382 of this work, under the head Eccleſiaſtical Matters, &c.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Burdeaux v. Dr. Lancaſter, Vicar of St. Martin's, and R. Greſdale, Pariſh Clerk there.

Dr. Lancaſter and Greſdale ſued Burdeaux in the Conſiſtory Court of the Biſhop of London, alledging therein, that Dr. Lancaſter was Vicar, and R. Greſdale was Clerk of St. Martin's, and that by reaſon of the premiſes, and alſo of an immemorial cuſtom, the vicar was intitled to 2 s. 6 d. for every child born and baptized within the pariſh; and 12 d. for the churching every woman; and the clerk was intitled to 12 d. for the regiſtering every child; and that Burdeaux was an inhabitant within the pariſh, and had a daughter born therein, and had not paid the ſaid fees. Burdeaux denied the cuſtom in the ſpiritual court, and moved here for a prohibition; ſuggeſting that a clerk is a lay officer, and his fees lay, for which he can only ſue in the temporal courts: that of common right no fees are due for ſacraments; that there was no ſuch cuſtom as was alledged; that all cuſtoms are triable by the common law; and that this child was not baptized, nor his wife churched by the vicar; nor his child regiſtered by the clerk.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Nothing can be due for theſe matters by the common law; and as for the canon law, it is of no authority of itſelf in England, but only ſo much as has been through cuſtom received here. The convocation cannot by their canons take money out of people's pockets. Lingwood ſays, if a parſon takes any thing for chriſtening, it is ſimony; but indeed, ſays he, ſomething may be due by cuſtom, but then this cuſtom can never be good, to take money for chriſtening a child which never was chriſtened by them. This is like the caſe in Hob. 175. where a man died in one pariſh, and was buried in another, and a fee was demanded for his burial in the pariſh where he died. If you ſay you ought to chriſten their children, you ought to libel againſt them for not chriſtening their children according to the canon law, but you can never have money for chriſtening them when you do not: therefore let a prohibition go. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 171.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Earle v. Plummer.

If an erroneous writ be delivered to the ſheriff, and he executes it, he ſhall have his fees though the writ be erroneous. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 332.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. The Biſhop of St. David's. v. Lucy.

Holt, C. J. By the common law, and of common right, no parſon ought to take any thing for chriſtening of children, burials, etc. but by cuſtom they are allowed to take ſomething. Vide Raymond, vol. 1. p. 450.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Pollard or Ballard v. Gerard.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 265 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Gifford's Caſe.

He was libelled againſt in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for fees, and on motion a prohibition was granted, for no court has a power to eſtabliſh fees; the judge of a court may think them reaſonable, but that is not binding: but if on a quantum meruit brought, a jury think them reaſonable, then they become eſtabliſhed fees. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 333.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Tyſon v. Paſke.

The ſheriff having executed an elegit, brought an action of debt for his fees: And it was objected, that this was not within the ſtatute, that the execution is not complete, and the plaintiff cannot enter, but muſt bring his ejectment.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, There is the ſame reaſon for fees for executing an elegit as an extent. On an elegit the ſheriff returns, that he has taken an inquiſition, extended the lands, and delivered them to the plaintiff; and there is a liberate in the body of the writ of elegit, and the plaintiff on this return may enter, for by the return he becomes tenant by elegit, and may maintain an ejectment, and aſſign his intereſt on the land; but the defendant's continuing in poſſeſſion after the return of the writ, turns the plaintiff's eſtate to a right, and therefore he muſt enter to aſſign. The execution is complete and perfect, and his being put to an ejectment is no reaſon; for in caſe of an extent on a ſtatute where the liberate is diſtinct, he cannot enter by force; 'tis true he may without force; and ſo he may here.

Powell, Juſtice, ſaid, that extent generally is the word of the ſtatute of Eliz. and that an extent on an elegit was an extent within the ſtatute, as well as an extent on a ſtatute. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 334. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1212.

Hilary, 5 Ann. The Dean and Chapter of Exeter's Caſe.

Cauſe was ſhewn againſt a rule for a prohibition to the ſpiritual court, to ſtay a ſuit there for a cuſtomary fee of 10*l.* due to the Dean and Chapter of Exeter, for burying in the cathedral church: but not allowed; for no fee is due for burial of common right: but where a licence is neceſſary, the perſon giving it may ſtand on his own price; and if there be ſuch a cuſtom, it is triable at common law. 3 Keble 527, 523. If the cuſtom be not denied, the ſpiritual court ſhall proceed; for there is no other remedy: but if the cuſtom be denied, a prohibition ſhall go: burials at common law ought to be in the church-yard, and without fee. 2 Keb. 1778. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 334.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Hopman v. Barber.

On a motion againſt Bambridge, the warden of the Fleet, it was held, that if an hab. corp. is brought, he muſt obey it, tho' the party refuſes to pay his fees; for he has a remedy for them. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 814.

Michaelmas, 20 Geo. 2. White v. Haugh.

The ſheriff had the defendant in execution on a capias ad ſatisfaciendum; and the plaintiff delivered him an hab. corp. in order to remove him to the King's Bench priſon: the ſheriff on this inſiſted to be paid his poundage on the execution before he parted with the body of the defendant, and would have diſtinguiſhed this from the caſes in Salk. 330, 331, 332, inaſmuch as he had here actually executed the proceſs, and thoſe caſes go only againſt his inſiſting to be paid before hand. And that there is nothing in the ſtatutes 29 Eliz. cap. 4. or 3 Geo. cap. 15, § 17, againſt it, and offered on payment of his poundage, to bring up the body.

But the court ſaid, they could not think of making bargains with people to obey their proceſs, which they would enforce an obedience to, and leave the ſheriff to his action of debt for the fees, which was his legal remedy. It went off at laſt, on the ſheriff's ſubmitting to carry him to a judge's chambers. But Foſter, Juſtice, ſaid, if he was brought before him, he would not turn him over till the poundage was paid. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1262.

Fines and Amerciaments, &c.

The Caſe of the Lord of the Manor of Hampſtead.

A cart met a loaded waggon upon the road, and the cart endeavouring to paſs by the waggon was driven on a high bank, and overturned, and threw the perſon that was in the cart juſt before the wheels of the waggon, and the waggon ran over the man and killed him. In the home circuit this was referred to Pollexfen, Ch. Juſtice, and Gregory, Juſtice, and they gave their opinions, That the cart, waggon, loading, and all the horſes are deodands, becauſe they all contributed to his death: Pollexfen at firſt doubted concerning the forfeiture of the cart, but looking into his common-place-book he grounded his opinion on this caſe: one riding upon a horſe in a river, the horſe threw him, and the ſtream carried him to a mill, and the wheel of the mill killed him; and it was adjudged, that the horſe and the wheel were forfeited. If a man be thrown from his horſe by the violence of the water, then the horſe is not forfeited, 2 Cro. 483. Lord Chandos's caſe; where the inqueſt found him killed by the ſtream of the water. It is ſaid in the books, that if a tree ſhall fall on the branch of another tree, and both fall to the ground, and the branch kills a man, the tree and branch are both forfeited. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 220.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Parker v. Winch.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, an ancient demeſne manor is impleadable at common law, but the lands holden of the manor are only impleadable in the court of the manor; and laying it in the declaration to be part of the manor, ſhews it is not impleadable in the court of the manor; for land holden of the manor cannot be ſaid to be part of the manor.

Eyre, Juſtice, the rent may be parcel of the manor, and ſo may the ſervices, though the land is frank-fee; and whatever is holden of the manor is not part thereof. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 13.

Hilary, 7 W. 3. Lord Gerard v. Lady Gerard.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 379 of this work, under the head Dower.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Fletcher v. Ingram.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 276 of this work, under the head Conſideration.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Linſey v. Clerk.

In treſpaſs, aſſault, and battery, &c. there can be no capiatur pro fine entered ſince ſtat. 5 & 6 W. & M. but the plaintiff is to have 6s. 8d. in coſts to pay ſo much to the King for the fine. In this court judgment is entered up without any notice taken of the fine; for the law is altered and taken away in effect by this ſtatute. Therefore it is not like the caſe of a pardon; for that does not alter the law, but excuſes the party. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 54.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Courtney v. Collet.

Adjudged, after two arguments at bar, that treſpaſs and treſpaſs on the caſe, were two diſtinct actions of different natures; and although if vi et armis is put in treſpaſs on the caſe for malfeaſance, this will not vitiate it; yet the judgments in treſpaſs and caſe are different. For in treſpaſs always the judgment is, that he be taken; but in treſpaſs on the caſe, tho' vi et armis be inſerted, yet the judgment is, that he be in mercy; and actions can never be joined which have different judgments. Vide Raymond, vol. 1. p. 272.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Summers.

On an indictment for a treſpaſs and riot, the defendant pleaded not guilty, and the indictment was removed here by certiorari, &c. The defendant went before the maſter, and coſts were taxed; and the court was moved that he might go before the maſter again, and that the proſecutor might be conſidered for his charges below, the maſter's taxation being only for coſts ſince the certiorari was brought.

Per curiam. The maſter ought not to conſider the coſts below, but only ſince the certiorari, and on it: then the court was moved to increaſe the fine.

Per curiam. You ought not to increaſe the fine after every party has been before the maſter; if you do, we will ſet aſide the taxation of coſts. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 55. Raym. vol. 2. p. 854.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Templeman.

On a motion to ſubmit to a ſmall fine, after a confeſſion of the indictment, which was for an aſſault

Holt, Chief Juſtice, made this diſtinction, viz. where a man confeſſes an indictment, and where he is found guilty; in the firſt caſe a man may produce affidavits to prove ſon aſſault on the proſecutor in mitigation of the fine; otherwiſe, where the defendant is found guilty; for the entry on a confeſſion is only he will not contend with our Lady the Queen, but throws himſelf on the mercy of the court.

The defendants may ſubmit to a fine, though abſent, if they have a clerk in court that will undertake for the fine. Hilary 2 Ann, Hickeringil's caſe was, that he and his daughters were indicted for a treſpaſs; and Hickeringil only appeared on the motion to ſubmit to a ſmall fine. But where a man is to receive any corporal puniſhment, judgment cannot be given againſt him in his abſence, for there is a capias pro fine; but no proceſs to take a man and put him on the pillory. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 56.

Trinity, 3 Ann. The Queen v. Wheeler.

On an inquiſition before the coroner, on view of the body, that the wheel of a forge cauſed the death of the deceaſed. And now it was moved to ſtay proceſs for ſeiſing it as a deodand, becauſe parcel of a freehold, as the wheel of a mill or millſtone, which were agreed to be freehold, and therefore not capable of being a deodand.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A mill is a known thing in law, and ſo are the parts thereof; and therefore if the owner of a mill take out one of the millſtones to pick or gravel it, and deviſe the mill while the ſtone is ſevered from it, yet it ſhall paſs as part of the mill: and a bell cannot be a deodand.

Per curiam. Let the proceſs on the inquiſition ſtay. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 187.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

The court was moved to amerce an under-bailiff of Weſtminſter, for not making a return of a writ. But the court thought the motion improper; for that the ſheriff is the officer of this court. The court in this caſe made a rule for the bailiffs to return it, and on their diſobeying, that an attachment of contempt ſhould iſſue. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 19.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Cockcroft v. Smith.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, a juſtice who has a power to fine, has power to bail; for he is not obliged and bound to commit a perſon; but after he is once committed in execution it is too late to move for bail. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 52.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, affirmed, that he never underſtood the caſe in Hob. 126. in caſe of an amerciament at a Court-Baron the certain ſum need not be ſet by the court, but it is enough if it be aſcertained by the affeerors, though he obſerved many authorities were otherwiſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 71.

Eaſter, 5 Ann. Brook v. Huſtler. Error.

A writ of error being brought on a judgment in debt in C. B. for an amerciament in a court leet; the defendant made a default of ſuit after a general notice; and the amerciament was affeer'd.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The jury may amerce in a certain ſum if they will, and then there needs not an affeerment, though the proper way is therefore in mercy, and then an affeerment.

The council took an exception, that the court being uncertain when it will be held, (that is, where the lord may hold it when he pleaſes) a particular and convenient notice ought to be given when and where the court is to be held, 32 or 22 Ed. 4. 27. b. 28. a. 3 Cro. 353, 555, 556. A general notice in the church is not notice to incur a forfeiture unleſs there be a particular cuſtom for it.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. We cannot judge of the notice, becauſe you ought to have ſhewn particularly, that he was ſummoned to the court at ſuch a day and place, there to be held, &c.

Powell, Chief Juſtice. To take advantage of a forfeiture, notice ſhould be perſonal, unleſs a particular cuſtom to the contrary. In antient leets, perſonal notice perhaps, is not neceſſary; but notice in the church and market may be well. But otherwiſe, where it is not an antient leet. 1 Brown. 166. Winch. 987. Co. Ent. tit. Error, 280, 284. Adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 76.

Trinity, 3 Geo. Dryer v. Mills & al.

In an action of treſpaſs for taking away materials of an houſe; on not guilty pleaded, Parker, Chief Juſtice, would not admit the defendant to give evidence of taking the goods as a deodand, becauſe he might have juſtified, and the plaintiff would have had an opportunity to give an anſwer to it. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 61.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. The Ducheſs of Hamilton v. Incledon. Error.

On error brought on a judgment in the C. B. in an action on the caſe, on ſeveral promiſes, wherein the plaintiff had judgment, and error was aſſigned.

Per curiam. It was held that in miſericordia, &c. is a a good entry of the amerciament of a peer. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 225.

Michaelmas, 10 Geo. Davis v. Hoyle. Error.

On error brought from the C. B. on an action on the caſe on ſeveral promiſes, there was judgment on demur- rer as to one count, whereon the plaintiff entered a nolle proſequi as to the reſt, and the defendant was put without a day.

It was objected, that this is a confeſſion, that the plaintiff had no cauſe of action as to thoſe counts, and therefore he ſhould be amerced for a falſe plaint.

Eyre, Juſtice, thought it agreeable to all the entries; and the judgment was affirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 574.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Stephens v. Howard or Haughton.

In replevin, the defendant avowed for a diſtreſs by a precept from the court leet of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, and ſet forth the holding of the court; and that the plaintiff being a baker, and an inhabitant within the ſaid liberty of Weſtminſter, it was preſented at a court holden at ſuch a time, that the plaintiff ſold bread under the aſſize, for which he was amerced ſo much by the jury, and ſo ſet out ſeveral amerciaments at ſeveral times, which the plaintiff, although he was guilty, refuſing to pay, the defendant diſtrained, and avowed, &c. to which the plaintiff demurred.

The following exceptions were taken to the conuſance: 1ſt, It is not averred, that the plaintiff was an inhabitant within the liberty of Weſtminſter, at the time of the amerciament ſet. Cro. El. 698. 2dly, It is not averred that he committed the fact, but only that it was preſented by the jury, which is not enough in an avowry, where the defendant is an actor, making a title; and therefore an avowry differs from a bar to an action of treſpaſs, where the party is only to excuſe the ſuppoſed wrong. 1 Salk. 107, 108. 3. In the preſent caſe, the amerciament is by the jury, whereas it ſhould be by the court, but aſſeſſed by the jury. Hob. 129. and there ſhould be a ſpecial affeerment. 3 Lev. 206.

Raymond, Chief Juſtice. The want of an averment that the fact was committed is fatal, and the difference between treſpaſs and replevin is very well founded in reaſon, and ſupported by authority: and here the although, &c. is not an iſſuable averment; then the avowry is naught, not becauſe the amerciament is not laid to have been affeered, for that is not neceſſary; and Hob. 129. has been denied by Holt, Chief Juſtice, in the caſe of Matthews v. Cairy; but the fault is in this, that the amerciament is by the jury; whereas it ſhould be by the judgment of the court, that he be amerced, and the part of the jury is only miniſterial, for they are to carry the act of the court into a certainty. And the plaintiff had judgment. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 108. Strange, vol. 2. p. 847.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The Earl of Bath v. Abney, Spinſter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 439 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 3. Evelyn, Bart. Executor of Sir John Evelyn, Bart. v. Chicheſter, Eſq;

On a ſpecial caſe from the Surry aſſizes, on an action on an indebitatus aſſumpſit, in which the plaintiff declared as executor to his father for 150 l. aſſeſſed for a fine for the admiſſion of the defendant to a cuſtomary tenement, called Daniel's, within the manor of Abinger, of which Sir J. E. the father was Lord, which cuſtomary tenement conſiſted of a large capital manſion houſe, and a ſmall parcel of land, which land was let for 7 l. a year, ſubject to the land-tax, quit-rent, and other out-goings.

The jury being of opinion, that the fine was reaſonable, found a verdict for the plaintiff, ſubject to the opinion of the court on the following queſtion:

> "Whether this action will lie againſt the de> "fendant, he being a minor at the time of the
> "fine being aſſeſſed."

After hearing council on both ſides, the court gave judgment.

Lord Mansfield. There is no giving an opinion on this caſe ſeriouſly; here is a reaſonable fine aſſeſſed, the ſame, as the father paid, an enjoyment for 16 years, and a part of it ſince he came of age, and no renunciation of the eſtate, on the contrary a confirmation of the tranſaction.

Wilmot and Yates, Juſtices, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the poſtea be delivered to the plaintiff. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1717.

Fines and Recoveries.

Hilary, 2 W. & M. Symonds v. Cudmore:

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 12 of this work, under the head Acceptance.

Eaſter, 2 W. & M. Price v. Langford.

One H. was ſeized in fee as heir on the part of his mother; he and his wife levied a fine to A. and B. with warranty; A. and B. by the ſame fine did grant and render the lands to the huſband and wife in tail, remainder to the heirs of the huſband: the huſband and wife died without iſſue, and the queſtion was, whether the heir by the father's ſide, or by the mother's ſide ſhould take theſe lands? It was argued on the one ſide, that the ſeiſin of the conuſee is fictitious; for if the conuſee was tenant for years, the term would not be thereby extinguiſhed; and he is like to the ſurrenderee of a copyhold, nothing but a mere inſtrument: therefore nothing is altered by the fine, but the uſe and eſtate remains as before. On the other ſide it was ſaid, that the conuſee could not render if he had not the eſtate in him, and that it is a re infeoffment; and of this opinion was the court, who held, that the eſtate was once in the conuſee, and the fine and render is a conveyance at common law, and the render makes the conuſor a new purchaſer as much as a feoffment, and re-infeoffment would do at common law. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 336.

Hilary, 3 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. The court will not reverſe a fine without a ſcire facias returned againſt the ter-tenants; for the conuſees are but nominal perſons: and though it was otherwiſe in the precedent in Co. Ent. Hern's plead. 375. and the law perhaps does not ſtrictly require it, yet the courſe of the court does. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 339.

Eaſter, 4 W. & M. Winchurch v. Belwood. Error.

A writ of error being brought in this court of a fine in the C. B. the fine was affirmed; and now a writ of error coram vobis, &c. was brought here, and an exception was taken, that the writ ought to abate, for that no ſuch writ lies in this caſe, becauſe only a tranſcript of the fine is removed into this court. And it was compared to the caſes of error in the Exchequer Chamber, where only a tranſcript goes up, and if the writ abates, no writ of error coram vobis, &c. lies.

Per curiam. The reaſon of that is not becauſe they in the Exchequer Chamber have only a tranſcript, but becauſe they have only a particular authority to affirm or reverſe. It was admitted, that a tranſcript of a record of a fine is only removed, becauſe on a judgment of reverſal a certiorari goes for the very foot of the fine, and it is cancelled. But notwithſtanding that, the court held, that a writ of error coram vobis, &c. lay. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 338. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 67.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Davis v. Speed.

In ejectment, the huſband and wife being ſeized in fee in right of the wife, levied a fine to J. S. and his heirs, to the uſe of the heirs of the body of the huſband, begotten on the wiſe; the wiſe died, and the huſband died without iſſue; the queſtion was, who ſhould have the land, the leſſor of the plaintiff as heir to the huſband, or the defendant as heir to the wife.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The firſt uſe may be a ſpringing uſe; for if I bargain and ſell to the uſe of another five years hence, this is a good future uſe; for there is a difference between a covenant to ſtand ſeized, and a feoffment to uſe; for till a contingency happens, or the time comes for the future uſes ariſing, it ſhall return again to the feoffor: a feoffment to the uſe of the right heirs of J. S. after the death of J. S. is a future uſe; but if it were limited to ariſe after the death of one without iſſue, this is void without a particular eſtate to ſupport it. So is the caſe of Pell v. Brown, unleſs the dying without iſſue be within a certain term, as within the life of a man; for otherwiſe the law will not expect the veſting of it, but will conſtrue the limitation to be void, becauſe the poſſibility is foreign; Holcroft's caſe in Moor is expreſs to this point. So judgment was given for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 38.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Lloyd v. Evelin. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a common recovery, the tenant to the præcipe in the common recovery was made by a fine, the recovery was ſuffered, and the fine was reverſed, yet it was held a good recovery; for there was a tenant to the præcipe at the time. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 568.

Hilary, 6 & 7 W. & M. Tipping v. Cozens.

In this caſe the jury found a ſpecial verdict, that Edward Cozens was ſeized in fee of the lands in queſtion, by indenture dated the 16th day of October 1654, in conſideration of a marriage intended to be celebrated between him and Mrs. Grace Fry, and of 1000 l. portion, conveyed theſe lands to truſtees, to the uſe of himſelf and his heirs till the marriage took effect, and then to the uſe of Mrs. Grace Fry for life, for her jointure, then to truſtees and their heirs during the life of of Edward Cozens, in truſt to ſupport contingent remainders, and for that purpoſe to make entries, &c. but to permit Edward Cozens to receive the rents and profits during his life; remainder to the uſe of the firſt, ſecond, third, &c. ſons of that marriage in tail-male ſucceſſively, remainder to the heirs male of Edward Cozens and his then intended wife, remainder to the heirs of their bodies; remainder to the heirs male of Edward Cozens, remainder to the right heirs of Edward Cozens; and in this indenture Edward Cozens covenanted to levy a fine to thoſe uſes; which fine was levied accordingly. They further found that this marriage took effect, and that Edward Cozens had iſſue of that wife one daughter, Elizabeth, who afterwards married G. Tipping. They further find, that Edward Cozens in 1686 covenanted with J. Shepherds, &c. to levy a fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to his wife for life, with divers remainders over for life and in tail, excluſive of his daughter, remainder to his own right heirs; in purſuance of which covenant a ſecond fine was levied, with a warrantry againſt Edward Cozens and his heirs, with proclamations according to the ſtatute; and at the time of the fine levied, Edward Cozens was in actual poſſeſſion, and had no iſſue male: that on the 1ſt day of Auguſt 1686, Elizabeth, the daughter, died in the life-time of her father, and left an infant daughter Lucretia Tipping, leſſor of the plaintiff; and on the 1ſt day of February 1690, Edward Cozens died, and Grace his wife entered and enjoyed the lands during her life, and that Lucretia was an infant at the time of the death of Edward Cozens; and that when Grace, the wife of Edward Cozens, died, the defendant entered, claiming under the ſettlement in 1686; and that the leſſor of the plaintiff entered on them, and leaſed to the plaintiff, that the defendant re-entered on him, and the plaintiff brought this ejectment.

The defendant's council argued, that Edward Cozens had an eſtate tail in himſelf, and that he barred it by his fine in 1686, and by conſequence the title was in the defendant. And to prove this, he ſaid, that where the anceſtor took an eſtate for life, and afterwards a limitation is made to his right heirs, or his heirs male, &c. the fee, be it ſimple or tail, veſts in the anceſtor, and the heir ſhall take only by deſcent.

It was further argued, that by a reſulting uſe and operation of law, an eſtate of freehold ſhall be raiſed to Edward Cozens, for which Co. Li. 22. b. Fenwick v. Mitford's caſe was relied on. But not allowed.

Per curiam. There cannot be here any reſulting uſe to Edward Cozens, becauſe he has made a full diſpoſition of the intire eſtate, and then the law has no need to make it. But in the caſe of Fenwick v. Mitford the party had not diſpoſed of the freehold during his life, and the law caſt it on him, becauſe whatſoever part of the uſe the feoffor has not aliened, will remain to himſelf. But in this caſe the deſign was, that the whole eſtate be diſpoſed of, ſo that it ſhould not be in the power of Edward Cozens to deſtroy the contingent remainders: ſo that if the court raiſes a reſulting uſe here, it will be contrary, as well to the intent of the parties, as to the rules of the law. 2dly. The warranty had no operation, becauſe the leſſor of the plaintiff was an infant at the time of the deſcent. Litt. ſect. 726. Wherefore judgment was given for the plaintiff niſi, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 380.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Winchurſt v. Maſely.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 408 of this work, under the head Error.

Eaſter, 8 W. 3. Haines Barley's Caſe.

On an ejectment for lands in Eſſex being tried at bar, the plaintiff claimed as heir at law to one James Wade, who had iſſue William Wade, and one daughter, who was now the Lady Baſh, and leſſor of the plaintiff.

William Wade had likewiſe iſſue, one ſon and two daughters, who were all dead without iſſue.

The defendant made a title under a conveyance by leaſe and releaſe, dated 21 May 21 Car. 2. and made between William Wade of the one part, and Haines Barley and John Turner of the other part, by which the lands in queſtion were ſettled on them and their heirs to the uſe of William Wade for life; then to his firſt, ſecond, and third ſon in tail male; remainder to John and William Haynes and Charles Barley; remainder to Haines Barley the father; remainder to the right heirs of William Wade for ever.

The plaintiff then produced a deed made in the year 1633, between the ſaid James Wade of the one part, and Charles Mordaunt and his wife, and John Mordaunt of the other part; which deed was atteſted by three witneſſes, two of which were proved to be dead, and the other could not be found: by which deed it appeared, that a fine was levied, and the uſes thereof were declared to James Wade for life, remainder to his firſt ſon, and the heirs male of his body, then to his ſecond, third, and all other the ſons of the ſaid James Wade in tail male, remainder to the iſſue female, then to the wife of William Mordaunt for life, remainder to Charles Mordaunt and his heirs for ever; ſo that William Wade was tenant in tail, and could not bar the remainder without a recovery, which was then produced, and a deed to lead the uſes thereof, and livery and ſeiſin endorſed to make a tenant to the præcipe. The court were of opinion, the jointure deed being loſt, that they might ſupply the proof by memorials, and therefore gave the plaintiff a verdict for ſo much as was in jointure. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 210.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Hulbert v. Watts and Wife.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 270 of this work, under the head Condition.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Jones v. Morley.

On a ſpecial verdict in ejectment it was found, that Miſs Bowyer being ſeiſed in fee, in conſideration of a marriage, by indenture of leaſe and releaſe conveyed to A. and B. to the uſe of herſelf in fee, till the intended marriage with Edward Morley ſhould take effect, and till the ſaid Morley ſhould ſettle on her a jointure of 300*l. per ann.* and then to the ſaid Morley and his heirs: the marriage took effect, and on the 29th day of January 1665, they covenanted and agreed to levy a fine next Hilary term; and the uſe thereof was declared by the ſame deed to be to E. Morley and his heirs. Afterwards, viz. on the 31ſt day of the ſame month, by indenture between the huſband and wife, it was agreed and declared, that the uſes of the deed of the 29th ſhould be revoked. After this, in the ſame Hilary term, a fine was levied; and this writing of the 21ſt being no deed, it was reſolved,

1ſt. That by the agreement of the 29th, the parties meant a fine to be levied Hilary term come twelve months, and not the Hilary term then current, and therefore this fine was not purſuant to that covenant.

2dly. That if the fine had been levied purſuant to that covenant, no parol averment could have been allowed to declare other uſes, or that the fine was not to the uſes of that deed, and all parties had been eſtopped to aver the contrary by parol; but by deed ſubſequent, and before the fine, other uſes may be averred.

3dly. That ſince the fine is not according to the deed, other uſes may be averred, though they were declared by writing, and not by deed; for by the variance there is room and occaſion given to inquire and receive information, that the old agreement was relinquiſhed; and by the ſame reaſon the uſe of a fine may be declared by parol on an original agreement, it may now, as in this caſe, where the original agreement was relinquiſhed: yet without ſuch averment the fine ſhall be intended to the uſe of the firſt agreement, notwithſtanding the variance.

4thly. That this is a good revocation of the uſes of the firſt deed, though it be but a writing; for where the conveyance enures by way of tranſmutation, the uſe is according to the intent of the party, and it is no matter how that intent is manifeſted, ſo as it may be known; but where the conveyance is by way of a covenant to ſtand ſeiſed, there muſt be a valuable conſideration, or a binding agreement by deed. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 677. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 159. Raym. vol. 1. p. 287.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Stokes v. Oliver. Error.

A Writ of Error was brought to reverſe a common recovery, and a ſci. fac. againſt the ter-tenants, who are ſummoned and appear, and the ſheriff returned, that there were no other tenants. The error aſſigned was, that the vouchee was a feme covert, under age, and appeared by Attorney. If ſhe had vouched in perſon, or by guardian, ſuch a recovery ſhould not be reverſed for error after full age; becauſe a guardian is made by the court, who will not admit of any one, but ſuch who ſhall be anſwerable for the loſs that the infant may ſuſtain; but an attorney is made by the party, and an infant may not have diſcretion enough to chuſe an Attorney who will be faithful to him.

Therefore ſhe appearing by attorney, and ſuffering a recovery, it ſhall be reverſed for the ſame after the party comes of age, becauſe it ſhall be tried by the country, whether the warrant of attorney was made when under age or not.

Neither can the huſband, though of full age, make an attorney for himſelf and wife under age, to bind the inheritance of the wife; but ſhe being the principal muſt be barred by her own act, and therefore ſhe muſt appear in court in ſuch manner as the law has directed by reaſon of her infancy.

It may be a queſtion, whether ſhe can be barred by any act of her own, beſides a fine, for ſhe is not examined on a common recovery.

But this is not like the caſe of a fine levied by an infant, for that cannot be reverſed but by the infant himſelf during his nonage; for it being the act of the court to ſuffer ſuch a one to levy a fine, the court muſt therefore reform the ſame by inſpection, which cannot be after full age.

For this reaſon, the recovery was reverſed, niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 209.

Eaſter, 10 W. 3. Anonymous. Error.

A writ of error was brought in this court to reverſe a common recovery, and there was a ſci. fac. iſſued out againſt all the ter tenants, and they made default. The recovery was reverſed, and it appearing afterwards, that the plaintiff in the writ of error had no title, there being a remainder-man before him, the court reverſed their former reverſal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 396.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. Lacy v. Williams. Error.

On error brought on a judgment in C. B. in Ejectment, wherein a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. that a writ of entry was brought againſt Miles Corbet, returnable in fifteen days of Martin. That on the return Miles Corbet appeared, and the demandant declared againſt him, that he vouched Lacy the tenant in tail and a ſummons to warrant iſſued, returnable in eight days of the purification. After the teſte, and before the return of the writ of ſummons, viz. on the firſt day of January, Lacy the tenant in tail conveyed to Miles Corbet by leaſe and releaſe for life. At the return of the ſummons, Lacy the tenant in tail appeared and entered into the warranty, and vouched over the common vouchee, and ſo a common recovery was had. This recovery being held good in C. B. for the plaintiff in error it was inſiſted, that Miles Corbet was not tenant to the præcipe at the return of the writ of entry. It was agreed that if he had purchaſed before the return of the writ of entry, the recovery had been good, (otherwiſe if after, as in this caſe,) to bind ſtrangers or the iſſue in tail, though it might be good between the parties by way of eſtoppel. Vide 1 Ro. 868. 21 E. 3. 5. 5 H. 6. 1. 18 E. 4. 26. 9 Ed. 4. 12. 3 H. 6. 34. The reaſon is, becauſe the tenant could not render the lands at the return of the writ of entry, and a voucher ſuppoſes a ſeiſin; for it is a good counterplea that the voucher had nothing in the lands at the time of the voucher, and the words nor ever after are not material; and if the tenant pleads non-tenure as he ought and might, that only binds himſelf and thoſe that are parties and claim under him by eſtoppel.

It was replied, that the iſſue ſhall be bound where he may have execution for the value. 3 Co. 5, 6. 12 E. 5, 19. And it is not a ſufficient counterplea of a voucher to ſay, the voucher had nothing at the time, &c. without adding nor ever after. Raſt. 367, 126. So it is of non-tenure, Raſt. 273. Where the tenant appears on the return of the writ of entry, and the recovery is then had, in ſuch caſe the tenant muſt have the freehold at the return of the writ, becauſe it is a recovery then ſuffered; but otherwiſe where there is a voucher over, or interpleader, as in this caſe; for it is ſufficient if he become tenant before judgment. 41 E. 3, 5. 8 E. 3. 32. 10 E. 3. 21.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. It is not enough in a counterplea of a voucher to ſay, the voucher had nothing in the lands at the time of the voucher, without adding, nor ever after; ſo it is of non-tenure: if the tenant to the præcipe gains a freehold before judgment, it is ſufficient, for it cannot be ſaid to be a recovery againſt him that had nothing; therefore a writ may be made good by a ſubſequent purchaſe, and ſo may a voucher; and it is the more reaſonable, becauſe the demandant may have a good cauſe of action, though the tenant have not the land; for it is not his being tenant to the præcipe, but the demandant's having a right to the land, that is the foundation and cauſe of action; and therefore it is in law ſufficient, if the tenant have the land to render at any time before judgment. And the judgment was affirmed, niſi.

Afterwards the plaintiff in error came to ſhew cauſe why the judgment ſhould not be affirmed, and cited 18 E. 4. 36. 2 Ro. 746. But not allowed: and Holt C. J. ſaid, the recompence in the caſe of common recoveries was one reaſon but not the only one; for a reverſion expectant is barred by a common recovery, and yet the recompence cannot extend to that; which he ſaid was a bold advance in favour of common recoveries. So the rule was made abſolute. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 569, Raym. vol. 1. p. 475.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. At common law fines were levied on any original writ; as on a writ of entry, writ of right, &c. as well as on a writ of covenant, and they might be levied for any thing for which a præcipe quod reddat or permittat lies; and they are leviable in counties palatine by ſtat. 38 H. 8. c. 19. & 2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 28. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 168.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Hunt v. Bourne. Error.

On a ſuit brought in ejectment in C. B. the jury found a ſpecial verdict: that the lands in queſtion were holden of the manor of Wormelow, which is an ancient manor, held of the crown, &c. and it was impleadable there by plaint before the ſteward, &c. and that on writs of right-cloſe Fines have been time out of mind levied and leviable in the ſame court: that T. G. was ſeiſed in tail of the ſaid lands, and being ſo ſeized, 25 May, 22 Car. 1. a fine was levied in the ſaid court, according to the cuſtom aforeſaid, before A. B. deputy ſteward, &c. by which fine the ſaid T. G. granted the aforeſaid tenements to one N. for life, rendering rent, &c. then the fine was ſet forth in theſe words, and it appeared to be levied before the attornies or the ſuitors, in a plea of covenant, according to the cuſtom of the manor, come ceo que il ad de ſon done, with warranty. Then they found that the ſaid lands were not accuſtomably letten, and that this was not the ancient rent: that N. entered, and afterwards on the 24 Car. 1. the ſaid T. G. and his wife levied a fine with warranty, to the uſe of the huſband and his heirs; that afterwards, the ſame year, the ſaid T. G. bargained and ſold the ſaid lands to one P. and his heirs, under whom the defendant claimed: that afterwards he releaſed to P. and that P. died in 1661. That G. died in 1663, that thirty years afterwards, viz. in 1693, N. died; and whether the entry of R. G. grandſon and heir in tail of T. the conuſor of both fines, be lawful on the purchaſer, was the queſtion; which in C. B. was determined in the affirmative, and R. had judgment; and now on a writ of error brought in this court, that judgment was affirmed, after many arguments at bar. And theſe points were reſolved.

1ſt, That the tenant in tail of ancient demeſne lands may levy a fine of thoſe lands in the court of ancient demeſne, although it be no court of record, becauſe it is but agreeable to the power of that court, in like inſtances; for they may proceed to try the Miſe joined in a writ of right cloſe, which is of a higher nature than a fine. Dy. 111. pl. 47. Whereas in all other inferior courts on the miſe joined, the cauſe muſt be removed into the C. B. by recordari. F. N. B. 12. And ſtat. 18 E. 1. is but declarative of the common law, and was made to rectify a miſtake, viz. that fines were leviable in inferior courts on bills or plaints, which now cannot be either by grant or cuſtom, by reaſon of the negative words of that ſtatute; but this does not extend to ancient demeſne courts, for then this ſtatute would make fines of thoſe lands leviable in the court of C. B. whereas they are not, but reverſable by writ of diſceit; ſo that they would be under a double diſadvantage, that a fine would not be leviable of the land any where, if not in this court of ancient demeſne; whereas that which is their privilege, could never be intended to be to their diſadvantage.

2dly, That a fine may be levied on a writ of right-cloſe, or in any real action, but not on an original in a perſonal action; and the common writ of covenant, on which a fine is levied, is not a perſonal but a real action; for though it is to have damages for a breach of covenant, as in perſonal actions, yet it is to have an execution and performance of the covenants. 5 Co. 59. F. N. B. 146. f. 2 Inſt. 514. 1 And. 71. Kel. 90. b. 4 Inſt. 207.

3dly, That a fine levied in the court of ancient demeſne may work a diſcontinuance, though the court is not a court of record; for the diſcontinuance is, becauſe the freehold is recovered in the action; for every recoveror recovers a fee ſimple, and a recovery of the fee-ſimple muſt work a diſcontinuance; and if this be allowed to be a fine, in conſequence it ought to have the effect of fines. But note, though ſuch fine be a diſcontinuance, it is not a bar to the intail; for ſtat. 4 Hen. 7. ſays, that a fine with proclamations ſhall bar an eſtate tail, and no fine but a fine with proclamations is within that ſtatute, nor can bar an eſtate-tail. And the court denied a fine to be a feoffment to ſome purpoſes, if he that levied the fine was ſeized of the freehold at the time of the fine levied.

4thly, That a fine ſur conuſance de droit come ceo que il ad de ſon done generally implies a fee-ſimple; but it is only by implication, and therefore there is no repugnancy to limit an eſtate for life to the conuſee; for the precedent donation or a feoffment which is ſuppoſed might be for life only, or in tail, and the general intendment of the conuſance, may be qualified by an expreſs limitation. 41 E. 3. 14. Co. Lit. 9. b.

5thly, That the ſuitors, who are judges, might act by attorney, becauſe it is a part of their ſervice by reaſon of their eſtate, and they are judges as tenants. 2 Inſt. 225. F. N. B. 25. 156. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 341.

Lent Aſſizes, 1 Ann. Jennings v. Rogers.

In an Ejectment at niſi prius, the caſe appeared to be thus. A. was tenant of the lands for life, remainder to B. in tail, remainder to C. for life, &c. B. leaſed and releaſed all his eſtate to A. then a præcipe was brought againſt A. A. vouched to B. and C. and they vouched the common vouchee, and the recovery was perfected. The queſtion was if this recovery was good, to bar the intail?

Holt, Chief Juſtice, held, that it was, though A. had but an eſtate for life, but he reſerved it as a point for his further conſideration. See Plowd. com. Manxel's caſe 504. Eare v. Snow; and 3 Co. Cuppledike's caſe, and afterwards he gave his opinion accordingly. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 753.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Smith v. Angel.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 123 of this work, under the head Aſſets.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Machel v. Clerk.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 435 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Odes v. Woodward.

Per curiam. If a fine be acknowledged before commiſſioners in the county in the long vacation, and before the next term the conuſor dies, though no writ of covenant was ſued out, nor King's ſilverentered; yet the C. B. will permit the conuſee to enter the fine as of the Trinity term preceding. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 849.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. Clements v. Langham. Error.

On error brought on a fine levied in the court of C. B. the error aſſigned was, that the cogniſor died after the caption, and before the return of the writ of covenant, and for this reaſon it was reverſed. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 168. Raym. vol. 2. p. 872.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. Ford v. Lord Grey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 393 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Trin, 3 Ann. Page v. Hayward.

Nicholas Searle by his will deviſed to his niece Mary Bryant and the heirs male of her body, upon condition and provided that ſhe intermarry with and have iſſue male by one ſurnamed Searle; and in default of both conditions he deviſed to Eliz. Bryant (in the ſame manner) and in default thereof he deviſed to George Searle for ſixty years, if he ſo long live, remainder to the heirs male of the body of the ſaid George, and their iſſue male for ever. Mary, and Elizabeth with her huſband, (for ſhe had then married one Cliff,) joined in a fine to make a tenant to the præcipe, who was one Iſaac Savery. Iſaac Savery vouched Mary Bryant, Eliz. Cliff and her huſband, and the wife of the deviſor with her huſband, ſhe being again married, and vouched them all jointly, and they vouched over the common vouchee.

See the determination of the court on this caſe fully ſtated in page, 271. of this work, under the head Conditions.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Fazacharly v. Baldo.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a writ of error be brought in this court, to reverſe a fine levied in C. B. the very record of the fine itſelf is never removed hither, but only a tranſcript of it: but if this court adjudge it erroneous, then a certiorari goes to the chirographer to certify the very fine, and when it comes up it is actually cancelled. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 341.

Michaelmas, 5 Ann. Smith v. Tindal.

One Taylor being ſeiſed in fee, deviſes to the poor of Sutton 40 s. to be diſtributed by his executors, with four coats, four hats, on every 21ſt day of November for ever; makes his wife Margaret executrix; deviſes all his lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all his perſonal eſtate, to Margaret the executrix, who marries with one ——, and the huſband and wife by indenture, &c. covenant to levy a fine ſur cognizance de droit comeceo to the uſe of ——, and Margaret, with a warrantry, who conveys to the plaintiff. It was argued, 1ſt. What eſtate is conveyed by this will? Whether an eſtate of inheritance? 2dly. If the warranty binds?

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The words of the will give a fee. Here being a general charge for ever, and a ſufficient perſonal eſtate to purchaſe, &c. But he was not ſatisfied to fix it on the land. He went on the word hereditament to make a fee; the words lands and tenements carry only an eſtate for life, but hereditament carries the fee; for if he had not a fee, then it was not his hereditament, and when he gives his hereditament, he gives a deſcendable eſtate, otherwiſe it is no hereditament. Co. Lit. 6. Theſe words cannot be ſatisfied, unleſs this word carry the inheritance. Hob. 2. is rightly reported, and wrong in Moor 873. Lands of inheritance is only a deſcription of what lands ſhall paſs. Touching the warranty; if a diſſeiſor continues in poſſeſſion twenty years, and the diſſeiſee enters, or brings an ejectment, the diſſeiſor ſhall maintain his poſſeſſion by the ſtatute of limitations; for he has acquired a right of poſſeſſion, though not a right to the inheritance. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 102.

Michaelmas, 7 Ann. Buſhel v. Burland.

In Ejectment on a ſpecial verdict, the caſe was, A. and B. his wife levied a fine; and four years after they make a deed to declare the uſes, in which there are theſe words, all and every fine or fines levied, or to be levied, ſhall be to the uſes of the deed.

The caſe having been argued in Eaſter term, the court now obſerved, that the firſt fine would be to no uſe, if this deed does not relate to it; and Beckwith's caſe in 2 Co. ſays, it ſhall be good, if the wife does not declare the contrary. If a fine be levied by huſband and wife in vacation, and they make a deed of uſes of a fine levied in Trinity term, (as in judgment of law it is) it is good, though ſince the ſtatute of frauds and perjuries: and there is the ſame objection as to the freehold being in abeyance, and the time does not make any alteration.

Or if a man levy a fine, and the deed is loſt, and four years after he makes another deed, the fine is good.

The ſtatute of frauds and perjuries is out of the caſe; for it is thereby declared, that all ſubſequent deeds ſhall be as they were before. But the matter was adjourned. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 196.

Eaſter, 8 Ann. Lord Altham v. Lord Angleſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 453 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Lord Say, and Seal's Caſe.

On a queſtion, whether a common recovery, that was ſuffered in order to dock the intail, was good or not?

The objection to the recovery was, that there was no tenant to the præcipe.

Per curiam. A Common recovery, tho' there is no tenant to the præcipe, is good by way of eſtoppel againſt the party that ſuffered it, though not againſt remainder men, ſtrangers, &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 40.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Lloyd v. Viſcount Say and Seal.

A fine ran thus: This is the final agreement made in the court of our Lord the King at Weſtminſter, in the 10th year of W. 3. before Thomas Trevor, &c. and afterwards on the Morrow of the Holy Trinity, 1 Ann. agreed and recorded before the ſame juſtices; ſo that the concord of the fine was of one term, and the recording it of another term following; and therefore the queſtion was, of which term this ſhould be ſaid to be a complete fine?

Per curiam. It is a fine of that term when the concord was made, and of which the writ of covenant was returnable, for the agreement made in court is the complete fine; the agreed and recorded, is the leave of the court to inrol it. 6 Co. 68. Hob. 330. 2 Ven. 47. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 341.

Trinity, 13 Ann. Miles. v. Williams.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The ſtatute de donis, which ſays, that a fine levied of intailed lands ſhall be ipſo jure null, has been interpreted not to make a nullity, but a diſcontinuance, becauſe at the common law, if a Biſhop ſeiſed in right of the church, or a huſband of his wife, had aliened by fine, &c. it was but a diſcontinuance. 3 Co. 85. &c. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 243.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. Thruſtout v. Peak and others.

On not guilty pleaded in ejectment for the manor of Welhall, and other lands in Norfolk, on the demiſe of Edmund Miller, ſerjeant at law, the jury find this ſpecial verdict.

That Roger Weſt being ſeiſed in fee, among others, of the premiſes in queſtion, on the 23d day of March 1697, made his will in writing, wherein was the following clauſe; " and my further will is, and I declare, that if
" it ſhall appear, that at the time of my death I ſhall
" leave no child or children begotten by me on the " body of my ſaid dear wife; or if ſhe be not with
" child or breeding at the time of my death, then I
" give, deviſe, and bequeath, all and ſingular my ma-
" nors, lands, tenements, &c. which are freehold, in
" the counties of Bucks, Hertford, and Norfolk, or elſe-
" where in the kingdom of England, unto my afore-
" ſaid dear wife, for and during her natural life, or ſo
" long thereof as ſhe ſhall remain my widow. And
" as for my eſtate in the county of Norfolk, not as yet
" any ways diſpoſed of, but to my ſaid wife for life or
" widowhood as aforeſaid, I hereby give, deviſe, and
" bequeath the ſame after the deceaſe or marriage of my
" ſaid wife as aforeſaid, unto my nephews Edmund
" Miller and Robert Sharrock during their natural
" lives, equally to be divided between them; and after
" their deceaſes, then to the next heirs male of their bodies
" lawfully to be begotten, equally to be divided between
" them; but in caſe either of the ſaid Edmund Miller
" and Robert Sharrock depart this life without ſuch
" iſſue, then I give, deviſe and bequeath the ſame
" eſtate in Norfolk to the other of them for life, and
" after his deceaſe to the heirs male of his body law-
" fully to be begotten. And, for want of ſuch iſſue of " both of them, he deviſed it over to others, with a
" remainder to his own right heirs, and then goes on;
" Provided always, that if any of the deviſees ſhould
" fell timber, other than for repairs or firewood, or
" becauſe likely to decay, it ſhould be a forfeiture of
" their particular and reſpective eſtates."

They find further, that Elizabeth, wife of the teſtator, died in his life-time, and afterwards the deviſor died without iſſue. That the two deviſees, Edmund Miller and Robert Sharrock, entered and were ſeiſed as the law requires; and by their indenture dated the 5th day of May 1700, reciting the deviſe, and to the end that each party may know and enjoy his own ſhare and moiety in ſeveralty, they the ſaid Edmund Miller and Robert Sharrock do by theſe preſents, for themſelves and their heirs males, make and deliver, an equal, perfect and abſolute partition of all the ſaid manors, lands, &c. to and between the ſaid Edmund Miller and Robert Sharrock in two parts, in manner and form following, viz. that he the ſaid Edmund Miller and the next heirs male of his body, ſhall have, hold, and enjoy to his and their own ſeveral uſe, according to the limitations in the ſaid recited will expreſſed, but for no greater or other eſtate, or quantity of eſtate, than he or they can or may have by virtue of the ſaid Roger Weſt's will, all that the manor, &c. in full ſatisfaction of all his the ſaid Edmund Miller's and his next heirs male mentioned in the ſaid will, part, portion, ſhare and moiety, but for no greater or other eſtate than he can or ought to take by virtue of the ſaid will. So in like manner, Robert Sharrock ſhall hold and enjoy all that the manor of Wellhall in Gayton, &c. and each covenanted to reſt contented therewith. That Edmund Miller and Robert Sharrock entered and enjoyed their parts in ſeveralty. That John Lyng proſecuted a writ of covenant of the manor of Gayton, Wellhall, againſt Robert Sharrock, teſted 2 October 13 W. 3. returnable in eight days of St. Martin, on which a fine was levied. And that by deed dated 2 Oct. 13 W. 3. it was covenanted between Robert Sharrock, John Lyng, and John Carter, that Robert Sharrock ſhould levy a fine to John Lyng of the manor of Wellhall in Gayton, to the intent to ſuffer a common recovery, and that John Carter before the end of Michaelmas term then next enſuing, ſhould ſue a writ of entry ſur diſſeiſin en le poſt againſt John Lyng, who ſhould vouch Robert Sharrock; which fine and recovery then to be levied and ſuffered, ſhould be to the uſe of the ſaid Robert Sharrock in fee. That though this deed was dated 2d October 13 W. 3 yet it was not executed till the 26th day of November following, but nevertheleſs that it was executed before the recovery at bar. And that there is no other declaration of the uſes than as aforeſaid. That John Carter ſued a writ of entry of the manor of Gayton Wellhall, teſted 16 October 13 W. 3. returnable on the Morrow of All Souls on which a recovery was ſuffered, (which is found in theſe words) and a writ of ſeiſin thereon proſecuted by the ſaid John Carter, teſted 6th November, returnable immediately, on which the ſheriff returned, that he delivered ſeiſin on the 24th of November, which is two days before the execution of the deed. That the lands in the fine and recovery are the part allotted by the deed of partition to Robert Sharrock, and mentioned in the deed of the 2d October 13 W. 3. That on the 16th February 1707, Robert Sharrock ſo ſeiſed, died without iſſue, and that Elizabeth Sharrock his ſiſter and heir apparent entered, and married Patrick Seagrave, Eſq; who became ſeiſed in right of his wife, on whom the leſſor of the plaintiff entered, and made the leaſe, and was poſſeſſed till ejected by the defendants; but whether, &c.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The partition will not alter the eſtate, it only alters the right of ſurvivorſhip. The difference in the names of the manor is not material. It appears there is no tenant made by deed, till after judgment. But the fine being levied, and no uſe declared, the recovery being immediately ſuffered of the ſame lands, and the writ of entry brought againſt the conuſee in the fine, ſhews that the intent of levying the fine was to make a tenant to the precipe. This deviſe intends an eſtate tail. After their deceaſes are but words of form; for if one deviſes to A. for life, and after his deceaſe to B. for life, yet B. ſhall take the eſtate if A. forfeits, enters into any religious order of the church of Rome, or becomes incapable to enjoy it; and he ſhall not wait till the deceaſe of A. for the words were not meant as conditions. Salk. 230. 1 Vent. 199. What the jury mean, that the deed was executed before the recovery had at bar, I know not; for the law takes no notice when a recovery is had at bar.

Eyre, Juſtice. Equally to be divided, is no more, than if one moiety had been deviſed to one, and the other to the other; unleſs ſomething appears contrary in the will. Here can be no croſs-remainders ſpringing after the death of one of the deviſees, becauſe it is limited if either die, &c. When a writ of entry is brought againſt the conuſee in a fine, there is no reſulting uſe.

Accordingly the defendant had judgment niſi, and no cauſe being ſhewn, the rule was afterwards made abſolute. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 12.

Eaſter, 13 Geo. Warren on the Demiſe of Webb, v. Greenville.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 466 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Trinity, 10 Geo. Waddy v. Newton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 396 of this work, under the head Ejectment.

Hilary, 11 Geo. 2. Berrington v. Parkhurſt. Error.

On a trial at bar in Ejectment on the demiſe of John Dormer, Eſq; for a manor and lands in Bucks, a ſpecial verdict on the family ſettlement was found.

The point on which the judgment was given was ſhortly this: the defendants (as diſſeinſor for argument ſake) levied a fine in 1730; to avoid this, the leſſor of the plaintiff made an actual entry on the 6th of January 1731, and in Hilary term after brought his Ejectment, and laid the demiſe on the 1ſt of October 1731, which was three months before the actual entry.

And it was inſiſted on for the defendants, 1ſt. That an actual entry was neceſſary to avoid the fine. And, 2dly. That the demiſe could not be laid before the leſſor had regained the poſſeſſion by the actual entry.

The court on the ſecond point gave judgment for the defendants; and on error brought in parliament, after two day's argument at the bar, two queſtions were put to the houſe by the judges; 1ſt. Whether an actual entry was neceſſary to avoid the fine. To which they all anſwered, that it was. 2dly. Whether the demiſe being laid before the time of the firſt entry, this ejectment could be maintained. To which they anſwered, it could not be ſo, without putting any queſtion on the merits. And the judgment was affirmed with coſts. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1086.

Hilary, 16 Geo. 2. Martin, on the demiſe of John Tregonwell, Eſq. v. Strachan and others.

In Ejectment for lands in the county of Dorſet, a ſpecial verdict was found, the ſhort ſtate of the caſe was as follows: The tenant in tail on the mother's ſide with the reverſion in fee in himſelf on the part of the mother alſo, ſuffers a common recovery to the uſe of himſelf in fee. And whether this fee on his death veſted in his heir on the father's ſide or on the mother's, was the queſtion.

And after two arguments at bar, Lee, C. J. delivered the reſolution of the court; that by the common recovery to the uſe of himſelf in fee, the title under the ſettlement was deſtroyed, and a new fee acquired, deſcendable to the right heir of him that ſuffered the recovery. He ſaid, it was true, that if A. ſo ſeiſed, had made a feoffment to the uſe of his own right heirs, it would work no alteration, but be the ſame uſe, according to Co. Lit. 13, 3. Lev. 406. Salk. 590. But that is only in the caſe of a deſcent; whereas here the eſtate-tail he took, was as a purchaſe per formam doni. In the caſe of a common recovery the recoveror has a fee as the grantee of the tenant in tail, Popb. 5. and a full fee paſſes. The caſe of Simmonds v. Cudmore, Salk. 338, was on the operation of a fine which differs widely from that of a recovery. The charges of the tenant in tail affect the fee gained, Popb. 7. but no act or charge of the remainder man ſubſiſts, which ſhews nothing how his eſtate paſſes, 1 Co. Capel's caſe. The leſſor of the plaintiff therefore, claiming only as heir on the mother's ſide; there was judgment for the defendants.

Afterwards this judgment was affirmed in the Houſe of Lords, by the unanimous opinion of all the other judges. Vide Strange, v. 2. p. 1179.

Eaſter, 16 Geo. 2. Lewis on the Demiſe of the Earl of Derby v. Witham.

On a ſpecial verdict in Ejectment the defendant claimed under a Common Recovery, whereby it was inſiſted the leſſor of the plaintiff was barred. But exception being taken that no writ of ſeiſin or execution was found, the court was of opinion the defendant could not take any advantage of the recovery. It was then moved, that a venire facias de novo might go, this being an old recovery an hundred years ago, on which execution would be preſumed; and in fact there was a writ of ſeiſin and a return, and ſo this recovery is compleatly found in a cauſe now depending on the demiſe of the duke of Athol: It was likewiſe inſiſted, that the minutes find this recovery as &c. and therefore warrant the inſerting this.

Per curiam. A venire facias de novo can only be granted on what appears to the court on this record; and unleſs the record warrants it, it will be error to grant it, 8 Co. Loveday's caſe. It is not the verdict, but the defendant's title that is imperfect: how can we ſuggeſt, that the jury have miſbehaved themſelves; and yet that muſt be an introduction of a venire facias de novo.

It was then prayed, that an entry might be made of its being aſked and denied: but as to that, the court ſaid, that as it was to iſſue on the record, it would be grantable by the court where error was brought: as was done in the Houſe of Lords lately in the caſe of the wine licence office.

This judgment was afterwards affirmed in the Houſe Lords. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1185.

Trinity, 19 Geo. 2. Lloyd v. Vaughan.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 424 of this work, under the head Error.

Eaſter, 20 Geo. 2. Keen, on the Demiſe of the Earl of Portſmouth, et. al. v. The Earl of Effingham.

On a trial at bar, wherein the validity of two common recoveries ſuffered in 1714 and 1721 came in queſtion, it was ruled by the court, that though at ſuch a diſtance of time proper tenants to the præcipe ſhall be preſumed, where no deed appears; yet in this caſe, it appearing that there were deeds inrolled for that purpoſe, wherein proper parties did not join, and the uſes were declared to have been warranted by ſuch deeds; the court could not preſume there were any others. And ſo directed the jury to find againſt the Recoveries, which they did accordingly. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1267.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Taylor on the Demiſe of Atkins, Eſq. v. Horde, Eſq. and Others.

On queſtion in this cauſe whether the common recovery was duly ſuffered, it was objected that there was not a good tenant to the præcipe, for Lady A. the widow of Sir R. A. the father, had an eſtate for life in the premiſes, and did not join by ſurrender or otherways in any conveyance of the freehold to J. E. the tenant, againſt whom the præcipe was brought.

Lord Mansfield. Common Recoveries are a meer form of conveyance, all neceſſary circumſtances of form and ceremony are taken from its fictitious original; the policy of this ſpecies of alienation being to take a middle way as to entails between perpetuities and abſolute property.

Stat. 14 Geo. 2. proceeds on the parties to a recovery, having power to ſuffer it; and the caſes of Lincoln Colledge, 3 Co. 59. and that of Jennings 10 Co. 44. were determined on that ground.

By a parity of reaſoning this recovery ought not to be ſupported, becauſe the parties had no power; if it was, the law muſt be overturned, and every remainder-man in tail might eaſily get a naked poſſeſſion, and make a ſecret feoffment.

The plan of marriage, and other family ſettlements, is "to limit a remainder to the firſt and every other ſon in tail". The negative which the father now has on the eldeſt ſon's ſuffering a common recovery, is the very means and conſideration of getting the eſtate reſettled on the marriage of the eldeſt ſon; by this method, the moment he attains to the age of twenty-one years, he may ſet his father at defiance, ſuffer a common recovery, and bar all the reſt of the family: this conſequence alone in a caſe unprecedented is a ſufficient objection. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 60.

Trinity, 30 & 31 Geo. 2. Far, Spinſter v. Dean.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 425 of this work, under the head Error.

Michaelmas, 31 Geo. 2. Sheepſhanks and Wife v. Lucas. Error.

On a writ of error brought from the C. B. to reverſe a common recovery, the plaintiff's wife claiming to be entitled (in common with others) to a remainder in fee (under the will of one B.) after the death of one T. P. tenant in tail, who was vouched in this recovery, her huſband and ſhe bring this writ, and the error aſſigned was, "the death of the vouchee before judgment."

The defendant in error's council made the following objections.

1ſt, That none can maintain a writ of error on a judgment, but one who is either party or privy; the plaintiff in this writ is neither, nor injured by the judgment complained of.

2dly, That no ſci. fac. or warning has been given to the heir, who may be an infant; or may have many things to plead. B. L. the recoveror is the only defendant, who is only nominal, but has no real intereſt.

3dly, It appears on the record, that B. L. the defendant has judgment to recover againſt T. C. but T. P. is no party at all to the writ, therefore T. P. (who only came in as vouchee) had nothing to do with a judgment againſt another, conſequently T. P.'s death before judgment is no error, it can be only an irregularity.

4thly, This writ is not well aſſigned, for it is an error in fact, and therefore ought to conclude to the country.

Lord Mansfield. 1ſt, The writ of error need not to ſet forth a complete title, it is only required of the plaintiff to ſhew the connection and privity between the perſon againſt whom the recovery is had, and the perſon who brings the writ, this is not like a proceeding to try the right of the land, or to recover the land itſelf.

As to the ſecond objection, no authority or reaſon is produced for a ſci. fac. to the heir.

The third objection has no weight in it, and the caſe of Wynn v. Wynn is in point againſt it.

As to the fourth objection, the concluſion with an averment is right, and gives an opportunity to try the fact by the country, if the defendant in error chuſes it, which is all that is requiſite.

As to the merits, it is extremely clear, that a remainder-man ought to have this chance to the benefit of the entail, viz. to ſee that all the proper and requiſite forms ſhould be gone through before he is barred of it. It is plain, that judgment ought not to be given againſt any man after he is dead, and there could have been no judgment againſt the tenant to the præcipe in a common recovery, without a judgment likewiſe over, in value, againſt the vouchee; they being all entered at the ſame time, and part of the ſame proceeding.

Deniſon, Foſter, and Wilmot, concurred with the Chief Juſtice in opinion.

Per curiam. Let the judgment of the C. B. be reverſed, Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 410.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 3. Swann v. Broome. Error.

On a writ of error from the C. B. on a common recovery ſuffered there, the queſtion before the court (among others) was.

"Whether the recovery is good or erroneous,
"the return day of the writ of ſummons being on "Sunday the 13th day of May, on which day E.
"S. the younger, the tenant in tail died.

Adjudged, That the rcovery was erroneous: on which a writ of error was brought in the Houſe of Lords, where the judgment of this court was affirmed. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1602.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. Oates on the demiſe of Wigfall v. Brydon and others.

Adjudged, That to avoid a fine, there muſt be an actual entry, and the demiſe cannot be carried back beyond ſuch entry, and in all other caſes the confeſſion of leaſe, entry, and ouſter is ſufficient. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1897.

Forcible Entry.

Michaelmas, 5 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Waite.

A motion was made to quaſh an inquiſition for a forcible entry, the exceptions were:

1ſt, It is ſaid, by the oath of twelve, &c. ſworn and impannelled, &c. and does not ſay then and there ſworn, &c. for if the time and place are not ſufficiently aſcertained, the inquiſition cannot be good, becauſe the fact may have been committed above a year paſt. And a caſe in Dyer was cited for this purpoſe, 5 Ed. 6. One Buckler was indicted, and outlawed, for murder in this court, for that on ſuch a day, and year, at ſuch a place he made an aſſault on B. and him, with a certain knife, &c. feloniouſly ſtruck, killed, and murdered; without ſaying then and there; for this reaſon the indictment was adjudged to be ill.

But, notwithſtanding this authority, the exception was not allowed in this caſe, becauſe it is not material here to ſhew the place, &c. for the party could not be amoved, ſo as to make the defendant guilty of a forcible entry from any other place but from the land.

2dly. By ſtat. 8. H. 6. c. 9. reſtitution is to be granted where the tenant of the freehold only is put out of poſſeſſion, and ſtat. 21. Jac. c. 15. makes no alteration of any former law, but only grants reſtitution where a termor for years, &c. is put out of poſſeſſion: now in this caſe it is not ſaid, that the tenant of the freehold was ouſted, but that the leſſee for years was ouſted; and it was compared to a caſe in this court. Mich. 28 Eliz. viz. There was a leſſee for years, and a reverſion, and an indictment was brought on this ſtatute, ſetting forth that the defendant expelled, and diſſeiſed him in reverſion, and one J. S. the tenant expelled, which laſt word was applied to both, and two cannot be expelled where but one is in poſſeſſion; and therefore it ſhould have been that the tenant of the freehold was diſſeiſed, and the leſſee for years expelled, and for this reaſon the indictment was held naught, by Dolbin and Eyre, Juſtices, the reſt being abſent. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 248.

Eaſter, 11 W. 3. The King v. Harris.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If an inquiſition of forcible entry comes into this court by certiorari, there can be no reſtitution, if either the defendant traverſes the force, or pleads three years quiet poſſeſſion before the force; for theſe points muſt be tried firſt, as in the caſe of Sir Robert Atkins and Lord Brounker concerning St. Catharine's hoſpital. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 260. Raym. vol. 1. p. 440. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 268.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. The King v. Bengough.

An inquiſition for a forcible entry on the poſſeſſion of one Lanton, was taken on a view by one juſtice of peace, and reſtitution awarded; and now the Attorney-General moved for re-reſtitution on an affidavit made, that when the force was found, the defendant tendered a traverſe of not guilty to the inquiſition, which the juſtice of peace refuſed to accept.

Per curiam, (except Gould, Juſtice.) The juſtice of peace ſhould have accepted the traverſe, for the fact was traverſable, and the law was taken to be ſo in this court during all the time that Chief Juſtice Keeling preſided here: it is true, in Styles it is ſaid, that on an indictment at ſeſſions, the juſtices may accept a traverſe, but that a juſtice of peace, on an inquiſition of a force taken on his view, cannot accept a traverſe, becauſe it is a ſort of judgment on his view; but the law is taken to be otherwiſe. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 170.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. The King v. Dorny.

An inquiſition for a forcible entry was, that the defendant and others into a meſſuage, being a ſchool-houſe, then in the occupation of J.S. entered and being expelled and diſſeiſed, held him out. It was objected, that it does not appear what eſtate J. S. had, ſo that he might be but tenant at will, which is not within any of the ſtatutes. It was ruled, the word diſſeiſed imports, that he had a freehold. 3 Leon. 102. Palm. 277. All. 49.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Here is an entry on J. S. but no expulſion expreſsly alledged; and the diſſeiſin ought to be poſitively charged; the words being expelled and diſſeiſed, they held him out, are a concluſion without premiſes. 1 Sid. 102.

Per curiam. The inquiſition muſt be quaſhed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 6.0. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 419.

Michaelmas, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Tho' an inquiſition of forcible entry be quaſhed, yet reſtitution is not a matter of courſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. p. 12, 423.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. The King v. Brown.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Juſtices of peace, on their view of a force, cannot meddle with the poſſeſſion; all they can do is to remove the force, and commit them that uſe it, and to make a record thereof; and here the record of the commitment was arreſtavi in the preter-perfect tenſe, and not in the preſent tenſe, as it ought to have been, and all records of commitments are; as is committed to the Marſhal in this court; and the record was quaſhed, niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 516.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. On a conviction for a forcible entry, the juſtices ought to commit the offender. If they find force, they are on view to remove it, and commit the offender, but not to award reſtitution, without inquiſition; and this they may do though the entry be peaceable, if the detainer be with force, in which caſe ſo may convict the offender on the view. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 495.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Hardeſty v. Goodenough.

An inquiſition for a forcible entry being removed hither by certiorari at the ſuit of the defendant, the court was moved for a procedendo before filing, on ſuggeſtion that the defendant got poſſeſſion of an houſe, in which there were great ſtore of periſhable goods, and that now he would by this means keep it till the goods would be all ſpoiled.

Per curiam. We may award reſtitution immediately, though we file it, if the defendant does not plead three years quiet poſſeſſion immediately before the force, and that his eſtate does yet continue according to ſtat. 31 Eliz. c. 11. The party ought to be ready with their plea in ſuch a caſe as this; for a perſon may juſtify a forcible entry, if he were three years in quiet poſſeſſion immediately before, and that his eſtate does ſtill continue. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 138.

Hilary, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Taylor and Griffith.

On an indictment for a forcible entry on ſtat. 8 H. 6. c. 9. it was not ſaid in the indictment that the party had been ſeiſed and diſſeiſed by force, and it was quaſhed niſi, &c. and on ſhewing cauſe it was urged, that this need not be expreſsly laid. Pop. 205.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The caſe in Popham was on ſtat. 21 Jac. 1. c. 15. on which it is ſufficient to ſay, that the entry was made on a copyholder or leſſee for years, and that he was expelled; but the preſent caſe is on ſtat. H. 6. on which you muſt always alledge a freehold and ſeiſin in ſomebody; and if it be an entry on a leſſee for years, you muſt ſay, the entry was made on the freehold of A. in the poſſeſſion of B. and that ſo he diſſeiſed A. and of neceſſity there muſt be a diſſeiſin of the freehold laid; and on reſtitution, the poſſeſſion is reſtored to the leſſee, and the freehold to the other; and on this ſtatute diſſeiſin is a term of art, and not to be ſupplied by any other word: wherefore the rule was made abſolute. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 123.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Taylor and Griffith.

An indictment of forcible entry and detainer concluded againſt the peace of the late King, and the preſent Queen, the entry being in K. William's time, and the detainer in the Queen's time.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The concluſion is very improper, but there are too many miſtakes of this ſort to reverſe them all. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 115.

Hilary, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Watton.

In the caption of an inquiſition for a forcible entry, it was ſaid, the jurors ſworn and charged on their oaths, &c. and to this it was excepted, that it did not appear what the jury were ſworn to do, whether they were an inqueſt of inquiry, or a petit jury: and though it might not be neceſſary to ſay, that it was to inquire, &c. yet at leaſt it ought to appear, that they were an inqueſt: and the court ordered precedents to be ſearched.

And on the ſearch the court were informed that moſt inquiſitions in King Charles the ſecond's time, that wanted theſe words, to inquire, were quaſhed.

To which Holt, Chief Juſtice, anſwered, that he had known inquiſitions quaſhed for it; but ſince it was a particular offence, and at the ſuit of the party by the ſtatute, by his conſent none ſhould ever be quaſhed for it; and he obſerved that in no indictment it is ever ſaid what the jury is to inquire of, but only to inquire for our Lady the Queen, &c. and as to the want of the words to inquire, in caſe of a petit jury, you only ſay, elected, tried, and ſworn, without ſaying, to try the iſſue; and here it is ſaid, ſworn and charged, ſay on their oath, and it does appear that they were ſworn to preſent, becauſe there is no iſſue joined; and the reaſon why on the preſentment at the general quarter ſeſſions it is neceſſary to ſay, to inquire of, &c. is, becauſe their commiſſion is ſuch, and the jury muſt inquire according to their commiſſion; but here their commiſſion is by a ſtatute: and if it were an indictment for a rict on ſtat. H. 4. it might perhaps be held well, without the words to inquire. Wherefore the inquiſition was confirmed by the court. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 95.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. The Queen v. Goodenough.

An inquiſition of a forcible entry found before a juſtice of the peace in the country, was removed into this court by certiorari. And in ſtay of reſtitution, the defendant pleaded poſſeſſion three years before the indictment found, according to ſtat. 31 Eliz. c. 11. And on a traverſe to the plea it was found againſt the defendant. And now the court was moved that the defendant ought not to pay coſts in this caſe; but the court on view of the ſtatute ordered the maſter to tax coſts.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, that by ſtat. 8 H. 6. immediately on finding the inquiſition of forcible entry, the juſtice was to award reſtitution, and the defendant had no plea to it. And now ſtat. 31. Eliz. had given the defendant the plea of three years quiet poſſeſſion in bar of reſtitution; but in caſe the plea was found againſt him, it had given coſts in expreſs words. And as to ſtat. 5 & 6 W. & M. c. 11. he did not take it to be within the ſtatute, becauſe the inquiſition was not found at the ſeſſions; but if it had been found at the ſeſſions, and removed from thence by certiorari, the defendant muſt have paid coſts by the ſtatute. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1035.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Cockcroft v. Smith.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 266 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Hilary, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Depuke.

The court was moved to quaſh an indictment for a forcible entry, which ſet forth, that the defendant entered forcibly into the cloſe of J. S. and turned him out; whereas before the time, the term of which J. S. had been poſſeſſed was elapſed; the exception was, that the eſtate of J. S. ſhould have been particularly ſet forth, for he might have been a tenant at ſufferance; and it has been often adjudged, that a tenant at ſufferance is not within the ſtatute of forcible entries; it was likewiſe urged, that by the words had been it does not appear, but the eſtate of J. S. was determined before the entry. Therefore the indictment was quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 273.

Trinity, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Baker et al.

The court was moved to quaſh a conviction for a forcible entry, becauſe there wanted the words violently entered, on reading the conviction it was, with force and arms entered, which the court ſaid was bad; for it might be with force and arms, and not violently, which are the words of the ſtatute. Therefore the conviction was quaſhed. Vide Mod. Rep. 11. p. 235.

Trinity, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Layton or Leighton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in pages 177 and 256, under the heads Bail and Certiorari.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. The King v. Jones.

A conviction for a forcible entry was quaſhed for the old exception of meſſuage or tenement; but the reſtitution was oppoſed, on an affidavit that the parties title (which was by leaſe) was expired ſince the conviction. The court ſaid, they had no diſcretionary power in the caſe, but were bound to award reſtitution on quaſhing the conviction. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 474.

Hilary, 1 Geo. 2. The King v. Sir Edmund Elwell and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 258, of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 3. The King v. Storr.

On ſhewing cauſe againſt a rule obtained to quaſh four indictments, which were alledged to be only private injuries, though laid vi et armis; after hearing the arguments of council on both ſides, three of the indictments were quaſhed, and the rule diſcharged as to the fourth.

Lord Mansfield. The objection to the fourth indictment is given up; the other three ſtand all of them on the ſame ground, nothing but the vi et armis implies force, every force and violence is a breach of the peace; I think the preſent caſe within thoſe that juſtify the quaſhing.

Wilmot, Yates, and Aſton, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per Curiam. Let the three indictments be quaſhed, and the rule diſcharged as to the fourth. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1698.

Trinity, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Bake, and fifteen others.

On ſhewing cauſe why an indictment ſhould not be quaſhed, which was brought for a forcible entry, the objection was, that the indictment was only for with force and arms) breaking and entering a cloſe (not a dwelling-houſe) and unlawfully and unjuſtly expelling the proſecutors, and keeping them out of poſſeſſion.

After hearing the arguments of council on both ſides, the court made the rule abſolute for quaſhing the indictment.

Wilmot, Juſtice. No doubt, an indictment will lie at common law for a forcible entry; though they are generally brought on the ſtatutes: and then it is neceſſary to ſtate the nature of the eſtate, becauſe there muſt be a reſtitution; but they may be brought at common law.

The words "force and arms," are not applied to the whole, yet it ought to be ſuch an actual force as implies a breach of the peace, and makes an indictable offence; and it is a rule of law, "That it ought to appear on the face of the indictment to be an indictable offence."

Yates and Aſton, Juſtices, concurred with Mr. Juſtice Wilmot in opinion.

Per Curiam. Let the rule be made abſolute to quaſh this indictment. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1731.

Forgery ſee Indictment.

Franchiſes, &c.

Hilary, 2 W. 3. Cotton v. Johnſon.

On an ejectment brought for lands in the Iſle of Ely, after not guilty pleaded, the privilege of the County Palatine was ſuggeſted on the roll, that no jury ſhould be returned out of the Iſle, and ſo a venire facias was prayed to R. the next vill in the county of Cambridge. It was objected, that the defendant's confeſſion ſhould have been entered likewiſe on the roll, viz. and becauſe the defendant does not deny this, therefore, &c. but adjudged, though ſome precedents are ſo, yet either way is well enough; for if the fact is otherwiſe, he may bring a writ of error, and aſſign it for error: then it was objected, that the entry ought to have been, that the free tenants, and reſidents in the ſaid Iſle ought not to go to make a jury without that liberty; for otherwiſe it does not appear to be a privilege annexed to the inhabitants, but a mere cogniſance in the Biſhop; however, the trial being in the county of Cambridge, of which this is parcel, the court held it to be aided by ſtat. 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 8. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 110.

Eaſter, 5 W. & M. Hicks v. Harris.

Where a common or way is claimed, the title ought to be ſet forth in the declaration; but for a fair or franchiſe, which is no charge to another's ſoil, there the words ought to have are good without any thing further. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 35.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Lamb v. Jeniſon. Error.

On error brought to reverſe a judgment in the court of Durham, in ejectment before juſtices of aſſize; the error aſſigned was, that a tales de circumſtantibus was awarded, which ought not to have been, for ſtat. 5 El. c. 25. which gives the tales de circumſtantibus in Wales, and Counties Palatine, gives it only before the juſtices of the great ſeſſions, and not before juſtices in Eyre, as theſe are. But the court held this to be no error becauſe the ſtile of the juſtices in the court of Durham is always juſtices of aſſize; and there is no great ſeſſions at all in the County Palatine; and therefore this act muſt be underſtood of ſuch courts therein as anſwer to the grand ſeſſions in Wales.

Then it was urged that the words by the court were omitted in the judgment; but it was anſwered and reſolved, that the words therefore it is conſidered, without ſaying by the court were good in the County Palatine courts, which are looked on in that reſpect as the courts of Weſtminſter; and ſo the judgment was affirmed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 181.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Hinton v. Hern.

The court was moved in behalf of the univerſity of Cambridge, that they might be allowed their privilege in relation to licenſing of taverns in Cambridge, on producing their charter; but it was denied.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. When a privilege is once aſcertained, and appears on record, then it ſhall afterwards be allowed on motion; but where it was never conteſted before, there it muſt be judicially determined; and ſo it was done in the caſe of Caſtle v. Litchfield in the Exchequer. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 165.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Neſſon v. Finch.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 241 of this work, under the head Bonds.

Trinity, 11 W. 3. The City of London v. Vanacre.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 292 of this work, under the head Corporations.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Willbraham v. Poley.

The court was moved to ſtay the return of a writ of error out of Chancery, to reverſe an outlawry in the county palatine of Cheſter, according to the opinion of L. Coke 4 Inſt. 214. But not allowed; for this old uſage is exploded by ſtat. 32 H. 8. c. 43. and 33 H. 8. c. 13. for coroners are there introduced by that ſtat. and there was no Chief Juſtice in Cheſter till Queen Elizabeth's time, for till then there being but one, there could be no Chief Juſtice. Vide Salk. vol. 2. p. 500.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Croſſe v. Smith.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 161 of this work, under the head Bail.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Taylor v. Reignolds.

On a Habeas Corpus brought to the Stannary Courts it was returned, that they have conuſance of pleas by the charters of Edward 1. and another of Edward 3. and that this matter might be well returned. Style 255. 1 Rol. Ab. 547, 548. were cited.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, conuſance of pleas, or exempt juriſdiction, were never returned to a habeas corpus; for then they might return a falſity to ſupport their juriſdiction, which would not be traverſable, and ſo a ſubject would be ouſted of the privilege of ſuing, or being ſued, in the King's ſuperior courts, without an opportunity of controverting the matter, and he quoted the caſe of Biſhop v. Percival in Hard. and as to an exempt juriſdiction that always is for the benefit and eaſe of the reſiants within ſuch a vill, borough, &c. not to be uſed out of their vill, &c. then ſurely they may wave that benefit, and remove their cauſes to the ſuperior courts. And if one who is in an exempt juriſdiction, be impleaded out of it, his way is to plead it, and the Lord has nothing to do with it; but as to conuſance of pleas, that cannot be pleaded by a defendant, but muſt be demanded by the Lord of the Franchiſe, his bailiff, or attorney. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 666.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Bidolph v. Veal.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 410 of this work, under the head Error.

Trinity 13 W. 3. Wilbraham v. Lownds.

In treſpaſs, wherefore he broke his cloſe in Cheſhire: it was pleaded, that this court ought not to take conuſance of it, for that the defendant at the time of the ſuppoſed treſpaſs and exhibiting his bill was an inhabitant of the county palatine where the treſpaſs was made, and prays judgment, if this court will take conuſance; to which there was a demurrer. In maintenance whereof it was ſaid, that the declaration was againſt him in cuſtody of the Marſhal; that his being in cuſtody of the Marſhal was not traverſable, no more than being the King's creditor in a quo minus. Beſides, the defendant's being an inhabitant of the county palatine does not hinder his being an inhabitant out of it: for a man may be an inhabitant in ſeveral places atonce; and in all appeals and indictments of murder, the party is alledged to be an inhabitant in the place where the murder is committed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. As to your caſe of a quo minus, it is traverſable, if the party comes in due time to do it; and if one be a priſoner here, againſt whom one has a cauſe of action ariſing within the county palatine, ſo that his being a priſoner here, hinders that perſon from proceeding againſt him below; ſurely the cauſe ariſing within the county palatine, ſhall not hinder us from having conuſance of it here; but that is where he is firſt in cuſtody of the Marſhal for cauſe, and another perſon, or the ſame party has another cauſe of action ariſing againſt him in the county palatine; and if the truth were ſo, that the defendant was in cuſtody of the Marſhal before for cauſe ariſing within our juriſdiction, the defendant, inſtead of demurring, ought to ſhew it in ſupport of our juriſdiction. But any plea of privilege is good to a declaration againſt one in cuſtody of the Marſhal, if he was brought wrongfully there. As if an attorney of the C. B. be arreſted on a writ, and is in cuſtody of the Marſhal for want of bail, or ſuppoſe he puts in bail, it ſhall not hinder him of pleading his privilege; becauſe he cannot plead till he put in bail, if he be not in actual cuſtody; and if we give judgment, it muſt be for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 535.

Trinity, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Taylor.

The court was moved againſt the keeper of the priſon of the Gatehouſe for not returning a habeas corpus for bringing up priſoners in order to be ſent to Newgate, the county goal: on this occaſion, Holt, Chief Juſtice, laid it down, that none can claim a priſon as a franchiſe, unleſs they have alſo a goal-delivery of felony, which the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter hath not, and therefore ought to ſend a calendar of them to Newgate, or return the habeas corpus to this court, with a claim of their franchiſe. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 343.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Ruſh v. The Chancellor and Scholars of Oxford.

The court was moved for a prohibition to a ſuit in the Vice-Chancellor's court againſt certain brewers, for ſelling ill beer and falſe meaſure; and the particular exceſs of juriſdiction alledged was, the exacting juratory caution; and it was alſo inſiſted, that tho' they have the aſſiſe of bread and beer by charter, yet a power to puniſh by fine, and proceed according to the civil law cannot be by charter.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Before ſtat. 14 H. 8. the univerſity had the juriſdiction of a leet, and exerciſed it in the Vice-Chancellor's court; but the charter of the 14 H. 8. grants them power of treſpaſſes, and that over all perſons whatſoever, if a ſcholar be a party. Adjourned. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 343.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. 2. Ibbotſon's Caſe.

One Vawkes moved for an information in nature of a quo warranto againſt one Ibbotſon for making a warren for rabbits.

Lord Hardwicke. We do indeed grant theſe informations for public uſurpations on the crown, but never for private uſurpations of franchiſes; but the way is, to apply to the Attorney-General in ſuch caſes. So I remember my Lord Barrington's caſe, when I was Attorney-General, who had ſet up a fair, and the court was applied to for one of theſe informations, but refuſed it, and directed an application to the Attorney-General, and they did accordingly, and I granted it; but I would not by this be underſtood to give an opinion that a quo warranto lies for this, as if it were a free warren. Vide Caſes Temp. Lord Hardw. p. 261.

Fraud.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Meggot, Aſſignee of Wilſon a Bankrupt v. Mills & al.

Adjudged, If the goods of a bankrupt had been aſſigned to any other perſon than a creditor, the keeping of the poſſeſſion of them had made the bill of ſale fraudulent. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 286.

Hilary, 9 W. 3. Smith v. Weſtall.

In a ſtat. made the laſt ſeſſions of parliament for regulation of brokers, there is a clauſe which makes all contracts for transferring of bank-ſtock void, which by the tenor of the agreement ought to have been performed after the 1ſt of May, unleſs they are performable within three days, &c. the plaintiff's caſe was as follows: an agreement was made in February by A. with B. that A. ſhould transfer bank-ſtock to B. on the requeſt of B. at any time before the 10th of May. It was urged, that becauſe this contract might have been performed before the 1ſt day of May, therefore it was not within the words of the ſtat. And it was compared to a caſe on the ſtat. of frauds, where the agreement was, that A. in conſideration of 5 l. paid by B. ſhould pay to B. 20 l. on his day of marriage, and the promiſe was not in writing; it was held by the judges at Serjeants Inn to be out of the intent of the ſtatute, and good, becauſe it might have been performed within the year.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. I granted that the caſe of the marriage was ſo adjudged; and if the marriage had taken effect within the year, they all agreed no writing was neceſſary; but in the caſe before them the marriage did not happen within the year, but nine years after the promiſe; and he was of opinion, that it ought to have been in writing, becauſe the deſign of the ſtat. was, not to truſt to the memory of witneſſes for a longer time than a year; but the majority of the judges were of opinion, that it was not within the intent of the ſtat. of frauds, and therefore he returned the poſtea accordingly, the cauſe being tried before himſelf. As to the caſe in queſtion, he was of opinion, that if the requeſt had been before the 1ſt of May, and the contract performed, it had been good; but if no requeſt was made before the 1ſt of May, the contract being performable afterwards, was within the intent of the act; and in fact no requeſt appeared to have been made before the 1ſt of May. And therefore judgment was for the defendant, who had pleaded the ſtat. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 316.

Eaſter, 9 W. 3. Watkins v. Perkins, at Guildhall.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If A. promiſes B. being a ſurgeon, that if B. cures D. of a wound, he will ſee him paid; this is only a promiſe to pay if D. does not, and therefore it ought to be in writing by the ſtatute of frauds: but if A. promiſes, in ſuch a caſe, that he will be B.'s paymaſter, whatever he ſhall deſerve; it is immediately the debt of A. and he is liable thereto without writing. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 224.

Hilary, 10 W. 3. Cole v. Davis, & al. Aſſignees of Maul, a Bankrupt.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 192 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Starney.

The defendant was convicted in a ſummary manner on ſtat. 13 & 14 Car. 2. for a fraud in payment of a cuſtom; and the conviction being removed here, was quaſhed on motion.

Per curiam. The ſtatute directs no particular way of trial, but only that the offender ſhall be fined at the ſeſſions; and whenever an act of parliament makes an offence, and is ſilent on the manner of trying it, it ſhall be intended to be a trial by jury, according to Magna Charta. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 99.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Popley v. Aſbly.

The defendant being a Captain of a ſhip, took up ſeveral goods for the uſe of the ſhip from the plaintiff, who ſent his ſervant with a bill to him for his money. The defendant orders the ſervant to write him a receipt for the money, which he did, and thereon he gives him a note on a third perſon, payable in two months. The maſter ſent ſeveral times to the third perſon to preſent him the note, but could not get ſight of him within the time at which the money was payable: the party breaks, and now this action was brought for the money againſt the Captain. All this appearing on evidence, and that the Captain went to ſea next day after he gave the note, the Chief Juſtice directed a verdict for the plaintiff.

And, alſo obſerved, If a man give a note on a third perſon in payment, and the other takes it abſolutely as payment; yet if the drawer knew the third perſon breaking, or to be in a failing condition, and the receiver of the note uſes all reaſonable diligence to get payment, but cannot, this is a fraud, and therefore no payment; and here was no laches in the plaintiff; for the party failed before the money was payable, and the Captain was gone to ſea, therefore he could not bring him back to give him notice: but if a man takes a note, and after it is payable, makes no demand, and that he might be paid if he had been diligent enough, there, if the party, on whom the note is, fails, it is at his peril that took the note. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 147.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Birkmyr or Burkmyre, v. Darnell.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 33 of this work, under the head Actions.

Hilary, 8 Geo. Towers v. Sir John Oſborne.

The defendant beſpoke a chariot, and when it was made refuſed to take it; and in an action for the value, it was objected, that they ſhould prove ſomething given in earneſt, or a note in writing, ſince there was no delivery of any part of the goods. But the Chief Juſtice ruled this not to be a caſe within the ſtatute of frauds, which relates only to contracts for the actual ſale of goods, where the buyer is immediately anſwerable, without time given him by ſpecial agreement, and the ſeller is to deliver the goods immediately. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 506.

Hilary, 4 Geo. 2. Elkin v. Heart.

In an action of aſſumpſit, the plaintiff declared, that J. G. the defendant's ſon-in-law was indebted to him in ſuch a ſum for diet and lodging, and that he brought an action againſt the ſaid J. G. for the ſaid ſum; and thereon the defendant promiſed, in conſideration that the plaintiff would forbear to ſue the ſaid J. G. for the ſaid debt, that the ſaid J. G. ſhould not leave the kingdom without paying the ſame: and the plaintiff aſſigned for breach, that J. G. left the kingdom without paying the debt: the defendant pleaded the ſtatute of frauds, and that there was no note in writing: on demurrer to this plea, the plaintiff's council argued, that this was not a promiſe to pay the debt in default of the principal, which is the caſe provided againſt by the ſtatute, but a collateral promiſe on a conſideration ariſing between the plaintiff and the defendant; for this action is not brought for the debt of J. G. but for the damages ſuſtained by the plaintiff, by the defendant's having ſuffered J. G. to leave the kingdom without paying the debt; and the conſideration is, that the plaintiff had waived his action againſt J. G. and conſequently the coſts of the ſame. The plaintiff inſiſted the plea amounted to the general iſſue, which therefore the defendant ſhould have pleaded, and have given the ſtatute in evidence, becauſe it differs from a plea of infancy, &c. which is by the common law. The defendant's council inſiſted there was no new conſideration, as the plaintiff was not bound to forbear for any certain time: and to the other matter, that the plea contained matter of law.

Per curiam. If there be no certain time of forbearance agreed on, the party is to forbear for ever: but the court ſeemed inclined to think that there was a new conſideration, and that therefore it was for the debt of J. G. and ſo not within the ſtatute: but adjourned. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 202.

Trinity, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Wilſon.

Per curiam. A parol promiſe to pay the debt of another in conſideration of a forbearance is void by the ſtat. of frauds and perjuries. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 873.

Hilary, 18 Geo. 2. Lekeux v. Naſh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 467 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Trinity, 30 & 31 Geo. 2. Bright. Executor of Hannah Criſp, Widow v. Eynon.

On ſhewing cauſe on a rule obtained to ſet aſide the verdict in this cauſe, with coſts. Lord Mansfield, obſerved, that he left two queſtions to the jury.

1ſt, "Whether the name of the teſtatrix was "forged?"

2dly, "If they took it on the evidence laid before "them to be her hand, then, whether it was not obtained by fraud, and without her knowing the contents and effect of the writing ſhe ſigned?"

The jury on theſe queſtions found for the defendant.

After hearing the arguments of council on both ſides, the verdict was ſet aſide on payment of coſts.

Lord Mansfield. (After recapitulating the evidence offered at the trial,) obſerved, that he went on the apparent manifeſt fraud and impoſition in obtaining the diſcharge from the teſtatrix, if ſhe really ſigned it.

Fraud or covin may in judgment of the law avoid every kind of act, many inſtances are put in Fermor's caſe. 3 Co. 77.

What circumſtances and facts amount to ſuch fraud or covin, is always a queſtion of law, courts of equity and courts of law have a concurrent juriſdiction to ſuppreſs and relieve againſt fraud. The writing on the face of it ſpeaks impoſition.

Deniſon and Foſter, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with the Chief Juſtice.

Per curiam. Let the rule for ſetting aſide the verdict be made abſolute, with coſts. Vide Bur. vol. 1. page 390.

Hilary, 31 Geo. 2. Worſely and another, aſſignees of Richard Slader, a Bankrupt v. De Mattos and Slader.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 200 of this work, under the head Bankrupts.

Hilary, 33 Geo. 2. Foxcroft and another, Aſſignees of Satterthwaite, a Bankrupt v. Devonſhire and others.

Per curiam. We are all clearly of opinion, "that "no concluſion attempted to be drawn from the evidence in this caſe, allowing it to be true, amounted "in point of law to the offence of fraud and a forfeiture of the debt on that account." See this caſe more fully ſtated in page 202 of thiswork, under the head Bankrupts.

Game.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Bennet v. Talbot or Talboys.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 348 of this work, under the Declaration.

Hilary, 8 & 9 W. 3. The King v. Yaites.

The defendant was convicted of killing rabbets in a private warren, by inquiſition taken before a juſtice of peace, and was fined 20*s.* a rabbit; and the court was moved to quaſh the inquiſition, becauſe the juſtices of peace have no authority to ſet a fine on a man for ſuch offence. For the ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 25. gives treble coſts and damages, but no fine. And ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. cap. 23. extends only to game, which cannot be extended to rabbits kept in a private warren. And of this opinion was the whole court, and therefore the inquiſition was quaſhed. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 151.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Sutton v. Moody.

On an action of treſpaſs wherefore he broke his cloſe, and hunted, killed, took, and carried away an hundred conies, his property, then and there found.

On not guilty pleaded, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and intire damages. It was now moved in arreſt of judgment, that conies are wild by nature, and therefore there is no property in them in any one; therefore ſince the plaintiff has laid property in them, by the word his, it is ill, and no damages ought to have been given for them. But if the action had been for having hunted in his warren, and killed his conies there found, it had been good; for then he would have had a privileged property in them. The ſame law for fiſh taken in his fiſhpond. Fitzh. N. Br. 17. 1 Cro. 553. Greenhill v. Child, March 48. Jones 450. But generally there is no property in things which are wild by nature, and therefore trover does not lie, for a hawk, without alledging that he was tamed, and in ſuch an action it was adjudged againſt the plaintiff, though it was alledged in the declaration, that he was poſſeſſed of the hawk as of his own proper goods. Dyer 306. b. pl. 66. But not allowed.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. A warren is a privilege, to uſe land for ſuch a purpoſe; and a man may have warren in his own land, and he may alien the land, and retain the privilege of warren. But this gives no greater property in the conies to the warrener, for the property ariſes to the party from the poſſeſſion; and therefore if a man keeps conies in his cloſe (as he may) he has a poſſeſſory property in them, ſo long as they abide there; but if they run into the land of his neighbour, he may kill them, for then he has the poſſeſſory property. Vide Raym. vol, 1, p. 250.

Michaelmas, 2 Ann. The Queen v. George.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 255 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Hilary, 8 Geo. The King v. Filer.

The defendant was convicted on Stat. 5 Ann. c. 14. for keeping a lurcher to deſtroy game; not being qualified.

It was excepted, that it was not ſhewn he had made uſe of the dog to deſtroy the game; and it may be he kept it only for a gentleman who was qualified, it being common to put out dogs in that manner.

Per curiam. Stat. 5 Ann. c. 14. is in the diſjunctive keep or uſe, ſo that the bare keeping a lurcher is an offence, and ſo it was determined in the caſe of The King v. King, Eaſt. 3 Geo. in this court which was a conviction for keeping a gun, and it was not doubted by the court, whether the keeping was not enough to be ſhewn, but the only queſtion they made was, whether a gun was ſuch an engine as is within that ſtatute, and in that caſe a difference was taken as to keeping a dog which could only be to deſtroy the game, and the keeping a gun, which a man might do for the defence of his houſe. The conviction was confirmed. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 496.

Hilary, 9 Geo. The King v. Gage.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 284, of this work, under the head Conviction.

Eaſter, 10 Geo. Shipton v. Hopton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the head Debt.

Michaelmas 10 Geo. The King v. Burchet, his Attorney, and the Town Clerk of Guilford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 137 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Hilary, 12 Geo. The King v. John Hill.

The defendant was convicted by Sir Henry Bateman a juſtice of the peace of Middleſex, for unlawfully keeping a lurcher and a gun, to kill and deſtroy the game, not being qnalified by law, and againſt the form of the ſtatute in that caſe made and provided. And this conviction being removed into this court by certiorari, was quaſhed, becauſe it was only averred generally, that he was not qualified, and did not aver that the defendant had not the particular qualifications mentioned in the ſtatute as to degree, eſtate, &c. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1415.

Hilary 12. Geo. The King v. Buck.

The court was moved to quaſh an indictment for killing an hare, this being a matter indictable, by ſtat. 5 Ann. c. 14. appointing a ſummary proceeding before juſtices of the peace; and thecaſe of The King v. James, Trinity, 1 Geo. was cited, where an indictment for keeping an alehouſe was quaſhed, becauſe ſtat. 3. Car. 1. c. 3. had directed a particular remedy.

Per curiam. The indictment muſt be quaſhed, Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 679.

Trinity, 12 Geo. The King v. Chipp.

The defendant was convicted on ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 23. for deſtroying game, not being a perſon duly qualified.

The defendant's council took the following exceptions to the conviction:

1ſt. That the information, which was ſet forth in the indictment was inſufficient to warrant the conviction; for the information only recited that he was an inferior tradeſman, but did not ſhew that he had waſted his ſubſtance, or that he was a diſſolute perſon, which are the words of the ſtatute; and therefore it did not appear by this conviction that the defendant was ſuch a perſon as was intended by the ſtatute, for he might be an inferior tradeſman, and yet have a ſufficient eſtate to qualify him to hunt, &c.

2dly. That it was not any where ſet forth in the conviction that the defendant did unlawfully hunt; and for any thing which appears in this conviction, the defendant might have bought the hare; and have hunted and killed it in his own yard, which would have been lawful.

3dly. That the conviction ſet forth, that information was given to ſuch a one, a juſtice of peace, but did not ſay then a juſtice, and he might be a juſtice at preſent, and not at the time of the information.

But the court over-ruled all the exceptions; and to the firſt they ſaid, that the ſtatute was in the disjunctive, viz. inferior tradeſmen or diſſolute perſons; and therefore ſaying that the defendant was either, was ſufficient.

To the ſecond, the court ſaid, that the ſtatute forbid ſuch perſons as the defendant to hunt at all, and made it criminal for ſuch perſons to hunt generally. And in this ſtatute there is no diſtinction betwixt lawful and unlawful hunting, as there is in the ſtatute againſt deer-ſtealers; and they agreed, that in a conviction for deer-ſtealing, it muſt be ſet forth, that the defendant did unlawfully hunt, but in the preſent caſe it need not, becauſe there is no ſuch diſtinction.

To the third exception the court ſaid, that the conviction ſet forth, that information was made to ſuch a one being one of the juſtices, &c. which muſt be intended that he was one at that time, and was ſufficient without ſaying then.

And ſo all the exceptions were over-ruled, and the conviction confirmed. Vide Stra. vol. 1. p. 711.

Trinity, 11 Geo. 2. The King v. Gardner.

The defendant was convicted by a juſtice of peace for keeping a gun, contrary to ſtat. 5 Ann, c. 14. And it was objected, that a gun is not mentioned in that ſtatute; and though there are many things for the bare keeping of which a man may be convicted, yet they are only ſuch as can be only uſed for the deſtruction of game, whereas a gun is neceſſary for the defence of an houſe, or for a farmer to ſhoot crows.

Per curiam. This was made a queſtion in the caſe of The King v. King Eaſter 3 Geo. but never determined. And on conſideration we are of opinion, that a gun differs from nets and dogs, which can only be kept for an ill purpoſe; and therefore this conviction muſt be quaſhed. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1098.

Hilary, 13 Geo. 2. Hooker v. Wilks.

In an action of debt on ſtat. 8 Geo. c. 19. for the penalty of 30 l. incurred by uſing an hound to deſtroy game. After a verdict for the plaintiff, the judgment was arreſted; for ſtat. 5 Ann c. 14. has not the word hound, and the words other engines come after nets, &c. and are applicable only to inanimate things. And this being a penal law, cannot be extended. Stat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 25. has indeed general words, or any other dogs to deſtroy game, but this is not a conviction on that ſtatute. Vide Stra. vol. 2. p. 1126.

See Conviction.

Gaming.

Michaelmas, 6 W. & M. Walker v. Walker.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 342 of this work, under the head Debt.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. St. Leger v. Pope.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 342 of this work, under the head Debt.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. No indeb. aſſump. lies for money won at play, but for money ſtaked on a wager it does, but not otherwiſe, for when the money is in the cuſtody of a third perſon, there the winning the wager determines whoſe property it ſhall be. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 81.

Trinity, 9 W. 3. Stanhope v. Smith.

An action was brought on a note for money won at play, the defendant pleaded the ſtatute of gaming, and ſet forth, that at one ſitting he loſt 85 l. to the plaintiff, and 40 l. more to one Y. and on demurrer it was argued, that the act made no ſecurities void, neither was the winner to pay treble the value of the money won, unleſs it was above 100 l. for if three men ſhould each of them win 50 l. neither of them ſhould forfeit; for though it is more than 100 l. among them all, yet it is under that ſum to each, and the ſtatute makes no forfeiture, but where the perſon winning has got above 100 l. at one ſitting.

Per curiam. The plaintiff muſt have judgment, for the ſtatute intends a remedy, where more than 100 l. is loſt to one perſon, and at one ſitting; for if it be loſt to ſeveral, it is not within that act; as for inſtance, if a man loſes 95 l. to one man, and refuſes to play any longer with him, and then voluntarily loſes 10 l. to another at the ſame ſitting; this ſhall not defeat the firſt perſon of the money which he lawfully won. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 351.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. Huſſey v. Jacob.

This was an action on the caſe brought on a bill of exchange againſt the acceptor, wherein the plaintiff ſet forth, that the bill was drawn by Lord Chandois on the defendant, for the payment of 120 guineas to the plaintiff. Then he ſet forth the cuſtom of merchants, and that both the drawer, the plaintiff, and the acceptor, were perſons uſing trade and merchandize, and that the defendant had not paid the money, &c.

The plaintiff by proteſtation ſaid, that neither Lord Chandois or the plaintiff were perſons uſing merchandize at the time when the bill of exchange was drawn, or at any time afterwards. Then he pleaded, that after making the ſtatute againſt gaming, and before the ſaid bill was given, Lord Chandois and the plaintiff played with dice at a game called hazard; and that his Lordſhip, at one time, loſt 120 guineas to the plaintiff, and that for ſecuring the payment thereof, he drew this bill of exchange on the defendant, who accepted the ſame; and that by virtue of the ſaid ſtatute, the acceptance was void in law.

The plaintiff's council inſiſted, that the ſtatute againſt gaming cannot be pleaded in this action, becauſe it is no anſwer to the cuſtom of merchants, ſo that the declaration is true notwithſtanding this plea.

2dly, It is not averred in the plea, that the plaintiff, Huſſey, accepted the bill for ſecuring the payment of the money loſt at play; and without ſuch averment, it is not within the meaning of the ſtatute.

Per curiam. Judgment muſt be given for the defendant. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 175.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If at one ſitting a perſon loſes above 50 l. to one, and ſo to another, he muſt pay it, for they are ſeveral contracts; ſo if one of them plays with falſe dice, and the other with fair ones, he that plays with the fair dice ſhall recover his winnings. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 540.

Roſtington's Caſe.

One covenanted, that his horſe ſhould run four heats with the horſe of W. R. for 30 l. each heat, which in all amounts to 120 l.

Adjudged, that though he wins every heat, he can recover no part of the money, for though they were diſtinct wagers, yet the contract was intire. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 175. Raym. vol. 1. p. 89.

Eggleton v. Lewin. Error.

On an indebitatus aſſumpſit for 20 l. won at cards, there was judgment by default, and a writ of inquiry executed, &

&c. and on a writ of error brought in the Exchequer Chamber, the error aſſigned was, that a general indeb. aſſumpſit would not lie for money won at play, but the greater number of the judges inclined to think that it would.

Holt, C. J. and Pollexfen, C. J. of C. B. however, held that it would not, becauſe there muſt be ſome meritorious act, as a conſideration to maintain ſuch action; it will lie againſt him who holds the wager, becauſe the law implies a promiſe to deliver the money to the winner. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 176.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Smith v. Ary.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 28 of this work, under the head Actions.

Trinity, 2 Geo. The King v. Dixon and Wiſe.

This was an indictment againſt Dixon and his wife, charging that they and each of them did unjuſtly and unlawfully on ſuch a day, and at divers other days and times, as well before as afterwards, keep a common gaming-houſe againſt the peace, and form of the ſtatute, &c. To this indictment the defendants demurred.

The firſt objection taken againſt the indictment was, that it ſhould not have been brought againſt the huſband and wife, but the huſband only.

Per curiam. This objection would have weight in it, if the property or ownerſhip of the houſe was the matter in queſtion; but it ſignifies nothing here, where only a criminal management of the houſe, in which the wife may probably have as great, nay, a greater ſhare than the huſband, is the fact charged.

The ſecond objection was, that it was charged in the indictment, that they and each of them, kept a gaming houſe, &c. which was wrong; for two perſons cannot jointly and ſeverally keep an houſe; the keeping of the houſe by the huſband and wife is not a keeping of the houſe by the huſband only, or by the wife only; and cited 2 Rol. 51.

Per curiam. The caſe in Rolle's is not applicable to the preſent caſe. For there the uſing of the trade, not being the offence, but the uſing the trade without having ſerved an apprenticeſhip, (an act to be performed by each ſingly and ſeverally) it was an offence that was in its own nature impoſſible to be committed jointly: whereas here this may be committed by both jointly; and the addition of either of them is but a further ſpecifying and corroborating the former charge.

3dly. It was objected, that this indictment was on a particular ſtatute, viz. ſtat. 33 Hen. 8. c. 9. ſect. 12. which ſtatute chalking out a particular method of proceeding, for the recovery of 40*s. per day* the party could not proceed by indictment.

Per curiam. Keeping a gaming-houſe is an offence indictable at common law as a nuiſance, nor will the concluſion of the indictment againſt the form of the ſtatute bar the party from ſupporting the indictment by common law, ſuppoſing it could not be maintained on the ſtatute.

But we are clearly of opinion, that an indictment is not taken away by any words in the ſtatute. The words of the act inſiſted on are, to be recovered by, &c. or otherwiſe; now all the remedies, or different ways of proceeding, beſides by indictment, having been enumerated before in the ſtat. theſe words, or otherwiſe, muſt be underſtood of indictment, or nothing.

4thly. It was objected, that if this were to be conſidered as an indictment for a nuiſance at common law, it would not be good for want of concluding to the common nuiſance of the King's ſubjects.

Per curiam. It is not neceſſary to conclude ſo here; the offence in its own nature importing that it is ſo. Beſides, the word common ſupplies this defect, if it were one.

Laſtly. It was objected, that as this indictment was laid, the penalty of 40*s. per day* given by this ſtatute could not be recovered; for it is not ſaid that for the ſpace of one day, or ſeveral days they kept, &c. but only that ſuch a day, &c.

Per curiam. Keeping a common gaming-houſe any part of the day is enough. Indeed more days might have been laid; for the time is ſo uncertain as to all but one day, that only 40*s.* is recoverable. So judgment was given for the King niſi. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 335.

Michaelmas 9 Geo. Coleborne v. Stockdale.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 346 of this work, under the head Debt.

Michaelmas 10 Geo. Anonymous.

On a motion for an information againſt the defendant on an affidavit of the proſecutor, who made oath that he had loſt 15*l.* or thereabout, to the defendant at one ſitting; the words of ſtat. 9 Ann. c. 14. being, any perſon winning at one time above the value of 10*l. and being convicted thereof on an information, or indictment, ſhall forfeit five times the value*, &c.

The council on the other ſide objected, that the proſecutor had already indicted the defendant for the ſame offence, and that the grand jury had found the bill; which was true; but the defendant was not tried on it, becauſe it was quaſhed for inſufficiency.

However, the court would not grant the proſecutor leave to file an information, for that the grand jury had already found a bill, and though the indictment was quaſhed, they might find another bill for the ſame offence; therefore there was no reaſon for this court to interpoſe. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 187.

Trinity 9 Geo. 2. The King v. Luckup.

The defendant was convicted on an information on the gaming act, which ſays he ſhall forfeit five times the value, to be recovered by a common informer, on conviction. The court was moved, that a fine ſhould be ſet on the defendant if he refuſed to ſpeak with the proſecutor.

Per curiam. All the judgment we can give is, that he be committed; and a new action muſt be brought on that judgment for the forfeiture, which was thought ſufficient to deter offenders. In the caſe of recuſancy there is no other judgment. Lutw. 159, 162. 5 Mod. 431. Cro. Car. 504. Co. Ent. 362. Therefore the defendant was diſcharged without any fine or coſts. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1048.

Trinity, 14 Geo. 2. Bowyer v. Bampton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 238 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange, &c

Michaelmas, 15 Geo. 2. Goodburn v. Marley.

An action was brought for 15 l. won as a wager at an horſe race. And on a cauſe made and argued, it was determined, that the action would not lie; for ſtat. 16 Car. 2. c. 7. has theſe words horſe racing, and a great many other words which are not particularly mentioned in ſtat. 9 Ann. c. 14. but are within the general words other game or games. And the court ſeemed to be of this opinion in the caſe of Oates v. Collins. Trin. 6 Geo. 2. though it was never determined. 1 Vent. 253. The defendant had judgment. Vide Strange, vol. 2. page 1159.

Hilary 19 Geo. 2. Barjeau v. Walmſley.

The plaintiff and defendant gamed together at toſſing up for five guineas a time, and the plaintiff having won all the defendant's ready money lent him ten guineas at a time, and won it 'till the defendant had borrowed 120 guineas.

It was inſiſted for the defendant, that by ſtat. 9 Ann. c. 16. the plaintiff could not maintain an action; for by that act, "all notes, bills, bonds, judgments, mortgages, or other ſecurities, or conveyances, given, granted, drawn, entered into, or executed for money knowingly lent and advanced to game with, are " made void," and the borrowing on an agreement to pay is a ſecurity.

Lee, Chief Juſtice. This is not a caſe within the ſtatute, for there is not the word contract, as in the ſtatute of uſury; and the word ſecurities, as it ſtands in this act, muſt mean laſting liens on the eſtate. The parliament might think there could be no great harm in a parol contract, where the credit was not likely to run very high; and therefore confined the act to written ſecurities. Wherefore the plaintiff obtained a verdict for 126 l. Vide Strange vol. 2. p. 1249.

Michaelmas, 1 Geo. 3. Palmes Robinſon, Eſq; v. Ann Bland, Spinſter, Adminiſtratrix de bonis non of Sir John Bland, Bart. deceaſed.

On a caſe reſerved at niſi prius in this cauſe on a bill of exchange, given for a debt won at play in France, the following queſtions (among others) came before the court.

1ſt, Whether the plaintiff is entitled to recover his bill of exchange by force of the writing.

2dly, Whether he is entitled to recover on the original conſideration and contract by the juſtice and equity of his caſe, excluſive of any aſſiſtance from the bill of exchange.

Lord Mansfield. As to the firſt queſtion, the defendant has objected, " That the conſideration of the " bill of exchange is wholly money won and lent at " play. Therefore by force of the writing, the plain- " tiff cannot by the law of England, recover ſuch ſe- " curity, being utterly void," and no doubt the law of England is ſo.

The bill of exchange is as a ſecurity void (being for a gaming debt) both in France and England. We may therefore lay the bill of exchange out of the caſe; it is very clear the plaintiff cannot recover on that count.

As to the ſecond queſtion, the other counts for money had and received to the plaintiff's uſe, and for money lent and advanced to him, I ſhall conſider it diſtinctly as to each part, the money won, and the money lent.

1ſt, As to the money won, by the rule of the law of England, no action can be maintained for it.

2dly, As to the money lent, the ſenſe of the legiſlature ſeems agreeable to the authorities cited.

Stat 16 Car. 2. cap. 7. does not meddle with money lent at play; but as to money (exceeding 100 l.) loſt and not paid down at the time of loſing it: it ſays, " That the looſer ſhall not be compellable to make it " good; but the contract and contracts for the ſame, " and for every part thereof, and all ſecurities ſhall " be void, &c." The words, " contract and contracts " for the ſame." are not in ſtat. 9 Ann. and I dare ſay were deſignedly left out; it only ſays, " That all " notes, bills, bonds, judgments, mortgages, or other ſe- " curities, &c. for money won or loſt at play, ſhall be " utterly void, &c." See this caſe more fully ſtated in page 338 of this work, under the head Damages.

Grants, &c.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. Germain or Germin and Wife, v. Orchard.

In an action of treſpaſs with force and arms, not guilty was pleaded, and iſſue was joined thereon, and as to the other part of the treſpaſs to ſuch a time, the ſtatute of limitations was pleaded; on which there was a demurrer; and as to the reſidue a juſtification, and iſſue on it, and a venire to try that, and inquire of the damages on the demurrer: accordingly there was an inquiry of damages as to the iſſue, but not on the demurrer, and as to that the plaintiff entered a non pros, and took judgment for the other. The caſe as to the juſtification was found as follows, by the ſpecial verdict, viz. The leſſee for 1000 years by deed, reciting the original leaſe of the lands, grants the ſaid lands, together with the ſaid recited leaſe to the grantee, his executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, and all writings relating to the premiſes, To hold to the grantee his executors, &c. after the death of the grantor and his wife for the reſidue of the term of 1000 years.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a termor grants the lands, the grantee is but tenant at will; for it does not appear that the grantor meant to paſs his whole intereſt, and this is enough to ſatisfy the grant; but if a termor deviſes the land, all his term paſſes; for the deviſee cannot be tenant at will, becauſe the deviſor muſt die before the deviſe can take effect, and one cannot be tenant at will to a dead man. Alſo he agreed the word leaſe would paſs the term, but here it is the recited leaſe, which can ſignify nothing but the deed, therefore he held the habendum was void; otherwiſe had it been a grant of the crown to hold after his and his wife's deceaſe, there the habendum ſhould be rejected as repugnant, and that being rejected, there would be enough in the premiſes to paſs the eſtate, but here was nothing in the premiſes that could paſs the term. And as to the iſſue on the force and arms, on which nothing was found, he held that was only form, and that not finding damages on the demurrer, was helped by the non pros entered as to them. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. And on that judgment a writ of error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, where it was reverſed; and the court there held, that by the grant of the lands in the premiſes to the grantee, his executors, adminiſtrators, and aſſigns, the whole term of 1000 years were transferred; and ſince by the premiſes the whole term paſſed preſently, but by the habendum not till after the death of the grantor and his wife, of conſequence the habendum was repugnant to the premiſes, and void, And Trin. 6 W. & M. the judgment of the Exchequer-Chamber was affirmed in the Houſe of Peers.

N. B. In this caſe a diſtinction was made between the operation of a grant and a deviſe. If A. grants to B. generally, the term is in him only at the will of A. but ſuch a deviſe paſſes the whole term to B. elſe he would have nothing; for ſhould it be like a grant at will only, then the will could not commence till the death of A. and ſo inſtantly it would be determined by his death. Vide Salk. vol 1. p. 346. Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 11.

Hilary, 4 & 5 W. & M. Harcourt v. Fox.

On a ſpecial verdict, the queſtion was, whether the plaintiff being nominated clerk of the peace by John Earl of Clare, had a good title to hold that office during life, or whether it was dependant on the cuſtos rotulorum, and determined by his removal.

Per curiam. By ſtat. 1 W. & M. the cuſtos has power to appoint a perſon to execute this office by himſelf or deputy, for ſo long time only as he ſhall demean himſelf well, &c. which does plainly import an eſtate for life: and the clauſe would have the ſame effect if the word only had been left out; for if the power is given to a tenant for life to make a leaſe for twenty-one years only, this would ſignify for ſo many years abſolutely.

If this clauſe has not a conſtruction to give him an eſtate for life, it ſignifies nothing; for if the cauſe is taken to be no otherwiſe than as it ſtood in ſtat. 37 H. 8. then this clauſe is of no uſe; but it is plain that the words in that act relating to this matter are omitted in this new law, viz. that he ſhall continue ſo long as the other is cuſtos; and a better and more fixed eſtate is given, viz.

Stat. 1 W. & M. revives that of H. 8. as to the nomination of a cuſtos, but makes ſeveral alterations from it when it mentions the clerk of the peace, as has been well obſerved at the bar; ſo that the deſign of this later act was to abridge the power of the cuſtos, and enlarge the eſtate of the clerk, and to ſettle him therein, that he might go on cheerfully in his buſineſs; for when places depend on contingencies, it occaſions embezzling records, and neglect in offices; and for this reaſon Lord Hobart was of opinion that the Chief Juſtice cannot grant thoſe offices which are in his gift for leſs time than for life.

Therefore the clerk of the peace being in this office by virtue of this act, for ſo long time as he ſhall demean him- ſelf well; thoſe words ſhall be conſtrued moſt favourably to anſwer the intent of the law makers, whoſe deſign was to have the office well ſupplied by a man able and well ſkilled in the laws, which will be effected when the officer has an eſtate for life; and for theſe reaſons judgment was given in Trinity term following for the plaintiff, and afterwards affirmed in parliament. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 167.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. The King v. Kempe or Kemp.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 432 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Trinity, 7 W. 3. The King v. Hornby. Error.

A petition to the treaſurer and barons of the Exchequer, was exhibited by Joſeph Hornby Hil. 1 W. & M. for the allowance of letters patent granted by Charles 2. for payment of an annuity out of the exciſe, &c. The Attorney-General demurred generally. The court gave judgment for the petitioner Hornby; whereon the Attorney-General brought a writ of error; and the matter was argued in the Exchequer Chamber, where the Lord Keeper and Treby, Chief Juſtice of the C. B. were of opinion to reverſe the judgment, contrary to the opinion of Holt, Chief Juſtice: The ground on which the Lord Keeper and Chief Juſtice Treby gave their opinion was, that the patentees had not taken a proper remedy by petition to the barons, who have no power or controul over the King's treaſury, &c. and that their only remedy was by petition to the King himſelf. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 29.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. The King v. The Biſhop of Cheſter & al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 53 of this work, under the head Addition.

Lent Aſſizes, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

It was ruled by Holt, Chief Juſtice, at Dorcheſter, that if A. was poſſeſſed of a term for an hundred years, and grants the land, the habendum for forty years, to begin after his death; it is a good new leaſe: and a man poſſeſſed of a term for twenty years, may grant the lands for nineteen years, to commence after his death; and it will be good for ſo many of the twenty years, as ſhall be unexpired at the time of his death. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 737.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Smartle v. Penhallow.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 434 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. A grant or authority to come on a perſon's lands, and to hunt there, is but a licence and no more; but if it is to take the profits, it is a leaſe at will; ſo if it is to take profits for a year, it is a leaſe for a year, for this paſſes an intereſt, the other is only an authority to do particular acts. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 223.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Adjudged, That if a licence is granted to a man to uſe another's ground or yard, he has thereby an intereſt in it; ſo that the licence is not revocable, till it amounts to a leaſe at will, and he thereby has ſuch a poſſeſſion, as not to be turned out by a recovation, but muſt be diſpoſſeſſed by an ejectment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 42.

Trinity, 10 Ann. Thomlinſon v. Dighton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 360 of this work, under the head Deed.

Hilary, 11 Ann. Michell v. Reynolds.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The reaſon of the diſtinction taken in 1 Inſt. 106. 8. between a feoffment and a bond; that a feoffment to a man on condition he will kill B. ſhall be good; but a bond with ſuch a condition ſhall be void, is this: becauſe the law ſecures to him the poſſeſſion of the land, without performing the condition; and in the other, diſcharges him from the penalty of the bond; ſo that the law has the ſame end in view in making the feoffment good, and the bond void, viz the prevention of the fact. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 134.

Hilary, 1 Geo. ——— v. Ormſton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 232 of this work, under the head Bills of Exchange, &c.

Trinity, 5 Geo. Dr. Bentley v. The Biſhop of Ely.

In prohibition againſt the Biſhop of Ely, as viſitor of Trinity College in Cambridge; the two following queſtions were ſtated by the court:

1ſt, Whether by ſtat. 6 Ed. 6. ſet forth in the plea, the Biſhop of Ely, for the time being, is appointed General Viſitor of this college?

2dly, Whether the crown, having parted with the general viſitatorial power, might afterwards grant ſtatutes to the college.

On theſe queſtions, the cauſe was argued ſeveral days in the laſt term; and this term, Raymond, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court, as follows:

Raymond, C. J. A general viſitatorial power, paſſed to the Biſhop of Ely, by ſtat. 6 Ed. 6. becauſe the grant was to the Biſhop of Ely which extends to every Biſhop of Ely, for the time being, and therefore differs from a grant to the Biſhop of Ely, in his natural capacity, for in that caſe it would only have enured to the then Biſhop for his life. The conſtruction made on the grants of the crown, is, that where the intention is plain, the words are taken moſt favourably for the ſubject. To the ſecond queſtion, I anſwer, that the exerciſe of ſuch a power by the crown, ever ſince the making of ſtat. 6 Ed. 6. is an argument of the legality of it. The ſingle queſtion therefore to which I ſhall confine myſelf in delivering the opinion of the court, will be this, whether the citation that iſſued to ſummon Dr. Bently to appear before the Biſhop of Ely, as viſitor, was well founded? For as that is the leading proceſs, and the ſole baſis of all the ſubſequent proceedings below, if it ſhall appear to have been warranted by no legal authority in its firſt emanation, whatever has been done purſuant to it, was without juriſdiction.

The citation, or rather the power iſſuing it, as here claimed, is expreſsly founded on the 40th chapter of the ſtatutes of Queen Elizabeth, by which, as it is alledged, the Biſhop of Ely is ſpecially conſtituted viſitor to examine the maſter, &c.

This might require to be conſidered under two general heads.

1ſt, On the words and intention of this ſtatute.

2dly, Suppoſing the words ſufficient, and the intention plain, to create him a ſpecial viſitor, yet how far the operation of either may be defeated by ſome legal impediment? Which laſt I ſhall have occaſion to ſay very little to; as my brethren and I are of opinion, that neither the letter, view, or deſign of this ſtatute ever extended to create him a viſitor, but ſuppoſed him ſo already; and only made new regulations to be obſerved under his direction, already in the legal poſſeſſion of the juriſdiction.

We are therefore clearly of opinion, that the citation is illegal, and that being the foundation, all ſubſequent acts muſt be ſo too, and therefore the prohibition muſt ſtand. Vide Fitz-Gibbons, p. 305.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Smith v. Trigg.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 438 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Michaelmas, 11 Geo. Wyvil v. Stapleton. Shelburn v. Eundem.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 16 of this work, under the head Accounts.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. Sir John Trelawny, Bart. v. The Biſhop Wincheſter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 389 of this work, under the head Eccleſiaſtical Matters, &c.

Hilary, 30 Geo. 2. The Earl of Bath v. Abney, Spinſter.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 439 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Guardian ſee Infant.

Habeas Corpus.

Eaſter, 7 W. 3. The King v. Bethell or Bythell.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 263 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. The King v. Leaſon and Edwards.

The defendants were taken by a meſſenger, and kept in cuſtody ſeveral days in Middleſex; and the beginning of this term they entered their prayer according to the habeas corpus act. After being brought before Sir William Trumball, ſecretary of ſtate, he committed them to the Marſhalſea for high-treaſon in conſpiring the death of the King, which fact was ſuppoſed to be committed in Surrey. And now being brought to the King's Bench by habeas corpus, the court was moved that they ſhould be bailed. But denied by the court, for the intent of the habeas corpus act was, that the prayer ſhould be entered where the party ought to be tried; which in this caſe muſt be at the aſſizes in Surrey, for the K. B. cannot originally hold plea of felony ariſing out of Middleſex, and therefore the K B. will remand the priſoners. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 61.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Montgomery's Caſe.

Lord Montgomery being indicted in London for high-treaſon, for conſpiring the death of the King, entered his prayer in the K. B. but it was adjudged that it ought to be entered at the Old Bailey. Vide Raym, vol. 1. p. 61.

Hilary, 8 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If the Chief Juſtice of the King's Bench commits a perſon to the cuſtody of the marſhal by his warrant, he ought not be brought to the bar by rule, but by habeas corpus. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 349.

Michaelmas, W. 3. The King v. Row and Kendall.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 263 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 8 W. 3. Clark's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 263 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 9 W. 3. De Caſtro's Caſe.

The defendant being a foreigner, as the council urged, and therefore not intitled to have an habeas corpus, becauſe not within the hab. corp. act; the court was moved that he might be diſcharged; for if an hab. corp. had been brought, the Attorney General would have returned that he was an alien. This De Caſtro was committed by an order of the Secretary of State for being a ſpy, and had been impriſoned a year and an half, and then admitted to bail, and now no proſecution being brought againſt him, he was diſcharged. Vide Forteſcue, p. 195.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

If one in priſon in the Compter be removed into the King's Bench by an habeas corpus ad reſpond. and intending going over to the Fleet, procures ſome friend to bring a habeas corpus to remove him thither; he ſhall not be removed thither till he has anſwered to the cauſe here, and he ſhall not compel the plaintiff to follow after a prowling defendant; and ſo vice verſa of the Common Pleas; each court ſhall retain the defendant, in which he is firſt attached, and after he has anſwered there, you may carry him where you will. This is fit to be the ſettled courſe, if there be any difference between the two courts Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 350.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. The King v. Margaſon.

The defendant was committed to Newgate on ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. on refuſal of paying ſuch money as was in his hands, as collector of the taxes; and removed up by hab. corp. on the laſt day of the laſt term; and then the Chief Juſtice being abſent, a rule was made to bring him up the firſt day of this term, without filing the return.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Tho' ſuch a rule might be well for bringing a perſon up on a day in the ſame term, without the filing the writ, yet it ought not to have been to bring him up on a day in another term, without filing the return; for he cannot now be brought up on a writ returnable in a precedented term, by ſuch a rule, without the return thereof be filed; therefore you muſt take out a new writ. And this being a cauſe concerning the King's revenues, you had beſt give notice to the Attorney General; for we ought not to file a return of any ſuch matter removed hither, without notice being given to him. Vide Mod. Rep, vol. 12. page 441.

Hilary, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

The court was moved for a procedendo, becauſe the plaintiff, after he had given notice of trial, removed the cauſe himſelf by hab. corp.

Per curiam. Let a procedendo go, not but that a plaintiff may remove his cauſe himſelf, but this is a mere vexation to do it ſo late, and a procedendo was awarded, having been done before. Vide Forteſcue p. 244.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. Fowler.

Fowler was brought up on an habeas corpus directed to the ſheriff or gaoler; whereupon was returned the warrant from the ſheriff for taking him, and that was upon a writ of excommunicato capiendo for ſubſtraction of tithes and other eccleſiaſtical duties.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, and the court held,

1ſt, That the habeas corpus being directed in the diſjunctive to the ſheriff or gaoler was wrong, and that all the precedents were otherwiſe. That where a man is taken on a warrant of the ſheriff, in purſuance of a writ to the ſheriff, the habeas corpus ought to be directed to the ſheriff, for the party is in his cuſtody, and the writ itſelf muſt be returned. It is otherwiſe, where one is committed to the gaoler immediately, as in criminal caſes.

2dly, The writ of excommunicato capiendo itſelf ought to be returned; and it is not ſufficient to return the warrant, becauſe the warrant may be wrong when the writ is right; and though the warrant may be wrong yet if the writ is right, the party is rightfully in cuſtody of the ſheriff. And for theſe reaſons the writ was quaſhed. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 350. Raymond, vol. 1. p. 586.

Trinity 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

An habeas corpus went to the Stannary Court to which an inſufficient return was made, and therefore it was diſallowed.

Per curiam. The warden of the Stannaries muſt be amerced, and you may go to the coroners and get it affeered and eſtreat it, (you know my Lord Bath's Amerciament is 5 l.) and another habeas corpus muſt go for the inſufficiency of the return of the firſt, and upon that the body and the cauſe muſt be removed up: If another excuſe be returned, we will grant an attachment. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 351.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

On a return to an habeas corpus moved for to diſcharge the defendant, it appeared, that he was committed by five juſtices of Surrey for a miſbehaviour; but it not appearing in the commitment that he was committed for want of ſureties for his good behaviour, the priſoner was diſcharged. Vide Forteſcue, p. 242.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. Daviſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 177 of this work, under the head Bail.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Taylor v. Reynolds.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 496 of this work, under the head Franchiſes, &c.

Hilary, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. A perſon committed to the Marſhal by the court, may be brought up by rule of court, but one committed by a judge in his chambers, cannot be brought up without an hab. corp. to which a return may be made. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 641.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Mr. Archer's Caſe.

The court was moved for an habeas corpus returnable immediately, to be directed to John Archer, the father, to bring up the body of Eleanor Archer, his daughter. The motion was founded on two affidavits, made by ſervant maids; they made oath, that the father ſwore he hated her more than any thing living, and ſhould be glad of an opportunity of killing her, and if he had, he would ſhoot her thro' the head, and that ſhe often ſaid ſhe was afraid of being murdered in her bed by him.

On the council's urging that an hab. corp. had been granted on the ground of a letter, and in the caſe of a wife, Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it had been granted on leſs than that. It was argued, that ſhe was eighteen years of age, ſo might have choſe her guardian, though her father was living.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Theſe writs are never returnable immediately in term time, but on a day certain.

It was argued by the council on the other ſide, that her father was afraid ſhe would be ſtolen away, and that it had been attempted to ſteal her away, ſhe having a great fortune, and therefore he was obliged to keep her with ſome ſtrictneſs.

Per curiam. Let an habeas corpus iſſue to bring her up to be examined; it being ſixty miles off, take till this day ſevennight.

Then it was moved, that ſhe might be conducted by the poſſe, for this might be a contrivance to ſteal her away.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, perhaps that might be granted on affidavit, but he never knew it done; therefore it was denied.

According to this writ the daughter came into court, on the day appointed, with her father, and the writ not being returned, the court ſaid, they could not proceed till the writ was returned and filed, and the writ was immediately returned in court, and the return was, that he had her ready to be delivered to the court.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, he would conſider of this return, for thereby you confeſs ſhe has been detained, and returning no cauſe at all, we may conſider whether ſhe is not at liberty. But on examination of the daughter by the court ſecretly, ſhe diſowned her father was unkind to her, that he had never beat her, only once gave her a ſlight blow with his glove, and ſaid ſhe was willing to go home and live with her father again; and the court ordered ſo accordingly, ſo ſhe went away with her father. Vide Forteſcue, page 196.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

A priſoner was brought up by a habeas corpus, returnable at a day certain, and the goaler did not bring him into court; but carried him back, and brought him the next day.

Holt, C. J. This being a writ returnable at a day certain, you cannot bring him in at another day by virtue of it; otherwiſe, if the writ was returnable immediately; and the goaler was ruled to be at the charge of a new writ. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 564.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Paulhill v. Powell.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 26 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 13 W. 3. Nailor's Caſe.

One Nailor, an attorney of the court of C. B. was arreſted in London, on a plaint levied in one of the Sheriff's courts there, and was carried to the Compter. A writ of ne exeat regno iſſued out of Chancery againſt him, which was delivered to the ſheriff while he was there. On which Nailor made application to Mr. Juſtice Turton, at his chambers, and afterwards to Chief Juſtice Holt, to have an habeas corpus to remove him into the Marſhalſea, actions being entered againſt him in this court; and an order was made that he ſhould be moved into this court; on which it was moved, that the hab. corp. ought not to be granted in this caſe, 1ſt, Becauſe the writ of ne exeat regno commands the ſheriff to take ſecurity, and to tranſmit it into Chancery, which he cannot do, if this hab. corp. ſhould iſſue out of this court. 2dly, They in Chancery only know what ſecurity is ſufficient, being only conuſant on what ground this writ was granted. 3dly, They in Chancery can only grant a ſuperſedeas.

Per curiam. We are of opinion, that the hab. corp. ought to be granted, that this court may receive and judge of the ſecurity taken, and that he ought to remain there, and then they may grant a ſuperſedeas. Adjourned. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 696.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

After an interlocutory, and before final judgment in an inferior court, an habeas corpus cum cauſa was brought: before the return of the writ, the defendant died, and a procedendo was awarded; becauſe by ſtat. 8 & 9 W. 3. c. 11. the plaintiff may have a ſcire facias againſt the executors, and proceed to judgment, which he cannot have in another court, otherwiſe he would be deprived of the effect of his judgment, which would be unreaſonable. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 352.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Geery v. Hopkins.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 449 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Hollingſhead's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 265 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Eaſter, 1 Ann. Yoxley's Caſe.

One Yoxley was committed by the Earl of Nottingham, till he ſhould be delivered by due courſe of law, for refuſing to be examined, and anſwer whether he was a Jeſuit or not, according to ſtat. 35 Eliz. c. 2. which impowers the juſtices to examine and commit him if he refuſes to anſwer ſuch queſtions; and the court held the commitment naught, becauſe the ſtatute was not purſued; and that this was a kind of conviction or judgment to be founded upon the ſtatute. The court held further that they had a power to examine, and he being examined, made anſwer, No Jeſuit; and was accordingly diſcharged. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 351.

Trinity, 1 Ann. Dowler v. Keite.

The defendant was taken into cuſtody by the officers of the court of Admiralty, by way of execution, being condemned by a ſentence there. And intending to procure his liberty, he perſuades the plaintiff to ſue a hab. corp. ad reſpondendum out of this court, to the intent that he ſhould be turned over to the Marſhalſea, he being in fact indebted to the plaintiff. And being brought into court, the plaintiff's council moved, that the defendant might be committed to the Marſhalſea: and urged, 1ſt, That if it were denied, there would be a failure of juſtice, becauſe the ſheriff could not arreſt and take the defendant out of the Admiralty priſon; that this court would not permit a failure of juſtice. And he cited 2 Inſt. 23. 4 Inſt. 71. W. Jones 380. 2dly, That a perſon may be charged in cuſtody of the Marſhal with the ſentence of another court, which this court cannot execute; as a man committed by Chancery on a decree there, may be turned over to the Marſhal of the King's Bench, on a habeas corpus. 2 Roll. Abr. 69. 4 Inſt. 29. Hard. 476. but not allowed. For tho' on a hab. corp. ad ſubjiciendum, this court on a charge of treaſon or ſelony, would have turned the defendant over to the Marſhal; or if a bill had been filed againſt him, ſo that he had been in cuſtody of the Marſhal before; but yet in this caſe the court cannot do it, becauſe there is no plea in this court at this time depending againſt him; and it cannot be, becauſe he is not in the cuſtody of the Marſhal, and he was remanded by the whole court. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 789.

Trin. 1 Ann. Dounci v. Keach.

An habeas corpus iſſued to remove K. from the priſon of the Admiralty where he lay in execution upon a ſentence, to anſwer to an action to be brought againſt him here. Upon the return it was moved that the defendant might be committed here, for that there was no other way to ſue him; for he was not chargeable in the priſon of the Admiralty, and there ought not to be a failure of juſtice.

Holt, C. J. ſaid, this was new: that tho' the proceedings of the Admiralty were by the civil law, yet they were ſupported by the cuſtom of the realm, and this court muſt not elude their proceſs. He inquired as to the action, and thinking it only a pretence, ſaid, there being no action pending here, conſequently they ought not to commit him, and the plaintiff could not declare againſt him till in cuſtody, otherwiſe, if an action had been depending: ſo the defendant was remanded. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 351. Forteſcue, p. 245.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. An habeas corpus cannot be granted after judgment. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 118.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Anonymous.

An hab. corp. cum cauſa, iſſued to remove a cauſe out of Windſor court, it was teſted the 15th of October, and returnable the laſt day of Michaelmas term. To this writ they returned according to the ſtatute, that iſſue was joined before: but the plaintiff moved for a procedendo, becauſe the return was ſo long, and for that ſole cauſe only a procedendo was granted. Vide Forteſcue, p. 268.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Dr. Watſon.

This term Dr. Thomas Watſon, formerly Biſhop of St. David's, being arreſted on an excommunicato capiendo, after an excommunication in the ſpiritual court for non-payment of coſts of the ſuit in which he was condemned, was brought into this court on a hab. corp. ad reſpondendum J. S. of a plea of debt, &c. and on motion by the council for J. S. that he might be committed to the Marſhalſea, he was remanded, becauſe no ſuit was depending here againſt him, the bill of Middleſex not being returnable till next term. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 789.

Trinity, 3 Ann. Fazacharly v. Baldo.

On a habeas corpus to the ſheriffs of London, they returned an action on a bye-law with a penalty for not weighing at the city-beam. The court was moved that the return might be filed, for otherwiſe the party could have no remedy if the return was falſe, and that there was no inconvenience on the other ſide; for the record might be taken off the file at any time the ſame term. 1 Roll. Rep. 85. At leaſt a procedendo might be awarded. 1 Lev. 93. 1 Keb. 133, 170.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. 1ſt. If a record be filed here, it can never be ſent down or remanded, either in the term it is filed, or any other, and that is plain by the act of 6 H. 8. c. 6. which enables this court to do it in caſe of felony, which otherwiſe they could not have done.

2dly. The record itſelf is never removed by a habeas corpus, as it is on a certiorari, but remains below, and the return is only an account or hiſtory of their proceedings ſtated and ſent up to the ſuperior court to judge and determine the matter there; therefore if a cauſe be removed hither by habeas corpus, the plaintiff here muſt begin de novo, and declare againſt the defendant as in cuſtody of the Marſhal.

3dly. The habeas corpus ſuſpends the power of the court below, ſo that if they proceed, the proceedings would be void, and before no judge.

4thly. The return in this caſe may be filed, becauſe the very record below is not returned, and therefore will not be thereby filed; of conſequence a procedendo may be granted, becauſe it will not ſend out any record filed in this court, but takes off the ſuſpicion they were under by the habeas corpus. Accordingly the writ was filed, and afterwards a procedendo was awarded. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 352. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 177.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. French's Caſe.

The defendant being out on bail in an action in this court, was taken on an extent at the Queen's ſuit; the bail brought him up by a habeas corpus, and prayed he might be committed to the Marſhal in diſcharge of his bail; and notwithſtanding great oppoſition was made by the Attorney-General, he was turned over, becauſe the action here was precedent to the Queen's extent. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 353.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Hetherington v. Reynolds.

An action was brought in an inferior court againſt a a feme ſole, who afterwards married, and the Baron brought a habeas corpus declaring in the ſame manner as in the inferior court, againſt the feme only. The defendant pleaded in abatement, that ſhe was a feme covert, and the plaintiff replied the proceedings in the inferior court, and that the cauſe was originally againſt the feme ſole; to which the defendant demurred.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. An habeas corpus does not remove the record, though it does the cauſe, but a certiorari removes the record and cauſe too, on which the party has a day here, and is entered on record, and ſo is the plaint; and we take notice when the proceedings begin; beſides a certiorari goes to the judge, but an habeas corpus to the officer, and on an habeas corpus the record is not here, but the cauſe begins de novo; and the declaration is againſt the defendant in cuſtody of the Marſhal of the Marſhalſea, &c.

Suppoſe before ſix years are elapſed, a man ſues in an inferior court, and the defendant brings an hab. corp. and ſix years are elapſed before the declaration in this court on the hab. corp. he cannot take the advantage of the ſtatute without pleading this ſpecial matter, and that he had a right to his action when the ſame was begun below, and it ſhall not be in the power of the defendant to deprive him of that right, by his removing the cauſe; for if a ſuit be abated, and ſix years elapſe, he ſhall bring another action by journey's accounts, for he ſhall not loſe the benefit he had at firſt. So if a man bring an action and dies, his executor ſhall. Vide Forteſcue, p. 269.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Layton.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 265 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Crackall v. Thompſon.

The defendant, pending an action againſt him in this court, was taken on a warrant on a criminal matter, and committed to the Compter, and afterwards was there charged with an extent for the Queen. And he was brought up by habeas corpus at the ſuit of the plaintiff in this action, in order to be declared againſt in cuſtody of the Marſhal, and Mr. Attorney-General oppoſed it, becauſe the cuſtody of the Marſhal was precarious, and he would let him eſcape as he did French; and this caſe differed from that, becauſe by the late act of parliament the plaintiff might declare againſt him in cuſtody of the ſheriff, whereas the bail had been without remedy, if French had not been committed; and as to the defendant's being arreſted on criminal proceſs, that was nothing; for though one ſo arreſted cannot be charged at the ſuit of a ſubject in any action, without leave of the court, yet the Queen may charge him: and the defendant was remanded. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 534.

Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

An Habeas corpus ad reſpond. was granted to the County Palatine of Cheſter, and afterwards ſuperſeded on motion; precedents being cited. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 354.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Mickae.

A motion was made for an habeas corpus to bring up the body of the defendant, who was charged with picking pockets, and offered to bring unqueſtionable bail, and to ſend down a tipſtaff to enquire of his reputation.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, though we have a diſcretionary power, yet it being ſworn, that he was charged with the fact, I think we ought to refuſe to bail him, which (on conſultation with his companions,) he accordingly did. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 261.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. Leach v. Page.

The court was moved for a ſuperſedeas to an habeas corpus cum cauſa ad faciend & recipiend, 'and alſo ad reſpond' directed to the Mayor's Court in the city of Cheſter, in that county palatine; and a day was given to ſhew cauſe.

At that day ſeveral precedents were quoted, where ſome writs of habeas corpus were quaſhed before any return made, and others where a return was made; but this the court would not receive.

Of the firſt ſort there was Michaelmas, 4 Ann. Michaelmas 10. Ann. an hab. corp. to the Mayor's Court of Durham; an hab. corp. to the Court of Namptwich. In 1704, Eachard v. Bradſhaw. Michaelmas, 1705. Bovey v. Hall. in this court; in 1706 an hab. corp. to Cheſter.

In 2 Keb. 134 there was a return made to an hab. corp. but the court would not receive it.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, If this court cannot do juſtice why ſhould we ſend for the cauſe; if it be a county Palatine, judgment will be void; it is not material in what court in the County Palatine the ſuit is; it had been material, if here had been an affidavit that the defendant was not reſident in the county. But here is an hab. corp. without any ſuggeſtion, that the party is not an inhabitant of the County Palatine, which in reaſon ought to be, and ſuch writs ought not to iſſue of courſe, but there is as yet no ſuch rule; it does not appear to us that we can do juſtice; there is no doubt but they have liberty to ſhe he lived out of the County Palatine, but here though it ſhould appear he was reſident in the County Palatine of Lancaſter it will be of no avail; though you ſhew by affidavit he did not reſide in Cheſter, for we cannot do juſtice in either County Palatine, we cannot take away their juriſdiction; but ſhould it be made out that the defendant did not reſide in the County Palatine, we could do juſtice, and ſend an habeas corpus.

Per curiam. Let the rule be made abſolute, and the writ ſuperſeded. Vide Forteſcue, p. 270.

Hilary 11 Ann. The King v. Mary Hill Morton.

The defendant was indicted for perjury in ſwearing the peace againſt the Duke of Leeds, and was in the King's Bench priſon, and her cauſe was to be tried in the ſittings after the term; and on the laſt day of the term the court was moved for an hab. corp. to bring her up to attend the trial of her cauſe, and it was granted. Vide Forteſcue, p. 271.

Eaſter, 11 Ann. The Queen v. Nichols.

The court was moved for an hab. corp. ad teſtificand, before juſtices of peace on a conviction for deer ſtealing, directed to the keeper of Newgate, which was granted; but the court ſaid, juſtices could not compel the witneſs to appear nolens volens, but if he was willing, it might be done. Vide Forteſcue, p. 271.

Eaſter, 11 Ann. Anonymous.

A return was made to an habeas corpus directed to the Mayor's court of Canterbury, of a cuſtom in Canterbury, which ouſted this court of juriſdiction, but the return was defective, and the court being moved to amend it, at firſt the rule was granted niſi, &c.

On ſhewing cauſe, it was inſiſted that it ought not to be amended, and the court ſet aſide the rule for the amendment, becauſe this was to ouſt the court of their juriſdiction, and by conſent they were not to proceed below.

The caſe of Preſton v. Goodwin, Trinity, 12 W. 3. in this court, was quoted, where the return of an habeas corpus was, that the demurrer was not joined in ſix weeks, and exception taken to ſuch return, which was defective, and allowed; but the court refuſed to admit the return.

Parker, Chief Juſtice. This is no new caſe; if this return was filed now, we muſt grant an attachment, they having not returned the cauſe, nor any excuſe for it, it is for their ſakes that we do not file it; now, the queſtion is, whether we may give them leave to amend, that we may not know what the merits of the cauſe are; that is, to ouſt the court of juriſdiction, therefore we muſt be ſtrict: amendments in habeas corpus's of the crown ſide are allowed and practiſed, becauſe otherwiſe the officer might on purpoſe make a defective return, and then the priſoner muſt be diſcharged, and therefore we take care of that before the writ is filed; you do not make the return you are required, but you return an excuſe only; I do not doubt but if the cauſes were returned, if there was a ſlip, the court would grant leave to amend, and you ſhall ſtill have the liberty, at your requeſt, to annex the return of the cauſes. If this goes down to Canterbury, they may judge of it according to their law; but how can the Mayor determine this cauſe? It is a franchiſe of the corporation; if this matter concerns themſelves, they cannot hold plea of it. Vide Forteſcue, p. 273.

Eaſter, 12 Ann. Hide v. Browning.

The court was moved for an habeas corpus ad teſtificand. to the Marſhalſea, to be a witneſs at the ſeſſions at Guildhall; and a caſe was quoted where Holt, Chief Juſtice, granted one for a priſoner to go down to the aſſizes. Vide Forteſcue, p. 271.

Hilary, 13 Ann. The Queen v. Green.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 266 of this work, under the head Commitment.

Eaſter, 1 Geo. The King v. Gibſon.

A return made on an habeas corpus was, that the defendant was committed by two juſtices of peace, for that he being overſeer of the poor, did not account as by the ſtatute is directed, and ſet forth that he had not accounted before them.

Two exceptions were made to this return.

1ſt. That it appears to be a commitment within the year, and the act does not direct any commitment till after the year.

2dly. It only ſays, he had not accounted before them, whereas he might have accounted before two other juſtices, and that would have been good. And both theſe exceptions were allowed by the court; but yet the defendant was not diſcharged, but on giving his recognizance to appear at the next ſeſſions in order to account; becauſe this was an offence, and they had power to call him to an account. Vide Forteſcue, page 272.

Hilary or Eaſter, 2 Geo. The King v. Hawkins.

The return to an habeas corpus was, that the defendant was committed for backbearing, and carrying away a deer out of the foreſt; but it appeared to be after conviction.

It was objected to this return, that it does not ſay it was unlawfully taken away, becauſe it might be with the conſent of the owner..

Parker, Chief Juſtice. There is a difference in the return of an habeas corpus, when it is before a conviction, and when after; for where it is after conviction, you need not be ſo particular; it ought to be alledged unlawfully if before conviction, but in this caſe it may be in the conviction, ſo that will be enough; now, taking away a deer, though not killed, is within the act, and it cannot receive that conſtruction of being taken in toils, for it is taking away quite; if it had ſaid taken away, of which he was convicted, that might have done.

Till proceſs iſſues in order to diſtrain, he cannot have corporal puniſhment, i. e. without the return of the officer that he was not ſufficient; as to the truth of facts, the return of the officer is the ſame as a ſpecial verdict; but if the juſtice of peace will not believe it, on information to the contrary, perhaps he may iſſue another warrant. And in order to come at theſe facts, the court ordered the defendant to be brought up on another day, and to return the conviction. Vide Forteſcue, p. 272.

Hilary, 5 Geo. The King v. Leonard.

The defendant in the long vacation, was committed by a warrant from the Secretary of State for high treaſon. He lay all Michaelmas term till the laſt day, and being then brought up, was charged with an indictment, and recommitted by rule of court. In the firſt week of this term he applied to enter his prayer on the hab. corp. act, which the Chief Juſtice thought he might well do; for though he has lapſed the time on the firſt commitment, yet that is now out of the caſe, and he ſtands on the ſame terms with one originally committed ſince the laſt term. And though the ſtatute has only the word warrant, yet he took commitments by rule of court, to be within the meaning of it, this being an act for the liberty of the ſubject, and never intended to leave an indefinite power any where. But Eyre and Forteſcue, Juſtices, (Powys, Juſtice, abſent) were of a contrary opinion, and ſaid it had been otherwiſe reſolved at the Old Bailey. Then the Chief Juſtice propoſed to enter the prayer de bene eſſe, and conſider of the validity of it afterwards; as was done in Bernardi's caſe, who at the end of the term was refuſed to be bailed, notwithſtanding his prayer was regularly entered; that entry being no eſtoppel to the court. But the other judges would not agree to this, ſo nothing was done. The council then prayed, that ſome memorandum might be made, but did not prevail. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 142.

Eaſter, 5 Geo. Hudſon and Wife v. Aſh.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 279 of this work, under the head Conſtable.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. The King v. Mackintoſh.

The defendant was committed for treaſon done in Scotland, and in the firſt week of this term applied to enter his prayer on the hab. corp. act.

Per curiam. We cannot do it, for that prayer is only in order to be tried, and we cannot try a treaſon committed in Scotland. It was then offered by the defendant's council, whether within the equity of that ſtatute (ſince there could be no application elſewhere) the court would not enter his prayer and bail him at the end of the term, in caſe he was not ſent to Scotland, before that time, but not allowed. In Hilary term following, there being nothing done, he moved to be bailed, but was denied, and in Eaſter term following, the Attorney General conſented to his diſcharge. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 308.

Trinity, 7 Geo. The King v. Clarkſon, et al.

One Dibley pretending to have married Mrs. Tuberville, a Lady of fortune, ſued out an hab. corp. directed to her guardians, commanding them to bring her into court. The return to which was, that by her mother's will ſhe was committed to the care of Mrs Clarkſon, who had put her to ſchool to the other defendant, where ſhe had continued ever ſince with her own liking, and with the approbarion of her guardian; and that ſhe now remains there of her own accord, under no reſtraint: and for no other cauſe. &c.

When ſhe was brought into court, and the return had been read, the chief juſtice aſked her, if ſhe deſired to be taken out of the hands of the perſons ſhe lived with, and to go with Dibley? She denied him to be her huſband, and deſired ſhe might continue with her guardians.

Per curiam. We have nothing to do to order her to go with Dibley, but only to ſee that ſhe is under no illegal reſtraint: all we can do is, to declare ſhe is at her liberty to go where ſhe pleaſes; but leſt this writ ſhould be made uſe of by Dibley as a means to get her abroad, and ſeize her, (as the court was informed there was reaſon to apprehend) we will order our tipſtaff to wait on her home to her guardian's; and ſo it was done in Lady Harriot Berkley's cauſe, 3 vol. State Trials, p. 7, 8. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 444.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Mr. Liſter's Caſe.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 214 of this work, under the head Baron and feme.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. The King v. Walter.

The defendant was committed by a warrant, under the hand and ſeal of a juſtice of the peace, for being a notorious owler and ſmuggler; and being in cuſtody, he was brought up by an hab. corp. and moved by his council to be diſcharged.

1ſt, Becauſe he had been in gaol two terms ſince the indictment was found, and not yet brought to his trial.

2dly, The charge in the warrant of commitment is very looſe, viz. for the defendant was a notorious owler and ſmuggler, which is not a ſufficient charge to deprive a ſubject of his liberty, eſpecially in a criminal cauſe, where the utmoſt certainty is required.

3dly, It does not appear that the defendant was charged on oath.

4thly, No time is alledged when the fact was committed.

The court allowed the firſt objection, viz. that the defendant ought to be tried within two terms after his commitment, according to the habeas corpus act.

But as to the other objection they held, that a juſtice of peace muſt take care that he has ſuch an information of the fact as may be ſufficient to ſupport his warrant of commitment; but he could not ſet it forth in the warrant itſelf, becauſe ſo much certainty is not required in warrants, as in writs and pleadings which are always on record.

The court were of opinion to bail him; but he having no bail was remanded. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 5.

8 Geo. The King v. the Biſhop of Rocheſter, Mr. Shelly, and Mr. Cockran.

The priſoners were committed to the Tower for high treaſon, plainly expreſſed in the warrant of commitment, ment, but not ſpecifying where the treaſon was committed, and were brought to the Old Bailey on the 7th of September 1722, and that being the firſt day of the ſeſſions, they made their prayer, thinking to be bailed, according to the habeas corpus act.

The court told them they thought there was no inſtance of ſuch a prayer being allowed or entered, but it had often been denied.

In this caſe, Pratt, Chief Juſtice, was clearly of the ſame opinion, as was Forteſcue, Juſtice, and ſo was the Lord Chancellor Macclesfield, when the caſe was ſtated to him, who thought that the habeas corpus act was not to put trials or bails out of their ordinary courſe; but to quicken the proſecutor in the common and ordinary way; and therefore could not make that triable at the ſeſſions of the Old Bailey, which was uſually tried in this court. If treaſon be committed in the country, it cannot be tried there till the next aſſizes after, and yet the King may grant a commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer, to try it before if he pleaſes; as here he might by hab. corp. ſend the Biſhop of Rocheſter to Newgate to be tried; and before the act it was uſual to try in this court ſuch as were committed to the Tower, for which reaſon he thought if there had been a commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer for Middleſex at the Old Bailey, (as there really never is) yet a prayer ought not to be entered at the Old Baily, becauſe it is putting it out of the common way of trial; and ſo if they had made their prayer at Hicks's Hall the firſt day of the term, that it ought not to be granted; but it is very clear, that at the Old Bailey, where no commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer for Middleſex ever is, it ought not to be granted.

The judges willing to receive all the ſatisfaction they could, aſked the clerks, Mr. Tanner and Mr. Harcourt. Mr. Tanner had been a clerk of the Arraigns ever ſince the revolution, and his father had been in that place ever ſince the reſtoration; and he produced his book of notes; and quoted the caſe of Sir John Muſgrave, who was committed for high-treaſon, for adhering to the King's enemies beyond the ſeas, and was committed to the Gatehouſe, and he moved to enter his prayer at the Old Bailey; and by Holt, Chief Juſtice, and the whole court, it was refuſed, and they ſaid, they had no juriſdiction, nor was there any other note or memorandum about ſuch a prayer in the whole book; and Mr. Harcourt, clerk of the indictments, was of the ſame opinion, that no ſuch prayer was ever granted. Vide Forteſcue, p. 101. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 97.

Michaelmas, 9 Geo. The King v. Layer.

The defendant being indicted for high-treaſon, moved by his council for an habeas corpus ad teſtificand. to bring up Lord Orrery and Lord North and Grey, then in the Tower for high-treaſon, but the court refuſed to grant it without an affidavit of the priſoner, who was to be tried, that they were material witneſſes.

Eyre, Juſtice, ſaid, he never granted one in a civil caſe at his chambers, without an affidavit; and agreed that a judge might grant one at his chambers on an affidavit, and in a civil caſe; and ſaid, that ſometimes they give ſecurity. Courtney's caſe was quoted in Sir John Friend's trial, where an habeas corpus ad teſtificand. was granted at the Old Bailey; but then the court was ſatisfied he was a material witneſs, and here a commiſſioner was ſent to Layer, and he made an affidavit to that purpoſe.

The court declared their opinion, that there ought to be an affidavit that the perſon was a material witneſs before an habeas corpus could be granted, elſe they might deliver all the goals in England on a bare ſurmiſe; and a general rule was made by the court, that no habeas corpus of either ſide, either civil or crown, ſhould be granted without an affidavit, that they are material witneſſes, and directed the officers to take it down. Vide Forteſcue, p. 396.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. Colvin.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 136 of this work, under the head Attachment.

Hilary, 10 Geo. The King v. Johnſon.

An habeas corpus was granted, directed to the defendant, to bring up the body of a child about ten years of age, which ſhe had in her cuſtody. To which ſhe returned, that ſhe was appointed guardian to the child by the ſpiritual court, and therefore kept her in her cuſtody. But the perſon who ſued out the habeas corpus inſiſted, that he was appointed guardian to the girl by her father's will. The child was very unwilling to be taken from the care of Mrs. Johnſon, who was her near relation, and had taken great care of her, and was to have no benefit by keeping her. And the court doubted whether they ſhould deliver the child to the guardian appointed by the father's will, or only ſet her at liberty out of Mrs. Johnſon's cuſtody, and leave her to go to whom ſhe pleaſed. Whereon the court ordered Mrs. Johnſon to bring up the child again on the laſt day of the term, at which time alſo the guardian, who was then in the country, was directed to attend; at which day the child was delivered by the court to the guardian appointed by the father's will. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 1334. Stra. vol. 1. p. 579. Mod. Rep. vol. 8. p. 214. Stra. vol 1. p. 579.

Michaelmas, 2 Geo. 2. Hopman v. Barber.

On a motion againſt Bambridge, the warden of the Fleet, it was held, that if a habeas corpus is brought he muſt obey it, though the party refuſes to pay his fees; for he has a remedy for them. Raymond, vol. 2. p. 814.

Michaelmas 3 Geo. 2. The King v. Kimberley.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 179 of this work, under the head Bail.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. 2. The King v. Catterall.

On a return of a habeas corpus, the commitment was by juſtices of the peace, (authorized for that purpoſe by act of parliament) for refuſing to account for a toll by him received, and until he do account, and pay what ſhall be due to the proprietors of the ſaid toll.

Per curiam. The commitment is illegal, for no certain ſum is thereby appointed to be paid, and then the defendant may remain in priſon for life; it was then moved to amend the commitment.

Per curiam. That cannot be after the return is filed; and the defendant was diſcharged. Vide Fitz Gibbons, p. 266.

Michaelmas, 5 Geo. 2. The King v. Wright.

On a habeas corpus to Wright to bring up a lunatic under his care, he made no return, and the court, on an affidavit that the writ was delivered to him, was moved for an attachment. The clerks of the Crown Office certified, there ought firſt to be a rule to return the writ.

Per curiam. In caſes where the liberty of the ſubject is concerned, there ought to be no ſuch indulgence, but all the expedition poſſible; and they granted an attachment niſi, &c. whereon the Doctor came in and returned, that before the delivery of the writ he had delivered the woman to her huſband, and that he does not know where ſhe is, nor can produce her. And the court held it a ſufficient anſwer. Vide Raymond, vol. 2. p. 915.

Trinity, 7 Geo. 2. The King v. Smith.

A boy between thirteen and fourteen years of age was brought up by an habeas corpus ſued out by his father, in order to have him delivered over to him by an aunt, who kept him, according to Johnſon's caſe. And on great debate the caſe was over-ruled; and Lee, J. ſaid Lord Raymond repented of what was done in that caſe. And all the court declared, that on this writ they could only deliver the boy out of the cuſtody of the aunt, and inform him he was at liberty to go where he pleaſed. And the boy choſe to ſtay with the aunt; and they ſaid that was all that was done in Lady Catharine Anneſley's caſe: that the right of guardianſhip could not be determined by them in this ſummary way, and the father was not without other remedy, he might have treſpaſs, to ſhew why he was taken from him, or other actions that would properly bring the right of guardianſhip in queſtion. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 982.

Eaſter, 30 Geo. 2. Bond v. Iſaac.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 174, of this work, under the head Bail.

Hilary, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Dr. Shebbeare.

The defendant being brought up by virtue of a habeas corpus, iſſued by the Chief Juſtice in vacation, returnable immediately before himſelf at his chambers.

The defendant mentioning to the court, that he had been informed that as the term was begun it was neceſſary to take out a new writ of habeas corpus, he craved their advice.

Lord Mansfield, declared the court to be unanimous, that a perſon might be brought into court on a writ of hab. corp. iſſued in vacation, and that to require a new writ would be attended with delay and expence, but in this caſe, if the defendant was not bailed, the court could not commit him to the ſame cuſtody he came up under; but muſt commit him to the Marſhal, and then he would not be obliged to ſue out a new habeas corpus, but might be brought up by rule of court when prepared to give bail, which in this caſe was done accordingly. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 460.

Eaſter, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Mead.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 218 of this work, under the head Baron and Feme.

Trinity, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Davis.

In this caſe the defendant having been apprehended on an outlawry for high treaſon, in diminiſhing the coin of the kingdom, was brought up by habeas corpus from the place where he was taken, and committed to Newgate from whence he was brought up by rule. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 638.

Trinity, 31 Geo. 2. The King v. Earl Ferrers.

On a motion either for an attachment againſt the defendant for not returning a habeas corpus, already iſſued and returnable immediately, to bring up the body of his wife, or for a new habeas corpus, accompanied with an attachment.

The council for the Counteſs not being able to produce any precedent in ſupport of his motion, waived the ſame, and on a new motion a new writ was granted, returnable immediately. Vide Bur. vol. 1. p. 631.

Hilary, 32 Geo. 2. Cox v. Hart.

On ſhewing cauſe why a procedendo ſhould not go on a cauſe removed hither from the ſheriff's court of London, by habeas corpus cum cauſa.

After hearing the council on both ſides, and on reading affidavits from the officers of the ſheriff's court, (confirmed by the opinion of the maſter of this court) that the practice is "to allow the habeas corpus, provided it be delivered at any time before the jury is "ſworn," the court diſcharged the rule.

Lord Mansfield. The preſent caſe is not within the words of ſtat. 21 Jac. 1. cap. 23. that is plain, and it appears, that the practice has gone much further than the words of the act, for that has been to allow it at any time before the jury be ſworn.

Per curiam. Let the rule be diſcharged. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 758.

Eaſter, 32 Geo. 2. The King v. Barnard Schiever, a Swede.

On a motion for a habeas corpus, directed to the keeper of the town goal of Liverpool, to bring up the body of the defendant, a ſubject of a neutral power, taken on board an enemy's ſhip, but forced (which force was ſupported by affidavit) into the enemy's ſervice.

The court thought this man on his own ſhewing clearly a priſoner of war, and lawfully detained, and therefore denied the motion. Vide Bur. vol. 2. p. 765.

Trinity, 3 Geo. 3. The King v. Burbage.

On a motion for a habeas corpus ad teſtificandum, to carry a priſoner in execution in the K. B priſon for a miſdemeanor, to the aſſizes for the county of Worceſter, againſt the defendant, on an affidavit of his being a material witneſs.

Lord Mansfield, though he agreed, that (in general) a habeas corpus ad teſtificandum will lie to remove a perſon in execution to be a witneſs, yet he thought the preſent application to be mere contrivance.

Per curiam. Take nothing by this motion. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1440.

Michaelmas, 3 Geo. 3. The King v. Clarke.

An habeas corpus having iſſued to Mr. Clarke, who kept a mad-houſe at Clapton, commanding him to bring up the body of Mrs. Ann Hunt, who was kept confined in his houſe.

It was now moved to return the writ, and an affidavit being offered, made by Dr. Monro, that ſhe was not fit to be brought into court, and by advice of Lord Mansfield, the Doctor's affidavit was given as a reaſon for enlarging the time to return the writ, inſtead of actually filing the return at preſent, to which the council for the motion conſented, and the court enlarged the return till the firſt day of next term.

The council who had obtained the habeas corpus, came afterwards into court, and deſired a rule for liberty to have acceſs to, and inſpection of the lunatic; but he not being able to ſhew, that the ſame was made on behalf of any perſon who had the leaſt pretenſions to demand it, the court denied the requeſt. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1362.

Eaſter, 6 Geo. 3. Dr. Betteſworth v. Hugh Parker Bell, Eſq.

On ſhewing cauſe to a rule made to ſet aſide a habeas corpus cum cauſa ad faciendum & recipiendum, &c. directed to the goaler of Ayleſbury, returnable before the Chief Juſtice immediately.

The objections offered for ſetting aſide the habeas corpus, &c. were.

1ſt, That the writ could not be made returnable immediately, or before the Chief Juſtice, for by rule of this court, made in 1654, no habeas corpus, &c. can be returnable, but in court, and at a day in term, except in London and Middleſex.

2dly, That it was contrary to ſtat. 4 & 5 W. & M. cap. 21. "for delivering declarations to priſoners," and that they had already declared againſt the defendant in the body of the ſheriff of Bucks.

The council on ſhewing cauſe in ſupport of the habeas corpus, &c. obſerved,

1ſt, That the writ iſſued in term, that it was teſted the 11th of February, and it is and ought to be returnable immediately, which means only within due and convenient time.

2dly, That by ſtat. 4 & 5 W. 3. cap. 21. the plaintiff may declare againſt a perſon in cuſtody of the ſheriff, and we have done ſo; but it does not follow that we cannot afterwards remove him.

Wilmot, Juſtice. There is no foundation for ſetting aſide this writ; it is teſted in term, which it ought to be.

Yates and Aſton, Juſtices, gave their opinions at large, and concurred with Mr. Juſtice Wilmot.

Per curiam. The motion was denied, and the defendant was committed to the cuſtody of the Marſhal. Vide Bur. vol. 3. p. 1875.

Heir.

Hilary, 2 W. 3. Killow v. Rowden.

In debt brought againſt the defendant as heir to his father, without ſhewing how he was heir; on nothing by deſcent pleaded, the jury find, that John Rowden, the father, being ſeiſed in fee, entered into this bond for which the ſuit was now brought, and afterwards ſettled his lands to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to his eldeſt ſon in tail, remainder to his own right heirs, and died; after whoſe death the eldeſt ſon entered and died, leaving iſſue a ſon, who alſo died without iſſue, ſo that the reverſion (after the eſtate-tail being ſpent) came to the ſecond ſon of the obligor, who was now defendant; and the queſtion was, whether he had the eſtate by immediate deſcent from him, or from his nephew, who was the only ſon of his elder brother.

Per curiam. Neither the elder brother or his ſon, were ever ſeiſed of the reverſion, for they were ſeiſed of an eſtate-tail, and not of the reverſion expectant on the determination of that eſtate, and if a writ of formedon had been brought againſt the defendant, he ſhould not in making his title have mentioned either his elder brother or nephew; and yet they were ſeiſed of the reverſion to ſome purpoſes, viz. to give, to forfeit, to be in ward, and to join the miſe on the mere right. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 179.

Oſbaſton v. Stanhope.

In an action of debt brought againſt an heir on a bond of his anceſtor; the defendant pleaded, that he had nothing by deſcent except the reverſion expectant after the determination of a leaſe for years; the plaintiff replied, that he (the defendant) had ſufficient aſſets by deſcent; and on a demurrer it was objected, that this general replication was ill, for that the plaintiff ought to have anſwered the word except.

Per cur. The word except is immaterial, becauſe the reverſion which follows is not chargeable, for the anceſtor had ſettled the lands on truſtees to the uſe of himſelf for life, remainder to the heirs male of his body, remainder to his own right heirs, with power for the truſtees to make leaſes, ſo that this was a leaſe made by them, and if the reverſion ſhould happen before the eſtate tail had been ſpent, he had ſtill but a reverſion after an eſtate-tail. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 180.

Hilary, 6 W. & M. The Leſſee of Carter v. Taſh.
At Niſi Prius.

In ejectment theſe points were held as law by Holt, C. Juſtice. 1ſt. If a leſſee for years be made tenant to the præcipe by leaſe of a freehold to ſuffer a common recovery, that by this the term is not merged, but preſerved and revived by the ſaving of former rights by ſtat. 27 H. 8. of uſes.

2dly. If a termor levy a fine come ceo, &c. this ſhall not bar him in the reverſion, for he may avoid it by plea of partes finis nihil habuerunt.

3dly. A deſcent which the tolls the entry ought to be an immediate deſcent; and therefore if a feme diſſeiſoreſs marries, and has iſſue and dies, and after the huſband dies, the deſcent to the iſſue does not take away the entry becauſe the interpoſition of a tenant by the curteſy does impede it.

4thly. Coverture to avoid a deſcent, ought to be continual from the time of the diſſeiſin to the deſcent: for if a feme be ſole at the time of the diſſeiſin, or of the deſcent, or any time intermediate, her entry is not preſerved, becauſe ſhe had an opportunity to enter and prevent the deſcent. As if a feme covert is a diſſeiſee, and after her huſband dies ſhe takes a ſecond huſband, and then the deſcent happens, this deſcent ſhall take away the entry of the feme; and on this laſt point the plaintiff was nonſuited. 1 Inſt. 338, 246, 353. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 241.

Michaelmas, 7 W. 3. Redſhaw v. Heſther.

In debt brought againſt the defendant as heir on a bond of his anceſtor; on nothing by deſcent pleaded, the plaintiff replied, that he had lands by deſcent before the exhibiting of the bill, out of which the aforeſaid debt might be ſatisfied, and prays judgment of the court; and on a demurrer to this replication it was objected, that the plaintiff ought to have concluded to the country; beſides, the replication is ill at common law, becauſe it is, that the defendant had lands by deſcent before the exhibiting of the bill, which may be true, and yet he might have none at the time of the bill exhibited; it is likewiſe ill by the ſtatute, for that directs, that where the heir ſells any lands which were liable to the debts of his anceſtor, before any action brought againſt the heir, he ſhall be anſwerable for the value of the lands ſo ſold, which value ſhould be tried by a jury, who, on finding that ſuch lands deſcended, are officially to inquire of the value; therefore the replication ſhould be, that the defendant had lands by deſcent, before, or at the time of the original writ, &c. without alledging out of which the debt might be ſatisfied, and then concluding wherefore he prays judgment, &c. becauſe it is making the value part of his replication, and putting it on the judgment of the court, when it ought to have been tried by a jury.

Per curiam. The replication is good; for though a jury may find, that what deſcended to the heir is not ſufficient to ſatisfy the debt, and ſo may falſify the value alledged in the replication, yet the plaintiff ſhall recover to the value of the land ſold, be it what it will. Vide Salk. vol. 3. p. 179. Mod. Rep. vol. 5. p. 122.

Michaelmas, 11 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. One may be ſued as executor and as heir both; for why may not a man make uſe of both his ſecurities? Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 328.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a perſon binds himſelf and his heirs, the heir's lands are chargeable, as he is tertenant, and not as heir. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 404.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Anonymous.

Per curiam. An heir, ſued as ſuch, ſhall no more be held to ſpecial bail than an executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 511.

Eaſter, 13 W. 3. Lord Petre v. Heneage.

In an action of trover brought by the plaintiff as adminiſtrator, with the will annexed, of the late Lord Petre, againſt the wife of the firſt executor, for a pearl necklace, ſaid to have been in the family for many generations, and worn as a perſonal ornament by the Lady Petre for the time being, or in default of ſuch, by the Lady Dowager for that time. And to prove the property, an ancient inventory made by the defendant's huſband, being executor of Lord Petre, now inteſtate, being found among the ancient evidences of the family, was allowed; for the mentioning of this necklace in it ſhews he did not claim this necklace in his own right; for no man will inſert in an inventory more aſſets than he has; and though if the queſtion were, whether Lord Petre was proprietor or not, he himſelf could not be a witneſs; yet the executor by inſerting it in the inventory, has charged himſelf with it as aſſets, and there it ſhall be taken as ſuch.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The wearing of a pearl is a converſion; and goods in groſs cannot be an heir loom, but they muſt be things fixed to the freehold, as old benches, tables, &c. And a chattel in groſs cannot be deviſed for life, but a perſon may deviſe the uſe of a chattel in groſs for life. If a perſon, before adminiſtration taken out, gives away the goods of the inteſtate, and afterwards takes out adminiſtration, he may avoid the gift. And the jury cannot carry any evidence from the bar without conſent of both ſides, except writings under hand and ſeal. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 519.

Trinity, 13 W. 3. Emerſon v. Inchbird.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 123 of this work, under the head Aſſets.

Hilary, 1 Ann. Reading v. Royſton.

H. had two daughters, one of them had iſſue a ſon and died, H. deviſed the land to the ſon and heirs for ever. And the queſtion was, whether the ſon ſhould take all by the deviſe, or the one moiety by deſcent, and one moiety by deviſe? For then as to that moiety he takes by deſcent, his aunt will be co-parcener with him. It was argued, that where two titles concur, the elder ſhall be preferred; and that as to one moiety, which the grandſon has by the deviſe, he has the ſame eſtate in it, and no other by the deviſe, than he would have had without it; and therefore ſince the deviſe works no alteration in point of eſtate as to that, the grandſon ſhall take it by the preferable right, which is by deſcent: as if the father having ſome lands borough-Engliſh, and ſome frank-fee, ſhould deviſe all his lands to his eldeſt ſon and his heirs. But it was reſolved by the court, that the eldeſt ſon ſhould take all by the deviſe, and could not take a moiety by the deſcent as heir, and a moiety by the deviſe; for there can be no ſuch deſcent as the deſcent of a moiety to one co-parcener as heir; but it is a deſcent to all: and the court agreed to the rule, viz. where a deviſe to an heir gives the ſame eſtate which would deſcend, the deviſe is unneceſſary, and has no operation; it has no effect, and therefore it is void: but here is not a deviſe to an heir; both coparceners make the heir, and the one is not an heir without the other; and ſuppoſing the deviſe void as to one moiety, the other moiety muſt deſcend to both: but the grandſon muſt take by the deviſe in this caſe, becauſe nothing can deſcend to him as to one co-heir. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 242.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. Wortley Montague v. Lord Sandwich.

On a motion for a new trial, the caſe appeared to be this: An executor, ſeveral years before, had left ſome houſehold ſtuff in the houſe by conſent of the heir, who uſed them after; and within ſix years before the action was brought, the executor demands the goods, and the heir refuſed to let him have them; whereon trover was brought, and the ſtatute of limitation pleaded.

Per curiam. The uſer before the demand was no converſion nor evidence of it; for it was with the conſent of the executor till then. And the demand being within ſix years, the refuſal which enſued it, and is the only evidence of a converſion in the caſe, was within the ſix years; and if a trover be brought before ſix years, and a conviction after, the ſtatute of Canterbury may be pleaded. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. p. 99.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Clements v. Scudamore.

In ejectment a ſpecial verdict was found, viz. A. had five ſons, and the youngeſt ſon died in the life of the father, leaving iſſue a daughter, after which the father purchaſed copyhold lands of the nature of borough-Engliſh, which by cuſtom were deſcendible to the youngeſt ſon and his heirs. The father died ſeiſed, and the fourth ſon entered; and now the queſtion was, whether the fourth ſon, or the daughter of the fifth ſon ſhould inherit theſe lands?

Holt, C. Juſtice, delivered the reſolution of the court, viz. the daughter ſhall inherit by right of repreſentation; for by this cuſtom the youngeſt ſon is put in the place of the eldeſt at common law, and as at common law the iſſue of the eldeſt is preferred by right of repreſentation, ſo by this cuſtom ſhall the iſſue of the youngeſt. If a man ſeiſed of lands of the cuſtom of gavel-kind have iſſue three ſons, and one of the three dies, leaving iſſue a daughter, in the life of his father, this daughter ſhall inherit the part of her father, and yet ſhe is not within the words of the cuſtom; for ſhe is no male, but the daughter of a male, and heir by repreſentation. In the year 1560, there was a cauſe Fane v. Barr; it is entered Hilary, 1659, Rot. 779. The cuſtom was, that the copyhold land of every tenant dying ſeiſed deſcended to the youngeſt ſon. A ſurrender was made to the uſe of A. and his heirs; A. died before admittance, and it was agreed his youngeſt ſon ſhould inherit if A. had been admitted; but in this caſe A. being not admitted, it was adjudged the eldeſt ſon ſhould inherit; and that is by reaſon of the ſtrictneſs of the cuſtom, which required a ſeiſin and a dying ſeiſed; but by the report I have of that caſe, the court ſaid it had been otherwiſe, if this land had been found to be of the cuſtom of borough-Engliſh or gavel-kind; for the law takes notice of theſe cuſtoms, but not of ſuch ſpecial cuſtoms which muſt be pleaded by him that would take advantage of them, and muſt be taken by the court to be as they are ſet forth by the pleading, and no otherwiſe. In the caſe at bar, the cuſtom is expreſsly found to be deſcendible to the youngeſt ſon and his heirs, though the words his heirs are needleſs, for the law would imply all neceſſary incidents and conſequences in the courſe of deſcents. If the father be diſſeiſed and die, the right of entry ſhall deſcend to the youngeſt ſon; if the youngeſt ſon die, the ſame right of entry ſhall deſcend to his daughter; and the youngeſt ſon being heir by cuſtom, ſhall have his age as if he were heir at common law. And the court denied the caſe of 1 Leon. 109, 208. and inclined againſt the opinion of Croke in 1 Cro. 410. Reeves v. Malſter, and ſaid, if a leaſe be made to H. and his heirs, for three lives, of lands of the nature of borough-Engliſh, this deſcendible freehold ſhall go to the youngeſt ſon, though it is a new created eſtate, for the cuſtom is inherent in the land; and ſo it is of a rent, for it iſſues out of the land; and the introducing the ſame rules of deſcent in all caſes relating to the ſame lands, tends to quietneſs and certainty. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 243. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1024.

Hilary, 4 Ann. Brown v. Dyer.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 436 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. If a farm is out of repair in the life of the anceſtor, and after the heir brings an action, he ſhall recover damages for the whole time: but the heir ought not to alledge a breach in the anceſtor's time, becauſe that belongs to the executor. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 45.

Trinity, 6 Ann. Hardwicke v. Gamball.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 272 of this work, under the head Condition.

Eaſter, 10 Ann. Jeffry v. Barrow.

In an action of debt on a bond, brought againſt the heir, on nothing by deſcent pleaded, the plaintiff replied that he had lands, &c. ſufficient to diſcharge, &c. the jury found for the plaintiff, viz. that ſufficient lands to diſcharge, &c. did deſcend.

It was moved in arreſt of judgment, that this plea being grounded on ſtat. 3 & 4. W. & M. that act ought to have been exactly purſued; and then the iſſue would have been only, whether any lands deſcended, and not the value of the lands; and if the jury found for the plaintiff, then the jury were to inquire of the value.

Parker, Chief Juſtice, ſeemed to incline for the defendant meerly on this point, that it did not appear by this verdict, whether, when the jury found the deſcent of ſufficient lands, they meant ſufficient with reſpect to the debt in equity, or at common law, viz. the penalty; probably the jury intended the equitable debt only; whereas judgment muſt be given on the penalty.

The plaintiff has put himſelf to great hazard, in this way of pleading, for though it had been found that lands were deſcended, yet if theſe lands were found inſufficient, judgment muſt have been given for the defendant.

Powel, Juſtice, doubted, whether this not being an immaterial iſſue, but a material one and more, it was helped by ſtat. 32 H. 8.

He doubted likewiſe, whether if it were not, yet this being an iſſue appointed by this act and more, it might not be ſupplied by another inquiſition by another jury.

Powys and Eyre, Juſtices, were of another opinion as to this point, for the ſtatute ſays the jury viz. the jury that tried the cauſe.

As to the principal matter Powys, Juſtice, concurred with Parker, Chief Juſtice.

Eyre, Juſtice, was of opinion that this verdict was equivalent to an inquiſition.

The end of the ſtatute was by the court thought to be, helping the creditor in caſe of alienation, and alſo the heir, that he might not run ſuch a riſque in pleading nothing by deſcent, as to ſubject himſelf to the payment of the whole, if but a penny was found to be deſcended. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 18.

Trinity 2 Geo. Carrington v. Warren.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 479 of this work, under the head Executors and Adminiſtrators.

Hilary, 3 Geo. Woodright v. Wright.

On a ſpecial verdict found by the jury, the caſe was ſhortly this: The teſtator divided the lands in queſtion to Edward Baſil in tail, remainder to Suſannah Wright, and the iſſue of her body lawfully begotten; remainder to the right heirs of Edward Baſil for ever: Edward Baſil died without iſſue in the life time of the teſtator.

Suſannah Wright ſome years after making the will, had iſſue Margaret Wright the defendant, who was found likewiſe to be heir at law to Edward Baſil; and then Suſannah Wright died in the life time of the teſtator.

The plaintiff's title was as heir at law to the teſtator.

The queſtion therefore was, whether Margaret Wright could claim any eſtate under this will, either as heir at law to Edward Baſil, or as daughter to Suſannah Wright?

After argument, Parker, Chief Juſtice, delivered the opinion of the court as follows:

Parker, Chief Juſtice. The 1ſt point to be conſidered is, whether Margaret Wright is entitled to take by the will, as heir at law to Edward Baſil, by virtue of theſe words, the remainder to right heirs of Edward Baſil for ever.?

And here the queſtion is ſingly this, whether theſe words do make the heirs of Edward Baſil deviſees, and import any deviſe to them? ſo that the deviſe is not a lapſed legacy, by the death of Edward Baſil in the life time of the teſtator. Or whether Edward Baſil is not ſole deviſee? and thoſe words only uſed to denote and deſcribe the nature and quality of that eſtate, which was hereby deſigned to be ſolely given to Edward Baſil, viz. to ſpeak in the language and idiom of law, whether theſe words are words of purchaſe or limitation?

If Edward Baſil had ſurvived, no body can ſay, but the fee had veſted in him, and in him alone; he would then have had the entire power over the eſtate, and the deſcent to his heir would have appeared plainly to have been but in conſequence of the fee veſted in him, and which at his pleaſure he might permit or prevent.

It is not his living to take the freehold, that does, as it were, accidentally turn theſe into words of limitation; becauſe theſe are in their own nature, and in all events, words of limitation, therefore it becomes neceſſary that the anceſtor muſt take, or no body.

So that on the whole, theſe words, though they may, perhaps, carry ſomething in their ſound, that looks like a deſign and an intention in the teſtator of favour towards the heirs, in reality are not ſo; but ſerve only to deſcribe the eſtate which paſſes to the deviſee, and for his benefit only.

It being clear then, that the defendant can take nothing by this deviſe as heir at law to Edward Baſil; the next point to be conſidered is, whether ſhe can take any thing as daughter to Suſannah Wright, by virtue of that clauſe in the will, viz. remainder to Suſannah Wright, and the iſſue of her body lawfully begotten?

In anſwer to this point it will be neceſſary to ſee, 1ſt, Whether ſhe can have any right, ſuppoſing the words iſſue of her body, are looked upon as a ſynonimous expreſſion to the heirs of her body.

And 2dly, Whether, ſuppoſing ſhe has no right this way, ſhe can derive any right by any other interpretation, which the word iſſue is capable of?

As to the firſt, the caſe differs not from that of Brett v. Ridgen in Plowd. Com. that there a fee is deviſed, and here an eſtate tail, which will make no difference in the interpretation before us; for if here the words heirs of her body are not words of purchaſe but of limitation, the point comes out juſt the ſame. For ſuppoſing Suſannah Wright had lived, ſhe and ſhe only would have taken this deviſe, and ſhe would have the power of barring the iſſue by fine. And here again by the ſame reaſon that the daughter of Suſannah ſhould take, the huſband muſt be tenant by curteſy. In ſhort the only difference that there is between a deviſe in fee, and in tail, is this, that in the former caſe, the deviſee has a greater choice, and variety of ways, whereby he may defeat the iſſue, than in the latter. But the words heirs of the body, are as much words of limitation, and as proper to expreſs an eſtate tail, as the word heirs is to expreſs a fee.

And now I come to conſider 2dly, Whether the defendant can put any other conſtruction on the word iſſue, by virtue of which ſhe may claim under this deviſe.

In the caſe of the King v. Meling, 1 Vent. 229. the word iſſue is by Lord Hale, affirmed to be a collective name, and takes in the whole generation; and is therefore a great deal ſtronger than the word children. It is therefore obſerved, that in all acts of parliament, the word iſſue, is as comprehenſive, as the words heirs of the body; as in the ſtatute de donis, and ſtat. 34 H. 8. of entails ſettled by the crown.

On the whole it appears, that theſe words are words of limitation, and do, moſt certainly in a will, give an eſtate tail. Therefore judgment was given for the plaintiff. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 10. p. 370.

Michaelmas, 8 Geo. Smith v. Trigg.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 438 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Eaſter, 9 Geo. Goodright v. Opie.

In ejectment, on not guilty pleaded, the jury found the defendant not guilty as to part, and as to the other part there was a ſpecial verdict, the ſubſtance whereof was thus:

The teſtator being ſeized in fee of ſeveral lands, did in the year 1705, deviſe all his ſaid lands to five perſons, (naming them) and to their heirs, as tenants in common; that one of the ſaid deviſees died two years before the teſtator, who by another clauſe in the ſaid will, deviſed all his other meſſuages, lands, &c. not therein before given, deviſed or bequeathed, and all his money, houſhold goods, plate, rings, &c. and all other his eſtate real and perſonal whatſoever, or of what kind or kinds ſoever, to his two nieces Mary Bruce and Mary Opie, their heirs, executors, and adminiſtrators; that the teſtator died without making diſpoſition of the ſaid fifth part of his lands, other than by his laſt will as aforeſaid.

The queſtion was, whether the ſame ſhould deſcend to the heir at law of the teſtator, as not being diſpoſed of by him in his life, becauſe the deviſee died before him; or whether it ſhould paſs to B. and C. as reſiduary legatees by the latter clauſe of the will, as an eſtate before diſpoſed of by the teſtator.

Per curiam. An executor has not the ſame right to the perſonal eſtate as the heir at law has to the lands, becauſe an executor is no more than a truſtee made by the teſtator, but an heir is to ſtand in the place of his anceſtor.

But as to the principal matter, if a particular eſtate for life had been deviſed to John Payne (who died), with a remainder over, ſuch a remainder had been good, and ſo is Perkins 108. b. 109. a. and ſo ſhould this, and there is no objection againſt it but that it does not appear in the will, that the teſtator had any thing to diſpoſe of, he having deviſed all his lands before by the firſt clauſe in his will, to five perſons and their heirs: No judgment was given. Vide Mod. Rep. v. 8. p. 124.

Eaſter, 11 Geo. Shaw v. Weight, et al.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 438 of this work, under the head Eſtates.

Michaelmas, 14 George 2. Harvey v. Harvey.

In an action of trover brought by the executor againſt the heir, Lee, Chief Juſtice, held, that hangings, tapeſtry, and iron backs to chimnies belonged to the executor; who recovered the ſame accordingly againſt the heir. Vide Strange, vol. 2. p. 1141.

Hilary, 16 Geo. 2. Martin on the Demiſe of John Tregonwell, Eſq. v. Strachan and others.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 492 of this work, under the head Fines and Recoveries.

Herriots. See Manors.

Highways, &c.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The King v. The Inhabitants of Hornſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 440 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Michaelmas, 3 W. & M. The King and Queen v. Buckeridge, & al.

An information was brought againſt the defendant for not repairing of a highway by reaſon of his tenure between Stratford and Bow: it was tried at bar by an Eſſex jury.

The evidence for the King was, that Queen Maud, gave certain lands to the Abbeſs of Barking, to repair this way, that the Abbeſs, &c. ſold thoſe lands to the Abbot of Stratford, who by the conſent of his convent, charged all his lands for the repair of the way; and thus it ſtood till the diſſolution, &c.

Then all the lands of the Abbot of Stratford, being veſted in the crown, were granted to Sir Peter Mewtis who held them charged for repairing the way, and from him, by ſeveral meſne conveyances, they came to the defendants: this was proved by ſeveral witneſſes living in other pariſhes, none being admitted to give evidence, who lived in either of the ſaid pariſhes of Stratford or Bow.

The court were of opinion, that on this evidence al the lands of the Abbot were liable to repair this way, and directed the jury accordingly, who found for the plaintiffs. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 4. p. 48.

Trinity, 8 W. 3. The King v. The Inhabitants of Newington.

By ſtat. 2 W. & M. cap. 6. ſect. 8. The pavements of ſtreets are to be repaired by the inhabitants of the ſaid ſtreets, and by ſect. 9. the ſcavengers are to be paid by the pariſhioners; and the queſtion was, whether houſholders, who are bound to repair the pavements before their own doors at their own coſts by the eighth clauſe, are bound to contribute to the payment of the ſcavengers rates? And the court held they were, for that an indefinite propoſition is univerſal, and they are pariſhioners: and as for paving before their own doors, they have the principal benefit of it; ſo that is no reaſon to excuſe them from other parochial duties. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 356.

Trinity, 10 W. 3. The King v. Dixon and Hollis.

The defendants who were overſeers of the highway, were indicted for not repairing or cauſing to be repaired the highways; and quaſhed, becauſe an indictment for not repairing muſt always be againſt the the pariſh; the overſeers not being bound to repair the ways, but only to give notice to the pariſh. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 198.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Anonymous.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The inhabitants of every pariſh, of common right, ought to repair the highways. And therefore if particular perſons are made chargeable to repair the ſaid ways by a ſtatute lately made, and they become inſolvent, the juſtices of the peace, may put that charge on the reſt of the inhabitants. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 725.

Michaelmas, 10 W. 3. Young v. ———

Holt, Chief Juſtice. Every man, of common right, may juſtify the going of his ſervants or his horſes on the banks of navigable rivers, for towing barges, &c. to whomſoever the right of ſoil belongs. And if the water of the river impairs and decreaſes the banks, &c. then they ſhall have a reaſonable way for that purpoſe in the neareſt part of the field next adjoining to the river. And he compared it to the caſe, where there is a way through a great open field, which becomes bad and dangerous, the travellers may juſtify going over the outlets of the land not incloſed next adjoining to ſuch old highways. Vide Raym. vol. 1. p. 725.

Trinity, 12 W. 3. The King v. The Pariſh of Ragley. Error.

On a writ of error brought on a judgment, given on an indictment at the quarter ſeſſions for not repairing a highway, between A. and B. in the pariſh of R. and the judgment was, that ſuch a ſum be drawn and levied to repair the ſaid way, unleſs it was repaired by ſuch a time.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. There are ſtatutes that direct the certainty of proceedings in theſe caſes; as ſtat. 2 & 3 P. & M. c. 8. and 13 El. &c. and they are impowered by law to charge or fine, and that alone to be controlled by traverſe: by ſtat. 2 & 3 Ph. & M. a juſtice of peace may preſent at the quarter-ſeſſions on his own knowledge; and the juſtices there are to give as much credit to it as if it were by jury; and that is a public law. A pariſh, of common right, ought to repair their highway; but by preſcription one pariſh may be bound to repair the way in another pariſh. And here it was excepted, that it did not appear in what pariſh the way was; for it was laid to be between A. and B. in the pariſh of R. ſo that B. only may be in R. Another exception was, that the judgment was prepoſterous, be drawn and levied, inſtead of the natural way be levied and drawn; and for this exception the judgment was reverſed. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 12. p. 409.

Michaelmas, 1 Ann. The Queen v. Sir John Bucknal or Bucknell.

The defendant was Lord of the manor of Le More in Herefordſhire, which manor was held by the ſervice of repairing a public bridge; and though all the demeſnes of the manor, except the copyholds, were aliened, yet it was held.

Per curiam. All the alienees were chargeable in proportion, yet the Queen might charge any of them with the whole, and let him have contribution againſt the others; and though the Lord had nothing but the copyhold, yet foraſmuch as the freehold thereof was in him, he was chargeable, and the court would direct the information to be againſt all the parties liable; but let him that is charged have his remedy againſt the reſt.

Holt, Chief Juſtice, declared, if complaint were made to him, that ſome juſtice of the peace had iſſued a warrant to take away goods out of a man's poſſeſſion, to which he pretended a right; he would ſend for the juſtice and bind him over; for people muſt take the legal remedy, that is by action of detinue, trover, or replevin. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 7. 98. Raym. vol. 2. p. 792.

Hilary, 2 Ann. Warren v. Matthews.

A perſon claimed the ſole right of fiſhing in the river Exon, by a grant from the crown.

Holt, Chief Juſtice. The ſubject has a right to fiſh in all navigable rivers, as he has to fiſh in the ſea; and a quo warranto ought to be brought to try the title of this grantee, and the validity of his grant. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 357.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Watſon.

The defendant was indicted, for that he was on the — day of — poſſeſſed of an houſe in Lynn Regis, adjoining to the common bridge; that he ought to repair the ſaid houſe, by reaſon of his tenure; but that he permitted it to be ſo much out of repair, that it was ready to fall on the Queen's ſubjects paſſing over the ſaid bridge, &c. On not guilty pleaded, the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. that Watſon was but tenant at will of the ſaid houſe, and concluded with a ſpecial concluſion, praying judgment of the court, whether he was obliged by reaſon of his tenure, to repair the houſe: and after argument, it was adjudged, that the defendant as tenant at will only, ought to repair the houſe, ſo that the public be not prejudiced by want of repairs; but that he is not compellable to repairs as to his landlord; and that is ſhewn well enough in this indictment. The only objection is, that he is not chargeable to repair by reaſon of his tenure, but though that is improper, yet it ſhall be intended of the poſſeſſion, and not of the ſervice. And judgment was given againſt the the defendant. Vide Raym. vol. 2. p. 856.

Eaſter, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Kime.

The defendant was indicted for not working towards the repair of the highways in London, on ſtat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. 17. The indictment ſet forth, that ſix days between ſuch a time and ſuch a time were appointed by the juſtices, and that the defendant did not come on any of the ſix days; this indictment was held naught, for the particular days ought to be ſet forth. The juſtices muſt not appoint ſix days generally between ſuch a time and ſuch a time, but muſt be particular; and ſince the appointment was naught in this caſe, the party was not bound to come at all. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 357. Raym. vol. 2. p. 858.

Trinity, 2 Ann. The Queen v. Watts.

The defendant was indicted for not repairing a houſe ſtanding on the highway, ruinous, and like to fall down, which the defendant occupied, and ought to repair by reaſon of his tenure. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and the jury found a ſpecial verdict, viz. that the defendant occupied, but was only tenant at will, and whether he was liable was the queſtion.

Per curiam. The reaſon of his tenure is only an idle allegation; for it is not only charged, but found, that the defendant was occupier, and in that reſpect he is anſwerable to the public; for the houſe was a nuiſance as it ſtood, and the continuing the houſe in that condition is continuing the nuiſance. And as the danger is the matter that concerns the public, the public are to look to the occupier, and not to the eſtate, which is not material in ſuch caſe as to the public.

Powell, Juſtice, held, that there might be a tenure, and that tenures being chargeable on the land by the ſtatute of avowries, it is not material, even in an avowry, what eſtate the occupier has in the premiſes liable. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 357. Raym. vol. 2. p. 856.

Trinity, 2 Ann. Staples v. Heydon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 4 of this work, under the head Abatement.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. Anonymous.

Per curiam. If a man either by grant or preſcription has a right to a wreck thrown on another's land, of neceſſary conſequence, he has a right to a way over the ſame land to take it; and the very poſſeſſion of the wreck is in him that has ſuch right before any ſeizure: Originally all wrecks were in the crown, and the King has a right to a way over any man's ground for his wreck; and the ſame privilege goes to the grantee thereof. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 149.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. The Queen v. The Ducheſs of Buckleugh & al.

At a trial at bar on an information for ſuffering a common bridge to run to decay, which the defendants by tenure were obliged to repair, it was reſolved, 1. That if a manor be held by the ſervice or tenure of repairing a common bridge or high way, and that manor afterwards comes to be divided into ſeveral hands; every one of theſe alienees being tenants of any parcel, either of the demeſnes or ſervices, ſhall be liable to the whole charge, and are contributary among themſelves. And though the lord of the manor might on the ſeveral alienations, agree to diſcharge thoſe that purchaſed of him, from ſuch repairs; yet that ſhall not alter the remedy for the public, but only bind the lord and thoſe that claim under him. As the whole manor, and every part of it in the poſſeſſion of one tenant, was once chargeable with the reparation, ſo it ſhall remain, notwithſtanding any act of the proprietor: it ſhall not be in his power to apportion the charge whereby the remedy for public benefit ſhould be made more difficult, or by alienations to perſons unable, to render it, in reſpect of the parts which ſhould come into ſuch hands, quite void. 2dly. That though a manor ſubject to ſuch charge, comes into the hands of the crown, yet the duty on it continues, and any perſon claiming afterwards, under the crown, the whole manor, or any part of it, ſhall be liable to an indictment or information for want of due repairs. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 358. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 150.

Eaſter, 3 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of Cluworth.

The defendants were indicted for not repairing a common footway, and confeſſed it, and ſubmitted to a fine.

Per curiam. The matter is not at an end by the defendant's being fined, but writs of diſtringas ſhall be awarded in infinitum, till we are certified that the way is repaired; but the defendants are not bound to put it in better condition than it has been in time out of mind, but as it has been uſually at the beſt. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 359. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 163.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of the County of Wilts.

On an information againſt the county for not repairing Laycock Bridge; they pleaded, that the village of Laycock ought to repair it; and it was proved on evidence, that the juſtices of the ſeſſions had made an order on the village to repair it; but the court held that was no evidence, for the juſtices might indict for the neglect, but could not make an order; and the county is liable, unleſs they can find a particular perſon to charge. The Attorney-General cited a caſe, wherein it was adjudged, that if a private perſon builds a bridge, which afterwards becomes a public convenience, the county is bound to repair it. Vide Salk. vol. 1. p. 359. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 191.

Michaelmas, 3 Ann. Denham v. Stevenſon.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 476 of this work, under the head Executors and Adminiſtrators.

Eaſter, 4 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of Stratford. Error.

On a writ of error brought to reverſe a judgment given on an indictment, for not repairing the highways, the council excepted, that it was not ſaid the highways were out of repair; but that it was not then ſo narrow, filthy, and dirty, as to hinder the Queen's ſubjects from paſſing: now it did not appear but that it was antiently ſo and it was not now narrower than before; it was not ſhewn that the way was ſtreightned, and delayed, for which the court thought it was inſufficient; but put off the judgment till next term, on the prayer of the party indicted, that he might inſpect the record; therefore judgment was granted to reverſe it, unleſs cauſe ſhewn by the firſt day of Trinity term. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 56. Raym. vol. 2. p. 1169.

Trinity, 4 Ann. The Queen v. Sainthill or Saintiff. Error.

On an indictment found before juſtices of the peace at the ſeſſions for not repairing the weſtern part of the foot bridge, (pons pedalis) meaning the common foot bridge, containing half of the bridge in the common path. On judgment given for the Queen, error was brought; and it was objected, that ſtat. 22 H. 8. by which juſtices of peace have their juriſdiction of nuiſances in bridges, extends only to bridges in the common highway. 2 Inſt. 701.

2dly, It ought to ſhew the quantity, viz. ſo many feet in length, and ſo many in breadth. It was anſwered, that there may be a common highway which is not the King's highway, and yet the juſtices have power over nuiſances in that caſe, not by virtue of ſtat. 22 H. 8. but by ſtat. 1 E. 3. which gives them power over all nuiſances. The court doubted as to the firſt exception, and over-ruled the ſecond; it being held that pons pedalis did not ſignify a foot-bridge, but a bridge a foot long; and ſo reverſed the judgment; the word pedalis having been uſed for pedeſtris. Vide Salk, vol. 1. p. 359. Mod. Rep. vol. 6. p. 255.

Hilary, 8 Ann. The Queen v. Brown.

The defendant was indicted for not repairing a highway; he pleaded, that the inhabitants of D. ought abſque hoc, that he ought, whereon iſſue being joined, the defendant offered to give in evidence, that it was not a highway; but a verdict being given againſt him, and that point ſaved at the aſſizes of York, for the opinion of this court; this term it was reſolved by Powel, Powys, and Gould, Juſtices, on motion, that this ought not to have been given in evidence; becauſe the defendant had confeſſed it to be a highway by his plea; for if he would have conteſted that point, he ſhould have pleaded not guilty. Vide Mod. Rep. vol. 11. p. 273.

Michaelmas, 8 Ann. Tenant v. Golding.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 34 of this work, under the head Actions.

Michaelmas, 10 Ann. The Queen v. Brandling.

An order was made at the quarter ſeſſions againſt the ſurveyors of the highways, to account for money received; and it was quaſhed, becauſe it ſhould be made at the ſpecial ſeſſions, and not at the general quarter ſeſſions; and in this caſe it ſeems they refuſed to account before three juſtices of the ſpecial ſeſſions, and therefore this order was made at the quarter ſeſſions.

It was objected, that by the act no certiorari ought to go.

Per curiam. That is only where the queſtion is, about not repairing the highway, but not in this caſe, where it concerns the accounts only of the ſurveyors for money received, beſides, this objection ought to have been made before the filing of the certiorari. Vide Forteſcue, p. 254.

Hilary, 11 Ann. The Queen v. The Inhabitants of Hornſey.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 454 of this work, under the head Evidence.

Hilary, 3 Geo. The King v. Hamond.

The defendant was indicted, for that he, on ſuch a day, year, and place, in the common (ſtrata, or alta regia, via, i. e.) highway, laid and placed, and there ſuffered to remain for ten days, ten loads of ſtraw, dung, &c. On demurrer it was objected, that the place where the nuiſance was committed, ſhould be certainly alledged whereas here the indictment runs, that it was laid in one place or another, and being disjoined by the word or, the court cannot take communis ſtrata, and alta regia via, to be the ſame.

To which was anſwered, and reſolved by the court, that ſtrata ſignifies the highway, and that theſe two expreſſions denote the ſame place. Spelman, verbo ſtrata, Cowel's Interpreter, Streetgavel and Streetward.

Then an exception was taken, that the place from which to where the way led was not mentioned. To which the court anſwered, that in indictments for nuiſances in the highway, it is not neceſſary; for the highway is infinite; and leads from ſea to ſea. Latch. 183. 3 Keb. 89. The King v. Thompſon, 10 W. 3. Therefore judgment was given for the King. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 44.

Eaſter, 4 Geo. The King v. The Inhabitants of Hamworth, in the County of Stafford.

See this caſe fully ſtated in page 258 of this work, under the head Certiorari.

Trinity, 5 Geo. The King v. Corrock.

The defendant was indicted for not repairing an highway, which he was obliged to do by reaſon of the tenure of a certain houſe, which in another place was mentioned to be the manſion-houſe of the defendant.

It was objected, that by ſtat. 5 H. 7. c. 3. it appears, that the occupier and not the owner is chargeable to repairs of the highway, and therefore the indictment ſhould have been by reaſon of his tenure, for it may be this houſe is let to another, and Noy 93. Lat. 206. were cited.

Per curiam. There is no neceſſity to lay it ſo, for by reaſon of the tenure, implies it to be ſuch a tenure, as makes him chargeable, and ſo it was held, 1 Vent. 331. The King v. Fanſhaw. There he was charged on account of the tenure of certain lands and tenements; and the exception was for want of the word his, and the indictment was held well enough. But if it were neceſſary to ſay his, we think it is implicitly averred, by calling it afterwards his manſion-houſe; ſo take it which way you will, the indictment is well enough. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 187.

Trinity, 6 Geo. The King v. The Inhabitants of Stroud.

An order for impoſing a new rate towards the repairs of the highway, was quaſhed for two exceptions. 1ſt, Becauſe it did not appear, but that the ſtatute labour was ſufficient. And 2dly, Becauſe only the occupiers of land are charged, whereas others are equally liable. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 315.

Michaelmas, 6 Geo. Haſſel's Caſe.

The court was moved for a mandamus to be directed to the juſtices of peace of the county of Cheſter, commanding them to make a rate, to reimburſe one Haſſel the money he had expended as ſurveyor of the highways; and it was granted. Vide Strange, vol. 1. p. 211.

Hilary, 9 Geo. The King v. the Inhabitants of the County of Surry.

